Already on the job, Superintendent has ideas for improving district

Krumm begins tenure as Superintendent of Schools

Michael Krumm, new Superintendent of Kewaskum Schools

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- Michael Krumm has begun his position as Superintendent of Kewaskum Schools. He started Wednesday, July 5. Already he is brainstorming ideas on improving the school system and working with the other governmental bodies in the district to work together as a team.

Krumm says he is happy to dive in and get working. He asserts that the Kewaskum School District became attractive as he and his wife were searching for a new school and community to be a part of. "We are convinced that Kewaskum is the perfect choice."

"I have no specific agenda. Every school that I have served has unique needs and strengths. Obviously things like trust, community involvement, relationships, and communication are the basis for any sustained development within a school district, which makes them a good place to start," articulated Krumm.

Krumm comes to Kewaskum after leaving Ballard Community Schools in Huxley, Iowa where he oversaw that school district serve over 7,000 residents. He remained in that capac-

Easy with a capital "E." That would describe the game against Two Rivers which was on Tuesday evening as the Kewaskum High baseball team was out to wrap up its first Eastern Wisconsin Conference baseball title since 1992.

The Indians scored 12 runs in the first inning on their way to a 22-1 decision over the visiting Raiders. The win was Kewaskum's 17th in a row, 15th straight without a loss in the EWC, and it gave them a 19-1 record.

"I think we were up two touchdowns after the second," KHS coach Dave Donath said kiddingly after the game, reporting the big lead gave him the luxury of using three pitchers and saving some of their innings for the other two games the Indians had last week.

"Jon Roskopf started and went three innings," Donath said. "I would have liked to keep him in there, but right now it's a matter of saving arms."

Matt Parrent came on in the fourth and, by rule in high school baseball, earned the win. Jake Junk finished up in the game which was shortened to five innings because of the 10-run "mercy rule."

As far as the hitting stars, there's no better place to start than with Ross Stockhausen, who had a grand slam in the first inning.

"We had a lot of hits (21). We hit the ball hard," Donath said, reporting Stockhausen's blast is now added to a long list of home runs. "Seventeen or so" is what they now have, according to Donath, who said Dan Shea leads the way with his six, while "Stock" has four.

Stockhausen went a perfect 3x3 with 5 RBI, while Jon Olla was 4x5, with two doubles and triple and 3 RBI. Garrett Donath helped out with three base hits, which helped score four more of the runs, while Nick Olla was 2x3 with 3 RBI, Parrent went 4x5 with a double, and Junk was 2x3.

The 22 runs is a season high, and Donath said the number will improve the already-impressive season average of nine runs per game the Indians had been putting up thus far.

Thanks to solid pitching by Roskopf, John Holt, Parrent and a few others, the Indians have only given up two runs per game.

And was there any big celebration after the game? Nothing official, according to Donath, who said he did make one mistake, and that was, "I wasn't smart enough to empty the water jar," meaning he got an early shower.

The culprit? "Jon Olla, and he's got one coming," Donath said.

Speaking of Olla, Donath pointed out something very interesting about the versatile senior athlete. "I was thinking, Jon Olla's got a football title. Then he went and got a wrestling title, and now he's got a baseball title. That doesn't happen very often," the coach said.

Kewaskum was scheduled to play Oostburg on Wednesday and it goes to Campbellsport this evening (Thursday) and to Roncalli for a doubleheader on Friday.

Looking ahead, the WIAA Summer Baseball Tournament gets started the week of July 14, with two preliminary games leading into the eight-team sectional. Kewaskum will undoubtedly have the top seed and will not have to play until Tuesday, July 18th. The sectional finals will be held in West Bend on Friday, July 21st, with semifinal games played at noon and 2:30 p.m., and the championship game at 5 p.m.

Correction

In last week's edition, under people news the 60th Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Eggert should have stated that Mrs. Eggert studied voice lessons at the Conservatory of Music in Milwaukee. NOT at Conservancy of Music like we stated.

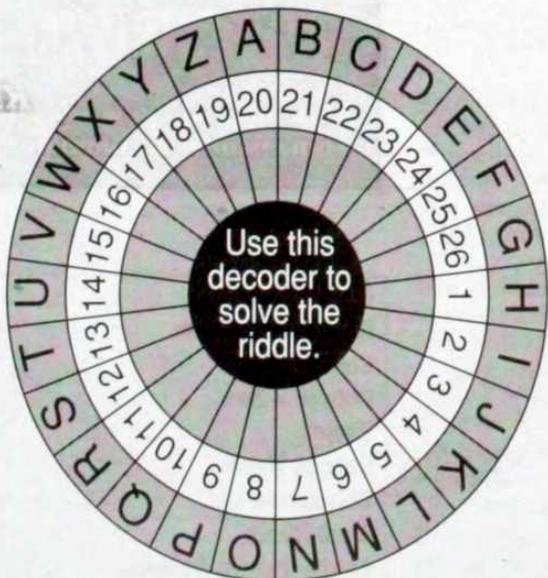

We apologize for this typographical error and again extend our congratulations to the Eggerts on their milestone anniversary.

Shambeau accepts Village Administrator position

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- The Kewaskum Village Board has chosen the former Administrator of Planning and Zoning for Clark County to fill the vacant Village Administrator position after the retirement of Daniel Schmidt. Details of an employment agreement were released Thursday evening, June 29.

Jay Shambeau, 35, of Neillsville, will start as the village of Kewaskum's second administrator on August 1. The employment agreement gives Shambeau a base salary of $69,535. He also receives the village's basic benefit package that includes sick days along with health and life insurance.

"We are very excited to have him. He was our first choice by far. I think he will fit in very well. He grew up in a rural environment and is living in a small town now. The staff's reaction to him set him apart from the other candidates," stated Village President Mathew Heiser.

According to Shambeau there were a number of factors that brought him looking for employment here. "Kewaskum has a small town feel to it yet. It appears to be a great place to raise a family with a great school system. Both my wife and I grew up near Manitowoc. We both have family there in the eastern part of the state," he stated.

His first order of business will be to learn as much as possible about the community. "I see my goal coming in as meeting with village staff, business leaders and school officials. My role coming in will be to absorb as much as possible," he articulated.

While employed as Planning and Zoning Administrator of Clark County for the past 13 years, Shambeau states his biggest accomplishment was implementing the land information program now used by the County.

Because Clark County's population is only 35,000, Shambeau says over the years he had to wear various hats, pitching in where needed. He says he plans to continue in that fashion once in Kewaskum.

Shambeau, his wife and four children, Elliot, 8, Mason, 7, and twin girls Abby and Lilly, 3, will be moving to Kewaskum. Shambeau says that while he and his wife were in town for interviews they looked at a number of homes. Part of the employment agreement states that Shambeau will need to be a village of Kewaskum resident while serving as administrator.

"My family and I are certainly excited to re-locate. We are planning to entrench ourselves with what Kewaskum offers. I am interested in meeting the challenges of this growing community," concluded Shambeau.

Mediterra subdivision held up due to lack of quorum at Plan Commission

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor

KEWASKUM- A 132 lot single-family upscale subdivision has had the brakes put on after a village of Kewaskum plan commission member failed to show up at the village's monthly meeting Tuesday, June 27.

Commissioner Chad Cook who has been on the commission a little over a year caused the commission to end its meeting because a quorum of the members were not present. Commissioners Andy Pesch and Jim Wright were excused from the meeting.

The Village's plan commission is already a member shy since the resignation of Lee-Ann Butschlick, who resigned awhile back when she moved out of the village's limits.

The agenda for the evening contained changes for Cherokee Lakes developer Tom Timblin. He was also to present a concept plan for Mediterra Estates. Timblin recently changed his plans in his Cherokee Lakes development from a large 72 unit multi-family building to duplex condominiums that he has completed in phase one of his project.

Mediterra Estates is planned for a parcel of land in the town of Kewaskum off Conrad Street in the village. The area is also directly behind the Amerahn Ballroom. A concept plan for the development shows minimum lot sizes of just over a half acre.

Because of the lack of a quorum, Village President Mathew Heiser has called a special plan commission meeting that will be held Tuesday, July 11 at 7 pm.

As Timblin proceeds to move forward with his developments, other developers in Kewaskum have slowed their developments or pulled out.

A plan for an 85-lot single-family development on the Willard Prost property is rumored to have been stopped. Gary Gavin, who is developing Regal Arbor directly across from the Prost property, has said publicly that development has come to halt because of the slow mar-

Over the Hill

By Matt Pommer

As expected, Tommy Thompson said he won't run for the U.S. Senate in 2006.

Thompson, four times elected governor of Wisconsin, would have faced a difficult contest in trying to unseat incumbent Herb Kohl, a moderate Democrat who has served in the U.S. Senate for 18 years. Kohl is a multi-millionaire who totally funds his own political campaigns. He owns the Milwaukee Bucks and has been generous with his wealth helping build a major athletic building on the University of Wisconsin's Madison campus.

Kohl also is a popular figure in Wisconsin's business community, a group central to a Republican chances to win elections.

More importantly in Thompson's decision was the way the Bush administration treated the popular ex-governor. He was replaced as health and social service secretary after President Bush was re-elected in 2004. Thompson is not, and was not, someone to keep still and just parrot the administration line.

On a cable television show, Thompson said he told the administration that health was the main issue facing the nation. The White House responded, he said, that the issue to be addressed was the drug program for senior citizens which became Part D of the Medicare system.

If he would have been the Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, Thompson would have been required to defend the Bush administration's war in Iraq. This is the war the public will be reminded by Democrats, that was started to eliminate weapons of mass destruction. The war effort now is defended by some who say it prevents more terrorism in America.

Thompson, always a straight talker when it comes to policy, would have gaged in defending the war of an administration that treated him shabbily in pushing him out the door.

A Thompson-Kohl contest for the U.S. Senate would have been the 2006 headline grabbing election contest in Wisconsin. Thompson is a colorful character, and the media would have loved such a contest. Thompson can create excitement and suck all the political air out of a room, State Senate Majority leader Dale Schultz, R-Richland Center, has quipped.

Thompson has said he'll get out and try to help GOP gubernatorial candidate Mark Green defeat Gov. Jim Doyle, a Democrat. But the danger of a stumping Thompson is that the public will compare Green to him and find Green is not nearly as exciting.

All the talk earlier about maybe running this year for governor or the U.S. Senate shows Thompson still has the political itch. But he'll be 65 this fall, and the decision not to run clearly means Tommy is over Wisconsin's political hill.

Chamber information kiosk started

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce's area information kiosk along the Eisenbahn Recreational Trail is well on its way to completion. Shown above Randy Dreher, left and son Logan and Kyle Bowe of RD Builders cleared the area and set the posts a few weeks ago. Dave Martin and crew of Kewaskum Concrete poured the concrete pad and approaches, and Tim Heberer and crew will be constructing the building sometime this month. To finish the Chamber will be placing benches and a display board after the building is complete. A dedication stone is planned to be placed upon completion according to Aaron Laatsch who is heading up the organization of the project.

While head of Ballard Community Schools, Krumm says he is proud to have accomplished creating an extensive agreement with the City of Huxley in the development of a new facility for the sharing of library services, gym and recreational space, police services, and meeting rooms.

This could come in extremely handy, as both the Village of Kewaskum and the school district struggle to provide community services such as library and recreational services.

"I think he might be able to assist us (Board of Education President John Kenworthy and Village President Mathew Heiser) with something like this, we don't know at this point what form that might take but with his successful history, he might be able to lead us in the right direction in a more collaborative, cost-effective government," offered Kenworthy.

Another proud accomplishment was the installation of the Story County Consortium where students throughout Story County were able to receive advanced technical skills in vocational areas while still in high school, providing college courses for juniors and seniors through the community college on the high school site.

This too may be helpful to the Kewaskum School District as they continue to be plagued annually by Open Enrollment and the state mandated Youth Options Program.

"I'm very excited about Mr. Krumm coming to our district. He brings with him a strong track record of professionalism, academic success, budget management and collaboration with disparate communities united for a common cause, often in unique and innovative ways. We need that here in Kewaskum. We need someone with the kind of vision to see beyond the status quo of what we have always done, to envision that rarified place where we can (and should) be heading as a district. As a member of the school board, I welcome that challenge and look forward to getting out of the way and letting him do his job," concluded Kenworthy.

Krumm along with his wife, Melinda are currently in the moving process. Melinda has retired as an elementary principal after 12 years at the Colo-NESCO School District. She has also served as a middle school principal and a physical education teacher in other school districts.

The two have three grown children. Marcy, 27, Andrew, 23, married and Amy, 21.

Krumm will receive an annual salary of $107,000 annually. He has signed a two-year contract with an automatic two-year rollover.

Krumm replaces Wayne Graczyk who was asked to retire in May of 2005. Graczyk's paid departure outraged the community and brought about the first-ever recall election in the school district. Due to a clause in his severance agreement details will never be known why he was paid to retire before the end of his contract.

Federal grants paying for increased police patrol on USH 41

To combat speeding, aggressive driving and other dangerous actions that cause traffic crashes, law enforcement agencies will receive federal funding for increased traffic enforcement on US 41-from Menomonee Falls to Marinette-beginning June 27 and continuing through the summer.

For the US 41 Corridor Speeding and Aggressive Driving Enforcement Project, participating municipal police and county sheriff's departments will receive between $8,000 and $16,000 in federal grants to fund overtime for officers. To increase its presence along US 41, the Wisconsin State Patrol will receive federal funding for officers' overtime and to deploy aircraft to augment enforcement efforts.

"With saturation patrols for high visibility enforcement on this busy highway, we are striving to get drivers to comply voluntarily with traffic laws to reduce crashes. However, officers, who will be patrolling in greater numbers and for longer hours, will be prepared to ticket speeders and other violators if voluntary compliance fails," says Lt. Patricia Hansen of the State Patrol Bureau of Transportation Safety, which administers the federal grants. "This multi-agency effort on US 41 kicked off on June 27 and will be sustained throughout the summer. On July 6 and August 30, each agency will mobilize along the 170-mile corridor in an intensified traffic enforcement effort. The high visibility enforcement on these dates will be an additional reminder to drivers to slow down, drive sober, and fasten their safety belts"

Receiving the grants were law enforcement agencies along USH 41. Locally, The Washington County Sheriff's Department and the Germantown Police Department received $10,000 each.

The Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department and City of Fond du Lac Police Department each received $16,000. The Wisconsin State Patrol received $4,000.

What's remarkable about Rome? Everything!

One of the interesting things the Harlows saw in the Vatican was the tomb of Pope John Paul II.

Joe and Judy Harlow in St. Peter's Square, outlined by the statues of the apostles.

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

I'm guessing it would take a good month or two to take in all the sites in Rome at a rather leisurely pace, but recently 14 "pilgrims" from the United States and one very personable one from Canada attempted to see as much as they could in just four days.

My husband Joe and I were included in group of visitors from North America who attempted this next-to-impossible task.

Our Rome and Vatican (the spiritual center of the Catholic Church and independent of Italy) itinerary included a prayer visit to the Vatican Gardens, a special Mass in St. Peter's Square on Pentecost, seeing the four major basilicas, including the two largest in the world, St. Peter's and St. Paul's. We also saw the Pantheon, visited the tomb of Pope John Paul II, and made a very quick stop to touch the Holy Staircase (in Scala Santa), which legend says is where Jesus ascended on his way to meet Pilate.

We did all this while attempting to squeeze in six to seven hours of sleep each night, precious time needed to rest our weary feet which pounded the cobblestone pavement of the streets each day.

With three million people, two million automobiles (and none as large as any of the SUVs seen in America) and 750,000 motor scooters in the city, it can be a little intimidating getting around Rome. Luckily, for us, an English-speaking guide steered us in all the right directions to see the city.

For a first visit to Rome, having a guide was a necessity. The next time we go, we would feel a little braver to venture around on our own, although a little practice on basic Italian might help when it comes to such things as ordering food, directions, etc.

It's hard to explain how you feel entering the city, seeing the top of St. Peter's Basilica for the first time. We had a little contest going in our bus, which had traveled from Vallandar, Germany through the beautiful country of Austria to reach our destination.

Everyone cheered when we spotted the top of this beautiful church, and the feeling was even more special several hours later when we entered the Square on our way to a vigil service in the garden, which nearly didn't come to pass for half of the group.

People needed special tickets to enter the garden, and the trip from our quarters in Rome, a convent which has been turned into housing for pilgrimages such as the one we were on, took longer than anticipated.

It was 8 p.m. on the dot. The gates to the garden had been closed, and several members of the Italian security guard weren't about to let us enter. Had it not been for the persistence of Sr. Angela Macari, SSM (another of our guides, who traveled with us from Germany), we probably wouldn't have made it. She pleaded and begged with more than one member of the security guard, and finally, one kind-hearted soul listened to her plea that part of the group needed to get in to join the others.

The gate opened and eight of us ran until we felt more secure the guards were not going to change their minds. Three others weren't as fortunate and never got to see the Garden or hear the Pope's message.

When I say hear, I don't mean hear in English, at least not during this gathering. We just had to be happy we could hear the Pope's voice ... period.

During the Vigil of Pentecost and the Pentecost Mass, the magic of the 21st century ... FM radio and ear phones, allowed us the luxury of all being able to hear the Pope in our respective languages.

On the first Pentecost, the apostles were "filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in different tongues, as the Spirit enabled them to proclaim." They were also able understand what others were saying to them in various languages.

On June 3rd and 4th, 2006 it was dial 93.3, and you will hear the Mass and listen to the Pope's message in English. Other stations translated the words into German and Spanish and, of course, the Italians knew what their beloved "Papa" was saying.

Most of us agreed the Vigil experience was the toughest of our trip. Why? Because 450,000 to 500,000 people all wanted to have front row seats to see Pope Benedict XVI.

To give you an indication of a crowd of 500,000, look at the fact the Milwaukee Brewers draw 2 millions fans to their 80 or so home games in a season. We were among a group one-fourth that size, in the same place and at the same time.

Christian manners, not intentionally but more by necessity, took a little bit of a backseat upon entering St. Peter's Square. There was pushing ... even if you didn't push, you were being pushed from behind, and there were moments I wondered if we were safe in a crowd this size.

As I wrote in my journal — each day, I wrote a couple pages of my thoughts and feelings on our experiences — it was like a bad dance step ... one step forward and three to the side, and this was at a pace of a step forward only once every couple of minutes, and then there were people constantly stepping on your feet.

Joe had started his stop watch when we first joined the massive crowd in an attempt to get into the Square. Over an hour and a half later, we arrived at the column, only to discover blue ticket holders were not able to enter there. The Italians didn't believe in any signs to help us out ... ala Miller Park or Lambeau Field, so it was a case of keep moving or be moved on the way to another entrance.

After two hours, it became obvious the Square was full ... there was no more room at the inn, so we were destined to do our observing from far away, on Reconciliation Street, halfway to the Tiber River.

What a major disappointment! I remember how absolutely awful I felt for several minutes, until an announcement was made the Pope was going to ride in the "Popemobile" to the Tiber and back.

Suddenly, our emotions soared upward. We are going to see the Pope ... and we did. I was in the second row, standing along with barricades lining the street and did manage to get a couple good pictures of him.

We learned later this was the largest crowd in the Square since Pope John Paul II's funeral.

I feared another similar crowd would be on hand for the Mass on Pentecost, but when the tour bus stopped to drop us off outside the Square, far fewer people were filing in. We ended up in the 24th row ... and we had chairs to sit on during the two hour wait.

The offertory of the Mass included participants from all five continents. This was especially comforting in these days of daily news concerning terrorists threatening our world.

The Pope also offered special words to American visitors and to those from his homeland.

I remember watching doves flying over the statues of the apostles, members of the Swiss standing at attention while guarding the Pope and the bells ringing ... and all of a sudden it was over.

Our group gathered for final pictures in the Square, then we boarded our bus on the trip back to Germany. Singing and exchanging thoughts on the experience made the time go by quite quickly, and two days later, we arrived back in Chicago, then drove home to Kewaskum.

The pilgrims have resumed their normal routines and careers in Florida, Oregon, Louisiana and Wisconsin. Our feet have recovered ... tons of pictures have been developed, and there are countless memories we brought back from Rome.

Sample a Philly cheese steak sandwich with fries, homemade BBQ pork sandwiches, perch with German potato salad, chicken tenders, pizza, an ice cream maple syrup sundae, and top it all off with a piece of delicious homemade fudge.

In the large pavilion, the food and beverage stands will welcome everyone all afternoon and evening. Live music will entertain picnic goers between 7 and 11 p.m. The Ultimate Rock 'n Roll Band Rocket 88, back by popular demand, will play your favorite tunes from the 60's, 70's and 80's for your listening and dancing pleasure. ## Friends of Saxonia House to meet for dedication

State Senator Glenn Grothman, State Representative Daniel LeMahieu, Wisconsin Historical Society's State Preservation Officer Michael Stevens, local government officials, and descendants of Ernst and Libertha Klessig will be honored guests at a plaque dedication ceremony at the Saxonia House, beginning at 2 p.m. on Sunday, July 9.

Friends of the Saxonia House, (FOSH) Inc., will dedicate the plaque recognizing the Saxonia House's placement on the National Register of Historic Places.

The Saxonia House is located in Fillmore, in the Town of Farmington, (just east of the intersection of CTH M and H) in the northeast corner of Washington County. The public is invited to the dedication ceremony.

Ernst and Libertha Klessig built the Saxonia House in 1854-55. It served as an inn, a tavern, a post office, a dance hall, a community center, and a Turner Hall in the Town of Farmington from 1855 through the 1860's. The site included the Farmington Brewery and a still-standing, manmade beer cave.

FOSH is currently raising funds for the multi-million dollar restoration of the house and reconstruction of the brewery. FOSH members will give tours of the house and cave after the dedication ceremony, which will also be a kick-off to the Fillmore Sesquicentennial celebration on July 15 and 16.

25 Years Ago

June 26, 1981

Kewaskum is showing its growing. Expansion and growth, during a period of economic lows, have been the key words for Kewaskum the past year. This development has not been one-sided in either type or location. Recreation has developed through completion of the new Kiwanis Park, located on the village's west side. The park has seen several community organizations put hard work and dedication into its creation. A new fully equipped pool, bath house, basketball court, baseball diamonds, tennis courts and a walking trail are to be found here. Moraine Condominiums East is the first development of its kind in the area. The first building has been completed and is in its final stages of landscaping. Industrial growth on the north rises in the form of Regal Ware's 16th addition of its plant since 1945. The impressive addition, which will house an added 22,000 square feet of factory and 7,000 square feet of office space, has been completed with departments moving into their new quarters since February and final transition expected to be completed by June. Retail development in Kewaskum includes acquisition of the former Minz Supply store by Regal Ware. This building, located in the center of the village, has been completely remodeled into a new outlet store. Additional retail construction is evident on Kewaskum's south side. Another new phase of construction is the development of the village's first shopping center. Tom Leitzke, co-owner of Kennelly Drugs, noted he has received many compliments on their new larger store located in the mall. The new Minz Supply Store on Highway 45 south, opened for business last November. The new building, which is almost triple the size of the old store, is designed to house everything under one roof from hardware to lumber. Kewaskum will soon see new construction on the village's southwest, as ground is broken for development of Meadow Creek Apartments. This complex will contain 25 units for elderly and handicapped and 12 units for single parent and low income families. Another new business in Kewaskum arrived with the opening of the First Step Show Outlet which opened recently in the store vacated by the Regal Ware Outlet.

A son was born to David and Cindy Gruber, Kewaskum, on June 16. A son was also born to Cary and Pamela Schroeter, Kewaskum on June 16. A son, Gregory Gordon, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Tim McChain, West Bend, on June 17. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Fellenz and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McChain Jr., West Bend.

July 3, 1981

The customary colorful Fourth of July holiday fireworks display will again be held in Kewaskum River Hill Park this Friday night, July 3.

The annual Kewaskum Firemen-Legion fund-raising picnic will be held in River Hill Park on Saturday evening and Sunday, July 11 and 12.

A daughter was born to Richard and Linda Katzenberger, Kewaskum, on June 28. A daughter was born to Gerald and Mary Gosa, Kewaskum, on June 28. A daughter, Cassandra Marjorie, was born to Sandra Kelly and Lee Theusch, Waupun, on June 25. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly of Arizona and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Theusch of Kewaskum. A daughter, Nichole Marie, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Glen Oechsner, Campbellsport, on June 23. A daughter was born to Jeffrey and Melodi Marks, Campbellsport, also on June 23.

50 Years Ago

June 29, 1936

A group of 14 motorcyclists from Milwaukee, all youths and young men, roared into Kewaskum Saturday night with the mufflers open on their cycles, raised a great deal of disturbance and ran into trouble with the law, leading to the arrest of eight members of the party. The cyclists reached here around 10:30 p.m. and drove around town with their cut-outs open, waking up many people and scaring others with their terrific noise. Not satisfied with this, the drivers did trick riding on East Water Street, played tag on the streets, failed to stop for arterials and exceeded the speed limit.

A total budget of $134,325.00 was presented at the budget hearing of Kewaskum Community High School Jr. District No. 2 on June 25. Melvin Riley and Clifford Stautz were unanimously reelected director and clerk respectively. There were 31 who attended the hearing.

Joan Dreher, Kewaskum, was a delegate in home furnishings and Aldwin Seefeldt, Kewaskum, a delegate in woodworking, at the 36th State 4-H Club Week at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, June 17-21.

The now famous floating island on Kettle Moraine Lake near Dundee was back in front of Fahn's Resort on Sunday in almost the same spot where it nested a month ago. Fahn stated he didn't know what could be done about the unwelcome visitor.

July 6, 1956

Edward Paul Dettman, 38, a resident of Kewaskum until a few years ago when he went to work in Milwaukee, was killed and two West Bend residents, including his brother, were injured Sunday morning when the single-engine, four passenger plane in which they were flying crashed in a field south of Manitowoc in a violent wind storm.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hron, Kewaskum, on June 30, and to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Reigle, Kewaskum, on July 1.

Harry Schaefer, chief of the Kewaskum Fire Department, left Tuesday morning for Madison where he attended the annual five-day "firemanship school" at the University of Wisconsin.

Numerous weddings occurred in the area during this time period.

July 3, 1931

The terrific heat wave, stretching over a period of seven days, during which time the thermometer registered all the way from 90 to 104 in the shade, was broken on Wednesday afternoon when rain and electrical storms came as welcome relief for all who were suffering under the sweltering heat. This, according to reports, was the hottest wave experienced in Wisconsin in 30 years for the month of June. The death toll in the state of human life and animal life was heavy. The Kewaskum Aluminum plant suspended work on Tuesday, due to the intense heat. Farmers here whose horses were dying rapidly, suspended work on the hay fields during the day, and worked during the night. Thousands of fish in the Milwaukee River here were dying on Tuesday and Wednesday, due to the heat and lack of oxygen in the water. The surface of the water at the mill pond was literally covered with dead fish on Tuesday and small crews of men were at work carrying them from the streams in bags and burying them in order to avoid an epidemic.

A German play of three acts will be presented at the Kewaskum Opera House on July 5 by members of the Pabst Theater Stock Company of Milwaukee. The play is entitled, "Die Drei Zwillinge."

Charles Miller, assistant director of this division of the cherry pickers at Sturgeon Bay, left Tuesday for the latter place to make preliminary arrangements for the cherry pickers soon to arrive there.

The following named children received First Holy Communion at St. Bridget's Church last Sunday: Joseph Westerman, Jake Bassel, Frieda Galles, Anna Gallebinsky and Victoria Hoenig.

The Town of Wayne received two iron bridges this week which were put up, one at Guldans place and the other near Kohlsville.

Peter P. Schaeffer, son of Jacob Schaeffer of Auburn, who has been studying for the priesthood in Europe for the past two years, will be ordained as a priest in Louvain, Belgium on July 15. He will start for home on the 20th of July and will read his first Holy Mass here in Holy Trinity Church on Monday, August 6.

July 7, 1906

William Dobke, living south of the village, was quite badly injured here in a runaway last Thursday afternoon. He was loading some lime at the Rosenheimer warehouse when his team became uneasy and finally ran away. Mr. Dobke tried to hold the team by the bridle and was dragged in between the Lay store building and the printing office, a space about five feet wide, where the team and Mr. Dobke became tightly wedged in. After the horses were backed out, Mr. Dobke was found bleeding profusely. Dr. Driesel was summoned and found the man's collar bone broken and his face badly bruised.

The annual school meeting of District No. 5, Kewaskum, was held at the school house last Monday evening. Nothing important was transacted except the regular routine of business. A.G. Koch was re-elected treasurer. It was decided to raise $2,000 for the next school year. Principal Cavanaugh will be assisted next season by one male and three female teachers.

The Weber Brewing Company of Theresa was incorporated last week with a capital of $25,000.

Henry Schneider met with a bad runaway last Tuesday morning. He was hauling a load of empty beer kegs to the depot when his horses shied and started up the street at a breakneck speed. As the team turned at Mertes' corner, Mr. Schneider fell from the wagon and sustained a broken collar bone. The team was finally caught after running around the block.

Henry Ramthun will open his store next Monday with a complete line of stoves and tinware.

Louis Mayer of Wayne is hauling some brick for the building of a milk house and summer kitchen.

Summer School enrollment up 25%

The 2006 Kewaskum School District Summer School program is in full swing and proving to be the best year yet. This year nearly 500 students are enrolled - an increase of 25 percent over last year.

"This is our fourth year and we are really excited with the continued increase of enrollment each year," said Janet Molebash, Farmington and Wayne Elementary Schools Principal and Summer School Coordinator. "We changed some previous course titles to make them sound more kid-friendly as well as adding several new classes, and according to enrollment numbers the changes are a success. There was only one new course that ended up getting dropped due to low enrollment most likely because it was only a two-week class instead of the full four weeks. Which in a way is a positive message that the longer courses are more desirable."

Three of the most popular new courses added this year helping to achieve the high enrollment are: Crime Scene Investigation (CSI): Kewaskum where students learn how to analyze hair samples, identify fingerprints, use DNA to identify a suspect plus much more ways to study evidence; Gift Making where students learn how to use yarn, clay, paint, paper, wood, ink, beads and other mediums to create useful and cherished gifts; and Summer Friends which teaches students how to make and keep friends as well as helping their other friends get along.

Each course is four weeks long and last 55 minutes. Classes were offered for students from 4-year-old kindergarten through high school and are held at the Kewaskum Elementary, Middle and High Schools. With over 30 different course titles from which to choose, there were plenty of options for students to continue learning while having fun.

"Research shows that there is a loss of retention over summer," said Molebash, "We wanted our students to have the opportunity to have fun and continue learning in a way that doesn't really seem like learning."

It seems to be working. Every classroom either had very attentive and focused students or lots of smiles. In one classroom, younger students were using their creativity mixed with knowledge to find different uses for a plastic link chain they had created. In another, students were learning self-responsibility and how to make personal agreements with others to get along. Walking the halls there were the sounds of participation and enjoyment by all.

The meaning of Independence Day

When the leaders of our country assembled to write the Constitution, Benjamin Franklin proposed that each session be opened with prayer. Franklin said, "I have lived a long time, and the longer I live, the more convincing proof I see of this truth - that God governs the affairs of men."

Our nation is great because it was founded upon God's work and prayer. But today prayer has been replaced by political corruption, materialism and a mistaken notion that our national affairs and even our private affairs can be run without God. Pornography, abortion and now flag burning is allowed. So great are the dangers, so tremendous the problems that it is necessary that we as individual Americans call upon the Lord God in prayer for His will. Spiritual values must be restored in this country through family prayer and the Bible, otherwise, we will be overcome by the godless. It is either revival or ruin. The 4th of July is a good time to begin.

Let us all pray as Abraham Lincoln prayed during the Civil War. "Oh, thou God that heard Solomon in the night when he prayed and cried for wisdom, hear me - I cannot guide the affairs of this nation without thy help. Hear me and save this nation."

We cannot really communicate to a Holy God in prayer until we come to know Him as our Father. And the only way we can know the Father is through His Son, our Lord Jesus Christ. Christ's death and resurrection make it possible for us to have victory over sin and a right relationship with God. Only then can He hear and answer our prayers, both for America and our own personal needs. Then we can claim God's promise "If My people, which are called by My name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from Heaven, and will forgive their sin and will heal their land (II Chronicles 7:14).

When Word's Won't Do

Copyright, by Mary Carter Mizrany

In loving memory of BEN WESTERMAN who passed away three years ago, July 4, 2003:

When tragedy comes overwhelmingly -
Wounding your hearts to the core;

Leaving more questions than answers -
Sorrow as never before,

Our words do not bring any comfort -
Your hearts are too numb to hear;

How can you face tomorrow -
When the loss is a loved one so dear?

Yet through the pain and emptiness -
A precious thought is born;

Weeping endures through the night -
But, joy cometh at morn.

So we're asking the One who holds tomorrow -
To shelter you 'neath His wing;

Give your broken hearts that comfort -
That ONLY HIS presence can bring -

And, remember you are in our hearts -
In our thoughts and prayers, too;

We are trusting God, our Father -
For those things we just can not do-

SynergyHealth reaches agreement on land for clinic in Jackson

WEST BEND - SynergyHealth announced today that it has entered into an agreement under which it will relinquish its rights in two parcels of land in Jackson to permit Aurora Health Care to acquire the properties. The two parcels, totaling approximately eight acres, were condemned by the Village of Jackson last year to allow Aurora to consolidate its ownership of a larger parcel needed for construction of a new clinic.

"In meeting with senior management at Aurora Health Care, we felt that we could resolve this dispute without involving the courts. We reached an amicable agreement with Aurora and the Village of Jackson on the use of the land," said Gregory Banaszynski, president and CEO of SynergyHealth. "This resolution is in the best interest of all parties. Our mutual goal is to help our communities prosper and grow, and to improve the health of Washington County residents."

Under the agreement, Aurora will fully reimburse SynergyHealth for its investment in the land.

SynergyHealth is a regional health system serving the greater Washington County community. St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend Clinic, and SynergyHealth Foundation are members of SynergyHealth.

Indians string ends after seesaw battle with New Holstein

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

After notching 15 straight victories against Eastern Wisconsin Conference opponents and 18 in a row overall, it was obvious everyone was going to gun for the Kewaskum High baseball team in the final six league games of the year.

The Indians dodged a bullet at Sheboygan Falls last Thursday, winning 5-4 with the tying and winning runs scored in the top of the seventh inning, and both were unearned.

The story was similar Friday night. Host New Holstein stayed right on pace with the Indians. This time, the Indians weren't able to escape with a win. The Huskies used a 2-run rally in the bottom of the sixth to upend the visitors 9-8.

The win streak was over, and while the loss was painful, it really had no bearing on the EWC standings since Kewaskum already has the conference title wrapped up.

Neither team had any difficulty getting hits or runs in Friday's duel. Kewaskum wound up with 14 hits, led by Dan Shea, who was 3x4, clean-up hitter Ross Stockhausen, 2x3, Matt Parrent, 2x4, Garrett Donath, 2x3, and Corey Torrison, 2x3.

What the Indians didn't do well was get timely hits with runners on base. They let an even dozen runners stranded, including five at second base.

Catcher Logan Staeger had just one hit, but his single in the fifth brought in Stockhaus-sen and Donath, who were on base via a single and getting hit by a pitch. "Stock" stole second and went to third on an error on the second baseman who couldn't handle the catcher's throw. Donath then stole second, putting both in scoring position.

On the late throw home by the right fielder, Staeger attempted to take second but was gunned down by Huskie catcher, Taylor Schrage. Just after that, Torrison singled but winning pitcher Matt Guelig got Nick Olla to hit into a force play at second to end the inning.

New Holstein took a 5-2 lead by scoring four runs in the bottom of the second, then the Indians tied the game 5-5 when they tallied three times in the fourth. A ground out scored the first run and Casey Scheel brought another one in, then Scheel stole second and scored on Jon Olla's single.

The score was 7-7 after the fifth, and it was anyone's game at that point.

The Huskies needed one run to regain the lead in the sixth, and wound up getting two.

Leadoff man Nate Jenkins singled to start the rally. Matt Parrent, who came on in relief of starter Jon Roskopf, gave up another single to Petrie, and the two each stole a base, giving Guelig a chance to be the hero.

Parrent struck Guelig out, so now there were two outs to go. Then Jason Kempf came to the plate and drew a walk to load the bases.

Kyle Halbach flied out to center for the second out, but on the play, Jenkins tagged up and scored, and then Kyle Stephany was the man of the hour as he singled in the lead run.

Kewaskum had one last chance to wipe out the 9-7 deficit. Back-to-back singles by Parrent and Donath gave the Indians a good start in the seventh. After a ground out, Parrent eventually scored on a fielder's choice, giving Kewaskum the 9-8 lead, then Luke Petrie (who got the same) got Scheel to fly out to end the contest.

Parrent, who took the loss, is now 6-1, Guelig improved to 3-2.

The night before, Kewaskum managed just six hits off Jacob Juedes and reliever Bryan Mueller, far below its season average. The Indians made use of every one of them, however, and of three Falcon errors in the top of the seventh that allowed the tying and winning runs to score.

Donath had two RBIs, one on his single in the third and the other on a sacrifice fly in the fifth.

John Holt started, but it was Parrent picking up the victory by pitching the sixth and seventh, striking out three and only giving up one single. Kewaskum, now 20-2 overall, is at Campbellsport this evening at 5:30 p.m.

Note: KHS Coach Dave Donath was out of town and unavailable for comment on these two games.

Tournament draws 18 teams; 61 is easily the low score

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Behind a sizzling score of 61, the team of Jim Kleinke, Joe Volesky and Tim Rohlinger captured top honors in the Three-Man Scramble held Saturday at Hon-E-Kor Country Club.

The winning 9-under-par score was four shots better than the one turned in by Jim and Norb Rohlinger and Brian Dreher's 65, and in third place at 65 were Barry Baliff, Bob Roloff and Ryan Amerling.

Finishing in the fourth spot among the 18 team were Larry Sterr, Pete Kostelac and Bill Wuebben.

There was also a competition for the lowest net score. This title was won by Mike Lewis, Dennis, Gonring and Jim Dean, who posted an excellent score of 59, two in front of Dick Wietor, Dan Gibbons and Chuck Boegel's 61.

The team of Rick Averill, Mike Volesky and Doug Gonring also put up a 61, and going back on the card, the Wietor, Gibbons, Boegel group got the nod because they had a four on No. 18, while the other trio came in with a five.

"They all had a good time," Buck Averill, who directs the event, said. He believed this is the 10th year the tournament has been held and the turnout was close to the all-time high of 20 teams. "It was more than we had last year," he said.

Next up on the HEK schedule is a shootout playoff, which will be held tomorrow (Friday) evening, starting at 4:30 p.m. The cost is $10 per person — nonmembers are welcome — and there will be no more than 10 players in each flight.

In this event, the golfers all start on No. 1, and the person with the highest score on each hole is eliminated. If there is a tie for the highest score, those involved with have a chip-off from 20 yards off the green.

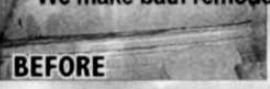

The tournament continues through nine holes when a champion is crowned.

There will be live entertainment in the clubhouse after the event has concluded.

On Sunday, there will be a Two-Person Better Ball Tournament, which is part of the multiple-event Player of the Year competition. Details are available in the clubhouse.

Warhawks take first place in tournament

The Kewaskum Warhawks Midget Major baseball team participated in a tournament on Saturday, June 10 and Sunday, June 11 in Random Lake. The Warhawks walked away with a first place finish.

In the first game, the team was led offensively by Jon Ballard who went 2 for 3, Tyler Voge who was 2 for 3 and Bryce Thull who was 2 for 2. Outstanding pitching by Brandon Susen and Jacob Hardy helped seal the 15-2 win over Belgium Blue.

The second game against Port Washington ended with a 8-3 victory for the Warhawks.

Ballard, 2 for 4, once again led the team offensively and Brian Wilson made two outstanding catches in the outfield to lead the team defensively. In pitching the team was helped by Alex Johnson who pitched three scoreless innings.

In the championship game against Belgium Orange, Tyler Voge came up with a big double with an RBI to tie the game and send it into extra innings.

In the extra innings, Michael Behling and Johnson both came up with RBI singles to give the Warhawks a two run lead to seal the 5-3 win.

Susen and Voge both had their best pitching performances of the season, holding a very good offensive team to just three runs.

Special mention goes to Austin Kerkela and Jake Wade for playing through the championship game even though they were both injured.

Coach John Voge stated that, "Everybody on the team throughout the tournament contributed in some way offensively, defensively, or with pitching to win this championship."

With these three wins, the Warhawks are 8-0.

A's bats quiet at Hartford

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Limited to just four base hits, and all of them singles, the Kewaskum Athletics had their problems at Hartford Sunday afternoon. The A's suffered their third Rock River League loss in a row, falling to the host Hawks by a score of 7-1.

"We're in a little slump in Rock games," Jake Panzer, who served as spokesperson for the A's team for the three games last week, said.

With the loss, Kewaskum slipped to 3-6 in RR action, but a split in games played in Menasha in the Wisconsin State NBC Tournament on June 26-27 helped the team move to 12-7 overall.

Kewaskum scored first at Hartford, using a little "small ball" to get its lone run in the top of the second inning. After Josh Heisdorf drew a walk, Panzer successfully bunted him to second, then Dustin Doyle's ground out moved him to third base.

The A's needed a base hit, and Josh Parrent was glad to oblige. He singled Heisdorf home, but hopes of adding any more runs were quickly doused as the next batter popped out.

Kevin Hall was tough on the A's hitters the rest of the way. Jake Spaeth managed a pair of singles off Hall, and Ty Schill came up with the only other hit.

For the first seven innings, Dave Heim was very effective for the A's, giving up just one run in the third. All that changed in the bottom of the eighth, however, when the Hawks used six hits and three wild pitches to score six times and wrap up the victory.

The rally started with Jim Kluck doubling, and after a single by Chad Bruck, Ben Kluck stroked an RBI single and then came a double by Tom Kluck, which was followed by two of the wild pitches, a single by Proso, another wild pitch and finally an RBI single by Adam Luckhardt.

Heim never got an out in the eighth, forcing player/manager Jason Strobel to make a pitching change in favor of Jim Ziegler, who finished up without any further damage.

Heim struck out three and walked one, while Ziegler struck out one and didn't give up any hits or walks in the eighth.

"He (Hall) wasn't throwing anything baffling," Panzer said. "We just couldn't hit."

In the event in Menasha, the A's moved to 2-0 Monday night with a 6-1 decision over Waupun. Details on the game were a bit sketchy, but Ty Schill (Panzer was unable to be at these games) did say D.J. Dornfeldt got the win for Kewaskum, going all seven innings.

The leading hitter for Kewaskum was Shane O'Hagen, who was 2x4, with a pair of RBIs.

"Waupun had a lot of errors," Panzer said.

Because of the heavy schedule this time of year, the A's picked up several new players for the tournament, but had to forfeit vs. the Appleton Legends. The two teams still played the game, which was won by the A's 5-4.

Dean Haase had a key double in the top of the seventh for Kewaskum, and Tim Snow produced two hits, according to Schill.

Mark Rady came in to pick up the pitching win. Josh Stoffel was the A's starter.

Now 2-1, Kewaskum still has a chance to finish second in the tournament, which will continue on July 14-15 and 22. The top two teams advance to Sauk Prairie for a continuation of the tournament.
