Kriewaldt to leave district

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
andrew@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- The school district's Director of Elementary Education has accepted a contract to fulfill a superintendent's position in the Erin School District in Hartford. Dr. Kieth Kriewaldt says he will ask the Board of Education to end his contract at the June meeting.

Dr. Kriewaldt started in the Kewaskum School District on November 20, 1995, when he became principal of Wayne and Farmington Elementary Schools after leaving the Plymouth School District. On July 1, 1996 he became the District's first ever Director of Elementary Education and also replaced long-time Kewaskum Elementary School (KES) principal Richard Zarling who retired.

Board of Education member Jean Goeden was on the team that hired Dr. Kriewaldt and stated she was very excited to have him join the Kewaskum

School District. "We hired Mr. Kriewaldt knowing that Mr. Zarling would be retiring soon. I felt Mr. Kriewaldt could continue with the leadership instilled at KES by Mr. Zarling."

Goeden revealed that she was also excited about Kriewaldt's work in the gifted and talented program at Plymouth's School District. She was certain that he would implement those practices into the classroom, and she was right.

KHS received bomb threat

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
andrew@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- A threat was made to blow up Kewaskum High School (KHS) on Wednesday, May 30. However, only a handful of folks knew about the threat found by a teacher in the morning, and quick thinking averted panic.

According to a Kewaskum Police Department report, KHS principal, Christine Horbas notified Superintendent of Schools Mike Krumm who called police after a bomb threat was found at the school inside a men's bathroom stall. The message stated "There's a bomb in school and will blow up on 5-30."

The report states that Horbas told police she didn't feel the threat was legitimate for several reasons. First, being that day was noted as senior skip day, she told police that members of the junior class were also planning a skip day.

School officials and law enforcement were unable to substantiate the threat. Horbas and assistant principal Tom Fischer ordered janitors to check the entire school for anything suspicious in nature.

Horbas stated in an interview that with students and teachers inside the building and already beginning their day, school administrators went classroom-to-classroom asking teachers if anything was "amiss" in their rooms. There was no mention to students or teachers of the threat found. "We did not want to alarm teachers; we did not want to alarm students if it was unnecessary," Horbas stated.

Ultimately, nothing was found amiss nor was any type of explosive

Two injured in Friday crash

Two people were injured in a two-vehicle crash on Townline Road at Highway H at the town of Kewaskum/town of Wayne town limits. Injuries received were not life-threatening that involved a woman and small child. The Washington County Sheriff's Department responded to the scene at 5:45 p.m. on Friday June 1, and was later joined by Kewaskum Fire Department and EMS and Kohlsville First Responders. Washington County Sheriff's Department Captain Steve Gonwa stated the accident occurred as David J. Schmidt, 37, of Kewaskum was stopped for a stop sign on Townline Road. He told sheriff's deputies that he did not see a westbound mini van being driven by Lynn Quissek, 40, of Allenton. The two collided. Kewaskum ambulance transported Quissek and a four-year-old passenger in Schmidt's vehicle to St. Joseph's Hospital in the town of Polk. Schmidt and an 18-month-old passenger in Quissek's van were uninjured. Both vehicle sustained major front-end damage and were towed from the scene.

"Personally, he has been a big asset to our school district, when we had leadership concerns. I really do not want to see him go, however, he has worked very hard to attain his doctorate. I know he will have continued success in his next position," she concluded.

"It (Kewaskum) has been a wonderful place to work. I have made so many friends," Dr. Kriewaldt stated. He referred to his departure as not a door closing, but another door opening, because he would like to one-day return to the District.

Dr. Kriewaldt stated the position in the Erin District presented an opportunity to further his career in education administration. He earned his doctorate of education degree from Cardinal Stritch University on May 20.

In his 11 years working in the district, Dr. Kriewaldt stated he is most proud of revamping the elementary schools' buildings, primarily the construction of KES and remodeling at Wayne and Farmington. He is also proud of the many opportunities he has had working with families and seeing those students achieve their goals.

"I see this district really going forward. We have the right speed and direction. It's difficult to walk away from that," Dr. Kriewaldt concluded.

In his resignation to the Board of Education, Dr. Kriewaldt offered to assist his replacement at no charge to the district. Superintendent of Schools Mike Krumm did not respond to an inquiry as to how Kriewaldt's position will be filled.

The Erin School District describes itself as a rural 4K through eighth grade district with small class sizes. The total student population is 375. Students are funneled to Hartford Union High School after attending Erin Middle School. Kriewaldt will replace Dr. Sally Jo Nelson on July 1.

Reporter's note: It has been a privilege working with Dr. Kriewaldt. I have seen him achieve many goals tirelessly and thanklessly all while moving our school district forward. He is a leader and his departure will be a huge loss. We have not always agreed on things, however, it never impeded on our working relationship. I wish you the best Kieth, and look forward to working with you once again.

Police searching for man printing checks

KEWASKUM- The Police Department is investigating a case where a Fox Valley man has made off with over $500 by cashing counterfeit payroll checks he is believed to have printed himself. The man cashed two checks at Geidel's Piggly Wiggly in Kewaskum on May 6 and returned with another on May 29. However on his last trip, he wasn't anticipating store manager Aaron Laatsch getting smart to his game.

The last bogus check that Jason Williams tried to cash at Piggly Wiggly was from Tennesse Ace Hardware. While a cashier was with Williams, Laatsch called police. Suspecting something was awry, Williams bolted leaving behind a key piece of evidence, his driver's license.

The first string of fake checks was from The Grand Larsony Tavern in Kewaskum. Williams cashed two of them.

Police Chief Richard Knoebel urges anyone who may know the whereabouts of Williams to call the Kewaskum Police Department at (262) 626-2323 or The Washington County Police Chiefs' tip-line at 1-800-232-0594 found.

Taking a unique approach to the serious situation, a letter to parents was sent on Friday, June 1. Horbas stated they waited because they wanted parents to be able to avoid a rushed weekday exchange between students and parents. She hoped with the weekend, parents would have the time to sit down and have a serious discussion with their children about the seriousness of the situation.

Horbas went on to say, "We wanted specifically for parents to talk with their children, especially with what happened with those Hartford children. We wanted to make sure parents are having that first communication with their children about bombs and how inappropriate that is and what can happen with you."

In her opinion Horbas believed that with a general announcement or assembly students would not have taken the situation seriously. She also thought it may have prompted a copy-cat effect.

"The last thing I want is to see a Kewaskum student trying to play a joke and get sent to prison for three years. I hope that a sincere one-on-one adult conversation would make sure that doesn't happen in the future," Horbas finished.

The district has a policy regarding bomb threats that ultimately has the building principal making decisions for the school. Horbas and her administrative team followed the plan in place. A copy of that plan can be found on our website with this article. We also invite you to comment on the policy and the approach taken with this threat on our community bulletin board also on our website.

Mauthe Lake campground and Horserider's camp receive modern improvements

A view of the new shower/bathroom facility in the 300 section of Mauthe Lake Recreation Area.

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

MAUTHE LAKE- A new bathroom facility awaits those camping at the recreation area. The facility has toilets and showers, both needed after a day on the new bike trail reported on last week. The New Prospect Horserider's camp is also undergoing a remodeling project so to speak.

The improvements come from funds through the state's Knowles-Nelson Stewardship Fund according to forest superintendent, Jerry Leiterman. The Knowles-Nelson Stewardship Fund was established in 1989, to preserve Wisconsin's most significant natural resources for future generations, as well as to provide the land base and recreational facilities needed for quality outdoor experiences. The program was reauthorized in 2000 and is authorized through 2010.

Campers in the 300 group sites at Mauthe Lake Recreation Area will enjoy new bathroom and shower facilities while camping this year. Leiterman explained the new facility is state of the art for state parks throughout the country.

In addition to the shower and bathroom, which have been separated into two separate areas, a multi-need room is also available for families or those with mobility handicaps. According to Leiterman the toilets and sinks were designed separate of the shower area to eliminate humidity.

Horse riders will be ecstatic to see the construction at the New Prospect Horse Riders Camp on Highway 55. Leiterman declared that brush clearing is now underway. After the clearing takes place, the entire camp will be redesigned and an acre larger.

The camp will increase eight family (six person) sites, from 12 to 20. The three current group sites (for 20 campers) are being moved away from the family sites but will remain available. A toilet building and an open-air shelter box stalls will also be added to the group sites.

Leiterman stated that the redesign is to accommodate those with horse trailers and to add more sites, due to the increased use of the camp. The new campsites will accommodate those with large trailers, as they will be able to drive through their site instead of having to back their trailers into the site. However, a limited number of back-in sites will be available for those with smaller trailers.

Never professionally designed when it was built in the 1950's from an old farmstead, Leiterman said he and his staff realized that they were not meeting the needs of the current users. He also noted that at the time, it was never built to become a camping area.

Construction is expected to start in August and run into fall. If construction goes without a hitch the redesigned camp should be open in May 2008.

The horse riders' camp will cost around $300,000 and is funded through Knowles-Nelson Stewardship Fund. Leiterman added that local horse associations such as Northern Kettle Moraine Horse Trail Association and the Plymouth Trail Riders will donate time and materials as well as funds and final enhancements.

KEWASKUM- A hobby has now turned to a full-time career for one soon-to-be village resident. After about ten years as a recreational "scrap booker" Linda Schickert will go pro with the opening of The Scrap Nook store downtown. Schickert reveals that scrap booking started for her as a hobby. However lately, it has turned into much more than that. "I started doing them (scrapbooks) for grandkids and now I am doing genealogy. I have been teaching people and doing that for them as well," she reported.

Schickert says she plans to leave her job at Menomonee Falls' Wacker Corporation in the purchasing department as a buyer. However, until a replacement can be found, she will continue to work part-time. "I decided it was time to pursue my dream and go for it," she quipped.

The store is located at 127 Main Street, east of Kewaskum Floral. The building was previously home to a hair and nail salon, although walking into the building, you would never know it.

Schickert divulged that many renovations have been made inside. The entry has been opened, enlarging the whole front end of the building. Towards the rear of the store is a good-sized airy classroom. Groups can reserve the room at anytime for a morning, afternoon or evening session.

Her goal was to transform the space into a quaint little store. Walking inside, you wouldn't need to know the name of the store, your eyes will tell you where you are at, The Scrap Nook.

The "nook" boasts a large variety of supplies for scrapbook aficionados and those assembling their own greeting cards or invitations. Racks inside are full of scrapbook albums, embellishments, adhesives, assorted trade publications and creative cutting tools.

Schickert stated that a few of the names she is carrying are Doodle Bug, Bazzil, Jolee and Karen Foster. But a trip to the store will reveal the thousands of other brands of handmade papers, card stock, patterned paper and category papers in a variety of colors. Items can be specially ordered for customers as well.

She explained that placing her first order with many of her suppliers was difficult because she didn't know the needs of her customers. She is hoping to get input from them, so she can have stock that appeals to all her creative customers.

"I am looking forward to personal contact with my customers. I want The Scrap Nook to be the type of store where we take time helping our customers," Schickert explained. Building relationships with her customers, she says, will be key to The Scrap Nook's success.

The Scrap Nook will also offer a unique service unlike similar stores in the area whereas Schickert will offer

Washington County Fair announces national entertainment line-up

Washington County Fair Park officials are pleased to announce the 2007 National Entertainment line-up for the Washington County Fair, scheduled for July 24-29.

Appearing on Wednesday, July 25, at 8 p.m. on the main stage will be the ever popular group Chicago. After 40 years in the business, their hits in the 60s, 70s, 80s and 90s have given the popular group 20 top 10 hits, five number one records and five gold singles ranging from rock, pop, R&B, jazz and swing. Great hits such as "Make Me Smile," "Does Anybody Really Know What Time It Is?" "Saturday In The Park" and "Just You and Me," to name a few, will be performed by members Robert Lamm on keyboards and vocals, Lee Loughnané on trumpet, James Pankow, trombone, Walt Parazaider, woodwinds, Bill Champlin, keyboards, guitar and vocals, Jason Scheff, bass, vocals, Tris Imboden, drums, and Keith Howland, guitar.

Please note, due to a scheduling conflict, Creedence Clearwater Revisited will not be appearing.

Returning on Thursday, July 26 is Willie Nelson. Willie is not only a country music hero, he is an American icon. His extraordinary career has produced such great hits such as "Georgia On My Mind," "On The Road Again," "Whisky River," and "If You've Got the Money, I've Got The Time." Throughout his life, Willie has not only entertained, but has provided a part of himself as our country's heritage. With hair as long as his generosity and talent as big as his heart, there is also a compassion that appears to be endless. Mark your calendar for Thursday at 8 p.m. to see a repeat performance of Willie Nelson.

Friday, July 27 will showcase two popular groups. Opening at 6:30 p.m. will be John Kay and Steppenwolf, Their Farewell Tour. John Kay and Steppenwolf have emerged as one of rock's most respected bands, delivering hard-hitting, personally-charged music for more than three decades. Such Steppenwolf standards as "Born to Be Wild," "Magic Carpet Ride," "Rock Me," and "Monster" stand amongst rock's most indelible anthems. John Kay and Steppenwolf's current members include founding member John Kay, featured on vocals and guitar, Michael Wilk, keyboards, bass, Ron Hurst, drums and Danny Johnson, guitar.

Following John Kay and Steppenwolf will be Paul Rogers, who has sold over 90 million records and has led three bands, Bad Company, Free and Queen to worldwide success. His career spans an era from 1968 to 2007. Songs expected to hear Paul perform include "Bad Company," "Feel Like Making Love," and "Shooting Star."

Saturday, July 28 will feature "Hair at the Fair." Performing at 7 p.m. will be the group Skid Row, followed by Slaughter and ending with Vince Neil of Motley Crue.

Skid Row is made up of five talented young men including Rob Affuso, drums, Sebastian Bach, vocalist, Rachel Bolan, bass, Scotti Hill guitar and Dave "Snake" Sabo, guitar. They made their mark on the music business in the late 80s and early 90s. Performing great hits such as "18 and Life," "Youth Gone Wild" will guarantee incredible music that cannot be surpassed.

Following Skid Row will be Slaughter, featuring Mark Slaughter on vocals and guitar, Dana Strum on bass, Blas Elias on drums and Jeff Blando on guitar. Together, the group has spanned a decade of rock and roll from 1990-2006. Well known for hits "Wild Life" and "Eternal Live" is guaranteed to entertain rock fans.

The main feature of the evening will be hard rock, heavy metalist Vince Neil of Motley Crue, spanning the years of 1981 to present. He is a great musician and songwriter, performing vocals and playing keyboard and guitar. Although Vince is a solo act, he will perform great Motley Crue hits such as "Shout At The Devil," "Theatre of Pain" and "Girls, Girls, Girls" also solo singles such as "Promise Me," "Can't Change Me," and "Sister of Pain."

New to the entertainment area this year will be reserved seating for the Wednesday and Thursday evening shows. Fairgoers can purchase a reserved ticket for $11 (or $12 by phone) that will entitle them to a reserved seat in front of the stage. There is no need to bring your own lawn chair or blanket or get there early to get a front row seat. We will have a seat waiting for you and you can enter one hour before show time. Please note this price does not include admission to the fair.

Friday and Saturday shows will feature reserved standing concert space and tickets can be purchased at the same price as listed above.

Reserved tickets are presently on sale for all four shows. For more information on reserved seating, please contact the Washington County Fair at 262-677-5060 Monday through Friday between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

WB Farmer's Market expands for 2007

Downtown West Bend welcomes the 2007 Farmers' Market season, which runs June 2 through October 27. With live entertainment and new vendors, this year's Farmers' Market series will have something for everyone.

The Farmers' Market has always been a one-stop-shop for locally grown and made products. Fresh fruits and vegetables, Door County cherries, baked goods, jams and jellies, eggs, honey, cheese are just a few of the items visitors can pick up each Saturday. New vendors this year will add to the excitement by selling bakery goods, organic produce, beef and more! In addition to food items, the Farmer's Market showcases indoor and outdoor plants, wool, fresh cut flowers and other garden gifts.

This year the Farmers' Market will continue to extend all the way to the North Main Street roundabout. This area of the market not only increases the span of the market by several blocks, it also increases visibility from Hwy 33—enticing even more people to check out all of the fresh products and fun activities.

There are even more activities taking place at the southern end of the market in Old Settler's Park. Here market-goers can experience live music from a variety of performers or watch an educational demonstration. This year, demonstrations being offered include artisan soap making, gano coffee preparation, and creative ways to prepare chicken. Musical acts, ranging from folk groups to a capella acts, will fill the air with music as shoppers make their way around the market. For a complete entertainment and demonstration schedule, visit www.downtownwestbend.com.

For the convenience of visitors, plenty of free parking is available in the parking lots along the Milwaukee River and on side streets throughout Downtown West Bend.

West Bend is located off of Hwy 45, just 45 minutes North of Milwaukee. For more information about the Downtown West Bend Farmers' Market, visit www.downtownwestbend.com or call (262) 338-3909. Don't miss the Farmers' Market on June 9, 2007!

Juggler to Perform at C-sport Library

People of all ages are invited to the Campbellsport Public Library on Tuesday, June 12 at 6:30 pm to laugh with delight as Alan "Mr. Tricks" Tilove juggles a variety of objects. During this family friendly show "Mr. Tricks" will juggle items such as balls, rings, clubs, hats, bats, tennis rackets, shorts, stuffed animals and beanie babies. This show is sure to be a lot of fun.

Registration is not necessary. If you have any questions please call 533 - 8534 or stop in at the Campbellsport Public Library at 220 North Helena Street.

During the summer the Campbellsport Public Library is open Monday and Tuesday from 12 to 8 pm, Wednesday and Thursday from 10 to 6 pm and on Friday from 10 to 5 pm.

Tips on Wildlife Photography

The Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit's Summer Evening Events continues with "Tips on Wildlife Photography." The program will be held on Saturday, June 9, from 7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center. The Ice Age Visitor Center is located off of Hwy 67 half mile west of Dundee. Through the generous support of the Friends of the Kettle Moraine, this program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

When you look through a wildlife magazine, do you admire all those amazing photographs of beautiful birds, magnificent mammals and incredible insects? Do you wonder how those photographers were able to capture those fantastic images? It is not always in the type of equipment they used, but more on how they got themselves in the right place at the right time.

Dr. Jack Bartholmai lives

near the Horicon Marsh and has spent countless hours in pursuit capturing the marsh resident on film and now in digital format. You may have seen some of his beautiful images in the Horicon State Bank yearly calendar. Join Dr. Bartholmai as he provides some tips on capturing wildlife images. He will focus on techniques to get close to wildlife so that you can be in the right spot at the right time for that once in a life time shot. He will also cover how to improve the composition of your photographs. His presentation will be tailored to the beginning and intermediate photographers.

For further information or directions, contact the forest staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The center's phone number is (920) 533-8322 and is open in Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Cedar Community offers summer day camps

Are you looking for a summer camp that's just a little different from all the others? Consider enrolling your child or grandchild in Cedar Community's Discover Day Camps. The camps offer a fun intergenerational alternative bringing children ages 7 to 12 together with older adults.

Cedar Community's second Day Camp session will be held August 14 to 16 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The camp, "A Tourist Around Town," has the children touring our great state with a visit to a cheese factory in operation, a local candy store where they can see candy 'unwrapped,' the Houdini Museum in Appleton, a Clydesdale horse show, a working farm in action and the Horicon Marsh and its wildlife. The cost for session two is $75 per child and includes admission to each attraction and transportation. They will need to bring a bag lunch and beverage each day of the camp.

To learn more or to register for Discover Day Camps, call or email Wendy Vorpahl at 262.306.4225 or wvorpahl@cedarcommunity.org.

A "Big Ben" will again strike in the Holy Trinity Church tower, so decided the members of the Kiwanis Club of Kewaskum at their last weekly meeting. The "tower clock" seems to be an institution with us and it is hard living without. Within the next week members of the Kiwanis Club will solicit all adults to contribute to the fund. The clock will cost approximately $2,700.00.

The Bank of Kewaskum announced this week that effective June 6, they will be open for business every Friday until 9:30 p.m.

Several young people are to be confirmed during service on Sunday, May 25, in the St. Lucas Ev. Lutheran Church. The Confirmation class consists of the following: Audrey Klumb, Ruth Schultz, Winnifred Justman, Reed Zimdars, Richard Roesel, Lloyd Klemke, Fredric Seefeldt, Norman Zuehlke, Merlin Bowe and Sylvester Dettmann.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. R. George Petri, Route 3, Campbellsport, on May 20, and to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fleischman, St. Kilian, on May 15. Sylvan Learning's Helpful Hints for Student Success:

Play the Game of Math: Fund Ways to Introduce Math to your Children

Is this a familiar scene? You are sitting at the kitchen table, helping your child with homework, and struggling to help him memorize math facts and formulas. Learning feels like a chore instead of a joy.

Drilling and memorization is an important part of math instruction, but it can also be boring, frustrating and discouraging for children. Parents can help to make math fun and approachable by linking it to real-world examples.

Instill the joy of learning math with your child by using fun games and activities to help them apply what they've learned. The following are some examples recommended by Sylvan Learning Center:

1) Play popular board games that require basic math skills. Chutes and Ladders* and RackO* develop number sense. "24" and Yahtzee* help computation speed and accuracy. Problem solving skills are developed through games like TriOminos* and Connect Four*.

2) Assemble puzzles with your child. Puzzles help children learn spatial and visual organization. These are also the basic lessons of geometry.

3) A deck of cards can be a valuable math tool. Card games begin to teach the lesson of probability. Using a deck of cards is a great way to reinforce addition and subtraction memorization for children learning basic math facts.

4) Dice are helpful for younger children to practice number facts to six. If they are stumped, they can count the dots to find the sum.

5) Relate math to your child's favorite sport. Keeping score is a math exercise! Ask them to calculate the number of points needed for her favorite team to win. Encourage her to create multiple point combinations to reach that score.

6) Use driving time as math game time. Invite children to figure out how long it will take to get to your destination or estimate how much it will cost to fill up the gas tank.

7) If your children receive allowances, use it to formulate mathematics problems and teach them about saving. For older children, relate percentage problems to their allowances.

8) Dominoes are a great game for children of all ages. Smaller children can use them to recognize similar quantities, while older children can explore the concepts of probability.

For more educational resources for children in grades pre-K through 12, call Sylvan in West Bend at 262-306-9999 or in Fond du Lac at 920-921-6463 or visit www.educate.com.

Generation Why? You're in the Money!

by Terri Schlichenmeyer

No matter how much you have, you can never have enough money. So how about these fun-to-know facts about that folded stuff in your wallet...

In the United States, the $1 and the $20 bills are most common in everyday usage. The $1 bill accounts for nearly half of all the money that the government prints. Uncle Sam could tell you that the average $1 bill lasts less than two years, while the average $20 circulates for about four years.

Want to really measure your wealth? It won't be easy: it takes 14.5 million dollar bills to make a stack a mile high. You might have a hard time getting all those dollar bills in one place, though, because they'll collectively weigh about 32,000 pounds.

And if you're thinking you might need a new job so you can make more of that green stuff, how about going to work with the Bureau of Engraving? They make about 37 million new notes each day, with a face value of nearly $7 million.

Now you know. And when it comes to money, it all makes cents, doesn't it?

Happy Dad's Day

Get dad a special Father's Day gift that's made in Wisconsin

There are gifts for the Badger fan to the gardener and the bookworm to the outdoorsman.

If the Dad on your list is a gardener, you'll find Fiskars pruners, a Dramm Rain Wand from Manitowoc, or the Wisconsin Garden Guide book.

If your Dad is a bookworm, WisconsinGoods.com has a wide selection of books about Wisconsin ranging from Green Bay Packers trivia to a unique Wisconsin photo book featuring pictures that were all taken by a camera suspended on a kite.

The Camel Bookmobile

By Masha Hamilton
HarperCollins, $24.95 320 pages

Are you satisfied with your life as it is?

Does the routine of your week - driving the same route, eating at the same restaurants, doing the same work - give you comfort? Are you delighted with how each day is nearly identical to the one before? Are you happy with the way life unfolds? Or is "happiness" sadly out of the equation?

Fiona Sweeney has wanderlust. All her life, she's been unhappy, unsettled, wanting to make a difference. In the new book "The Camel Bookmobile" by Masha Hamilton, Fi chooses to make a difference to others and to herself.

All her life, Fi was a restless one but now the itch was worse. There were so many opportunities not taken in her life, too many missed chances. Everyone knew Fi was unsettled, but they were concerned when she signed on to work with the Camel Bookmobile. Was literacy so important that she had to travel to Africa to see it achieved?

Matani, the teacher in the village of Mididima, Kenya, was happy to see camels trudging over the dirt every two weeks, because he liked the American with the unkempt hair, and he liked to speak English with her. Matani never felt completely accepted by others in the village because, back when he should have been bonding with his age-group, Matani was in Distant City, getting an education. But the books come now and Matani is hoping that a son will be the next happy arrival in his life.

Kanika was glad to see the camels, too, but for a different reason. Kanika longed for bigger things, and the camels meant escape. She wanted to leave Mididima to become a teacher like Matani. She, too, felt unaccepted, and her only true friend was Scar Boy. She knew she could trust him with her longings because no one but she ever talked to Scar Boy.

Scar Boy had a secret of his own, and he knew it would bring dishonor on his family and his village. Now some books are missing, the village elders are concerned, and the gods are angry enough to withhold rain. Can Fiona save Scar Boy from disgrace and save the Camel Bookmobile program, too?

So you want to go on an exotic vacation this year, but you don't have the money? Spend a few dollars and pick up "The Camel Bookmobile" instead. Author Masha Hamilton's writing is so vivid that you'll feel the Kenyan heat emanating from the pages, you'll feel dust on your arms, and you'll want some water to quench your thirst. I liked how this novel unfolds from the viewpoint of several characters, each with hopes and dreams they dare to imagine. This is one of those books that you want to pass on to your friends immediately after you close the back cover.

If you or your reading group is looking for something get your vacation jump-started, this is a story to find. For your first summer book, "The Camel Bookmobile" should get you over the reading hump quite easily.

Your Just Desserts

Americans Are Sweet On Georgia Peaches

Peaches are packed with natural goodness and the kind of mouth-watering flavor that makes them a welcome addition to any recipe.

(NAPSA)—There's nothing quite as peachy as a Georgia peach, whether you eat it as a sweet snack or serve it in a scrumptious cobbler.

Peaches are not just delicious, they're also incredibly nutritious. Major nutrients include vitamins A and C and potassium.

This succulent fruit is an excellent source of fiber and is good for blood sugar and keeping cholesterol low. A real plus for calorie counters, cholesterol-free peaches contain about 30 calories.

Georgia peaches are especially filling, making them a good snack choice. They also provide a natural plant compound called flavonoids, which research suggests may help prevent cancer and heart disease.

This delicious cobbler is a tasty way to work toward increasing the amount of fruits and vegetables you eat every day:

Georgia Peach Cobbler

8 cups sliced Georgia peaches
2 cups sugar
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring

¾ cup butter or margarine
Pastry for double-crust pie
Vanilla ice cream

Combine peaches, sugar, flour and nutmeg in a Dutch oven; set aside to allow syrup to form (approx. 15 minutes). Bring peach mixture to a boil; reduce heat to low, and simmer 10 minutes or until peaches are tender. Remove from heat and stir in vanilla and margarine.

Roll half of pastry to ¼" thickness; cut into a circle to fit a two-quart baking dish. Spoon half of mixture into lightly buttered baking dish; top with pastry. Bake at 475° F. for 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Spoon remaining peach mixture over baked pastry.

Roll remaining pastry to ¼" thickness and cut into 1" strips; arrange in lattice design over peaches. Bake an additional 15-20 minutes until browned.

Allow to cool slightly before serving. Serve with vanilla ice cream.
Serves 8.

Water Quality Report 2006

KEWASKUM WATER UTILITY

KEWASKUM WATERWORKS

Water System Information

If you would like to know more about the information contained in this report, please contact Jerry Gilles at (262) 626-4310.

Health Information

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's safe drinking water hotline (800-426-4791).

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Environmental Protection Agency's safe drinking water hotline (800-426-4791).

Source(s) of Water

| Source id | Source | Depth (in feet) |
|-----------|-------------|-----------------|
| 1 | Abandoned | 0 |
| 2 | Groundwater | 503 |
| 3 | Groundwater | 460 |
| 4 | Groundwater | 360 |
| 5 | Groundwater | 280 |

A summary of the source water assessment for KEWASKUM WATERWORKS is available at: http://prodoasext.dnr.wi.gov/inter1/pk_swap_web_p_swap_summary?i_r_seq_no=138789

Educational information

The sources of drinking water, and bottled water, include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

- Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.

- Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming.

- Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff and residential uses.

- Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff and septic systems.

- Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water, which shall provide the same protection for public health.

Number of Contaminants Required to be Tested

This table displays the number of contaminants that were required to be tested in the last five years. The CCR may contain up to five years worth of water quality results. If a water system tests annually, or more frequently, the results from the most recent year are shown on the CCR. If testing is done less frequently, the results shown on the CCR are from the past five years.

| Contaminant Group | # of Contaminants |

Additional Health Information

While your drinking water meets USEPA's standard for arsenic, it does contain low levels of arsenic. USEPA's standard balances the current understanding of arsenic's possible health effects against the costs of removing arsenic from drinking water. USEPA continues to research the health effects of low levels of arsenic, which is a mineral known to cause cancer in humans at high concentrations and is linked to other health effects such as skin damage and circulatory problems.

WEST BEND- SynergyHealth St. Joseph's Hospital has honored Debra N. Mielkie, RN, and Molly L. Erickson, RN, APRN, with the hospital's 2007 Excellence in Nursing Award.

"This award provides us an opportunity to celebrate the special work that nurses do for patients," said hospital President Michael Laird, who presented the award during National Nurses Week May 6-12. "Deb Mielkie and Molly Erickson are an inspiration to their peers, to staff and nursing students, and most importantly to patients and their families."

Mielkie is a registered nurse in the hospital's intensive care unit. She began at St. Joseph's as a clinical assistant 10 years ago, advanced to a Level III nurse, and is continuing towards certification as a Critical Care Nurse. She has led nurses in the transition to electronic medical records, helped establish standardized nursing processes, served as a preceptor for nursing students, and has been an advocate of teaching at the patient, family, and staff level.

Erickson is an advanced practice registered nurse and clinical educator on the medical surgical floor. A master's degree nurse who has been with the hospital for three and one-half years, she has been actively involved in staff education to improve patient care, and provided the staff with leadership and high clinical standards as they incorporated new processes and technology, including electronic medication administration and barcoding.

The Excellence in Nursing Award is a peer-nominated award that recognizes the outstanding skills and contributions of an individual nurse at St. Joseph's Hospital. The nurses were presented with an engraved crystal award. A matching award is on display in the hospital to recognize their achievement.

to do page layouts, or an entire scrapbook for busy folks. Those clients can pick out the embellishments and paper they wish to use or Schickert offers to complete the entire project.

Schickert also intends on offering classes on card making, scrapbook making, how to use certain tools and basic scrapbook knowledge weekly. Other events for customers will include weekend getaways (where scrapbookers go to a hotel or bed and breakfast to scrapbook, relax and learn new techniques) and all night scraps (where you can go to the store's classroom and scrapbook all night long. During such events participants share snacks, learn from other scrapbookers and share new ideas).

Crediting her husband Gene, their family and friends, she says, "Without the help of family and friends this would not have been possible."

The store will officially open for business on Wednes-

Chalk up a couple more feature wins for Goeden

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

The No. 11 car piloted by Kewaskum's Donny Goeden continues to find victory lane this year. For the past three weeks, Goeden has won feature races in IRA (Interstate Racing Association) competitions.

Last Saturday night, June 2, Goeden was definitely the fastest in the field racing at the Charter Raceway Park in Beaver Dam, the facility that suffered major damage a week ago when a fire destroyed the concession stand, VIP seating area and scoring tower.

Charter offered a double feature Saturday as the Badger Midgets raced in addition to the IRA cars, and the owners had to do some fast work just to be ready for the race.

"They had a catering system come in, and they put up a temporary building (for scoring)," Goeden said Sunday evening. "They really did a nice job."

And so did Goeden, except for timing where he had to settle for a time of 12 and .4 seconds (12.4) on the quarter-mile dirt oval.

"It was wet and heavy ... a fast track," Goeden said, reporting he won the heat race, which put him fifth for the start of the 30-lap feature.

Goeden listed Mike Reinke of Sheboygan Falls, Travis Whitney of Minnesota and a local boy, Scott Neitzel, as his main competitors in the event.

"I passed Whitney on about the eighth lap. I passed Neitzel on about the 11th," Goeden went on. "There were a couple cautions ... we were able to stay up front. We had a bunch of cars lapped."

On Friday, May 25th, Goeden and his crew made a long trip to Superior for a race there. Starting seventh, Goeden dueled Scott Bierterz from West Bend for the lead and finally got by him on lap 12 (out of 25) and stayed out front until he found the checkered flag.

Bierterz powered his No. 4B car to second place. "It was a good finish for him. That's his highest finish," Goeden said, adding, "We actually won up there last year, too."

When asked about his string, Goeden reported he has won three weekends in a row not three races in a row because he crashed Saturday night, May 26th at Brainard, Minn. The car owner went to work quickly to get the Maxim Chassis back together for the race at Beaver Dam.

"Bob and Lance Walldan did a good job putting the car back together," Goeden said, making it possible for him to win feature race No. 3 for the '07 season. "We're having a good season. We have a good car, and a good crew."

Concerning how Kewaskum's Mike Kertscher did Saturday night at Beaver Dam, Goeden said his friend and competitor ran into some bad luck. "He broke in hot lapping." The two Kewaskum racers had battled each other for the top spot at Wilmot three weeks ago, with Goeden surviving Kertscher's challenge.

The IRA circuit will be in Oshkosh for a show Friday night, June 8 and on Saturday, June 9 they return to the Wilmot oval.

Concerning the points standings in the IRA, Goeden said he figures he is about ninth right now.

Holt puts the clamps on Kiel hitters

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

When the lightning came Friday evening, June 1, the Kewaskum High School baseball team had scored enough runs and played enough innings against Kiel that it was considered a full game. Behind the 1-hit effort of junior John Holt, the Indians rolled to a decisive 9-0 victory, successfully opening their Eastern Wisconsin Conference (EWC) season.

"It was two outs in our half of the fifth," Indians coach Dave Donath said about the timing of the storm that moved into the area.

Donath was thrilled with Holt's effort, which included 10 strikeouts and no walks. The lone hit off Holt came in the top of the fifth inning, according to Donath, who said, "The six-hole hitter (Aaron Schnur) got a single to right field."

"He pitched well tonight," Donath said of the 6-foot-2 right-hander, who picked up his first win of the 2008 season.

The Indians gave their teammate plenty of support, scoring three runs in the bottom of the first and four in the fifth before the game was called because of the lightning. In the first, Casey Scheel drew a walk to lead off the game. He promptly stole second and scored on Nick Olla's double.

Dan Shea, who has been hitting the cover off the ball in Kewaskum's five games, singled, and then Matt Parrent came through with a clutch single, scoring Olla and Shea.

Donath reported Shea wound up going 2x3, with one RBI and a pair of stolen bases, while Olla was 1x2 with two RBIs and Parrent was 1x2 with two RBIs.

With the win, the Indians are 1-0 in the EWC and 4-1 overall.

After games at Two Rivers and Sheboygan Falls on Monday and Tuesday, the Indians return home this evening (Thursday), hosting New Holstein in a 4:30 p.m. game and the same time Friday against Campbellsport. Both are expected to be challengers for the EWC crown, according to Donath.

Kewaskum was slated to open EWC play at Plymouth Thursday evening but the game was rained out. No makeup date has been announced.

On Tuesday night, May 29, the Indians blasted Elkhart Lake 24-0 in a game that was more "like a glorified scrimmage," according to Donath, who said his team scored 17 runs in the bottom of the fourth. "I think we sent 24 hitters to the plate" in that inning.

Shea led the Indians, going 4x5, while Bill Otten was 3x4, and John Holt had a pair of hits.

"Matt Parent also had a couple of hits," Donath said, reporting his team went to using wooden bats for this game, at the request of the Resorter coach. The Central Lakeshore Conference has gone away from aluminum bats and back to wooden ones because of an injury suffered by a Howards Grove pitcher a couple of years ago.

Kewaskum upends Long Lake

The Kewaskum Little League Black Squad upended Long Lake in their first game of the year. The end result was 4-3.

Alex Johnson pitched four innings and Mike Holt two innings.

Joe Ballard had a hit and brought in a run with it. Holt scored on a grounder to first. Jake Wade had a two-run double. He was also two for three with two doubles during the game.

Dehler headlines KHS selections on all-conference softball team

Kewaskum Gold pony league picks up a pair of wins

When it came to selecting this year's all-Eastern Wisconsin Conference (EWC) fast pitch softball team, the coaches certainly knew about Marissa Dehler's skills. How could they miss them?

The Kewaskum High School senior batted a hefty .455, stole 14 bases and played pretty good at shortstop for the Indians, who ended up 8-6 on the year and in third place in the EWC standings. Her season conference statistics included 20 hits in 44 trips to the plate, four doubles, two triples, and one home run.

"She had an .800 fielding percentage. She had 10 errors," coach Jeff Gosse said.

So for the second year, Dehler was elected to the first team.

When asked what it's like to have a player like Dehler, Gosse said, "Great! She's probably the best softball player that came through here (KHS)."

Gosse went on, "I really believe she would have a chance to play Division 1 ball if she wanted to."

Dehler is enrolled at Marquette University, which unfortunately does not offer softball as an intercollegiate sport. "Only as a club sport," Gosse said.

Dehler wasn't the only Indian who was cited in the balloting. Senior Bekki Heberer, junior pitcher Brooke Wodsedalek and sophomore catcher Shaylah Haire were named to the second unit while Tiffany Hedlund and Brandy Wagner were given honorable mention.

Heberer the team's second baseman, batted .386, going 17x44 with seven doubles, a pair of triples and 16 RBIs.

"She struggled this year (defensively), but she ended up .850," Gosse said about Heberer's five errors.

As far as Wodsedalek's skills, Gosse said her improvement was "like night and day over last year."

The Indians' starting pitcher threw 94 innings, struck out 77 while walking just 26 and she gave up 33 earned runs for a 2.46 ERA (earned run average).

"I would say she's one of the main reasons for our success (this season). She was able to keep us in ball games," Gosse said, "and she's determined to get better."

Haire was a nice surprise as catcher this spring, batting .289 with four doubles and a home run. "She's a very powerful hitter. She's the one who hit one out of Campbellsport," Gosse said. Her work behind the plate was also impressive. "She threw out five runners ... a lot of teams really didn't bother running on her," Gosse said.

Hedlund, a senior, batted .250 and had five assists from the outfield this season, with a .950 fielding average. "She has a great ability to go back on the ball," Gosse said, reporting Hedlund will be playing for Lakeland College next year.

The sophomore third baseman Wagner moved up to varsity and played like a veteran, according to Gosse, who said she batted an impressive .378 with 9 RBIs, five doubles and two triples. "She is a very strong hitter and a very strong arm," Gosse said of Wagner, who is expected to be one of the team leaders next year.

Campbellsport and Plymouth tied for the top spot in the EWC. Both sported 13-1 records in conference action.

Pleasure is very seldom found where it is sought. Our brightest flames are commonly kindled by unexpected sparks.
- Samuel Johnson

The Kewaskum Gold pony league team scored a 6-2 road win over Eden behind a great pitching performance by Brad Boegel and Mike Schladweiler.

The two pitchers combined to strike out 16 Eden players and gave up only one earned run. Boegel and Schladweiler also helped themselves with the bat. Boegel got Kewaskum on the board with a double that scored Tony Gonring, who had doubled to open the game. Schladweiler also had a good night as he went 2 x 3 with a towering home run and 2 RBI's.

Gonring led the hit parade for Kewaskum going 3 x 4 with an RBI. Garrett Yahr and Robbie Kuklinski each had a hit and an RBI.

The Gold finished the week with a Friday road game against Cascade. After falling behind by a score of 11-3, the Gold managed to score 19 runs in the last three innings. Schladweiler, Boegel and Austin Luedtke led Kewaskum with three hits apiece while Kyle Wesenberg and Robbie Kuklinski had two apiece.

The next game for the Gold is this Friday at 6:00 pm against Farmington. The home games for the pony league are played at the lighted diamond at the Kiwanis park.

KHS sprint relay takes 3rd behind school record time of 50.52

Relay team members take time for a photo after receiving their medals at the state track meet in LaCrosse this past weekend. Front row: Haley Gregoriou (alternate). Middle Jessi Forbes, Kelly Uelmen, Jess Liniewski and Nichole Kison. Back row: Coaches Matt Gundrum, Jerry Gosa and Jason Meinen

After suffering some emotional, frustrating moments on Friday, June 1, everything came together for the Kewaskum High School girls 4-by-100-meter relay team Saturday in the WIAA Division

2 Track and Field Meet held at Veterans Stadium on the UW-La Crosse campus.

The foursome of Jessi

Forbes, Jess Liniewski, Nichole Kison and Kelly Uelmen finished third among the nine finalists, and broke the school record (again) in the process. Their time in the finals was a rapid 50 and .52 (50.52) seconds.

"They did very well," KHS coach Jerry Gosa said. The foursome is comprised of three sophomores and a junior, meaning obviously more good news could come from the group in 2008.

Kewaskum came into the two-day competition seeded No. 2, behind Brown Deer, but finished with the seventh-fastest time in Friday's qualifying, despite turning in a time of 50.98, which was a record time.

The seventh place qualifying finish may have actually helped the Lady Indians. "It put us in Lane 1," Gosa said, which means we can see everybody."

Forbes got the quartet off to a good start, according to Gosa, who said, "We had already started to make up ground on Lane 2," then when Liniewski took her turn with the baton, "she started to work on the people in Lane 2." When Kison got the pass, Gosa, watching from the backstretch, said he started to think the team was in good position to place high. "We were in fifth or sixth," he said, adding, "Kelly had her work cut out for her" and got the job done.

"They cut a half second off the school record," Gosa said, reporting what helped was "They all had good handoffs." The old record had been held by Jessie Butler, Katie Patterson, Amanda Magnus and Rachel Dums.

Gosa reported they beamed on the victory stand, and he already talked with them about what is possible for next year, and the realization the same girls could have made the finals of the 4-by-200.

The team was disqualified Friday for a handoff out of the zone, so Gosa said there will be the thought in their minds they have some unfinished business to take care of in 2008.

Uelmen agrees and says it will be one of the quartet's goals for next year. For now, however, she is happy to be enjoying the third place. When asked how she was feeling after the top effort, she said, "pretty good ... a little tired, but good."

Uelmen described there was one anxious moment when the exchange from Kison to her nearly went awry.

"There was a split second when it (the baton) was in midair. It hit my fingertips, then rolled into my hand," Uelmen said. Once she got her grip on it, she ran as fast as she could.

Now that she and the others are certain they have a top relay team, they want to make sure the other relay is as strong.

"Getting third is something we can definitely do next year ... and better," Uelmen said. "Same with the 4-by-200 ... we'll see how it goes, and I'd like to make it to state in the 100."

Brown Deer and West Salem tied for first place in Division 2 with 39 points. With the six points from the relay, Kewaskum wound up in a tie for 39th.

Things did not pan out very well for senior Logan Staeger who tossed the discus 139 feet, 4 inches and did not make the finals. He was 12th among those throwing on Friday.

"He just didn't have a good day," Gosa said. "At that level, you have three throws, and when you don't make finals, it's disappointing. He needed 149 or 150 (feet), and he's capable of that."

Last year, Staeger reached the finals but did not place.

Senior Crystal Treptow cleared 9-0, the 11th best jump of the day in Division 2 and did not place.

People are generally more anxious to find out why things are so rather than whether things are so.

Rauch, Bryant represent KHS in tennis sectional

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

As usual, the Eastern Wisconsin Conference (EWC) was strong in boys tennis this spring, and that made things difficult for the Kewaskum Indians, who suffered through all kinds of injuries and were fielding several first-year varsity players.

The Indians had to settle for seventh place, ahead of only Kewaunee in the final standings, but Alex Rauch and Travis Bryant did manage to advance to the Division 2 sectional at Whitewater, which was definitely one of the highlights of the season.

To reach the sectionals, the two seniors outplayed Bevin and Jaeger (no first names were available) of University Lake School, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3 in the subsectional played at Portage (on May 21).

"They played probably their best match of the year," KHS coach Dan Ross said, but unfortunately the KHS pair could not duplicate that effort in the sectionals.

Going up against Monroe's duo of Tim Gellings and Rick Vogel, who were sporting a 15-5 record together, Rauch and Bryant ended their prep careers with a 2-6, 1-6 loss, finishing the year at 6-8.

"Realistically, if they had played like they played Monday (May 18), they would have won," Ross said, but, "Everything was just out ... They played aggressively, but the shots just weren't falling."

The only other KHS player who won a match in the subsectional was foreign exchange student, Marcello Franco, who was a great asset to the team this spring, according to Ross.

"He knocked off the No. 3 seed, then lost to the No. 2," Ross said about Franco's 1-6, 7-6 (7-3), 7-6 (7-5) victory over Yianni Glavas of University Lake School. Franco, who finished the season with a mark of 6-6, lost his second match in straight sets, 1-6, 3-6.

The other records of the KHS regulars are as follows: singles — Dan Parker, 5-10 at No. 1; Justin Graham, 1-11 at No. 2; Kyle Stoffel, 6-6 at No. 3; Chris Larson/Nathan Bandy, 3-8 at No. 2 doubles; and Tony Lewko/James Wiedmeyer, 2-7 at No. 3 doubles.

Parker, Wiedmeyer and Larson are juniors, and Bandy is a sophomore. All the others are seniors.

In the EWC Tournament held at the Sports Core in Kohler, Parker and Stoffel both finished fourth at their respective spots.

In the first round, Parker defeated Mitch Hahn of Kewaunee, 6-1, 6-1, then he lost to the eventual champion, Charlie Reinertsen of Kohler, 0-6, 1-6, and in the battle for third place came out on the short end of a 4-6, 0-6 decision of Mike Flood of Plymouth.

About Stoffel's day, Ross said, "He was the third seed but he was extremely sick that day. Stoffel survived a long first match, defeating Mike Ausloos of Chilton, 6-3, 6-4, but after that, I knew he had nothing left in the tank."

In the semifinals, Stoffel lost to Marti Chiu of Roncalli, 0-6, 3-6, then lost to Eric Kluz of Sheboygan Falls, 2-6, 3-6.

In the EWC Tournament, it was Kohler nipping Roncalli for top honors, 27-25, then came Plymouth with 15 points, Two Rivers, 12; Chilton and Sheboygan Falls each with 11; Kewaskum with 4 and Kewaunee 0.

In the overall standings, Kohler and Roncalli both had 63 points to share the EWC crown. Plymouth with 51; Sheboygan Falls, 35; Chilton, 33; Two Rivers, 32; Kewaskum, 20; and Kewaunee, 4, followed them.

Tough end to a very good season for boys golf team

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

It was another case of being close but no cigar for the Kewaskum High School golf team, which ended its 2007 campaign Tuesday, May 29 on a rather frustrating note. At the Division 2 sectional hosted at The Bull in Sheboygan Falls, teams needed to finish first or second to advance to this week's (June 4-5) WIAA State Golf Tournament.

Defending state champion Waukesha Catholic Memorial and Milwaukee University School claimed those two spots. The two posted respective team scores of 326 and 333.

The Indians came up short, ending in third place with a 340, and sophomore Ethan Geidel saw his bid to qualify as an individual hit some rocky road as well.

With his 82, Geidel was tied for the third and final individual qualifying spot but lost in a two-hole playoff to Brandon Gries of Kiel. Gries scored a four on the hole while Geidel had to take five strokes to get in the cup.

"Collectively and individually, the Indians let another opportunity slip away," KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt said, explaining several of his players had waited an entire year for another chance to beat Catholic Memorial and erase the bad memories of last year's ending to the meet, when a single shot kept them from earning a berth at state.

At the turn, the Indians were in fourth place with a 171, behind University School (161), Catholic Memorial (163), and New Berlin West (167). The Indians "held their own" on the back nine, according to Eichstedt, who said his team moved up one spot but not the two it needed to advance.

Geidel was seventh overall but third among those who did not qualify with a team. His card included a pair of 41s, but one number definitely stood out, the nine he took on the par-five No. 8 hole. To his credit, Geidel came right back with a birdie on the final hole for his 41, but as things turned out, even a seven on the hole would have eliminated the need for the playoff.

Casey Scheel ended his prep golf career with a very steady 44-40-84, while the Indians other senior, Andy McDonald, duplicated that number with nines of 43 and 41.

Where Kewaskum fell off again was at the Nos. 4 and 5 spots. Nick Gutbrod, shot a 99 in the EWC Tournament, then a 79 in the regional, and struggled this day and wound up with a 43-47-90, and Michael Korth, who had only played in one varsity match this spring, was way back with a 56-51-107.

Sectional Team Standings: 1. Catholic Memorial, 326; 2. University School of Milwaukee, 33; 3. Kewaskum, 340; 4. New Berlin West, 343; 5. Watertown Luther Prep, 345; 6. Thomas More, 360; 7. Random Lake, 364; 8. Union Grove, 367; 8. Lake Mills, 378.

- Top ten reasons college is like primary school:
10. You cry for your mother.
 9. You cross the street without looking for cars.
 8. Snack time is a necessity.
 7. You bundle up for the outdoors without caring what you look like (because everyone else looks as stupid as you do).
 6. You stay at home and play games with your friends.
 5. You wear your backpack on both shoulders.
 4. You wear big mittens.
 3. Playing in the snow is a legitimate activity.
 2. You take naps.
 1. You look forward to Kraft dinner, chicken fingers, and pizza.

Before going to college
I wish I knew ..

That it didn't matter how late my first class was, I'd still sleep through it.

That I could change so much and barely realize it.

That you can love a lot of people in a lot of different ways.

No matter how 'cool' you were in school, no one here cares.

That PJ's and hoodies are a legitimate outfit for everyday life.

That every clock on campus shows a different time.

That you can know everything and fail

a test and that you can know nothing and ace a test.

That I could get used to almost anything found out about my friends.

That most of my education would be obtained outside of lectures.

That Sunday is a figment of the world's imagination.

That Psychology is really Biology, that Biology is really Chemistry, that Chemistry is really Physics and that Physics is really Math.

That my parents would become so much smarter in the last few years.

You know you've adapted to college life when..
You actually like doing laundry at home where the washing machines work.
You'd rather clean than study especially if an essay is due.
"Oh *&#! how did it get so late!" comes out of your mouth at least once a night.
Parents' cooking becomes something you desire, not avoid.

You schedule your classes around sleep habits and popular bar nights.
You know the pizza boy by name and don't even need to read the menu.
You go to sleep when it's light and get up when it's dark.
You live for getting mail.
Looking out the window is a form of entertainment.

Prank phone calls become funny again.
You start thinking and sounding like your friends.
Highlighters are the coolest things on earth.
Rearranging your room is your favorite pastime.
Dollar stores are so cool.
The weekend lasts from Thursday to Monday.

We love you,

You know your in college when...

Quarters are like gold.
Flip-flops become as important as soap, and shampoo.
Being asleep by 2:30 a.m. is an early night.

New additions to the food groups: Mountain Dew, Doritos, Ben & Jerry's, Ho-Hos and Oreos.

You make sure your alarm clock has back-up batteries.

Duct tape heals all wounds.
Showers become less important.

Sleep becomes more important.
10 minutes is more than enough time to get ready for your first class.

Going to the mailbox was never an ego-booster (or ego-breaker) before.

You begin to nap again.

The book your professor wrote is always required for his class.

E-mail becomes your second language.

Frat parties are exactly like they are in the movies.

Ten-page papers used to sound impossible, now they're a God-send.

Don't burn bridges, especially if he or she is good at Biology.

KHS Spirit of Excellence Award Ceremony Held

Kewaskum High School seniors Justin Graham, left, and Ashley Weiss, right, were recognized at the Award Ceremony. Graham and Weiss each earned Mrs. Christine Horbas' Principal's Citizen Scholarship of $800. To qualify for the scholarship students must be exemplars in their actions to others; kind, caring, and polite. "Justin and Ashley always share a smile and kind words with others," stated Principal Horbas. "They are the type of students you want to take home and adopt," she concluded.

So to better understand how the class of 2007 thinks, most of whom were born in 1989, read this and feel your age:

The Soviet Union has never existed and therefore is about as scary as the student union.

They have known only two presidents.

For most of their lives, major U.S. airlines have been bankrupt.

They have grown up getting lost in "big boxes."

There has always been only one Germany.

They have never heard anyone actually "ring it up" on a cash register.

They are wireless, yet always connected.

Thanks to pervasive headphones in the back seat, parents have always been able to speak freely in the front.

A coffee has always taken longer to make than a milkshake.

Smoking has never been permitted on U.S. airlines.

They have never had to distinguish between the St. Louis Cardinals baseball and football teams.

DNA fingerprinting has always been admissible evidence in court.

They grew up pushing their own miniature shopping carts in the supermarket.

"Google" has always been a verb.

Text messaging is their email.

Mr. Rogers, not Walter Cronkite, has always been the most trusted man in America.

Bar codes have always been on everything, from library cards and snail mail to retail items.

Madden has always been a game, not a Superbowl-winning coach.

Phantom of the Opera has always been on Broadway.

Carbon copies are oddities found in their grandparents' attics.

Computerized player pianos have always been tinkling in the lobby.

They grew up in mini-vans. Reality shows have always been on television.

They have no idea why we needed to ask "...can we all get along?"

They have always known that "In the criminal justice system the people have been represented by two separate yet equally important groups."

They have rarely mailed anything using a stamp.

Brides have always worn white for a first, second, or third wedding.

Affluent troubled teens in Southern California have always been the subjects of television series.

They have always been able to watch wars and revolutions live on television.

They are not aware that "flock of seagulls hair" has nothing to do with birds flying into it.

Retin-A has always made America look less wrinkled.

Public school officials have always had the right to censor school newspapers.

Small white holiday lights have always been in style.

They have always been searching for "Waldo."

Television stations have never concluded the broadcast day with the national anthem.
