Weiss is new town chair, Grundahl keeps judge's post

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

Voters were looking for a change in the town of Wayne when it came to their new town chairman. They choose Scott Weiss. However, in the race for Mid-Moraine Municipal Judge, voters decided they were pleased with the job incumbent judge John Grundahl is doing.

County voters also said no to a property development rights program that would have used up to $800,000 annually to fund. Over 63% of voters said no to the referendum. Total no votes came in at 16,672 while 9,662 voted yes.

Washington County will be looking for a new Circuit Court judge, as Annette Ziegler was the favorite after the votes were counted. Official results are not returned at the time but Ziegler has an overwhelming lead. Not all voters in the town of Wayne decided they needed new faces. Julie Kriewaldt who challenged Christian Kuehn as the town clerk lost. Kuehn squeaked through a challenge by Kriewaldt. He received 301 votes compared to Kriewaldt's 269 votes.

However voters did decide that a change was needed for town leadership. Voters returned Weiss to town government, not as a supervisor as in years past but as their new chairman.

Weiss will take over the post held by Leander Herriges. Weiss received 338 to Herriges's 242 votes.

Despite a somewhat organized write-in campaign by Dean Gebhardt, town supervisors Carl Klemme and Kieth Kriewaldt retained their seats. Klemme with 406 votes, Kriewaldt with 320 votes. Gebhardt received 57 votes.

In the village of Kewaskum, a somewhat confusing situation for the voters brought zero change. Long-time trustee Andy Pesch who in December filed non-candidacy papers re-emerged garnering 103 votes. His challenger Brandon Belger received nine votes.

Village Board Trustee Thomas J. Piwoni received 413 votes while Derek Peterson received 443.

Even with a number of factors against him, Mid-Moraine Municipal judge Grundahl emerged the winner for another term. He received a total of 9,742 votes while Janet Heins came up short on her second crack at the seat. Heins received a total of 9,359 votes.

Next week's edition will carry the official results.

Legion Egg Hunt Saturday

KEWASKUM- The Kewaskum American Legion Robert G. Romaine Post 384 and their Women's Auxiliary will hold their annual Easter Egg Hunt for children in River Hill Park at 1 p.m. on Saturday, April 7.

All area children are invited to participate in this annual scramble for colored eggs. This year, as in the past, Mr. and Mrs. Easter Bunny, sponsored by the Kewaskum Junior Woman's club, will stop by to visit the kiddies.

Children ages five and under will hunt eggs on the west side of the river and those ages six through 10 will do their hunting on the east side. The limit is six eggs per basket.

Chocolate Easter eggs will be given to all the little hunters courtesy of Gil and Chris DeLaurier of Ike's Repair Shop in Boltonville.

In case of inclement weather, Legion members will hand out the eggs at the Legion Hall, 1538 Fond du Lac Ave., Kewaskum.

Dani Nass of the town of Kewaskum, speaks with poll workers shortly before casting her vote in Tuesday's election. Nass was one of 348 voters who came out to take part in the race in the township. The township's election was full of incumbents as there was a lack of contested races.

Kewaskum department heads receive four percent pay raise

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- Department heads in the village have received their annual pay hike for 2007. The non-union represented employees will receive a split, four percent raise this year. All received a two percent increase effective January 1, 2007 and in July will receive another two percent.

The increase affects those not represented by the LAW or AFSCME union. Crossing guards, library employees and seasonal employees received a straight two percent raise.

The non-union represented employees receive Social Security, Wisconsin Retirement and Health and Life Insurance coverage. In addition, Village Administrator Jay Shambeau receives a monthly mileage allowance and employees not supplied with a uniform receive an annual $150 clothing allowance. The Village also has a longevity program at the rate of $0.50 per month retroactive to the initial day of employment.

Each non-union represented employee is eligible to earn and accrue paid vacations. After one year one week is earned, likewise after two years of continuous service. After seven years of service three weeks is earned; four weeks after 14 years, and a maximum of five weeks after 21 years of service.

Administrator	Jay Shambeau	$74,860
Treasurer/Deputy Clerk	Janet Knops	$45,263
Chief of Police	Richard Knoebel	$60,761
Police Clerk	Patricia Blackstone	$23,263

Township still waits for repayment of 2005 special assesment

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- Township officials continue to wait to collect the money they expended to clean up a town resident's property in 2005. Washington County is waiting for taxes owed on the property in 2003 and will soon begin the foreclosure process.

After years of prodding Wilmer Schmidt to clean up his property at 4350 Highway 28 to town ordinance standards, and numerous complaints from neighbors, the town took action. In spring of 2005 the township spent $22,353.89 to abate what ordinances dictated a nuisance. The township later passed an ordinance assessing the clean-up charges to the Schmidt's property.

The money taxpayers paid to have the property cleaned has since went unpaid, and the property, along with two others in the Kewaskum township and two in the village of Kewaskum, are now facing foreclosure by the county for unpaid taxes. According to records from Washington County, Schmidt owes a total of $30,037.70 including the special assessment from 2005.

According to Washington County Treasurer Janice Gettelman, delinquent property owners have less than six months before they receive a certified letter containing a tax deed application notice.

From that point, those in delinquency have 90 days to pay the 2003 taxes to avoid foreclosure from the County.

Gettleman says the town of Kewaskum has received the tax money from the county, even though the property owner has not yet paid the county. However, they do not pay special assessments that municipalities assess to property owners.

If the property goes into foreclosure, the county will accept sealed bids for the property. The township will only be reimbursed for the special assessment if money is left over after a sealed bid is accepted for the property.

Town of Kewaskum chairman Ellis Kahn stated the township had no comment on the unpaid assessment.

Community IN BRIEF

Village road projects discussed

The Kewaskum Village Board received and discussed asphalt bids for village road projects at the March 19 meeting.

Department of Public Works Director Jerry Gilles explained that the Kiwanis Park parking lot resurfacing project is expected to be complete by May 1. However if weather does not cooperate, the project will be postponed until after the baseball season. Work would then begin after September 1.

In addition to the parking lot, the entrance road, which is Brooklane Drive, from Edgewood Road will also be resurfaced. New lighting that will be placed around the outer perimeter of the parking lot will be installed sometime this month.

Stark Asphalt beat out Payne and Dolan as the low bidder, for the asphalt portions of the work. The bid came in at $97,274.10.

Western Avenue, from Brooklane Drive to North Avenue will also be resurfaced. Gilles pointed out that the roadway will be milled or pulverized. A new base and surface course asphalt will be put in place this summer. Stark Asphalt was also the low bidder on that project at $50,020.85.

Adjournment requested in Sheboygan County sex assault trial

SHEBOYGAN- The Waukesha musician accused of sexually assaulting a 15-year-old Kewaskum girl made a court appearance March 22 in Sheboygan County.

Randall Shesto, 20, is charged with second degree sexual assault of a child. Both sides requested an adjournment, so a plea hearing was rescheduled to Tuesday, April 3. A jury trial is scheduled for April 11.

Village will hold Spring Cleaning Day

The village of Kewaskum's Department of Public Works will hold their annual spring clean-up on Saturday, April 21, from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. This year some new items will be accepted due to a change in state regulations.

Village residents are encouraged to use this opportunity to clean out their garages and basements. Various items will be accepted at the municipal garage which are not normally picked up by the garbage or recycling trucks. Due to regulation changes, computer monitors, radios, TV's and microwaves can now be accepted. Items like refrigerator, air conditioners, dehumidifiers or debris from contractors: A scrap metal bin will be available for the recycling of metals.

The compost recycling bin will also be available for leaves, lawn, and garden plant materials. Proof of village residency may be required. Please have your drivers license ready or identification with address and photo.

The municipal garage is located at 1002 Fond du Lac Avenue, behind Cousins Subs.

Response to 'anonomous' Summer host families needed

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

Last week I received comments through our website from a concerned reader about the article regarding a sexual assault that was reported near the Kewaskum Middle School. The sender, "anonomous" questioned my reporting ethics and had questions regarding how I handled the situation.

He or she raised some good questions and I felt other readers might benefit from learning how our staff approaches such a story.

This is the text of the unedited comment: "This week's edition is really disheartening. The unethical reporting tactics are unacceptable! The front-page article about the KHS student's alleged sexual assault. This jumped out at me as very unprofessional reporting on this newspaper's part. First of all, how can you just report on this girl's viewpoint? This article should not have been written without the reporter talking to this boy. Or did the reporter talk with him, and you decided what he had to say wasn't anything anybody would want to read about? In this article, it indicated that the boy "refused questioning." Does this make him guilty? Like the article seemed to imply. I know that as an adult, I would never talk to an officer who was accusing me of any crime without my lawyer present. Most adults wouldn't. This YOUNG boy must be very smart to realize the severity of his situation to not give his statement to the officer when first arrested. You know as well as I, that officers act like your best friend and tell many lies just to obtain information they are searching for at that time. At the end of this article, it was written that the "Statesman" will update this story as more information becomes available. When that information isn't the news you are looking for, like maybe, "14 year old girl gets caught in a web of lies." Is that going to be on your front page? Probably not because it would humiliate this young girl, right? (even though no names are mentioned, many many Kewaskum residents know these kids). Think about the humiliation this boy must be feeling. Especially if this girl turns out to be lying. He is 15 years old. A lot of life in front of him. I bet that this girl and NOW YOU are making his life very hard for him not only today but tomorrow and many many many tomorrows in his once promising future. I am very disappointed that you allowed this unethical reporting be printed in your paper much less the front page of your paper. ! Is this the reputation you want to portray to your readers?"

Before answering, I have to tell you, this wasn't a particularly exciting article to write. Contrary to public belief, as a reporter I do not wait like a starved dog for a bone of news.

Going into the story I knew that this would give Kewaskum and our school district somewhat of a black eye. I take my job as a journalist and possible outcomes to stories after printed, very seriously.

I received the report while combing through the Kewaskum Police Department's reports. I was told the charges were pending against the young man involved in the report. It is my belief that if police think there is enough evidence to request charges, the item is newsworthy.

The front page of last week's edition was very disheartening to all in our community. In an editorial meeting it was extensively discussed, but there wasn't anything that could be done regarding the abundance of hard news. We try to make an effort however, to provide a balance but some weeks it is not possible.

"Anonomous" asked me why I only reported on the girl's side of the story. The story was written from the point of view that a high school student (the young female) reported the allegations to police. The story was taken directly from the content in the police report.

The article's purpose was not to report how or why it happened. It was to report that our police department investigated the matter. Had the male subject given details to the police, they would have been included, but he refused questioning. I could only report that is what he did.

I did not contact the male subject. If he wouldn't talk to police, why would he talk to a reporter? Anything I would have printed might have further muddied the investigation.

By writing that The Statesman will update the story as more information becomes available, I was simply stating that once charges are filed or not filed, that will be reported on. If this young man ever goes to court that will also be reported on.

As far as placement on the front page, I don't know at this time where a follow-up will go. Items for the front page of the newspaper are considered on Monday morning at our editorial staff meeting where we decide what goes in the paper and what does not. But ultimately, the front page is the last page to be finished and often times is not set in stone (or ink) until around 5 a.m. Wednesday morning before our 9 a.m. press time.

I don't argue the fact that this story has made it difficult for the young man. Guilty or not guilty, it should give us a reason to pause and reflect on how we as a society handle ourselves.

As the newspaper for our community, I, along with a dedicated staff, am charged with reporting the news, good or bad. I am sure that the school district would prefer this had not come to light, but it is our obligation to our readers.

Lastly, our reputation is very important to our organization, which is why I have taken the time to address the comments I received. The sexual assault article ran because it is our duty to report the news, good or bad. We value our readers a great deal and I always appreciate comments good or bad, anonymous or signed.

Thank you for reading our newspaper.

Project Self-Help and Awareness (PSA) is in need of loving families or individuals to host a black child from the Mississippi Delta. Most of these children come from small rural towns with limited contact with white adults and children. The purpose of this program is to show the children from Mississippi and our own children that the color of one's skin does not matter; that we all cry, laugh and share the same emotions as they do.

Despite desegregation, many black children in the Delta are still exposed only to what their grandparents were exposed to in the 60's. On one recent trip a chaperone had a six-year-old boy tell her that his moma told he would be able to "touch white skin when he got to Wisconsin" as he grabbed the chaperone's arm. He was amazed that it felt just like his.

This program is non-rpofit and runs completely by volunteers since the early 1960's. The children are picked by Mississippi coordinators and then matched with a Wisconsin family by a Wisconsin coordinator. The stay can be 10 days or longer. Wisconsin families are able to pick the date of the visit, the age, and sex of the child.

Every summer children come to the bus with their bags packed and ready to "get on the bus" only to be told we do not have a host family for them. They ask us to please find them a family. It is truly heartbreaking for PSA volunteers, not to mention the children. So this is the purpose of the outcry for host families.

Project Self-Help believes that being chosen to come to Wisconsin is a privilege for the children. But also Wisconsin families who are approved should consider it an honor, not only because a mother in Mississippi is brave enough to trust us and send her child, 1,000 miles away to people she never met, but because we are given a precious gift, a child to learn from, bond with, and find a whole new world for you and your family. Many lasting friendships are made through PSA.

Please consider this summer adventure for both you and your family, but also for the many children who cannot wait to see Wisconsin. Barriers and misconceptions still need to be broken down and our children and generations to come can help do this.

Please visit the website at www.psaprogram.org for the history, bus schedule and application or call Ann Neumann at 262-626-2936 for more information.

Two local businesses honored as friend of education by D.P.I

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

MADISON- Two local businesses have received honors from State Superintendent of Schools Elizabeth Burmaster. The businesses were honored after being nominated by Kewaskum High School (KHS) educator Tim Rohlinger.

Regal Ware and West Bend Mutual Insurance were among 13 to receive the Business Friend of Education award. Both are strong advocates of KHS's school to work program.

Regal Ware was represented by Debbie Ramthun, for the company's 20-year partnership with KHS in all areas of work-based learning. The company mentors students in various youth apprenticeship programs, giving them the opportunity to learn manufacturing, marketing, and technical aspects of business.

While with the company, students experience the value of life-long learning and the importance of integrity, dedication, and pride.

Audra Mead of West Bend Mutual Insurance, was honored because of her efforts to provide Kewaskum students the chance to enroll in the state certified co-op program. These mentorship students gain a better understanding of the insurance industry as well as opportunities to develop life-long employment and career skills.

Work-based learning opportunities between West Bend Mutual and Kewaskum High School have been active for more than 10 years.

"These two businesses have allowed several KHS students the opportunity to learn a variety of valuable career skills. They have created an excellent business/school relationship that has benefited many students. As a school to work advisor, I appreciate the chance these young people are given," stated Rohlinger.

Other local businesses receiving awards were: Signicast Corporation of Hartford, Steel Craft Corporation and Mantz Automation.

Tornado and Severe Weather Awareness Week April 9-13

Gov. Jim Doyle has proclaimed April 9-13, 2007 as Tornado and Severe Weather Awareness Week in Wisconsin. This awareness campaign is launched every year in April to remind people of the dangers associated with tornadoes, thunderstorms, flooding and hail and to encourage citizens to educate themselves regarding protective safety measures.

The Washington County Office of Emergency Management, along with Wisconsin Emergency Management (WEM) and the National Weather Service (NWS), are once again promoting Wisconsin's Tornado and Severe Weather Awareness Week. WEM is sending out a press packet to all state media containing background information. In addition, the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction is sending all state school tornado and severe weather information and safety tips. Additional information can be found on the WEM website: <http://emergencymanagement.wi.gov>.

On Thursday, April 12th, Washington County will participate in the statewide tornado drill. The drill tests the notification procedures that take place during a severe weather event. Various types of watches/warnings are issued by the NWS and disseminated to local dispatch centers. From there the dispatch centers pass along the information to local public safety agencies and key personnel. These are the same watches/warnings available to the public through the media or over the NOAA weather radio system.

Weather warning sirens in Washington County are owned and operated locally by the various cities, villages and townships. Due to this fact, the sirens in your area may or may not sound on April 12th depending on participation by the local jurisdiction in the drill or the fact that a particular system may choose not to deviate from its normal testing schedule.

If actual severe weather occurs anywhere in the state on April 12th, the drill will be postponed until Friday, April 13th.

All residents of Washington County are encouraged to become familiar with the designated shelter areas and weather procedures needed to be safe if you are at home, school, work, shopping or on the road. The best way to stay informed about severe weather conditions is to purchase a weather radio.

Additional information can be obtained from your local or state Emergency Management Agency, the National Weather Service or your local chapter of the American Red Cross.

CAMPBELLSPORT- Police Chief Randy Karoses says his Department received two reports of a window peeper in the community last week. The reports were received in the 300 and 500 block of Forest Street.

The complainants in both cases reported a male. Karoses urged residents to be alert. "If you see anyone behaving in this manner, at your home or the neighbors, call 9-1-1 immediately," he stated.

New ADA announced for Washington County

WEST BEND- Washington County will receive their new assistant district attorney this month. The new hire comes after the resignation of Holly Bunch.

Mandy Schepper, who interned in the district attorney's office in 2005 will start April 23. Schepper will leave her post at the Sauk County District Attorney's office.

Over 50 candidates applied for the position.

New lawyer granted for Allenton man

WEST BEND- The Allenton man who is charged with beating his girlfriend's 19-month-old will get a new attorney. The man wrote a letter to Judge Annette Ziegler asking for an attorney from the public defenders office.

During a motion on Thursday, March 29, Ziegler granted permission for the change. A trial is set to begin on May 1.

Junior Weiss is accused of beating Joseph Halbert in August of 2006. He remains in the custody of the Washington County Jail on a $10,000 cash bail.

Wayne Souvenir Cup Stolen

To the thief or thieves:

Who stole a Wayne souvenir cup - custard glass - from a rummage sale held Thursday, March 29th at the Osceola Town Hall. I would like to provide more information on the item that YOU STOLE from me.

The custard glass souvenir cup is approximately 90 years old. The color of the cup is the typical bright yellow green that is usually found on the older souvenir custard pieces from that time. Did you notice that there weren't any chips or scratches on the cup??? Most people would probably say the cup is in near mint condition. Did you also notice the bright orange - red color of the word 'Wayne' on the cup??? Considering the age of the souvenir cup, it is remarkable that the word 'Wayne' isn't missing any of the paint. Did you also notice the Heisey trade mark on the bottom of the cup??? I am sure you realize that it is difficult to find a souvenir piece such as this one - due to the small size of Wayne, and that most of these custard glass pieces have long been destroyed. You certainly must have known the value of this item - $50 to $100.

A week has passed since you stole this item. I hope you have told many of your friends & family of the great deal - the Wayne souvenir cup - you found at the rummage sale. Please feel free to frame this article and place it on your display shelf next to MY souvenir cup. And make sure to include this article with the cup if you decide to give it away to someone special. May you always wonder how many people have read this article, and how many people have determined that this article is about YOU - A THIEF. -Paid Advertisement

Guest Opinion

By Glenn Grothman
State Senator 20th District

Reviewing the Tech Schools

The legislature is currently reviewing the state budget. Today, let's look at the Wisconsin Technical College System. Currently, the technical schools are supported by about $141 million of state income and sales tax dollars together with about $622 million in property tax revenue divided into 16 separate districts (our area is represented by Moraine Park and Milwaukee Technical College.) The past nine years, their property tax levy for technical schools has gone up an average of 6.6 percent per year - well above the rest of your property tax bill. While state aid has remained stagnant, tuition has also easily outstripped inflation. Total costs are going up quicker than public schools or the university. Why is this? More than two-thirds of the costs are salary related. In response to concerns, the Legislative Audit Bureau recently completed an audit of the technical schools policies related to personnel. What did they find?

In the last year examined, the tech school system employed slightly fewer than 13,000 employees, although since some worked part time, it was the equivalent of 10,000 full-time employees. There was the equivalent of 68,000 full-time students. So, there was about 1 employee for every 7 students. There was more than 1 administrator for every 6 faculty members even though many of the faculty were part time. Both seem high to me.

In 2004-05, the last year examined, the average full time faculty member earned $74,600. The contracts call for faculty to work 35.7 hours per week for nine months and the average salary for someone who worked this amount is $62,000 (most work extra which is the reason for the higher annual salary). Only two states - California and Michigan reported higher base salaries (Wisconsin's base salary was $66,000 compared to $50,160 nationally).

In past columns, I've pointed out that Wisconsin State employees, which include technical school employees, have the second most generous pension plan in the country and contribute the least in the country. Wisconsin health care costs are above average. Fringe benefits add an additional 32 percent of cost to each employee. And remember, the average income in Wisconsin is less than the national average.

In addition, some health insurance is given to them at retirement. Their plans are apparently not funded which means that unlike the state pension plans, there could be an unpleasant surprise for the taxpayer in the future. Milwaukee Area Technical College District also has an unfunded liability of $228 million. If fringe benefits were included, Wisconsin would rank higher than third.

This audit also compared the tech school salaries to the university systems. The average earnings exceeded those of the full-time faculty at the two year campuses by about $22,000. Part of this is due to the fact that many tech school instructors have skills which can be applied in the private sector - many university professors do not. In most areas in which there was a four year campus and a tech school in the same region, the tech schools also paid more.

Administrators earn on average $77,500 a year with 364 employees over $100,000 per year. The president of Milwaukee Area Technical College makes $226,400 annually!!!! (Compare to the Governor who makes $132,000 per year). The average tech school president also gets an almost $10,000 a year vehicle allowance.

Other tidbits uncovered include a generous sick leave benefit averaging about 13 days a year with the local Moraine Park averaging about 20 days a year. Faculty and administrators in 11 of the 16 districts (including Milwaukee and Moraine Park) can retire and receive health insurance at age 55. Many tech schools (not Moraine Park) also pay employees to engage in union activities - Milwaukee Area Tech provides a 60 percent workload reduction for the union president. Judging from the figures above, I guess he's doing a fairly good job.

How does this happen? The 16 tech school districts are governed by boards appointed by the counties. It seems as though these unelected officials may be coming far too close to the employees and administrators and a little too far removed from the taxpayers. It's time for the state to move in and take control of future contracts. I will be introducing legislation to place tech school employees under state control similar to university employees. It's no wonder your tech school property tax bill is going through the roof.

Please let me know what you think on this issue. Contact me in Madison at 1-800-662-1227 or email me at Sen. Grothman@legis.wisconsin.gov.

MPTC to present show and more about Multicultural Day

Faces of America, an original one-person show that addresses diversity issues through entertainment and education, will be presented Wednesday, April 18, at Moraine Park Technical College's Fond du Lac Campus in observance of Multicultural Day.

Sponsored by Moraine Park's Multicultural Club, Student Senate, Diversity Relations and Human Resources, this free event is open to community members. The presentation will take place from noon to 1 p.m. in the Cyber Center cafeteria. The public has the option to purchase lunch for $3 per meal.

Faces tells the stories of seven people from very different cultural backgrounds, including a young Latino who challenges stereotypes after coming from the barrio; a young, liberal white male who fights his father's bigotry; an East Indian woman who is the victim of an on-campus hate crime; and a Filipino-American doctor who learns the importance of patience and religious faith.

The show has been presented in almost every state. It is part of many university curriculums and has been used for corporate and government diversity training programs. It was written entirely from workshops and interviews conducted across the country by Colin Cox and Fran de Leon, and has been called a "best bet" by the Los Angeles Times.

Other free multicultural events will take place from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Cyber Center. An International Parade will start by the Barber/Cosmetology department at 11 a.m. and end up at the Cyber Center. Anyone can join in - including community members - and showcase clothing and accessories that represent their country or culture. Parade participants also can take part in a fashion show from 11 a.m. to noon and describe the significance of the particular garment or accessory worn. Cultural booths will feature food and artifacts from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Countries that will be represented include China, Poland, South Africa, India and England.

For more information, contact Bill Green, Moraine Park Diversity Relations associate, at 920-924-6355.

Kettle Moraine YMCA to offer summer camp for school-aged children

For both parents and kids, it's never too early to start thinking about plans for the summer. Parents want to be sure their children are safe, supervised, and engaged in activities that keep their kids' minds and bodies active after school lets out for the summer. Youngsters look forward to the free time, and simply want to have fun and learn something new. The Kettle Moraine YMCA day camp is a perfect option for parents who are looking for a safe and fun place for their kids to build healthy mind, body and spirit this summer.

"Children are our greatest treasures and greatest responsibility," said Sue Lorenz, Child Care Program Director. "YMCA day camp helps kids grow positively, meet healthy role models and learn good values—all while having fun. We not only provide memories that last a lifetime, but we also assure parents that their kids are in good hands during the summer."

Summer School Age Child Care provides youngsters with a unique opportunity to connect with their peers and their community. They will enjoy a broad range of age-appropriate programs, events and activities, from swim lessons to science and nature.

In addition to all of the activities offered, parents also have the flexibility of enrolling their youngsters during sessions that suit their needs. For example, if a parent only wants a child to participate two days a week, our day camp can accommodate that schedule. "YMCA programs are designed to meet the needs and schedules of today's busy families," Lorenz added.

Rates:

- Full-Time Enrollment (4-5 days/week)

- $139/week for Kettle Moraine YMCA Members

- $152/week for Community Participants

- Part-Time (2-3 days/week)

- $34.75/day for Kettle Moraine YMCA Members

- $38/day for Community Participants

Registration for Summer School Age Child Care, Youth Care and Day Camps is going on now. Register by contacting Linda Lueder at (262) 247-1049 or stop in at 1111 W. Washington Street, West Bend.

Camp Matawa offering Toolin' It camp

The Camp Matawa experience is a fun, educational and exciting adventure! With more than 130 acres of pines, open fields and 30,000 acres of adjacent state forest, Camp Matawa offers a wide variety of activities that challenge and inspire campers of all ages and abilities while instilling the YMCA core values of caring, honesty, respect and responsibility.

Offered again this year is Toolin' It! A five-day manufacturing experience for ages 13-17, July 8-13th. Each day campers will travel to Moraine Park Technical College's state-of-the-art Applied Manufacturing Technology Center where they will get hands-on experience designing and producing a product from start to finish. Attendees will explore 3-D design, computer numerical control programming, welding, machining, engines and more, all while emphasizing problem solving and team building skills. Then campers return to YMCA Camp Matawa to participate in traditional summer camp activities in the evening. The final day wraps up with industry tours where campers get an up close and personal look at real-world products being made.

Camp Matawa is a co-ed, residential summer camp. Visit YMCA Camp Matawa at an open house May 6 or June 3 or call to make an individual tour appointment. Camp Matawa is located on Youth Camp Road, just off Highway S or G, north of Kewaskum, N885 Youth Camp Road, Campbellsport, WI. For directions or a summer camp brochure, call 262/626-2149 or visit www.matawa.org.

4-H offering day camps

Does hiking in the woods, doing crafts, and learning about bugs and nature sound like fun activities to do in June? Washington County 4-H, in conjunction with Dodge County 4-H, will be conducting Wild Wacky Weekday Summer Day Camp at Glacier Hills Park on Tuesday, June 12, Thursday, June 14, and Friday, June 15 from 8:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Youth 5 - 9 years old may participate. Youth do not need to be a 4-H member.

This year's theme, "It's a Bug's World", features learning sessions with bugs, nature, crafts, recreation, hiking and more! These activities take place in an outdoor setting at the park and will happen rain or shine. Since all day camps feature the same program, participants can attend only one camp. The cost of the camp is $18.00 per camper. It includes lunch, t-shirt, and program supplies.

Registration details are available at the Washington County UW-Extension Office at 333 E. Washington Street, Suite 1200, West Bend or by calling (262) 335-4478. You can also access the registration form online at the UWEX website: <http://washington.uwex.edu>. Deadline is May 4.

Also being offered by these two County Extension Agencies is the Super Safety Summer Day Camp on Friday, June 22, 2007 with the theme "Footsteps to Safety". This is also being held at Glacier Hills Park. It is geared for those children ages 5-10 years of age. The cost is $13.00. Please check one of these two websites for registration forms. <http://dodge.uwex.edu> or <http://washington.uwex.edu>. Deadline is May 11.

Wild Wacky Weekday Summer Day Camp and Safety Day Camps are conducted by professional youth workers, volunteer youth, and adults involved in 4-H. 4-H is the Youth Education Program of the University of Wisconsin.

Kayak Connections program

The "An Evening with Nature Series" at the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit continues with the program "Kayak Connections." The program will be held on Thursday, April 12, from 7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center. The Ice Age Visitor Center is located off of Hwy 67 half mile west of Dundee. The program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

Has this lingering winter dampened your spirit? Are you dreaming about kayaking down a flowing river or across a beautiful lake, but never tried kayaking and don't know how to get started? Then come on April 12th to wet your appetite for the upcoming paddling season. Tom Koeppen and his friends from the Northeast Paddlers will introduce you to the sport of kayaking. They will cover what gear and skills are needed for this wonderful silent sport. They will share where to go kayaking especially here in southeast Wisconsin. They will also tell how to connect with on the water classes and kayaking groups.

If you are not careful, they may even turn you into a kayaking enthusiast.

For further information or directions contact the staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The center's phone number is 920-533-8322 and is open Wednesday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Splash on in for an evening of kayaking fun!

Weather spotter training

On Tuesday, April 10, a meteorologist from the National Weather Service (NWS) will conduct Severe Weather Spotter Training at the Hartford Fire and Rescue station located at 111 W. Wisconsin Street in Hartford. Two identical sessions will be held - an afternoon session from 2 to 4 p.m. and an evening session from 6:30-8:30 p.m. This training is free, open to the public and does not require any pre-registration.

This is both a "beginner" and "advanced" level class that includes video and photos of past weather events and recognition training on weather features that are indicators of severe weather potential. The causes and dynamics of differing forms of severe weather and safety issues will also be discussed.

This training is recommended for members of local police, fire and EMS departments as well as amateur radio operators and anyone else with an interest in weather. There will be ample time for questions.

This training is sponsored through the cooperation of the Hartford Fire and Rescue, Washington County Office of Emergency Management, Wisconsin Emergency Management and the National Weather Service.

Cedar Community and UWWC present photography course

WEST BEND - Cedar Community and the University of Wisconsin - Washington County have teamed up to present Education Programs for Lifelong Learners. The educational programs are a selection of non-credit courses. The second course, Elements of Photography, will be held on Wednesdays from April 4 - 25 at 3 p.m. at Cedar Ridge Apartments, 113 Cedar Ridge Drive, West Bend, in the second floor conference room. The cost is $55 per person for the full four-week course.

The Elements of Photography course is a great opportunity to explore not only photo composition but also preserving those photographs that hold so many memories. The instructor will then walk participants through the process of converting those photographs to a disc format so they can be stored and shared electronically.

Eric Bumgarner is an accomplished photographer in his own right with work that has appeared in national and area publications. Much of Eric's work has been for private clients but he has also worked in commercial photography. He has taught a similar course at UW-Washington County.

If you would like to register for the course, please visit www.washington.uwc.edu or call Cedar Ridge at 262.338.8377.

DAYS GONE BY

25 Years Ago

April 2, 1982

Tuesday night's Plan Commission meeting found its members agreeing that TIF projects must be reviewed and reprioritized. Bleak economic conditions have taken their toll on projected construction plans for development and reconstruction projects which are part of Kewaskum's Tax Incremental Finance District. Village Administrator Dan Schmidt told the commission that a study should be made so that Kewaskum would not find itself in the same predicament as some neighboring communities, beginning projects only to find out there isn't any money to pay for them.

Items valued at more than $10,000 including antique guns and music boxes, were stolen over the weekend in a burglary at the Paul Auction Hall located along County Trunk S, 1-1/2 miles north of Kewaskum.

A daughter was born to Jeffrey and Sharon Shaw, Kewaskum on March 24. A daughter, Brianne Jane, was born to Jerry and Jane Beck, Campbellsport, on March 19.

Paul Backhaus, 73, well known farmer of the Town of Kewaskum, residing on Route 2, one mile east of the village, was killed almost instantly March 22, in a car-truck collision on Highway 28, one-half mile east of Kewaskum. His wife, the former Minnie Klein, survives along with one daughter, Florence (Mrs. Albert Stange).

The Village of Kewaskum, although much smaller than most cities visited by presidential candidates, was host to its second Republican candidate, for president on Wednesday, when Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and president of the University of Pennsylvania visited our little city.

Augie Bilgo, guard on Kewaskum's title winning team, copped third highest scoring honors in the northern Lakes basketball league during the season just closed.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Prost, Route 2, Kewaskum, March 23, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jansen, West Bend, March 22.

Mrs. Jansen is the former Evelyn Weddig of Kewaskum. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Belger, Route 1, Adell, March 14.

Wednesday evening, the farm residence together with all household furniture and personal belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kuehl of the Town of Wayne, three miles southwest of St. Kilian, was completely destroyed by fire. The fire started while Mrs. Kuehl was filling a gasoline lantern, and in some manner the gasoline ignited and rapidly spread. Mrs. Kuehl was very severely burned about the hands and back, that she was not fatally burned is a mystery. In the room at the time of the fire were her three children, her sister, and her mother. All had to flee for safety. Mr. Kuehl was busy in the barn doing the evening chores. The loss is estimated at $6,000 partially covered by insurance.

Last Sunday afternoon a fire broke out in the J.W. Schaefer residence on Main Street which threatened the destruction of the building for awhile. The fire started in a clothes closet and all of the family's clothes were burned. How the fire started in the closet is not known.

The ice on the mill pond went out last Sunday. This is the first time in years that the river and mill pond have been entirely free from ice at this time of the year.

On Thursday, Wenzel Peter of the Town of Wayne purchased the forty acre farm in the above town, known as the Byrne farm from L. Rosenheimer for the consideration of $3,500.

Christ Rothenberger sold his farm near Wayne to George Kippenhan for $850 last week Friday.

Rosenheimer and Day bought the homestead and land sold by John Koelsch near St. Michaels for the consideration of $5,500.

Kiwanis Students of the Month

Jordan Geidel

Kevin Jacobi

Jordan Geidel and Kevin Jacobi were named Kiwanis Students of the Month for the month of April. Jordan is the daughter of Jacky and Jeff Geidel. She participates in National Honor Society, Swing Choir and is a co-leader for the HOPE Club. She has played the clarinet for honors band and also played in the pit band for the musical "Pretty Lady." Last year she was in track and performed in the musical. Her freshman and sophomore years she went out for volleyball. Outside of school, Jordan volunteers at her church as an altar server. After graduation she plans on attending Marian College to study nursing. Kevin is the son of Diane and Patrick Jacobi. He is an active member of National Honor Society. He has been a part of the tech crew all four years of high school and took lead of the program his junior year. Throughout high school Kevin has participated in the Chess and Ski clubs and was on the tennis team. Kevin is a member of the Kewaskum Boy Scouts and recently received his Eagle Scout Award. This fall he plans on attending UTI to study automotive technology and repair. Students and their parents were honored at a recent meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Kewaskum.

The Bookworm Sez

by Terri Schlichenmeyer

7: The Micky Mantle Novel

By Peter Golenbock

The Lyons Press $24.95 286 pages

WARNING: Micky says: If you don't want to read about sex, don't buy this book.

It's a parlor game that's been around forever: if you could have dinner with five people, living or dead, who would you choose?

For many baseball fans, the name at the top of the list would be Mickey Mantle. A guy who played baseball when baseball was everything... he'd have some pretty good tales to tell, wouldn't he?

Here's your chance. In the new novel "7: The Mickey Mantle Novel" by Peter Golenbock, The Mick is holding court from a barstool in Paradise, and he's ready to set the stories straight.

After he died in 1995, Mickey Mantle, who made his peace with friends and family on Earth, went to Heaven. There, God asked Mick what made him most happy, so standing in front of his locker at Yankee Stadium was where Mickey found himself. It's where he spends most of eternity now, talking with the angel clubbie and signing baseballs as a favor to God.

But now Mantle wants to tell all. He's been trying to find an honest sportswriter in heaven, but it seems there aren't any. Finally, he agrees to let author Leonard Shecter get the full story. Shecter, who died in 1974, is a good reporter. He asks hard questions and demands that Mickey answer.

The naturally gregarious Mantle bubbles forth with the story of his life: his abusive father who was stingy with approval; early days with the New York Yankees; his deep brotherly friendship with Billy Martin; teammates, rivals, and repeated, almost-uncontrollable womanizing.

When the questions get hard and Mantle doesn't want to answer, Shecter helps Mickey out. Backs to the bar, Mantle, Shecter, and a small assembled crowd watch as decades-old scenes unfold in the corner of Toots Shor's bar. Shecter, you see, isn't about to let Mantle slide.

For myriad ways - most of which are too lengthy to go into here - this book almost didn't see publication. That would've been too bad.

First of all, you definitely do NOT want to give this book to your Little Leaguer. The graphic scenes and raw language make it absolutely, positively a book for grown-ups. The truth is, though, that despite a plethora of four-letter words and euphemisms for women's anatomy, I've read worse. I've heard worse on a few street corners.

On the other side of the outfield fence, the story Golenbock tells is rich with (supposedly researched) detail and the premise is delightfully surprising - kind of a "people you meet in Heaven" story, mixed with Dickens' A Christmas Carol. There were times I laughed out loud at small details, and I was touched by the ending of this book. There's plenty of baseball here, as well as a pretty fine story that's rough and scandalous and funny for any grown-up reader.

Again, be very aware that there are lots of prurient scenes in "7: The Mickey Mantle Novel," and an entire dictionary's worth of un-PC words. If you're not bothered by that, then pick up this controversial but very well-written book. For sports fans, this novel is a whole new ballgame.

Computer recycling service offered at Volunteer Center

On Saturday, April 14, Citizen Corps of Washington County will roll out a new program called Second Saturday, offering training on emergency and disaster preparedness for community members. The April 14 training will feature HeartSaver CPR from 9 a.m. - 12 p.m. at the Volunteer Center office, 237 N. Main St., West Bend.

The HeartSaver First Aid Course teaches participants how to manage illness and injuries, in the first few minutes until professional help arrives. Course content includes General Principles, Medical Emergencies and Injury Emergencies. The cost for the course is $5 and is ideal for those dealing with children ages 8 and older. This is a credentialed course. Space is limited, so registration is required. Call the Volunteer Center to register at 262-338-8256.

The May 12 Second Saturday training will feature information on sheltering presented by the American Red Cross - West Bend Chapter. Class size is limited, so registration is required. To register, call 262-338-8256.

Second Saturdays is offered in partnership with the Volunteer Center of Washington County's Computer Recycling Program, which recycles used computer equipment, except main frames, through the Department of Corrections. All private information must be erased before the equipment is donated. To offset program costs, a small handling fee includes:

$15. per Monitor, Laptop, or All-In-One Machine
$5. per CPU/Hard Drive, Printer or Scanner
$2. per Keyboard
FREE Mice, Cables, External Drives, Speakers

Hard drives must be blanked out before accepted. A suggested website for free software to erase computers is: <http://www.heidi.ie/eraser/>. Cash and checks accepted.

Second Saturday Computer Recycling will be offered in both April and May.

PERSPECTIVES

To the Editor:

I am writing on behalf of the medical staff of St. Joseph's Hospital. We were very disappointed to learn that nearly two-thirds of Washington County supervisors do not support the Governor's proposed statewide smoking ban in all workplaces, including bars and restaurants. We understand that cigarettes are a legal product and that there may be some cost to local businesses if cigarette smoking is banned from all workplaces. This cost, however, does not compare to the high cost (both financially and physically) that is borne by all of us when cigarette smoking is allowed in public places.

According to the American Lung Association, non-smokers exposed to secondhand smoke at work are at increased risk for heart and lung disease and premature death. In bars and restaurants, levels of environmental tobacco smoke are two to five times higher than in residences with smokers, and two to six times higher than in office workplaces that allow smoking. Think about the number of innocent workers and patrons who are exposed to this health hazard every day.

As physicians, we can treat the disease caused by secondhand smoke. As leaders, it is the responsibility of those in public office to do everything they can to prevent the disease from occurring in the first place.

Dear Editor:

Every year in the United States more highway workers are killed than police and firefighters, combined. There is no question that highway construction and maintenance is among the most dangerous professions.

However, work zones can be even more dangerous for motorists, particularly young or inexperienced drivers. Statistics show that motorists comprise four out of five of all deaths in highway work zones.

Nearly 1,100 men, women and children are killed in work zones nationwide each year. These deaths include highway department employees, construction workers and motorists.

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation (EDOT), the State Patrol, Washington County Sheriff and Washington County Highway Department are committed to reducing these injuries and deaths. This year Washington County will observe Work Zone Safety Awareness Week in conjunction with National Work Zone Awareness Week April 2-6.

Everyone plays a role in keeping work zones safe. For motorists, these three steps can make a difference between life and death.

When you see the orange signs, be alert for changing conditions ahead.

Slow down and expect the unexpected. Pay attention to your surroundings. You may encounter lane shifts, construction vehicles entering and leaving the roadway, or changed speed limits.

Minimize distractions! Avoid changing radio stations and using mobile phones while driving in the work zone.

We continue to look for innovative ways to safeguard motorists and highway work crews in work zones. We accelerate construction when possible and adjust schedules to do work during off-peak travel times. We use prefabricated components to quickly make road repairs and minimize the length of time work zones are in place. We design work zones with safety as a top priority. Yet, crashes continue to take lives every year. We will do our part to keep Washington County's motorists moving. We need your help to keep our work zones safe.

Sincerely,
Kenneth M. Pesch, P.E.
Highway Commissioner

Village Board Meeting
March 1, 2007
7:00 p.m.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in Special Session in the Municipal Annex Building at 1308 Fond du Lac Avenue.

President Matt Heiser called the meeting to order at 7:00 p.m. Board members present were Harry Roecker, Derek Peterson, Andy Pesch, Tom Piwoni, Kevin Scheunemann and Matt Heiser. Staff members present were Jay Shambeau, and Jim Noren. Andy Pesch, Ken Ward, Christy Cramer and Doug Nelson from Ruekert & Mielke were present. Nine members of the public were also present. Steve Scheunemann arrived at 7:05 p.m.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

Motion by Kevin Scheunemann, second by Tom Piwoni to accept the minutes from February 26, 2007. Voice vote, motion carried.

President Heiser outlined the order of events that will take place before the formal public hearing.

Doug Nelson presented the Wastewater Facility Plan and a description of the wastewater treatment process.

Christy Cramer described the financial implications of the upgrade to the wastewater treatment facility. Without increasing the wastewater impact fee, the worst-case scenario would increase the average household bill approximately $46.00 per quarter.

Dan Goetsch, GAS, described the peer review process that his engineering firm entered into with the Village. The plan presented at tonight's meeting was a joint (Ruekert & Mielke/GAS) plan that will benefit the Village of Kewaskum.

At 8:02 p.m. the public hearing was declared open by President Heiser.

Motion by Tom Piwoni, second by Steve Scheunemann to close the public hearing at 8:06 p.m. Roll call vote 7 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 0 "Absent", Motion carried.

The Village Board members commented on the wastewater presentations, public comments and asked questions of the presenters.

President Heiser thanked the members and declared a five-minute recess.

At 8:30 p.m. President Heiser declared the meeting back in session.

Shambeau introduced the timeline/next steps discussion for the design phase of the wastewater treatment facility.

Judith Gottlieb, Wisconsin DNR Wastewater Engineer, interjected with the fact that the plans and specifications are due for the design phase to Wisconsin DNR by December 31, 2007.

Andy Pesch reported on the Plan Commission meeting of February 27, 2007.

Matt Heiser announced the next two Library Board meetings for March 12 and March 19, 2007 at 6:00 p.m.

Matt Heiser announced the next Mid Moraine dinner meeting to be held on March 28, 2007 in Saukville.

Motion by Kevin Scheunemann, second by Andy Pesch to adjourn at 8:47 p.m. Roll call vote 7 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 0 "Absent".

RESURRECTION COOKIES

For the young...or young at heart to be made the Saturday before Easter Sunday.

Preheat oven to 350°
INGREDIENTS:

- 1 c. whole pecans or hickory nuts
- 1 c. sugar
- 3 egg whites
- pinch of salt
- 1 tsp. vinegar

1. Place pecans in zipper baggie and let children beat them with a wooden spoon to break into small pieces. Explain that after Jesus was arrested, he was beaten by the Roman soldiers.

2. Let the children smell the vinegar. Put 1 tsp into mixing bowl. Explain that when Jesus was thirsty on the cross, he was given vinegar to drink.

3. Add egg whites to vinegar. Eggs represent life. Explain that Jesus gave His life to give us life.

4. Sprinkle a little salt on each child's hand. Let them taste it and brush the rest into the bowl. Explain that this represents the salty tears shed by Jesus' followers, and the bitterness of our own sin.

5. Add the sugar. Explain that the sweetest part of the story is that Jesus died because He loves us. He wants us to know and belong to Him.

6. Beat with a mixer on high speed for 11-15 minutes until stiff peaks are formed. Explain that the color white represents the purity in God's eyes of those whose sins have been cleansed by Jesus.

7. Fold in broken nuts. Drop by teaspoons onto waxed paper covered cookie sheets. Explain that each mound represents the rocky tomb where Jesus' body was laid.

8. Put the cookie sheet into the oven. Close the door and turn the oven off. Give each child a piece of tape and seal the oven door. Explain that Jesus' tomb was sealed. Go to Bed! Explain that they may feel sad to leave the cookies in the oven overnight. Jesus' followers were in despair when the tomb was sealed.

9. On Resurrection morning open the oven and give everyone a cookie! Notice the cracked surface and take a bite. The cookies are hollow! On the first Resurrection Day Jesus' followers were amazed to find the tomb open and empty.

If you bake these please take them to your Easter celebration to share with your family and friends.

Two KIWC wrestlers take second at state meet

Alex Phillips and Bo Seibel

The Kewaskum Indians Wrestling Club (KIWC) has wrapped up their first season strong. The club had seven wrestlers compete at the 2007 Wisconsin Wrestling Federation (WWF) Kids Folkstyle State Tournament in Madison on March 23 and 24.

Qualifying wrestlers were Teddy Wollner, Zach Heberer, Austin Goeman, Alex Phillips, Robert Maertz, Bo Seibel, and Jarred Koffke. The kids' state tournament is similar to high school state because all wrestlers needed to qualify for the tournament through one of the eight regionals around the state. Competition was tough, but two of the KIWC wrestlers managed to place.

Bo Seibel, brother of KHS wrestler Cody, placed second. Seibel won his first match over Samuel Coe of Shawano 4-0. He won the second match over Z. Riester of Ellsworth 5-0. In the semifinals he gave up his first points, but still won the match 5-2 over Zach Miller of North Crawford. In the finals Seibel faced off with Logan Cudd of River Falls and suffered a 7-2 loss.

Also placing second for the KIWC was Alex Phillips. He is in his second year of wrestling and is a third grader at Kewaskum Elementary School.

In his first three matches Alex wrestled a total of three minutes and 30 seconds pinning his first three opponents. In the first round Phillips was losing to Nicholas Chapman of Crivitz before coming back with a headthrow for the pin in 2:24.

In the second round he wasted no time taking H. Tiedt of Burlington straight to his back with a pin in 26 seconds. The semifinals proved to be more of the same with Phillips pinning R. Lagerman of DeSoto in 40 seconds. In the finals he wrestled Joshua Becker and lost a close match 4-1.

Coaches wished to congratulate both Alex and Bo on their second place finish at the 2007 WWF Kids Folkstyle State Tournament.

Outdoor Tips & Tricks

by Dave Gowdey

There are many species of wildlife that serve as good indicators of a pending change in weather. Some of the most easily observed of these species are insects such as bees, wasps, and ants that are sensitive to changes in barometric pressure and humidity. They can be particularly useful natural meteorologists when you are camping and don't have access to weather forecasts. One of the most widespread and easily readable of these natural weather forecasters are ants. Ants will usually move in to their ant-hills or nests anywhere from 15 minutes to a few hours before the arrival of rain. So if you see ants that seem more concerned with getting home than getting a part of your lunch - you'd be well advised to get your gear under cover.

"Ice out" the week or so after the ice first melts on ponds or lakes that have been covered for the winter, is one of the best fishing times of the year. As the water warms, species such as walleye, lake trout and bass become more active and begin feeding voraciously in preparation for the spring spawning season. During this time period they move into shallower, warmer water - making them accessible even to fishermen without a boat. Pay particular attention to shallows that drop off abruptly into deeper water. Areas that melt first, such as where small streams or springs feed into the lake, can also be hotspots this time of year.

Spring camping is often a time of variable weather and at times it can be difficult to find drywood for the campfire. Rather than looking on the ground for your wood at this time of year - look up. Trees often have dead branches that are protected from the weather by the branches and needles or leaves above them. Dead branches break off easily from the tree, if they don't they aren't dead and should not be used. These dead branches are often significantly drier than the wood you find on the ground. However, check local regulations to make sure that harvesting such dead branches is permissible - some states may require special permits.

Korth and staff have Hon-E-Kor open for play

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Thanks to a little help from Mother Nature, Hon-E-Kor Country Club (HEK) is open for play for the 2007 golf season. The course opened last week.

"Tuesday I opened nine holes ... the Red Nine," Jim "Jonesy" Korth, head of the Hon-E-Kor corporation, said Saturday morning, March 31, as the regulars began filing in for their first of many weekend rounds.

"Everything is in pretty nice shape. The heat wave (on March 26th) greened everything up," Korth went on, adding, "All three nines are open now."

This will be the first full year the par-three on No. 7 Red will be in play. "That's finished off," Korth said, indicating the added length makes the hole from measures 180 yards from the Blue tee, adding 21 yards for those who choose to hit from the longest tees.

On this spring's agenda for the greens keeping staff, which includes Korth, John Hoerschner, John Dreher and Roxie Volesky, will be completing the work on the tee on White No. 14. "We just leveled off the tee and made it longer last fall," Korth said.

This year Korth is pleased to announce the addition of a Select Drive, two-man Best Ball Tournament, for the benefit of the Korth Family Scholarship. The event will be held on Saturday, June 2nd.

All members of the Kewaskum High golf team who are Junior members at the club, plus other high school players in the area who hold Junior memberships at HEK, will qualify. The only other restriction, along with the membership stipulation, is that the students hold a 2.0 (C) grade point. The senior selected will receive $1,000.

Details on the tournament are available in the pro shop.

The Tuesday Nite Men's League is set to begin play on April 17. It runs weekly until Aug. 28th under the direction of Dave Denis and Bill Wueben. The opening dinner for the Ladies group (Hon-E-Bees) is Wednesday, May 2. Sharon Scott is the president of the group this summer.

Hon-E-Kor is a semiprivate club, with greens fee play and memberships available.

Fast start helps Indians get win No. 1

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

A win over a Wisconsin Little Ten team is big, but Kewaskum High girls fast-pitch coach Jeff Gosse would not go so far as to say Friday's 12-10 victory over host West Bend West was the biggest win of his career.

"I don't know," Gosse said Saturday when he was posed the question about this being the Indians' biggest win in recent years. He did say, however, "I thought we easily handled them ... At the end, we got a little sloppy, but we were able to hold them off."

Instrumental in the Indians' victory, their first of the 2007 season, was the pitching of Brooke Wodsedalek, and the offense's ability to score runs off the little hits.

"She pitched all seven (innings)," Gosse said, reporting Wodsedalek struck out seven, gave up eight walks, and eight hits.

Kewaskum opened up the game very early, exploding for nine runs in the first two innings, including six in the second. The Indians led 12-4 after five innings, but the Spartans made the game close, scoring four in the sixth and two in the bottom of the seventh.

Senior infielder Bekki Heberer led the way offensively, coming up with three hits, and Gosse reported Tiffany Hedlund added a pair of hits, Kerri Winters added two hits, and, "Erika Heberer, I believe had two hits." Gosse was reporting on the game by memory since he left his scorebook at the school for the weekend.

"We were just very consistent. We played a lot of small ball," Gosse said, explaining his team used a lot of bunts and good base running to move hitters into scoring position. "Then Bekki Heberer cleaned it up with her hits ... she had three or four RBIs."

Gosse said a couple of key hits certainly would have helped his team last Tuesday in its opener on the diamond at Kiwanis Community Park.

"Tuesday we played a very tough Port team, and we lost 2-0. We had a lot of chances," Gosse said, noting one of those chances came when Megan Rinzel was thrown out at the plate after getting the Indians' lone base hit, a bunt single, in the third inning.

"There were two outs ... they tried getting her (Rinzel at first base), and the ball was thrown into the outfield, according to Gosse, who said, "We tried scoring her."

"We had nine girls go down looking (striking out), and we just can't have that," Gosse continued, reporting his girls missed a few signs and had a few problems defensively, "but we ironed them out during the game."

The KHS coach said Wodsedalek pitched "a heck of a game," and he is expecting more of the same when the Indians get started in Eastern Wisconsin Conference play on April 12th at home against Plymouth, one of the teams Gosse picks to be a contender for the title along with Campbellsport.

"I really believe we can compete with them," Gosse said, referring to the Panthers and Cougars. What makes him so confident is the fact he has nine returning letter winners on his squad of 15. "All the starters except for two are letter winners," he said, indicating he believes his girls can turn around last year's 4-10 record in the EWC, which put them in seventh place.

The infield will be pretty solid with the senior Heberer at second base, first-team all-EWC pick, Marissa Dehler, at short, and the veteran Courtney Uttech back at first.

Brandi Wagner, a sophomore, has won the spot at third base, and Gosse said sophomore Shaylah Haire will be his starting catcher. "She does a nice job," Gosse said about Haire, who contributed a big hit in the win over West. "She had a nice hit last night. She crushed the ball ... it was a double."

In the outfield are Hedlund, a four-year starter in center field, and the Rinzel twins, Megan and Stephanie, juniors who both have a lot of speed.

Wodsedalek is the Indians' No. 1 pitcher, while Erika Heberer will be the backup. "I think every once in a while you will see Erika in the outfield," Gosse said, praising the freshman's skills and adding, "It's (having four good outfielders) is a great dilemma to have."

Once again Gosse is being assisted by Jason Last, who is currently working with 14 junior varsity candidates. Gary Haire, Shaylah's dad, is helping coach the varsity.

While Gosse is confident his defense and pitching will be good, he said, "We've got some work to do on the hitting ... We can't watch the ball. The middle of the order I'm confident in ... Uttech, Hedlund, Heberer and Dehler. They're solid."

About next week's EWC opener against Plymouth, Gosse said, "the kids are really looking forward to it."

It is useless to hold a person to anything he says while he's in love, drunk, or running for office.

Senior distance ace breaks 2 school records-

Gibson has an amazing day at Oshkosh Invitational

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Having a hand ... or more correctly his two feet in 13 of Kewaskum High's 14 points Friday night, Bob Gibson was definitely a standout for the Indians in the annual Oshkosh Invitational at Kolf Field House on the UW-Oshkosh campus.

"Bob Gibson ... He probably ran the best he can run," KHS coach Jerry Gosa said Saturday evening. "He broke the school record in the 1,600 and the 800."

Gibson hit the finish line in 4 minutes, 42.85 seconds (4:42.85) in the 1,600 meter race, and his time was good enough for fourth place.

Later in the meet, Gibson did even better in the 800, which, up until now, had not been considered his specialty. Gosa submitted a 2:07 for Gibson's seed time, and the lanky senior ace finished the even in 2:05.61. Only Chilton's Dan Glewen ran faster, completing the event in a time of 2:03.56.

The second place (out of 53 runners) in the 800 was worth eight points and the fifth in the 1,600 gave the Indians four.

The old KHS 1,600 mark of 4:45.39 had been held by David Gosa, the coach's son, since 1994. The previous best 800 time (2:08.27) was turned in by Nick Bartley in 2004, according to Gosa.

Gibson closed out his day by helping the 4x400 relay to a seventh place.

Dan Dymond, Gibson, Chad Hackbarth and Stephan Kattar combined for a time of 3:44.72, 4 of a second out of the sixth spot. There were 26 teams in the event.

The other KHS point was scored by Dymond for his eighth place in the high jump. Dymond cleared 5 feet, six inches (5-6) in the event.

Kewaskum did not have the strength and depth to finish among the top 10 teams in the event, which was won by Thomas More High School in Milwaukee. The Cavaliers piled up 63 points, 15 more than runner-up Omro (48). New Holstein and Kiel, like Kewaskum members of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, finished in the top five.

New Holstein placed third with 44 points, while Kiel and Luxemburg-Casco tied for fourth with 38.

The Indians were 14th in the standings. A total of 24 teams scored points in the annual indoor test.

Although he did not score, junior Tyler Swanson turned in a good effort in the shot put. His best toss was a 43-7, good for 12th overall. Other good efforts included a ninth (4:51.55) by Kattar in the 1,600, a 15th place 92:13.6 by freshman Zack Heriges in the 800, and the 4x200 relay (Logan Staeger, Dymond, Jack Breese and Hackbarth) placed 17th out of 31 teams with a time of 1:42.52.

The Indian boys are off until April 3 when they travel to Kiel to compete in an Eastern Wisconsin triangular meet with the host Raiders and Sheboygan Falls.

Tips for Sharing Easter Joy from BrightIdeas.com

FAMILY FEATURES

Warm spring breezes carry the promise of rebirth and new life. Spread the spirit of loving kindness this Easter season by making an extra Easter basket. Give it to someone who's not expecting it, or drop it off at a local shelter, home or school where someone is in need. This simple act of kindness will inspire others to pass along their generosity too.

Spread the spirit of kindness

- Get the kids into the Easter spirit. Encourage them to make baskets for the lunchroom monitors, the janitor or the crossing guard.
- Throw an "Add A Basket" party. Your guests will make treat baskets to give away to local charities.
- Send an Easter e-Basket. Create a beautiful, virtual e-Basket with a message of kindness to friends and family. They just might "spread it forward." Go to www.BrightIdeas.com/addabasket.
- For e-Basket links, special basket tags, themed invitations for "Add A Basket" party and more creative ideas for an eggs-traordinary Easter, visit www.BrightIdeas.com.

Funny Bunny Cookies

Why not create these hilarious Easter bunnies with your little ones—and make up a story about them, too!

Makes 18 bunnies

Prep time: 20 minutes

Baking time: 12 to 15 minutes

Decoration time: 30 minutes

Difficulty: Moderate

- 1 bag M&M'S Milk Chocolate Candies for Easter
- 1 bag Starburst Fun Size Fruit Chews for Easter, unwrapped
- 1 tube or bag M&M'S Minis (optional for the bunny's basket)
- Yellow and orange food coloring
- 1 18-ounce package refrigerated cookie dough
- 1 16-ounce container white frosting

1. Thinly roll cookie dough to 1/4-inch thickness. Press out two sizes of cookies: 3-inch cookies for bunnies' bodies, and 1-inch cookies for bunnies' heads.
2. Arrange cookies on baking sheet, placing smaller cookies next to larger cookies. Press edges of two sets of cookies together. Bake in preheated 350°F oven 12 to 15 minutes, then cool.
3. Divide icing into 3 small bowls. Tint one bowl with a few drops of orange food coloring and one with yellow. Frost 1/3 of cookies orange, 1/3 yellow and 1/3 white.
4. Soften the Fruit Chews for Easter in microwave for 10 seconds. Mold candy into bunny ears and feet, then press into iced cookies to attach. Dot bunnies' faces with Milk Chocolate Candies for Easter for eyes, noses and mouths.

For the bunny's basket: Soften one unwrapped Fruit Chew for Easter piece in your hand (or for 5 seconds in the microwave) and divide into two equal parts. Shape half into 1-1/2 inch handle. Shape other half into semi-circle for basket body. Make diagonal marks across semi-circle with tip of knife. Press rope into two outside edges of semi-circle, making a basket. Place basket on frosted cookie and fill with several M&M'S Minis.

For the bunny's carrot: Soften one unwrapped, orange Fruit Chew for Easter piece in your hand (or for 5 seconds in the microwave) and shape into 1-inch-long cone to resemble a carrot. For carrot top, soften one green Fruit Chew piece for Easter in same way, then flatten and cut into spiky fronds. Press to attach them to carrot and put carrot on cookie.

Spring Bud Cupcakes

Welcome spring with a blossoming batch of cupcakes.

Makes 24 cupcakes

Prep time: 20 minutes

Bake time: 17 to 21 minutes

Decoration time: 20 minutes

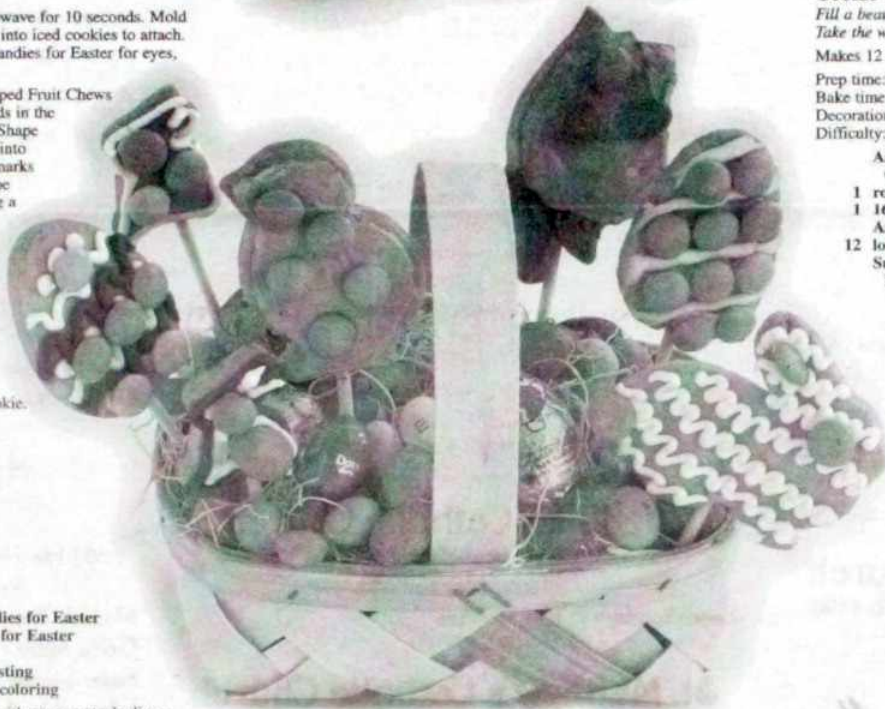

Difficulty: Easy

- 1 bag M&M'S Milk Chocolate Candies for Easter
- 2 cups chopped 3 Musketeers Minis for Easter
- 1 18.25-ounce box yellow cake mix
- 2 12-ounce cans whipped vanilla frosting
- Red, blue, yellow and purple food coloring

1. Preheat oven to 350°F. Line cupcake pan with paper cupcake liners.
2. Prepare cake mix according to package directions, folding in chopped candy.
3. Divide batter evenly between cups; bake until golden (about 17 to 21 minutes). Transfer to wire rack; cool completely.
4. Divide 1 can vanilla frosting into quarters, tinting one red, one blue, one yellow and one purple.
5. With remaining vanilla frosting, cover tops of cupcakes. Fit resealable plastic bags or piping bags with star tips. Spoon one color of tinted frosting into each bag. Pipe yellow frosting centers, and then pipe colored frosting rosettes around edges. Decorate cupcakes with coordinating colors of M&M'S on tops of rosettes.

Envelope Bunnies

Here's a special delivery filled with first-class Easter treats.

Makes 1 bunny

Prep time: 20 minutes

Difficulty: Easy

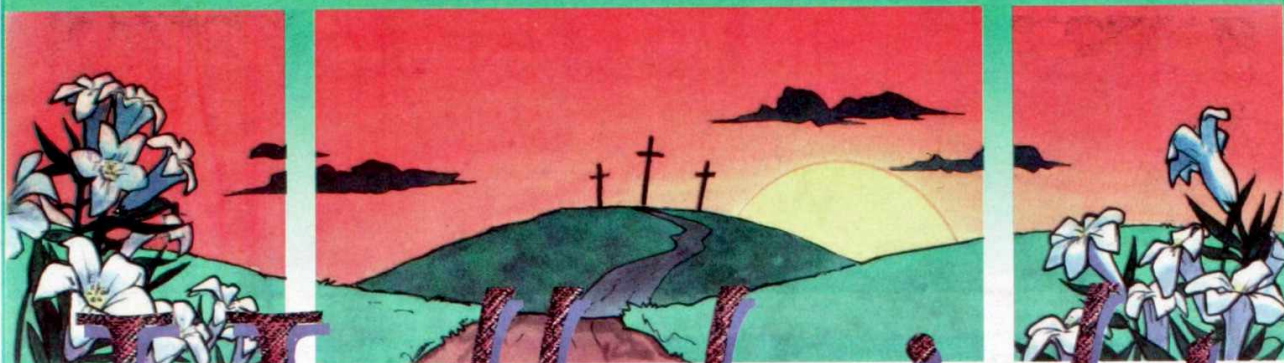

- Assorted candies like Fun Size Starburst Jellybeans, Dove Milk and Dark Chocolate Eggs, and Fun Size M&M'S Milk Chocolate Candies for Easter

- 1 10- by 13-inch envelope
- 1 piece each pink and blue felt, construction paper or foam
- 1 cotton ball
- 3 large chenille pipe cleaners
- Non-toxic glue
- 2 googly eyes

1. Using printable template (http://www.brightideas.com/easter/pop_1396.shtml) as a guide, cut envelope into shape of bunny face with ears. Cut pink felt into two ear shapes, and glue them onto bunny ears.
2. Twist two pipe cleaners together in middle, forming an "X" for nose and whiskers. Glue pipe cleaners at twist onto center of bunny face. Glue cotton ball on top of twist.
3. Cut two small hearts from blue felt for eyes. Glue them just above whiskers. Glue a googly eye in center of each felt heart.
4. Shape remaining pipe cleaner into a smile, and place it just underneath whiskers.
5. Fill opening at top with Easter grass and an assortment of candy.
