Sheboygan, West Allis, women killed

Weekend crashes claim two lives

This crash, at the intersection of Tower Drive and County Road S in the Town of Scott, claimed the life of a 42-year-old Sheboygan woman. The accident unfolded after a West Bend man operating left of center struck a motorcycle. A complete article can be found on page three of this edition.

Wayne benefits being Wi-Fi guinea pig

By Mitch Maersch
For The Statesman

TOWN OF WAYNE- A little patience and a risk-free opportunity has the town surfing the 'net using a cutting-edge wireless service that the national government thinks is so important it helped fund the technology.

Wayne is serving as a test market for HierComm, a broadband, wireless communications company in Hartland. HierComm, started in 2004 based on a grant from the United States Department of Agriculture to develop a broadband system for rural areas, is trying a long-range WiFi service at no cost to the town, aside from residents who sign up to use it.

"It's just a technical test," said Ken Schlager, president of HierComm. "People ask us now - where do you have this operating? We can say Wayne."

"It's a business opportunity for them," said Kieth Kriewaldt, former supervisor. "The infrastructure costs nothing."

A few years ago, Kriewaldt had been looking for a more reliable Internet provider for the town, and Schlager was looking for a rural test market.

The pair found each other when Schlager gave a talk at the Hartford Town Hall. Then, Schlager doubled as president of HierComm and chief telecom officer with the Southeast Wisconsin Regional Planning Com

School District educates parents of online dangers

By Mitch Maersch
For The Statesman

KEWASKUM- David Schultz doesn't let his children have Facebook accounts.

The Kewaskum Middle School teacher and certified Internet safety presenter, along with the rest of the district's Technology Group, last week showed a group of parents the dangers their children may encounter on the World Wide Web.

Using materials from i-Safe Inc., a nonprofit foundation devoted to Internet safety education, Schultz showed how close-knit families with positive parent-child relationships can succumb to predators lurking the Internet. In extreme cases, meeting someone introduced through social networking Web sites or chat rooms end up in rape or worse. Teens can be killed on first encounters.

"Never, ever meet in person someone out meet on the Internet," Schultz said.

Responsible adults don't pursue relationships with teens, he said.

It isn't easy to keep up with children online. Some of the several parents in attendance essentially admitted their children know more about computers and the Internet than they do.

Predators don't need much information. Schultz said students are often pretty good about not divulging personal identification information, but things as simple as school colors and what they're doing on Friday night can be enough for someone to be able to find them. This information should not be used in chat rooms, messaging people or in online games, he said.

Schultz advised usernames and profiles should be general and anonymous, not containing anything that could reveal personal information. Children should report any kind of threats or strangers' solicitations to their parents.

This includes cyber bullying, a growing problem among youth. Fifty-eight percent of students say they've been bullied online and not told their parents, according to iSafe.

"You can tell friends about it if you want, but you have to tell an adult," Schultz said.

Parents should keep computers in common areas like the living room or kitchen - not in children's rooms - and should know their children's passwords.

Since it's easier for predators to find children if they know what they look like, children should not post photos of themselves or friends online.

"Kids should never do that," Schultz said.

According to iSafe, 66 percent of predators find their victims in chat rooms and 24 percent in instant messaging. Seventy-seven percent of their targets are ages 14-17.

Predators go through stages of introduction to gaining trust, playing on victims' weaknesses, turning them against their family and friends and even blackmailing them before meeting face to face.

"Predators can be very, very patient," Schultz said. "They know what to do."

Don't, Schultz said, threaten to take away children's computers or cell phones (increasingly popular Internet access points). Children will be less inclined to share what they're doing online.

Even with open communication, teens have found ways to hide their activity. There's a way of typing in white - so it doesn't show while a parent is watching or nearby. While it looks invisible, the receiver of the message just has to highlight the text mission (SEWRPAC).

"He was talking about communities and wireless networks. He was working with a grant from the agriculture department on a town up north putting in a WiFi system," said Kriewaldt, a town supervisor at the time.

Kriewaldt approached Schlager after the meeting and offered Wayne as a testing ground. Schlager worked on the engineering and in September 2006 presented a plan to the Town Board.

"We said yeah, we liked it," Kriewaldt said.

The town sought requests for proposals, but no company bit. HierComm wasn't yet ready with the financing. Last May, the company worked out the financing and approached the town with its proposal.

"This cost us nothing," Kriewaldt said. "They're taking all the risk. The only thing we did is open it up to the township."

"They took a proactive stance," Schlager said of the town.

Kriewaldt's house served as one of the few test sites - all covered with grant money. He ran the new technology on one computer and used one of the town's two existing providers on another. Neither of the two existing providers offers WiFi. "You could actually play movies on it. That's how fast this is," Kriewaldt said of HierComm's service.

"It has amplification system so if trees get in the way it can amplify its signal - it literally will go through trees," he said.

That drew Kriewaldt to the new service.

"Others could not keep consistent service. Weather havocted it, trees havocted it," he said.

Wayne was just what HierComm was looking for.

Schlager said 66 percent of the seven counties in Southeast Wisconsin are considered rural - no sanitary sewers, etc. - and Wayne is one of the lowest-density towns in the area.

"It is growing and has a higher income than Wauwatosa," he said. "We wanted it to be in an unserved or underserved area."

Schlager said Wayne's two providers offer wireless Internet but not traditional WiFi service.

"WiFi is a standard technology by which a standard is built," Schlager said, as opposed to a proprietary standard. "The advantage of WiFi is ... it is a higher speed technology and the costs tend to be low because it is a standard technology."

HierComm's WiFi differs from other WiFi services because of its long range. HierComm has five, 50-foot, telephone-pole-like towers - or access points - covering Wayne's 36 square miles.

"It's advanced WiFi," Schlager said, "WiFi with long range. If you just had regular WiFi, you'd have so many access points that it wouldn't be feasible."

"I've been to a lot of these hearings. People don't like (metal) towers, that's for sure. Wood fits in with landscape," Schlager said.

The service costs about $40 per month for a typical rate of 3 megabytes, about the same as the town's other two vendors - Netwurx of Hartford, Bertram Wireless of Adell. It moves about as fast as a DSL or cable service - 54 times faster than dialup, Kriewaldt said. The service can handle up to 10 megabytes, usually for business purposes, he said.

"They (the town) were able to provide a high-level service, actually better in some ways than you have in West Bend in terms of line speed and cost," Schlager said.

The service is becoming popular.

"Right now there's a 20-day waiting list," Kriewaldt said. "More and more of our people in the township have been applying."

"It's just another option to connect our constituents."

So far, the service has that reliability Kriewaldt wanted. It has been down one day due to a change in the system.

"Nobody's had any problems with it at all. Nothing at least we've heard of at the town level."

I was very impressed," he said.

HierComm's grant has since run out but the company continues to grow, though it has no interest in competing with telecom or cable companies in highly populated areas like West Bend, Kewaskum, Hartford and Slinger.

"There are plans to move into other rural parts of Washington County," Schlager said. HierComm isn't yet at its break-even point in Wayne, "but keep in mind we're developing a lot of advanced technologies - longer range and getting through trees, etc." Schlager said. "We've learned a lot up there."

HierComm is considering adding voice-over service.

"That would not be hard to add once this gets more users. It would lower the break-even point significantly," Schlager said. "Most of the people up there are paying between $30 and $50 a month for land line for regular voice."

The company is also interested in developing a public safety system at a different frequency dedicated to law enforcement and emergency medicine. Kenosha County recently funded a demonstration using one tower, and Schlager said it is "very much committed to putting in the other nine towers."

HierComm is looking outside Wisconsin as well. It is in talks with counties in Illinois to offer its service.

Keeping the Indian Namesake

I believe it would be a great loss to our heritage to change our logo from the Kewaskum Indians. Everyone knows our great village was founded by Chief Kewaskum, so why should having his name for our sports teams be disrespectful?

My dad played for the Kewaskum Indians. I was a Kewaskum Indian cheerleader. My sons and grandchildren played for the Kewaskum Indians. I think it would be a real shame if my great-grandchildren could no longer be called the Kewaskum Indians.

Lake to Lake 10K Trail Run/Hike a wonderful success

Runners didn't let the weather stop them from participating in the inaugural Lake to Lake 10K Run/Hike held on Saturday, May 9.

As the raindrops fell on Saturday, May 9, a team of dedicated volunteers set up for the first ever Lake to Lake 10K Trail Run/Hike, Around the Lake Family Fun Walk and the Spring Nature Fest in the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit. As 8:00 a.m. rolled around and the participants began to register, the rain stopped, but the cloudy skies and cool winds remained. Despite the not perfect weather conditions, 209 people participated in the run, hike and walk, all of which started at 10:00 a.m.

There were 95 runners who competed in the Lake to Lake 10K Trail Run from the Long Lake Recreation Area to the Mauthe Lake Recreation Area on the new bike trail. The overall winner for the men was Matthew Giesfeldt who completed the course in 33.28 minutes. The overall winner for the women was Holly Oche with a time of 39.17 minutes. The last of the 45 10K hikers finished the course by 12:30 p.m. There were 68 people who participated in the two-mile Around the Lake Family Fun Walk that traversed the Tamarack Trail around Mauthe Lake.

The event also included a Spring Nature Fest where people could participate in activities at four different stations. People learned about the threats of exotic species, and about bird and fish adaptations. They could also create unique nature prints on T-shirts or note cards. The highlight of the activities was the dedication of the new Lake to Lake Bike Trail, which was completed last fall.

Members of the Long Lake Preservation Association, the Friends of the Kettle Moraine and the Dundee Long Lake Lions Club coordinated the event. More than 60 volunteers helped to make the day run smoothly.

The proceeds from the day will be divided between the three groups. The Long Lake Preservation Association plans to use their share to help control exotic weeds in Long Lake and support the state's Clean Boats, Clean Waters program. The Friends of the Kettle Moraine earmarked its funds to help with the replacement of the exhibits at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The Lions decided to use their proceeds to assist with local humanitarian need and support the Wisconsin Vision projects.

The three groups say thank you to all who volunteered their time and gave so much to make this such a wonderfully successful event. They also extend their thanks to all the local businesses that supported the event with financial donations and donations of items for the raffles and race/hike/walk. The Lake to Lake 10K Trail Run/Hike, Around the Lake Family Fun Walk and Spring Nature Fest would not have been possible without many, many volunteers and business supporters, especially the events major sponsors: Thrivent Financial for Lutherans, MC Sports, the Village Apothecary (Campbellsport), Michels Corporation, Johnson School Bus (Kewaskum), Campbellsport Building Supply, Attitude Sports (Fond du Lac), Bill's Electrical Contracting, Lakeview Electric Contractors, Twohig Furniture and Funeral Home (Campbellsport), Dr. Thomas Fabricus, Tom's Tax Service, Dr. Dean Uelmen, and W9EH Enterprises.

Locks of Love

McKenzie Van Beek, right, daughter of John and Rebecca Van Beek of Campbellsport and her aunt, Sarah Cole, wife of Jacob Stoffel, of Richfield, each donated 10 inches of their hair for Locks of Love. Donation was made November 1st, 2008 at Salon Biddizza in Jackson. Donations were made in memory of McKenzie's brother Isaiah, who had AML Leukemia and had to undergo chemotherapy and lost his hair. McKenzie and Sarah were very honored to donate to this organization after Isaiah's passing in April 2008.

Forward Orthopedics Sports Medicine offers fitness and athletic programs

Fitness and athletic performance enhancement programs presented by West Bend Clinic's Forward Orthopedics Sports Medicine Program are being held June 23 - July 30 at UW-Washington County. The programs will be held at various times (depending on the camp) on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. Both programs are led by Lori Daus, licensed athletic trainer with Forward Orthopedics Sports Medicine program.

The Core Conditioning fitness camp is open to both males and females (age 15 and older) and is a progressive 12-station circuit designed to assist all fitness levels. Activities will improve strength, balance, flexibility and cardio-respiratory endurance. This camp teaches how to use body weight and simple pieces of equipment to acquire a physical workout. A Core Conditioning camp will be offered from 6:30 - 7:30 a.m. to accommodate work schedules. An 8:00 - 9:00 a.m. program will also be offered.

program is a comprehensive Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) injury prevention program. The ACL is the most commonly injured knee ligament and more often damaged by athletes. The ACL is often torn during sudden dislocation, torsion, or hyperextension of the knee.

Jump Right... or Left is for female athletes, grade 6 - college and designed to assist in developing lower extremity strength, balance and flexibility. Participants will be encouraged to focus on quality, not quantity, of technique and form. Athletes will increase their vertical jump, improve foot quickness and decrease their risk of injury.

The program is offered at times based on the grade of the participants. Jump Senior will be offered from 9:30 - 11:00 a.m. and is designed for high school and college females. It will focus on dynamic warm-up, plyometrics, strength training in a weight room and static stretching. Jump Junior is designed for 6 - 8 grade females and is offered from 11:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. Emphasis is placed on dynamic warm-up, low-level plyometrics, light group strength training and static stretching.

These programs are open to the public. Cost for each program is $60 for six weeks (12 classes). Pre-registration is required as space is limited. Registration forms are available at all West Bend Clinic locations, or online at www.westbendclinic.com. Each registered participant will receive a free t-shirt. For additional information call 262-334-1641, ext. 2760.

St. Lucas to host event to benefit Carol Wesenberg June 6

Carol Wesenberg is a very strong, private person who has gone through some hard times. When her husband suffered cancer she was there for him, working, and caring for their young son. Dennis died in 2004. When the doctors found a tumor in her upper leg a couple years later, she underwent surgery and treatments. Since the cancer returned in her lung she has had frequent hospitalizations and has been left with large medical expenses.

St Lucas would like to show their support to Carol, who is a life-long member of the church, with a BAKE SALE/ICE CREAM SUNDAE SALE featuring home baked goodies and Hot Fudge and Strawberry Sundaes. The event will be held from 9AM-1PM at St Lucas Church on Saturday, June 6, 2009. It is open to the community. For the sale to be successful it will require the generosity of many people in the area to help with baking and buying. Donations are also accepted. Please write checks to: St Lucas Church. Checks on her behalf may be mailed to St Lucas Church, 1417 Parkview Dr, Kewaskum WI 53040.

The North Washington County Chapter of Thrivent Financial for Lutherans has approved a match of up to $3000 for dollars raised, so it is a great opportunity to maximize the dollars given. Your help in our effort will be greatly appreciated!! The recent Brat Fry at Kewaskum High School partnered with this event in an effort to reach the $3000 goal.

The St Lucas Dartball Team is sponsoring this event. Carol's son, Kyle, is 16 years old and plays dartball on the St. Lucas Team along with his grandparents, Eugene and Norma Muench and Uncle Scott. Years back, before Dennis and Carol were dealing with their illnesses, they too were on the team.

Carol states she is humbled and grateful for the support she has received and the efforts of so many people in the community as well as prayers in her behalf to help her get through this difficult time.

Meet Dan'l McPheerson, Mountainman May 30

On Saturday, May 30, at 7:00 pm, travel back in time to when the fur trade was flourishing throughout the Midwest and West and to meet Dan'l McPheerson, Mountainman.

This program is part of the Summer Saturday Evening Events and will be held at the Ice Age Visitor Center (located off of Hwy 67 half mile west of Dundee). Through the generous support of the Friends of the Kettle Moraine, they are able to offer the program free of charge, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

The fur trade was one of the most crucial elements to opening up the vast wildernesses of the Midwest and West to European settlement. Dan McFeters, as Dan'l McPheerson, Mountainman, will provide a first-person account of the fur trade up to the year 1836. He will start his account with stories from Wisconsin and then take us on a journey to the far western states. Dressed in buckskins of the period, Dan'l will demonstrate the tools and weapons used during the fur trade era. He will present a lively discussion of Manifest Destiny, Andrew Jackson, Native American influences, western expansion, and what was known as the "company system."

For further information or directions, contact the forest staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The center's phone number is (920) 533-8322 and is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Mark your calendars for this fascinating look into the era of the fur trade.

My name is Peter,
and in eight years I'll be an alcoholic.

I'll start drinking in middle school, just at parties.
But my parents won't start talking to me about it until high school. And by then, I'll already be in some trouble.
The thing is, my parents won't even see it coming.

START TALKING BEFORE THEY START DRINKING

Kids who drink before age 15 are 5 times more likely to have alcohol problems when they're adults.

KHS Swing Choir hosts Talent Show

BY KATIE OSCAR
KHS STUDENT CORRESPONDENT

On Friday, May 8, the Kewaskum High School Swing Choir hosted their annual talent show in the high school theater. Emcees for the show were Joey Herriges, Tim Boettcher and Savannah Robar.

The show began at 7 p.m. with the Peace United Church of Christ Men's Choir. The group sang a spiritual 'Soon and Very Soon' and 'Ave Maria.' The KHS Jazz and Swing choirs sang two tunes, 'Hit That Jive Jack' and 'All Right, Okay, You Win!' The swing choir gave an energetic take on Elton John's 'Crocodile Rock,' a crowd pleaser, in addition to 'Lovin' My Baby.'

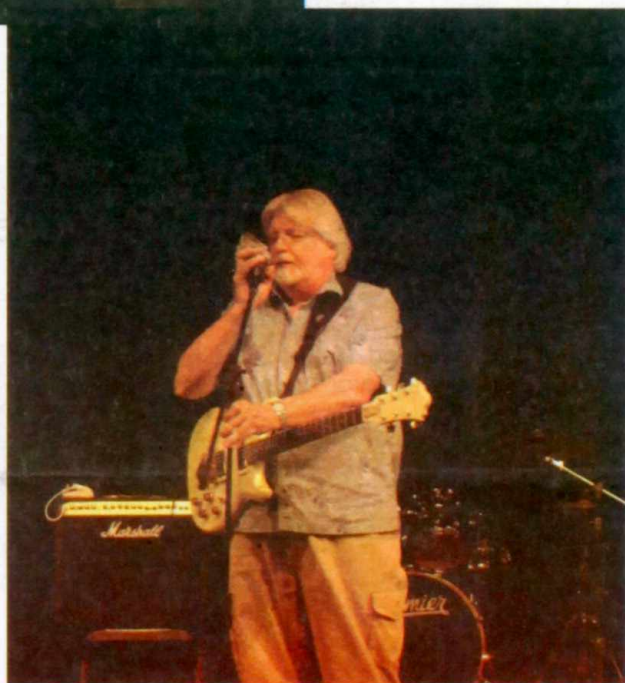

The talent show also highlighted solos and duet groups. Nicole Springer, a talented pianist, wowed the crowd with her skills; as did Stephen Gordon, who performed twice in the show. Mr. Gordon sang and played his guitar, performing a song he wrote himself in addition to a Death Cab for Cutie song. Other soloists included Vicky Peters, Tim Boettcher, Heather May and Brittany Barlow. Heather and Brit-tany performed a duet, singing 'Leave the Pieces.' Brit-tan McWilliams and Desiree Kuehl also performed a duet. Amanda and Jessie Forbes sang a song they wrote themselves for their father. The solo and duet acts all were wonderful. The vocalists had excellent voices, and phenomenal instrumental skills to back them up. All were a pleasure to watch and listen to.

The evening ended with two band performing. The Sunrays performed three fun numbers. They sang 'The Weight,' 'Along Came Joe,' and 'Gone, Gone, Gone.' The crowd enjoyed all three songs, even clapping and singing along. Finally the Back Forty performed. They performed a collection of country songs, including 'Jackson,' and 'Sweet Home Alabama.' They had great stage presence and did a terrific job.

The KHS talent show was very fun and featured stellar performances. It was a treat to watch students and community members share their talents. I look forward to next year.

Kewaskum Historical Society hosts Rural Wisconsin School Day

Dean Shmidt of the Kewaskum Historical Society does a demonstration for the students.

On Tuesday, May 19th, 4th grade students from Kewaskum Elementary School participated in a Rural Wisconsin School Day. The Kewaskum Historical Society hosted the event at their museum and log cabin along the Milwaukee River. This school day was meant to give students an inside perspective of life in rustic Wisconsin. Throughout the school day, students rotated through several hands-on stations.

Each station had the general purpose of teaching an aspect of rural pioneer life. The tours of the cabin and museum showcased the living quarters of an immigrant family in early Wisconsin and raised an awareness of our local history. The rope making, corn shelling, fanning mill, and baking stations helped students make connections between growing, harvesting, and consumption according to the rural methods that were period appropriate to pioneer Wisconsin. The candle dipping station illustrated how rural homes were self-sufficient and used all resources available to them including pig fat. Students not only learned the challenges and tediousness of the pioneer family workload, they also had an opportunity to play an exciting game of town ball, a precursor to baseball.

The day ended as students gathered together to eat cornbread they prepared in the Dutch oven. Students reflected about the day's various activities and all of the new things they learned from the knowledgeable volunteers. They couldn't wait to share these experiences and show off their homemade candles and ropes.

A huge thank you is owed to the Kewaskum Historical Society for all of their efforts and dedication in making this day such a success.

The Kewaskum Historical Society is always looking for new members to join and get involved. Please consider sending your support by attending their annual brat fry at Geidel's Piggly Wiggly on Saturday, June 27th, and their Early Farm Days on September 13th. Their museum is also open to visitors every Sunday between Memorial Day and Labor Day from 1:00-4:00p.m.

The Bookworm Sez

by Terri Schlichenmeyer

The Wildwater Walking Club

by Claire Cook

Hyperion $24.99 239 pages

No matter how hard you've tried, you know you can't do it yourself.

You're determined to shed those winter pounds. You will wear that swimsuit. You're going to lower your blood pressure if it... well, if it kills you. And you're determined to de-stress before summer arrives, even if it takes til next summer to do it.

But you can't do it yourself. What you need is an exercise buddy, someone who will encourage you, inside and out.

In the new novel "The Wildwater Walking Club" by Claire Cook, three women find friendship and lose inches.

Noreen Kelly wasn't looking to quit her job, but when the acquisition went through and the buyout was offered, Balancing Act Shoes made a too-irresistible offer.

Besides, Noreen's boyfriend, Michael, painted such a glorious picture of their life after job. Although he worked for the new company - in the exact same position that Noreen had - he told her that he wouldn't be there long, either. Once they each accepted a buyout, they could travel cross-country together.

Nice thought. But on the morning after Noreen took the cash, Michael was mysteriously AWOL. He refused her calls. He walked out of her life.

Bereft, jobless, and boyfriendless, Noreen took stock of her situation.

The mirror wasn't kind. Late nights at the office and on-the-fly eating took their toll. She was forty-something and fat. Exercise and a new project - maybe yardwork - was what she needed. She began exploring her Massachusetts neighborhood. Walking was good exercise, right?

It was, and it led Noreen to her neighbors, who vowed to help keep her on the right path and keep her company on her walks. And as they walked, they talked and hashed out the issues of their lives. Tess had a rocky relationship with her daughter. Rosie had an ailing father and a lavender farm that needed constant tending. And Noreen still had Michael-on-the-brain.

But sometimes, taking extra steps makes you lose pounds and gain perspective. Sometimes, a trip, a skip, and a few steps in the right direction are just what every woman needs to see things in a different light.

From your first glimpse of the cover to the end of the story, "The Wildwater Walking Club" practically screams "Girlfriend Book." You know when you've got it in your hand that you'll want to pass it on when you're done with it. You know your friends will love it as much as you will.

Though it's light, breezy, and quick to read, what I found most appealing about this book is the real-ness of the three main characters. Author Claire Cook didn't make Noreen, Tess, or Rosie rich, fabulously wealthy, or model-beautiful. They're just women trying to get through life without too many bruises. Haven't we all walked in similar shoes?

Perfect for book groups, a late-Mother's Day gift, or for tucking in your suitcase or overnighter, "The Wildwater Walking Club" is a girlfriends' delight. If you're someone who loves to share her favorite reads, take steps to get this book soon.

Daniel Stoffel, an area resident and local government official, has filed as a write-in candidate to fill the 10th Supervisory District of the County Board of Washington County. This position was left vacant by the death of Charles Miller in January. Stoffel, who has served on the Town Board of the Town of Kewaskum, for the past seven years, is a lifelong resident of the Kewaskum area.

The Kewaskum School Board has accepted the resignation of James Westphal as head coach of the Kewaskum High School basketball team. Westphal began his coaching career when he came to Kewaskum in 1969, when he coached both wrestling and football. He began coaching basketball in 1970 and for the past 11 years has served as head varsity coach.

The Kohlsville/Wayne Jaycees are pleased to announce that their president, Pat Hanrahan, was named the number three president in Wisconsin for the month of February.

Holly Kempf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leander Kempf of rural Kewaskum, and Brad Dieringer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dieringer of Fredonia, have been chosen as the Kiwanis students of the month of March.

After a disappointing season in the strong Eastern Wisconsin Conference, in which they placed last with a 3-9 record, the Kewaskum Indians basketball team reached their peak in post season WIAA tournament play. They won the Class A Regional championship at Goodrich High School in Fond du Lac by defeating Fond du Lac of the Fox River Valley Conference and Hartford of the Little Ten Conference and advanced to the Sectional at the Kolf Sports Center on the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh campus before losing a surprisingly close game in the semifinals to Sheboygan North, champions of the Fox River Valley Conference. Members of the team include Todd Wiedmeyer, Dan Menzel, Mike Wiedmeyer, Dennis Butz, Mike Steinhardt, Brian Arndt, Jeff Squier, Jim Hanrahan, Tom Herriges, Brian Ruppinger, and Tim Leitheiser. The coach is Jim Westphal.

Kewaskum High School's Brian Arndt and Julie Koepke, both seniors, have been named to the second unit of the Eastern Wisconsin's All-Conference basketball team for the second year in succession.

A daughter, Emily Margaret, was born to Larry and Diane Brown, Campbellsport, on March 7. A daughter, Monica Marie, was born to Jim and Lois Petersen, Campbellsport, on March 2. Daughters were also born to Stephen and Mary Wolff, Allenton, on March 6 and to Ricky and Barbara DuDevoire, Adell, on March 7.

Sons were born Michael and Debra Doherty, Kewaskum, on March 7; to John and Re-

Kewaskum's first Dairy Day event at the high school on Saturday was a success beyond expectations with huge crowds attending the show both in the afternoon and the evening. A crowd of over 700 persons attended the afternoon program while over 1,000 people jammed the gymnasium to capacity for the night show. Alice in Dairyland Miss Barbara Haslow of Chili, Wisconsin, crowned Judy Oelhafen, 15, a sophomore and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Oelhafen of near Kohlville, the Dairy Day Queen.

Robert Felix, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Felix of St. Kilian, who played basketball with the Kewaskum Land o' Lakes team the past season, has signed a New York Yankee baseball contract and left to take part in a three-week tryout in Florida.

Pvt. Robert Kudek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Kudek, Campbellsport, has completed his basic combat training course at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri.

Four candidates filed papers for the three trustee offices to be elected in the village. Two of the present incumbents, Joe Eberle and Wayland Tassar, will seek re-election, while the third incumbent, John G. Stelpflug, will not be a candidate for re-election. Other candidates are Carl F. Schaefer, former trustee who was defeated two years ago and a newcomer, Cyril N. Wietor. The rest of the slate of village officials will be unopposed for re-election. They are James D. Reigle, president; Elwyn M. Romaine, supervisor; and Ralph J. Rimmel, assessor. The three remaining trustees, Arvin Merwin, Henry Becker and Joseph Schwind, hold over in of-rice for another year.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Holzmann, Kewaskum, on March 23.

100 Years Ago

March 27, 1909

Edward Dullea, for many years a resident of the Town of Farmington, was killed last Friday evening by a fall from the loft of his barn in the village of Boltonville. He had returned home that evening after having called on friends and went into the barn to do some chores. Soon after he had entered the barn, his daughter Mary, hearing a cry at the barn, ran there and found her father lying on the floor. His neck was broken and death claimed him soon after his daughter found him. The deceased was about 81 years of age.

August Schnurr commenced operating his sawmill on the Bilgo lot on Wilhelmina Street last Tuesday.

J.B. Day last Wednesday traded the Van Vechten farm with Fred Backhaus Jr., who gave in exchange the Foote farm, the Schaenzer residence in the village and $6,000 in cash. On the same day MR. Day sold the Schaenzer property to Moritz Rosenheimer for $2,600. On Thursday, Mr. Day again exchanged the Foote farm with Frank Quandt for his residence in this village and a cash consideration.

Frank Strachota, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Strachota, died last Sunday afternoon after a short illness with blood poisoning at the age of 16.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Batzler of St. Kilian last Wednesday. Baby boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. John Schaeffer of the Town of Auburn last Saturday; to Mr. and Mrs. Jake Weinert of Wayne and to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kohler of Wayne, both on Friday.

GREAT GRILLING

Serves: 4

Preparation time: 15 minutes

Cooking time: 15 minutes

- 1 stick unsalted butter at room temperature
- 4 tablespoons Blue Cheese, crumbled
- 1 teaspoon finely minced shallots
- Salt
- 4 (10 to 12 ounce) rib eye steaks
- 1/4 cup cracked black, red and green peppercorns
- 3 tablespoons kosher or sea salt
- 3 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil
- Sheet of plastic wrap
- Sheet of aluminum foil
- 1 can (22 ounces) BUSH'S® Steakhouse Recipe Grillin' Beans(tm)
- Mash together the room temperature butter, crumbled Blue Cheese and shallots. Lightly season with salt, stir and set aside.
- Heat barbecue grill (or oven) to 500 degrees Fahrenheit for indirect heating.

Place the peppercorns into both sides of each steak. Place plastic wrap on each steak and press the peppercorns into the meat with your hands. Unwrap and sprinkle with salt. Throw the plastic wrap away.

Place steaks on the very hot grill and cook until well browned on one side, about 2? minutes. Turn steaks and cook 2 1/2 minutes on the other side. Then place steaks on the cooler side of the grill for an additional 2 1/2 minutes.

Rub 2 tablespoons of olive oil into a cast iron or heavy skillet. Remove steaks from the grill and place in the oiled skillet on unheated side of the barbecue grill and cook for about 8-9 minutes for medium-rare (145 degrees Fahrenheit on instant-read thermometer); or 9-10 minutes for medium (160 degrees Fahrenheit on instant-read thermometer).

Remove the steaks from the pan and place them on a heated platter, top each cooked steak with a generous tablespoon of the butter mixture. Cover steaks with foil and let the meat rest for 5 minutes.

Girls soccer: Indians end season fourth in E.W. Conference, host Warriors at regionals Thursday

By Andrew Kuehl

andrew@kewaskumstatesman.com | 262-370-0831

The Indians' girls' soccer team has ended their regular season fourth in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference with a 7-7 record. Coach Amy Piwoni stated she was pleased with the middle of the road finish.

"Overall, I felt we achieved my conference expectations this year. I felt we could've been 8-6, with another win over Kiel. I believed that we could finish in the middle of the pack and that's exactly what we did. I would've liked to pick-up a few more non-conference wins, but we had three non-conference ties as well, so overall I was pleased," Piwoni stated.

She continued, "This year, we were on the winning end of many of the close games. We have many strides to make yet, but as we continue to work together, we will improve each year. That is our main focus each season."

Last week's play saw the Indians shutting out conference rival Campbellsport; taking a loss against Kiel, who they snuck a win from earlier in the season and soundly defeating Waupun.

Kewaskum 3, Campbellsport 0

Tuesday, May 19 - Campbellsport

It didn't start off so good for the ladies in Cougar Country as they played into 20 mile-per-hour wind for the first half. Another sluggish start also hampered their efforts in the first half.

Numerous attempts to score were not taken advantage of due to a lack of players in scoring position once the Indians took possession of the ball. This has plagued the team all season.

Taking control at mid-field in the last second, Christine Bohn got the first goal at 39:59 with kick to the corner of the goal post.

Keeping possession of the ball became easier for the Indians with the wind at their backs in the second half.

Sam and Jess Smallish took advantage of that with 16 minutes left and crashed the goal, finding net. Sam credited with the goal, Jess with the assist.

Less than 15 minutes later, Jess Smallish dribbled the ball up center field and found the net.

The Indians took 12 shots during the match. Bohn had four of them while Sam Smallish had three, Jess Smallish and Amber Struck had two a piece and Elissa Miller provided one.

When asked what got their engines in gear in the second half, Forward Struck stated, "We got our passes put together and realized we wanted this game. Christine's goal pumped us up."

Providing the same stellar defense she has all season, Paige Lightner provided four saves.

Kiel 3, Kewaskum 1

Thursday, May 21 - Home

A strong first half was not enough for the Indians as they tried for another win against the Raiders.

Bohn was the first to score in this match which left the Indians with a 1-0 lead at the half.

The Raiders came into the second half strong and took advantage of the right side of the defense sleeping at a few crucial times.

"We did not mark up and they were able to sneak in two goals on us. Their third goal was a rocket from well outside the 18. It was a good shot, but we failed to challenge the shot. I was rather disappointed from our second half performance. Some of the girls were quite upset about the game as was I. This was a game that we were pumped up for, but Kiel outperformed us.

Lightner provided eight saves for the Indians. She played the entire match in the box.

The Indians attempted nine shots through efforts of Bohn and Miller with three a piece. Vanessa Schellinger, who's played hard all season, was finally in the right place at the right time and took a single shot. Jess and Sam Smallish each had a shot as well.

Kewaskum 5, Waupun 0

Friday, May 22 - Waupun

It was another slow start but the Lady Indians again came through with another conference shut-out. Going out with a bang was an understatement in this shut-out as the Indians offense pounded the Warriors.

The first 20 minutes saw the Warriors making fast offensive strides putting the Indians' defense to work. The Indian offense again suffered as offense strides were made, but without players ready to assist at the net, it didn't happen.

The Indians came onto the board courtesy of Bohn who quickly found the net with a short kick in the box at 15:50. The talented sophomore played with a knee injury and wasn't as quick as she normally is.

The momentum changed for the Indians as Jess Smallish found the Warriors goalie, Beth Wagner, sleeping on the job and nailed the net with 7:22 left in the half. Smallish came right back six minutes later, dribbled unattended from the center circle for a breakaway goal with 2:49 left.

"I really wanted to score. With yesterday's loss, I really wanted to prove something," Jess Smallish explained on her three consecutive goals.

The Indians and Warriors went head to head to start the second half but the Indians didn't let up for a second.

With 24 minutes into the half the Smallish duo charged up the field from the center circle and Jess used the pole to knock in goal number four, her third consecutive goal of the game.

Miller took a chance with a little less than six minutes left and found the net from mid-field on a powerful kick for the Indians' fifth and final goal.

A final effort came from Waupun with less than four minutes left as a ball was nearly dropped by Lightner.

About the slow start Jess Smallish stated, "In the first 10 minutes, we weren't ready for Waupun's intensity. We realized we had to step it up."

The Indians took 16 shots. Jess Smallish lead in shots with four, she was followed by Sam Smallish, Bohn and Miller with three each, Schellinger, Struck and Tanya Hesprich each with one.

Lightner provided ten saves that equaled 100% coverage.

Besides the injured Bohn, who has fluid on her knee, defensive back Jenna Buker, was absent due to sickness. Piwoni expected that Bohn would recover and be 100 percent for Thursday. "She (Bohn) was still very effective," Piwoni said.

"We started slow, but we gathered ourselves. We had good speed on top and were able to take over the defense because of Jess' speed," Piwoni stated.

The Indians were set to face the Warriors once again today (Thursday) at home in post season play. If successful, they were expected to play Port Washington on Saturday.

Piwoni stated the Indians will have their eye on the Warriors' Jamie Vander Woude in their regional match. Vander Woude is credited with speed for Waupun.

Softball: Indians bounce back against Kiel after Slinger loss

By Andrew Kuehl

andrew@kewaskumstatesman.com

After a tough non-conference loss against Slinger at home, the Lady Indians sluggers came out on top of a close Kiel conference game on Thursday that advanced them to post season play against Waupun on Tuesday.

Slinger 9, Kewaskum 2
Tuesday, May 19- Kiwanis Park

The ladies still could not find a win after coming from some scoreless games the week prior. The Owls attacked the Indians with a vengeance as the ladies played an amazing first inning.

The Owls were met with some great defense in the first inning and the Indians quickly got on the board as Monica "Mo" Dehler scored on an Ashley "Fabs" Faber double to center field.

Amanda Schneider's single allowed Shaylah Haire to score giving the ladies a 2-0 lead.

The Owls had enough of the Indians scoring and started the second off with some exploding bats. The team gathered six runs by the time they were through. Three wild pitches by Erika Heberer helped the Owls' scoring.

Quick 1-2-3 innings took the teams to the seventh when wild pitches again plagued the team and allowed two more Owls runs.

Erika Heberer pitched four innings. She threw only one walk, four strikeouts and allowed five hits and seven runs. Courtney Meyer came in for relief in the fifth.

Brandi Wagner was absent for the game. Coach Jeff Gosse stated she was injured but should return Thursday.

Gosse was surprised at the pitching by Heberer. "She's been steady for us," he explained.

With Wagner out, Gosse thought Erika Koffke played well at third and Haire at second.

Dehler thought the loss came from high pitches. "We need to hit off the tee more," she explained.

Kewaskum 3, Kiel 2,
Thursday, May 21- Kiel

With Slinger behind them, the ladies came out determined to continue in the post season. The game was won by back-to-back inning runs by Abby Amerling.

Once again the Indians quickly took to the task of getting themselves on the board as "Mo" cracked out a triple her first at bat. She was able to score as Heberer bunted.

The Raiders quickly got themselves on the board as well as Kelsey Thielmann scored on a wild pitch by Heberer. Trisha Boldt would follow due to a loose ball allowing the Raiders the lead.

The ladies got in scoring position in the fourth but were unable to bring "Fabs" home after her line drive single to start the inning.

Amerling made her first score in the fifth which lit a fire for the ladies. Gosse used her legs after Haire knocked a double to center. Wagner followed suit with another double allowing Amerling to tie the score.

The ladies again tried putting runners in position but couldn't capitalize in the sixth.

With their last at bat, Haire put Amerling's legs on the field with a single. Amerling quickly stole second. Wagner came through with another double bringing Amerling home again and taking the win.

"I just wanted to get the win, we played them twice before and knew we could do it (win)," Amerling stated after the game.

Heberer was back to her normal steady self and pitched all seven innings allowing three hits and two walks. She threw five strikeouts.

Heberer's steady pitching is part of what Gosse credited the win with. "Erika pitched a good game."

SMACK! Shaylah Haire cracks out a double to center-field. The hit and Abby Amerling's legs tied the game in the fifth.

Girls Track: Indians' strong suits evident in EWC test

By Judy Harlow

Statesman Correspondent

There weren't very many events the Plymouth High girls track team wasn't good in.

Scoring in all but the triple jump and high jump and coming up with double placing in five events and triple placing in the 100-meter hurdles, the 400 and 1,600, the Lady Panthers overpowered the other teams in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Meet last Tuesday afternoon in Sheboygan.

Plymouth came in with 160 points, 24.5 more than runner-up Two Rivers (136.50) Sheboygan Falls was third with 92.50, followed by Kewaskum, which had four first places toward 89 points.

"Just three and a half points out of third place ... that's respectable," KHS coach Jerry Gosa said, tipping his hat to the winners, adding, "Plymouth is really tough. They have the numbers."

KHS had the best numbers in the 4x100 and 4x200 relays. First, the foursome of Haley Gregoriou, Anna Butler, Bryanna Keller and Jessie Liniewski combined for a time of 1 minute, 50 and .51 seconds (1:50.51), their best time of the season and two full seconds faster than they had run at the EWC Relays. They beat Two Rivers by .30 of a second.

"The came back and re-established themselves (as the team to beat) Tuesday," Gosa said, noting the time came in spite of the fact the weather was not the best for a track meet.

In the 4x100, the same group was clocked in 52.61, beating Sheboygan Falls by .58 of a second and avenging a loss to the Falcons in the relay event.

The high jump was definitely the Indians' best event in this meet, with Liniewski winning the competition by clearing 5 feet and .25 inch (5-00.25) and Candace Beine and Amanda Witek going 4-10.25 and 4-10, respectively, for third and fourth.

"That's what we were hoping, that the high jump and pole vault were suppose to be our strongest events," Gosa said.

Unfortunately, hopes for a win in the pole vault were dashed when the returning state qualifier recently left the team. Kassie Legate did have a good day in the event, clearing 8-0 for sixth place.

Gregoriou claimed win No. 4 for the Indians, running a fine 50.56 in the 300 hurdles.

A second was contributed by Beine in the triple jump. The junior athlete went 31-04 in the event.

Liniewski, who was involved in three firsts, also added a third place in the 200, sprinting to the finish line in 28.47.

Gosa was also pleased with the four young runners on the 4x400 relay, including Heather Schmitt, Megan Thornton, Sarah McWilliams and Megan Ringwell, who combined for a 4:29.59, good for fourth.

Ringwell is just a freshman while McWilliams is a sophomore, and the other two runners are juniors.

Lacy Taylor came up with two places in the weights, a fifth in the shot (31-11.25) and a seventh in the discus (91-08), while Jessica Beaupre placed seventh in the 800 (2:37.78) and freshman Abby Backhaus ran a 13:05 in the 3,200, which was good for eighth. "That's her season best, and it's a couple minutes better than (any Indian ran) last year," Gosa said about Abby Backhaus. "It's a good start for her (career)."

Keller finished in a tie for seventh in the triple jump (27-08, while the 4x800 relay (Aly Backhaus, Steph Abramovich, Abby Backhaus and Sabrina Boehlke) placed sixth with a time of 11:55.44.

Track: First hurdle cleared

The Indians' Jessie Liniewski receives a baton from teammate Bryanna Keller during the 4x200 meter relay at the Division 2 regional meet in Ripon on Tuesday, May 26. The team stole the show with a first place 1:49.77 finish.

RIPON- The cream of the Indians' track teams definitely came to the top Tuesday evening in the Division 2 regional meet hosted by Ripon.

The Lady Indians (125 points), second behind only Mayville (142.75) in the battle for the team title, advance three relays and nine individuals in seven events to Friday's sectional meet while the boys have six athletes in four events, plus three relays, going on to Whitewater.

All athletes who finish in the top four move from regional to sectional, and the top four in the sectional earn berths in the State Track and Field Meet.

"We saw a lot of good efforts tonight," KHS coach Jerry Gosa said before boarding the bus and heading back to Kewaskum.

Senior Jessie Liniewski is right at the top of that "good effort" list, anchoring the 4x100 and 4x200-meter relays to solid victories. In the 4x200, Haley Gregoriou, Anna Butler, Bryanna Keller and Liniewski combined for a sizzling time of 1 minute, 49 and .77 seconds, which was their first time under 1:50 for the year.

Less than an hour later, the same group was clocked in 52.75 in the 4x100, just off the time they had in the EWC Meet.

Liniewski also placed second in the high jump after clearing 5 feet, 1 inch (5-1), and she finished third in the 200 in a very fast field.

Gregoriou was three for three on the day. In addition to being on the first-place relays, she took second in the 300 hurdles and will move on to Whitewater in that event.

One again, the Indians were very good in the high jump, sweeping the top three spots, much to the delight of jumping coach Jason Meinen. By clearing a personal-best 5-2 on her very first try, Amanda Witek won the event. Liniewski finished second, and Candace Beine third, going 4-10.

Beine was also good in the triple jump, moving up from fourth to second in the finals of the event.

Kewaskum got a third place from Lacy Taylor in the short; Abby Backhaus finished fourth in the 3,200, while Jessie Beaupre dropped four more seconds of her best 800 time to place fourth in the 800.

Keller also advances in the 100 where she finished fourth, and the 4x400 (Heather Schmitt, Megan Thornton, Sarah McWilliams and Megan Ringwell) relay moves on behind a fourth place.

KHS boys also have a good outing

The 86 points by the Indian boys put them in third place overall behind Mayville's 100, and way behind Ripon, which swamped the competition with 175 points.

Kewaskum's lone first was produced by senior Jake Dickmann, who cleared 13-3 again. After being perfect from 12 feet to 13-0, Dickmann missed on his first two tries at 13-3, then made the height on his third and final attempt.

Dickmann did not have as good a day in the high jump, clearing 5-8, but it was good enough for a fourth.

Relay runners Eric Turowski, Brandon Zolp, Nick Olla and Mat Toles finished second in the 4x100 and the 4x200. Ripon ran away with both relays, hitting a 44.19 in the shorter of the two.

Scott Steldt is advancing in two races, the open 400 where he ran a very smart race to take third, and he anchored the third-place 4x400 team. Others on this relay were Zolp, Zach Herriges and Lucas Kopeschka.

Turowski saved his best jump (38-07.25) for Turowski in the triple jump and moved up to third place.

Toles finished fourth in the 100 while freshman Joey Wollner cleared 10- in a jumpoff to claim the fourth spot in the pole vault.

"Friday will be a challenging night for everybody," Gosa said. "We'll have some real happy kids and some real sad kids."

Track: Dickmann, sprint relay, best of the EWC bunch

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

SHEBOYGAN FALLS- With its lack of numbers, the Kewaskum boys had no chance winning the Eastern Wisconsin Conference track and field title, but one of the Indians and its 4x100-meter relay team helped make one of the most exciting in years.

Senior Jake Dickmann won the pole vault and added a second and a third. He was definitely one of the top individuals in the meet, and Kiel, outscoring Two Rivers by one-half of a point, 146.5 to 146, with defending champion Plymouth right on their heels with 141.

The Indians may have played a role in determining the outcome because their 4x100 relay team finished just ahead of Two Rivers for first and running a time of 46 and .08 seconds (46.08) to 46.09 by the Raiders. Had the Raiders won, the two more points would have helped them surpass Kiel.

Kewaskum wound up fifth with 65.50 points, and Dickmann personally accounted for 24 of them.

"Jake and a kid from New Holstein (Ryan Birschbach) both went thirteen (13 feet), and then Jake cleared thirteen-three (13-3)," Coach Jerry Gosa said.

In the high jump, the lanky senior made 6-0 to lose by the closest of margins, one quarter of an inch, and in the long jump, his leap of 19-08.25 was 1.75 inches from the second spot. The relay, consisting of Eric Turowski, Nick Olla, Brandon Zolp (subbing for the injured Eric Perkins), and Mat Toles, had finished third in the 4x200, with a clocking of 1:36.36, in with the fast company of Kiel (1:34.91) and Two Rivers (1:35.04).

Jake Dickmann

A little pep talk from the coach helped them regroup and believe they could win the shorter race, and they did.

Gosa indicated the only glitch came between the No. 3 and 4 runners, but Toles was able to hang on for the win.

The 4x400 relay also had a good day, not able to take first, but running well enough to garner a third with a time of 3:34.58. In this event, it was Zolp, Lucas Kopeschka, Zach Herriges and Scott Steldt.

"They ran their fastest time," Gosa said, noting Herriges "ran phenomenal" to keep the lead, then after falling back a bit, Steldt "came back and battled the guy from Falls to keep the third."

Steldt also finished fourth in the 400 (53.61), while Toles placed fourth in the 100 (12.33) and Herriges, running his best time of the season, was fourth in the 800 (2:07.40).
