$1.9 million plan ok'd for KHS auditorium, media center

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- The Kewaskum Board of Education moved forward with plans for a $1.9 million remodeling project that will give Kewaskum High School (KHS) an auditorium and a modern media center (library). Construction is expected to begin in late March 2007.

Once thought a referendum pipe dream, district officials presented a preliminary plan to the board of education for the remodeling of the Rose Hall gymnasium using money in the fund balance and a state trust fund loan in October. Pleased with the plan, the board gave their approval.

Quasius Construction of Sheboygan will handle management of the project. They will receive a fee of 1.95 percent of the entire project cost. Quasius will also receive a 10 percent mark-up on self-performed work and 3.5 percent on sub-contractor work. This is estimated to be $371,927 according to figures presented to the board of education.

The district's business manager, Paul Reichert, outlined the almost $2 million plan. He stated that the roof over the auditorium and media center would be replaced at a cost of $80,000. After gutting the classrooms located where the former stage is and opening it back up, half of Rose Hall, facing the once-stage would be stadium style seating for 315 in an auditorium using the historic stage. Behind the stage would be space for a theatrical

On Sunday, November 19, ABC will air the Koepke family Extreme Home Makeover. The show begins at 7 p.m. See page three of this edition for more details. Shown above is a view of the home after a week-long makeover that brought thousands of volunteers and spectators to Dundee.

Village approves extraterritorial zoning ordinance, resolution

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- The Kewaskum Village Board got the ball rolling in their quest to enact extraterritorial zoning review rights on land bordering the village, located in the township of Kewaskum. A joint committee of three town officials and three village officials will now have two years to hammer out a zoning ordinance for that area.

Under section 62.23 of the Wisconsin State Statutes, the village is afforded rights as to the zoning of lands around the village limits. Village Trustees took favorable action at a special meeting held Wednesday evening, November 8, on a resolution naming the area and an ordinance freezing the zoning in the said area. The notices are published in this week's newspaper on pages 20 and

21. The township is still responsible for issuing all conditional use permits, variances and appeals. However, building permits in the extraterritorial zoning area must be approved by the village's building inspector prior to the issuance by the township.

Once the joint committee is formed, they will immediately take to task creating a zoning ordinance for the one and a half mile radius around the village border. Once complete, the ordinance goes to the Kewaskum Village Board for approval.

Town of Kewaskum chairman Ellis Kahn says that while frustrated with the actions taken by the village, he realizes that the town's hands are tied. "We (the township) are willing to meet to ensure that this does not get bogged down in bureaucracy," assured Kahn.

Kahn did state that he tried to extend a hand to the village this past Spring to talk about a boundary agreement, however, he said he did not receive a response.

On Monday, November 20, the town will hold a public hearing during their monthly meeting at 7 p.m. where the town's attorney will explain the township's role in the extraterritorial zoning. Town residents are encouraged to attend and ask questions.

For the village, President Matt Heiser says the next step is holding a public information meeting at the Municipal Annex Building which is being arranged. "The intent is to have a representative from the Towns Association be available for people to ask questions. While the details have not been arranged yet, the goal is to have this meeting happen soon; in late November or early December,"

Tough weekend on the roads, injuries received in multiple crashes

Kewaskum Police officer John Thorn inspects damages to a vehicle involved in a three vehicle crash at the intersection of Badger Road and Highway 45 in the village of Kewaskum. The crash occurred on Saturday, November 11 at 5:02 p.m.. The accident unfolded after a car that was westbound on Badger Road failed to stop at the intersection. That car driven by John Petras, 43, of Campbellsport was hit by Richard Schultz, 60, of Kewaskum who was southbound on Highway 45. Trying to avoid the mishap, Mark Strand, 25, of Fond du Lac, also southbound, hit Schultz's vehicle. Both Schultz and Petras required medical transport and were taken to St. Joseph's Community Hospital. Two passengers in Schultz's vehicle were also transported for injuries. Petras told police that he believed the light was green and he proceeded through the intersection. Both southbound drivers also stated the light was green. Schultz was cited in the crash.

A Kewaskum woman was injured in a crash that occurred on Sunday, November, 12 on Highway 28 in front of the Holy Trinity Parish cemetery. The crash occurred as Anna Nigh, 84, of Kewaskum was turning into the cemetery and was struck by Frank Schneider, 57, of Cedarburg who was westbound. Nigh was cited for failure to yield.

Koepke family Extreme Makeover will air this Sunday on ABC

By Rachael Paulsen
Statesman Correspondent

The long awaited airing of Extreme Makeover: Home Edition's (EMHE) Koepke family episode, will premiere on Sunday, November 19 at 7 p.m. on ABC. EMHE was in Dundee Sept. 28-Oct. 6 building a new house for Christine Koepke and her four children, Derek, Jayna, Mitchell and Johanna.

The family's husband and father, Matt Koepke, 41, passed away in August due to a rare form of cancer. He was well-liked in the community which nominated him for the show.

The 135-year-old farmhouse, built by Matt Koepke's great-grandfather after the Great Depression, had sustained damage over the years. It had rotted wood, plumbing that was not working, exposed wood, asbestos, rotted floors, leaks and no insulation.

Ty Pennington and the Design Team showed up at the Koepke's house in Dundee Thursday, Sept. 28 to announce that the family would be vacationing in San Diego while hundreds of people around Wisconsin came together to build them a new 4,000-square foot house and gardening shed.

Demolition took place Sunday, Oct. 1 with 2,000 spectators cheering and taking photos. Over 500 skilled workers were volunteering their time, and working side by side, 24 hours a day to complete the house.

The town was without power for four hours Monday when a rainstorm accompanied by hail struck, delaying construction. Fortunately, the house was not ruined room, dressing rooms and storage.

The plan also shows moving the current library into the remaining south half of the gym creating a modern media center for students complete with a computer lab and conference rooms.

The 700 building, now home to the library and a few classrooms, would be converted into art and special education classrooms with a 26-station computer lab. Work in the 700 building and current library would begin June 11. Completion of the entire project is expected by August 27. A complete timeline of the project can be found on our website.

The board also took action on approving a $14,770 contract with Integrity Environmental for the removal and abatement of asbestos floor tile in Rose Hall. The district's environmental management consulting company prepared a project plan costing the district $3,410. The entire project will cost $18,180. Reichert stated that originally the district estimated the project at $20,000.

Integrity Environmental was the lowest of three bids that were received. Reichert stated the district was pleased with work done by Integrity Environmental during the summer of 2006 at KHS. The tile will be removed while students are on Christmas break.

A fundraising effort led by Larry Ammel is already underway for items in the new auditorium. Ammel and a committee will present a list of items needed for the auditorium in the next few weeks and it is hoped that community members will help with funding items in the auditorium.

"I'm so pleased to see that future generations involved in the Fine Arts program finally have a place to perform on and work with," said Ammel after the meeting.

That committee will also look at offering corporate naming rights to the auditorium.

Village addresses flat sewer lines in Potawatomi Prairie

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- A small defect of sewer lines in the Potawatomi Prairie Subdivision brought to light in June or July by village engineers has reached a resolution. That resolution leaves the developer and his hired construction company on the hook for replacing the line if problems persist in the next five years.

A 12-inch sewer line beneath Prairie Gardens Drive in the subdivision was found to be flat by the village's engineering firm, Ruckert Mielke. Heartland Construction installed the sewer line. Heartland has done numerous projects for residential developer Gary Gavin and the village.

In a letter written to the village board, Gavin and Heartland Construction, Ruckert Mielke engineer Andy Peterson, stated that 11 of the 17 segments of the sewer line have a slope less than the minimum standard set by the village. The village's minimum is .22 percent. The flattest segment of the line under Prairie Gardens Drive has a slope of .13 percent.

Peterson recommended that Gavin and or Heartland Construction be held responsible for five years. It is believed that in that time, more construction in the development will help correct the situation. During that period Heartland Construction and Ruckert Mielke will periodically inspect the line to see how it is functioning. Heartland has been making corrections since the finding and the line has improved.

If after five years the problem persists, replacement of the entire line may need to be explored.

Gavin voiced concern over the fact that right next to Prairie Gardens Drive, along Highway H west, a planned flat sewer line remains without problems. He didn't feel it was fair that the village make such a big deal out of his flat line when the village has their own.

"This sewer (on Prairie Gardens Drive) has been in use for three years already. What irritates me most is that the village's sewer is worse than what we have. We are talking 5/8's of an inch in a five-foot run. It isn't as bad as everyone paints this to be," stated Gavin.

Peterson, speaking on behalf of the village, stated the purpose of that flat line was to allow for reduced flows to the Bel-Ric Drive lift station, then eliminating it. He concluded that the Highway H sewer is flowing well.

Village trustees then took action on approving a five-year agreement between the village and Heartland Construction that would require the company to put up a letter of credit to cover the cost of repairing the flat sewer if it was needed. Trustees also voted to extend Gavin's developer's agreement over the same period of time.

Archbishop to celebrate Basilica Dedication Mass at Holy Hill

Archbishop Timothy Dolan will be the main celebrant of the dedication Mass celebrating Pope Benedict XVI's granting Minor Basilica status to Holy Hill, National Shrine of Mary, Help of Christians at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 19.

The Mass, open to the public, will include musical selections performed by singers and musicians from local parishes in the area. A featured piece will be "Salve Regina," sung by the Discalced Carmelite Friars. Seating is on a first-come, first-serve basis.

With the new status, the internationally-acclaimed church will be referred to as The Basilica of the National Shrine of Mary, Help of Christians. According to Archbishop Dolan, the archdiocese will refer to the beloved sacred site as The Basilica of Holy Hill.

The Mass is expected to draw religious dignitaries from across the Midwest and local civic leaders. The Friars are celebrating the 100-year anniversary of their arrival to Holy Hill.

During the dedication, symbols representing Pope Benedict XVI will be displayed, including his Coat of Arms, and a red and gold paneled umbrella. The umbrella symbolizes earlier times when it was held over the head of the Pope as he visited a Basilica. There will also be a small bell used when announcing the pope's coming and a plaque of dedication located in the back of the church.

Holy Hill is a national treasure of the Church, richly deserving of this status," Archbishop Dolan said. "The dedication Mass provides a wonderful opportunity for people of all faiths to attend and understand the Church in the midst of history and universality. Under the care of the Discalced Carmelites, Holy Hill and the National Shrine of Mary, Help of Christians, remains a wonderful confluence of natural beauty, peaceful prayer, great spiritual nourishment, evangelical mission and the focal point of a vibrant local, regional and national church."

Winter weather slows down Friday commute

A heavy band of winter weather entered Washington County at about 2 p.m. on Friday, November 10 causing numerous vehicle accidents. The front entered the county as a sleet storm changing to snow later in the afternoon. The sleet and snow accumulated rapidly on the roads causing driving conditions to become very dangerous.

Between 2 and 8 p.m. the sheriff's department responded to 81 weather related vehicle calls including injury and property damage crashes and vehicles in the ditch.

US 41 in the town of Addison was particularly affected by the storm. Numerous multi-vehicle crashes in the area of US 41 and CTH D resulted in the complete closure and rerouting of southbound traffic for approximately one hour. Allenton Fire and Rescue responded to the area and treated many minor injuries. They received assistance from Kohlsville, Slinger, Newburg, West Bend, Kewaskum and Theresa Fire Departments, and Lifestar Ambulance. None of the injuries were life threatening.

Ruplinger fundraiser a huge success

The event, held on October 7, raised $26,000 for the family. This includes $2,500 matched by Modern Woodmen's home office through the organization's Matching Funds program. The money will be used for medical expenses.

The Matching Funds program offers Modern Woodmen camp members nationwide the chance to show their support of a community cause, organization or individual in need by partnering with community organizations and holding fundraisers. Modern Woodmen matches money raised up to $2,500. These fundraising projects contribute more than $6 million to community needs nationwide each year.

A special thank you from the Ruplinger family goes out to all of you that opened up your hearts and shared your help, prayers and finances. It was an opportunity for family, friends and the community to gather together for a cause. Thank you to everyone that contributed. Together we touched lives and made a difference.

Founded in 1883 as a fraternal benefit society, today Modern Woodmen of America offers financial services and fraternal member benefits to individuals and families throughout the United States. The organization's Kewaskum camp provides a number of volunteer service and social activities for members.

Friends of the WB Art Museum annual exhibition

One of the great benefits of being a member of the Friends of the West Bend Art Museum is the right to exhibit in the annual Christmas Show, The Friends of the West Bend Art Museum Annual Art Exhibition -- The Christmas Show this year being held from November 15 to January 7.

This is a long-cherished exhibition opportunity, and perennial favorite, for the Friends, with the number of entries often reaching over 100. As each artist enters a single work, this guarantees a terrific variety of art for visitors and Friends alike.

No matter what your taste, the chances are good that you will find something that will strike a chord with you, be it photography, painting, drawing, sculpture, ceramics, jewelry or mixed media. With the exhibition opening on November 15, and many of the works on display being for sale, there is a good possibility you could find the perfect gift for the person who appears to have everything.

Traditionally, no prizes are offered for the WBAM Friends' Show. However, last year the museum encouraged visitors to vote for a "People's Choice" award, the prize being a coveted One from Wisconsin exhibition opportunity. The museum is happy to offer this again with a September 2007 exhibition slot. Last year, Ken Bronikowski of Milwaukee received the most votes.

The last Sneak Peek Friday will end the year with a bang on Friday, November 17, beginning at 10:30 a.m. They will have several of the artists whose work is exhibited in the Friends of the West Bend Art Museum Annual Art Exhibition -- The Christmas Show, on hand to discuss their work.

You may also care to join in for a relaxing afternoon at this year's Friends of the West Bend Art Museum Annual Art Exhibition -- The Christmas Show reception and open house on Sunday, December 3, from 1:30 to 4 p.m. This month's reception is being sponsored by The Binkery located on West Washington Street in West Bend.

Acclaimed local musician and teacher Phil Hway, a veteran of numerous musical performances at the museum will delight visitors to the holiday reception with a selection of seasonal favorites on the piano. Don't miss this bonus addition to what is already a great event for all the family.

The West Bend Art Museum is located in downtown West Bend at 300 South Sixth Avenue. Public hours are Wednesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 4:30 p.m. For more information, call 262-334-9638 or visit their website at wbartmuseum.com

25 Years Ago

November 13, 1981

One of the shorter, less controversial meetings held by the School Board in recent months was conducted Monday evening. During proceedings, the board approved a two-year extension on the contract of Superintendent Floyd Brenholt until 1984-85.

On October 16, the Kewaskum High School Key Club, a service organization, undertook a much needed job. A dozen Key Clubbers took up their paint brushes and painted "Guys" and "Gals" signs on the bathrooms at the high school. The club felt that signs on the bathrooms would be a big help to freshmen, new students and visiting schools. Kew Club Officers are Mary Slegler, Carol Lehmann, Craig Rosenthal and Scott Buchel.

A West Bend man was found dead in a parked car on Kettle Moraine Drive, about one mile north of Hwy. 28, in the Kettle Moraine State Forest, east of Kewaskum Tuesday, apparently a suicide according to sheriff's deputies.

Two Kewaskum players, linebacker Bill Heberer and defensive halfback Randy Westerman were named to the Eastern Wisconsin All-Conference football first team Thursday. Kewaskum also had three players selected to the second team, namely offensive guard Pat Miller, center Scott Nigh, and defensive tackle Jon Davis.

Two Rivers and Sheboygan Falls, volleyball co-champions in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, each placed two girls on the All-Conference Team in the balloting last Thursday, while Kewaskum, New Holstein and Chilton placed one each on the seven player first team. Kewaskum placed one girl on each of the first two teams. Senior Michelle Rodenkirch was picked for first team honors for the second successive year. Barb Matenaer made the second team.

Twin daughters, Kelly Lyn and Keri Lee, were born to Larry and Kris Morenzen, Kewaskum, on October 31. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morenzen of Kewaskum, and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dreher of Kewaskum.

A daughter, Dana Ann, was born to David and Debbie Hammes, Longview, Texas, on November 2. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hammes of New Fane, and maternal grandmother is Barbara A. Herriges, Kewaskum.

A daughter, Melanie Ann, was born to Michael and Margaret Farley, Campbellsport, on November 6. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Farley, Harlingen, Texas, and maternal grandmother is Mrs. Edith Kirsch, Campbellsport. Mrs. Farley is the former Margaret Kirsch. The baby has a sister, Meredith.

50 Years Ago

November 16, 1956

Four gunmen who have been robbing and terrorizing Washington County residents for the past several months were captured Monday night when they returned to Kenosha following their latest holdup in Barton that night. In Barton the quartet robbed the Frank Millers of $1,722.26 in cash. County Traffic Officer David Backhaus and Chief of Police Roland Pledl were largely responsible for the gunman's capture. Ever since the Tony Fellenz home in Kewaskum was burglarized last summer, the suspects were kept under surveillance.

An operetta, "Girls Will Be Girls," will be presented at Kewaskum Community High School on November 16. The cast of characters includes Gwen Edwards, Connie Rossow, Georgia Chanchuck, Joanne Kempf, Charleen Vetter, Sandy Gruhle, Gloria Schaefer, Audrey Kral, Carole Schultz, Theresa Vorpahl, Barbara Walter and Diane Czaja.

Thomas Koerble, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Koerble of Kewaskum, suffered a punctured abdomen when he fell on a pair of deer antlers while playing in the yard of a neighbor Wednesday morning.

Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Kreif, Route 2, Campbellsport, on November 10; to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rodenkirch, Kewaskum, on November 11; to Mr. and Mrs. Alan Stoffel, Kewaskum, on November 12, and to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Giese, Campbellsport, on November 13.

The Peters Brothers from Germany, world's finest concertina and bandoneon players, are going to give another concert and dance at the Kewaskum Opera House on November 15.

Mrs. John Ruplinger, 67, died at her home near Theresa Tuesday from burns sustained Monday when her clothes caught fire by flames issuing from a gasoline stove at which she was preparing dinner. Mrs. Ruplinger, the former Barbara Haessly, was born in the Town of Wayne.

Christopher Haug, a veteran of the Civil War, and one of the oldest residents of this vicinity, passed away in death on November 8, at the age of 88 years.

November 10, 1906

The two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ramthun of Kewaskum came near poisoning himself last Wednesday by drinking some acid which Mr. Ramthun uses for soldering in his tin shop. Luckily the acid had been boiled which took most of the deadly poison out of it.

Last week Monday, Andrew Rodenkirch of St. Michaels met with an accident that might have been fatal to him. While leading three horses to water, two escaped along the highway. In order to drive them back Andrew jumped on the third horses back which was harnessed and proceeded to go after them when he fell off, his foot becoming entangled in a line, dragging him a distance of half a mile. The only injury he received was to have the skin on one side of his body torn away. It is a miracle that he was not stepped on or kicked as he was dangling between the horse's feet.

"Just One Sorrowful Night," is the title of a song of which the words and music were written by Andrew A. Dricken of Farmington. The song is a very pleasing piece of music with exquisite words to a beautiful melody and is bound to become very popular.

Frank Kohn gave a coon lunch to his patrons at New Fane last Saturday.

Mrs. Kate Emmer lately sold her residence at St. Kilian to Wenzel Peter for $1,000.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Weddig of Kewaskum last Tuesday. Baby boys were also born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klug of New Fane last Tuesday and to Mr. and Mrs. William Emmer of St. Kilian last Sunday.

PERSPECTIVES

To a Big Hearted State:

Extreme Makeover Home Edition, just hearing that phrase sent out excitement to many of us in the area lately. As many of you all know, the Extreme Team came to the small town of Dundee to help the Koepke family in a time of need. The key word in the phrase Extreme Makeover Home Edition is of course EXTREME.

In all of our lives there are many extreme things that happen. In this case the extreme was Matt Koepke; a husband, a son, a father, a brother, a son-in-law, a brother-in-law, an uncle, a cousin, a nephew and a true friend, losing a courageous battle with cancer.

The next extreme was the knock on the door of the Koepke family by ABC's crew of Extreme Makeover Home Edition.

Another extreme was the builder, Monarch Homes, and all of their subcontractors, and all of the volunteers from around the state who donated time, money and supplies to the family.

These people showed a great example of humanity, compassion, and love. So much in fact, that the cast and crew of the show said numerous times that the taping of the Koepke show has had the biggest and the kindest crowds in their four seasons of taping.

Our family would like to say thank you to the unseen people who e-mailed nominations and offered prayers in the Koepke family's time of need. Your thoughtfulness will never be forgotten. Thank you to the many contributors for the supplies and donations, if we tried to name them all we would forget to mention someone so please forgive us. Also thank you to the many volunteers who worked hard rain or shine.

What else can our family say but an EXTREME THANK YOU to ABC's Extreme Makeover Home Edition and their sponsors, and to the whole big hearted State of Wisconsin.

*Thank you to the Extreme
From the Koepke and Willis Families*

An open letter to the residents of the Kewaskum School District:

The 2006 football season has been over for about 14 hours as I write this. While it is never enjoyable to end the season with a loss, I can look back and smile while thinking about the 2006 season and our accomplishments. I have a 'thank you' list that needs to be addressed.

First, thank you to our players and their families. It is an honor and privilege to work with you each season. Seniors, you have done an outstanding job over the past four years, handling yourselves in an outstanding manner a great majority of the time. Your leadership is greatly appreciated.

Thank you once again to the Kewaskum community. Your support of our young men and our program has always been excellent, but it is great when we get to showcase your support with big home games like we had against Sheboygan Falls in the regular season and with Pewaukee and Waupun in the playoffs. We are very proud to represent you and try our best each day to do so with class and dignity.

Thank you to the Kewaskum Statesman newspaper for all of the great coverage and photos of the team throughout the season.

Thanks to the Kewaskum Booster Club for your support of all of our high school programs. Your concession stand takes a back seat to no one when it comes to high school football.

Thank you to the Kewaskum Gridiron Club. Your support of our program, in so many ways, shows that two entities can work very well together when their common goal is the same - successful Kewaskum Football.

Thank you to the administration, faculty, staff, and students of all of our Kewaskum School District buildings - but especially the high school. Our gratitude for your understanding and support of what we are working so hard to accomplish with these young men is probably never stated often enough.

We owe a very special thank you to Jim Palmer, Director of Buildings & Grounds, and to Leon Laatsch and Chuck Fritsche of the Grounds Department. You take very good care of us - working with our practice and game facilities. We have one of the best game facilities in the area, thanks to you.

Last but not least, a very big thank you to the wives, fiancés, and families of our coaching staff. We spend many hours a week working on practice and game preparations. Without your love and support we would not be able to do this work.

*Sincerely,
Coach Jason Piittmann and the KHS Football Coaching Staff*

Dear Editor,

It is United Way season, and the thermometers are rising steadily toward the community goal. That's good news for everyone. I have had the privilege to experience the United Way process from all angles and am proud of our community.

As Director of Big Brothers Big Sisters of Washington County, I have seen first hand the benefit to children and families served by United Way supported programs. This year I am also serving as an agency liaison to the United Way Board. I have seen the many hours volunteers put in to assess need, evaluate programs and utilize United Way dollars to the maximum benefit. United Way is committed to accountability, ensuring that agencies receiving funds are being fiscally responsible while running safe, effective, and efficient programs.

As a member of the community, I am also asked to give to the United Way and do so proudly. It truly "takes a village to raise a child," or support a family or an individual in need. If everyone participates - through effective programs, a diligent United Way, and contributing community members - everyone benefits. The community becomes a better, safer, more productive place to live.

I hope that everyone will give what they can to the United Way campaign. It truly makes a difference where it matters most - right here in Washington County.

*Sincerely,
Mary Gamerding*

Kewaskum Middle School sixth graders again attended Camp Whitcomb in Hartland for their outdoor education experience. The camp is located in Hartland and contains 284 acres of forest, lakes, marsh, ponds, open fields, cabins and lodges.

At camp this year they enjoyed a wide variety of classes offered by many very willing KMS staff members.

The activities the students enjoyed were Canoe Safety, Co-op Challenge, Box Baking, Get Lost, Lucky Lures, Robin Hood, Wet Wild, and Color my World. A huge thank you to all the teachers who left their classrooms to share their talents with the sixth graders.

In addition to these classes, the students also had fun with the Suzy game, group sing-a-longs, kissing the moose, taking a night hike, playing tug-o-war and enjoying the camaraderie of their cabin groups. The camp naturalist provided Canoe Safety for all students.

When asked about their Camp Whitcomb experience, all sixth graders were willing to share their most enjoyable moments. This is an educational experience that will be remembered for a long time!

The Way Home

by Bonnie Rapkin

"Everybody today seems to be in such a terrible rush, anxious for greater developments and greater riches and so on, so that children have very little time for their parents. Parents have very little time for each other, and in the home begins the disruption of peace of the world."

-Mother Teresa

Has anyone noticed lately that when we run into somebody and exchange the traditional, "How are you," the most common answer heard back these days is "Busy." Not, "Fine, how are you?" Not "Good, thank you." Not even "Been better."

No, we respond, "Busy," and hurriedly continue on our way. And our greeter is left nodding, saying, "I hear you."

It's almost as though the degree of busy-ness we have achieved in our days is some barometer measuring our success in life. Every day and every night seems to be taken up with yet one more event, meeting, or obligation. Staying at home for a relaxing evening is becoming unheard of. And it's taking its toll.

Just about everyone I talk to complains about the never ending "to do" list of places to go and things to accomplish. Every evening the kids need to be carted to sporting practices, music lessons, gymnastics, dance or scouts. There are church committee meetings, community organizational meetings, choir practices and bowling leagues. Children need help with their homework (after they finally get home from their evening function) and bills still need to be sorted through and paid. Phone calls need to be returned and I haven't even mentioned time to prepare dinner, let alone wash the dishes. Couple that with squeezing in time for grocery shopping, housework, home repairs and running routine errands, and there simply are not enough hours in a day. Still, we pack in as much as we can, finally collapse into bed, (if we're lucky sometime before midnight) and wake up at 6:00 in the morning all to just hurry off to work and begin the entire race all over again. Does this sound familiar?

Please don't misunderstand me. Everyone of the above-mentioned activities has great merit, all on its own. I certainly don't advocate not being active and involved. The problem occurs when we become over-committed. And it happens so easily. How can you say no to little Johnny wanting to play soccer? And little Suzy wanting to take ballet lessons. And what about music lessons? Shouldn't the kids have that opportunity, too, if they express the desire? Couple that with the church committee you serve on, and the one night a week you and your spouse bowl, and you're never home, stressed out and over committed.

So what's the answer? That is indeed, the big dilemma. Basically, it comes down to a matter of priorities. What's most important? Perhaps, for starters kids need to make a choice. If you're a family with multiple children, it may be necessary to limit each child to only one after school activity. And make sure that when YOU commit your time to something, it's in harmony with a value high on your priority list. If that bowling league is the only time you and your spouse ever get a chance to "get away" and relax, it may be more important than the committee you serve on. After all, in this crazy fast-paced life, more and more couples complain that they never spend time with each other. Even though bowling may not sound all that important, insuring quality time set aside for your marriage is. Again, it's a matter of priorities.

And always remember that kids need time to be kids. Filling up every moment with structured activities leaves children with no time to unwind and simply use their own imagination and creativity. More and more studies and surveys are showing that teenagers wish they had more "down" time at home with their parents, even though they may not ever admit it directly to them.

T.S. Eliot wrote over a century ago "home is where we start from." It is no less true today. As stress levels reach an all time high for both children and adults, as road rage is rampant everywhere, and as people race around like hamsters on a spinning wheel, we need to turn ourselves homeward bound. We need to make time for family, for peace and quiet, inner reflection and finding the sacred in everyday simplicities.

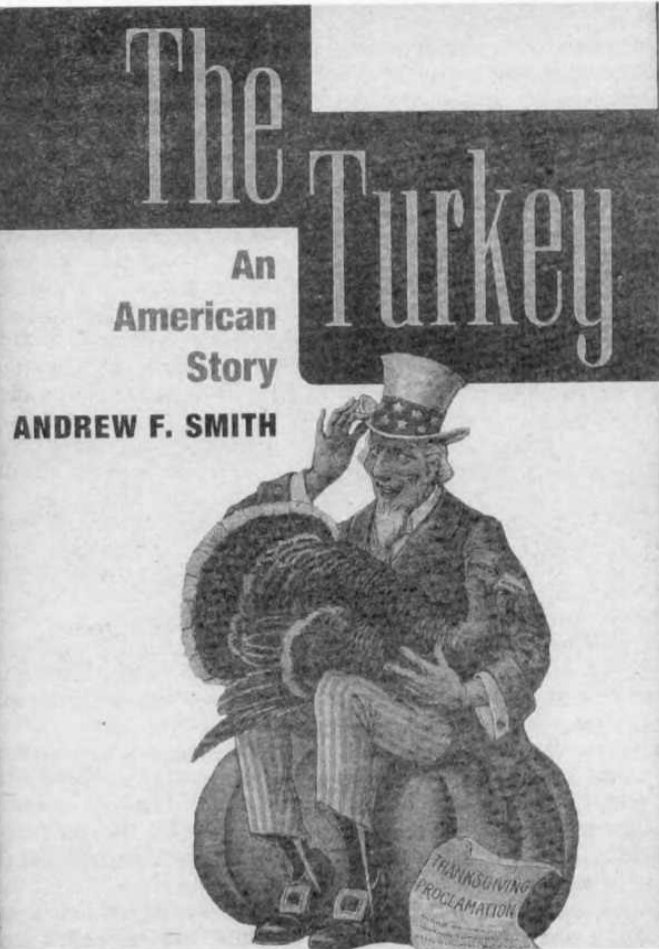

Mother Teresa said, "We need to find God, and he cannot be found in noise and restlessness. God is the friend of silence. See how nature - trees, flowers, grass - nature in silence; see the stars, the moon and the sun, how they move in silence. We need silence to be able to touch souls."

This week I hope all of us remember to stop, at least for a few moments each day, to find peace in our homes. Whether it be coming together as a family at dinner, reading a picture book to our children, or simply sharing some time in conversation about the events of the day, get out of the race for awhile and make a pit stop at home. It's amazing how even a small amount of spiritual nourishment can refresh and even energize us, enabling us to re-enter the race and all its daily challenges.

I do not occupy myself with things too great and too marvelous for me. But I have calmed and quieted my soul.

- Psalm 131:1

Bonnie Rapkin is the Director of Religious Education at Holy Trinity Parish in Kewaskum. She has also traveled throughout the country as a speaker for the Catholic Church and is a freelance writer. Bonnie is the mother of three children and resides with her family in Kewaskum. Her column appears periodically in The Statesman.

It won't be long.

Soon, opponents will face one another across a very small field. Shoulders braced, each side will be ready to attack the most important elliptical object of the season.

Breaths are held in anticipation. Fists clench. Someone growls, someone else licks his lips and glares. The oval package hovers over the field until....

Touchdown! The turkey has hit the table.

Must be Thanksgiving again.

In the new book "The Turkey" by Andrew F. Smith, you'll see how the bird became the word for almost everybody's holiday.

While scientists argue about the exact meaning of "domestication," Andrew F. Smith says that it's pretty safe to say that - based on leftover bones - turkeys were a part of human lives almost 6,000 years ago. American Southwest natives prized turkeys for their feathers, and turkey eggs were considered delicacies.

After turkeys were introduced to Europe some time in the late 15th century, Europeans quickly embraced the bird's goodness. German, Italian, and French recipes instruct cooks on ways a turkey can be prepared and served. Carving the bird became an honor and an art form, the most impressive being "carving in the air," whereupon a carver held the turkey aloft with one hand while slicing with the other hand and dropping thin pieces of meat on waiting plates.

Bet you'd love to see Uncle Bob do that little trick.

Wild turkeys were everywhere in the infant U.S., and hunting them was big sport. New Englanders bragged about 60-pound catches. Texans said that herds of turkeys resembled buffalo. Smith says that such reports were exaggerations, but wild turkeys were definitely larger than the bird you bought at the supermarket.

As turkey became a common American dish, "classic" recipes began to show up in cookbooks. Pickled turkey was popular before refrigeration, Smith says, and garlic was sometimes included in the mix. Turducken was created in Louisiana. Chestnut dressing and oyster dressing stuffed the bird in various parts of the country. Turkey breast was dried and made into a kind of bread.

They saved tobacco in the South. They're the centerpiece of the Pilgrim myth (and Smith shows how the myth came to be). Turkeys were a part of a regional New England holiday that became a national celebration due to the tireless effort of a widowed teacher with perseverance, and they've graced post cards.

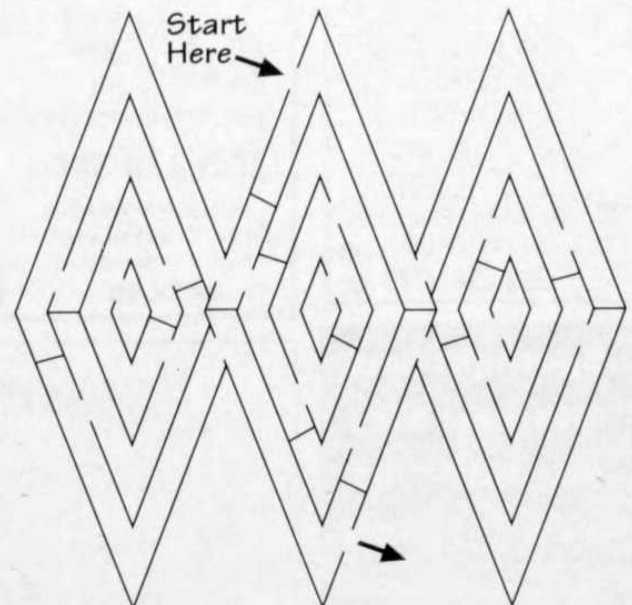

Not bad for a dumb bird, huh?

More fun than a dollop of whipped cream and more satisfying than five days of leftovers, "The Turkey" is a fun book, filled with history and trivia that will delight the person who likes to sit at the dinner table and regale the family with little-known facts. Author Andrew F. Smith plucked information from dozens of sources, and he liberally feathers his book with historic recipes so you, too, can try turkey jelly, turkey a la doode, or make turkey balloons.

Turn off the football game, pull up a kitchen stool, and enjoy this book while your bird is roasting. "The Turkey" is a book you'll, um... gobble up.

Woody's on the Run opens in Kewaskum BP

Woody cooks up an order in his On the Run kitchen. Woody's on the Run opened Saturday inside the Kewaskum BP gas station on Fond du Lac Avenue. The restaurant specializes in good food for folks on the go.

Taking his delicious food to another level, Todd "Woody" Kleinhans, owner of Woody's Steakhouse in Kewaskum has opened another restaurant. Woody's on the Run, which will cater to just like its name says, hungry folks on the run, opened Saturday, Nov. 11 inside BP of Kewaskum on Fond du Lac Avenue in Kewaskum.

The restaurant is not your typical fast food establishment, although it does have drive-through service for call-ins or drive up orders. "Woody"

Statesman photo: Andrew Kuehl reported that the restaurant is comparable to Culver's.

"We have homemade fresh food, made from scratch," said "Woody".

Woody's on the Run has menu with burgers, chicken sandwiches but also features tasty appetizers such as mozzarella sticks and broccoli cheddar bites. The menu also has more unique tastes like gyros and burritos and chimichangas. For health fanatics looking for a quick meal, Woody's on the Run also has a variety of salads. Menu items range in price from $1 to $6.75.

"I liked the different menu, I felt there was a need in Kewaskum for it," "Woody" said.

"Woody", who is no stranger to the restaurant business, owns a number of restaurants and operates a catering service out of Woody's Steakhouse in Kewaskum. The full-service catering serves Washington, Dodge and Fond du Lac counties for many occasions including weddings and funerals. He also owns Woody's Two at Rock River Hills Golf Course in Horicon.

Woody's on the Run also serves breakfast from 5 to 11 a.m. The breakfast menu includes: egg sandwiches, pancakes and breakfast burritos.

"Woody" says he will be open until 10 p.m. weekdays and is unsure of his weekend closing hours. "If there is a need, we may be open until 11 p.m., but I'm not sure at this point yet," he said. For the opening weekend of gun deer hunting he said he would open at 4 a.m. Saturday and Sunday for hungry hunters.

Before jumping into restaurant and tavern ventures in Campbellsport and Kewaskum, he was in restaurant sales, selling food for Milwaukee Cheese Co. He also got a taste of the tavern business after tending bar at a number of taverns and restaurants in the area.

In 1996 Woody opened his first tavern, Woody's Extra Innings on Fond du Lac Avenue in Campbellsport. He sold the bar in 2004 and it has since been re-named Culley's. He started Woody's on the Pond, farther east on Fond du Lac Avenue in 2000. He sold that venture in 2005.

His Kewaskum (ad)ventures included a tavern serving bar fare he started in 1998 called Rookie's which was located in what is John's on Main today. He later sold that after opening Woody's Steakhouse at the corner of Fond du Lac Avenue and Main Street in 2000.

Orders for Woody's on the Run can be called into 262.626.1020 and picked up through the drive through window.

Area bow hunters have much luck

The 2006 bow hunting season continues, and for one area hunter, Mike Zajicek of West Bend, the experience was very successful. Hunting south of West Bend on Nov. 5, Zajicek bagged an 11-point buck, weighing an estimated 170 pounds dressed. Zajicek, who has been bow hunting since he was 12 years old, said, "This was my biggest deer with a bow but not my biggest ever." Zajicek brought the deer to Kewaskum Frozen Foods for processing. Statesman photo by Judy Harlow

Steve Herriges of Kewaskum snared this trophy deer when the unfortunate buck passed his deer stand shortly before 9 a.m. Saturday. This "buck of a lifetime" was a 4 1/2 year-old 13 pointer with an 18 5/8" spread. The deer green scored 173 5/8" gross. Submitted photo

Gun deer season opens Saturday

MADISON - With the Nov. 18-26, 2006 gun deer season just around the corner, Wisconsin wildlife managers would like to wish hunters "good luck and safe hunting." They also remind hunters that there are a number of hunting rule changes in place for 2006, rules hunters requested.

"Have fun and be safe first, and foremost, but remember this is a very important season for deer hunters," said Keith Warnke, Department of Natural Resources deer and bear ecologist. "We worked with hunters to build a season structure they feel will be effective, easier to understand, maintain tradition, and rekindle the excitement of opening day."

In 2005, Wisconsin hunters harvested more than 467,000 deer, the sixth best season in Wisconsin hunting history. Wisconsin holds the record among states for a single year harvest at 618,000 in 2000, and is also the top deer harvest producing state over the past decade. Despite these record harvests, in 2006, Wisconsin's deer herd remains above population goals. Wildlife managers estimate it to be at 1.5 to 1.7 million animals going into the hunting season.

"One of the most important challenges hunters have set before themselves is to harvest a high number of antlerless deer without the opportunity of an October antlerless gun deer hunt," Warnke said. "Hunting groups we worked with felt that hunters could shoot enough antlerless deer during the regular nine-day gun deer season, muzzleloader season and an additional four-day antlerless only hunt in December to get deer populations under control. To do that, they'll have to register two antlerless deer for every buck. Hanging in the balance is a return of the October gun hunt and possibly more Earn-a-Buck units in future seasons."

The Dec. 7-10 antlerless hunt will be open in all deer management units statewide, but hunters need an antlerless deer carcass tag that is valid for the unit in which they plan to hunt. The free Herd Control and EAB antlerless deer carcass tag hunters receive with their licenses is only valid on units with those designations. Hunters who plan to hunt in regular deer management units would need an antlerless deer carcass tag valid for the specific regular unit in which they would hunt. Unit-specific antlerless carcass tags are already sold out in most regular units.

Deer registrations from CWD units down from previous years

The deer harvest in chronic wasting disease management zones this year is well below

what it has averaged in previous years, Warnke notes.

"We hope that picks up during the gun season. If not, there is a strong possibility for Earn-a-Buck to return next year in CWD zones," he says.

Remaining deer hunting seasons

The remaining deer hunting seasons in areas outside of CWD management zones in 2006 include:

- Early Archery: closes Nov. 16
- Gun Deer: Nov 18 - Nov. 26
- Late Archery: Nov 27 - Jan. 7, 2006
- Muzzleloader: Nov. 27 - Dec. 6

• Gun Deer, Antlerless only: Dec. 7-10 in all units statewide, but hunters must have a unit-specific antlerless deer carcass tag to hunt in units that are not EAB or Herd Control. CWD Zones

The remaining seasons in chronic wasting disease management zones include:

- Gun Deer, Disease Eradication Zone: Nov. 18 - Dec. 10
- Gun Deer, Herd Reduction Zone: Nov. 18 - Dec. 10

Maybry's catch ignites Greendale

A painful ending to a very successful KHS football season

Playing conditions in West Bend were muddy and messy for the Indians' game against Greenfield. Above, Jake Turowski (60), blocks a Greenfield player.

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

In the past two weeks, Kewaskum's high-powered offense proved it could come back against one- and three-touchdown deficits, but Saturday, in a Division 3 semifinal game at Carl Pick Memorial Field in West Bend, the Indians were stopped in their tracks by a muddy playing surface and a hard-hitting Greendale defense.

The unranked Panthers survived a couple scares in the first half, took the lead on a 73-yard bomb in the third quarter, than the defense took over, pummeling Indian running backs and especially quarterback Casey Scheel on their way to a 9-0 victory.

"They cashed in one of their opportunities. We didn't cash in on our opportunities," a dejected but proud KHS coach Jason Piittmann said after the game, which ended the Indians' season at 11-2.

After looking at the field, which had lots of soft spots, especially between the 30-yard lines, Piittmann said he told the kids the game might come down to one big play. He was absolutely right, but the play was made by Greendale on its second possession of the second half.

After a good punt by Logan Staeger, the Panthers were starting off on their own 27. Lining up in their usual shotgun offense, was Mike Hennessy going to run again, like he had done over and over in the first half?

Not this time. Hennessy took the snap, looked over the field and found 5-foot-10 junior Kyle Maybry open behind two Kewaskum defenders, Jon Holt and Jack Breese. The pass was perfectly thrown, and Maybry took it in stride and galloped down the field for what turned out to be the only touchdown of the contest.

"It was a combination of things," Piittmann said about the play, explaining his cornerback hesitated a little and the safety bit for the fake. "They hit the kid on the money ... he was gone."

Indian players breathed a sigh of relief when Greg Hansen was wide left with his extra point try, and the score was 6-0.

In the two previous playoff games, Port Washington had missed an extra point, and it came back to haunt the Pirates. Then Waupun didn't have a kicker and that came back to haunt the Warriors.

This time was different, however, as the Indian offense was completely neutralized by the Panthers, especially jumbo tackle Eric Brunner and the linebacking crew.

Kewaskum had just three first downs in the second half, and all of them came via penalty. The 24 minutes of football in the second half produced just 10 yards rushing and 15 yards passing, as Scheel completed only three of 16 passes and was picked off three times, six for the entire game.

Brennen Bychinski's interception with 3:23 remaining pretty well ended Kewaskum's hopes of any comeback.

There was no question in Piittmann's mind the outcome might have been different had the game been played on a dry field and had one play gone in his team's favor in the first half.

The Indians had moved from midfield steadily to the Greendale and picked up a first down at the 22 after Dan Shea slipped and slid his way for five yards.

Kewaskum fans were thinking the Indians would score and be on their way toward another victory. On first down, Scheel stepped back and saw Eric Ogi open at the one, and at first, it looked as if it was going to be called a catch. Another official quickly came in, indicated the ball had been trapped, so it was back to the 22, and two plays later, Maybry halted the drive with his first of three first-half picks.

Kewaskum drove to the Greendale 22 with :29 remaining in the half when Maybry intercepted Scheel again, snuffing out another good opportunity.

"We played good field position football in the first half," Piittmann said. In the second, after Greendale scored, the Panthers began to take over the line of scrimmage and gave up yards grudgingly. Scheel, Shea and Ogi were getting smothered by two and three tacklers every time they touched the ball, and the Panthers secondary made passing difficult.

Insurance came for the Panthers when Hansen redeemed himself with a 21-yard field goal with 7:17 left in the game. Greendale started the drive on Kewaskum's 38 after an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty on the Indians after a punt.

A pass from Hennessy to Hansen picked up one first down, another pass to Mabry helped Greendale move to the KHS 19 before Hennessy broke free for a 10-yard run to the 9.

Two more Hennessy runs took the ball to the 2, but on third and goal, Staeger blitzed and dropped the Greendale quarterback for a 2-yard loss, setting up the field goal.

Staeger and Mike Pfothauer were all over the field for the Indians in their final high school games. Piittmann called their efforts "phenomenal," adding, "These kids are gamers ... smart, strong kids, and they love football!"

For the game, Scheel rushed for 31 yards on 17 carries, while Shea gained 17 yards in seven tries, and Ogi carried the ball three times for a negative seven yards.

Scheel passed for 104 yards, Parrent had three catches for 40 yards and Jon Wicklund three for 50 yards.

About Scheel, who had passed for 23 touchdown passes this season, Piittmann said, "It looked to me like the ball was floating," and the footing may it difficult for his receivers to make their cuts. "Coach Rock (Dave Rockhill), was trying to come up with anything he could" on different areas of the field.

Greendale wound up with 203 total yards, with Maybry making four catches for 98 yards.

"I'm very proud of these kids," Piittmann said, adding graciously, "I give Rob Stoltz (Greendale's head coach) and his staff a lot of credit," wishing them good luck in Friday's finale at Camp Randall in Madison against Wautoma, which eliminated Lakeland on Friday night. That game will be played Friday morning at 10 a.m.

Senior starters playing their final games for KHS included: Scheel, Shea, Ogi, Parrent, Wicklund, Breese, Jake Turowski, Staeger, Pfothauer, Zach Groeschel, Tony Lewko and J.J. Logan. They helped compile a 23-3 record the past two years.

Final relay team lifts KMS girls track team to first place

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Shawna Enright, Kaylene Herbst, Sarah McWilliams and Megan Struck needed to come up with their best time of the season, and they certainly came through for the eighth grade girls track team in the Moraine Conference Championships held several weeks ago.

"By placing third, they won the meet for us," Coach Jerry Gosa said, reporting his 4x400-meter foursome came through in grand style, cutting a full 25 seconds off their previous best time, with an effort of 4 minutes, 43.5 seconds (4:43.5).

On the basis of this relay, in the final event in the meet, Kewaskum wound up with 113 points and carried home the conference trophy.

Slinger wound up a close second with 109 points, then came Pewaukee in third with 93 points. Finishing a distant fourth and fifth were the two West Bend teams, Silverbrook with 46 and Badger with 39.

In the 13 events, Kewaskum posted four first places, three seconds and a pair of thirds.

Georgia Abfall had a good day, winning two events. In the discus, Abfall tossed the steel platter 75 feet and 2 inches (75-2), and she captured top honors in the 100 meter dash with a clocking of 14.4 seconds.

Abfall also chipped in with a second place in the high jump by clearing 4-6. Her marks in all three events were her best efforts of the season.

Kewaskum runners dominated the 1,600-meter run. Struck finished first with a time of 6:05.5, and McWilliams wasn't far behind, touring the four laps in 6:08.2. Both were season-best times, according to Gosa.

The sprint crew of Raquel Bode, Megan Gavin, Christine Bohn and Elizabeth Schaller also performed well in the 4x100 relay. Their time of 58.5 was good enough for the win, and it was a season-best time.

The 4x200 relay, comprised of Courtney Krueger, Bohn, Valerie Paulus and Gavin, placed second behind a time of 2:04.03.

That also was a best time for the season.

Rachel Yocum and Ashley Roeske chipped in with solid performances in the 800, going 2-3 with their respective times of 2:48.8 and 2:49.1.

Other top-six places included: shot put — third by Paulus, 25-5.5 and Samantha Rick, 6th, 22-1; discus — Gavin, 4th, 63-2; long jump — Shawna Enright, 4th, 12-8.5 and Rachel Yocum, 5th, 12-5.5; 75-meter hurdles — Krueger, 5th, 15.0; 100 — Elizabeth Schaller, 6th, 14.8; 400 — Yocum, 5th, 1:10.5; and Enright, 6th, 1:11.0; 200 — Paulus, 4th, 31.7 (season best) and Potter, 5th, 31.8 (season best).
