Indians punish the pirates, move on to sectionals at Random Lake

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Sports Correspondent

KEWASKUM- While it may not have been designated as such on the schedule, Tuesday, July 16, was definitely Senior Night for the Kewaskum High School baseball team. The team got its "second season" underway in grand style with an 8-3 victory over Port Washington.

"The seniors in the number three, four and five spots came through. They had some big hits," coach Dave Donath said afterward, quick to add, "We'll need lot more of them to make the next step."

As the No. 3 hitter, Dan Shea went 2x3 with a single and double, while cleanup man Matt Parrent contributed two base hits, including an RBI double in the first inning, which definitely boosted the Indians' confidence.

The biggest hit of the night, however, was the bases-loaded triple by Logan Staege in the bottom of the fifth. With Casey Scheel, Shea and Parrent aboard, Staege smashed a 1-1 pitch deep into right-center field, giving the Indians a 6-2 advantage.

When Donath saw the ball flying between the two Pirate outfielders, he admitted he felt a whole lot more re-

Casey Scheel (5), center, celebrates with fellow team members Dan Shea (22), left, and Matt Parrent (14) after a hit from Logan Staege in the fifth inning brought the trio home improving the Indians score to six over Port's two. Staege can also be seen sliding into third.

KES to partner with Boys and Girls Club of Washington County

Principal looking for financial committment from village

KEWASKUM- If Kewaskum Elementary School principal Tom Fischer and a group of parents have their way, come the first day of school his students will have the opportunity to participate locally in Boys and Girls Club of Washington County.

Fischer says he has started working with The Boys and Girls Club of Washington County to start a partnership with them here in the village. He would like to see a local branch operate after school three days a week. It would also operate when school is not in session.

Activities would include, but are not limited to a homework club

(which KES already facilitates), computer literacy, arts and crafts, sports (similar to the school's intermural program).

Jackson maintains a similar partnership with the Boys and Girls Club Monday through Friday, and during school early release days. Kewaskum's partnership would be very similar.

The Boys and Girls Club offers a number of core programs such as character and leadership development; education and career development; health and life skills; the arts and sports.

Fischer was quick to point out this would be different than the plans already in place for students after the weekly Wednesday early release.

The Boys and Girls Club of Washington County are willing to help finance the partnership but Fischer says before they commit they would like to see a financial commitment from the community as a whole. Fischer says he plans to pound the pavement in hopes of finding some businesses and civic groups to help with the financial obligations a partnership would incur. Those interested in being a part of opening the branch in Kewaskum can contact Fischer at 626-2166 x1104

Additional details will be published in future editions of The Statesman. To find out more about The Boys and Girls Club of Washington County or the partnership with Jackson visit www.wcbgc.org

Clarification

In last week's edition of The Statesman, we need to clarify information given in the article about the fire at The Coffee Corner Bistro.

Andrew Kuehl reported that Ann Enright was the person who discovered the fire and saw the lightning strike. Enright was one of three reported people who claimed to see the strike.

In addition to Enright, a Department of Transportation worker who was fixing traffic lights saw the lightning strike. Sharon Boegel, who was dining at Woody's Steakhouse, also reported she saw the lightning first.

Former KHS students come back to repair trail

KEWASKUM- A group of local Circle K members from colleges throughout Wisconsin and Upper - Michigan congregated in Kewaskum for an amazing volunteer opportunity a few weeks ago. The event brought the group of 18 together to help clean up the River Walk Trail.

Three years ago, seven Kewaskum High School graduates vowed to stay close by continuing on with the Kiwanis Family from Key Club in High School to Circle K in college.

With this common Circle K bond, these students would be able to not only relate to each other's experiences in the organization, but also spend time together at district events such as Spring Fling at Camp Wawbeek in Wisconsin Dells and District Convention.

Many of these members have taken roles on their club's executive boards or have taken positions at the District Board level. Having so many Circle K members originating from Kewaskum (the number has now grown to eight), this group became well known throughout the district and talk of having a service project in their hometown began.

It wasn't until this year, however, that things fell into place and the Kewaskum service project became a reality. On Sunday, July 8, with the guidance of their former teacher, Bill Lickel, the group took to the task of cleaning up the neglected River Walk Trail behind Kewaskum Middle School.

Their objective was not only making it passable, but to also rid it of invasive plant species that had been slowly taking over. Additional projects included trash pick-up and repainting the River Walk sign with paints donated by Tennesse Ace Hardware.

After two and a half hours, the work was completed and the day was ended with a social including hamburgers, hot dogs, fruits, vegetables, pasta salad, dessert, and refreshments generously donated by the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club, Kewaskum Frozen Foods, and the Kewaskum Piggly Wiggly.

The KHS graduates who took part in the project included Bree Boettcher, Katie Kowalczyk, Sarah Stevenson, Erin Rammer, Peter Paulus, Mary Reindl, Margaret Reindl, and Eric Vogt. College campuses represented at the project included UW- Oshkosh, UW- Milwaukee, UW- La Crosse, UW- Green Bay, UW- Eau Claire, UW- Whitewater, Bay College in Escanaba, and Marquette University.

The Kewaskum Circle K's would like to thank those who helped make the project possible from the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club for their constant support both morally and financially. Circle K members urge the community to check out the work that was done.

Circle K International is a volunteer organization based on the three tenets of service, leadership, and fellowship. The Wisconsin - Upper Michigan District (W-UM) of Circle K includes 23 clubs at college campuses throughout the area and has nearly 570 members.

To further enhance their participation in this organization, four of the Kewaskum Circle K members (Bree Boettcher, Katie Kowalczyk, Sarah Stevenson, and Peter Paulus) will be heading to Portland, Oregon in early August along with other members of the district to represent W-UM at International Convention.

For more information about Circle K International, please check out their website at www.wumcirclek.org or www.circlek.org.

POLICE REPORTS

Underage Alcohol possession/consumption

On June 13 a Kewaskum Police Officer was dispatched at 5:45 p.m. to the apartments located on Elm Street. Another police officer reported there appeared to be juveniles drinking in two parked cars.

The officer proceeded to the area of 131 Elm Street where he observed a parked vehicle behind the apartment complex facing west. He came in contact with a male sitting on the hood of the vehicle. He also was met by two other subjects, a male and a female.

They were advised of a complaint of juveniles drinking. The officer asked if they had consumed any alcohol. The male and female stated they did not. Breathalyzer tests were done.

The male's test came back with a reading of 0.043. The female's test came back negative.

The male was taken to his home and released to his mother. He received a citation for underage alcohol.

Theft from vehicles

On June 16, a Kewaskum Police Officer was dispatched to respond to the 700 block of Memorial Drive. The complainant there reported that sometime between the time of her call and June 15, at 10 p.m. someone broke into her vehicle.

The female complainant stated that someone removed a few dollars in change. The top of the center console of her a red Saturn was also broken.

On June 16, a Kewaskum Police Officer met with a male complainant in the 300 block of Braatz Drive. The male complainant stated that a shotgun was taken from his Chevy Tahoe.

The truck was parked in his driveway. The shotgun was in the backseat, which he saw before he went inside the evening before. He admitted that he left the windows open and the doors unlocked overnight.

That morning he went outside and found the center console and glove compartment were open and miscellaneous items left on the seat. The shotgun was gone from the back seat.

A compound bow and trolling motor in the back were still in the vehicle. Nothing else appeared to be missing.

On June 16, a Kewaskum Police Officer was dispatched to the 1100 block of Edgewood Road. A female complainant stated that when she went to her vehicle, the drivers side doors were left open.

She reported that her Ford Escape was parked in the driveway over night. When she checked the vehicle she realized someone removed the center section of the dashboard console.

Among the items taken were the Alpine brand stereo, an amplifier, a custom-made speaker and subwoofer box from the back cargo area. She did not think anything else was taken. Her phone charger and CDs were still in the vehicle. The glove box was left open but it did not appear anything was taken from inside.

The officer noted other vehicles parked in the driveway were not burglarized.

Total loss is approximately $1025.00.

UWWC receives Program Innovation Grant

UW-Washington County and the Milwaukee County Cooperative Extension have received a $25,000 Program Innovation Grant for an innovative pilot program that will help "open doors to higher education for students of color" from the Milwaukee Public Schools into the University of Wisconsin system. The grant exemplifies "the richness of our cross-divisional and inter-institutional synergies", according to Marv VanKekerix, Vice Chancellor and Provost of the recently merged UW Colleges and UW Extension.

Building upon the success of the Extension's Leadership development program in the Milwaukee Public Schools, the organizations plan to work with Milwaukee high school students to increase their understanding of career opportunities and educational requirements, increase knowledge of college options and the enrollment process, and develop an on-campus support system for future students of color enrolling at UW-Washington County.

The program includes two 3-day modules for 70 high school juniors enrolled at the School of Information Technology at Washington High School. The first workshop will focus on Career Exploration, and the second will focus on Preparing and Paying for College. A third module is also being developed (as additional funding sources are received) to provide two college level courses to these students at their high school during their senior year, including a non-credit study skills class.

According to UW-Washington County's Dean David Nixon, "Accessibility to a college education is the mission of the UW Colleges. The Program Innovation grant will increase accessibility for these Milwaukee high school students by increasing their understanding of career opportunities and the educational requirements necessary for college."

UW-Washington County is the fourth largest of the 12 campuses that make up the UW Colleges, with enrollment close to 1,000 students. For more information about the campus, visit their website at www.washington.uwc.edu

Florida couple killed in Allenton bike crash after rally ends

TOWN of ADDISON- A couple from West Palm Beach, Florida died as a result of injuries sustained in a motorcycle/car crash on Monday, July 16. The crash was reported to the Washington County Sheriff's Department at 8:24 A.M.

William A. Rourk, 67, and Arlene N. Rourk, 65, were traveling west on Highway 33 approaching the intersection of Highway WW on a 1993 BMW motorcycle equipped with a sidecar. Witnesses reported that vehicles traveling in front of the motorcycle slowed and the driver of the motorcycle drove into the eastbound traffic lane, apparently to avoid colliding with the vehicle ahead.

The motorcycle struck an eastbound passenger car driven by Susan J. Off, 43, of Hartford in the eastbound lane.

The Rourks were wearing helmets and were thrown from the motorcycle. The motorcycle was forced off the road into the ditch where it caught fire and burned completely.

The two occupants of the motorcycle were pronounced dead at the scene by the Washington County medical examiner.

The couple had attended the BMW Motorcycle Owners of America rally at the Washington County Fair Park over this past weekend. The event drew approximately 8000 BMW enthusiasts.

Allenton Fire Department responded and extinguished the fire. Allenton Rescue Squad also responded. The lone occupant of the eastbound car was not injured.

Neither speed nor alcohol appears to be factors. The crash remains under investigation.

Salaries of new tech graduates climb

Earnings for recent technical college graduates in Wisconsin have jumped six percent over the past year.

That's according to a survey of the technical colleges' 2006 graduates, whose median salary is $29,991 approximately six months after graduation.

The data is from the annual Graduate Follow-Up Report by Wisconsin's technical colleges, which examines graduates' progress in all types of degrees six months out of college. Associate degree earners showed the highest salaries with a median of $32,760, followed by two-year technical diploma graduates at $30,184. Graduates with one-year technical diplomas combined for a median salary of $27,662, followed by short-term technical diploma graduates at $23,508.

"These respectable wages accompany strong job placement, as demand increases for Wisconsin's technical college graduates, especially in areas such as health care and advanced manufacturing," said Dan Clancy, president of the Wisconsin Technical College System.

According to the report, the number of occupations where new graduates' median salaries are above the $30,000 threshold has risen 37 percent to 108. There are now 29 occupations where new graduates' median salaries are above $40,000, a 164 percent increase from the previous year.

Moraine Park graduates who reported median annual salaries above $40,000 in 2005-06 include those who work in the CNC programmer/operator, engineering technology, nursing (associate degree), radiation therapist and water quality technician fields. Several reported salaries above $30,000, in fields such as air conditioning, heating and refrigeration technology ($38,883), electrical power distribution ($36,928), supervisory management ($36,000), IT - technical support specialist ($35,680) and welding ($35,308).

The study also found 92 percent of the graduates were employed within six months and 97 percent of respondents were satisfied or very satisfied with the education they received from their local technical college. The study showed that the state only loses seven percent of its technical college graduates to other states.

Most Moraine Park graduates stay in Wisconsin. "Ninety-four percent of Moraine Park's alumni are gainfully employed within the Moraine Park district or within a 30-mile radius of the district," said Dr. Gayle Hytrek, president of Moraine Park.

The Graduate Follow-Up Report was sent to 22,819 graduates from 2006 and had a 74-percent response rate. It examines employment status, earnings, and other factors approximately six months after graduation. The report is available at www.wtcsystem.edu/reports/fact/graduate/index.htm.

T. Scott teen hurt in crash, cited for OWI

TOWN of SCOTT- A 15-year-old town of Scott boy was seriously injured Monday evening, July 9, after he crashed his father's truck while allegedly driving intoxicated, according to the Sheboygan County Sheriff's Department.

The teen was westbound on Highway W near Maple Tree Road when he missed a curve about 6:10 p.m. The sheriff's office says the teen began braking, but the truck tipped over and skidded on the driver's side for about 70 feet before flipping and rolling over at least once. The vehicle then landed on its wheels in a field before rolling back onto the west shoulder, he said.

The teen was not wearing a seatbelt, according to authorities and was thrown from the truck. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend by Plymouth Ambulance.

The teen has been cited for operating while intoxicated, operating without a license and driving at an unreasonable and imprudent speed.

"A Celebration of Rhonda" Benefit

Saturday, July 28, 2007

In July 2006, Rhonda was diagnosed with Stage IIIc breast cancer. Since her diagnosis, she has undergone chemotherapy, radiation and a complete mastectomy. Unfortunately, none of the treatments thus far have been completely successful in Rhonda's fight to beat the cancer.

As a result of the love, support, and endless devotion of Rhonda's husband, daughter, family, friends, and most importantly Rhonda's own inner strength and determination to fight this disease, she is not ready to give up. She has done countless hours of research to find out what her options are at this time and feels blessed that she was recently accepted to a cancer research study held in Indiana. Rhonda and her husband Steve will need to travel to Indiana every three weeks for one year for treatment.

Area businesses and Booster Club make Athletics Scramble a success

The Kewaskum Booster Club will help to host, conduct and oversee the eighth annual Kewaskum High School Athletics Scramble on Saturday, August 4th. Members of the Booster Club will help to recruit sponsors, participants, donations, register golfers, conduct hole events and facilitate the banquet, including conducting the raffles and honoring the special guests. All monies will be processed through the Kewaskum Booster Club as well.

However, the success of the previous seven scrambles has been largely due to the generous contributions made by area businesses and individual sponsors. Since 2000 the KHS Athletic Programs have benefited from the solid support and donations given by area businesses mentioned in the adjoining ad, based upon the 2007 Golf Outing.

The annual KHS fundraiser not only benefits the athletics programs but the school district community as a whole. The goal of the scramble is having a positive community-building festivity that everyone can take part and pride in. Besides golfing, individuals, groups and sponsors can participate by donating or purchasing auction items, raffle prizes or tickets and/or attending the banquet dinner and awards presentation program.

Entry and sponsor forms, raffle and dinner tickets are available at the KHS office, Smith and Hatch Insurance Agency, the Hon-E-Kor Pro Shop or from Booster Club members. All those in attendance will be able to purchase additional raffle or dinner tickets, bid on silent auction items to help raise supplementary funds to support Kewaskum High School Athletics.

In an attempt to encourage more participation, the organizers will present awards in any category that has five or more groups within their division such as open, coed or mixed couples, seniors, and womens. Along with the blind bogey winners, each division champion will receive either a trophy, plaque, gift certificate or athletic apparel. Golfers may also participate in a 50/50 skins game, betting holes, dice games and hole-in-one contests as well.

Registration will begin at 1 p.m. followed by a shotgun start on the red and white nines at 2 p.m. The buffet-style dinner banquet begins at 7 p.m. and concludes with the awards program at 8 p.m. Forms are on page 8 of this week's Statesman. Any other questions may be directed to either Glenn Eichstedt at 262-626-2166 ext. 4251, Scott Rohlinger at 262-689-6989 or any Booster Club member.

Local NWTF chapter to host Women in the Outdoors event July 21

The Gateway Gobbler chapter of the National Wild Turkey Federation will be hosting a Women in the Outdoors event on Saturday, July 21, 2007 at the West Bend Barton Sportsman's Club in West Bend.

Through this event, women from all walks of life will be given the chance to experience the thrill of outdoor activities such as trap shooting, gardening tips, outdoor cooking, ATV safety, archery, line dancing, pistol shooting, building a bird feeder, animal tracking, self-defense and fly fishing. It will allow women to develop a greater understanding of wildlife conservation and meet others who share their enthusiasm.

The Women in the Outdoors program's mission is to provide hands-on, educational outdoor opportunities for women. "The Women in the Outdoors program allows the NWTF to reach an entirely new audience, one that has been overlooked in the past for outdoor sports and conservation," said Rob Keck, NWTF CEO.

The events are held across the country with experts on hand to teach in a noncompetitive manner. The combination of sponsorship and local chapter support allows the NWTF to offer these programs at a low cost to participants. The cost of attending each event includes a membership in Women in the Outdoors program and a subscription to

Women in the Outdoors magazine, the federation's full-color, quarterly publication with articles and information on a variety of outdoor adventure and activities.

For more information, contact Carol Roe at 262-626-2306. For more information on the National Wild Turkey Federation, call 803-637-3106, check out their website at www.nwtf.org or email questions to nwtf@nwtf.net.

Delicious changes this year at Social Fest

Take a chance on a 2007 Arctic Cat ATV that is being offered at Holy Trinity Parish's Social Fest.

KEWASKUM- Those who have been to Holy Trinity Parish's Social Fest know the name is a bit deceiving. The fundraiser is actually a social trifecta benefiting the parish's school.

This year's event is being held on Saturday, August 25 in Riverhill Park from 4 - 7 p.m. Organizers are confident anyone attending will enjoy themselves.

The first bonus in this trifecta includes a delicious meal. This year's menu is taking a change. Instead of the traditional chicken dinner; attendees will dig into a juicy steak fillet and helping of succulent pork from a roasted pig. Twice baked potatoes will accompany the meal, along with sautéed mushrooms, choice of salads, rolls, dessert, milk and coffee. Other beverage choices include: beer, wine coolers or soda for the entire evening and is included in the ticket price.

The second bonus may have you leaving Riverhill Park with some serious cash in your pocket or with a trunk full of loot. Your ticket can net you one of 11 cash prizes. First prize is $5,000, second through sixth prize is $500, and seventh through 11th is $100. Prizes are based on the sale of 800 tickets. Those not able to attend can still purchase tickets and win.

You thought you were done? Take a chance on the hundreds of raffles and silent auction items. Wiedmeyer Trucking is offering a $500 cash prize. Tuition for the 2007-'08 school year is up for grabs in memory of John Schmitt. A $300 shopping spree at your choice of stores and restaurants could be yours courtesy of Studio 227 owned by Donna Hoss.

Strobel Oil has donated a $300 BP gas card; perfect for a son or daughter heading off to college. You could also take a chance on a digital camera package from Timmers' Masonry.

For the gambler, a package awaits you at Menomonee Casino consisting of a one-night stay, $100 in gambling cash and $20 in the restaurant is available courtesy of Kettle Moraine Electric and Menomonee Casino. Sweetest Day is right around the corner, so fellas, take a chance on a diamond pendant necklace donated by an anonymous parishioner.

A new, separate raffle with only 1,200 tickets being sold, is for a 2007 Arctic Cat ATV. The ATV is red, has an automatic transmission, 4x4 independent suspension and includes a 5' x 8' 2000 pound capacity trailer.

The entire package is valued at $6,800. It should be noted that the winner would not have a cash option. The winner may however, sell the unit at the end of the raffle for any price.

Tickets for the ATV are available at Gateway Café, BP, Amerahn, or by calling Jim Hawig at (262) 626-4146. Gander Mountain of Wausau is sponsoring the raffle.

In addition to the raffles, a silent auction will held. In the past, packages have been put together for men, women, teens, children, seniors, shoppers, and sports enthusiasts. Currently the committee is assembling these packages.

The special part in this trifecta of fun is undoubtedly the most important. The event helps provide quality Catholic education for young people in the community. By attending this fun evening you help keep the costs of Catholic education affordable for families. Tickets for social fest are $30 each; they are available at Holy Trinity School and Rectory, Geidel's Piggly Wiggly and Herriges Oil. All attendees must be 21.

KMS students to hold carwash to benefit teacher

KMS Spanish teacher loses wife to cancer

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
andrew@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- Some eighth grade students at Kewaskum Middle School (KMS) have found out how precious life is. After learning the news that their teacher's wife lost her battle with breast cancer, students have decided to hold a benefit carwash at Tennies Ace Hardware.

Rochelle Parnitzke, wife of KMS Spanish instructor Troy Parnitzke began her arduous battle with cancer in February of 2005. At the time she and Troy were expecting a child.

Luckily Rochelle was able to undergo aggressive chemotherapy because she was in her third trimester. In April the two welcomed a daughter, Rayanna.

In June of 2006, they received even more good news; Rochelle was given a clean bill of health. However two months later, the unthinkable happened.

After enduring terrible headaches for three-days straight, Rochelle sought medical assistance; she was taken to urgent care where a scan of her head and body was performed.

Doctors informed her that she had two large inoperable brain tumors and 15 tumors on her lungs. She was also told she wouldn't see her daughter's third birthday.

She received additional chemotherapy, but unfortunately, her battle with cancer ended on June 12 of this year.

The benefit will take place on Saturday, July 21 from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. Tennies is located at 900 Fond du Lac Avenue in the village.

"We heard about what was happening with Mr. Parnitzke's wife. When she passed away, we wanted to help with medical bills and stuff. The carwash is the best way, everyone can do it together and it would be a fun time," stated one of Parnitzke's former students, Shawn Giese.

Giese and around 50 or more of his fellow classmates will give the proceeds from the carwash to Parnitzke to assist with leftover medical expenses and start a college fund for Rayanna.

KMS principal Ken Soerens couldn't be prouder of his students. "I think this speaks highly of both the high regards that the students have for Mr. Parnitzke as a person as well as a teacher and the impact that he has had on their lives. It also demonstrates that our students are caring people. It is always easier to organize a fund raiser during the time of concern, but for our kids to continue to think of Senor Par after the death of his wife speaks volumes of who they are as young adults," stated Soerens.

Parnitzke has taught Spanish at KMS since the 1999-2000 school year according to Soerens.

VBS at C-sport Alliance Church

The high speed train adventure starts at Campbell-sport Alliance Church on July 30. It will continue each morning through August 3 from 9:30 - 11:45 a.m. Kids from age four through those entering seventh grade will get on board the Solar Express and learn how to be Empowered by the Son to have the right attitude, be happy for others, witness, pray and obey!

The Vacation Bible School includes an entertaining Bible lesson program complete with snacks, crafts, games and skits.

Preregistration is strongly encouraged. For more information or to preregister for Solar Express VBS, call the church at 920-533-5123.

Solar Express: Empowered by the Son is published by CEF Press, a ministry of Child Evangelism Fellowship.

Peace UCC invites children to Avalanche Ranch VBS

"This year our church is a stampede of excitement as we visit Avalanche Ranch," says Susan Reif, VBS director at Peace UCC. "Our Avalanche Ranch program will provide fun, and memorable Bible-learning activities for kids of all ages. Each day kids will sing catchy songs, play teamwork-building games, nibble Church Wagon Chow, take on a daily challenge to let God's love grow into their homes, experience electrifying Bible adventures, collect Bible Memory Buddies to remind them of God's Word, and create Bible Point Crafts they'll take home and play with all summer long."

"Avalanche Ranch is an exciting way for kids to learn more about God's love," Reif continued. "Kids will join nearly a million children in North America and take part in a hands-on mission project that will reach orphans in Africa. Each day concludes at Showtime Roundup - a celebration that gets all participants involved in living what they've learned. We hope Avalanche Ranch will get everyone wild about God in our community."

Avalanche Ranch at Peace UCC will run July 30 to August 3 from 8:30-11:30 a.m. For information call 262-626-4011.

All Aboard at St. Lucas

They're hauling precious cargo down the tracks at St. Lucas Lutheran Church and School. Children going into PreK - 6th grade are invited to join in Making Tracks - a vacation Bible school with a railroad theme. The five-day program runs from Monday, July 30th through Friday, August 3rd.

The train leaves every day at 1p.m. and comes back every day at 3p.m. Each trip will be filled with devotion, music, crafts, and fun.

St. Lucas is located at 1417 Parkview Drive in Kewaskum, WI. Registration will begin at 12:50 a.m. July 30th.

If you have any questions call Sarah at 262-626-8377 or the church office 262-626-2680.

Hope to see you there!

Last week Friday about midnight three robbers, masked with red handkerchiefs and armed with pistols and a sawed-off shotgun, entered the soft drink parlor of Arthur Koch at Beechwood, ordered Mr. Koch and Arthur Fritz, an employee, to throw up their hands as it was a "stick-up." Thinking it was a practical joke, Mr. Koch, who was seated back of the bar, grabbed a wooden box underneath the counter, and one of the trio shot him. About 200 pellets from a No. 410 shell entered his right side underneath the ribs, piercing his liver and lower part of his lung. Mr. Fritz was seated in front of the bar and was unharmed. Mr. Koch was able to reach the telephone and phoned Deputy Sheriff Geo. F. Brandt of Kewaskum, Brandt hastened to the scene and by the time he arrived Mr. Koch was taken to his home by Mr. Fritz, and Dr. Bemis of Batavia was giving medical aid. About 2 a.m. Mr. Koch was hurried to the St. Nicholas Hospital at Sheboygan where he was in critical condition for several days.

Warren Luft, 84, of Waubeka died Monday, July 9, 2007 at Columbia St. Mary's Hospital in Mequon.

He was born June 7, 1923 on the Luft homestead in the town of Fredonia, son of Walter and Vera Klein Luft. He was the fourth generation on the Luft homestead.

Warren served in the U.S. Third Army during World War II in the 11th Armored Division, part of the 575th Anti-Aircraft Battalion. His unit fought in the Battle of the Bulge and liberated Mauthausen concentration camp.

On May 21, 1949 he married Dorothy Schlehlein at St. John's Lutheran Church in Fredonia.

IN MEMORY

Remembering DARLENE ROHLINGER.... Called to Eternal Life, July 16, 1998.

Time passes quickly, but my memories remain as bright as yesterday. None of us can be together for all time as much as we wish that possible.

Once again, I see the sunshine. I see the faces of good people and the sweetness that lies behind their eyes. I see the flowers that dance in the wind, and the grain that lifts its head above ground and gives us our daily bread.

I am thankful for our time together. You enjoyed your life to the fullest, unselfishly; therefore, so did I. And, so, you shall live within me always.

You brought great joy to my life and I miss you!

*Missed by your husband, sons
and grandchildren*

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ROBERT (GABBY) GAVIN, who passed away twelve years ago, July 20, 1995:

WINGS TO SET ME FREE

You must have been waiting,
And got your wings today.
We thought we heard singing
As the angels led your way.

Your time here was over,
Jesus opened heaven's gate.
Somewhere way up yonder,
I know your love will wait.

And when our work is finished
When everything's said and done,
We too will be blessed,
The battle we will have won.

So we will meet you someday,
We will come without a fight,
To our home far away,
When we see the guiding light.

So just remember Dad,
When you think of us,
That we are only waiting
For wings to set us free.

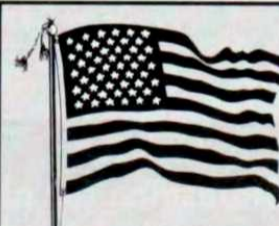

*Forever missed,
but never forgotten.
Mom & family*

In memory of ELEANORE SCHMIDT.

It's been five years since God called you home. He knew just when to take away all your pain and let you rest. We are thankful for all the years you filled our lives with love and happiness. Our hearts still ache in sadness, and secret tears still flow. What it meant to love you, no one will ever know.

Lovingly remembered and missed by her family.

Drop Dead Beautiful

By Jackie Collins

St. Martin's Press, $24.95 500 pages

They say that whatever goes around, comes around.

Call it kismet. Call it mojo, Karma, or "vibes". Whatever you call it, doesn't it seem like the Universe pays you back for the things you do?

Did you ever notice that what goes around can come around generations later?

In the new novel "Drop Dead Beautiful" by Jackie Collins, Lucky Santangelo's father made a big mistake half a lifetime ago. Now Lucky will pay.

Everyone has their struggles, but the Santangelos had more than their share. Patriarch Gino emigrated from Italy and learned to make his way on the streets with his fists. His first wife died and his beloved son was killed. Family businesses were targeted by corruption and crime. Death and loss were near-constant companions.

But the tide has turned and, for the Santangelo clan, there's reason for celebration: Gino will soon mark his 95th birthday with a party, and the whole family will be in attendance. Gino's beautiful, headstrong daughter, Lucky, is embarking on the business venture of a lifetime with her luxury Vegas hotel, The Keys. Her marriage to Lennie is strong and their children are happy and successful.

All, that is, except Max.

Sixteen-year-old Max is the epitome of her mother: beautiful, wild, and very smart. She's also (unfortunately) very single, but that's about to change. Max has met a guy online, and they've arranged to meet in person. Also unfortunately, the rendezvous is scheduled on the weekend of Gino's party.

As Lucky fumes about her daughter's disappearance on Gino's special night, she also moves ahead with Grand Opening plans for The Keys. But fate, once again, has different plans for the Santangelos.

Years ago, Gino had a "disagreement" with his former best friend, and Enzo Bonnatti paid for it with his life. Now, Enzo's grandson, Anthony, plans to pay the Santangelo clan back. The Grand Opening celebration for The Keys will be explosive. In more ways than one.

Twenty years ago, I was absolutely mesmerized by the first Jackie Collins novel I'd ever read; so much so, in fact, that I've read every one since then. The good news is that this book isn't going to disappoint fans. The bad news is, this book isn't going to gain any, either.

"Drop Dead Beautiful" is populated with a cast of incredibly wealthy and unbelievably attractive people that have everything they could ever want, as well as a bunch of well-to-do bad guys that are eminently hate-able. The problem is that it's hard to identify with any of them, because Collins has made them all so over-the-top rich, beautiful, and nasty. In other words, in a world where the chasm between making big money and barely making it widens, the 1980s, "Dynasty"-style, blithely-wealthy plot line isn't all that much fun anymore.

Still, if you're a Lucky Santangelo fan or if you loved all the other Jackie Collins novels, you should drop everything to read "Drop Dead Beautiful". If you're a first-time reader, though, and you pick up this book.... drop it and try another one.

Tips to protect you from Heat-related illnesses

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) "Each year more people in the United States die from extreme heat than from hurricanes, lightning, tornadoes, floods and earthquakes combined." On average, approximately 300 people die each year from exposure to heat.

The best defense against heat-related illness is prevention. Staying cool and making simple changes in your fluid intake, activities, and clothing during hot weather can help you remain safe and healthy.

The Washington County Health Department and CDC recommend following these tips to protect you from heat-related illnesses:

- Drink more fluids (non-alcoholic) regardless of your activity level. Don't wait until you're thirsty to drink. Warning: if your doctor generally limits the amount of fluid you drink or has you on water pills, ask the doctor how much you should drink while the weather is hot.

- Don't drink liquids that contain caffeine, alcohol, or large amounts of sugar-these actually cause you to lose more body fluid. Also, avoid very cold drinks because they can cause stomach cramps.

- Stay indoors and, if possible, stay in an air-conditioned place. If your home does not have air conditioning, go to the shopping mall or public library - even a few hours spent in air conditioning can help your body stay cooler when you go back into the heat. Call the Washington County Health Department to find out if there are any heat-relief shelters in your area.

- Electric fans may provide comfort, but when the temperature is in the high 90s, fans will not prevent heat-related illness. Taking a cool shower or bath or moving to an air-conditioned place is a much better way to cool off.

If you must be out in the heat:

- Limit your outdoor activity to morning and evening hours

- Cut down on exercise. If you must exercise, drink two to four glasses of cool, non-alcoholic fluids each hour. A sports beverage can replace the salt and minerals you lose in sweat. Warning: If you are on a low-salt diet, talk with your doctor before drinking a sports beverage. Remember the warning in the first "tip" (above), too.

- Try to rest often in shady areas

- Protect yourself from the sun by wearing a wide-brimmed hat (also keeps you cooler), sunglasses and sunscreen of SPF 15 or higher (the most effective products say "broad spectrum" or "UVA/UVB protection" on their labels).

- Wear lightweight, light-colored, loose-fitting clothing
- NEVER leave people or pets in a closed, parked vehicle.

- Although anyone at any time can suffer from heat-related illness, some people are at greater risk than others. Check regularly on:

- Infants and young children
- People aged 65 or older
- People who have a mental illness
- Those who are physically ill, especially with heart disease or high blood pressure

- Visit adults at risk at least twice a day and closely watch them for signs of heat exhaustion or heat stroke.

These self-help measures are not a substitute for medical care but may help you recognize and respond promptly to warning signs of trouble.

For more information and a list of Heat-Relief Shelters in Washington County, contact the Washington County Health Department at (262) 335-4462 or www.co.washington.wi.us/chn.

Midnight Ride...Night row trollers find fast action

By Dick Ellis

The writer had no musky strikes during a week of hot night musky fishing by family members in Vilas County, but found a 27 inch walleye willing to slam a perch lure over deep water. The fish was released. Photo by Jim Ellis

John Kubiak rowed toward another midnight with a new understanding of why the big muskies were falling. His eyes strained into the black of a northern Wisconsin night for baitfish that here or there would pocket and patter the still surface like a rippling breeze. When he saw it, he turned toward it. When he found it, he watched the rods with a heightened anticipation that one would soon bow to the water; again.

Already, my brother-in-law had caught and released seven muskies from 38 to 48 inches in just a few days of row trolling the night. Success on the water hadn't always come so easy. Although 84 muskies had fallen to his tactics over the years, like most musky hunters, Kubiak had paid his dues. In 2006 alone, he had spent 60 hours on the water for just one strike.

This trip to Vilas County in July of 2007 had been extraordinarily successful. Any correlation between his method and that success though, had eluded him until just prior to the week's final trip. It was an enlightenment that took him back literally decades.

Kubiak, my wife Lori's little brother, had first stood on the Island Lake property of my uncle, Bob Ellis as a 12 year old boy in the 1980s, amazed at what he was being introduced to. Known by Wisconsin musky authorities such as Joe Bucher and Tom Gelb as a musky "master" and a pioneer of fishing open water and using baitfish as "structure" to target big fish according to "Secrets of the Suspended Musky" published in Musky Hunter magazine in 2001, Bob Ellis was making an impression.

"I was 12 years old," Kubiak said.

"Every one of Bob's cabins had a musky on the wall that was bigger than any I had ever seen before. One of the fish had a homemade lure hanging from its mouth. He had a small station wagon that he had pulled the passenger seat out of so that he could slide his little skiff in and troll other lakes. Everything he did was really foreign."

Bob Ellis was killed in his 12 foot skiff in a boat collision while rowing in November of 1989. But his legacy includes scores of trophy fish taken to 41 pounds row trolling using tactics even 20 years ago, according to Musky Hunter, "thought to be cutting edge today." The legacy includes passing the baton to upcoming musky hunters like John Kubiak.

Today, Kubiak predominantly row trolls from a 15 foot Grumman but until this July had worked the night water only by casting from a Tuffy. His baptism to night trolling included good company; rowing over deep water pulling a black Jake bait and black Depth Raider produced by Wisconsin musky experts Pete Maina and Joe Bucher respectively, intent on fishing a shallow shoreline. Still in 30 feet of water, he missed a first strike and decided to alter his plan to work the shoreline from the deep. Fifteen minutes later, he caught and released a 38 inch fish.

"It was the first time I fished with two black baits," he said. "I like black baits at night casting because of the silhouette. I caught the first fish on a Jake and just never switched. The strikes kept going back and forth from the Jake to the Depth Raider."

By launching after 9:00 p.m., fishing deep, open water until the early morning, catching two or three hours of sleep and fishing the early morning black, Kubiak was catching big fish in big numbers. "I was locked into two times," he said. "Trying to do both the late night and early morning meant no sleep. I could do that. My wife wasn't coming up until later."

Over several days of fishing the night in deep water, seven muskies were caught and released between 38 and 48 inches, bringing on a foreign feeling to one avid musky hunter. It was almost easy, although still he could think of no correlation between the success and a "why" he was experiencing it.

"I wasn't tuned into ciscoes as the reason until I talked to a bait shop owner after catching three muskies at 40, 43 and 48 inches within 200 yards of each other," he said. "I just kept rowing in loops, marking the spots and getting more strikes with big fish. The guy said he knew musky fisherman having good success casting into schools of ciscoes on the surface."

"The light bulb went on; Ciscoes. I had seen schools of fish feeding on the surface out in the middle of nowhere before. Those baitfish come to the surface to feed and go right back down. The water temperature was 75 degrees. The thermocline was about 20 feet deep. My theory is that those big muskies were hanging at about 15 feet waiting for those ciscoes to come up when my baits would come though."

Kubiak had one last night to put the theory to practice and calm water to do it. Where ever the surface rippled with ciscoes, he rowed the Grumman into it. Among the commotion, he caught a 40 inch musky, and lost another. His one week total was eight fish taken and released, with five fish over 40 inches and a large musky of 48 inches.

"After I got back I dug up a bunch of old Musky Hunter mags out of the archives because I remembered some articles about ciscoes," Kubiak e-mailed this reporter. "I ran across an article written by Uncle Bob. In one part (fishing the midnight hour) he sees a school of baitfish and whispers, 'ciscoes'. He catches a 31 inch walleye over deep, open water. A few times out on the lake, I felt like I thought he would have felt during a hot streak of musky fishing."

Seeds planted sometimes take decades to come to fruition. But the harvest, for this newest Ciscoe Kid, was well worth the wait.

The Kewaskum-Green Midget Baseball team took first place in the Eden baseball tournament held June 21-23rd. The tournament was a "double elimination" format, meaning that teams were not out of the tournament until they lost twice.

Kewaskum opened the tournament on the evening of the 21st with a win over a very good Eden Express team, 10-5. Kewaskum then defeated Cascade 12-2 and Eden Thunder 4-2, which put Kewaskum in the championship game.

On Saturday afternoon the championship game was played between Kewaskum and Eden Express and the Kewaskum team came up short 5-7. However, this was Kewaskum's first loss in the tourney, so there would be a second championship game (double elimination). In the second game Kewaskum won a thrilling 8-3 ball game.

With the second game tied 3-3 in the bottom of the 3rd inning, Kewaskum got 2 men on with 2 outs when Eric Limberg hit a long 3-run home run to break the game open. Kewaskum added 2 more runs to make it 8-3 which would be the final score and a 1st place for the Kewaskum Green team.

Kewaskum Green has had an outstanding summer season, losing just once so far in league play. The season wraps up July 23rd, when the 1st place team from the west takes on the 1st place team from the east in the Midget Championship game held in Random Lake.

Proficient Prunty is top man on the Slinger oval

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Sports Correspondent

A great number of Wisconsin men enjoy their weekends playing golf, cutting their grass or going fishing.

Not David Prunty, however. Saturdays and Sundays are pretty much set aside as race car time ... time to fix or set up his No. 1 Silver Pontiac GTO in anticipation of the weekly racing shows at the Slinger Super Speedway, billed as the fastest quarter-mile asphalt track in the Country.

Last Saturday was no exception. Work was going on as usual in his dad's garage at the family home near the intersection of Hwys. 41 and 28. Only in addition to preparing for Sunday, Prunty and a couple of his brothers were also building a car for Erik Darnell, a regular on the NASCAR Craftsman Truck series and a teammate of Matt Kenseth, who is currently third in the Nextel Cup Series after finishing second, behind Tony Stewart, at the USG Sheetrock 400 at the Chicagoland Speedway on Sunday.

"We are swamped right now," Prunty said, his voice nearly drowned out by the shop noise in the background.

The Slinger Nationals were scheduled for Tuesday night, and Prunty was excited about the prospects of racing against Nextel stars Kurt Busch and Kenseth, who raced at Slinger for several years before making the jump to the big time.

In the weekly Late Model competitions at the track, Prunty is continuing where he left off in 2006 when he won the track title.

"We have close to a 100-point lead (over Lowell Bennett of Neenah), which is big for us," Prunty said. "We've only lost a couple of races" with just over half of the season completed.

This sure was a different story than the first few seasons Prunty spent in the sport as a driver. Prunty had a good racing background, but still it was a challenge trying to figure out the high-banking on the Slinger rack.

His start came as a member of a pit crew when he was 15 years old, then after he secured a degree as a mechanical engineer, Prunty became an engine technician for Bobby Labonte. "I did that for one year, in 1994," he said. "Then I got married," ending the rugged life on the road that is demanded of NASCAR drivers and their teams.

While he enjoyed the NAS-

CAR experience, Prunty knew, "I wanted to drive," and thus got started in the Late Model division at Slinger in 1995.

And how did the early years go? "Lots of crashes," he said, indicating he learned every night out, however. "I treated every race like a test session."

The approach was successful for Prunty, who said, "Now, we have a setup, which is pretty fast."

"Last year was my first championship ... it was actually my first championship in any division," he said, noting brothers Dennis and Dale each have several to their credit.

The 2006 season point race was close for a while, then, "at the end, we broke away," Prunty said.

And 2007 has also been extremely successful. "I believe I have five wins already," Prunty said.

When asked if any of the wins were more enjoyable than the race, Prunty said, "No. I just remember one of the losses when I finished second" to J.J. Mueller in the season-opener. "We could have won that one too if we would have had the setup right."

Injuries are always a possibility in racing, and Prunty has not escaped them. "I've torn a rotator cuff flying into the wall," and while it took a year for the injury to heal, "It didn't keep me out of the race car."

Now that Prunty has found success, does he have designs on moving to a higher degree of competition than Slinger? Prunty, 36, said he would love to be a NASCAR driver but says, "What's working against me now is my age ... I feel I have the talent to move up, just don't have the opportunity."

The Kewaskum pilot isn't worrying about what could or might happen, however. For right now, he is focusing on doing well in the Nationals and winning another track title. Concerning the possibility of winning 10 features, he said, "I think that would probably be a record. I'd be real happy if we'd finish the season with six. That would be real good."

Winning features and doing well in qualifying — Prunty said he is usually among the top three in timing — means he has to start from the back of the pack and patiently wait for openings so he can work his way to the lead.

Just recently, in the July 8th show, it was a little more frustrating because he ended up fourth in the feature.

"All I needed was a caution," he said. "I just had a slow car ahead of me."

Prunty is sponsored by Luedtke Lumber in Lomira, Auto Body Dynamics in Kewaskum, Stone Mountain Access System and Makita Industrial Tool. His crew chief is his older brother, Doug.

Work in the garage gives all the Prunty brothers an opportunity to spend time together on their cars. Dennis has driven No. 42 in several shows this year, and, "Dale is currently 10th (in points), which is really doing well. My rookie year, I think I was 26th in points."

Dale drives the No. 17 number.

While he is not racing, working on cars or working at R.E. Phelon Corporation out of Lomira, Prunty enjoys being with his wife and children, Taylor, 6, and Collin, 1. "They both like racing already," he said.

Note: David and Dale Prunty finished fourth and fifth, respectively, in Sunday's weekly show at the Slinger Speedway. The veteran Al Schill won the race.

Scoring punch disappears; A's are defeated

One run was all the Kewaskum Athletics could muster against Oshkosh Sunday in a Rock River League game played in Kiwanis Park.

The A's scored right away in the first inning, then the bats were silenced and some faulty defense helped the visiting Merchants seal a 10-1 victory.

"We gave up six runs in the ninth. It kind of got away on us," Jim Ziegler, the player/manager for the A's said Sunday night, reporting the Kewaskum team committed five errors in the contest, which helped the Merchants score three unearned runs in the fourth when they surged into a 4-1 lead.

Ziegler allowed eight hits in the first six innings, then his reliever, Jake Lathers, took over and the Merchants got six off him, leading to six runs.

Ziegler reported his team scored when Jason Strobel hit a 2-out double, followed by a Brandon Banton single in the first inning.

Kewaskum wound up with nine hits, and Banton had three of them. Nick Whitty and Jon Olla also did well at the plate, each collecting a pair of hits.

"We did have two guys thrown out at the plate," Ziegler said. Had they been safe, the outcome might have been a bit different.

The winning pitcher was Kam Koplitz, who struck out five and walked just one in nine innings of work.

With the loss, Kewaskum falls to 3-6 in RR action and 6-9 overall.

The Athletics who played in the annual Rock River All-Star game ended up being on the winning team as the North downed the South 4-1 in Johnson Creek on Friday night.

"We scored three runs in the ninth to break the tie," Ziegler said, reporting he pitched one inning and gave up one hit.

Ty Schill and Strobel started at shortstop and left field, respectively. "Ty had a couple of nice plays at short, and Jason had a couple good running catches in left," Ziegler said, adding Banton came into the game in the sixth but did not get any hits.

Several of the A's also were on the winning side when a team from Brownsville picked them up for a game in the NBC Tournament.

Ziegler explained several of the Brownsville players unavailable for the contest because they were at a wedding, so Whitty, Ziegler, Jake Spaeth and Strobel helped fill in.

The team defeated La Crosse 5-1 and Menasha 11-2. "Whitty got the win, pitching the whole game," Ziegler said of the second contest, adding, "We all had three or four hits in the games."

The tournament is now down to the final four of the 16 that began the event, and now play moves to Sauk City for the semifinals and finals, which will be played on Saturday.

"The winner gets it entry fee paid for into the National Tournament in Wichita, Kansas," Ziegler said. "There will be a couple guys going from Kewaskum."

"A Second Chance for Building Materials"

Last at bat turns tide in Lancers' favor

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Sports Correspondent

They had plenty of hits, 11, and the pitching was good for the most part, but still the Kewaskum High baseball team could not hold off Brookfield Central in a non-conference game played last Wednesday evening.

Scoring four runs, all unearned, in the bottom of the seventh, the host Lancers walked away with a come-from-behind 7-6 win over the Indians, who ended up the regular season with a mark of 20-8.

Coach Dave Donath liked his team's fast start, which included a 3-run rally in the top of the first inning.

Leadoff man Casey Scheel, who had been in a bit of a slump recently, got things started with a single. Donath had Nick Olla try to bunt him to second but eventually he hit into a fielder's choice.

It didn't matter much as Dan Shea drew a walk and then Matt Parrent followed with a double that drove in two runs, Logan Staeger followed with a single, then Austin Petrin drove in Parrent with a base hit.

Brookfield Central drew even with the Indians in the bottom of the second, but the visitors came right back with a single run in the third, and once again it was Parrent coming up with a big hit, a double, and he scored on Nick Ebert's fielder's choice.

Single runs in the fifth and sixth gave Kewaskum a bit of a cushion (6-3). Ebert's double propelled Staeger (who had walked) to cross the plate, and then in the sixth, Scheel singled and romped to second when the Lancer catcher tried to pick him off. Scheel advanced another base on a bunt, but he was thrown out at the plate when Olla hit a ground ball to third.

On the play at the plate, Olla raced to second, and Dan Shea brought him around with an RBI single.

Kewaskum also threatened in the seventh. "We had runners at second and third and struck out twice," Donath said.

Those missed opportunities cost the Indians dearly because the Lancers scored four runs to post the win.

"We had two outs," Donath said about the hosts' last bats, but the next man up hit what was the equivalent of a full-swing bunt, and the bases were quickly loaded with a walk and error.

A double by Rick Leachy, the No. 3-hole hitter, tied the game at 6-6. Seconds later, a wild pitch moved runners to second and third, so Donath had Holt intentionally walk the next man to set up the force play at any base.

Shortstop Mike Bogard had ideas of his own, however and hit the game-winning single.

"We had 'em where we wanted them but just couldn't finish the deal," Donath said. "They're a very good team," with a record of 26-15.

John Holt (7-5) took the loss. He pitched one and two-thirds innings, giving up four runs, four hits, while striking out one and walking three (two intentional).

Donath started his pitching rotation with Parrent, who gave up the two runs in the second. Austin Petrin took over in the third and faced just four Lancer hitters. Ebert was one better, taking care of the three batters he faced in the fourth, and Olla faced just four in his stint on the mound in the fifth.

For the game, Scheel was red hot, going 3x4, with a stolen base; Parrent was 2x4 with a pair of RBIs and Ebert had two RBIs.

Concerning who on the team has the best batting average, Donath said it was Parrent. "He's high in the 300s."

Stautz is right on target with his 4-iron

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Sports Correspondent

One of the old timers showed up the young bucks in the Hon-E-Kor Tuesday Night Men's League last week.

Clayton Stautz, playing in a group with his nephew Scott Fischer and Dale Squier, got a hole-in-one on No. 3 on the Red Nine. The hole measures 155 yards.

When asked how long he has been playing in this group, Stautz said "Ever since it started," which was back in the mid-to late 1960s.

"Bill Bartelt, I was on the first team with him," Stautz said, reporting he used a 4-iron to hit his historic shot but did not get to see the ball go in the hole.

Stautz recalled when he hit the ball, his nephew said the ball was going close to the hole, but when they got up to the green they didn't see it anywhere.

"My nephew said 'That ball has got to be in the hole,' and by gosh, there it was," Stautz said. "This was my first one, and I'm 81 years old."

It was a royal night for Goeden

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Sports Correspondent

A "dream season" continues for local race car driver Don Goeden.

Despite being able to compete in just 75 percent of the IRA's (Interstate Racing Association) shows, Goeden continues to run fifth in the point standings, and on July 7th he was named the "King of Wisconsin" after racking up the top number of points in a three-race series held at the one-third mile dirt track in Wilmot.

"It was a three-race deal. I had two firsts and then the second on Saturday," Goeden, who climbed the fence after receiving a crown and cape, said. There were 43 sprint cars at the show, with 22 making the feature.

Goeden started 10th in the 30-lap feature race, and, "We got second by lap 25."

Chad Blond of Michigan ended up taking the checkered flag. He started fourth and was able to break free of the pack early, or Goeden might have had a chance to catch him.

"We just had a good setup. My brother (Dave) had been hitting the setups just right," Goeden went on, pleased with the way his night went, including a second-place finish in the heat race.

Another area driver, John Haeni of Lomira, finished third in the feature race.

The week before, Goeden put on a thrilling show at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds in Plymouth, which was his dad, Willie's, old haunting grounds.

In front of a packed house, Goeden started eighth in the 30-lap main event and won the race. "We won the heat race, too," he said, adding he piloted the No. 11 car to a 12th place out of 41 who were entered in the event.

"It was a good race to win. I had a lot of fans up there," Goeden said, reporting, "We were the fastest car out there. We passed Scotty Biertzer for the lead on lap 14. He fell back to fifth or sixth."

Biertzer also grew up in Kewaskum and comes from a strong racing bloodline, as his grandfather was "Etchie" Biertzer, another well-known and highly successful driver.

Mike Reinke finished second in this event.

With this win, Goeden boosted his feature total for the season. "Five so far this year, out of 13 shows we've been at," Goeden, who also has two runner-up finishes, said. "We're having a good season."

Mike Reinke and Travis Whitney are having quite a dual over the top spot. They currently are 1-2 with 1,873 and 1,848 points. Goeden stands fifth with 1,687.

Biertzer wound up fifth in the feature at Plymouth, won a heat race and is currently seventh overall with 1,559 points.

Mike Kertscher continues to struggle. After having to wait for his motor to be overhauled, Kertscher raced in Wilmot and placed 12th in the main event. He is currently 29th in the points standings with 666 points.

Indians whip Pirates, move on to sectional action in Random Lake Friday laxed. "Those were big runs ... gave (pitcher) John (Holt) a little cushion," he said.

Shea, Parrent and Staeger combined for five of the team's nine hits, and the fourth senior on the team, leadoff man Casey Sheel, did his part, hitting a single, and a double in the bottom of the sixth that was responsible for the team's eighth and ninth runs of the contest.

Parrent, the center fielder, is confident about the Indians' chances in the sectional. "That's the goal (getting to state)," he said.

Are the seniors focused? "Oh yeah, this is our last year. We have to be."

Second baseman Ben Butler also had a good night at the plate, hitting a pair of singles and scoring twice.

"I'm happy. A win is a win," Donath said, noting there were a few things in the game he was not pleased with, but, "We did a lot of good things tonight."

One of the very good things was the pitching effort of junior right-hander John Holt, who gave up just four hits and struck out eight.

Holt did have some control problems, especially in the fifth inning, and Donath said at that point he considered making a pitching change.

"In the fifth inning, I was ready to remove him," Donath said, reporting Holt told him he was correcting the problem, so he decided to let him continue.

"He hit a guy (Jason Race) in the sixth, but he did bear down and got the final two outs," Donath said.

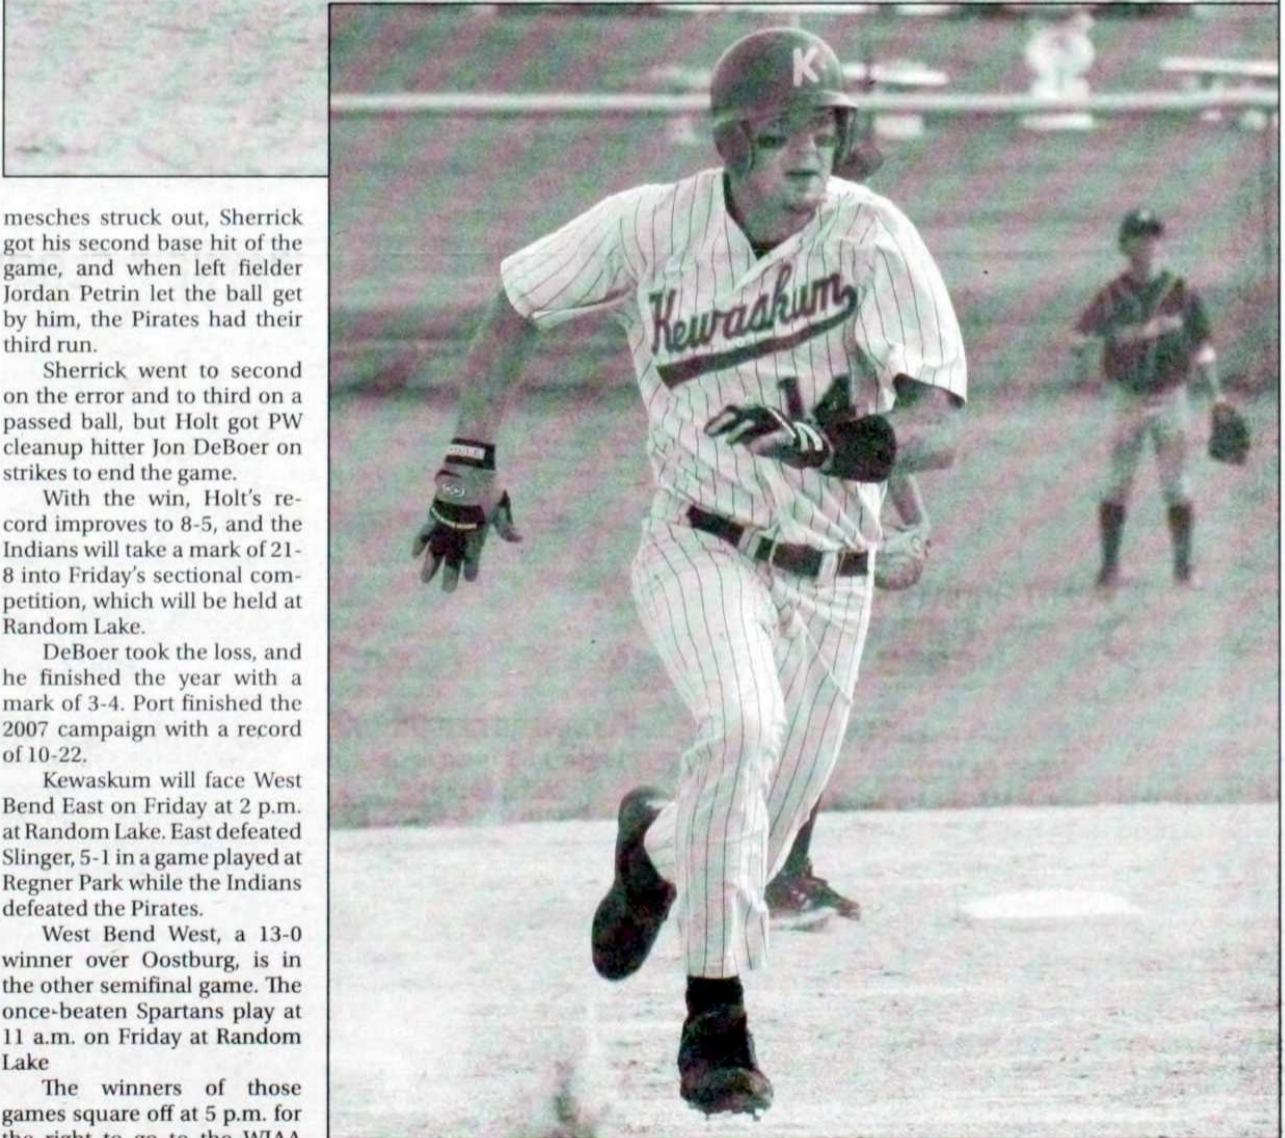

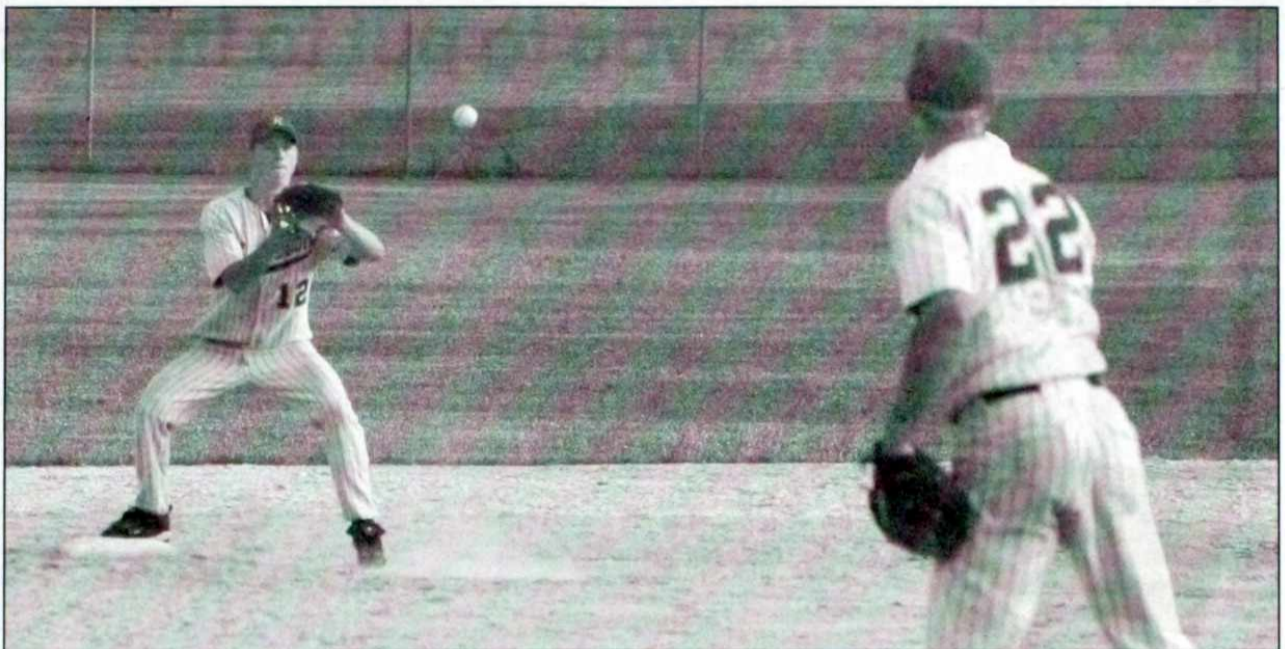

While Port was unable to score any runs in the first four innings, Holt had a mighty high pitch count in three of those frames, including 16 in the first, 28 in the second toward a total of 57.

For the game, he wound up with 137 pitches, a surprisingly high number according to Donath, who said, "I didn't know that," and adding, "He doesn't make it easy on himself. He's got to get ahead of the hitters," which he usually does.

The Pirates got their first two runs in the fifth when Dan Dickmann hit a one-out single, and Holt walked three straight, including Ken Dornberg, Mike Burmesch and Matt Burmesch to force in a run.

Catcher Mike Sherrick, who came on to pitch the fifth and sixth innings, came through with a single that scored run No. 2.

In the top of the seventh, Dornberg walked, the Bur-mesches struck out, Sherrick got his second base hit of the game, and when left fielder Jordan Petrin let the ball get by him, the Pirates had their third run.

Sherrick went to second on the error and to third on a passed ball, but Holt got PW cleanup hitter Jon DeBoer on strikes to end the game.

With the win, Holt's record improves to 8-5, and the Indians will take a mark of 21-8 into Friday's sectional competition, which will be held at Random Lake.

DeBoer took the loss, and he finished the year with a mark of 3-4. Port finished the 2007 campaign with a record of 10-22.

Kewaskum will face West Bend East on Friday at 2 p.m. at Random Lake. East defeated Slinger, 5-1 in a game played at Regner Park while the Indians defeated the Pirates.

West Bend West, a 13-0 winner over Oostburg, is in the other semifinal game. The once-beaten Spartans play at 11 a.m. on Friday at Random Lake.

The winners of those games square off at 5 p.m. for the right to go to the WIAA State Summer Baseball Tournament.

Concerning who he will pitch Friday, Donath said, "I don't know what we're going to do yet. You can't always save your ace for the second game because there may not be one."

Donath said he wasn't sure who would win the game between East and Slinger. "You never know which team is going to show up," he said about the Suns. "I would anticipate it would be East, but you never know."

Donath expects West will reach the finals, and he and the rest of the Indians would like another crack at the Spartans who beat them 17-2 sev-
