Village's TIF District not developing according to plan

By Andrew Kuehl

Developer being fined for lack of progress while village is accused of not complying with agreement

KEWASKUM- Expressions on the faces of Village Board members were a stark contrast to those seen when they thought their Tax Incremental Finance (TIF) District was going to be the home of the much-hyped Village Lakes Center. With much of the residential and commercial land still vacant, village engineers painted a very red picture for village trustees.

Ken Ward, an engineer with Ruekert Mielke, the village's engineering firm, gave the board a state of the TIF address at a special village board meeting on Wednesday, September 19. Developer Gary Gavin was also in attendance along with his associates.

Ward opened the discussion and explained that much of the infrastructure work is complete, however engineers are still tying up loose ends with the sub-contractors. He explained that since the start of construction a total of the costs have been calculated to $7,744,345.07.

A breakdown of costs reveals that $1,190,720.25 has been spent on engineering, design and inspection. According to the developer's agreement, Gavin is responsible for 11.44% of certain construction costs. In July of this year, he was invoiced for $368,492. If that amount is not paid by November 15, the amount will be placed on the tax roll as a special assessment.

Progress not being made as projected, developer penalized

According to the developers agreement, Gavin is required to achieve a certain minimum amount of construction on the lands located within the TIF district each year in order to generate tax increment for the parcel. If Gavin falls short for the year, he is required to pay a penalty to the village. That penalty money is to be used to help meet the debt repayment obligations of the district.

As of January 1, 2007 Gavin was required to achieve 98,926 square feet of construction. However, according to calculations from Ruekert Mielke, Gavin only had 55,601 square feet of construction. This 43,325 square foot shortfall yields a total penalty of $32,060.85. (These are not typical square feet construction terms according to Shambeau)

By January 1, 2008 Gavin is required to show 222,849 square feet of construction. If he falls under the square footage, he will again be penalized at 74¢ per square foot that was not developed. If left undeveloped, it is estimated that Gavin will be penalized an additional $98,837 in 2008.

As a financial guarantee to make sure performance penalties were paid if they accrued, the developer's agreement required Gavin to open an

TOWN of AUBURN- A man was found dead in his home after a five-hour standoff with police on Saturday, September 22. Police initially responded to the residence for a domestic dispute.

The initial response came around 8:26 a.m. when the Sheriff's Department dispatched a Campbellsport ambulance to the home at N1317 Highway V. The home is located just south of the village of Campbellsport limits.

Lieutenant Rick Olig of the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department explained, "Due to circumstances deputies set up a perimeter around the residence and attempts were made to contact the male subject in the residence. After five hours of attempting to make contact, gas was introduced into the residence. 20 minutes later the SWAT team made entry into the residence and located the 37-year-old male subject, already deceased inside the residence."

Those traveling in and out of the village of Campbellsport found themselves taking a detour off of the main thoroughfare into the small comescrow fund with a federally insured financial institution. The village was required to have access to funds in the account, drawing on them when necessary. The developer's agreement required that 10% of all real estate sales in the district to be placed into this fund.

TIF District woes

Shambeau stated in a September 14, 2007 letter to Gavin, that the village does not show that any account has been opened. According to his calculations, the total in that account should be $196,160. Gavin was given 15 days from the date of the letter to establish the escrow account.

Another security measure was put in place within the developer's agreement. A $440,000 letter of credit was also to be given to the village as further security against any potential defaults. According to Shambeau, this too has not been received. Gavin was ordered to provide the letter of credit within 15 days from the aforementioned letter.

Another point of contention was the fact that according to the developer's agreement, the village was to receive a $535,000 financial guarantee, in the form of a letter of credit.

When asked why the provisions had not been followed up on, Shambeau stated, "It's unfortunate that the provisions were not put into place initially. Right now, the village feels this needs to get accomplished as soon as possible. We have been meeting with Mr. Gavin since shortly after I started, we've been negotiating concerns all along." He indicated the letter to Gavin was a result of numerous meetings with himself, village staff and Gavin.

Gavin explained that he did not personally make any of the financial obligations because Ward assured him that Larry and Greg Chmielewski, representatives of Bullseye Construction/United Construction Group, who were developing the property at the time, were taking care of them. However, when the purchase never materialized, the village failed to secure the guarantees.

Village reminded their end of the deal wasn't held up either

Gavin's attorney, Karen Christianson, addressed the board. She reminded the board members that since the inception of the TIF district, lots of changes have occurred. She went on to report that the developer's agreement required the village to have infrastructure in place by November 2005. "Clearly the village has not complied, you are still with an open contract," Christianson reported.

Ward agreed, but reiterated the work is substantially complete.

The agreement articulates that if the improvements are not in place by November 30, 2005, the agreement shall be modified to provide for a mutually acceptable deferral of time. Christianson threw out the idea of having the village form a committee to change terms of the developer's agreement because of the significant changes that have occurred since the agreement was adopted. "We need to sit down and negotiate new terms and timelines," she pleaded.

On advice from the Village Attorney, Gerald Kiefer, the board neglected the idea of forming a committee to review and edit the developer's agreement. Kiefer's solution was to have Gavin and his associates discuss amicable terms with village staff.

Christianson next presented issue with the on-site soil compaction or, lack thereof. She reported that Ruekert Mielke acknowledges that testing was not done continuously.

Gavin, in a later interview, stated the village had a contract with Super Excavators to have the compaction done in 10-12 inch lifts with a compaction of 95 percent. Shambeau stated the village does not have evidence that the earthwork was not done according to the standard given to Super Excavators.

Gavin alleged that the work was only tested one day and only 15 tests were completed, five of which failed. He indicated that testing should have been done whenever fill was placed, yielding between 3-400 tests. He also stated he spoke with Ward and the on-site inspector that he did not approve of the fill being used.

Christianson explained that lack of compaction causes a defect in the sale ability and development of the parcel. The practice of soil compaction compresses soil, allows for better foundations for building pads.

Christianson pointed out an issue with the over sizing with a water main on the parcel. Gavin claims to have had a verbal agreement with former village administrator Dan Schmidt and Ward that he would be reimbursed for the over sized, 12 inch main. However, the developer's agreement vaguely stipulates the opposite.

Christianson also requested that the board re-evaluate the calculation of Gavin's share of the infrastructure costs. She wanted it determined if Gavin's share of the costs took into consideration the implementation of impact fees. The developer's agreement stipulates that in the event that the village imposes impact fees (which it has) for water main, Gavin's share of the water main costs shall be recovered through impact fees.

Christianson also voiced concern in regards to a Department of Transportation (DOT) traffic study completed. The study commenced due to the safety of allowing access on Highway 45. She reported that the value of the property changes significantly with the approval or lack of approval for access to the district from Highway 45.

Currently, the DOT is in the process of evaluating the study. They have not made a decision on the matter. Gavin reported that the study is identical to one completed in 2005, and stated that Ruekert Mielke never submitted it to the state. "As it stands today there is no access (from Highway 45)," Gavin commented.

Shambeau said because the development being proposed in 2005 by United Construction Group is significantly different than what is now likely to be constructed, a substitute plan was needed and that is what was submitted. "The reality is we were working with the developer and his engineer to form the plan," Shambeau affirmed.

Christianson closed her discussion by asking for the issues she brought to the floor be discussed before Gavin makes any payment.

In a later interview, Gavin expressed his displeasure at impact fees affecting any potential construction that occurs in the district requiring a six-inch water lateral, costing $92,000 just to be able to install the lateral.

Trustee Kevin Scheunemann agreed that the village shares some of the responsibility because the infrastructure was not complete by the date agreed upon in the developer's agreement. He advocated for a quick resolution due to the fact that the financing for the district has been expended to taxpayers.

Shambeau reported that the village has borrowed $7.7 million and has not started to repay any of the principal. The village currently is only paying the interest on the $7.7 million that amounts to roughly $482,000 that must be paid in 2008.

Shambeau indicated that to date, there has not been any formal exchanges of documents and village staff have a meeting scheduled for October 4 to discuss the items Gavin and Christianson outlined at the September 19 meeting. He would not comment on reworking the current developer's agreement since the village board maintains authority over developer's agreements.

"Ideally, we want to continue working towards resolution on the issues. We have a vested interest in this project. We've invested $7.7 million in the project," Shambeau concluded.

Town of Wayne begins work on Townline Road

After a four-year wait, construction has started on Townline Road in the township. Town officials report the project should be complete if weather cooperates by October 15. Roadwork begins at Badger Road and ends at Sunset Drive. Township residents pick up the entire $250,000 tab on the project. According to Town Chairman Scott Weiss, contractors will be replacing culverts, widening shoulders, raising the roadbed and resurface the stretch. Drivers are asked to find another direction of travel while the project takes place.

Two alarm fire damages Farmington home

TOWN of FARMINGTON- An undetermined amount of damage was caused by a fire in a residence at 8294 Orchard Valley Road. Washington County Sheriff's Deputies responded to the home around 2:15 a.m. and were later joined by Fillmore Fire Department.

The fire was contained to a utility room, but there was extensive heat and smoke damage to other areas of the home. Boltonville Fire Department later joined Fillmore Firefighters with their thermal imaging equipment.

Lieutenant John Buck stated the fire originated from a cigarette in waste basket.

Fredonia man critically injured in motorcycle accident

TOWN of FARMINGTON - A Fredonia man was critically injured in a single vehicle motorcycle accident on Highway XX at Kohler Road during the early morning hours of Sunday, September 23.

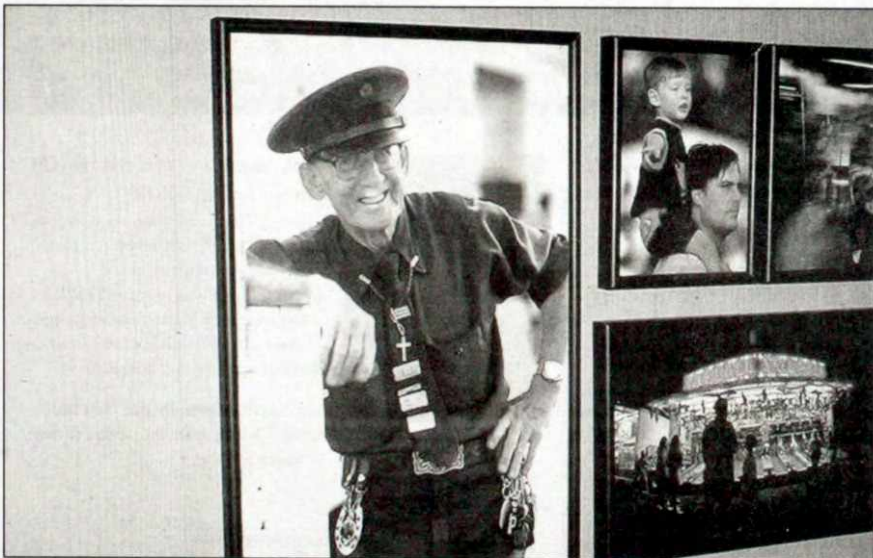

Washington County Sheriff's deputies, along with Fillmore and Newburg Fire Departments, responded to the scene. An investigation found that Vincent A. Ehley Jr, 58, was traveling among a group of motorcycles when the crash occurred. A group of cyclists that were behind Ehley came across him shortly after the accident occurred.

Newburg EMS met West Bend Intercept on the way to the hospital. Shortly after arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital, Ehley was transported to Froedert Hospital by Flight for Life.

Sheriff's deputies revealed that the victim was southbound on Highway XX when he failed to negotiate a curve. The cycle then crossed into the oncoming lane of traffic and went into the ditch, ejecting Ehley.

The driver was not wearing a helmet at the time of the accident. Alcohol is believed to have been a factor in the accident.

Kewaskum travelers see deceased village man

A group of 11 Kewaskum residents got to see an old friend on their annual colorama tour on Sunday and Monday, September 2 and 3. During a stop in Janesville at the Milwaukee Restaurant the group sat down to eat and noticed a photo of former Kewaskum resident, the late Ed Paske. When asked where the photo came, from the owner of the restaurant stated he bought the print with a number of other prints from a Milwaukee Journal Sentinel photographer to decorate the eatery several years ago. The owner did not know who Paske was or where he was from and just bought the photo for decoration. "It was quite a coincidence that out of all the restaurants in Janesville we picked that one," reported Roger Strack. The group in addition to checking out the fall colors toured the General Motors assembly plant in Janesville.

American soldier and Wisconsin Lions Clubs team up to give Iraqi girl chance to see WAUSAU- Sergeant John Kempen, United States Army, and the Lions Clubs of Wisconsin could help a 7-year-old girl from Iraq see clearly for the first time in her life after she receives corneal transplant surgery next week. Kempen, stationed in Iraq from August 2005 to December 2006, noticed the girl, named Zahraa, couldn't see well when he was tossing candy to her.

"We always threw candy to the kids and gave them the presents people sent from the U.S.," said Sgt. Kempen, 1st Stryker Brigade Combat Team, 25th Infantry Division. "We were in Iraq for 14 months and soldiers got really bummed out so giving gifts to the kids cheered us up. The kids love it; and they really go after the candy, but Zahraa could never get any. She was holding her hands over her eyes in pain."

Sgt. Kempen, now stationed at Fort Wainwright in Fairbanks Alaska, took Zahraa to see his medic and then spoke to Iraqi doctors who said they couldn't help her. He spoke to Zahraa's father who said that she was born with a vision condition and all the doctors could do was give her eye drops that had little effect. Her father said Zahraa has felt like she has sand in her eyes ever since she was a baby.

"Zahraa has swollen corneas and blisters on the front of the cornea which is why she can't see through them very well," said Doctor Kevin Flaherty, M.D, who specializes in corneal external disease at the Eye Clinic of Wisconsin. "The front surface of her cornea is breaking down from the swelling which makes her uncomfortable and the blisters make her feel like there is a foreign object in her eye constantly, hence her description of the sand."

"Zahraa's vision is at 2400, which means that with a lot of effort, she can barely make out the large 'E' on the eye chart," Dr. Flaherty continued. "It's like she's looking through a very steamy window. She can see objects and shapes but she cannot make out anything clearly."

A year ago Sgt. Kempen turned to the Lions clubs, known for their work to combat preventable blindness around the world, for help. His mother of Crandon, WI worked with the Crandon Lions Club to arrange for Zahraa to enter the U.S. to be evaluated by Dr. Flaherty at the Eye Clinic of Wisconsin.

"Through the help of the Lions clubs and Sgt. Kempen we're hoping to help Zahraa see as normally as she can," said Dr. Flaherty. "I am optimistic that surgery should improve things for her. She hasn't had a clear cornea for many years, but she's of an age where she still has the opportunity to have her vision improved."

The Lions clubs of Crandon and Wausau, WI worked with Sgt. Kempen, his mother and Lions Clubs International to arrange for Zahraa to receive the corneal transplant. The corneas and surgery will be donated by the Lions Eye Bank of Wisconsin in Madison and Aspirus Wausau Hospital. The services will be donated by Dr. Flaherty and the Eye Clinic of Wisconsin.

"We are so happy that Zahraa and her grandmother are finally here. We have worked hard to make this happen," said Frank Bocek, past president of the Crandon Lions Club. "Sgt. Kempen and his mother called us because they knew Lions fight blindness—and that if anyone could help Zahraa, it was the Lions. This was a real community effort and we thank Aspirus Wausau Hospital, the Lions Eye Bank and all the others who helped make this possible. We hope we can help Zahraa see well and make her eyes feel better, too."

The Lions of Wisconsin were able to work through many channels to help Zahraa and her grandmother obtain American visas. Students from Crandon Elementary School raised money to help fund Zahraa's travel to the U.S. A Wausau-based Lion and seasoned host family will house Zahraa and her grandmother for the duration of her stay in the U.S. which will last at least eight weeks.

Lions are well known for their work to end preventable blindness, which began in 1925 in response to a challenge from Helen Keller. Over the past 16 years, Lions have given $202 million in grant funding for sight-related projects such as cataract surgeries, building eye hospitals and clinics, vision testing in preschool and elementary schools, distributing sight-saving medication to prevent river blindness and training eye care professionals.

"The fact that the Lions were able to bring Zahraa to the U.S. alone is a miracle," said Sgt. Kempen, who will visit Zahraa in Wisconsin during her recovery. "Now if they can help give her the gift of sight or even just stop the discomfort she feels in her eyes, all the hard work will be worth it."

Lions Clubs International is the world's largest service club organization with 1.3 million members in approximately 45,000 clubs in 200 countries and geographic areas around the world. Since 1917, Lions clubs have aided the blind and visually impaired and made a strong commitment to community service and serving youth throughout the world.

Centenarian nuns share birthday in C-sport

Sister Carolann Ripperger

Sister Emmalin Recker

CAMPBELLSPORT - What are the odds that an individual lives to age 100 or older? What are the odds that more than one centenarian lives at the same residence? What are the odds that those two centenarians, living at the same residence, share the same birthday? Your answer, if an answer could be calculated, would have to be odds of one in a million to one.

Well, whatever the odds, the event has happened at St. Joseph Convent in Campbellsport. School Sisters of St. Francis nuns, Sister Carolann Ripperger and Sister Emmalin Recker both celebrated birthdays in excess of 100 years on Friday, September 21st. Sister Carolann celebrated her 103rd birthday and Sister Emmalin celebrated her 101st birthday.

The two nuns were each honored with huge birthday cards signed with personal notes from hundreds of well-wishers and were serenaded with song and blessed with prayer at a surprise celebration held at the convent.

Sister Carolann was born in Lacona, IA, the eighth of 14 children. Her area of ministry is as a homemaker. Her favorite hymn is Amazing Grace. She likes to read and do crossword puzzles. Her favorite flower is the carnation and her favorite food is apple pie.

Sister Emmalin was born in Raeville, NB, the eldest of ten children. She served as a teacher. Her favorite hymn is How Great Thou Art. She enjoys playing cards and watching movies. Her favorite flower is the rose and her favorite food is peas.

Sisters Carolann and Emmalin are conversant, attend daily Mass, and enjoy a wide-range of daily activities at the convent. "Life is what you make of it and these two Sisters have made the most of what God has given to them" says St. Joseph Convent Administrator, Michael Kurtz. "The coincidence that these two precious Sisters share the same birthday is an added bonus."

St. Joseph Convent is currently home to nearly 170 retired School Sisters of St. Francis and other religious orders. Six of the resident Sisters are centenarians.

Cedar Community looking for caring individuals

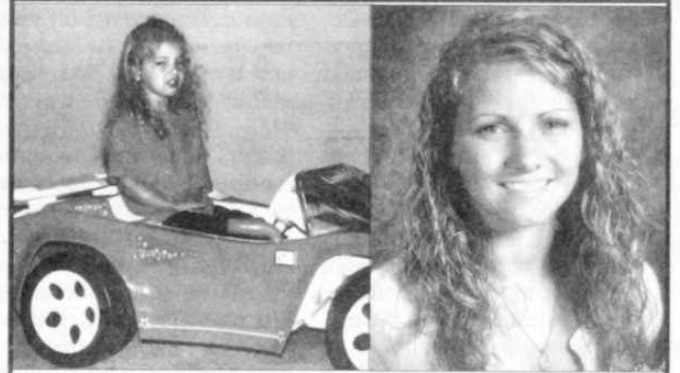

Are you a caring and compassionate person? Are you a good listener? Do you feel the need to give back to the community? If you answered "yes" to these questions then Cedar Community would like to hear from you. Cedar Community is currently seeking volunteers to participate in their hospice program.

Hospice volunteers receive eight hours of training and provide residents with companionship by spending time visiting with them, taking them outside on the grounds and to various Cedar Community programs. Hospice volunteers provide emotional and social support in a caring environment. Each hospice volunteer is assigned to one resident and visits with the resident one day a week for as long as they wish.

Anyone interested in learning more about this and other volunteer opportunities available at Cedar Community should contact Bonnie Amerling, Cedar Community volunteer coordinator, at 262.306.4218. "Volunteers make a significant impact on the lives of our residents," Amerling said. The next hospice training is in October.

In the controversial literary work "Uncle Tom's Cabin" by Harriet Beecher Stowe, there is a character called Evangeline St. Clare. She is better known by the name Little Eva.

'Media's influence on the war' lecture at UWWC October 3

WEST BEND - Milwaukee Journal/Sentinel Reporter, Meg Jones is the featured speaker on Wednesday, October 3 as UW-Washington County presents the second topic in their lecture series, WAR and PEACE. Jones' talk, which begins at 7pm in Room 228, is entitled, MEDIA'S INFLUENCE ON WAR. Admission is free. Community members as well as area high school and college students are welcome to attend. No reservations are needed.

Jones has spent much of her career traveling and reporting from far off places, including Iraq and Afghanistan. Serving as an embedded reporter, Jones first joined the Wisconsin National Guard's 32nd Military Police Company of Milwaukee, in Baghdad in December 2003. Her expeditions to the Iraqi war zone continued over the next three years as she returned to Iraq twice in 2005 (May-June and December-January) and Afghanistan once in 2006 (June-July).

Jones holds a bachelor's degree in journalism from UW-Madison. A Wisconsin native, she worked for newspapers in Marinette, Shawano and Wausau and USA Today, before getting hired by the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel in 1993. A general assignment reporter, Jones specializes in stories about Wisconsin's military. She was a Pulitzer finalist for explanatory writing for a series on chronic wasting disease in 2002. In addition to her career at the Journal/Sentinel, Jones also teaches journalism classes at Marquette University.

Wednesday's discussion will include a brief history of war journalism, how the embedded journalist program was started and why and what it's like to be an embedded journalist in a war zone.

The next lecture in the series will take place on October 10. The topic is the Peace Process. Note that this is a change from the original schedule. The speaker is Robert Ricigliano, UW-M, International Education. (The lecture on The Economics of War has been moved to February 27).

To coincide with the lecture series, artwork created by Vietnam and Iraq War veterans will be on display in the campus art gallery. On loan from the Vietnam Veterans War Museum in Chicago, the exhibit will be open during regular campus hours from October through November. The exhibit will include twenty pieces of artwork created in a variety of media, including oils, charcoal, acrylic, graphite, mixed media, pen and ink, and silver gelatin prints.

The purpose of the lecture series is to provide fundamental information and a better understanding of military efforts and impacts. More information is also available on the campus website at www.washington.uwc.edu/events/lectures. All lectures will be held in Room 228, which is located in the Collins Science Wing in the upper level of the campus at 400 University Drive in West Bend.

Walking tour of Lizard Mound Park October 6

Little is known about the people who left their mark in the Town of Farmington long before settlers from the east arrived. We call them "Mound Builders" because that's what remains. Once the earthworks were identified, steps were taken to preserve what was left of them. Washington County identified and put aside property with the largest group of these animal and geometrically-shaped mounds at Lizard Mound County Park on Highway A in the Town of Farmington, just east of State Road 144.

The Farmington Historical Society is pleased to sponsor an informational walking tour of the approximately one-mile easy hiking trail among the wooded mound site. Professor Christopher Hays, associate professor of Anthropology at UWWC who specializes in the Mound Builders and the Woodland Period of Native American culture, will lead the walk on Saturday, October 6. Meet at the parking lot at 1:30 p.m.

The trail is handicap accessible and portable restrooms are at the park. There is no charge for this event and everyone is welcome.

Washington County Senior Center to celebrate 40 years

The Senior Center of Washington County is not quite a senior itself, however it will be celebrating its 40th anniversary on Friday, September 28 and Sunday, September 30.

The senior center is located at 401 E. Washington Street, West Bend.

On Friday a fish fry will be served from 4 to 8 p.m. The meal includes German potato salad or French fries, coleslaw, tartar sauce, and beverage. Cost of the meal is $7 for two pieces or $8 for three. Chicken strips will also be available. Dessert will be available for 50¢.

Bring the grandchildren along for games from 5:30-6:30 p.m.

At 6:30 p.m. a very special tribute to the veterans will be held. The local color guard will be presenting a very special and unique program. Members of the guard will speak about where they served, will share a story about their service and will explain the flag they are carrying.

One of the guard members will be sharing his story of the day Pearl Harbor was bombed while he was there.

During the tribute the Senior Center Chorus and Band will be performing the hymn from each branch of the government. During that time veterans will be invited to stand during the hymn for their branch of the military.

On Sunday at 11:15 a.m. the 17 people who founded the senior center in 1967 will be recognized for their efforts.

The Kettle Moraine Classic Kar Klub will be there with their shiny old cars at 10:30 a.m.

Also at 10:30 a "tailgate party" will be held. Brats, hamburgers, hot dogs, beverages and chips will be available. Also, make sure to pick up a FREE piece of anniversary cake.

The Packer (vs. Vikings) game will be shown at 12 noon.

Once again games for the kids will be available as well.

Bingo for all ages will be played from 1 to 3 p.m.

DAYS GONE BY

25 Years Ago

September 17, 1982

Dairyland Seed Company, located about one mile south of Kewaskum celebrated their 75th Anniversary with an open house on Saturday, September 11. Several hundred dealers and farmers from near and far joined the Strachotas in the celebration which featured a video presentation of Dairyland Seed, "Yesterday and Today." The seed business was originally started by Simon Strachota in his general store in St. Kilian. The seed business is headed by Mr. and Mrs. Orville Strachota, together with their two sons, Steve and Tom, who employ a large staff.

Four foreign exchange students have arrived at Kewaskum High School for the 1982-83 school year. This year's exchange students are sponsored by several organizations. Hiroko Yamada is the American Field Service exchange student. She is 17 years old and comes from Nagasaki, Japan. Hiroko is living with the John Hazlewood family for the school year. Her American sisters and brother are Laurie, Jan and John Hazlewood, Jr. Peter Nohlmans and Begona Ortega, both are exchange students sponsored by the Youth for Understanding - an International Student Exchange. Peter is 17 years old and comes from the city of Sittard in the country of Netherland. Peter is staying with the Mr. and Mrs. Carl Plaum family. Valerie is his stateside sister. Begona Ortega comes from Oviedo, Spain. She is 16 years old and will be staying with the Roman Loof family. Her stateside sister is Jacky, a senior at KHS. The fourth new foreign student at KHS this year is Maria Carlfolk from Vaxjo, Sweden. Her sponsoring agency is the American Scandinavian Student Exchange Program. She is living with Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hecker and their daughter, Shawn, of Kewaskum.

A 10-year-old New Prospect boy was admitted early Sunday evening to the intensive care unit at St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac, for treatment of facial injuries received when the motorized tricycle he was driving hit a tree. Steven Krueger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Krueger, owners of the Fin-n-Feather Supper Club in New Prospect, was listed in good condition this week and was taken out of the intensive care unit at the hospital on Tuesday.

Century 21 Real Estate of the Midwest, Inc., has announced that Dolly Ramthun has successfully completed her 2&1 Sales Training Program and is now associated with Century 21 Klug & Klug Real Estate Inc. of West Bend.

Kewaskum's young Indians, consisting mainly of juniors and a sophomore quarterback, surprised the favored Cougars at Campbellsport Friday night, with another one point victory, 14-13. Just before half-time, Kewaskum had its first success on offense, following some good pass plays, including one of 22 yards from soph quarterback Mark Follmann to Jeff Squier, who made a super catch. With just seconds left and the ball resting on the four yard line, the Indians set up what appeared to be a 22-yard field goal attempt. But the pass from center went back to Tim Leitheiser, the team's number two quarterback, who ran right, and then found Darryl Tews open in the end zone for a touchdown. The extra points on a run failed. A strange turn of events gave Kewaskum the lead in the third quarter. On a third down situation at its own 13, Campbellsport's Narges coughed up the football after a nice gain. The Indians' Squier got a hand on the ball but it got away from him and Jim Brown caught it in mid-air and raced 15 yards for the score. Follmann's pass to Dennis Butz was successful for a two point conversion and it turned out to be the game decider.

A son, Jacob Simon, was born to Zachary and Joan Stoffel, Kewaskum, on September 9. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alan Stoffel, Kewaskum, and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Berndt, Kewaskum. The Stoffels also have a daughter, Rebecca, age two. A son was also born to Neal and Gayle Yoho, Campbellsport, on Sept. 13. Local landmark tavern eatery to thrive once again

Once popular watering hole thrives as Rustic Inn

By Andrew Kuehl

Statesman Managing Editor
andrew@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM - A local landmark has reopened and all indications are that landmark will thrive once more as it did in its heyday. Sarah Stier and Wendell Weisensel are quickly approaching their six-week anniversary of management of The Rustic Inn on Main Street.

Previous owner, Bill "Mac" McDonald and his wife Valeria previously operated McDonald's Rustic Inn after buying the building from Rosie and the late Wes Kuehl in 1987. The Kuehls operated Wes & Rosie's Tavern for about 15 years. Prior to Wes & Rosie's, Rose Kuehl operated the tavern alone after the death of her then husband, Roman "Jimmy" Miller, in 1964. Prior to that, she and Roman had operated the watering hole since 1946.

The pair met while Stier was a bartender at Silver Lake Country Inn. She says she has been in the hospitality business for over 30 years working at various hotels, restaurants and bars. She recalls the seed was planted when Weisensel told her he noticed how much fun she was having behind the bar. That led to the dream of owning a place together and continuing that fun.

The dream became reality in the form of jointly managing the Crocodile Pub and Grill in Dundee. The two opened in June 2006, and according to Stier, it didn't take long for success. However, the owner sold the building just a few months later in September, putting the two out of business.

The two were introduced to McDonald, who had listed the business and building with numerous real estate agents through the years. Recently, they operated the restaurant on a limited basis.

In January of 2007 negotiations began between the four and by April 13, Stier and Weisensel opened The Rustic Inn. Since April, Stier says they have seen a steady increase in customers and hear great things about their food.

Weisensel continues working by day at Brandt Molded Marble performing custom installations. At night he gets behind the bar while Stier cranks out a limited, but delicious menu that's pleasing palates of all tastes.

Quiet atmosphere, fun times, great drinks and reasonable prices

The homey rustic atmosphere of the bar and dining area is reminiscent of the Kettle Moraine Area Stier and Weisensel serve. Stepping up the small flight of stairs you immediately know you are at The Rustic Inn; you don't need to see the name out front. Stier's welcoming smile is the finishing touch to bring you inside to enjoy some rustic hospitality.

Stier credits much of their success to out of the box thinking and fun promotions for their customers. She says their weekly Wednesday night Texas Hold'em poker run has really taken off.

To take part, pay only $5 to get your entry card from any of the participating bars between 6 and 8 p.m. The last stop of the evening is at 9:30 p.m. The last stop of the evening is to pick your poker hand. The best hand wins $50, second best hand takes home $25. Each week the last stop is at a different, participating bar.

The Rustic Inn has also become a favorite for Packer and Badger fans. Snacks at half time, interesting celebration shots and discounts on domestic brew and rail cocktails guarantee a good time.

Weisensel claim to fame is a delicious old fashioned cocktail. He explains the drink is concocted with their secret homemade old fashion mix. The house drink is a Long Island Ice Tea. The potent cocktail is made by hand behind the bar, not poured from a mix. Stop on Sunday to take advantage of their made from scratch Bloody Mary, which are always available, but on special that day.

Bottle beers include all the domestic favorites along with all flavors of Leinenkugel, select flavors of New Glarus, St. Pauli Girl and Sol, a Mexican beer.

The bite is worth the wait

Catching a bite at The Rustic Inn may not be the place for those in a hurry on Fridays, however, if you have some time, and burgers and a Wisconsin Fish Fry is your thing, you have to take some time and savor one or both. Uniquely, you can do just that on a Friday night. While many grill/pubs will only serve their fish on Friday, The Rustic Inn accommodates both.

Stier states the reason for the extra wait is the small kitchen adjoining the bar. The eatery is only operating with the grill and fryers that are behind the bar. Not the full kitchen that McDonald and his wife used. The two only lease the bar portion of the building making seating a bit limited.

You won't find your average burger at The Rustic Inn. Stier indicates she pats out fresh burgers once a day. Before adding a brat/burger combo, my favorite was the mushroom Swiss burger, made with fresh mushrooms and Swiss cheese on a delicious Sheboygan Hard Roll. All sandwiches are served with kettle chips and a pickle. French fries and chippers will cost just a buck more. Each sandwich also comes with your choice of American, cheddar, Swiss, pepper jack or provolone cheeses.

All sandwiches, with the exception of the patty melt and Reuben are served on a Sheboygan Hard Roll. All the ground chuck is from just down the street at Kewaskum Frozen Foods. And, for the health conscious, all burgers are made from 90 percent lean ground beef.

For those in search of something other than a burger, try a grilled chicken breast, single or double brat patty or a steak sandwich. The six ounce

The dining room of the Rustic Inn is small, but the food is worth the wait.

The Choice

By Nicholas Sparks

Grand Central Publishing, $24.99, 272 pages

"But you promised!"

Ever get that howl from a child who doesn't get her way? As much as you hate to admit it, your mother was right: promises were made to be broken.

But what if the promise was made to your spouse and it mattered more than life itself? In the new novel "The Choice" by Nicholas Sparks, making the promise was easy for Travis Parker. Choosing to ignore it was harder.

Was a little peace and quiet too much to ask? Gabby Holland wondered, as she stood on the deck of her newly-purchased house and listened to the ruckus coming from next door. She moved here to be closer to her long-time boyfriend, Kevin, and the location seemed perfect, but this was too much.

Not that she minded her neighbor's choice of music, but he didn't have to have it so loud, did he? Anyhow, that wasn't the point. The real problem was that Gabby's beautiful collie, Molly, was pregnant and it was his fault. Maybe it was time to take action. Gabby set off for the house next door.

When his energetic dog bumped into his angry new neighbor and knocked her down, Travis Parker was apologetic but he, too, was stricken. Travis had his share of girlfriends but no one ever seriously thought he'd ever settle down. Travis himself never thought about it, either.

Not, anyway, until Gabby marched across his lawn and straight into his heart.

But that was a long time ago. It was before the two of them fell in love in one unbelievable weekend. It was before Gabby chose to break up with Kevin to marry Travis. It was before the birth of Christine and then Lisa, two years later. And it was before Gabby made Travis promise something that he simply can't do now.

How does one choose to hope for love when all other options are bleak?

The better question is: how does someone who believes in love resist this sweet, romantic novel?

Generally, when recommending a book by author Nicholas Sparks, I tell readers to buy a box of tissues on the way home because he likes to jerk tears. "The Choice", though, is a little different.

Yes, it's emotional, but unlike so many other Sparks books, it's not a nine-hanky novel. Instead, this story unfolds very slowly, as Sparks tells readers exactly what happened to his characters in their past. This gives us a full understanding as to why Travis ultimately does what he does.

On the other hand, I was a little taken aback by the rapidity of Travis and Gabby's romance and the quicker-than-quick way that Sparks wrapped up the ending of his book. In the end, I thought the story line went almost too slow in some places and way too fast in others.

Still, "The Choice" is perfect for a fall weekend on the deck and won't disappoint Nicholas Sparks fans one bit. If you're looking for a speedy weekend read, this one is a pretty good choice.

Rustic Inn

certified angus sandwich is also served with Swiss cheese, mushrooms and onions. Cheese, lettuce and tomato can be added to any sandwich for an extra quarter.

Dinner choices, of which I have not had the pleasure of tasting include, broasted chicken, also available by eight, 12 and 16 piece buckets, broasted pork chops, butterfly deep fried shrimp, tempura shrimp or bourbon glazed salmon. All dinners are served with coleslaw or applesauce and your choice of French fries, chippers, sweet potato fries or sour cream and chive wedges.

All fish (cod or lake perch) are breaded to order, which also adds to the serving time. However, that extra touch is probably what sets The Rustic Inn's fish fry apart from others.

Each bite tastes fresh with just the right fish firmness. Each fish fry is accompanied by coleslaw or applesauce and your choice of homemade "chippers," sweet potato fries, sour cream and chive wedges or French fries

While, I've enjoyed the cod and chippers on more than one occasion, Stier says her perch are by far the best seller on her menu. She also says the sweet potato fries are also becoming a favorite. While she's tried to convince me to take a sample, I can't pass the chippers with a side of nacho cheese.

For a cod fish fry you'll pay $8, lake perch are only a buck more. Try a combo platter of cod, perch and shrimp for $10. Cod and perch sandwiches are also available at $5.50 and $6 respectively.

For those worried about the fried fish, put your mind at ease, all oil used at The Rustic Inn has zero trans fat. "We try to prepare our food the healthiest way possible," Stier assures.

Lunch starts at 11 a.m. and runs through the day until the end of the dinner hour at 9 p.m. The Rustic Inn is open six days a week, closed on Tuesday. Weisensel says he'll pour drinks until the last customer is out the door, or closing time, which ever comes first.

To celebrate their six-month anniversary and roughly the half way point between Steir's and Weisensel's birthdays, The Rustic Inn will hold YZ Fest on October 13.

The event will feature drink specials, giveaways, food freebies, a free half-barrel of beer and during the evening, a $7.25 prime rib dinner from 5 p.m. until gone. Karaoke will bring some entertainment in the evening from 6 to 10 p.m. featuring Vocal Presence by Julie.

The Rustic Inn accepts local checks with proper ID along with Visa, Mastercard and Discover.

The need for rural development

During his listening sessions a couple years ago, Secretary of Agriculture Mike Johanns heard a great deal about expanding rural development programs. Speakers talked about the need to develop and maintain infrastructure in rural towns and communities to attract industries and the resulting jobs to stop the "brain drain" to the big cities; to keep native sons and daughters at home, providing them with a lifestyle and an income that would make it attractive to stay closer to home and family and friends.

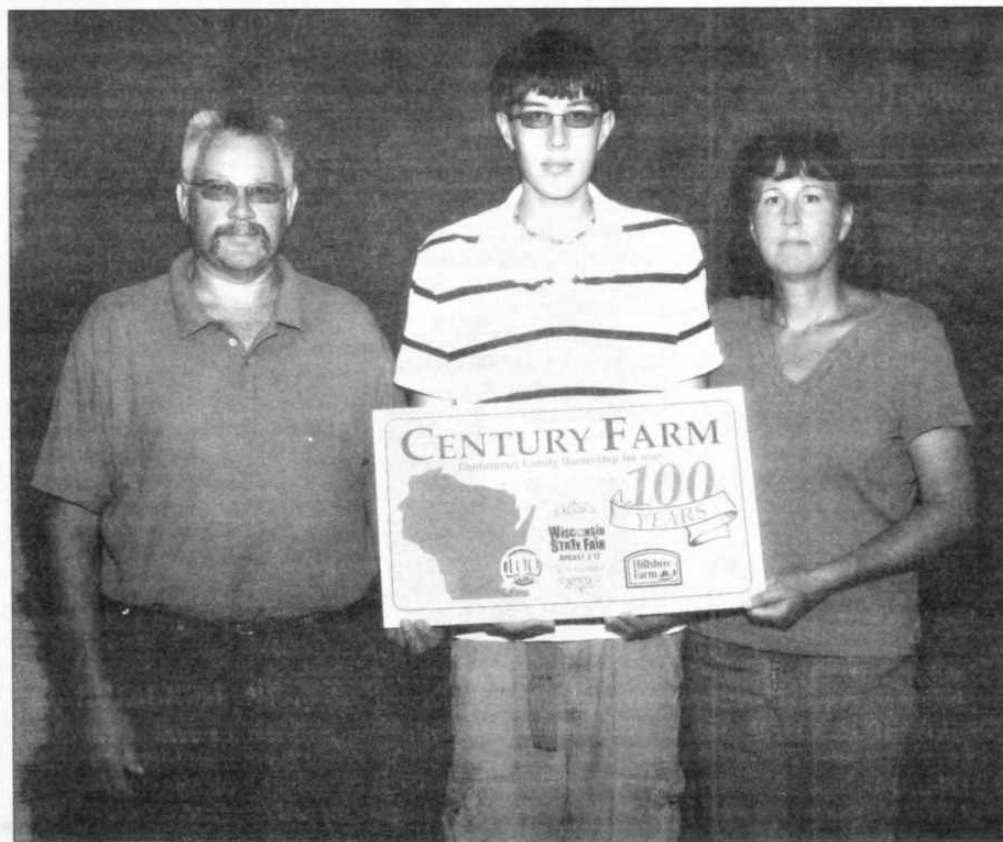

One state has decided to do more than just wring its hands and talk about the problem. North Dakota has launched an interesting program to not only stop the "brain drain", but actually reverse it. North Dakota admits it needs its native sons and daughters because they have seen a large loss of talented young people to Chicago, Denver, Minneapolis/St. Paul and other large cities that offer more jobs and higher pay. The U.S. Census Bureau estimates 21,000 North Dakotans left the state between 2000 and 2007.

So the state is now conducting a campaign to invite people who left the state to come back home and go to work there. They are actively recruiting native sons and daughters who left after completing college with this pitch from Gov. John Hoeven...."We have quality jobs available, quality of life and a good safe place to live and raise a family."

This is how the campaign works. About 70 businesses located in the state have signed up for a series of job fairs; two have already been held, one in Chicago and the other in the Twin Cities, a third will be held in Denver November 17th. Each of the 70 companies involved in trying to attract young native North Dakotans back to the state must offer jobs paying more than $30,000.00 a year with benefits if they want to be a participant in the job fair. The jobs they are talking about range from assistant attorney general to water resource engineer.

It's an interesting campaign, but again, it comes back to the need for rural development funds and programs to provide the jobs that will stop the "brain drain" from any rural state and keep young people at home, enjoying a lifestyle that, indeed, is attractive to a lot of people. If you care, you might suggest to Congress that it raise the funding for rural development in the 2007 farm bill. Meanwhile I tip my hat to the people of North Dakota for taking action. My best wishes for success.

Ralph and Estelle Matenaer and Steve and Susan Volm, all of Kewaskum, were recently honored at the 2007 Wisconsin State Fair on August 7 for their Century Farms.

The Century Farm and Home Award program began in 1948 as a part of Wisconsin's Centennial Celebration, a 23-day Wisconsin State Fair. The program honors families who have had continuous ownership of the Wisconsin farm or home for 100 years or more. For the past 33 years, Hillshire Farm in New London, have hosted the breakfast awards program.

At this year's program, 123 Century Farm and Home families were honored. Over 8,080 Century Farms and Homes have been honored since the start of the program.

KES's Walk Your Child to School Day October 3

Your child's safety is a top priority for you. That's why administrators at Kewaskum Elementary School are inviting you to join in for International Walk Your Child to School Day on October 3, 2007.

The 2007 event marks the 11th International Walk to School Day. What started with one school in Chicago has grown to more than 5,000 schools in the U.S. On a global scale, nearly 4 million people participate in approximately 40 countries.

KES, Safe Kids Southeast Wisconsin and the Washington County Injury Prevention Coalition are partnering with program sponsors FedEx Ground, and Modern Woodmen to make this important pedestrian safety event possible.

Parents, grandparents and caregivers are invited to participate in the event by walking your child to school. There will be two separate groups, one meeting at the parking lot by Auto Body Dynamics and one meeting by the Exodus House. Please arrive at your spot by 8 a.m. The official walk will begin at 8:15 a.m.

Upon arrival, there will be a short assembly on the school grounds and refreshments will be available for all the walkers.

Adults are asked to talk to your child about pedestrian safety on your walk to school. Please point out any pedestrian hazards (ex: no sidewalks, no crosswalks, etc.) along the route your child takes to school.

Community dignitaries, McGruff the Crime Dog, Sparky the Fire dog and Buckle will also participate in the walk.

The walk will end up at the west playground by the gym.

St. Mary's School collecting coats for kids

Parents in the Kewaskum/West Bend area are being encouraged to go through their closets and pull out any winter coats that no longer fit their children to donate to the Condella's Coats for Kids campaign. The slightly used children's coats will be cleaned by ITU and distributed by The Salvation Army to other children who need them. Children's coats in good working order can be donated September 24th through October 19th at St. Mary's School, West Bend.

St. Mary's School is a partner in the 2007 Condella's Coats for Kids campaign organized by WITI FOX 6. This is the 22nd year of the campaign that has helped thousands and thousands of area children.

"Providing a coat can make a difference for a family living in poverty," said Major Deborah Sjogren, Milwaukee Salvation Army. "As daily living costs rise, every dollar counts and a free coat allows for dollars to be spent in other areas such as food, rent or heat."

Vince Condella, WITI FOX 6 Chief Meteorologist, has been leading the campaign since the beginning. "I am counting on the generosity of everyone again this year," said Condella. "This entire effort is completely dependant on one person helping another by donating a coat."

Partners with WITI FOX 6 in Condella's Coats for Kids includes ITU who donates the washing of the coats, Bonded Transportation Solutions picks up coats at donation sites, Subway Restaurants and Seider Heating & Cooling are drop off sites and the Salvation Army works with MPS schools to distribute coats to school children who need them.

Service Academy nomination deadline October 15

Congressman F. James Sensenbrenner, Jr. (R-Menomonee Falls) reminds those interested in applying for a nomination to the United States Service Academies that the application deadline of October 15, 2007 is rapidly approaching, and that late or incomplete applications will not be accepted.

United States citizens residing in Wisconsin's Fifth Congressional District who are at least 17 years of age, but not past their 23rd birthday as of July 1, 2008 are eligible to apply.

The Academy Selection Committee is comprised of community leaders appointed by Congressman Sensenbrenner. The committee members will interview all applicants found to be eligible for the class entering in 2008 and will consider the applicants ability to meet the academic and physical qualifications set by the academies.

"Over the years, it has been my distinct privilege to recommend many outstanding young men and women for nomination to our service academies. I look forward to working with my selection committee in again selecting high achievers from the fifth congressional district to serve our community in this capacity. I urge anyone interested in attending an academy to contact either their high school guidance counselor or my district office for more information. Also, I remind those interested that the October 15th deadline is just a few weeks away," Sensenbrenner stated.

Two UW-Washington County (UW-WC) staff members have been recognized by the UW Colleges as 2007 recipients of the Chancellor's Award. Marc Boucher, Library Director and Mark Robson, Network Administrator received Awards for Outstanding Achievement at the Chancellor's Award Banquet, held at the Lowell Center in Madison on September 20. The awards were two of 15 announced by Chancellor David Wilson that recognized outstanding performance by UW Colleges and UW Extension staff across the state of Wisconsin.

Boucher and Robson were nominated by UW Fox Library Director, April Kain-Breese. The Award for Outstanding Achievement recognized their efforts in "creatively implementing leading-edge technologies to enhance and expand UW-Washington County students' learning opportunities." According to Kain-Breese, Boucher and Robson are "most deserving" of the Chancellor's award, having formed a "dynamic partnership to use technology in new ways to serve students and faculty in the UW Colleges." She noted that they are "enthusiastic and forward-thinking colleagues, always willing to share their latest projects for the good of all of the UW Colleges."

Boucher began employment with UW-WC in 2001 as Director of the Library and Instructional Technology Department. A graduate of UW-Milwaukee, Boucher received the Arthur Kaplan Award in 2006 for developing the Library's Book Discussion Series and in 2007 for expansion of the podcasting program. He and his wife, Meg, live in West Bend.

A graduate of Hartford Union High School, Robson started his career with UW-WC in January, 2002. Robson, who lives in West Bend, also received an Outstanding Classified Staff member award for the UW Colleges in 2007. That award recognized his research, implementation and sharing of information on bandwidth shaping, network traffic monitoring, wireless networking, desktop computer imaging, and network services implementation.

THANK YOU!

PRAYERS

Through the application to the Holy Spirit. Holy Spirit you who solve all problems, light all roads, so that I can attain my goals. You who give me the Divine gift to forgive and forget all evils against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want in this short prayer to thank you for all things as you confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusions. I wish to thank you in your mercy toward me and mine. The person must say this three consecutive days. After three days the favor requested will be granted even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favors is granted.

PRAYER TO ST. CLAIRE:

Pray 9 Hail Mary's for 9 days and ask for 3 miracles. Publish this prayer on the 9th day and even if you do not believe, the miracles will happen.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of BEVERLY SCHMIDT, who passed away one year ago, Sept. 28, 2006:

Do not ask if we miss her
There is such a vacant place
Often we think we hear her footsteps
And see her smiling face
Days of sadness still come over us
Tears in silence often flow
If all the world were ours to give
We'd give it, yes and more
To see the face of our loved one
Come smiling at the door.

Sadly missed by her husband, children and grandchildren

IN MEMORY

Your time on earth seemed all too brief
Because we wanted you in our lives forever.
And although we really miss you,
In our hearts we know that you are at peace.
Still, countless times
throughout the day
We find ourselves remembering you.
Although we cannot see or hear you,
We know that you are with us.
We'll feel you in the warmth of the summer sun.
You'll be beside us in the peacefulness of a gentle snowfall or the first flowers of spring.
We are thankful for the times we shared
And the priceless memories too;
For those memories are a comfort now when we lovingly - remember you.

St. Lucas Cross Country runners off to blazing start

St. Lucas Lutheran didn't have to run far to participate in their first meet of the year, but they did run fast. At the Kewaskum Indian Cross Country Invite, St. Lucas placed four runners in the top ten of the boy's middle school race.

Eighth grader Eric Schulz, took fourth place overall for St. Lucas. He ran a time of 14:55 on the two-mile course. Seventh grader Brandon Tharman came next with his fifth place finish. He registered a time of 15:07. Sixth grader Caleb Dykema, placed seventh with a time of 15:24. His younger brother, third grader Alek, placed 10th with his time of 17:15. Rounding out the boy's race were eighth grader Benny Strack, in 13th place and third grader, Mason Shambeau, in 15th place.

Coach Gosdeck stated, "I am pleased with the effort of our first meet. Eric is our only runner with cross country experience. I look forward to our next two meets and the progress they can make."

In the girl's middle school race, eighth grader, Abby Backhaus, a newbie to the sport, ran 17:16 to place fifth overall. Fifth grader Melanie Tharman, finished the race in 21:15. This was good for 21st place. There were forty runners in the girl's race.

Commenting on his girl's team, Coach Gosdeck reported, "I am glad Abby came out for the team. I knew she had the potential to be a good runner. Melanie is only in fifth grade and I see great improvement as she learns how to pace herself."

St. Lucas will run next at the Kettle Moraine Lutheran CC Meet on Oct. 3.

Kewaskum Lions make donation to KHS football program

Beating Campbellsport is highlight of the week for KHS soccer team

Dan Schladweiler

Of all rivalries the Kewaskum High School soccer team has in the EWC, none matches the intensity of the match-up with Campbellsport.

After a tough loss 0-2 in a friendly match against Cedar Grove-Belgium on Monday night, September 17, the Indians returned to the field on Tuesday, Sept 18 against Campbellsport and they brought energy and aggressiveness to their home field.

Early in the match, Dylan Kenworthy netted a long shot off of an assist from Dan Parker, a combination that has worked well for the Indians in either direction throughout the season. After the Cougars tied the game at 1, both defenses buckled down. As they had done in previous games, the Indian defense - lead by goalkeeper Nick Gutbrod, Ryan Wunsch, James Weidmeyer, Dan Schladweiler, Caleb Olla and Tyler Haack - kept the ball out of the Indians side of the field.

In the second half, Nate Wendelborn crisply chipped a redirect off the top bar and across the goal line for the game-winning goal for Kewaskum. The win kept Coach Dennis Gutbrod's Indians firmly in fifth place in conference and sent Coach Jim Schmidt's gutsy Cougars into a tie for seventh.

On Thursday, Sept 20, the Indians traveled north to face the undefeated Plymouth Panthers, who came into the match boasting a gaudy 33 goals in six EWC contests while conceding zero goals in return. Despite this heady obstacle, the Indians came out playing crisp and strong holding the Panthers scoreless until a goal at the end of the first half shifted the momentum leading to a 4-0 victory for Plymouth.

The weekend brought more of the same. On Saturday, September 22, the Indians traveled to the East Troy Tournament where they lost their first match against St.

Thomas More, the defending Division 3 state champion, by a scant 1-0 margin.

In the second match, against Jefferson, the midfield - lead by the always-steady Wendelborn and senior-leadership from Kevin Schellenger through the middle and with TJ Corey, Chris Larson and Mike Wise running to corners on the outside - controlled the pace and flow of the game.

On a redirect, Wendelborn sent a ball perfectly to the feet of a streaking Kenworthy who put the ball smartly in the back of the net. This lone goal was the deciding factor as the defense stiffened and protected the net for a 1-0 victory.

Playing in the final game of the tournament against Union Grove, the Indians at first exhibited the same defensive fervor that they brought to their previous matches, but with a scant two minutes left in the half, the steam simply ran out as injuries and fatigue took their toll and attrition caught up with the Indians, who ultimately lost 4-0.

Kewaskum is currently 2-5 in EWC play and 3-11 overall.

Lone loss comes at wrong time in Slinger tournament

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Sports Correspondent

By going 3-1 in Saturday's seven-team tournament at Slinger, the Kewaskum High volleyball claimed third place, and the Indians' only loss came against the eventual champion, New Berlin Eisenhower, in the opening round.

Kewaskum lost to the Lady Lions by scores of 19-25 and 21-25. The Indians came back with victories over Milwaukee Lutheran and Waukesha West. This earned the Indians the right to play in the consolation match against Slinger, a team that had beaten them in the opening match of the year when senior standout Christina DeGroot was out with an ankle sprain.

"We struggled with playing our game that match," KHS coach Renee Altendorf said. "We were not awake and we made a lot of mistakes that Eisenhower used to its advantage. The girls were not passing and were not talking."

The individual highlights in the opening round included six kills by senior Emily Aycock and four by sophomore Erika Heberer.

DeGroot started another good serving day, blasting a pair of aces with her patented jump serve.

Otherwise, according to the KHS coach, the Indians were unable to build any momentum.

The outcome was better in the second match. "It took us three," Altendorf said, reporting the scores as 25-14, 22-25 and 15-9.

"We couldn't pick up our playing. We played awful," Altendorf said. Still the effort was good enough, with DeGroot, Jenni Wicklund and Elissa Miller each contributing six kills, and DeGroot was on target at the serving line, putting down five aces. She also had 19 assists in the match.

It was a complete turnaround for the Indians in their third match, which they won over West 25-14, 12-25 and 15-11.

"The girls really picked it up. It was unbelievable!" Altendorf said. "We were digging, and we were passing really well."

Miller led the kill parade in the victory, putting six balls to the floor, with DeGroot and Heberer right behind with five each.

In serving, it was Wicklund the top "acer," with four, while DeGroot contributed three.

DeGroot, who is looking into playing collegiate volleyball for UW-Whitewater, a perennial power in the WIAC (Wisconsin Intercollegiate Conference) and in NCAA 3 circle, or Carthage, was credited with many 19 digs.

"Everything was going our way. The passing was there. The hitting was there, and we were doing a nice job covering our hitters," the coach said.

There was no question Kewaskum wanted to settle a score with Slinger and did so.

"The first game we struggled a little bit in our passing in communication, but the second game the girls were ready to play and really pushed the ball at them," Altendorf said. "Lauren Gonring really pushed it to them in the beginning, serving an 8-0 lead."

No scores were available on this match.

Warriors knock KHS from unbeaten ranks in EWC

Elissa Miller

By Judy Harlow

The effort by the Kewaskum High volleyball team was good but not good enough to beat powerhouse Waupun Thursday evening.

It was the first meeting between the two clubs in Eastern Wisconsin Conference action. Waupun, which has won several Division 2 state championships in the sport, replaced Roncalli which has moved to a conference more its size.

By upending the defending champions by respective scores of 25-20, 25-14 and 25-18, the Warriors may have taken a big step toward ending Kewaskum's string of four straight EWC titles.

"This match was (a) very tough match," third-year coach Renee Altendorf said. "The girls played very well. The girls were digging and passing unbelievably well."

In Game 1, Altendorf said her players stayed right with the Warriors the whole game. "We played tough until the end, and just could not finish it," she said.

When the score reached 10 in Game 2, the Warriors put together a long run of serves, which put the game out of reach, according to Altendorf, who said, "We struggled to get a pass to Christina (DeGroot), and then we just could not put the ball down. We also were not doing a good job of digging in that game."

Kewaskum regained its composure, however, to make the third game very interesting. "The last game, the girls stepped it up right away," Altendorf said, reporting, "We were leading at the beginning for the first few points, then it was back and forth until the end."

For the night, "Christina had seven kills and (Elissa) Miller had seven kills," according to Altendorf, who said Emily Aycock, DeGroot and Miller all chipped in with a block, and Erika Heberer and Miller each had an ace.

Altendorf credited sophomore Lauren Gonring with some great passing in the match. "She was reading the ball very well and had some great passes on service receives," the coach said.

The sophomore Heberer was also cited for some inspired play. "She was doing a good job in the front row and the back row. She was one of our go-to hitters in this match along with Elissa Miller," Altendorf said, praising the serving efforts for the night. "We only missed two serves the entire match, which kept up in the game."

And was Waupun as good as Altendorf thought it would be? "Yeah, we just kind of dropped our heads in the second game and couldn't get them back up," she said, reporting her girls came ready to play, wanted to play tough against the Warriors but the run by one of the Warriors in Game 2 was a bit demoralizing.

This was Kewaskum's first loss in EWC play. The Indians, currently 3-1 in conference and 9-5 overall is home against Kiel this evening (Thursday).

Girls varsity tennis team plays two tough matches last week

Cassie Prom and Lauren Smith

On Tuesday, September 18, the Kewaskum Indians Girls' tennis team met Eastern Wisconsin Conference powerhouse, Kohler. Kewaskum didn't post any wins that night in a 0-7 loss, but there was still a bright spot.

The #3 doubles team of Cassie Prom and Lauren Smith had a very close match up. Even though they had two set points in the first set, Kohler just proved a little too tough and fought back to win the first set in a nail-biting tiebreaker. After that, Prom and Smith fell behind in an early break in the second set and were unable to recover, posting a loss 6-7, 4-6.

The #1 singles player Nellie Baum, lost 0-6, 3-6. Amanda Osswald lost a #2 singles match 3-6, 0-6. Team captain Brianna Rahoy lost 0-6, and had her traditional second set regrouping to lose a close 4-6. Senior #4 singles player Becca Spaeth lost a solid 2-6, 2-6. Juniors Kelsey Goetsch and Anna Gitter, at #1 doubles lost a heartbreaking 5-7, 0-6 match. Liz Staeger and Crystal Lepp played a very tough #2 doubles team and lost 1-6, 0-6.

Following the next night, the Lady Indians played an equally tough Sheboygan Falls team. This match was originally scheduled to be played in the middle of August, but after three consecutive rain-outs, the match was finally finished.

The only win posted by Kewaskum was the #3 doubles team of Cassie Prom and Lauren Smith who cruised to a 6-0, 6-4 trouncing over the undefeated Sheboygan Falls #3 doubles team.

Having a long tough match was #1 singles player Nellie Baum, however she ended a little short losing 5-7, 4-6. Also having a great second set was #3 singles player Brianna Rahoy, who came up short also with a 0-6, 4-6 score and #2 doubles team of Liz Staeger and Crystal Lepp, who despite losing the first set 0-6, rallied to bring the second set to a tiebreaker. The #1 doubles team of Kelsey Goetsch and Anna Gitter were unable to play due to the fact that Sheboygan Falls defaulted the match at the #1 doubles position.

Other scores were Amanda Osswald losing 0-6, 0-6 at #2 singles and Becca Spaeth losing 3-6, 0-6 at #4 singles.

With the win, Indians are 3-0 in EWC

No looking ahead; KHS v-ball players swamp Two Rivers

Nichole Kison

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Sports Correspondent

The name Watpun was not allowed in the Kewaskum High volleyball camp before last Wednesday's practice.

First coach Renee Altendorf wanted to make sure her Indians took care of business Tuesday night against Two Rivers, and they certainly did that, posting a three-game sweep behind impressive scores of 25-11, 25-10 and 25-21.

The visiting Raiders, who have lost several players to injury, including a 6-foot-2 middle, were just no match for the likes of Christina DeGroot's power serving, and the attacks of DeGroot, Erika Heberer, Elissa Miller and others who stepped in for Altendorf in the match.

Kewaskum came up with 19 aces in the match, including at least six in the first game, with two coming from DeGroot for the 24th and 25th points.

In that first game, the Raiders appeared defenseless. They attempted to regroup in the second game but to no avail. From a 3-3 tie, the Indians reeled off six points before Two Rivers managed to move off the three.

DeGroot's ace, and a couple plays later, her whammy kill pushed the KHS lead to 15-5, and a kill by Nichole Kison kept the Indians ahead by nine points at 16-7. From then on, it was all Indians, who finished the game with a 9-3 run.

KHS Coach Renee Altendorf was able to use some of her reserves, including junior Nicole Meyer, who scored on a kill and a strategic "dink" which was placed just beautifully.

Game 3 was tied at 4-4, 5-5 and 8-8 before the Indians surged into a more comfortable lead.

Kison contributed a couple nice serves, while Jenni Wicklund, Emily Aycock and Anna Butler all had kills to put the Indians ahead 24-16. Two Rivers rallied, scoring the next four points, before Kison's kill ended the match.

"I just told them they had to play hard," Altendorf said, indicating she was not certain what to expect from the Raiders, although she knew they had beaten Campbellsport and lost to Kiel.

"Near the end of the first game and start of the second, we got some runs going, which was nice," Altendorf said. "I was doing a lot of subbing and was able to give a lot of the girls a chance to play."

As far as good individual efforts, the KHS coach said, "Emily Aycock really stepped up for me tonight. I was pleased with her performances, and Miller is always a great push in the middle. She's doing a great job as a sophomore."

The win put the Indians Eastern Wisconsin Conference record at 3-0.

When asked about Wau-pun, Altendorf said, "We haven't talked about them all year ... tomorrow's going to be our big day talking about the match."

Sixth and seventh grade Gridders open their offenses

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Sports Correspondent

The eighth grade team fell from the unbeaten ranks, but two of the other Gridiron teams came away with wins Saturday against teams from Cedar Grove or Lake Country.

The score in the eighth grade (2-1) game was Bulldogs 18, Indians 8.

"They had a good-sized runner. We could stop him, but we couldn't consistently stop him," coach Jim "Jonesy" Korth said, adding Cedar Grove "didn't make any mistakes."

Korth reported his team fumbled the opening kickoff, and Cedar Grove converted on the turnover, driving the ball and scoring.

"That was a jump-start for them," Korth went on, noting the score at half was 12-0.

"Offensively, we did a nice job with the counter," Korth went on, reporting his team had one long counter called back by a penalty in the third quarter but later scored on the same drive. "(Eric) Perkins scored it," Korth said, indicating Andrew Doll booted the PAT.

"I thought we were back in the game," Korth said, but Cedar Grove just kept grinding out first downs and kept the ball.

Lance Pinchard (inside backer) and Michael Bier (end) were cited for their defensive efforts by assistant coach Rollie Maul.

The seventh graders (2-1) gave up a touchdown on the opening kickoff but came right back with a nice run on the ensuing kickoff and several plays later, QB Hunter Flanders scored on a 5-yard scamper. He also tacked on the extra point on a run, so the score was 7-all.

Cedar Grove fumbled on its next possession, and the Indians came back with a nice pass to Dustin Crego to the 35-yard line, then Derek Aupperle broke free for a nifty 24-yard TD run. The pass for extra point was no good.

In the second quarter, Kewaskum forced the Bulldogs to punt, and then the young Indians went to the air, with Flanders throwing a 42-yard strike to Jordan Hanson, and Flanders scored the extra point, giving the Indians a 20-7 lead.

In the second half, the Bulldogs had a nice drive to the Kewaskum 20 but the young Indians held and came back with a 65-yard pass from Flanders to Aupperle.

Cedar Grove got its final score on a blocked punt in the end zone.

"(Teddy) Wollner was our defensive player of the week, and Hunter Flanders was our offensive player of the week," coach Randy Schlice said, adding, "The kids had a good week of practice, and it showed today!"

The sixth graders remained unbeaten (3-0) but learned they have to play hard right to the end as they nearly let a lead get away on them.

The final score was 26-20, according to Joe Backhaus, who said, "We pretty much let them back in it."

The young Indians opened with a 50-yard scoring strike on the first play of the game, with Alex Johnson throwing to Stephen Bohn on a "nice little sprint pass."

Then Joey Seitz took over the scoring. He added three touchdowns on runs of 33, 45 and 12 yards and Johnson tackled two extra point runs.

Along with Seitz, "The Bohn kid did a good job running the ball, too," Backhaus said.

Defensively, Chris Gray, Bobby Peterson and Jordan Shay are doing the job up front, according to Backhaus, who said, "We got a little sloppy ... made the game interesting" after leading 19-6 at half.

It was brutal yesterday," coach Mark Walcheske said about his team's game against powerful Lake Country Red, which won 38-6.

The youngest Indians (1-2) turned the ball over on their first two possessions, and Lake Country scored after both of them.

"The only bright, shining star for us was Zach Smith. On a sweep, he cut back and scored," Walcheske said, reporting the TD run covered 60 yards.

"Finally in the fourth quarter, the defense came alive and we stopped 'em," Walcheske said.

On Saturday, the Gridiron teams will hold their annual Parents Night when the Fredonia teams come to Kewaskum.

Wins aren't everything but Anderson happy to take KMA title

Craig Anderson took the title in the 33rd annual Kettle Moraine Amateur tournament held at Hon-E-Kor Country Club.

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Sports Correspondent

Wins aren't the only things that count toward a successful year in golf.

At least that was Craig Anderson's thinking after notching his only win of the 2007 season over the weekend by shooting a 158 in the 33rd annual Kettle Moraine Amateur held at Hon-E-Kor Country Club.

Anderson was unable to win another Hon-E-Kor title on Labor Day weekend, nor was he able to finish first in the Best ball.

When it was suggested his win Sunday, by three shots over Jay Krueger and Todd Rathkamp, was a saving grace, Anderson disagreed.

"Actually I played pretty well this year," the West Bend West High math teacher said. "Jimmy (Rohlinger) played pretty well when he beat me (in the semifinals of the Hon-E-Kor men's competition). It was a pretty good match."

Also, Anderson was proud of his 21st-place finish in the Wisconsin Amateur Championship, which automatically qualifies him for next year's tournament at Old Hickory.

Anderson shot an even par 70 on Saturday, then after a shaky start Sunday, regained his composure and just stayed ahead of the field the rest of the way. The win in the event was his seventh, starting back in 1996. And the veteran coach was pleased to get it.

"I started poorly," Anderson said, reporting he bogeyed No. 1 double bogeyed No. 2 and bogeyed No. 4, to go 4-over on the first four holes.

It certainly was time to get out the band aid and stop the bleeding. A par on No. 5 helped, as did a birdie on No. 6. "That kind of got me back on track, and then I just played mediocre after that," he said.

"No one in the group really made any birdies," Anderson went on. His 3-shot lead dwindled a little on No. 16 when the entire foursome, Anderson, Krueger, Rathkamp and Joe Doherty, who finished fourth, all missed the green. Rathkamp was the only one of the four able to get up-and-down for a par.

Then on the treacherous 17th hole, Doherty, Rathkamp and Anderson all put their tee shots in the water. Rathkamp wound up making a six.

Krueger, the only one to find the fairway, salvaged a par with an excellent chip shot to within three or four feet of the hole and one-putted.

That meant on 18, Krueger needed a birdie and for Anderson to bogey to draw even with him, but it didn't happen. Anderson, who needed a couple minutes to find his ball, which had settled under a leaf, hit two perfect irons and then cozier his first putt to within a couple feet and buried it for a par. Krueger had to take an aggressive approach on his first putt and ended up with three-putting for a bogey.

"Those were three solid shots. I was just trying to make no worse than bogey," Anderson said.

Both Krueger (71-80) and Rathkamp (82-79) ended up at 151, with Doherty in fourth place at 74-78—152, and defending champion Rohlinger (76-80) tied with Jeff Anderson (79-77), Craig's son, for fifth with 156.

Rathkamp, a lefty, who captured the May bestball with a friend of his from Milwaukee, commented on No. 18, "Not a very good day for me. In fact, the worst day of the year."

And when he was asked about his final round, Krueger remarked, "Lackluster, how about that ... I just never got anything going."

For one thing, Krueger said he had six birdies in Saturday's round and, "Today I only made one."

Two three-putts also hurt, but Krueger said he did stay away from a disaster on No. 1 Blue when he made a 15-foot putt for bogey after flying the green on his approach shot and going out of bounds.

"It was disappointing," Krueger, who won the KMA in 1998, said about Sunday's scores by the leaders.

Others in the Championship Flight and their scores are as follows: 7th, Paul Bartelak, 76-81—157; 8. Ethan Geidel, 84-74—158; 9. (tie) Paul Langhenry, 78-81—159 and David Olds, 76-83—159; 11. Keith Gagnon, 83-77—160; 12. Jay Loch, 79-88—167; 13. Joe Zwerlein, 77-89—168; 14. Joe Volesky, 84-86—170; 15. Jim Korth, 85-92—177.

First Flight top five: 1. Dave Smith, 78-78—156; 2. Rob Bertram 78-85, 163; 3. Larry Sterr, 87-79—166; 4. Rod Donnelly, 84-83—167; 5. Ryan Amerling, 85-85—170. Second Flight top three: 1. Lou Santini, 80-78—158; 2. Manny Alvarada, 85-83—168; 3. Chuck Cannestra, 84-87—171. Third Flight: 1. Tom Timblin, 86-82—168; 2. Mike Smith, 86-85—171; 3. Brian Dreher, 90-92—182.

Scrambling suits Indians just fine

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Sports Correspondent

Once a year, the girls on golf teams in Washington County get together for a fun event, a team scramble (counting three teams of two golfers), and it was especially fun for the Kewaskum High team Thursday because the Indians placed second out of the four teams.

As expected, Hartford won the title and won it going away, with a score of 118.

Christine Blau and Krista Dlapa of Hartford captured the medal with a score of 38, which was 2-over par and a shot ahead of Ericka Zarenana and Kimberly Roskopf of West Bend West/East, who tied Kelly Sullivan and Sara Guenther of Hartford at 39, then won a playoff over the Orioles.

Kewaskum finished with a 133, one shot ahead of the West/East team and three ahead of the team from Germantown (136).

"The girls played some excellent golf today," KHS coach Amy Piwoni said. "Jordan Benike and Beth Noennig led the way for us with a 42. They birdied No. 5," the coach said.

Sophomore Danielle Donnelly and Heather Zuehlke, a freshman, were next with a 44.

Rachel Gavin and freshman Kate Winkler rounded out the score with a 47. "They had trouble on numbers three and eight," Piwoni said, quick to add, "The girls were excited about their finish. Hopefully this will give us some momentum to bring to the conference meet on Sept. 25."

Lady golfers still have chance for fifth in WLT

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Sports Correspondent

Hartford made it a perfect six for six in Wisconsin Little Ten golf action Monday afternoon in a match played in Oconomowoc.

Hartford's top four players combined for a 195 total, which was 12 strokes ahead of Oconomowoc's 207. Next came West Bend's combined team at 211, followed by Beaver Dam, 225; Kewaskum in fifth place, tying its low total for the year, a 235; and finally Watertown at 245.

By finishing ahead of Watertown in the standings, coach Amy Piwoni's Indians are just one point behind the Goslings in the standings with one match to go.

"If we play well, we should finish tied for fifth," Piwoni said, referring to the fact there is one meet left at Hartford CC, and the Indians need to be ahead of Watertown again.

Hartford's Christine Blau was the medalist, carding a 45 on the par-37 front nine at WBCC.

For Kewaskum, it was sophomore Danielle Donnelly leading the way. She came in with a personal season-low of 56.

"Danielle played extremely well, her best performance of the year," Piwoni said, adding Heather Zuehlke and Jordan Benike had "consistent scoring" with their 59s, and the final counter was Rachel Gavin, who fired a 61.

"Rachel battled through some tough holes to post a respectable score," Piwoni said.

Playing against many of the top Division 1 schools, the Indians placed 20th out of 20 teams in the Appleton Invitational on Sept. 15.

Kenosha Tremper won the team trophy, posting an excellent total of 349, which is an average of 87 per counter. Nicolet was five shots back at 355, and then came Brookfield Central, 362; Fox Valley Lutheran, 374; and Kenosha Bradford, 379, in rounding out the top five.

The medal went to Tory Bauman of Nicolet, who came in with a sizzling 77.

Kewaskum's total was 462, and it was sophomore Danielle Donnelly and freshman Heather Zuehlke leading the way with 113's. Donnelly started out with a 58, cut three strokes off that total for her 113, while Zuehlke did a nice job on the front nine with her 53, then was a little higher on the back with a 60.

Rachel Gavin came in with a 57-59—116, and rounding out the scoring was Beth Noennig with a 65-55—120.

"It's great to see the young players stepping up," Piwoni said. "I'm excited about the future of this team."

"Donnelly and Zuehlke had great days. Heather is really stepping up nicely," the second-year coach said. "It was a tough field of competition."

The partisan home crowd was hoping for a win by the Kewaskum High School cross country team in Thursday's annual Indian Invitational, but the Elkhart Lake runners put a damper on those plans.

Behind the 1-2 finish of Myles Galloway and Abe Hoogstra, the Resorters claimed the team title, scoring 47 points.

Galloway covered the course around the KHS grounds in 17 minutes, 45.72 seconds (17:45.72).

Kewaskum and Howards Grove both ended up with 59 points, but the Indians got the nod for second because Jake Dickmann, their sixth runner, finished in 24th place, while Howards Grove's No. 6 man was six places back in 30th.

Campbellsport placed fourth with 70 points, followed by Markesan (109) and Waupun (162).

"The meet went very well," KHS coach Dave Drexler said. "The boys did another excellent job."

As usual, sophomore Zack Herriges was pushing to be either first or second but just couldn't stay with Galloway and Hoogstra. "Zack led for the first part of the race but couldn't hold on to that spot for the finish," Drexler said, reporting Herriges' time was 18:07.56.

What really tickled Drexler was how well senior Tyler McElhatton continues to compete. He wound up fourth with a time of 18:37.55. "Tyler is starting to close the gap nicely between himself and Zack. He has been working on improving his form, and it seems to be making a difference," the coach said.

Aaron Monte was the next green-clad Indian to hit the finish line. He was ninth in 19:17.90, followed by Tim Hall in 21st in 20:42.77 and then Dan Justmann in 22nd place with a clocking of 20:48.61.

And Dickmann was timed in 21:36.85, good for the 24th spot.

"Aaron Monte, Tim Hall, Dan Justmann, Matt Butzke and Jake Dickmann are all improving their positions," Drexler said. "I felt the team as a whole ran stronger than last week."

In the girls' competition, Cedar Grove was the cream of the crop, winning with 28 points, and then came another Central Lakeshore representative, Ozaukee, with 43 points.

Kewaskum placed fifth in the eight-team field with 134 points.

Ali Paul of Cedar Grove was the overall winner, covering the 5 km course in 19:41.51.

"The girls had a great race with the longer distance. Most ran their four kilometer pace and handled it well," Drexler said.

Tonya Janssen and Vanessa Schellinger were the two top runners for the home team, finishing 15th and 16th in 23:32.28 and 23:44.66. Then came Krystal Backmann, 27th in 25:03.55, and six places back was Katie Legate with a time of 25:20.12.

The final Indian counter was Kelsey Koller, 41st in 26:53.18.

"Vanessa ran a tough race. She is finding her form and pace. I was very surprised and happy to see her keeping pace with Tonya," Drexler said, indicating freshman Ashley Roeske is out with an injury and was missed but the rest of the team stepped up their efforts.

The Indians are at Homestead Hollow Park this afternoon for the Slinger Invitational.

The offense got plenty of yards, but it was the defense that scored first for the Kewaskum High football team Friday night in its 35-6 romp over host Two Rivers.

With the win, Kewaskum improved to 3-0 in Eastern Wisconsin Conference play and 5-0 overall, while the Raiders are still winless on the season.

"Defensively, solid games were turned in by Nick Ebert, Eric Turowski, Jon Komp, Tim Thull, Cody Seibel, Joe Paulus and Ryan Riebe," KHS coach

Jason Piittmann said. "However, the highlight of the night defensively was Jon Komp forcing a Two Rivers fumble and outside linebacker Nick Ebert scooping it up and going 60 yards for our first score."

Komp has been an excellent addition to the KHS squad, transferring to the school after his father secured a position in the school's science department.

Piittmann reported linebackers Paulus and Seibel each had eight tackles, including one for a loss.

After the defense put the team on the board, the Indians' offense revved up to score four more times before the end of the third quarter. Jordan Petrin added two rushing touchdowns to his list of '07 accomplishments. Both came on short runs, and he scored another two points on a run after the final touchdown.

Quarterback Nick Olla continued his steady play, scoring on a 4-yard run and connecting with John Holt for a 35-yard TD pass.

"Nick did a good job passing the ball ... placing it right in the receivers' hands," the coach said.

Holt hauled in two passes for 55 yards, while tight end Matt Donath had three catches for 45 yards.

Brian Backhaus missed his first extra point, then drilled his three other attempts perfectly through the goal posts.

The Indians wound up with 349 yards in total offense, including 249 on the ground and an even 100 in the air.

"We did rush the ball very well," Piittmann said. "We were able to get a lot of people touches on the ball. Ben Boettcher led the rushing attack with 93 yards on 13 carries."

Petrin wound up with 82 yards in a dozen carries, while Olla rushed four times for 32 yards, and Nate Westerman got a chance to carry the ball four times, gaining 35 yards.

About the only negative number in the statistics was the seven fumbles the Indians coughed up, but they only lost one of them.

The Raiders had problems moving the ball against the staunch Indian defense, which has allowed just four TDs in five games this season, with a couple of them coming against reserves.

Two Rivers had just two first downs on the night, rushed for 116 yards and passed for 16 for a total of 133.

"While I'm pleased that we got the victory, I am not particularly pleased with how we played on our way to the win," Piittmann said. "We have too many things to clean up if we are to be a serious contender in the EWC chase. We are still committing too many penalties, fumbling and turning the ball over too much and have had too many miscommunications and breakdowns on the field."

Next the Indians face Plymouth in the Indians' homecoming game Friday night at 7 p.m.
