If approved, new plant would be largest project completed in village history

Village residents given lesson in Wastewater 101

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- Less than two percent of the village of Kewaskum's population turned out to hear plans of updating the aging wastewater treatment plant. A public hearing to address issues with the plant was held here Monday evening, September 18 at the Municipal Annex Building.

As reported in last week's edition, the plant has been placed under the microscope by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) because of its age. That department has also stated that it may not renew an operational permit if the village does not have a facilities plan for the plant in place by the end of this year.

Doug Nelson, a project engineer with Ruekert-Mielke, the village's engineering firm, gave those in attendance a quick lesson on how the plant currently operates and some of its deficiencies. He also explained that the village's discharge permit with the DNR was changed and the plant is no longer able to handle the flows it was built for in 1971.

According to DNR code, the village must develop a 20-year plan for the management and improvement of the facility. Ruekert-Mielke has completed that plan but it's now up to village trustees to either accept the plan or modify it.

Ruekert-Mielke's plan advises the village to build a new $10.9 million facility adjacent to the current plant. Last week we reported the cost to be $10.3 million but Nelson corrected those figures, saying that his firm released incorrect figures.

If the village decides against accepting the plan they can request a permit modification from the DNR. Judith Gottlieb, an environmental engineer with the DNR who spoke at the hearing, stated that in her past experience permit modifications are reviewed but not always accepted.

The other alternative that could prove to be a bit more costly for the village, is to compile an interim plan. A more detailed analysis of the plant would need to be done as well as developing the plan itself. An interim plan can not usually be modified into a final plan, thus leaving the village to also pay for the cost of developing a final plan.

Christie Cramer, a financial analyst with Ruekert-Mielke gave residents the dollars and cents of building a new plant. She expected that on the basis of 55,000 gallons used by an average household, the cost without using impact fees to pay for the project, would leave those paying water bills with an increase of about $133.50 per quarter.

Work begins on Hwy W

Work began on repairing County Road W in the town of Wayne on Monday, September 18. Shown here, a county road crew works on lowering the grade of a hill near Wayne Center Drive. Highway Commissioner Ken Pesch stated that the road will be closed south of Wayne for three weeks. "So far, we have installed silt fence to protect the adjoining wet lands in the marsh and replaced three existing cross road culverts. We have also installed one additional cross road culvert to compensate for flow of water that could be impeded because we will be raising the roadbed through the marsh. We have also milled the existing asphalt pavement in the area where the road will be lowered south of Wayne Center Drive and stockpiled those millings for recycling as base for the new pavement." Next highway crews will remove some of the marsh vegetation and top soil. Dirt from the area where the road is being lowered south of Wayne Center Drive, will be used to widen the road through the marsh so the roadbed can be raised about a foot. After that is complete, engineering fabric will be laid across the entire roadbed in order to help bridge over the organic compressible soils that are under the existing roadbed. Last, a layer of granular fill will be placed through the marsh area and the road will be repaved. "When we complete our work about mid-October, we will have lowered the road about six feet at the crest of the hill just south of Wayne Center Drive to improve sight distances at that intersection and we will have raised the road through the marsh about a foot before placing the first lift of asphalt in that area," stated Pesch.

Treatment plant

If impact fees for the water utility would be added, residents would see a cost of about $13 per quarter. The village currently does not have a water impact fee, only a sewer impact fee.

Cramer also indicated that sewer rates in the village are currently the second lowest in the county. The county average is $357.13 whereas Kewaskum's average is $319.95. On a statewide average, among similar communities, Kewaskum also rates lower. The statewide average is $400.26.

Resident Dale Squire asked the board if they considered getting a second opinion from another engineering firm. "If either of you had cancer, you'd get a second opinion wouldn't you," he asked.

Another resident asked about the current debt of the plant. Department of Public Works Director Jerry Gilles stated he estimated the plant to have outstanding debt of about $5.2 million. Most of that debt came into play when the village updated the plant they did but the site turned out to be not economically feasible.

From here the board will weigh their options and look into how to proceed. The board will have to decide by the end of the year.

Residents also asked the board if they had considered another site. Nelson stated

T. Scott may sell community center

By Bernadette Mondloch
Special to The Statesman

The Town of Scott Board of Supervisors are investigating the possibility of placing the Scott Community Center (former Hilltop) for sale, but not until the residents can be heard at a public hearing, tentatively scheduled for the third Monday in January.

Discussion first centered around holding an advisory referendum at the November election. Then, to include information in a newsletter which goes out to all property owners. Supervisors suggested that renters could be sent individual letters informing them of the proposed sale. In the end, the public hearing won out, saving the town $250 for the cost of a referendum.

Complaints regarding road damage done to Coon Valley Road, possibly by the town's snow plow during the past year's snow season were discussed. Rodney and Toni Krahn called Supervisor Cheryl Scholz who responded to their complaint.

The Town of Scott has over eight dead-end roads which are maintained by the town highway department. Many of them actually serve as the driveways for individual property owners, Krahn being one of them. Scholz reported that she observed an area of four foot square pot holes and an area where the town plow must turn around, causing the edges of the road to be broken up.

It was estimated that repairs could cost over $3,000. Supervisor Bruce Birenbaum, head of the road committee will investigate the situation. A number of pot holes in various areas were expected to be repaired.

A conditional use permit was approved for Brian Biles, new owner of "Tillies" in Beechwood. Biles is planning on remodeling the former biker bar into a small restaurant and karaoke bar. Supervisors set conditions forcing him to follow state mandates regarding that type of business and to provide sufficient parking across the street from the structure.

All new driveway permits will be approved by highway foreman Mark Muench and Supervisor Bruce Birenbaum. The pair will also approve and recommend the size of culverts to be used.

County Road A project moving forward

Laying of the first lift of asphalt on County Road A from Highway 144 to just east of Indian Lore Road in the town of Farmington that began last Friday, September 15 was completed Monday, according to project manager Ceci Pieroni. She stated that the second lift of asphalt for that stretch of road will be placed when the next segment of the project receives its first lift of asphalt which is likely before the end of September. Pieroni did not comment on any specific problems on the project's path but did state, "We continue to work with Washington County and the contractors to overcome any problems that are encountered as we progress through the project." Pieroni and Washington County Highway Commissioner Ken Pesch asked drivers to please refrain from driving on the entire length of the project (STH 144 to the county line) as it remains closed to through traffic. At this point, the project is expected to finish by November 1, 2006, weather permitting.

Convent buys former Campbellsport Clinic

CAMPBELLSPORT— The School Sisters of St. Francis, owners of St. Joseph Convent there have acquired the former Campbellsport Clinic building and nearly one acre of adjacent land. Plans for what is being called St. Francis Center were not revealed.

The purchase of the 3,000 square foot St. Francis Center was made from Agnesian Healthcare, Inc. in Fond du Lac, who had operated the clinic at 328 N Helena Street for nearly 25 years. The building became available when a new clinic was built at 350 E. Sheboygan Street there in late 2005.

The Schools Sisters of St. Francis (SSSF) and the Agnesian Healthcare organizations have a long history of cooperative Catholic ministry in the Fond du Lac County area. A press release issued by the convent stated a cooperative ministry led to the sale of the property, which benefited both organizations.

Administrator of St. Joseph Convent, Michael Kurtz stated, "We have been evaluating the purchase of the property for some time. The opportunity presented itself and now was the right time to take advantage of this opportunity. We are grateful to the Agnesians for their years of service to the Campbellsport community and their willingness to transact this sale."

The St. Francis Center is adjacent to the St. Joseph Convent property on the western boundary. The land where the building stands was actually owned by the Sisters and sold to the Associated Physicians group when the clinic was built.

Different pleas entered in Holy Hill defacement

The two cousins accused of spraying graffiti at the Holy Hill Shrine both appeared in Washington County Circuit Court on Monday, September 18. One of the accused Hartford cousins pleaded no contest. One did not.

In pleading no contest, David Groth admitted there was enough evidence to convict him and Judge Pat Faragher found the younger cousin guilty of criminal damage to religious property.

As part of the deal, the 17-year-old had an obstruction charge dismissed and was found guilty of two unrelated theft charges. Groth will be sentenced December 14.

Tyler Groth entered a not guilty plea to the June 6 vandalism. Judge Faragher scheduled an October 18 status hearing with a jury trial set for October 23.

According to the complaint, the two vandalized the historic landmark to make a statement of the alleged birthday of Satan.

Village dedicates new library sign in Stradtman's memory

Irene Stradtman addressed the over 30 who came to the dedication of a sign for the Kewaskum Library built with money from her husband's memorial fund. RIGHT: Librarian Steev Baker officially opens the library.

A group of about 30 gathered at the front of The Kewaskum Public Library on Saturday morning, September 16 to honor one of the library's biggest fans. Village President Matt Heiser called the event a bittersweet one.

"Sweet because we can appreciate a tangible reminder of Dave's footprint on this community. Bitter because Dave is not here with us," stated Heiser in his remarks.

The former library board member, beloved educator, Lions Club member and friend to all who knew him, was diagnosed with cancer in January of 2005 and passed away later that year. Before his bout with cancer began, he advocated for a sign for the library, even offering to craft it himself.

Because of his illness that was not possible so he instructed that a memorial fund be set-up for the purchase of an outdoor sign. The sign was dedicated Saturday.

The sweetest part of the dedication was seeing Stradtman, his love for wood and the library being literally molded together so even in death he will remain in spirit with the library.

'42nd Street' at KHS

Broadway returns to Kewaskum High School for the 38th season. After many years of shows such as "Camelot", "The King And I", "My Fair Lady", "Bye, Bye Birdie" and "The Pajama Game", the students at K.H.S. have begun rehearsing for their fall premier of "42nd Street."

The Broadway Musicals had its start in 1968, when a group of very talented musicians, actors, artists and tech crew members, along with a great director, presented "Camelot". Since that start many things have changed, but many things are still the same. There are still the very talented musicians and actors, the same dedicated members of the tech crew and still some great directors preparing each year to bring this enjoyable experience, the Broadway musical, to all of you.

So mark your calendar for Friday, November 3rd and Saturday, November 4th, 2006 for this year's performance of "42nd Street" and keep reading the newspaper for more information on the cast and crew of "42nd Street".

Fire of undetermined origin, destroyed the Alois Beisbier insulation plant in the Town of Ashford early Wednesday, September 9, and tons of newspaper, used for making insulation which was stored inside. Beisbier, of Kewaskum, operates the insulation business along with his Kettle Moraine Electric Store in Kewaskum. Between 200 and 300 tons of baled newspaper were stored in the 100-foot building which was covered with metal siding. Beisbier said the newspaper is shredded and treated with fire retardant chemicals before being used for insulation. The barn was listed as a total loss and most of the newspaper was either burned or water-soaked.

The high school building trades class has been given permission by the Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations to construct a "Flammable Liquids Storage Room" in the high school. Business Manager Bob Borch informed the School Board Monday evening that because of the high construction cost, the DILHR had given the district an extension until this fall to do the work. The room is a state safety requirement. After receiving approval by the DILHR Building Inspector, David Stradtman and his class reviewed the state approved building plans and found they will be able to construct the storage room for a materials cost of approximately $2,200. Borch told the board that initially, the district felt it would have to go to an outside firm to do the work. This would have resulted in a cost of over $4,400 to the district. The board approved releasing funds for purchase of the building materials.

The cast has been selected and practice is in progress for this year's Kewaskum High School musical, "Oklahoma," presented in the high school auditorium November 6 and 7. Leading cast members in this year's production include: Laurey played by Julie Dettmann, Curley is portrayed by Scott Nigh, Aunt Eller played by Debie Schmidt, Will Parker played by Scott Buchel, Jud Fry played by Jim Braun, Ado Annie played by Carol Lehmann, Ali Hakim played by Craig Rosenthal, Gertie Cummings played by Tracy Coulter, Ike Skidmor played by Don Goeden and Andrew Carnes played by Jeff Schmidt. Other supporting cast members include Brad Dieringer as Cord Elam, Dan Menzel as Jess, Jackie Kirmse as Ellen, Doreen Jacobs as Sylvia, Jacky Loof as Armina, Mary Straub as Aggie, Steve Hubbell as Sam, Dan Butzke as Fred and Dennis Butz as Slim. The entire production is under the production of Robert Getter and his assistant, Dave Bertelsen. Mrs. Dave Bertelsen will be in charge of musical and dance choreography.

Over the summer the KHS cheerleaders went to a cheerleading clinic in Phelps, Wisconsin. Of the five days they were there, they received the Neat Guys award for the neatest cabin, one excellent, three superior ribbons and two spirit sticks. Cheerleaders who attended were Debi Schmidt, Lori Lloyd, Heide Schlieter, Amy Nigh, Shelly Strobel, Karen Kudek, Karolyn Kutz, Laurie Steiner and Sandy Kirchner.

A daughter, Rebecca Lynn, was born to Gary and Audrey Herman, Kewaskum, September 12. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Herman of Kewaskum. A son was born to Michael and Debra Lettow, Kewaskum, also on September 12. Daughters were born to Jon and Karen Ramthun, Campbellsport, on September 13; to Thomas and Lori Schoofs, Campbellsport, on September 10, and to Dale and Tina Miller, Campbellsport, August 21.

At an adjourned meeting of the Kewaskum Village Board on September 6, the resignation of Harry J. Schaefer, Superintendent of the Sewage Plant was unanimously accepted. At another adjourned meeting on September 10, the board interviewed Adolph Grueschow for the position of Sewage Plant Superintendent. Adolph Grueschow was then engaged as Sewage Plant Superintendent.

Vincent Motors has leased the new F.N. Bohn building south of the village and will open a complete new body shop. The shop will do all body repairing and painting. "Hans" Prause of Kewaskum has joined the Vincent Motors organization and will be in charge of the body shop.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nigh, Route 1, Adell, on September 16, and to Mr. and Mrs. Leander Fellenz, Kewaskum, also on September 16. Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Schommer, Kewaskum, on September 13, to Mr. and Mrs. David Backhaus, Kewaskum, on September 13, and to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Martin, Kewaskum, on September 17.

Recently, Kewasum Elementary School (KES) students and Keith Kriewaldt were sent a letter and Good Citizen Award from the superintendent's office of the Jefferson Parish Public School System in Marrero, Louisiana, for their "tremendous act of human kindness," as quoted in the letter from Superintendent Diane Roussel.

After the devastation of Hurricane Katrina last year, KES selected a sister school in one of the ravaged areas of Katrina to raise money for much needed supplies. Through their hard work and fundraising efforts, the students were able to raise $1,649.40. This was sent in the form of a check to Jefferson Parish Public School System and was used to buy school supplies such as white boards for the students and classrooms.

"The lessons you have taught our children and staffs are some of the most positive in life," said Roussel. "You have taught them the meaning of compassion and caring. You have made them aware of community, a very large community, of citizens who responded without being asked."

It is a great accomplishment for the students

Kewaskum families host foreign exchange students

Four energetic and unique exchange students have arrived in Kewaskum. They are Marcelo Franco and Anders Thompsen in the back row, and Sam Cho and Sebastian Grell in the front row.

Statesman Correspondent

Four young men from four very different cultures arrived in Wisconsin this past August to begin a year of study abroad through the foreign exchange student program at Kewaskum High School (KHS). Many students, teachers and host families will not soon forget the year ahead.

It will be a year of memories, stories to last a lifetime and a bond only few are fortunate enough to share.

Meeting them is enlightening. As a group, they are very energetic and get along well. Individually, each personality is distinct which will add so much to the experience for those meeting these young men and becoming their friends.

Each filled out, in their words, "a very, very long form" to apply to the foreign exchange program. Once accepted, they only knew they would be studying in the United States of America. But exactly where in America would remain a mystery until the week before they arrived for two of the young men and only one day prior to arriving for the other two.

Sam Cho is from South Korea. Back home are his parents who are both teachers and an older sister. While in Kewaskum, he will be staying with the Bigley family whom he says are very kind and helping him in the transition.

Cho enjoys skiing and video games and hopes to learn snowboarding and skateboarding while in America. In his first few days here, Cho has already discovered Starbucks Coffee. "It is very good," he said with a big smile. So far he misses Korean food the most.

Marcelo Franco is from Curitiba, Brazil. He leaves behind his mother, father, younger sister and his dog Biba whom he misses very much as well as his family, his friends, his bedroom and Brazilian food. The Parkers are his host family. "They are really helping me and are taking care of me really well," said Franco. "I think I couldn't have a better host family than the one I got."

Franco comes from a city with a population of 1.5 million so Kewaskum is a bit of a change. "It's a really small city so people are always together and know each other," said Franco. "The weather is a lot more cold, but the supermarkets are big and have a lot of good things!"

He enjoys soccer, basketball, video games, surfing, playing cards, hanging out with friends and sleeping. While in America, Franco would like to travel the United States, enjoy it all and do everything possible.

Sebastian Grell is from Wedel, North Germany, (population 30,000) which is near Hamburg. He lives in the city with his mother, father, a younger brother and his cat Sheeve (pronounced Schiwi). His Kewaskum hosts are the Kriewaldt family.

Since arriving in Kewaskum, Grell has been on vacation with his host family to northern Wisconsin which he enjoyed very much, second only to the discovery of donuts.

Grell enjoys making movies, badminton, chess, physics and math, reading and writing. While in America, he would like to: learn more English, physics and math; do more socializing and traveling; see the U.S. Capitol, Great America amusement park, the Mississippi River and a professional baseball game.

He misses his family and friends most along with cheap carbonated water and the food back home. "The food here is much different than back home. It is either too sweet, too fat or has strong smells," said Grell. And the other three strongly agreed.

Anders Thompsen is from Denmark, "a little spot between Norway, Sweden and Germany," as he puts it. His family back home includes his mother, father, younger sister and a cat. Thompsen's American family is the Weindorf family.

He enjoys downhill skiing, badminton, soccer, fishing, hiking and being with friends. While in America, Thompsen hopes to learn more English.

Thompsen misses his family and friends back home as well as playing badminton, however, there is a silver lining...the King Buffet Chinese restaurant in West Bend. "It is the BEST!" he said. "Everyone needs to go there." No sooner did Thompsen say this and the four young men began plotting a trip so they all could enjoy in his exciting cuisine discovery.

One thing Thompsen said really stood out. "I talk a lot," he said. And he does. He is a bit of a character but full of energy and excitement about being here.

These four men will be here until June 2007 when it will be time to travel back to their homes, but not before leaving a lasting impression on the friends and family bonds they create during their time here.

"I want to say that every body that has the opportunity to do an exchange program should do it," said Franco. "It's awesome. You make new friends, learn lessons for your life and try something new in life."

Rescued

By Allen & Linda Anderson

New World Library $16.95 346 Pages

When people ask you how many there are in your family, your answer will depend on the kinds of "kids" you have in your household.

You'll count yourself and a spouse or significant other, of course. You'll add in the human kids, if any. And, if you're a puppy parent or you're owned by a cat, a horse, a gerbil, or an iguana, you'll naturally consider the four-footed children as members of your family.

It's no secret that Americans love their pets. So what happens when disaster strikes and humans are forced to leave those pets behind? Read the new book "Rescued" by Allen & Linda Anderson, and you'll find out.

A little over a year ago, when Hurricane Katrina hit the Gulf Coast, the news was filled with footage of people being whisked to safety by helicopters and boats. What many Americans didn't know is that when imminent disaster became apparent, many animal rescue groups rushed from all over the country to the New Orleans area to help find and save four-footed family members.

As the hours stretched into days, volunteers and organizations slogged through toxic water, contaminated sludge and broken buildings to find pets that, because of the danger and confusion, were left behind. They pulled half-starved dogs and terrified near-feral cats from front porches, attics, and roofs where the animals were waiting for their owners. They rescued snakes, cattle, chickens, horses and zoo animals.

And that was only half the job.

After the animals were brought to safety, they were evaluated by veterinarians and treated, if needed. Volunteers offered foster homes and many tried to relocate the animals' human companions. Yet, despite attempts to track down owners via rabies tags, addresses and other physical descriptions, a mere estimated 15% of all pets rescued from the Katrina aftermath were reunited with their original owners.

So what can be done to protect your pet in the event of a disaster? In their final chapters, the Andersons offer suggestions and tips from people who've "been there", working at the core of animal rescue missions.

Do you dig a dog? Cater to a cat? Do you hug your horse? Then you're going to want to paws whatever you're doing and get this book. Authors Allen & Linda Anderson write about reunions, brave rescues and yes, they tell about some of the frustration, red-tape, and failures that rescue workers have seen. Some of the stories are going to make you smile. Others will bring tears to your eyes.

After you're done reading the very valuable hints and the heartfelt stories, be sure to go back and look at the section in the middle of the book with the color photos. Only the hardest hearts will fail to be moved by the picture of the soldier checking on a tiny little bird in a cage. Adopt your very own copy of this book, then gather your family (two-footed and four-footed) and be sure you're prepared for cat-astrophe, doggone it. If you're a pet parent, "Rescued" is definitely worth begging for.

Activities planned for Life Insurance Awareness Month

Forty-eight million US households believe they need more life insurance coverage, according to LIMRA International's 2005 Life Insurance Ownership Study of household financial decision makers. One possible reason - 78% of Americans say they don't have a personal life insurance agent.

September marks the third annual Life Insurance Awareness Month, a campaign to raise awareness and educate consumers about the importance of life insurance coverage and the financial services representatives trained to help them get the adequate financial protection they feel they need.

Led by the Life and Health Insurance Foundation for Education, more than 100 life insurance organizations and their representatives, including local Modern Woodmen of America agent Jeff Jaeger, will observe the occasion by providing information and activities regarding the role of life insurance in a sound financial plan.

"Life Insurance Awareness Month is a natural time for people to re-evaluate their personal situation," says Jaeger. "There's often a gap between the life insurance coverage people have and what they need or feel they need."

According to the 2005 study, on average households own enough life insurance to replace the household's income for 3.6 years, but they say they should have 5.7 years of replacement coverage.

"That's where an advisor's role comes in," Jaeger continued, "to help people determine their specific needs and how to meet those needs."

Modern Woodmen members and others can find life insurance information and online financial planning calculators at www.modern-woodmen.org. Or, they can contact Jeff Jaeger at 262-626-4139 about a free life insurance analysis.

Modern Woodmen representatives help more than 750,000 members meet quality-of-life needs for their families and communities through financial advice products, and fraternal programs.

Founded in 1883 as a fraternal benefit society, Modern Woodmen of America offers financial services and fraternal member benefits to individuals and families throughout the United States.

Mid Moraine representative, President Heiser, informed the Board that Kevin Scheunemann, Jay Shambeau and himself would be attending the dinner meeting on August 23, 2006. Impact fees will be a topic of discussion.

Ruckert & Mielke representative, Jon Cameron, presented a proposal to update the Sewer and Park and Recreation Facilities Needs Assessment Study and Ordinance. The Board expressed their frustration with the impact fee law and the strict guidelines for limited use of the money to maintain existing facilities. On a motion by Andy Pesch, seconded by Kevin Scheunemann and carried by voice vote, the Board approved Ruckert & Mielke to amend the Sewer and Park and Recreation Facilities Needs Assessment Study and Ordinance. Derek Peterson was recorded as voting "nay".

Paige Naves of Wireless Facilities, Inc (WFI) was in attendance to present an alternate proposal of existing antennas, equipment and building location, on the Village of Kewaskum Water Tower No 1. On a motion by Kevin Scheunemann, seconded by Steve Scheunemann, and carried by voice vote, staff was authorized to continue discussions and negotiate a contract with WFI.

Jim Kasing of Site Acquisition Consultants was in attendance to present an alternative proposal to the existing antennas, equipment and building location on the Village of Kewaskum Water Tower No 3. On a motion by Derek Peterson, seconded by Andy Pesch and carried by voice vote, staff was authorized to continue discussion and negotiate a contract.

Ken Ward of Ruckert & Mielke was in attendance to discuss the revised alternatives he proposed for the assessments in the Kewaskum Tax Incremental District (TID) #2. He reminded the Board that it is important to be consistent with existing Village policies or be subject to challenges with future projects.

President Heiser informed the Board that these alternatives would not require action tonight. He said the affected landowners would be invited to the September 5, 2006 Village Board meeting. Extensive discussion took place regarding past policies, TID Project and lateral costs for improvements. This item will be placed on the next Village Board agenda for action.

On a motion by Derek Peterson, seconded by Kevin Scheunemann and carried by voice vote, the Board adjourned into closed session under WI State Statute 19.85(1)(c) for the purpose of considering employment, promotion or compensation of the Treasurer/Deputy Clerk position.

The Village Board reconvened into open session at 10:00PM.

On a motion by Kevin Scheunemann, seconded by Derek Peterson, the Board approved the placement of Treasurer/Deputy Clerk to Grade 8, Step 3. Motion carried by voice vote.

The Board reviewed the meeting dates for September, those being September 5th and September 18th.

On a motion by Trustee Kevin Scheunemann, seconded by Trustee Andy Pesch and carried by voice vote, the meeting was adjourned at 10:03 pm. Roll call vote 7 "Aye" 0 "Nay".

Spartz wins the chance of a lifetime

Owen Spartz of Campbellsport is shown on the turf of Lambeau Field with Green Bay Packers Al Harris and Brett Favre.

Owen Spartz's mom, Kim, had entered his name in the Packers Junior Captain Contest, but she knew the chance of him winning was pretty slim.

On Thursday, September 7, she received a phone call from Newsradio 620 WTMJ. To her surprise, Owen had won the contest. Thanks to Newsradio 620 WTMJ and Verizon Wireless, Owen was selected as the Packers Junior Captain for the Sunday, September 10 Packers vs. Bears game.

The package included four Packer tickets and the chance to be down on the football field for the coin toss.

On Sunday, Owen was quite excited to be down on the sidelines one hour before the game started. He took over 60 pictures of the Packer players. Then the referee escorted Owen onto the field for the coin toss. He was greeted by Packer player Al Harris with a friendly hand shake.

After the coin toss, Owen was approached by one of his favorite Packer players. Brett Favre stopped to ask his name and shake his hand. Owen has not stopped smiling since. This was a chance of a lifetime and Owen will never forget any of it.

August was a good month for aces at HEK

Joan Fleischman

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

There were not one, but two aces at Hon-E-Kor Country Club during the month of August.

Joan Fleischman was the first to get a hole-in-one. It came on August 13th and was witnessed by her husband, Albert, and good friends, Jack and Cathy Westerman.

"It was my very first one," Fleischman said about the ace which was recorded on the Blue No. 4, which measures 141 yards.

When asked what club

she used, Fleischman said, "I think my 3-wood. We knew it was close, but we didn't see it go in. All our shots were pretty good, and the one went in."

"Cathy and I were screaming, and there was no one around," Fleischman said, indicating the same was true in the clubhouse, so instead of having a big tab because of the ace, she only had to buy a drink for her friends and the bartender.

Fleischman, a native of Kewaskum, is the secretary at Campbellsport Building Supply, which is owned by her husband.

Tom Van Alstyne of Kewaskum also had the exhilarating experience of scoring an ace. His came on Aug. 31 on Red No. 3, which measures 154 yards from the White Tees.

Van Alstyne was not available for comment on his ace.

Gibson, KHS boys take second in Ripon CC test

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Running on the course at Ripon College, the Kewaskum High boys cross country runners surprised their coach Saturday, finishing second in the event.

Host Ripon easily won the meet with 25 points, then came the Indians with 82, 18 in front of the Lomira "A" team, which had 100. Not counting second, third and fourth teams representing Ripon, there were seven teams in the meet.

"It was a pleasant surprise with the boys team placing second overall," coach Dave Drexler said. "A good effort put forth by all the runners."

Especially on his game was senior Bob Gibson, who placed fifth overall with a solid time of 18 minutes and 8 seconds (18:08), just three seconds out of the fourth spot.

The winner was Jake Tsacadakis of Ripon. He covered the five kilometers in 17:23.

Drexler said Zack Herriges keeps on improving in each meet as he gains more experience." Herriges, only a freshman, finished 10th overall at 19:24, and teammate Tyler McElhatton was right behind him in the 11th spot at 19:36.

Rounding out the KHS scoring were Aaron Monte, 25th, 20:53 and Austin Yadro, 21:43. These were personal best times for both runners.

In the girls competition, Drexler was pleased to see Tonya Janssen finally have a breakout race. "Tonya finally broke out of her mid-19s and cut a nice chunk off her time," Drexler said, reporting Janssen placed 18th with a time of 18:59.

There was quite a gap after Janssen, then came Kassie Legate and Vanessa Schellinger in 33rd and 34th, respectively, with times of 20:00 and 20:04.

"Kassie is turning out to be a strong runner and, like Zack, is improving as she gains more experience," the coach said.

Kristin Vogt placed 50th, covering the 4 k in 21:04, and Alyssa Clapper was the Indians' fifth counter with her 21:19 for 53rd.

The Ripon girls made it a sweep with their 28 points, 10 ahead of East Troy. Kewaskum

Kowalczyk wins two straight, but KHS netter have to settle for a split

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

The Kewaskum High girls tennis team did better on the road than it did at home in Eastern Wisconsin Conference action this past week, and, of course, the competition might have had a lot to do with that.

First, the Indians defeated host Kiel 5-2, but they couldn't budge powerful Kohler, falling 6-1 despite a spirited effort.

Kewaskum won three of four singles matches and two of three on the doubles side to post the convincing win over Kiel.

"Allie was dominant in the first set and very good in the second," KHS coach Dan Ross said about his No. 1 singles player, senior Allison Kowalczyk. "She played almost flawlessly."

Kowalczyk won her match 6-0, 6-2, and at No. 2, Ross said, "Kariisa (Dums) outlasted her opponent in a very even match-up. She played smart and aggressive. It was a very nice win."

Ashley Corey looked good at No. 3 singles, winning 6-2, 6-0. About her match, Ross said, "Ashley is also playing smart right now. She's moving her player around, hitting winners when the chance is there."

Kerry Winter and Emily Bode had a good night at No. 2 doubles, except for the second set. "They slipped a little in the second set and came back very strong in the third," Ross said, reporting Boden and Winter have a three-match win streak going.

At No. 3 doubles, Darcy Dickman and Katie Gaynor breezed to a 6-2, 6-1 victory, and Ross said this duo has also won three straight.

"All in all, an excellent team effort, a very gratifying win," Ross said. "We've really improved in close things, third sets and tie breakers."

About the match against Kohler, Ross said, "Allie remained hot. Beating Kohler at No. 1 singles is very impressive." Kowalczyk bested another senior, Ali Leick, 6-4, 6-3.

With the win, Kowalczyk improved her EWC mark to 4-2.

Ross also lauded the play of his No. 1 doubles group, Lauren Hughes and Kelsey Goetsch. "They really pushed them (Abby Dolloft and Rachel Saemann) to the limits ... playing two very experienced seniors."

And even though Corey was defeated in straight sets at No. 3, Ross said, the scores (2-6, 1-6) are not reflective of the play. "Ashley was in every game against a tough opponent," he said.

Summing up the match, Ross said, "Although we lost 1-6, the overall level play was much better against a strong tennis team than what we showed earlier in the year against good teams. We've really improved!"

Kewaskum is currently 3-4 in the EWC and 3-5 overall.

Lady Indians make New Holstein their second victim

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Clearing the second hurdle in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference was a bit of a challenge for the Kewaskum High volleyball team Thursday night.

The Indians won the home match in three games, but visiting New Holstein managed to score 20 or more points in each of the three games, which ended up 25-21, 25-20 and 25-22.

With the victory, Kewaskum is off to a 2-0 start in EWC play, and coach Renee Altendorf was pleased her girls kept their composure when the games got close, liked the improvement in the digging and was more than satisfied with the spiking of senior Bekki Heberer.

"The third game we were going point by point, back and forth," Altendorf said. "Then the girls started to step it up, and we had some nice runs ... Christina (DeGroot) had some nice runs."

Kewaskum scrimmaged against UW-Washington County on Monday, then just had a half of practice Tuesday because of picture night, which interrupted the usual pattern of work before a match. Considering the team has been practicing since mid-August, Altendorf felt her team needed a little bit of a break, and improved play in certain areas may have been the result of the lighter workout.

"Our digging was much better," Altendorf said, lauding the work of Stephanie Rinzel and Marissa Dehler in that department.

Dehler wound up with 18 digs in the three games, while the ace leader was DeGroot with four, and Heberer and Becky Rodenkirch tied with eight kills apiece.

Altendorf knows she has two setters she can count on, DeGroot who had 11, and freshman, Erika Heberer, who contributed a team-high 12.

"We got to run some of our quick offense, which was good," Altendorf said, and while the Indians had trouble getting the ball to Rodenkirch for attacks, they were able to set Bekki Heberer up for some impressive kills.

"We were impressed with her (Bekki Heberer's) play," Altendorf said of Heberer, and added, "Our passing was on, and we started getting some blocks," two by DeGroot, and one each from Rodenkirch and Erika Heberer.

The Indians were preparing Friday for Saturday's (Sept 16) Waupun Tournament, featuring a strong field. This tournament and the new Washington County Tournament on Oct. 7th will be the toughest on the Indians' schedule this fall.

"The girls are looking forward to it (County Tournament). They get to see the girls they play within club (volleyball)," she said, indicating in the past, Kewaskum never got to go up against West Bend East or West or rarely faced Kettle Moraine Lutheran.

Top two Gridiron teams win in landslides

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Both the eighth grade and seventh grade teams showed plenty of explosiveness last Saturday in the second week of Gridiron football action on the Ozaukee High football field in Fredonia.

The seventh graders whipped their Ozaukee opponents, 41-0, while the eighth graders spotted the Warriors 14 points in the first quarter, then came roaring back to win 34-14.

"They kind of surprised us. They took off 14-0," eighth grade coach Jonesy Korth said, reporting his ends were having difficulty containing end runs.

Cody Nuernberg scored first for the Indians on a broken play, then the Kewaskum defense stopped Ozaukee, and with :03 left in the half, Nuernberg threw a pass, and Korth said, "It hit Matt Ballard in the hands and bounced to Mike Schladweiler, who caught it." Luke Kopeschka kicked the extra point to tie the game at 14-14.

Korth said Schladweiler added another TD in the second half, and Ballard caught a pass from Nuernberg for another touchdown.

Then late in the game, Timmy Otten broke loose for a 20-yard off tackle play that was good for a TD.

Korth said Andrew Schreier had an interception, and he lauded the play of Paul Gutjahr at middle linebacker.

The eighth graders are now 2-0.

Eric Perkins started out the scoring for the seventh graders with a 40-yard run, and Sam Olla tacked on the extra point via a run.

The defense then got into the act when Mac Donath tackled one of the Warriors in the end zone for a safety.

Austin Goeman scored two TDs for the winners, the first set up by Kenny Gigstead's interception and the other when defensive back Zack Melton picked off a Warrior pass.

Jacob Wunder (extra point Joey Wollner) and Olla (Olla pass to Dan Bohn) added touchdowns before the half when the young Indians were enjoying a 35-0 lead.

In the second half, the lone score was a TD by Joe Beder.

The win gives coach Tom Kudek's charges a 2-0 record. "A good game," Kudek said.

The sixth graders (0-2) gave up an early touchdown after fumbling the opening kickoff and were never able to recover, losing 12-6.

The young Indians had trouble figuring out how to defend the Warriors' option offense and a tall end who gathered in a couple nice passes, including the winners' second TD.

Kewaskum scored on a 32-yard bootleg by Hunter Flanders in the third quarter. A run up the middle was stuffed on the try for the extra point.

The Indians also moved the ball to the Ozaukee 28 but ran out of downs.

Lady Indians have to settle for 7th place

It was a tough day in the trenches at Waupun

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

They knew the challenges would be great at the annual Waupun Tournament, but the Kewaskum High volleyball players probably never expected they would leave Saturday's event with just one win and a seventh place finish.

Playing against some of the giants in Division 1 and 2 volleyball in the state, Kewaskum ran into a lot of difficulties, losing to Westosha Central 13-25 and 12-25 in the first round and next to Fond du Lac, 9-25 and 17-25.

Their confidence shaken by the results against Fondy, the Indians went into the losers' bracket and couldn't get past Greendale, falling 19-25, 25-22 and 10-15.

Finally, in their last match of the day, Kewaskum came together to beat Laconia, 25-15, 20-25 and 15-5.

"We started off good and we stayed with Westosha until the last 15 points, then we had a hard time passing on service receive and on digging," coach Renee Altendorf said. "We had a hard time digging up No. 12, Allison Wak. At the end of the match, we also could not get a lot of hits in."

KHS had just one ace, by Bekki Heberer, in the match, and the kills were limited to just seven. Christina DeGroot, and reserves Alyssa Jung and Megan Rinzel each chipped in with two kills.

Marissa Dehler and Stephanie Rinzel led in digs, with eight and six, respectively.

In the match against Fond du Lac, KHS had just one ace, by Becky Rodenkirch, one block, by DeGroot, and 11 kills, led by DeGroot and Heberer with three each.

Digging leaders were Dehler and Heberer with eight and seven.

"This match, we just couldn't do anything right," the coach said. "Fondy had a run of about 10 points before we could get a side out."

Against Greendale, the numbers rose a little bit in some areas but not in the number of kills. KHS had just six of them in three games, with DeGroot posting five of them.

By a look at the facts the Indians had 55 digs, including 15 by Dehler, a dozen by Bekki Heberer and 10 by Steph Rinzel, it is obvious the Indians were digging better, but also that they were on the defense a lot.

"This was our last match in pool play, and we struggled the first game with building up our confidence after we had the bad loss to Fond du Lac," Altendorf said. "The second game we came out to play and the score showed it. We were digging a lot more and were putting the hits in the court."

Unfortunately the effort did not carry over to game No. 3 when the Indians made some hitting errors and were not able to cover the small tips.

The Indians were on the verge of finishing the tournament without a win until they played strong against the Spartans.

"This match was playing for seventh and eighth place. After coming off three losses the girls really had to find it in them to bring out a victory," Altendorf said. "The first game we were getting more kills and more passes up to our setters. The first game Marissa did a great job digging for us."

Kewaskum fell behind in the second game, and Altendorf said she needs someone to come in and pass from the back row. Enter Megan Rinzel. "Megan stepped up and did a great job. She brought us back when Bekki Heberer was serving, but we just could not pull out the win," the coach said.

"The third game the girls went out fired up, and it showed with the victory. We had some great kills in the third game and it ended with Erika setting Christina for a kill," Altendorf said.

KHS came up with a dozen aces against Laconia, and it was the freshman, Erika Heberer putting on a serving clinic with five.

Many more kills were recorded, too, including seven by Rodenkirch, five by DeGroot and two or more by five others players.

The Rinzel twins stepped up and had 17 digs out of the 45 by the team, while DeGroot and Erika Heberer each posted 10 assists.

Kewaskum is back in action at home against Roncalli tonight.

Getting closer, but still no EWC soccer win

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

While they are getting closer to the desired goal, the Kewaskum High soccer players still have not been able to pick up a win against an Eastern Wisconsin Conference opponent.

Last week, the Indians lost a 4-1 decision to host Sheboygan Falls on Monday (in a game which they led 1-0 at half), and on Thursday, they suffered a 2-1 defeat at the hands of host Campbellsport. With those two losses, the Indians fell to 0-5 in the EWC, and with the three defeats from the recent Kaukauna Invitational, they are 1-10 overall.

Despite the final score, KHS coach John Berst called the battle against the rival Cougars "an awesome game."

Campbellsport scored first on a penalty kick about 18 minutes into the contest, and Berst said, "We answered at approximately 33 minutes ... again a header off Dan Parker."

What is particularly significant about this fact, according to Berst, is, "This was the first conference goal Campbellsport has given up all year."

The game stayed deadlocked until the 65th minute when the Indians had a short mental lapse which cost them dearly.

Campbellsport crossed the ball into the box from the far post, and, "the guy was wide open," Berst said, but, "We didn't give up, and with two minutes left, we ended up with a shot by Dan again, which grazed the top of the crossbar."

Berst praised the play of senior midfielder Mason Smith. "Mason did an awesome job marking their leading scorer and shutting him out."

Berst said his team had six shots. About the Cougars, he said, "I would guess they had about eight to ten." He liked the way his team moved the ball but was disappointed in the mental lapses.

The entire game at Falls was played in the rain, and Parker scored the lone goal on a header. "It was a very nice cross from the right side of our attack. Dan just rose up and put it in," Berst said. Alex Rauch was credited with the assist.

"We played pretty strong (defensively)," Berst went on, noting two of the goals were scored when the wet ball slipped off the hands of his keeper, Nick Gutbrod, and probably would not have been scored in good weather.

Offensively, the Indians had a half dozen shots again. "In the second half, Dylan Kenworthy had a nice shot at the top of the 18 (foot mark). Berst said he did a good job moving the ball in position but could not get the score.

At Kaukauna, the Indians started with a 2-1 loss to Manitowoc with Parker scoring on an assist from Nate Wendelborn. In Game 2, Kewaskum was up-ended by Kohler 4-2, with Dan Schladweiler and Kenworthy getting goals, and in the finale, Berst gave a lot of his JV players some varsity experience against Fox Valley Lutheran. The Indians lost that game 0-4.

Wetzel tops Indian golfers in tourney appearances

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

The weather interfered with a good portion of the girls golf schedule this past week.

On Monday, Kewaskum was scheduled to play in an 18-hole tournament at Sheboygan Towne and Country Golf Course, and that had to be shortened to nine holes because of the rain, and on Wednesday, the Wisconsin Little Ten meet was postponed because the Watertown Country Club was under water.

The sun came out brightly on Saturday, however, and the Indians played in the annual Appleton West Invitational held on the Winagamie Golf Course.

Coach Amy Piwoni was not certain where her team placed in the 17-team test, but she reported Saturday night that Renee Wetzel led the way for the Indians with 9-hole scores of 53 and 49 for a 102.

Next came Caitlin Van Wormer, who fired a 125 on nines of 64 and 61, and freshman Danielle Donnelly struggled a bit on the front nine with a 70, then came flying back with a 59 for a 129.

"This was her first 18-hole competition," Piwoni said. "I was very happy with her. She actually had a chip-in on No. 17 from 20 yards out.

Becky Weber rounded out the scoring with a 61-71-132. "She was having trouble on the back nine with her mid-range game," the coach said.

"There were a lot of good teams there," Piwoni said.

Piwoni, who is in her first year as head coach, was unable to be at Monday's competition so her predecessor, Carol Martin, accompanied the team.

"Carol wrote on the card, it was rainy, cold, windy and miserable conditions," the new coach said, reporting Wetzel carded a 60, with Jordan Benike a shot behind that mark, Weber had a 62 and Van Wormer came in at 72 for a 255 total.

"I think we were 10th out of 12 teams," Piwoni said.

The Indians have been plenty busy this week, going to a WLT competition at Oconomowoc on Monday, making up the Watertown meet on Wednesday, and today (Thursday) they are scheduled to be at the Washington County Scramble. That's not the end, either, because the Indians are scheduled to play in the Oconomowoc Invitational Saturday.

Mistakes take away some of the luster of Indians' rout

The Indians are well on their way to a great season shutting out the Two Rivers Raiders Friday night. Shown above, sophomore Jordan Petrin (1) came out of nowhere and gained nine yards in the last half of the fourth quarter to score the Indian's final touchdown of the evening.

At this point in the season, coach Jason Piittmann knows his Kewaskum High football team can pile up the points and plenty of them.

The Indians already have 139 points, and that's a season's worth for some teams.

The third-year head coach also knows his defense can stop people, but even after watching the Indians notch their fourth consecutive win of the year Friday night, September 15, a 41-7 decision over Two Rivers (0-2, 0-4), he wonders how good they really are.

"Like I told the kids, any win is a good win, but this wasn't a particularly satisfying win," Piittmann said, referring to inopportune penalties, a fumble on a punt on the 16-yard line, miscommunications, "things like that."

Piittmann isn't about to give the win back, but he wants to eliminate the errors he saw Friday because he realizes tougher days are ahead. Kewaskum's first four opponents were a combined 2-10.

There were plenty of good things the KHS coach saw against the Raiders, starting with the two-play, 74-yard drive the Indians opened the game with. First, Eric Ogi dashed around the right end for an electrifying opening play, and on the next snap, it was quarterback Casey Scheel keeping the ball on an option and darting the final 11 yards for a touchdown that took just 23 seconds to score.

After Brian Backhaus' extra point, Kewaskum was up 7-0, but surprisingly the game was tied less than three minutes later. The Raiders went on the passing attack and covered 74 yards in six plays to draw even with the hosts.

QB Trevor Swetlik's favorite target on the drive was Chris Krajnik, who gathered in a pass on the Raiders' first offensive play, and rambled 40 yards to the KHS 34.

Later, Krajnik gathered in a 13-yard aerial, giving TR a first down at the 6-yard line, and the two teamed up again for the touchdown. Steve Schug's PAT made the score 7-7.

After being a bit sluggish in a couple previous first quarters, "Our focus was coming out and having a good start," Piittmann said, and he certainly liked what he saw in the first two plays. "A two-play drive, you can't complain about that."

The defense was another story, however. In that first series, "Our defense was terrible," Piittmann said, noting he wanted to stay in the base defense as much as possible but Swetlik was just picking the three-deep backfield apart.

"Once we went to a four D-back set, we controlled it more," Piittmann said. The Raiders were never to score again, even though they had a good chance at the 16 after Ogi's fumble early in the third quarter.

By then, Kewaskum was leading 28-7, using a 10-play drive covering 62 yards on its second series for a 14-7 advantage. Sure-handed Jon Wicklund gathered in a 19-yard pass in the left corner of the end zone for the touchdown. He wound up the night with three big receptions for 73 yards.

A big play in the drive was a 19-yard pass from Scheel to Matt Parrent, who ended up making three catches for 42 yards.

The Indians' third touchdown was scored by Dan Shea on a 12-yard run. By intermission, the hard-running Shea had picked up 105 yards and he wound up with a personal-best 138 in 16 carries.

break and moved quickly, going 78 yards in five plays. A pass to Parrent gained 15 yards, then Shea broke free for a 33-yard run around his right end. Ogi followed with a 12-yard gain to the other side, and then it was Shea breaking tackles and bulling his way into the end zone from 18 yards out.

"Danny's an intelligent kid," Piittmann said, referring to the fact his feature back is starting to get the hang of the zone blocking the coaching staff installed this season.

Sophomore Jordan Petrin, a transfer from West Bend, made the most of his first extensive varsity play, and the Raiders were the worse off for it.

In Kewaskum's final drive, Petrin carried the ball eight times for 77 yards and scored from nine yards out. Petrin's power was obvious to everyone in the KHS stands, and he showed a quick burst through the hole as well.

After this final touchdown, Backhaus missed his first PAT of the year after hitting 19 in a row.

For the game, Kewaskum outgained Two Rivers 431-208. Had the Indians gotten the ball more in the third quarter, they might have hit 500 yards. Two Rivers ran 16 plays to just four for the Indians until Tony Lewko took things into his own hands ... literally.

The Raiders were on the Indians 42 with a first down when Lewko tipped a pass by Swetlik and caught it for the second interception of the game. (Dan Shea had the other one in the first half.)

"He did a great job," Piittmann said of Lewko, who stayed in his passing lane and kept his concentration to gain control of the ball after the tip.

Even with all the points scored and keeping the Raiders to seven, Piittmann said, "We have no idea where we are at." Last year, with the same basic schedule, the coach said, "We gained confidence as we went along. We're hoping this year will be the same."

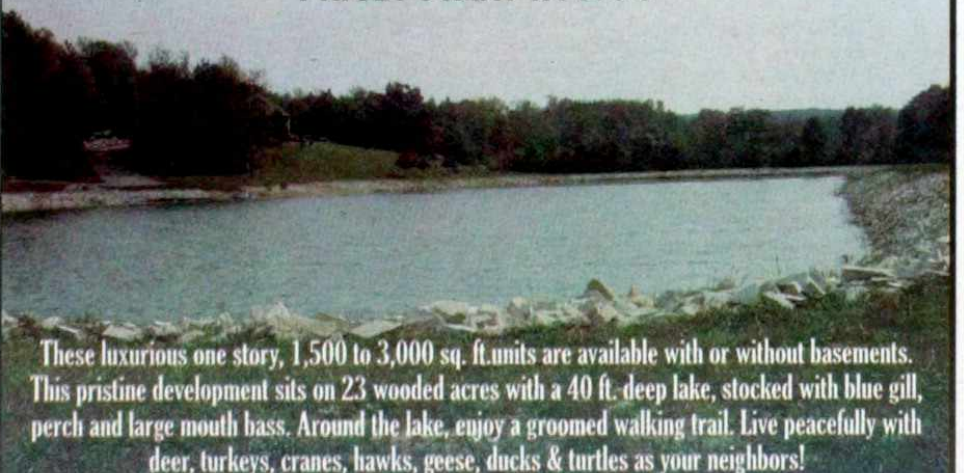

Two of the EWC supposed challengers this season, Sheboygan Falls and Plymouth, were upended Friday night. Falls (1-1 and 3-1) suffered its first defeat, a 17-10 decision to Kiel, while Plymouth (1-1, 1-3) was nipped by Campbellsport (1-1) 30-27 in a thriller.

Plymouth is Kewaskum's opponent Friday night.

In the other EWC encounter, New Holstein, rather a surprise this year at 2-0 and 3-1, rolled over Roncalli (0-2) 43-0.
