Village, township hold first ETZ meeting

an Managing Editor

KEWASKUM- The first joint meeting of the Kewaskum Extraterritorial Zoning (ETZ) Committee saw members airing a number of concerns between the township and village of Kewaskum. The group will now meet monthly to discuss answers to concerns both municipalities have with each other.

The group decided that village president Matt Heiser and town Kewaskum Chairman Ellis Kahn will alternate chairing the group's meetings. Due to state statutes Heiser will not be allowed to vote on agenda items however, Kahn is allowed to vote. The group will alternate holding meetings between the town and village halls

Kahn stated that he was very disappointed with how the entire situation played out. He explained that the township and plan commission went through a tedious process of amending their land use map/text and zoning map/text. They formally adopted both in October of 2006, shortly there after the village held a special meeting to approve their use of extraterritorial zoning authority.

"We spent a lot of money and time (updating the zoning and land use materials). We encouraged the village to attend (the meetings). "In my opinion, leave the town alone," stated

Both sides stated they believed that working together would benefit both sides equally. Both agreed that infrastructure items like roads should be planned so both sides benefit in the future. Kahn thought the first step was to have the village review their new zoning and land use maps and Those documents will be presented at the next ETZ meeting that will be held in the town hall. Meetings will be held the second Thursday of the month meeting at 6:30 p.m. Residents of both municipalites are able to attend the meetings.

Future agenda items ETZ committee will discuss

- * Sharing of maps and ordinances
- Snow plowing
- * Road repair
- * Commercial development
- * Purchase of Development Rights (PDR)
- * Acceptance of annexation petitions brought to the village
 - * Septic systems Speed limits on roads
 - * Boundary agreement
 - * Lot sizes
 - * Extraterritorial law
 - * School District expansion
 - Village infrastructure
- * Sewer service area * Open space/park/trails land

Ogi, Smith. Turowski are Madison bound

By Judy Harlow Statesman Sports Correspondent

MILWAUKEE- It was the end of the line for six Kewaskum High School wrestlers, but for three others, Mason Smith at 140 pounds, Eric Ogi at 145 and Jake Turowski at 189, hopes are still alive for standing atop the victory stand this coming Saturday night in the WIAA Division 2 State Wrestling

The veteran trio survived some good competition at the sectional hosted by Milwaukee Lutheran High

As a team, Kewaskum finished sixth overall, scoring 43.5 points, .5 of a point behind Chilton. Fellow Eastern Wisconsin Conference member Sheboygan Falls claimed the title with an even 100 points. Pewaukee was a distant second at 73. 5, followed by Ripon, 52 and Lomira, 45.5.

Only Ogi was a champion, earning himself a third straight state tournament berth. He looked impressive in going 3-0 on the day.

In his first match, Ogi won by tech fall, 16-0, over Steve Mills of St. Lawrence Seminary.

Match No. 2 never went into the third period. Ogi simply overpowered Cole Zimmerman of Union Grove, pinning him in 3:26, and that meant the Indian senior would face a similar opponent in the finals, Pewaukee's Tim Zeimet, who he beat Feb. 10 in the regional finals.

Zeimet lasted 5:21 before getting

Bald eagle visits Farmington

The above Bald Eagle was spotted by Mike Ramthun in the town of Farmington. Ramthun came across the rare animal as he was driving on Forest View Road. A number of other callers reported the sighting after Ramthun called our office. Kewaskum High School Science teacher Carla Schmitt stated "bald eagles have become much more abundant in Wisconsin in the past 10-20 years, however to see one in this area of the state is fairly rare." Schmitt who resides in Farmington said she spotted a bald eagle last spring on Paradise Road feeding on a dead deer along the side of the road. "They probably aren't nesting in the area, but just passing through," she concluded.

Scott discusses community center, hears new news on zoning change

By Bernadette Mondloch Statesman Correspondent

SCOTT TOWNSHIP- The disappointment experienced by the owners of Lake Ellen Stone at the January town of Scott board meeting, did not stop them. They have since conducted a bit of research on the soil types making up the area that had been turned down for a zoning change.

Changing the zoning from A-1 to M-3 would have allowed them to extend the existing mining operation of their gravel pit located east of State Highway 28. One of the main reasons for denying the zoning change was because type one and two soils are located on the parcel,

It is the planning commission's policy to determine the zoning classification by use of the soil maps obtained from Sheboygan County's planning department. All class one and two soils are zoned A-1 and A-2.

Records obtained from the USDA indicate there is no evidence of class one soil on the site. Only 48 percent is class two and the remaining 52 percent is made up of other types. Lake Ellen Stone's representative also presented a host of other facts pertaining to the expansion of the mining operation.

Approving the zoning change would have allowed an expansion of the sand and gravel extraction operation already existing on land. The company stated the reclaimed land would be 50 percent class two which means that the plan would produce more garniture land once the mining operation ceases.

Supervisor Bruce Birenbaum motioned to table the request to afford the town board time to investigate the soil types further before taking any action.

Several weeks ago, brush cutting within the right of way along town roads was completed. This saw the removal of a mature 12-inch diameter apple tree on Tim Edeler's property. He alleged the tree was removed in error so town officials requested he bring back a quote for replacement of the tree.

Edeler returned with an estimate of $1,206.25 for a five-inch diameter tree. Questions about the actual location of the right of way at that location were discussed. Edeler professed that if the right of way exists, brush cutters should not have needed to cross a fence to get at it.

Supervisor Cheryl Scholz made a motion to accept the estimate provided, however she did not receive a second. Upset by the result a number of board members had a heated discussion that ultimately saw Town Chairman Steve Jung suggesting getting additional tree estimates and tabling a decision until the March meeting.

March meeting.

A report from a recent meeting held at the Scott Community Center to form volunteer committees was presented. Those in attendance sketched out a list of necessary improvements. Jim Verhaalen recited the list, which if completed should bring the facility up to date, and in the line of ADA requirements.

A portion of that list included:

* Bringing the ramp up to

* Constructing a handicapped stall in each restroom. Grab bars also must be installed.

* Removal of a fuel tank (no longer used) on the property.

* A number of other minor items.

The group will be known as the Scott Community Center Committee. Sub committees are the grant committee that will investigate any possible grant money to improve the facility, cleaning committee, donation committee, fundraiser committee and promotion committee. They will be meeting on the first Thursday of each month beginning in March.

The big question on who may use the community center free of charge and who must pay to use the building was not arrived at quietly. Narbatovics suggested that any non-profit group located within the town of Scott should be able to use the facility free of charge. Scholz did not agree. Supervisors ultimately decided that all existing non-profit groups should have free use of the building.

KHS Honors Alumnus

This fall Kewaskum High School accepted nominations for their Alumni Achievement Award. The purpose of the award is to:

 encourage students to choose challenging careers that would benefit the community and our country, and recognize Kewaskum High Alumni reconnecting them to our school and our community.

In November, the very first three outstanding candidates were selected based on the following criteria:

he/she gained distinction in his/her field

 he/she offers an admirable example to students based on character and accomplishments

 he/she contributes to his/her community of residence

Kewaskum High School proudly announces this year's recipients: George G. Martin, (1968), Dr. Larry Westerman (1978), and Ric Leitheiser (1982).

George G. Martin (nominated by Bonnie Koepke and Dawn Martin) has spent most of his life working for the CIA. He started for them in 1975 after graduation with a Masters from Michigan State University. Who would have known that this young man started his career at Kewaskum Frozen Foods? His first assignment was that of a geographer in the USSR-Europe division and over the years he worked his way up to the Inspector's General Office.

His hard work has even earned him the prestigious award of Career Achievement in Intelligence. George is also involved with his church not only through the church choir, band, and youth groups, but he is even a consultant to the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod Commission and serves as a soccer referee in his community.

Westerman Dr. Larry (nominated by Dennis, Sharon, and Randy Westerman and Sandra Gitter) has spent most of his life working for the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, Georgia. Since 2005, Larry has been working in Zambia as the Director of Quality Assurance in a lab for AIDS control. Larry is a gradfrom UW-Milwaukee and Emory University (Georgia). During his stay in Africa he has already treated 53,000 people with HIV and AIDS.

Ric Leitheiser (nominated by Amy Leitheiser) is currently the President of the M&I Bank, West Bend and directs business-banking activities in the northern Metro- Milwaukee market. Ric received a Masters from Marquette University and is also a graduate of the Graduate School of Banking at the University of Colorado.

Ric serves on many community committees and organizations in the West Bend and Washington County area and he is currently the Board Chair for the Kettle Moraine YMCA and the Synergy Health Foundation.

On March the Kewaskum School District will host these Alumni Achievement Award Recipients. They will take part in a school/community assembly at 9:55 a.m. in the Kewaskum High School Field house. During this assembly, the honorees will present information regarding their school days at Kewaskum High School. The presentations will include the activities they were in, their educational background, and their careers that followed.

After lunch, the honorees will conduct student career workshops in the afternoon. That evening they will meet with media and be honored at a School Board reception that starts at 6:00 p.m. at the District Office.

The community is invited to the school assembly and the School Board reception. If you know these candidates or are interested in meeting them, please mark your calendar for March 12th. Kewaskum High School would sure love to have you join them in honoring George, Larry, and Ric.

The home owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Paff on Fond du Lac Avenue suffered a heavy loss in a stubborn blaze Thursday that threatened for a time to destroy the building. The building was occupied by Mrs. Jennie Schlosser and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Florrigan.

The Campbellsport Bakery wishes to announce the opening of a branch bakery in Kewaskum in the Smoley building annex on Main Street, across from the old village hall. A careful survey of Washington opinion reveals a tendency in responsible quarters to believe that the current period probably marks the low point of the depression, provided that the new government loan policy is not made the excuse for reckless expansion during the next month or two.

Fire Saturday morning, February 13, completely destroyed the farm residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brochoska, located two miles west of Beechwood, better known as the George Ketter farm. Not having a telephone, no alarm could be given, and before neighbors were aware of the fire, and reaching the scene, it had gained such headway that nothing could be done to save the residency or furniture. Mr. Brochoska, as usual, arose about 4:30 to start the kitchen fire, after which he again retired. About an hour later, he went back to the kitchen and found it ablaze. This was the second fire on the farm within the past year, a barn being destroyed about a year ago. Mr. and Mrs. Brochoska are temporarily using one of the sheds on the farm as living quarters and intend to rebuild.

Holy Trinity celebrates Catholic Schools week

Holy Trinity kicked off Catholic Schools' Week with "twin" day. Students, as shown above, dressed in similar fashion, vying for the closest look-a-like title. A Faith-a-thon took place mid-week where students from all the grades competed at different levels, demonstrating their knowledge of Catholicism. Late in the week, illustrating their spelling abilities, selected students from 5th thru 8th grades took to the floor impressing the audience in a Spelling Bee. Below, Jacob Verhaalen, left, took the spelling trophy and will compete in the regionals while Evan Schneider (right) came in as runner-up. Congratulations! Catholic Schools' week drew to a close with the students participating in roller skating. Thank you to everyone who helped make Catholic Schools' week a success.

FCCLA Club offers healthy bread

Kewaskum FCCLA Club is partnering with Natural Ovens Bakery to provide a fast, easy, and healthy fundraising opportunity that provides an alternative to selling sugar and fat-laden foods. Recently, groups have rallied to stop the sale of sugary and fat-filled sodas and candies in schools. Until now, groups like FCCLA have not had much of a choice, as there were few healthy product choices available for fundraising opportunities. With the introduction of Natural Ovens Bakery Fundraising, Kewaskum FCCLA now has a healthier option to offer. Funds raised are used for the annual Breakfast with Santa, which will be held on Saturday December 1, 2007.

The Natural Ovens' Fundraiser is a "Home Delivery Fundraiser" in which each customer places their own order online and their merchandise is mailed directly to their home. The fundraiser does not have any geographical constraints, because the products are delivered directly to each customer's home, anywhere in the U.S.A.

Log on to www.Kewas-kumFCCLA.naturalovens. com, then, click on the "shop and contribute tab". When you are finished selecting the items you want to purchase, click on the "checkout" tab. For more information, please contact Mary Koch at mkoch@ksd.k12.wi.us., or by phone at 262-626-8427 ext. 4108.

Duane F. Nigh, 72, died peacefully Tuesday evening, February 13, 2007 at his home in Cascade.

He was born in the Town of Auburn, Campbellsport, on February 10, 1935, to the late Walter and Lucille (Harter) Nigh. The family moved to Plymouth in 1940, where Duane attended St. John the Baptist Catholic grade school and graduated from Plymouth High School, class of 1953.

After spending two years in the United States Army, Duane enrolled at UW Madison, graduating from there in 1960 with a degree in journalism, and a year later earned a teaching certificate at UW-Whitewater.

After moving to Florida in 1962 he taught English at Satellite Beach High School for a year before becoming a radio announcer for station WRKT in Cocoa Beach Florida. It was the start of a career in radio that continued for more than forty years.

Duane's specialty was broadcasting live events, assisted by a mobil transmitting unit. His rich voice and a smooth delivery soon won many fans of his broadcasts of rocket launches from Cape Canaveral and the football games at Merritt Island High School. National networks sometimes would call on him to report breaking news from the Kennedy Space Center.

Later, as news director for station WRKT and WEZY in Brevard County, Florida, he did on-air interviews of local officials and visiting personalities. Duane returned to Wisconsin in 1975 to work as afternoon host at WKTS in Sheboygan. He became News Director at WPLY in Plymouth in 1976. In 1978 Duane became the News Director at WHBL in Sheboygan where he served until a brief retirement in 1988. In 1985 he married Jeannie Harlow.

Duane returned to radio in 1990 as News Director at WPLY. He stayed at the station in its transition to a religious format as WJUB until 1998. He then became Home Secretary for then State Senator Jim Baumgart until retiring for good in 2002.

For several years Duane was a docent at the Old Wade House in Greenbush, demonstrating, while in costume, the blacksmith forge and the restored sawmill. In recent months his bi-weekly column on Plymouth history appeared in the Sheboygan Press.

Duane is survived by his loving wife of 21 years Jeannie of Cascade; two sisters Rosemary (Warren) Eigenberger of Sheboygan Falls and Marilyn (Charles) Osterman of Belgium; one brother-in-law John T. IN MEMORY

In memory of Ruben A. Oppermann Sr., Shirley and Ed Zastrow.

Wings To Set Me Free
You must have been waiting,
And got your wings today.
I thought I heard singing
As the Angels led your way.
Your time here was over,
Jesus opened heaven's gate.
Somewhere way up yonder,
I know your love will wait.
And when my work is finished,

When everything's said and done.

I too will be blessed,
The battle I will have won.
So I'll meet you someday,
I'll come without a fight,
To my home far away,
When I see the guiding light.
So just remember darling,
When you think of me,
That I am only waiting,
For wings to set me free.

Sadly missed by
Pat & Jim Smith,
Nicole & Doug Hialt,

Doyle's budget is bad for Wisconsin

By Rep. Dan LeMahieu

The Democrat state budget introduced by Gov. Doyle last week will raise taxes and fees on every man, woman and child in Wisconsin by $310.00 and will place an enormous financial burden on middle class families who work and pay the taxes here in Wisconsin.

Almost every tax and fee in the state budget is increasing plus a number of new taxes appear in these Democrat budget proposals. Major tax increases total over $1.7 billion. Not only do these proposals hurt already overtaxed families but they are a recipe for economic disaster in Wisconsin.

If you get sick, drive a car (8.5 cent per gallon tax increase), smoke, own a home, sell or buy property, need a birth, marriage or death certificate, reside in a nursing home, pay property taxes, the Democrats want to raise your taxes.

Gov. Doyle campaigned on not raising taxes and stated in his 2003 State of the State Address, "Wisconsin is already one of the nation's most heavily taxed states. Adding to the burden would make it virtually impossible to attract new jobs while destroying more than 50,000 of the ones we already have."

I agree that all these taxes will hurt our economy and destroy jobs. My goal is to protect taxpayers by voting for a budget that:

Controls taxes

• Reduces the size of government

 Brings state borrowing under control

 Provides health care reform that puts families – not government – in charge of health care decisions

 Controls or lowers taxes as an incentive to create and expand jobs in Wisconsin

 Eliminates unnecessary government regulations to spur economic development

The budget Governor Doyle has proposed does not accomplish these goals I have outlined and does not do what the constituents of the 59th assembly district expect of me. Therefore, I will not vote for Governor Doyle's tax and spend budget. Rather, I will continue to fight in Madison for lower taxes and more efficient government.

The proposed budget squeezes middle class families that are already financially strained. We need to work in Madison to keep our budget in line with your ability to pay. That means less taxes and smaller government.

As the budget process continues I need to hear from you. I need to hear what you like and don't like about the budget. Questions or comments can be directed to my office in Madison 608-266-9175 or toll free 888-534-0059 or e-mail to Rep.LeMahieu@legis.wi.gov

My Little Yellow Taxi
By Stephen T. Johsnon
Red Wagon Books $19.95 14 Pages

What do you want to be when you grow up?

Do you want to be a fireman and ride on the fire truck with the sirens? Or do you want to be a farmer and raise pigs and cows and horses?

Maybe you think you'd like to be a singer or a base-ball player or maybe you want to grow up and be just like Mom or Dad.

But then, driving a taxi sounds like fun, doesn't it? Imagine driving all over the city and meeting all sorts of interesting people. You can practice now with "My Little Yellow Taxi", the new book by Stephen T. Johnson.

What does it take to get on the road in your yellow taxi? It takes about ten minutes to get ready. First, you have to put gas in the tank. Fill 'er up!

Be sure to check the oil beneath the hood. Is it empty or is it full?

Are the tires ready to go? Then so are you! You're going to get hungry later, so remember to bring a few snacks for the glove compartment. Did you notice that your snacks look a little like the signs you see on the streets?

Now grab your keys, open the door to your cab, hop in and buckle up. Put your key into the ignition, put the gearshift into "D" for "drive" and check your rearview mirror, your windshield wipers, headlights and your meter. Now turn on your taxi light because you're ready for customers!

Watch for traffic, obey the speed limit, and drive safely!

Do you have a vehicleobsessed boy or girl in your house? Then "My Little Yellow Taxi" is going to be a smash hit. Author Stephen T. Johnson's words are few in this story, so they're easy for the littlest kids to understand and big kids won't feel silly if they still want to enjoy this book. All kids will love the interactive pages, which include heavy cardboard "tools" that can be removed from the book and utilized, as well as flaps to open, tabs to pull, and pieces that can be moved along with the story.

A few things that parents will need to know: the "tools" are stuck in the book pretty firmly, so your child is going to need some help - at least initially - in getting them out of their slots. The pull-tabs aren't always smooth, so eager little fingers could rip them easily, not to mention that some loose pieces will invariably get lost as this book is loved to tatters.

Also, "My Little Yellow Taxi" is very thick and rather heavy, which means the youngest of its intended readers (ages 3-7) might have a problem carrying it from the shelf to your chair when he or she drives you crazy for yet another reading.

If anything that zooms, honks, or motors has captivated your child, then drive out and look for this book. "My Little Yellow Taxi" is one they'll want read again and again.

Sunday Run / Walk Back at Seafood Fest, will be Boys and Girls Club 5k for Kids

The Boys and Girls Club of Washington County has announced plans to continue the West Bend tradition of a run/ walk the Sunday of Seafood Fest, with the Boys and Girls Club "5K for Kids" . The 5K for Kids was held in Jackson the last four years, and will now move to Regner Park in West Bend on Sunday, June 3, 2007. The 5K for Kids will be a 3.1 mile run/ walk for adults and children of all ages, followed by a series of shorter children's races for ages 4-12. All proceeds will go toward summer for the Boys and Girls Club's Jackson and West Bend summer programming. The Boys and Girls Club has centers in Jackson and West Bend that provide social, educational and recreational activities to 1300 members, ages

"This is a tremendous opportunity for the Boys and Girls Club in many ways," said Jay Fisher, Executive Director of the Boys and Girls Club. "This will allow us to expand the run/ walk fundraiser that was started in Jackson and carry on what has been a long standing community event as part of Seafood Fest. We want to raise awareness as to the value the Boys and Girls Club offers to families and kids and the long term impact the Club has as those kids eventually become our future community leaders."

Individual, family team registrations will be available. Any individuals or businesses interested in entering a team, serving as a team captain or volunteering can contact Fisher at 262-334-3732. Kathy Wolfgram from Fitness Oneon-One, Jennifer Fleischman from SynergyHealth West Bend Clinic and West Bend Police Chief Ken Meuler will serve as co-chairs. Sponsorship opportunities are also available for local businesses. Pledge forms will also be available as part of the entry form, with prizes for the top fundraising teams and individuals.

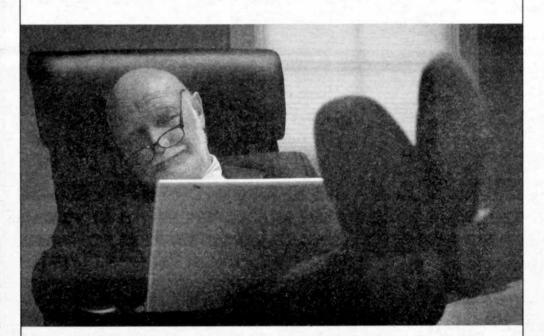

"We hope to attract families from throughout the county," said Meuler. "The 5K for Kids is open to anyone, avid or beginner runners, walkers, families and children. We expect this will continue to be a popular event, especially considering the connection to the community and supporting our local kids."

The 5K for Kids will begin at 10:30 a.m., followed by the children's races. Deadline for preregistration to be guaranteed a t-shirt for the 5K and children's races will be Wednesday, May 9. Registration will be $20 per person for the 5K run/walk and $5 per person for the children's race. Registration for a family of four (immediate family members only) will be $50. Awards will be presented to the top 5K male and female finishers in several age categories.

Registration forms, team packets and pledge forms are available at all SynergyHealth clinic locations, the Jackson Parks and Recreation Department, and the Washington County Boys and Girls Club in West Bend and Jackson. Wrestlers move on to Madison pinned by Ogi in the finals that day, but this time, the KHS senior took care of business in just 3:58.

With the three additional wins, Ogi will take a 34-2 record to the Kohl Center Friday afternoon when Division 2 quarterfinals will take place

"Eric has been very focused the last couple of weeks, taking one match at a time, coach Dennis Aupperle said, confident his top wrestler, recently named the MVP in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, can make the finals at 145 this year.

The great story from Saturday's competition was the emergence of Smith as the No. 2 finisher at 140.

Aupperle said last weekend Smith had a goal of reaching 25 wins, and he did that and then some.

In his opener, Smith shut out Kevin Zavadil of Martin Luther High School by a score of 10-zip, and then in the semifinals, he was in command for a 7-1 decision over Jon Hasch of Horicon.

Valder's Austin McCullev was decisive in the finals, winning by a major decision over Smith, 12-3 but because Hasch reached the finals of the wrestleback bracket, Smith was automatically the second-place finisher.

"Mason had a great day. He has really been doing a great job the last month or so, Aupperle said. "I knew coming into the year he had the potential to get to state and accomplish some of his goals, one being 25 wins for the season, and he now is 26-11."

Prep wrestling fans in the area were wondering whether Turowski would end up having to face Campbellsport's Billy Mayer for the fourth time this year.

The answer was no. Mayer, being the regional champion, was in one bracket, while Turowski was in the other. Still, Turowski gained a second trip to state — he went his freshman year — the hard way, losing his first match and then winning two in a row to finish third at 189.

Turowski's loss came against Chad Beck of Ripon, and it wasn't really close. Beck won Turowski was a lot more focused in his next match when he pinned McLeod of Racine St. Catherine in a brief 1:58, then in the next match, he followed that up with a 6-3 victory over Charles Mauer of Chilton.

Beck went all the way to the finals before running into Mayer (32-4), who proved he was the best wrestler at 189 pounds behind a 14-6 major decision.

Since Beck had already beaten Turowski, he got the second place, and Turowski, now 29-7, was happy with his third, which got the job done.

"Jacob really had to work to get himself through. He kept his head up and did a great job," Aupperle said.

Results involving other KHS wrestlers are as follows:

At 103, Andrew Haugen (22-10) was pinned by Shae Slaasted and was eliminated from the competition.

* At 112, Calob Olla lost to Jordan Williams of Sheboygan Falls 16-9. In the first wrestleback, he nipped Matt Rex of Horicon 4-3, then got pinned by T.J. Stolp-Apel of Grafton in 1:28. He ended the year at 21-

* At 119, Stephen "Bud" Kattar lost to technical fall, 17-0, to Travis Scharschmidt of Lomira in the first round, and was eliminated after losing a 7-4 decision to Josh Hammen of Sheboygan Falls. His final record was 21-13.

At 125, Nathan Seitz lost by technical fall 17-2 to Max Kirlay of New Berlin West and was eliminated from the competition. He ended the year at 15-17, which is an improvement of 10 wins over his record as a freshman.

* At 152, Cody Seibel lost to David Soda of Ripon 6-3, then later bounced back with a 12-1 major decision over Jared Hutterer of Valders before losing to Owen Field of Kiel, 11-8. By going 2-1, Seibel wound up 23-11 for the year.

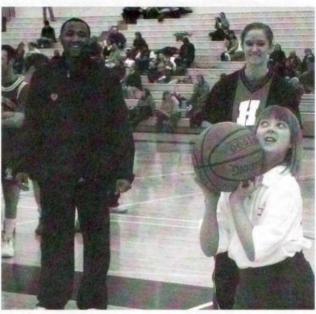

* At 160, Mike Pfotenhauer beat Nate Cartegena 10-4, and in the first wrestleback was pinned in 1:54 by Zach Groeschel of Clinton, ending his year at 9-9.

In the second round he lost to Pete Schroeder of Ripon by a score of 10-0 and then he got pinned in the first wrestleback, ending his day.

About Olla and Seibel, Aupperle said, "They were both one win away from qualifying as freshmen. They really had great freshmen years, adding, "They have tremendous starts and hopefully will keep improving off these excellent years."

Catching fire at the right time

Their confidence is starting to build.

In the past week, the Kewaskum High boys finally broke a six-game losing streak, then followed the win over Kiel with an inspired effort against the No. 2 team in the state in Division 3, which ended in a 46-42 loss, and the next night, turned back Grafton 66-56 in a non-conference game in the field house.

"Right now, we're play ing excellent team basketball," KHS coach Bobby Bannasch said following the Grafton game, which featured the 24point effort of Casey Scheel, who was 17x21 from the free throw line, including eight of ten from the line in the final two and a half minutes of Grafton used a spurt of 3-point shots to surge into a lead in the second quarter, but Scheel hit a long-range bomb with seven seconds left to put the score at 28-27 going into intermission.

Scheel again sparked a surge in the third period, with a pair of free throws to keep KHS out front and later a basket that pushed the Indians' lead back up to six.

Fouls certainly got the Blackhawks in trouble in the second half. Kewaskum was in the bonus late in the third period and went to the line 22 times in the final eight minutes. In fact, the only three baskets in that time span were an unbelievable reverse lay up by Dan Shea with 4:56 to play (KHS 45-40), a lay up by Matt Parrent with 3:49 remaining (KHS 48-42), and Dan Parker's lay up off a steal in the closing seconds.

The Indians missed only five of the 22 free throw chances, which was undoubtedly one of the best percentages of the year in that department.

Bannasch said he went to scout Grafton in its game against Cedarburg and felt defense wasn't the Blackhawks strength. He also was quite certain they would try to push the ball quickly up the court on his team.

The first-year coach decided on a zone defense, and it worked well, he said, remarking, "Our zone was very active," and, "It kept their big guy (6-foot-7 Corey Stark) ineffective" for much of the con-

In addition to Scheel, the Indians had two other players in double figures, junior John Holt with 17 and Matt Parrent with 11. Holt has now scored 52 points in his last three games, including 22 against Roncalli. This figures to a 17point average. "I'll take that any day," Bannasch said.

And Parrent edges ever so close to the 1,000 point mark. With his 13 points at Roncalli and 11 vs. the Blackhawks, he has 990 and was expected to top 1,000 points Thursday against Sheboygan Falls.

About the game against the unbeaten Jets (13-0 in Confer-Eastern Wisconsin ence play and 19-0 overall), Bannasch said, "Our kids did a tremendous job with the effort they put in.

At one point, Roncalli ran off 11 points but Kewaskum used a rally of its own to climb back into the game and tie it at 36-36 to close the third pe-

"They're an excellent team. They've been down to state a couple times," Bannasch said, reporting his team, with just three conference wins, were actually ahead by two points in the fourth quarter.

Roncalli tied the score again, and it was 42-all with one minute to go. "They held the ball, and with 15 second left, they got a back door cut (to Chris Wettstein), and they made the basket," Bannasch said, reporting Parrent had a chance for the tie with a shot from the wing that just missed.

Kewaskum had to foul and Roncalli made both free throws for the final margin.

"I tell you what. I was very pleased," Bannasch said. "It was a heavyweight fight all night long. We just kept swinging."

Greg Schrimpf led the Jets with 17 points behind five 3pointers, while Mark Schrimpf added eight. Roncalli was missing starter Cody Lassila, who was out with an injury.

It will also cover how an individual should get involved in protecting the natural environment especially for sake of our collective health. Edwards will not tell people how to think, but rather what we should be thinking about.

For the second year in a row, the Kewaskum High girls basketball team has ended the regular season without a victory.

Last week, the Indians were swamped by Campbellsport 76-32 in a makeup game hosted by the Cougars (Monday night), and on Friday, in a better showing, were beaten by Two Rivers 54-

"We're 0-21, and yet it was really an enjoyable season ... a good group of kids to work with," KHS coach Jeff Gosse said. "They played their hearts out ... I give them credit. They didn't ever want to quit. Tonight, they pressed right down to the final seconds. I'm very proud of them?

Inexperience, a lack of strength, especially in the post position, and difficulty scoring plagued the Indians all year and did again in these last two

Kewaskum was outscored 18-4 by the Raiders in the first quarter and 14-7 in the second, basically putting the game out of reach.

The big girl again (Becca Diedrich)," Gosse said, looking at the fact Diedrich, a 6foot (6-0) freshman, scored 15 points against the Indians, including four in the opening period when all five TR starters got in the scoring act.

Diana Taddy, who chipped in with 13 points in about three quarters of action, added 13 points, with a pair of 3-pointers the opening quarter.

Kewaskum's only basket in the period came from Nicole Kison, a 5-9 sophomore, who played her best game of the year, according to Gosse.

"I thought Nicole Kison played a great game tonight," the coach said. "She blocked three shots and scored nine points.

From there the scoring dropped down to four points from Jess Liniewski, who also turned in a determined effort battling on the boards against the Raiders' big girls.

'She's scrappy as heck," Gosse said about Liniewski and added, "She's scrappy, and the Rinzel twins (Megan and Stephanie) are scrappy as

Had freshman Elissa hit some of her shots, the Indians could have been a little more competitive, but she was a little jittery in her first varsity

She only made a couple of free throws," Gosse said about Miller, who moved up to the varsity a couple weeks ago and has shown she has poten-

"We didn't play a bad game. We just couldn't get our shots to drop, and they did. That's our big problem."

Kewaskum ended EWC play at 0-14, while the Raiders wound up 9-5.

About the Campbellsport game, Goss said, That was ugly. Campbellsport jumped out to a 16-0 lead."

What was disappointing, according to Gosse, was the way the Indians didn't respond to the Cougars' defenses. "It wasn't like they hadn't seen it before ... but that's part of having a young team."

'Miller had a good game," the coach went on, noting the freshman jumping jack had four baskets in the first half and a 3-pointer in the fourth quarter for an 11-point effort.

Next high were Kelsey Goetsch and Liniewski with six apiece, and Kison added

All ten of the Lady Cougars scored, led by Kelsie Benike, who had a game-high 16, one more than Alyssa Mc-Gracy. Kallie Benike also hit in double figures with an even dozen.

Timblin, played her first two years at Kewaskum, then open enrolled to Campbellsport, added nine points.

Campbellsport ended up at 13-1 in the EWC. With their recent win over Roncalli, the Cougars claimed a share of the title with the Jets.

What a week it was for the Kewaskum boys basketball team. Instead of caving in under the weight of playing four games in five days, the Indians gained confidence and finished off with back-to-back wins over Sheboygan Falls and Two Rivers, teams that had beaten them earlier in the season.

Thursday Kewaskum toppled Sheboygan Falls 54-46, and during that game Matt Parrent went over the 1,000-point mark. Then after the long ride to Two Rivers Friday, all five scores hit seven or more points toward a 57-49 decision over the Raiders.

They played some excellent basketball over the course of the last week," KHS coach Bobby Bannasch said, happy to report his team is now 5-8 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference and 6-12 overall.

Kewaskum and Two Rivers were nearly dead even in three of the four quarters, but the Indians' defense held the Raiders to just six points and three of them came on a desperation shot in the final seconds of that

"We had a 10-point lead, and then (Noah) Timm took a three-quarter court shot that went in, and that cut it to seven," Bannasch said, reporting, "They (Raiders) made a 5-0 run to start the fourth quarter and pulled within two points."

Momentum was changing, so the Indians had to come up with some inspired play, and they did. "Our guys just took over," Bannasch said, pointing to all his starters, Casey Scheel, Matt Parrent, Dan Parker, Dan Shea and Ion Holt.

"Holt had eight points in that quarter,' Bannasch said, indicating Parrent and Scheel both added four, and the other two chipped in with two points.

For the game, Parrent had a game-high 18, while Holt was next with 15.

Two Rivers had just one player in double figures, Timm, with 14. "We held their leading scorer, John Cookle, under 10," Bannasch said.

The first time Kewaskum faced Sheboygan Falls, it managed to score just 31 points but this time around was a whole lot different as balanced scoring lifted the Indians.

Parrent was No. 1 on the scoring parade again. He hit 14 points, and the 11th point of his night was No. 1,000, thus Parrent became the first KHS boy to reach that milestone.

Three girls, Jill Yearling, Linda Larsen and Pam Osterbrink, scored more than 1,000

Scheel chipped in with 11, and the junior Parker added

"In the first quarter, we scored 19 points, and we held them to 10," Bannasch said. We had balanced scoring the entire night, and we had good pressure on defense ... forced them into a lot of mistakes."

With the two wins, Kewaskum finished the week at 3-1 and going back several days, has won four out of its last five games.

Kewaskum was at Kettle Moraine Lutheran for a nonconference game Monday, then closes out the year Friday against Campbellsport.

In that game, Parrent will be honored for becoming the school's all-time leading scorer and going over 1,000 points.

The seeding meeting for the opening round of the Division 2 regional tournament was held Saturday, and Kewaskum wound up seventh out of the eight teams.

Bannasch said he appealed the seventh seed, so there was a second vote, but it ended up 3-3 (with the two participating coaches not voting), meaning it went back to the original placement, and Campbellsport was given the sixth spot.

As No. 7, Kewaskum will travel to St. John's/Northwestern Prep in Delafield on Tuesday for a 7 p.m. game.

They're 9-1 in conference and 14-4 overall," Bannasch said, indicating St. John's had "decent" competition in its conference.

As part of the fall Kewaskum High School Homecoming festivities, the FFA sponsored a Smash-A-Car booth. With sledge hammers and baseball bats contestants paid $1 a swing to take out their frustrations on a car. Proceeds went to the Josh Martin Scholarship Fund. Bob's Main Street Auto in West Bend donated the car.

A Word from the President

Over this past year, I was given a grand opportunity to exercise my leadership qualities by earning the position of President during the 2006-2007 school year. I can remember many days that really changed my life. The first of these was during the summer at the annual officer-planning workshop where we selected and voted for officer positions. Three officers and I all wanted to be president. The other officers and Mr. Rizzardi voted and chose me to be the next president. That day was the day for a new beginning. I had accepted the responsibilities of Kewaskum FFA president. I was now looking into the future on what a great year we were going to have.

Before we proceed to the rest of the year, here is a little about myself. I currently live with my mom, Joanne, my dad, James, my younger sister, Aimee, my younger brother, Josh, my older brother, Jon, my oldest brother, Mike, his wife, Traci, and my two nephews, Nathan and Dakota. We live in the small town of Boltonville. We raise chickens, ducks, and turkeys for the Washington County Fair. We also have two goats and a pony. I work on two farms near Boltonville, Spruce Lane Farms and KT Organic Farms.

As president of the Kewaskum FFA, I have been obligated to answer many different questions about the FFA. The most common question I get asked is "What is the FFA all about?" Well, the answer I give them is that the FFA is not just about farming and agriculture any more. The FFA no longer stands for Future Farmers of America, and that's where folks get mixed up. I tell them that the FFA is about many broad topics including agriculture, leadership, SAE's (Supervised Agriculture Experience), commitment, experience, and friendships. The FFA is one of the largest youth organizations in the world with over 400,000 members. That's a lot of people for one organization. The FFA does a lot more than just attend conventions and workshops. Members learn leadership and responsibility skills that lead them to success in life. Many members engage in community service projects, help and service around school, and farming. The FFA motto, "Learning to Do, Doing to Learn, Earning to Live, Living to Serve", explains it all by preparing members for a life of success both at home and in the work place, whether or not they choose careers in Agriculture. Seeing how agriculture is not limited to just farming, it includes a more broad range of career paths. Supervised Agriculture Experience (SAE) projects include many farm related projects such as beef and dairy production to many jobs that don't seem like agriculture jobs such as wildlife, commercial foods, and community development. There is always an SAE for anyone because almost every job or career can be linked to agriculture in some way. The FFA still has more to offer! Members have the opportunity to travel around the state and to many different regions around the country. Conventions and workshops are just some of the great opportunities to get out of the house, meet new people from different places, and most of all make new friends.

The members of the Kewaskum FFA are given chances for success throughout the year. The first event of the year was the State FFA Convention in the beginning of June. I was given the opportunity to attend the convention with Parliamentarian, Jesse Backhaus, former President Adam Janz, former Vice President Jon Hawig, and Mike Christianson. We got a chance to attend workshops and vote on many important state FFA issues. At the convention, Adam Janz and Jon Hawig received awards for the Growmark Writing competition. We also received chapter awards.

The second event of the year was the Washington County Fair. In July, members worked countless hours preparing for the fair. Just as every year, FFA members exhibited in almost every area of the fair including beef, dairy, horse, sheep, swine, poultry, rabbits, crops, and craft projects. Once again, our members performed very well at the fair and took advantage of this opportunity to show the public how much of a positive impact the FFA can have on the community and the lives of young people. Congratulations to everyone who exhibited for all of your hard work over the past year.

As the Washington County Fair ended, the State Fair began. Our chapter works together with Hartford and Slinger FFA chapters to run an ice cream booth in the Wisconsin Products Pavilion. Members from all three chapters helped sell the sundaes every day of the fair. Thank you to everyone who took the time to help sell ice cream and to those who purchased it. Your contributions to the FFA are greatly appreciated.

As August faded into September, school began. Holding our annual fall picnic at the high school started off the school year. There was a wonderful mixture of new and old members and their families, as well as friends. Members and families competed in games and sat down to eat the famous Subway subs, served by the Kewaskum officer team. This was a great chance to promote the FFA to the new freshmen and introduce members and parents to the new officer team.

Near the end of September, the Homecoming parade arrived. Zach Rate's parents donated a car and tow truck to drive through the parade. Our event was smash a car where members and guests at the homecoming football game could smash the car that the officers decorated in memory of Josh Martin, a fellow member and classmate who was killed in a car crash. All proceeds of this contest were donated to the Josh Martin Scholarship Fund available to Classmates of Josh's class, 2007 graduates. Thanks to all who participated in

In October, the officer team traveled to Slinger for the Sectional Leadership conference. We attended workshops specific to our officer positions and listened to motivational speakers. We also learned how to better serve and lead our FFA chapter to success. We were able to meet our sectional officer, our State FFA Officer team, and a member of the National FFA Officer Team.

The next event of the year was judging at the World Dairy Expo held in October. The World Dairy Expo is held in Madison, Wisconsin, where Kewaskum FFA members competed in dairy, crops and dairy products judging competitions. Members, who attended this event, were given the opportunity to learn a lot about today and tomorrow's Dairy Industry.

Near the end of October, four Kewaskum FFA members and Mr. Rizzardi went to the 79th National FFA Convention for the first time held in Indianapolis, Indiana. This year's delegates were Secretary, Renee Wetzel, Reporter, Becky Weber, Sentinel, Jimmy Kelley, and Parliamentarian, Jesse Backhaus. These individuals stopped at many locations touring famous museums on their way to Indianapolis. At the convention, they were able to meet many new FFA members. They also went to workshops to help better our FFA chapter. The members were able to meet the National FFA Officer team and attend workshops with them. During the convention business and organizations displayed new technology to students and adults. The technology was developed to help better society and the agriculture business. Students had time throughout the whole convention to tour these booths.

Every year our chapter conducts a fruit, cheese, sausage, and kringle sale as a fundraiser. We would like to thank everyone who sold or purchased fruit this year. For the past few years, I have seen a competitive rivalry emerge between Jon Hawig and Max Paulus. This year, Max Paulus came out on top, but congratulations to both Jon and Max for doing such a great job.

In the beginning of January 2007, Vice President, Zach Rate and I were honored to attend the Halftime Conference held in Stevens Point. Here Zach and I met with other presidents and vice presidents from around the state. We learned many new ideas for awards at our banquet and chapter activities.

The present time begins with the speaking contest held in Beaver Dam, coming up in February where contestants will speak their hearts out about current and future FFA and agriculture topics. Judging competitions are going to be held in Janesville on March 17, 2007. The Kewaskum FFA also planned an event where over 35 members and guests will attend the Professional Bull Riders Enterprise Tour at the Bradley Center on March 23, 2007. Our annual Rabies clinic is also in the near future on March 28, 2007, which is held at the Kewaskum Veterinary Clinic. On March 29, 2007, the Kewaskum FFA and Student Council will sponsor the famous hypnotist, Jim Wand. It would be great to see many members and guests come to watch him put on an amazing show, hypnotizing volunteers out of the crowd. I would like to thank Doctors Ogi and staff for their time during the Rabies Clinic.

I would like to close by thanking the 2006-2007 Officer team and Mr. Rizzardi, our great advisor, for a magnificent senior year. A special thanks goes to Vice President, Zach Rate. He buckles down and gets work done; when we need it the most and he helped make this year a real success. Finally, I would like to thank my family for all of the nights away from home, late nights working hard on FFA materials, and planning FFA activities and events. I thank them for supporting me in everything I've done throughout my high school

> Thank you, Kewaskum FFA president Matthew Lawrenz
