Village approves contract with municipal financial planner

By Andrew Kuehl
andrew@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- Village trustees approved a contract with Brookfield based Ehlers & Associates Inc. to handle the village's financial planning at their January 7 meeting. Ehlers will now begin on putting together a Financial Management Plan and take over performing an impact fee study that was being started by the village's engineering firm. The firm will also serve as general finance advisors.

James Mann of Ehlers presented a financial services plan at the Village Board Meeting on December 10. He explained his company is an independent public finance firm that works solely for municipalities.

Mann assured the village they would receive two planners, himself, and the company's senior vice president, David Wagner. Ehlers also represents the villages of Jackson, Slinger, Newburg and the city of West Bend.

When assisting the village with securing financing, Ehlers will be compensated on a fee schedule that is based on the amount being borrowed. The fee will never be below $7,500 and starts at $17.81 per $1,000 for the first $500,000 and ranges on the low side to $1.15 per $1,000 when borrowing reaches an excess of $10,000,000. The village also reserves the right to reject any proposal brought before them.

When Ehlers is tasked with two bonds, the village will receive a discount of 25 percent.

Ehlers will also begin to work with village staff on financial planning. This includes a five-year capital outlay plan for the general fund. Once preliminary information is prepared they will then conduct four workshops with the village board setting overall operational and capital goals and implement policies for maintaining or improving the village's financial position.

For their financial planning guidance Ehlers will be paid $6,000. Once the plan is implemented, the village may consult with them as needed at a rate between $175-$225 per hour.

The village will remove itself from a contract with their primary engineering firm Ruckert-Mielke, on two impact fee studies. Village Administrator Jay Shambeau reported that there will not be any significant cost savings to the village compared with Ruckert-Mielke's financial division. "The Village Board saw benefit in having the impact fee studies be completed by the same firm that will assist us with our entire financial picture," he explained.

It is unknown when Ehlers would begin studies on the current park impact fee and sewer impact fee. For their work on the impact fee studies Ehlers will receive $8,000 for the first and $1,000 for the second study.

The village implemented park and sewer impact fees in 2004 and a water impact fee in July of 2006.

West Allis man hurt in head-on crash

By Andrew Kuehl
andrew@kewaskumstatesman

TOWN of WAYNE- Two men were injured Sunday, January 13 after a head-on crash on Highway 41 near the northbound Highway 28 on ramp. One driver was listed in fair condition.

The collision brought the major highway down to one lane of traffic in the south and northbound lanes where the crash occurred at 5:24 p.m.

Lieutenant Robert Martin of The Washington County Sheriff's Department stated that prior to the collision occurring, his department was notified by Dodge County Sheriff's Department of a car traveling southbound on Highway 41 in the northbound lanes of travel. This auto was just north of the Washington County line and a Dodge County Deputy was attempting to get this vehicle stopped.

"Only feet after entering Washington County, this vehicle stuck a northbound semi tractor/trailer. The driver of the semi saw this car approaching, but could not stop in time nor could he swerve completely out of it's path due to other traffic in the area," Lt. Martin reported.

He went on to explain that the force of the impact caused the side axles from both vehicles to be torn off. The car, a Buick sedan, was thrown into the median and the semi jackknifed across both northbound lanes of traffic. The driver of the Buick was Djoko Maric, 92, of West Allis.

Kiwanis' Missoula Children's Theatre production enjoyed by hundreds at local performance

Credit for Larry

January 14, 2008

To the Editor:

When I first started with the school district two and a half years ago, I frequently heard the name Larry Ammel. I understood him to be a retired band teacher who everyone loved. I did not meet Larry until the end of my first year as the KHS Associate Principal. Since then we have worked on several major projects together, and all I have to say is he is so much more than a retired band teacher.

Toward the end of my time as an associate principal Larry agreed to be on a fine arts committee I was heading up to give a focus on Fine Arts in our community. Larry brought great ideas, and he was able to give us history on fine arts in the community and district. It was shortly after that we began working together on this exact focus of fine arts.

Larry, his wife Cheryl who is also a teacher in the district, and I collaborated to bring the Haitian Dancers into Kewaskum. This group toured the country as a fundraiser for their community in the poverty stricken country of Haiti. They put on a great show, and our students had a chance to learn about another culture.

Larry and I then recently worked together to bring the Missoula Children's Theater to Kewaskum as well. This is a drama production company that tours the country and came to Kewaskum to work with our students to put on performances for the community. It was a great experience for the youth of Kewaskum and all those involved. Larry committed a great deal of time and energy to this production.

Larry also was the one who organized the fundraising to equip our new high school theater. This was an enormous challenge for anyone, not to mention a retired band teacher.

If that is not enough, Larry is also a dedicated member of Kiwanis. Kiwanis ended up sponsoring the Missoula Children's Theater program. I became a member this past summer, and have been inspired by Larry's dedication. Larry like others in Kiwanis, commit a great deal of their time to the youth of Kewaskum and truly make a difference.

Through these projects, I saw Larry's commitment to the community, district, and the fine arts. He worked tirelessly on these projects to make them a huge success. Most of his work has been behind the scenes, but without him they would not have happened. I would like to give a personal thanks to Larry Ammel for all he does for this community as a retired band teacher.

Tom Fischer
KES Principal

Shown above are a group of the 61 young performers who took part in the Kiwanis sponsored theater production this past weekend. Larry Ammel reported that 74 children auditioned ranging from the age of five to 18. Over 300 people attended the two performances. The sponsorship of the theater was a gift from the club to the community in honor of their 60th year as a club. The club is planning to sponsor the event next year.

Auburn investigates replacing plow

TOWN of AUBURN- Fed up with the many repairs to their 1991 International Snowplow Truck, supervisors will investigate the purchase of a new truck for the next snow season. The township has funds available to make the purchase without borrowing.

Chairman Merle Laatsch stated he will contact Fond du Lac County for information on what they might recommend for a new truck and share that with current truck drivers for the township. A five to six yard truck was thought to be adequate for the township.

Chairman Laatsch stated he will bring his findings back to the board at the February meeting. He was advised not to trade the 1991 that it might bring more money selling it privately.

Treasurer Shelby Saurauer stated there are town funds in the realm of about $200,000 which would more than cover the purchase.

A 93-year-old West Allis man was critically injured in the above head-on collision with a semi truck/trailer on Sunday, January 13 on Highway 41. Rescue efforts were assisted by The Washington and Dodge County Sheriff's Departments, Kohlsville First Responders, Kewaskum Fire Department and EMS and the Wisconsin State Patrol.

He, along with Stephen Southworth, 47, of Mosinee, the driver of the semi, were transported to St. Joseph's Hospital in the Town of Polk by Kewaskum EMS. On Monday evening, hospital spokesperson, Janet Ford, reported that Maric remains hospitalized in fair condition. Southworth was treated and released.

Both men were first tended to by First Responders from Kohlsville Fire Department at the crash site. Dodge County Deputies and

The Wisconsin State Patrol assisted Sheriff's Deputies from Washington County.

Northbound traffic was diverted around the crash by using the shoulder of the northbound lane of travel. Traffic flow was restricted for approximately two hours as rescue and cleanup efforts were conducted.

Lt. Martin affirmed that alcohol use does not appear to have been a factor and citations are not being issued at this time, however the driver of the car is being submitted to the Department of Transportation for a requested review of his driving status.

UWWC plans auditions for 'The Great American Trailer Park Musical'

Auditions for UW-Washington County's spring play will be held on Thursday evening, January 31, beginning at 7pm in the campus theatre. The cast for The Great American Trailer Park Musical will require five women (ages 18 to 60) and two men (ages 18 to 50). Excellent singing voices are needed with energetic music in tight harmonies in a country folk, rockabilly style. The Great American Trailer Park Musical is a very fun and upbeat, fast-paced, "red-neck" musical comedy. Volunteers for technical and behind-the-scenes work are also needed. College credit can be earned for performing or doing technical work for the show.

The Great American Trailer Park Musical was written by David Nehls and Betsy Kelso and was first produced at the 2004 New York Musical Theatre Festival. Nehls wrote the script based on his experience as a young paperboy who found his neighbors in a nearby trailer park to be "the people who had the hot cocoa and cookies for me and would always engage me in conversation. They were the coolest people on the paper route; and they were so lovely," he said. Nehls decided to portray these earthy folk on stage and collaborated with book writer, Kelso to write the musical. The

New York Sun reviewed the show by saying, "The Trailer Park meets South Park in this big-hearted new musical comedy with a cheeky script and infectious score."

The story revolves around regular guy Norbert and his agoraphobic wife, Jeannie, whose 20-year marriage is threatened when a runaway stripper named Pippi moves into "Armadillo Acres," their exclusive North Florida trailer park. Other actors include: Lin (short for Linoleum), Pickles (sweet but not too bright) and Betty (den-mother type). Betty, Lin and Pickles (dubbed the "triplets of tackiness") tell the story of the trailer park which is "a little bit country and a little bit rock and roll - but 100 percent trashy". The other male character is Duke (Pippi's "obsessive and possessive" boyfriend).

Three performances are planned in early March. They include Friday and Saturday evening, March 7 and 8 at 7:30pm and a Sunday matinee on March 9 at 2pm. All performances take place in the University theatre, located on the second floor of the campus at 400 University Drive in West Bend. Tickets are $12 adults and $9 for seniors (over 62) and youth (under 18). Reservations are recommended and can be made by phoning the campus at 262-335-5208.

For more information about the auditions or volunteering behind the scenes, contact Professor Ford at (262) 335-5222 or email: brad.ford@uwc.edu. Scripts are available for perusal from the University library. Information, including music and video clips, can also be found on the website: www.trailerparkmusical.com

Tractor safety course being offered for young farm workers

Does your son or daughter work on a farm during the summer? Do you hire youth to work for you during the year? Do these young people have adequate safety training?

Accidents cause more deaths to individuals between the ages of 15 and 24 than all other causes combined. On the farm, the major cause of accidents is working with tractors and farm machinery. Most accidents happen when the operator does not know how to operate the tractor or machinery correctly or is unaware of the dangers involved.

To help reduce accidents, a Farm Tractor Safety Course is being sponsored by area high school vocational agriculture departments and the University of Wisconsin Extension in Washington County. The course will be held on four Saturdays, February 9 and 23 and March 1 and 8 from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. On February 9 and 23, the course will be held in room 1113A&B of the Public Agency Center, 333 E. Washington St., West Bend. The March 1 session will be held at Slinger High School in room 205. The March 8 session will be held at the Addison Town Hall in Allenton. March 15 has been set aside for a snow date.

The course includes instructions on understanding how to operate a tractor, with emphasis on safety. To complete the course, youth must attend all four sessions and pass a written and driving exam. The course must be 24 hours to comply with federal and state requirements.

Federal law requires that youth under the age of 16 must be certified before being hired to work with tractors and tractor machinery. Effective May 1, 1996, state law mandated that no person may direct or permit a youth under 16 years of age to operate a farm tractor or self-propelled implement on a public road unless the youth has been certified as successfully completing a tractor and machinery certification course.

Prior to the law, only youth 14 and 15 years of age who operated tractors and equipment on a farm not owned by their parent or guardian were required to complete the safety course. Youth who drive a tractor for their parents may still do so without the formal training program as long as they do not operate the tractor on a public road. The law also does not apply to situations where a youth is driving a tractor and implement directly across (perpendicular to) a public road.

If you intend to hire any youth on your farm, make sure that they enroll in this course for your protection as well as theirs. There are penalties for not complying with the law. Also, some insurance companies have indicated, technically, they can't cover an accident to an untrained youth.

Protect your child or the young person who works for you; enroll them in the Farm Tractor Safety course. State law mandates youth registered for the course must be the minimum age of 12 by the first session of the Tractor Safety Course. The cost of the course is $40 per student and limited to the first 25 paid participants. To register, call the UW-Extension Office at 262-335-4477, toll free at 1-800-616-0446, ext. 4477 or 711 for relay.

Sylvan Learning's Helpful Hints for Student Success:

Good study skills help students make the grade

By: Barbara Hampton, Center Director

Developing effective study habits are essential for a child's academic success. Typically, children who have good study skills are likely to perform better in the classroom. Students with weak study skills can become frustrated, waste time and often receive low grades. By focusing on key areas, such as time management, organization, effective note-taking and test-taking strategies, students can see improvements in all aspects of their schoolwork.

Try the following tips to help improve your child's study habits:

Manage time. Students lead busy lives. It's never too early to learn how to use their time wisely. Teach your child to break complex activities and projects into smaller tasks. Then, establish a timeframe for completion.

Emphasize organization. For some students, having color-coded binders for each subject helps them stay on track throughout the school year. Keeping class materials organized helps test preparation, so work with your child to determine the best method for him.

Keep a schedule. Your child should keep a schedule of all classes, assignments and key dates, such as project deadlines and test dates. As part of that schedule, she should include specific times for studying, projects and extracurricular activities. The more thorough the schedule, the more efficient your child will become.

Take effective class notes. Most students take notes in class, but often when they review them, they can't make sense of the content. Encourage students not to write down every word the teacher says. Instead, tell them to listen carefully when a teacher elaborates and briefly summarize the main ideas. Then, each night while the material is still fresh, the student should rewrite or summarize the material.

Develop test-taking strategies. Being well prepared for a quiz or test helps reduce the student's anxiety on exam day. Build confidence and tell students to avoid cramming the evening before an exam by reviewing test material in the three weeks leading up to the test.

For additional tips on strengthening study skills and related test-taking ideas, visit <http://tutoring.sylvan-learning.com/learningn-for-parents/index.cfm> or call 1-800-31-SUCCESS.

Neuiszer wins KMS geographic bee

Chuck Neuiszer won the Kewaskum Middle School geographic bee.

Chuck Neuiszer, an 8th grade student at Kewaskum Middle School, won the school-level competition of the National Geographic Bee on Friday, January 11th and a chance at a $25,000 college scholarship. The school-level Bee, at which students answered oral questions on geography, was the first round in the 20th annual National Geographic Bee. The National Geographic Society sponsors the Bee.

The kickoff for this year's Bee was the week of November 12, with thousands of schools around the United States and in the five U.S. territories participating. The school winners, including (student), will now take a written test; up to 100 of the top scorers in each state will be eligible to compete in their state Bee April 4, 2008.

The National Geographic Society will provide an all-expenses-paid trip to Washington, D.C., for state champions and teacher-escorts to participate in the National Geographic Bee national championship on May 20 and 21, 2008. The first-place national winner will receive a $25,000 college scholarship and a lifetime membership in the Society.

"Jeopardy!" host Alex Trebek will moderate the national finals on May 21. The program will air on television. Check local listings for dates and times.

Anyone can brush up on geography with GeoBee Challenge, an online geography quiz at www.nationalgeographic.com/geobee, which poses 10 new questions a day from previous National Geographic Bees. WES students help Humane Society

The fourth and fifth grade students at Wayne Elementary School collected items for the Washington County Humane Society. In their social studies curriculum, the students learn about volunteering in their community and what it means to be a good citizen. This was a fun way for the students to help in their community and try to make a difference. Dale Stockhausen, a humane society worker, came to the school to share some animals, talk about ways the kids can volunteer in the humane society, and to educate the kids on being a responsible pet owner. Dale's dog, Daisy, is shown in the picture.

Another pair of foreign exchange students at Kewaskum High School are Sandor Kiss from Budapest, Hungary and Kenny Krause from Germany. They both say they feel welcome in Kewaskum.

Both students agree that there are many differences in being here then from being in their homes in Hungary and Germany. Kiss says there are a lot of differences because Kewaskum is a small village and he is from a larger city, "so there aren't so many things to do here, but a lot of people know each other which is great."

Krause stated the people and way of life is different, adding, "almost all is different than in Germany."

For Kiss there are many differences between KHS and his school in Hungary, such as they cannot decide what classes they have to take. To him, KHS is really modern and has a lot of great qualities. "I like the school spirit in KHS. In my school at home this spirit is not as important," he said. He believes it is because they don't have sports teams except for soccer. Krause said, "This school would be one of the best schools in Germany."

As for the adjustment to the change in a new country and school, it has been easy for the two. "I'm glad that it's different here than in Hungary, since that's why I'm here to experience new things," remarked Kiss. He added, "The nice people who were ready to help whenever I needed it made it easier for me to adjust. Krause stated just going to school helped him to adjust."

Kiss and Krause both miss their friends and family back home in their own countries. Kiss said he misses the public transportation and the free-time activities like the movies. Krause misses his motorbike. When it is time to return home, Kiss said, "I will miss my friends from school and my host family. I'll miss Dr. Pepper and donuts, too." And Krause noted he would miss the old USA cars.

The number one favorite thing about Kewaskum or the high school for Sandor Kiss he says, is the kind, helpful people. Kiss also participates in the German Club, Beyond Border Club and the concert choir. Kenny Krause's number one favorite thing about Kewaskum he says would be the school.

People of the Book

By Geraldine Brooks

Viking, $25.95 372 pages

The next time you hold something old - an antique, an heirloom, an artifact - imagine the stories it could tell if it could talk.

Someone bought that item new, or made it for a beloved. Maybe it was carried across continents or states, tucked in a backpack or spirited beneath petticoats. No matter where the thing was or where it came from, it takes some serious sleuthing to find out the story of that which you hold in your hand.

Hannah Heath is a detective of sorts, specializing in antique books. In "People of the Book" by Geraldine Brooks, an old manuscript tells Hannah a story, and it's not just the one printed on the pages.

It was the first illustrated manuscript discovered, and it rocked the antiquities world when it was found. Because Jewish belief forbade lush drawings in prayer books, the so-called Sarajevo haggadah, created in medieval Spain with vivid colors and detailed drawings, was rare and precious beyond description. It was the jewel of Bosnia, recently saved from the ravages of war. The U.N. asked rare book expert Hannah Heath to examine the ancient tome and to ensure that it deteriorates no further.

Carefully aware that politics are at the heart of this career-making assignment, Hannah questions why she was chosen. Surely her former mentor, Werner Heinrich, would have wanted to hold the haggadah in his hands. Amitai Yomtov, one of the most brilliant men in the field, would have leaped at the chance to examine it. Even the haggadah's kustos, Ozren Karaman, was a more obvious choice.

But the U.N. wants Hannah, so she carefully unwraps the haggadah and finds a mystery. A small fragment of insect wing is imbedded in the book's folds. There's a trace of salt. A stain (wine?) mars a page corner. Holes were made for clasps, but clasps are missing. And curiously, an ebony-skinned woman is depicted in the illustrations, which defies what's known about culture at the time the book was made.

Meant for seder, the haggadah holds more than prayers. If the book could talk, it would tell stories of war and persecution, sickness, bravery, and love. With her own personal problems distracting her, will Hannah listen?

"People of the Book" starts out slow; so slow, that I wasn't sure I could make it through almost 400 pages. There's a lot of set-up to make the story work, and not much happens for the first couple segments. In the end, I was glad I stuck it out.

With time-framing reminiscent of "Pulp Fiction", some factual history, the existence of a real book, and a fictional character who is increasingly easy to like, Pulitzer Prize-win-

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ANNA REINDL, who passed away one year ago, January 21, 2007.

This month comes with sad regret,
It brings back the days we will never forget.
The tears in our eyes we can wipe away,
But the ache in our hearts will always stay.
Life gone on, we know it's true.
But nothing is the same since the day we lost you.

Sadly missed by your family.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of KARL KREIF, who passed away 11 years ago, January 24, 1997:

Do not ask if we miss him
There is such a vacant place
Often we think we hear his footsteps
And see his smiling face.
Days of sadness still come over us
Tears in silence often flow
If all the world were ours to give
We'd give it, yes and more.
To see the face of our loved one.

Come smiling at the door.

DAYS GONE BY

25 Years Ago

January 7, 1983

Fire early Sunday morning destroyed the interior and contents of the Michael Janz home on Prospect Drive in Kewaskum, the former Harold Meisenheimer, residence. The fire was discovered at 3:11 p.m. by Kewaskum Police Officer Thomas Bauer, during his routine patrol. While patrolling a nearby street, Bauer noticed a considerable amount of smoke coming from the Prospect Street area. On entering the street, Bauer saw smoke coming from the Janz home and turned in the alarm. Fire Chief Augie Bilgo said preliminary indications are the fire was electrical in origin. No one was at home at the time of the fire. Janz, owner of the property, returned home Sunday while the Fire Department was battling the blaze. Thirty firemen answered the call to fight the fire and keep it from spreading to the Al Krewald home which is only six feet away from the Janz residence. Damage loss due to the fire is expected to be well over $20,000.

Kewaskum School District residents will see two incumbents names missing on this spring's school board ballot as John Tessar and Richard Theusch apparently have decided not to seek reelection, John Spoerl, clerk of the board of education said. Running for the two open seats on the Board of Education will be Mrs. Colleen Narbotovics of Route 1, Adell, and Mrs. Norma Serwe of rural Campbellsport. Village Board electors will see Mary Krueger running for the trusteeship being vacated by incumbent Jeff Rohrer, who decided not to seek reelection. Incumbents Village President Gerald Stollenwerk and Trustees Paul Blumer and David Nigh will be seeking re-election.

Mike Steinhardt has been chosen to represent Kewaskum's sophomore class at the Hugh O'Brian Leadership Seminar, which will be held this spring.

Spring loaded, winter ready...
New tip-up challenges market, anglers

Inspired by unsatisfactory hooking percentages, development of the new tip-up began as a family affair 20 years ago on the ice of Wisconsin. Steve, Ben, and Tom Scherg are shown on White Lake in Waupaca County with the finished product that according to statistics kept by the family successfully sets the hook more than 80 percent of the time.

Necessity they say, is the mother of invention. For one Wisconsin family of hardware enthusiasts, pulling just two fish through the ice after running to 22 flags tripped by strikes served as the catalyst to search for a more efficient tip-up design. Although a need for change inspired the Scherg family's quest for innovation, the birth of the actual market-ready product was a journey of two decades.

The Hook-Set Tip-Up ultimately developed by Ben Scherg of Waupaca and currently carried for the first time this year in major outdoor monster stores including Gander Mountain, Cabela's, Scheel's, Sportsmen's Warehouse and Pamida drastically increases the percentages of successfully hooked fish and promotes safe release, according to the maker.

"I was 10 years old fishing in Townsend where we have property with dad (Steve) and my brothers Tom and Chris," Ben Scherg said. "We had 22 flags but caught only two pike. The minnows were scarred but the fish were hitting them and dropping them. You either had to be right next to the tip-up or somehow have the tip-up set the hook for you. We came into the cabin and went into different rooms to try and come up with a new idea for a tip-up. But we couldn't come up with anything that you wouldn't need an engineering degree to use."

Ten years later, in 1996, Ben Scherg was on the ice of Lake Mendota tip-up fishing while a student at UW-Madison when he had an "ahah!" moment of inspiration. Soon after, he had developed a first prototype that utilized a spring-set design under the ice that would set the hook automatically with the strike. Over the next 11 years, the design evolved until the spring was set above the ice on a tip-up to vastly improve hooking percentages.

He received a patent for the design six years ago. After ongoing revisions, today the Hook-Set Tip-Up is machined produced from polished stainless steel to exact specifications. Three different settings that control the force needed to trip the strike allow the angler to target any large, hard-striking game fish including pike, salmon, walleye, trout and bass. He does not recommend the tip-up for panfish but has caught fish as small as nine inches on his product. Price tags range from $37.99 to $39.99.

"There are 20 different types of tip-ups on the market but they are all fundamentally the same," he said. "The fish pulls on the line, the flag goes up, the rest is up to you. This tip-up has a spring loaded hook-setting mechanism.

When the fish bites, the tip-up reacts immediately and set the hook firmly into the mouth of the fish."

Scherg keeps detailed records of strikes-to-successful-landing percentages. He said that success rates of his tip-up while used within his family and by several Wisconsin guides and other fishermen are at 82 percent. He personally is at 13 fish landed from 16 flags this year. His personal experience with more established tip-ups on the market and from tracking other anglers using other models is that success rates are normally between 30 and 50 percent.

"One guide using this tip-up has yet to get a strike and not pull a fish through the hole," he said. "This year other fishermen fishing near me using different tip-up designs are 15 for 37. This is already proven to be twice as productive as other designs. We have a five minute video on our website filmed above and below the ice that shows how it works as we catch a northern."

A significant additional benefit of the tip-up, he said, is that fish are easily released after being caught. The fish he said, are never gill, gullet or throat hooked and he has personally never caught a fish on the tip-up that was not hooked in the corner of the mouth.

"The fish are released to bite and fight another day," he said. "This is also fantastic for kids. It takes the guesswork out of a strike. When the flag goes up, the fish is hooked."

Scherg said that having the product finally on the market has proven to be both exciting and perplexing. The latter he said, stems for example, from a potential consumer standing next to the product in a sporting good store with a cell phone in hand.

"Someone may call me and say, 'I'm standing here by your tip-up and it's not going to work,' he said. "They look for reasons to go against something that is challenging products that have been on the market for 100 years. But catching twice as many fish makes up for a little different operation. This tip-up throws conventional wisdom out the window."

In Scherg's opinion, the public is willing to accept "mediocrity" if a product is long established. Those same anglers, he said, would immediately reject his new tip-ups if the hooking percentages equaled those of other products on the market. A shopping angler might try to trigger the flag in the store by pulling lightly when one swish of the fish's tail, "almost flawlessly" sets the hook and trips the flag on the ice as seen in the website video. Or, an angler may complain that the tip-up is difficult to spool with line, although the inventor calls it different but easy.

You can't put it next to and compare it with other tip-ups," he said. "People are willing to accept mediocrity. We weren't willing to accept mediocrity so we came up with something better. This works, and the proof is in the pudding."

Boys get first win but take three tough losses

Random Lake entered the game with a 0-7 record. The Kewaskum Indians boy's basketball team was 0-6. Something just had to give in this match up.

Kewaskum hosted Random Lake on Tuesday, January 8th. The Indians jumped out to a five point lead after the first quarter in one of their highest scoring quarters of the season, where they led 18-13. The Indians then kept up that momentum to build a 33-24 advantage at halftime.

The Indians have been down by just a few points or even had a lead many times this season at halftime, but were unable to either catch up or maintain that lead. They were not about to repeat any of that against Random Lake. The Indians outscored Random Lake 13-10 in the third quarter and finished the game entirely out to get their first victory of the season by a score of 53-46.

Junior Brandon Conroy led the Indians with an impressive 16 points including a three-point basket. John Holt added ten points which included four made free-throws. Senior Daniel Parker also added ten points.

The Indians hosted Campbellsport on Thursday, January 10th. The Indians were looking to get their second victory in as many games. The first quarter went back and forth between the two teams, but a three-point basket from Conroy with 45 seconds left in the first quarter gave the Cougars just a three point advantage. The second quarter went in favor of the home Indians as they had a 22-21 lead at halftime. Brian Backhaus had a few strong, inside baskets and the entire team played good defense and had some offensive rebounds.

At halftime, both coaches must have told their collective teams to play more physically, because the game got very intense and full of emotion. Holt showed great strength on the offensive and defensive side of the ball. The visiting Cougars hit a three-point basket with three minutes left in the third quarter, to take the lead for the first time since the first period. Not to be outdone, Parker hit a "trey" to give the Indians the lead back. Kewaskum played with great intensity, especially on defense.

The fourth quarter started with the Indians forcing their passes which led to turnovers, something that the Indians cannot do because they led 33-32 entering the final period. Brian Backhaus hit an NBA range three-point basket to give the Indians the lead 36-34. The Indians did hit one more basket, a lay up for Conroy, but would not score the final 5 minutes of the game. The Cougars switched to a zone defense, which the Indians could not figure out and were forced to take long, unwise shots. Campbellsport finished the game on a 15-0 run to win 50-38. Michael Herriges played great, smart defense throughout the game, while Backhaus led the team with 10 points.

The Indians looked to rebound against Sheboygan Falls on Saturday, January 12th while playing the make-up game from the December 11th game that was cancelled due to the snow.

The Indians couldn't match the firepower that the Falls team showed on offense, as the Indians lost the game 67-52. Holt led the team with 13 points, while Senior TJ Corey added 11 points.

The Indians played a non-conference game against Port Washington on Monday, January 14th. The Indians took a 16-14 lead after the first quarter, but could not score with the Pirates' Josh Gassner who led all scorers with 25 points. The Indians fell behind early in the second quarter and the game never got close again. The final score was 57-34 in Port Washington's favor. Holt led the team with 13 points.

The Indians next play on Friday, January 18th at home against conference foe Plymouth and then again on Tuesday, January 22nd at home against Cedar Grove-Belgium. Be sure to go out and support your Indians.

Hailey Taylor did a nice job rebounding, while Maddie Kreis led the team in scoring with 8 points.

The 3rd/4th grade boys team lost to Campbellsport 22-21. They then beat Eden 23-21 in a game led by their "big men," Charlie Witek and Michael Prochnow. Those two players led with good attitudes, great scoring and strong rebounding in both games. The 5th grade boys team lost to Campbellsport 36-18. The Indians showed improvement over the course of the game. They were led by Jake Nuenfeld, Mitchell Engelman, and Greg Martin.

The KYB program will be hosting a 3rd/4th grade basketball tournament February 16 and 17 at the Kewaskum Elementary School. There will be 8 area girl's teams and 6 area boy's teams competing.

The 3rd/4th grade boy's team had another doubleheader at home this past weekend. The Indians beat North Fond du Lac 18-10. Kewaskum was led by five different point guards in the intriguing matchup. In the second game, the Indians beat a tough Oakfield team 24-22. Kewaskum was led by Joshua Baker, Charlie Witek, Nick Buchel and Michael Prochnow, however, everyone contributed in the two wins.

The 3rd/4th grade girl's white team lost to Lomira 14-10. They were led by Meghan MacFarlane, Nicole Casey, Mckenzie Lehn and Breana Trepes. The 3rd/4th grade green team lost to Lomira in overtime, 14-12. The loss was especially hard to take because the Indians led by six points late in regulation. Elizabeth Bauer and Hailey Herriges led the Indians in scoring and rebounding. The 6th grade team lost to FACES 33-18. Heather Hintz led the Indians with 8 points.

Coach Jeff Gosse has been saying the entire season that his team needs to cut down on the number of turnovers in order to win games. Last Friday was no exception. The Kewaskum Indians girls' basketball team traveled to Campbellsport on Friday, January 11 where they were to meet up with their closest foe.

"We played pretty well in the first half, especially the first quarter," said Gosse. "We shut down their leading scorers and the game was pretty even," added Gosse. The Indians jumped out to a 9-8 lead after the first quarter. However, they were only able to contain Campbellsport for just over a quarter, when the Cougars scored 21 in the second quarter to give themselves a lead that they would not lose. At halftime, the score was 29-22 in Campbellsport's advantage.

The Indians never found a way to get back into the game in the second half, as they would go on to lose 55-38. "They [Campbellsport] found a way to get their best players the ball after the first quarter and our turnovers killed us," said Gosse. Three Campbellsport players combined for 41 of the 55 points scored. Senior Megan Rinzel led the Indians in scoring with 11 points.

The Indians know what they need to work on. "It's just back to the drawing board to work on the offense. Our defense is playing well, but we can't score because of so many turnovers we are giving away. We need to take care of the ball," finished Gosse.

The Indians look to rebound Thursday, January 17 at the Plymouth Panthers.

Indians hit 60-point mark again KHS matmen coast in big win over Raiders

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Sports Correspondent

After last Thursday evening, all that stands between the Kewaskum High wrestlers and an unbeaten dual meet season in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference are Campbellsport and Sheboygan Falls.

The Indians made Two Rivers their fifth straight victim on Jan. 10, topping the host Raiders by a whopping 64-7. The win was the Indians 11th dual meet win in a row during this current 2007-'08 campaign.

Two Rivers forfeited at five weights, and the Indians posted pins at four other weight classes.

After this match, the following wrestlers are a perfect 5-0 in EWC competition: Robbie Maertz at 119, Bo Seibel at 125, and P.J. Krueger at 215. Cody Seibel is 4-0 at 171. He missed the season opener with a broken thumb. Matt Buker also improved to 3-0 after recording a 4-0 decision over Brad LeClair at 189.

The two most exciting matches of the night came at 140 and 285. At 140, junior Nathan Seitz nipped Derick Blake 8-7 with a late takedown.

"Nathan had trouble finding any rhythm in the match because Blake bled for nearly four and a half minutes," Aupperle said, indicating there was a lot of time taken to stop Blake's bloody nose.

"Nathan was down by three points with under a minute to go, then he got an escape and the winning takedown with 10 seconds to go," the coach said.

Tyler Swanson and Alex Hanson put on quite a show at 285, with Swanson being awarded one penalty point and getting another when he broke free of Hanson for an escape and a 2-0 victory.

Two Rivers bumped LeClair up a weight class, either to stay away from Cody Seibel or figuring he could beat Buker, but the KHS junior was up to the challenge and shut LeClair out 4-0.

Kewaskum hosts arch rival Campbellsport tonight (Thursday) in what is expected to be a lot closer competition, and in the headliner meet of the year, the Indians take on Sheboygan Falls on Tuesday in Sheboygan Falls. The Falcons are defending champions in the EWC.

Aupperle predicted both matches will be very exciting, especially some of the individual matchups. The headliner in the match against Campbellsport will be at 215 where Krueger, who has only lost twice this season, will battle Billy Mayer, who finished second last year in the Division 2 state tournament at 189 pounds. "That could be a great match," the KHS coach said.
