Board of Education approves 16¢ increase tax rate for 2007-08

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
andrew@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- The Kewaskum Board of Education voted to advance the district's budget to the annual meeting being held August 27. Taxpayers will approve or deny the budget at that meeting. It reflects a 16-cent increase from the 06-07 budget in the tax rate.

Business manager Paul Reichert, explained the budget reflects a 4.2 percent increase in expenditures. A tax rate of $7.72 will be presented to the taxpayers.

Reichert stated the most notable portion of the budget is $615,000 in new staff and programs. Staff for the district will increase three full-time positions at a cost of $230,000.

The budget reflects $583,000 in reductions to help pay for almost all the increased staffing and programs.

Reductions in staffing amounted to $535,000, a reduction of two-and-a-half full-time positions. The reductions were also achieved by the number of retiring teachers being replaced by new teachers lower on the salary schedule. $48,000 in school programs were also reduced or eliminated from the budget.

This left an increase of $32,000 in new money to pay for the additions. "We were successfully able to pay for those," Reichert concluded.

The board had the option of approving the budget at that meeting or the upcoming June meeting. Board member Jean Goeden made a motion to accept the working budget as presented and add a stipend of $350 for all the volunteers in the district, and add $2,000 for the bowling team and the same for flag and dance team. Surprised, President John Kenworthy seconded the motion for discussion purposes.

Goeden then explained she felt the volunteers should receive $350 because of gas and time they are putting in. She explained she wanted this stipend to be given to each volunteer.

"If pay a volunteer $350, doesn't that make that person not a volunteer? Would that not make that person a public employee and hence we have to go through statutes and they would then fall under the contract, would they not, once they be come paid?"

Goeden interjected she wanted to try it for a one year.

"But, we still would be paying someone as an employee for a year?" Kenworthy asked.

She thought it would be a good idea to try and boost volunteerism.

Bruce Braidigan stated that he agreed with Kenworthy, "A volunteer

T. Auburn tells resident 'clean up'

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
andrew@kewaskumstatesman

TOWN of AUBURN- Supervisors have approved a directive giving the township's attorney permission to bring a lawsuit against Robert and Ann Rudzitis for violation of various town ordinances. Ann Rudzitis, who was in attendance at the town board meeting Monday, May 14, was told the lawsuit could be avoided if she and her husband bring their property back up to code.

The zoning violations center on abandoned vehicles, and items the township views as junk at their property on Highway G and Auburn Ashford Road. Town chairman, Merle Laatsch stated the township has been receiving complaints about the property.

This isn't the first time the township has had encountered a problem with the Rudzitis' property. In 1994 the town received a court judgment granting an injunction.

That injunction ordered the homeowners to clean up all junked motor vehicles and vehicle accessories along with any scrap metal, construction debris and miscellaneous refuse. The order also restrained the Rudzitis' from storing or allowing disassembled, dismantled, partially dismantled, junked, wrecked, or non-operable, unlicensed motor vehicles. They were also ordered to pay a fine of $25 per day from January of 1994 until September of that year totaling $5,875.

POLICE REPORTS

Criminal damage to property

On April 25, a Kewaskum Police Officer was dispatched to 110 First Street for a subject who wished to report damage to a vehicle.

The officer met with a man who stated he believed someone damaged his left outside mirror on his SUV. The officer noted the plastic housing was broken on the mirror. He also saw that the mirrored glass was also missing. There was no evidence left at the scene.

The complainant suspected his ex-wife and/or her boyfriend of committing the damage.

Domestic Abuse

On May, 5 at 3:21 a.m. a Kewaskum Police Officer was dispatched to an apartment at 920 Courtney Lane for a female subject who stated her boyfriend pushed her. A second call was received by a neighbor.

Upon arrival, the neighbor advised he could hear screaming from the bedroom in the apartment. Upon hearing the screaming woman, the officer attempted to gain entry to the apartment. He was shortly joined by a Washington County Sheriff's Deputy. The two used force and gained entry to the apartment.

A male subject was hand cuffed without incident. He was identified as a resident in the apartment. He stated he argued verbally with his girlfriend after arriving at the residence after bar time. He was trying to get to sleep when the woman climbed on top of him. He pushed her off of him and she claimed she struck a dresser somewhere during this time and hurt her back.

The male stated during this time, his finger was bent and this caused pain to his right hand index finger.

The deputy spoke with the female subject who stated there was nothing physical between her and the boyfriend and that she hit her back when she stumbled in the bedroom. She admitted to arguing with her boyfriend.

The deputy came across a three-inch glass pipe in the bedroom. The pipe tested positive for marijuana. The female admitted it was hers. The male also stated it belonged to him. When he told the male the female already admitted to it, he agreed with the deputy that it was hers.

During a record check of both subjects it was found there was a warrant for the male's arrest. He was taken into custody.

Charges were requested on the female for domestic abuse since she caused pain to the male subject. She also received a citation for possession of drug paraphernalia.

Battery

On May, 6 at 5:45 p.m. a Kewaskum Police Officer responded to 503 Hwy H for a domestic abuse complaint. A male suspect reportedly had left the building.

The officer spoke with the complainant, who stated her husband and herself had been arguing all afternoon. At approximately 5:20 p.m. she stated her husband left the apartment. She walked outside to the doorway and she said he grabbed her by the throat.

The officer noted visible marks on the right side of her neck. She further stated her husband punched her below her right eye. Noticeable swelling was noted to that area as well.

At some point during the altercation she stated he threw her up against a wall, pushed her to the ground and grabbed her by the hair. He then dragged her approximately ten feet to the south near the apartment.

Witnesses observed these actions. She stated her husband had been drinking since 10 or 11 am and was very intoxicated.

The woman reported having a two-year-old son who observed the yelling. She was unsure if he saw the physical confrontation.

She advised she and her husband have had problems in the past.

A Washington County Sheriff's Deputy later arrived on scene. The woman stated her husband left with her mother's car. She didn't know where he was going.

The woman did not wish to give a statement because she feared for her life. The officer asked if her husband has threatened to kill her and she stated yes he did. She ultimately decided to give a statement.

The Sheriff's Deputy

checked the area for the male subject. He was unable to locate the man. The authorities were later notified of a phone call from the male to his wife from Mayville.

An attempt to locate was placed for the male.

A resident of the apartment complex told police he heard a loud banging noise in the hallway and a loud bang against his apartment wall. He opened the door and observed the male suspect dragging his wife on the floor towards their apartment.

Later that evening the officer received a call that the suspect was in the hallway looking for his wife. The officer arrived at the apartment complex and made contact with the male subject.

Somewhat intoxicated, he denied the altercation between himself and his wife. He was arrested. Two deputies arrived to assist the officer who took the man into custody.

Most hospitals think intensive care is intense enough. We found a better way.

This is your hospital. The Aurora Medical Center in Hartford.

Traditionally an ICU provides continuous monitoring and care to get patients through the most acute stages of illness or injury. Aurora's found a better way—eICU. eICU provides added support, with 24/7 electronic monitoring of patients by a remote team of doctors and critical care nurses. This helps to detect changes in patient condition earlier, provides additional collaboration with onsite physicians, ensures more effective intervention and has been proven to shorten hospital stays. In Washington County, this level of care can only be found at your Aurora Medical Center. For more information visit www.Aurora.org/WashingtonCounty.

Free showing of The Queen at the CPL

Area residents are invited to the Campbellsport Public Library on Monday, May 21 at 6 pm to watch The Queen. This film is an intimate, revealing and sometimes humorous behind-the-scenes glimpse at the interaction between Her Majesty Elizabeth II (Helen Mirren) and Prime Minister Tony Blair (Michael Sheen) following the death of Princess Diana. The two struggle to reach a compromise between what was a private tragedy for the Royal family and the public's demand for an overt display of mourning.

The movie will be projected onto a large screen with surround sound. Free popcorn will be served. Children age 16 and under must be accompanied by a parent.

If you would like more information about this program, please call the Library at (920) 533-8534, or stop in at 220 Helena Street. They are open Monday and Tuesday from 12 to 8 pm, Wednesday from 10 to 6 pm, Thursday from 12 to 5 pm, Friday from 12 to 5 pm and Saturday from 9 to Noon.

Huge Co-ed Dodgeball Tourney Scheduled for Campbellsport

CAMPBELLSPORT-First, the world's longest brat was made in this small community of just less than two thousand people. Next the human truck pull contest drew thousands of people. Last year Campbellsport became the host of the Wisconsin State Rock, Paper, Scissors championship.

Similar to Don King's famous saying, "Only in America" many people are now saying "Only in Campbellsport" as the Campbellsport Area Chamber of Commerce (CACC) and the Campbellsport Fire Department (CFD) have organized an officially sanctioned co-ed dodgeball tournament. It will be held after the parade on July 4, starting at 2 p.m.

After kicking around and dodging a few new ideas the CACC decided to host this tournament for several reasons. "One major reason was participation. Almost everyone knows how to play, and almost anyone can play," states Larry Koffman of Koffman Auto Body, co-executive director of the Red, White and Blue co-ed dodgeball tournament. "It will have the same feel of the truck pull. We are closing down the street and will have three matches going on at once. It will be like a three ring circus.

Creative Image and Sound has donated their dj services and will offer some great summer tunes for the crowd. Of course, the background will be the on-going July 3 and 4 CFD picnic. Lots of things are planned for people of all ages to do during the co-ed dodgeball tournament.

The co-ed dodgeball tournament is replacing the popular truck pull tournament. "We just felt it was time for some fresh energy. And so we went with a really fun unique sport to watch as well as to play," Larry confirmed.

The tournament itself is sanctioned by the National Amateur Dodgeball Association. The winner of the tournament will earn a paid berth to the National Championships in Schaumburg, Illinois on July 21.

The top teams will also earn $600 in chamber bucks. The best dressed team will also receive a prize. All players, (up to 10 people per team with a minimum of three women and three men) will be guaranteed five games and free t-shirts. The entry fee is $50 and will be great exposure for any business, club, high school team, or organization to sponsor a team.

Sign up for the tournament at Culley's Bar and Grill on Main Street in Campbellsport or visit www.gocampbellsport.com. There you can also find official rules, a message board to post your comments, links to other dodgeball websites, contact information, and all other information related to the July 3 and 4 events in Campbellsport.

Please register on-line or at Culley's by June 22. Spots are limited so sign up soon. For more information contact the tournament co-executive Joel Fleischman, at 920-979-4045 or e-mail him at joel.fleischman@furnishanddesign.com.

Sylvan Learning's Helpful Hints for Student Success:

Successful Reading Habits: What Parents Can Do

Success in reading starts at home by reading to children from an early age. When reading aloud to children, parents can select books that are well above their child's independent reading level since children can comprehend language at least two grade levels above their reading level.

Even as children develop into independent readers, parents and children should continue to read aloud together. Parents and older children can read the same book separately and share passages aloud for several minutes followed by silent reading and discussion.

Make reading a priority. Most busy families struggle to fit everything into the day. However, making time for reading each day is the best thing parents can do to promote their children's reading growth. By emphasizing reading at home and making it a habit, parents are communicating to their children that reading is their family's first priority.

Set a good example. If your kids see you reading for pleasure, they are also more likely to see reading as enjoyable. Make reading a family activity and have everyone gather together at the end of a busy day to share a book aloud.

Make it easy for children to read. Make sure there are plenty of reading materials available for children in every room of the house - not just books, but also magazines and newspapers. Make frequent trips to the library so children always have books on hand.

Use reading strategies. Rather than providing children with the pronunciation of a word they don't recognize, parents can use strategies to help their children identify the word themselves. Ask questions, such as whether it looks like other words they know; if they can recognize another word in the longer word or can they use the words around it to figure out what the word means. By allowing children to use their knowledge of word parts, such as prefixes and root words to figure out pronunciation and meanings, children are building their word recognition and phonics skills.

Choose read-aloud books within their reading levels. If children have trouble with more than five words on a page, the book may be above their independent reading levels. Parents and children should select books together and can start by choosing books by authors they have already read or by talking with their children's teachers.

PREPARING FOR A DOCTOR'S VISIT

Preparing ahead of time can optimize your doctor appointment and help you receive the best care. Start by picking the two or three most important topics or worries first, so you have enough time for a full discussion. Remind the doctor of any ongoing conditions or recent medical or life events that he/she should be aware of. Write down a list of questions and all the medications you take, and bring it with you. Be honest with your answers. Don't be embarrassed, remember that the information you provide enables them to better establish a diagnosis. Lastly, don't be afraid to say "I don't understand" or to repeat back what you've been told and ask if you've got it right.

KES presents their Star Performers

Kewaskum Elementary School students were the stars as the school held their annual Star Performers Night recently. KES principal Kieth Kriewaldt explains that the program is a showcase of the students' work all in one area. "The parents are able to view some of the students' long term work assignment and then give feedback to the students. It is a great way to get parents and students to talk about their work. Anytime we can get children to show off their work is a great thing. It builds their self-esteem and gives them a sense of pride and accomplishment," Kriewaldt stated. Shown above, Jake Keller shows his family a PowerPoint presentation. Students from Mrs. Berres' and Mrs. West's classes showed off their Wisconsin City PowerPoint Presentations during the event. Power Point is a computer program that allows students to create multimedia presentations. Berres explains "In fourth grade, our curriculum focuses on the study of Wisconsin, so we had our students pick a city in Wisconsin that they would like to learn more about. Then they wrote business letters to the various city's chambers of commerce and researched on the internet to find the information they needed. Students then had to take information such as the city's population, tourist attractions, industries, and historical events and design a PowerPoint to present to the other students. We displayed them at Star Performers so that students could play them for their parents. This project turned out great and many of the students plan to visit their cities over the summer."

Who I Am

*I am the popular girl who everyone knows
Nor am I the genius who everyone uses for answers on homework
I am not even the girl with the funny colored hair and thick eyeliner
I am just me
I have gone to the same school my whole life
And I hate how everyone there segregates people by the way they dress
I am not a girly-girl nor am I a tomboy
I don't listen to Britney Spears but I also don't have a collection of heavy metal
I am a little bit of what some people want, have, and hate
So you want to know who I am
I am that girl who can't walk down the hallway without saying hi to at least five friends
I am that girl who will say something and regret it five minutes later
I am that girl, who despite what others think, is actually really shy
I am that girl who hates the silence
Who hates being alone for any reason
Who hates going places by herself
And hates getting into trouble
I am that girl who believes in one true love
Who still believes in Prince Charming
I am the girl who writes her feelings in poems and stories
Because she can't tell them any other way.*

by Terri Schlichenmeyer

Beware of the Cat and Other Encounters of a Letter Carrier

By Vincent Wyckoff

Borealis Books, $22.95 184 pages

The other day, you got an invitation to a baby shower through your email. Your cousin sent you a forward this morning, and email is the only way you keep in touch with your best friend from high school. It makes you smile when you see certain names in your "inbox."

Which has to make you wonder... does anybody write letters any more?

Plenty of people do, and author Vincent Wyckoff knows a lot of them. In his new memoir "Beware of Cat and Other Encounters of a Letter Carrier," Wyckoff writes about his customers, his neighbors, and delivering not just the mail, but lost kids, lost dogs, and safety to the people on his route.

For almost two decades, Wyckoff has been a mail carrier on a south Minneapolis, Minnesota route. Because he delivers to the same people every day, five or six days a week, he's gotten to know them well.

For instance, there's Evelyn, who celebrated her hundredth birthday with mailman in attendance; Edith, who always seemed to be busy sprucing up her garden and her home, but who was hiding a secret that ended her life all too early; and Jackson, a boy who lived in a house filled with family and who worked hard to overcome racism but who needed a few words from the mailman to give him a chance at equality on the football field.

In this book, Wyckoff remembers delivering a wailing, lost child home to his frantic mother (no stamps needed); and he recalls returning two tiny lost poodles to their mountain-of-a-man owner who gave no thanks (and no postage due). Wyckoff tells of delivering mail to feuding neighbors (no extra postage required), racism encountered by a colleague on the job (no "Return to Sender" mark), and delivering mail on a January day in Minnesota (insufficient clothing, perhaps, but no "insufficient postage" stamp); he muses about pets he's met along the route (no address verification required); and he writes about neighbors, one with a motorcycle and nowhere to put it, one with a garage in need of work, and the mailman-assisted deal they worked out (first-class service, but no first-class rates).

So you grumbled when you bought stamps this week because of the hike in postage? Read this book and you won't mind paying the extra lousy two cents per mailing any more.

Despite that it's set in Minneapolis - a metro of nearly 3 million people - "Beware of Cat" has a distinctly Mayberry feel to it. That's because author Vincent Wyckoff has a pleasantly easy-going, folksy, front-porch style of writing that makes you feel comfortable spending time with him and his stories. This isn't a scandal-filled, meet-the-scantily-clad-customer-at-the-door risqué kind of book, which means you can safely give it for Father's Day and it's perfect for anyone with an eye toward the USPS after graduation.

If you're looking for an unusual memoir to read this summer, this book definitely delivers. For a quiet afternoon's worth of entertainment, "Beware of Cat" gets my stamp of approval.

"The Aurora staff wasn't just concerned for my health. They genuinely cared about me."

Patty Peters, Slinger resident and oncology patient. Photographed at Slinger Community Library.

Outstanding health care can also be compassionate. Just ask Patty Peters, a lifelong Washington County resident and breast cancer survivor. From her initial diagnosis to her thirty-fourth—and last—radiation treatment, Patty appreciated the positive and caring attitude of the Aurora staff. Everyone was professional, thorough and extremely comforting. She's glad that her health care providers were also members of her community, and that the cancer expertise she needed was just minutes away at Aurora Health Care.

Convenient, coordinated care. Specialized medicine. That's why Patty chose Aurora Health Care.

Here are just a few of the reasons why you should choose Aurora, too:

- For your convenience, our health centers are located nearly 15 minutes from where you live or work.
- Our physicians coordinate your hospital care with Aurora Medical Center in Hartford to provide you with leading diagnostic, surgical and treatment services.
- Our patients have access to Aurora St. Luke's Medical Center, offering breakthrough treatments, not available anywhere else in the state, in the areas of heart, cancer and neurological care.

EWC golf title is on the line in final matches Plymouth climbs back into a tie with Kewaskum

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

It's going to go right down to the wire! The battle for the Eastern Wisconsin Conference (EWC) golf title is oh so close after Plymouth finished first in the last two mini-meets, held at Badger Creek Golf Course near New Holstein and at Quit Qui Oc near Elkhart Lake.

Kewaskum and Plymouth now have the exact number of points, with the final mini-meet at Kiel (May 16) and the 18-hole EWC Tournament coming up Saturday at the National Course at Fox Hills near Mishicot.

The match at Quit Qui Oc was extremely close, as Plymouth had its four counters grouped between 37 and 41 for a 156 total. Casey Scheel was the medalist for the Indians with a 1-over par 37, and sophomore Ethan Geidel finished second with a 37, but from there the scores went up to 40, 44 and 44.

This was the only time in the past five years Kewaskum has dipped under 170 on the Quit Qui Oc front nine, which is not long but has several holes which demand straight tee shots.

Roncalli, the smallest school in the EWC, which will be leaving the league at the end of the summer baseball season, finished third at 163, followed in by New Holstein, 166; Sheboygan Falls, 167; Two Rivers, 168; Kiel, 168; and Campbellsport, 173.

In addition to Scheel and Geidel, who currently lead the race to win the EWC medal, Andy McDonald carded a 40, while Ryan Nuernberg and Nick Gutbrod both fired 44s.

"The conference championship will probably be determined at Fox Hills," KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt said. "Whoever wins next week will have the lead going into the championship tournament, with the overall title likely going to the team that captures first place at the EWC event."

Plymouth has won 19 of the last 20 titles in the league, and that should provide a lot of extra incentive for the Indians.

Current EWC standings: 1. (tie) Kewaskum and Plymouth, 12 points; 3. Roncalli, 19; 4. Kiel, 24; 5. Two Rivers, 32; 6. Sheboygan Falls, 35; 7. (tie) Campbellsport and New Holstein, 41.

At New Holstein, Plymouth maintained a 163 total, three in front of Kewaskum and Roncalli. The Indians got the second place based on the scores of the number five players on each team.

Looking at the scorecards of his players, Eichstedt said there was no question the holes 17 and 18 cost his team a chance at the victory. "We could do no better than one bogey on Badger Creek's final two holes between the five team members," the coach said, wittingly adding, "Now we will fine out our true colors, hopefully green and GOLD."

Geidel and Scheel led the Indians, with respective scores of 40 and 42, then came Gutbrod at 41. The final counter was McDonald with a 43.

Nuernberg came in with a 46, bettering Kyle Rodo of Roncalli by four strokes, and helping the Indians save a team point.

Outdoor Tips & Tricks

by Dave Gowdey

While many experiments have been done over the years to determine how a fish's vision works, we still have a limited understanding of how fishes actually perceive things like color and shape. We do know that fishes can, at times, be extremely sensitive to differences in shade and color so subtle that they are not easily visible to the human eye. We also know that fish are often attracted to shades of red and yellow - which is why so many flies and lures include those colors. Finally, we know that, like most predators, fishes quickly lock in to any type of movement. So when the fish just aren't biting, it can often pay to experiment with different types and speeds of movement, and different colored and sized lures.

Choke in a shotgun determines how much the shot in a pattern will open up over distance. With the advent of screw in chokes on most modern shotguns, the bird hunter can now choose which choke to use. For those who carry pump or semi-automatic shotguns with their single barrel - the choice of which choke to use as your "normal" choke can be a bit puzzling. If I had to choose just one choke to use year round for most bird hunting and waterfowl situations, it would be an Improved Cylinder choke. It is an ideal choke for shooting most American game birds at ranges of 40 yards or less, and since steel shot patterns tighter than lead, it is a good choice for shooting waterfowl out to 50 yards.

As most outdoorsmen know, the ability to make fire is one of the most valuable survival tools and, in an emergency, can mean the difference between life and death. In the past, many of us stowed packs of waterproof matches in the pockets of our hunting and fishing vests. However, these matches have a way of getting loose and suffering from being tossed about with other gear. One convenient substitute for these packs of matches is the inexpensive disposable lighter. They are light, waterproof, and last for years. I keep some in the pockets of my hunting and fishing vests, in the car, and my tackles and gear boxes.

If you have a tip to do with hunting, fishing or outdoor skills that you would like to see printed in this column, e-mail the tip to davegowdey@fastmail.fm. Credit will be given in the column to those whose tips are selected for publication.

Darmody is 'pumped' about trip to Germany

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Like a kid at Christmas time, Corey Darmody is conducting an exciting countdown. The date, May 20th, is circled on his calendar.

That's the day Darmody and 50 of his UW-Platteville football teammates and their coaches leave for a once-in-a-lifetime trip to France, Switzerland, and Germany where they will play a game against the Schwaebisch Hall Unicorns on May 25.

"I'm really excited. I can't wait ... I think everyone's kind of pumped," the 2003 Kewaskum High School graduate, who won first team, all-WIAC (Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic Conference) honors last fall as a center, said Sunday evening.

"We leave on Sunday," Darmody went on, reporting the players are flying out of O'Hare Airport in Chicago and will land in Frankfurt, Germany. The Pioneer entourage will not tour Germany immediately, however,

Instead they will travel first through France and then also spend a couple days in Switzerland before coming back to Germany.

To prepare for the football game, the players have been working out together for the past couple of weeks. "The NCAA allowed us to have 10 extra padded practices the last two weeks to get ready," Darmody said, reporting the practices are quicker than those in the fall when there are 100 players involved.

Seniors who have completed their eligibility at Platteville are allowed to go on the trip and to play in the game, Darmody said, indicating quarterback Ryan Munz is going, along with defensive back Jason Watson and receiver Derek Hoff.

The Schwaebisch team is "like a semipro kind of team" and included a former UW-Platteville player, Max Seerooy.

UW-Platteville was involved in a similar venture several years ago, according to Darmody, who said he wasn't aware of any other WIAC teams that have gone to Europe, but, "Last year, the University of Dubuque went."

Other preparations included taking, what Darmody called, an "Emergency German" class. "We're taking a little class on Thursday nights to learn some German for directions, in case we get lost and things like that," he said.

The Pioneer tour will include a cogwheel railway trip up Mt. Pilatus (Switzerland), a visit to the salt mines in Rothenburg, Germany, a walk through the World War II prison camp in Dachau, and a tour of Munich.

When he returns on May 31, he will report for a summer internship to the Cummins Company, which makes diesel engines in Mineral Point.

There will be no long breaks from his off-season weight-training program, however. "I've been lifting nonstop," the 250-pound Pioneer center said, eager to see if his team can improve on its 5-5 record in 2006.

Indians provide plenty of highlights in renewed EWC Relays

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

The Kewaskum boys dominated one event, but did not have the depth and talent to stay with the "big" three in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference (EWC) Relays last Tuesday, but the young Indian girls turned in a sparkling performance to take third place. It was the first time in six years, the conference has conducted the relay event.

Behind wins in a pair of relays, the high jump and the pole vault, the KHS girls piled up 96 points, just four behind Two Rivers and eight off the first-place total of 104 put up by Plymouth.

In the 4-by-100-meter relay, it was Jessi Forbes, Jess Liniewski, Nichole Kison and Kelly Uelmen totting the baton the one lap in a time of 52 and .24 seconds (52.24). Campbellspoint was nearly two seconds behind at 54.17.

In the 4-by-200 relay, which the Indians have been strong in most of the year, the difference was again Diana Taddy running anchor for Two Rivers. Taddy, the top sprinter in the EWC, helped the Raiders complete the two laps in 1:50.94, just ahead of Forbes, Liniewski, Kison and Uelmen, who were clocked in 1:51.64.

"Uelmen is really coming on," coach Jerry Gosa reported, indicating, both times were season-bests, and in the 4-by-100, "They dropped almost a second off their previous best."

In the sprint relay, which is comprised of a 200, two 100s and a 400, it was Liniewski, Forbes, Uelmen and Kison turning in a 1:55.28. "Nichole ran a split three second faster than she has ever run. She caught a girl from Two Rivers."

Having three good high jumpers certainly helped. Freshmen Amanda Witek and Candace Beine, along with Liniewski combined for a total of 14 feet and 2 inches (14-2), two inches ahead of Two Rivers.

The Indians easily won the pole vault. While the third vaulters for some teams were struggling to clear five and six feet, Amanda Kleppin managed to go over 7-6 to combine with the two 9-0 efforts, tops in the meet of Crystal Treptow and Alissa Clapper.

Kewaskum also did well in the 300-meter hurdle shutter where Stephanie Abramovich, Grace Pok and Liz Potter went 59.09 to earn eight team points for their second place, and Potter, Pok and Haley Gregoriou captured a second in the 900 hurdle relay, combining respective times of 52.94, 55.72 and 55.90.

Both Catherine Stoffel and Lacy Taylor just missed hitting the 100-foot mark in the discus, but their season-best efforts of 99-04 and 99-02, along with a 62-09 by sophomore Amanda Meyer, helped the trio take second in that event.

Taylor (28-10), Stoffel (27-6.75) and Kelsey Guth (25-11) earned a third in the shot put, and the long jump trio of Heather Schmitt (14-10), Kison (14-6.75) and Karla Stoffel (13-4.50) added six points for their third place in the long jump.

The Kiel Raiders left the meet thinking they had won the boys title, then someone discovered one of the Raiders was entered in running four events, which violates the rules of the meet even though he competed in only three. The Raiders were disqualified in the final 4-by-400 relay, thus New Holstein was awarded the plaque for the win. They had 96 points, one ahead of Plymouth. Then came Two Rivers with 87, followed by Kiel at 85.5, Kewaskum, 70; Roncalli, 59; Sheboygan Falls, 58; and Campbellspoint, 23.

"The discus boys did very well," Gosa said. Logan Staeger did the best of the three, who combined for the win with 427-6. Staeger's best effort sailed 151-09, and next came Ben Boettcher, who had a toss of 138-05, and Tyler Swanson at 137-04. Gosa said Boettcher had some great throws during warmups but during the competition had trouble keeping them in the sector.

Kewaskum also won the distance medley with a time of 3:48.15. Matt Parrent (400), Scott Steldt (200), Dan Dymond (200) and Stephan Kattar (800) made up the unit, and Gosa said "Kattar ran like a 2:05 in the 800." Kiel actually finished first in the event but was disqualified for a passing violation, according to Gosa.

The Indians also tied for first in the pole vault with Jake Dickman clearing 11-6 for the second time, Kevin Schellinger reaching 11-0 and Kattar going 10-0 for a total of 32-6.

And although it didn't count for any points, the weightman relay was won by the Indians threesome of Ben Boettcher, Josh Boettcher and Swanson, who hit the finish line in 39.65, .12 ahead of New Holstein.

Kewaskum will travel to the Division 2 regional hosted by Lomira on Monday, May 21st.

Parker sparkles in tennis finale

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

In what was called "a flat performance," the Kewaskum High School boys tennis team lost its Eastern Wisconsin Conference (EWC) season finale to Sheboygan Falls by a score of 6-1. "As a team, we didn't play particularly well," coach Dan Ross said.

There were two bright spots in the effort though, including the play of junior Dan Parker at No. 1 singles and the performance of freshman Ryan Gibson, who saw his first varsity action at No. 2 doubles.

Parker defeated senior Avery Fawl, 3-6, 6-4 and 7-5. "Dan put together his best match of the season. He beat a quality opponent after losing a tough first set," Ross said. "(It was the) Best combo of power and intelligence he has had all year. In the third set, he was up 4-3, then lost the next two games. Usually that's a momentum-killer. However, he came back to win the next three."

Gibson "filled in admirably. He's been playing well over the past few weeks," Ross said. "He's played because of some injuries or absences, but I wouldn't have put him in there if I didn't think he could handle it."

With these results, Kewaskum ended up with a 16-33 record in individual matches, numbers that will be included along with the results of the EWC Tournament (this weekend at the Kohler Sports Core) to determine the final standings.

Week of soccer included two good outings and one disaster for Lady Indians

Looking back on his team's week of soccer, Kewaskum High coach John Berst used the adage "two out of three isn't bad," two out of three in that the Lady Indians started with a 2-1 victory over Two Rivers on Monday, May 7, and ended the week with a 1-1 draw with Roncalli on Thursday, May 10. Tuesday's match-up against Sheboygan Falls Monday's game saw Elissa Miller score both goals for the Indians, the first coming in the first half on a penalty kick.

"I don't know exactly when ... about halfway through the first half," Berst said, reporting the host Raiders came back to score when one of their players dribbled right through the KHS defense and drilled the ball past Julie Sargent.

With about 10 minutes left, Berst said Miller got the game-winner on a free kick.

Berst wasn't exactly sure what happened between Monday and Tuesday, but the Indians didn't play with near the energy they had in the victory, and it showed. The second game was not pretty, according to Berst, who said, "We didn't play well at all. We lost eight-zip" at Sheboygan Falls on Tuesday.

On Thursday, at home for the first time in a week, the Indians turned an emotional effort to gain the draw with the Jets, who had beaten them 2-0 in Manitowoc earlier in the season.

Berst said Roncalli scored on a "scrum inside the six-yard mark. They basically willed it in." Down 1-0 at the half, Kewaskum had to score and got the break they needed when one of the Jets was called for a handball in the box. Miller did the honors again, scoring her third goal of the week on the penalty kick with 15:00 left.

"We were missing a couple of players because of Confirmation, Julie Sargent being one of them," Berst went on, reporting Rachel Gavin drew the start in goal and did a good job.

After regulation, the first 10-minute overtime was scoreless, and Berst said, "Neither team scored in the second ... we probably had four or five good scoring opportunities."

Kewaskum is currently 2-8-1 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference and 2-11-1 overall.

Berst said the KHS JVs won 7-0 over Roncalli and he remarked coach Amy Piwoni deserves applause for her efforts this spring.

After Campbellsport on Tuesday, the Indians will entertain Kiel this afternoon (Thursday) at 4:30 p.m.

Indian netters claim two of seven

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Following his team's recent 7-0 loss to Plymouth, Kewaskum High School tennis coach Dan Ross warned the road would not get a whole lot easier for his Indians.

Ross was right. Limited to wins at Nos. 3 and 4 singles, the Indians were beaten by Roncalli last Tuesday, May 8, by a score of 5-2.

"They were strong top to bottom but particularly the doubles teams, and No. 1 singles who went to state last year," Ross said.

Senior Kyle Stoffel survived a marathon match for one of the Indians' wins, and the other was provided by foreign exchange student Marcello Franco at No. 4.

Franco defeated Pat Krause 6-4, 0-6, 6-4, while Stoffel outdueled Martin Chiu 6-7 (5-7), 6-4, 6-2.

Ross reported Franco came back from "a terrible second set," while Stoffel "played an extraordinarily long match

... over three hours. He was in the first group put on (the courts) and was the last to finish. He won by pure determination. At the end, he got to a few balls on critical points that I thought he couldn't be anywhere near. Mentally and physically, he was stronger."

With these results, the Indians are 15-27 in Eastern Wisconsin Conference matches, which are used along with the conference tournament to determine the final standings.

Ross reported the Washington County Tennis Tournament, which was called off because of rain on May 5th, has been cancelled for the year.

Long productive week for KHS fastpitch team

Melissa Hammen makes a catch during a match-up against Two Rivers. Tiffany Hedlund is also shown ready to assist. The Indians swept over the Jets in the doubleheader at home on Monday, May 7.

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

There were times last week when Jeff Gosse, the coach of the Kewaskum High School girls softball team, was starting to forget what his house looked like. Gosse's Lady Indians played seven games within the five-day span, and three of those days they were on the road.

Kewaskum started with a 3-2 and 7-1 sweep over Two Rivers on Friday, then blasted Sheboygan Falls on Tuesday by a score of 19-1 before gaining a 5-11 and 6-2 split with Roncalli on Thursday.

"All these road games are starting to wear on us," Gosse said Friday morning, looking at the fact his team still had to travel to Kiel that afternoon.

About the doubleheader at Roncalli, Gosse said, "They (Jets) hit the heck out of the ball. They were the best hitting team we have seen all year. They had five hits in the first inning ... They just crushed 'em."

While KHS pitcher Brooke Wodsedalek settled down after that, the Indian outfielders did not, dropping a couple easy fly balls, according to Gosse, who said, "We didn't have any of our regular outfielders" because of Confirmation.

Marissa Dehler was the Indians' top hitter, with three, while Brandi Wagner added two. "In the second, we scored three runs and were only down 4-6, but we had too many one, two, three innings," Gosse said.

Game two was completely the opposite. "They were committing the errors, and we hit the ball well," Gosse said, reporting Dehler had two hits with a double, Shaylah Haire had two hits, and Wagner was red hot, with a double and a triple that just missed being a home run by six inches.

"Brooke pitched a lot better," Gosse went on, indicating she struck out four, walked three and scattered eight hits. "She moved her pitches a lot better, and we played better defense."

There were some scary moments in the seventh inning when the Jets put two runners on, but Wodsedalek got the final out on a strikeout.

Kewaskum had no trouble beating Sheboygan Falls. "There were 17 walks, and we had eight hits," Gosse said, reporting he took his starters out early. "The starters didn't see much time ... two innings and that was it."

Melissa Hammen had two hits for the Indians, and Erika Heberer drew her first varsity start and got her first win, tossing a three-hitter, while walking one and striking out six.

Concerning the twin win over Two Rivers, Gosse said, "We were in control the whole time but couldn't pull away."

In the first inning, the Raiders scored both their runs on a single and double, but "After that, we shut 'em down," Gosse said, reporting the Indians got their runs in the third, fourth and fifth frames.

Kewaskum used Stephanie Rinzel's speed to score run number one. After she got a hit, she stole two bases and raced home on an error, according to the coach, who said, "We always get her around."

In the fourth, it was Haire singling, moved to second on a sacrifice bunt and later scoring on a wild pitch, and in the fifth Bekki Heberer came though with an RBI single, scoring Courtney Uttech, who singled and was moved to second on a bunt by Dehler.

In game two, Wodsedalek only allowed three hits, struck out 10 and walked three. She lost the shutout in the fourth when the Raiders got two hits and Kewaskum made a huge mental error.

In the first, Dehler hit a home run, an inside-the-parker. "She's swinging the ball very well right now. She, Bekki Heberer, Haire and Wagner give us a lot of power," Gosse said. Danielle Mueller drove in two runs with a single in the Indian's three-run fourth, and in the fifth the Indians had back-to-back triples by Dehler and Heberer, followed by a single by Tiffany Hedlund.

With all these games, the Indians are 7-5 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference and 10-8 overall.

Kewaskum is at Columbus Thursday (today), May 17, for a regional game in Division 2. The winner will take on top-seeded Mayville.
