Village Public Works Committee gets updated on sign, water tower

By Mitch Maersch
For The Statesman

KEWASKUM- Kewaskum Kiwanis is interested in helping fix the village's dilapidating welcome sign along Highway 45 on the south side.

Public Works Director Jerry Gilles said he talked to incoming Kiwanis President Clark Pearson about possibly helping with the sign, as years ago the Kiwanis donated money for the original sign.

"He's very interested," Gilles told the Public Works and Public Services Committee Monday.

Trustee and committee member Kevin Scheunemann said a few Kiwanis members have already been talking about the sign.

When the sign was painted two years ago, "the wood came right off of the sign board," Gilles said at a committee meeting in early June, prompting the committee to examine funding options for fixing it.

The committee at that early June meeting agreed to move the sign and to keep its format and style, "partial to the historic current nature of the sign," said committee member and village president Andrew Pesch.

The village is trying to move the sign as well - farther south to the village limits. The village is now paying $100 a year to keep the sign on private land. A 10-year lease agreement was signed in 2005.

One of the sign's posts, however, is on the Eisenbahn Trail. The village had to get a permit from the county to keep it there. Gilles said getting a permit to put the entire sign on the trail is unlikely.

Gilles said he sent a letter to Dairyland Seed to see if the sign could sit on its property.

In other action the committee approved nearly $10,000 for eight change orders to the village's wastewater treatment plant upgrade project.

The committee refused to approve another change for nearly $10,300 for stainless steel swivel piping. The village will seek a lower bid for the job, said Gilles.

Another change order, to put on supports to the headworks building for $5,270, was recommended to be approved by the Village Board. Any change order estimated to cost $5,000 or more requires board approval.

The approved items include adding mowing strips at the clarifiers, stone at the headworks and U.V. buildings, adding a waterstop at the primary clarifier pump station, thicken the slab over the primary clarifier pump room, adding concrete sidewalk along the south side of the digesters, fill the RAS trough and pour sidewalk over it, raise low sections of the aeration tank walls.

The money will come from the project's contingency fund.

Village raises suspended

KEWASKUM- Like many communities across the state, the Village is tightening their belts in regards to spending. The latest cost saving measure affects nine village employees not represented by village union organizations. All but one had a one percent pay increase scheduled for July 1, cancelled at a June 25 Village Board meeting. The ninth, Administrator Matt Heiser had a 7.66% increase taken away.

Eight department heads received their annual pay increase of two percent, effective January 1, 2009. They were scheduled to receive a second one to 3.73 percent increase July 1. The increase and wage freezing does not affect those represented by the LAW or AFSCME union.

Crossing guards, library employees and seasonal employees received a straight two percent raise in July. Crossing guards receive $30.80 each day they work. Librarians receive anywhere from $8.33 to $9.57 depending on their years of service.

Village Administrator Matt Heiser, who began his employment with the village a year ago, has his salary frozen at his starting salary of $75,267.

Chief of Police Richard Knoebel, who became Chief in 1988, will receive a $64,480 salary. Department of Public Works Director Jerry Gilles who started with the village in 1991, will receive $65,125. Treasurer/Deputy Clerk Janet Knops, the longest serving department head, who began her employment in 1983, will receive $43,916. Police clerk Patty Blackstone, who started in 1999, will receive $24,687.

The village operates on a system where new hires receive "step increases" annually for the first five years of their employment in addition to normal increases. They receive these "step increases" based on their length of service on the anniversary of their hire. Those employees hired after June 25, will not receive their step increase this year.

Fire Chief Mark Groeschel, who started as Chief in 2006, had already received his step increase because he was hired January 3. In total, he received a two percent increase at

Aerial truck is 1860

In last week's edition we incorrectly stated the truck number of the Kewaskum Fire Department's new aerial ladder truck. The truck's correct number is 1860. We also were unable to print the photo above of the purchase committee due to space constraints. The committee worked for years on the purchase of the truck, everything from specifications, ordering and financing. The committee is shown above left to right: Fire Chief Mark Groeschel, Assistant Fire Chief Mark Herriges, Jeff Boden, Dave Kletti, Tom Herriges and Jeff Buechel. The truck will receive its ceremonial wet-down (baptism) during the department's 125th anniversary celebration on August, 1.

Police Chief reminds fireworks enthusiasts to be safe and legal

By Richard Knoebel
Chief of Police- Village of Kewaskum

With the Fourth of July approaching, the Kewaskum Police Department would like to review the laws dealing with fireworks and safety factors.

People often question what fireworks can we legally use in the Village of Kewaskum? The definition for legal fireworks is: Fireworks that stay put and just smoke or fizzle are OK. This includes sparklers, stationary cones and fountains, snakes, smoke bombs, caps, noisemakers or confetti poppers with less than a quarter grain of explosive mixture.

The definition for illegal fireworks is: Anything that explodes or leaves the ground-from Roman candles, fire-crackers, and bottle rockets, to streaming, booming fireworks displays. Although they can be purchased in Wisconsin they are not legal to use unless a permit is issued by the municipality that they are to be used in. Fireworks vendors cannot issue them and individuals cannot receive them. Anyone found in possession of using illegal fireworks in the Village of Kewaskum will be fined $121.60. According to Village ordinance, Section 62-4 Any person causing damage or fire while lighting fireworks will be held responsible.

Even when using legal fireworks safety must be practiced. Over 10,800 people were injured using fireworks in 2005. To prevent you or your children from becoming part of those statistics follow these safety tips:

Never allow children to handle, light or play with fireworks.

Read all instructions and warnings on fireworks labels.

Common sparklers burn at a temperature over 1000 degrees and are hot enough to melt metal.

Stick to what's legal without a permit.

Also be reminded that lighted fireworks of any kind are prohibited in the park during the fireworks display.

If we all follow these tips

we will have a safe and enjoyable Fourth of July.

WEST BEND WEEKLY

By Mitch Maersch
Statesman Correspondent

County Board piecing together master plan

WEST BEND- The Washington County Board will get its first look at a master plan for county land at its July 14 meeting.

The plan is designed to help the county expand its buildings in the right places and will essentially serve as a 2035 plan for county land and facilities, said Doug Johnson, county administrative coordinator.

"The county owns quite a bit of land, some of which is developed land like the new highway shop, but we also have grassy fields," he said.

For example, Johnson said, the Highway Department's building was in a different location and torn down and rebuilt near Amity. All equipment from the building is sitting in the land that used to be next to the Highway Department building, "and now it's a block away," Johnson said.

Consultants are also looking at the county's PAC building. Many of its departments have been reorganized since the building was constructed, and it may be remodeled to put people in better locations and increase efficiency, Johnson said.

The Executive Committee may recommend the PAC remodeling project be put in the county's capital plan, he said. The committee could finalize its recommendation at its July 21 meeting. The County Board could act on it at its September meeting.

No action will be taken at the July 14 meeting on the master plan.

"For the plan itself, all we're expecting is the board will receive the plan. It will be a guide for discussions on future topics," Johnson said.

Potter Lawson Architects of Madison was charged to create the plan.

UW-WC partnering with UW-Platteville

WEST BEND- The state didn't include funding for the University of Wisconsin-Washington County's four-year engineering degree program, so it's on to plan B for the time being.

UW-WC has partnered with UW-Platteville to offer four-year, electrical and mechanical engineering degrees slated to start this fall. Since funding for face-to-face classes wasn't included in the state budget, UW-WC has to make do until it gets the money.

"We're going to use distance technology," said Dean David Nixon.

He said this is new and improved distance technology, not like distance classes in the past. Lectures can be seen on students' computers at home, either live or taped, depending on when they log in.

"If you want to sign on to this class at two in the morning, you can do that," Nixon said.

Students may e-mail the professor questions or ask them in real time during live lectures.

The camera can move around and zoom in to see the professor, and it can zoom in to see what the professor is writing on the white board, Nixon said. The default screen will be a split between the professor and white board. Lectures are saved, like Podcasts, so students may watch them multiple times.

"It has its advantages. You can keep coming back to it," Nixon said.

Labs will be set up on a temporary basis. Professors will come in to administer the lab portions of the classes.

Engineering will remain an accredited degree, Nixon said. The distance technology portion is 95 percent of what the school is looking for.

Diverting money at UW-WC to fund the program wasn't an option.

"We'd have to close something else down. We're really reduced to a zero sum game," Nixon said.

Delaying the program was not an option, either.

"We have a commitment to the potential students and the businesses in the county," he said. "We as an institution have made a commitment to make this happen, and we're going to."

While Nixon understands times are tough "and the state budget has to reflect that," he said he has every reason to believe the program will be a high priority once the economy improves.

Fourth festivities

West Bend's Fourth of July festivities begin Saturday at 9:30 a.m. with the annual parade running from Badger Middle School to Regner Park.

A Fourth Family Parade Crazy Costume Contest will be held. First prize gets $50 and four theater tickets, second prize four theater tickets and third two theater tickets. Arrive at the staging area in front of Badger by 8:30 a.m. Pre-registration is not required.

Beginning at 10:30 a.m., Regner Park will give free root beer floats to those 12 and younger. At 11 a.m., the beach opens, and food, beverages and children's games will be available. At 11:30 is a marching band concert and announcement of parade contest awards.

The annual duck derby begins at noon, along with a karaoke contest. At 6 p.m., festivities at Riverside Park begin with food, beverages, desserts, and a DJ. The West Bend Dance Tumbling Troupe performs at 7 and 8 p.m. Fireworks, sponsored by Westbury Bank, begin at 9:30.

Operation Season's Greetings

KEWASKUM- It's been about six months since the Holidays and the last major mailing to the men and women serving our country overseas.

A lull in the number of care packages being sent has spearheaded a summertime United States Postal Service initiative called: Operation: Season's Greetings - Without the snow! This promotion partners the Postal Service and the USO, and is meant to boost morale of the men and women serving overseas. It's an easy way for families and friends to send care packages to the troops stationed overseas.

The Kewaskum Post Office received a supply of Mili-Kits and will be distributing them free of charge to local customers, as well as groups and organizations. The kits are designed specifically for military families sending packages overseas. Each kit includes six Priority Mail Flat Rate Boxes in a variety of sizes, six Priority Mail labels, one roll of Priority Mail tape and six customs forms with envelopes. The mailing kits can be ordered by calling 1-800-610-8734, option 1, and follow the prompts.

Anyone bringing a Mili-Kit Priority Mail Flat Rate package (or any other Priority Flat Rate Box) addressed to an APO/FPO on a scheduled "Snow Day" will be able to affix the official "Season's Greetings - Without the snow!" seal to their package. The "Snow Days" for the Kewaskum Post Office will be Tuesdays and Thursdays in July. Service organizations overseas will be watching for packages bearing the seal and directing them to Wisconsin and Upper Peninsula service men and women. The seals will only be affixed on "Snow Days" at the time of mailing.

Season's Greetings - Without the snow! only runs through July 31st.

"Care packages from home are a big morale boost for military service members stationed around the world," said Postmaster Monica Lepak. "With Priority Mail Flat Rate Boxes, you can lift spirits without weighing yourself down. If it fits, it ships for one low price."

Flat Rate Boxes are free, and can be obtained at the Kewaskum Post Office, or ordered online at www.usps.com.

Village raises suspended received a two percent increase at the beginning of the year and his 3.58 percent increase on January 3 (his hire date). His salary is set at $51,544.

Instead of a two percent raise at the start of 2009, Library Director Steve Baker, who began in 2000, received a 4.88 percent increase due to his "step increase." He is in the third year of his step increase because he was not included in the first five years of his employment with the village. His salary remains at $45,203.

Building/Zoning Administrator Chad Cook and Clerk/Deputy Treasurer Stephanie Justmann who both started in 2007, each received a two percent increase at the start of the year. However, because Cook was hired on July 16 and Justmann on September 10 they both lose their step increases. Cook's salary is $48,033 and Justmann's $39,632.

It is unknown if this is an attempt to avoid furloughs that are occurring at the state or if village employees also face that prospect.

60 years and Esser is still making sweet music for God

By Judy Harlow
For The Statesman

CAMPBELLSPORT—Many would look at nearly four decades of teaching music as a career, but for Sr. Jeanette Esser (Joan of Arc), more aptly it has been a vocation, one that began when she was a young girl at St. Matthew's Catholic School in Campbellsport and is still going strong today as she enters her 61st year as a member of the School Sisters of St. Francis.

"I had a music teacher (at St. Matthew's) I admired very much," Sr. Jeanette said earlier this week, indicating she first knew God was calling her to the religious life in "sixth or seventh grade."

And God is still directing her life in "retirement," including sing-a-long visits at Ivy Manor Senior Home in Campbellsport

Sr. Jeanette was born in Lomira, but when she was seven, the family moved to a farm near Campbellsport, "which made Roy (her brother) very happy." Roy Esser would later become a teacher and administrator at Kewaskum High School. He died in 2007.

Sr. Jeanette finished grade school at St. Matt's, then she left her home to join the convent in Milwaukee. "I was an aspirant for three years, then a postulant for several years before becoming a full-fledged nun."

Sr. Jeanette said her family was a bit surprised with her decision to join a religious order. "I think my dad gave me two weeks," she recalled, but the elder Esser would have to wait until his two younger daughters grew up to handle the baking chores Sr. Jeanette had once handled for the family. She stayed.

Sr. Jeanette Esser

"I was received on June 14, 1949," Sr. Jeanette said, reporting there were many moves to different schools in different dioceses since that day, and she enhanced her own education, obtaining a degree from Alverno College in Milwaukee.

Sr. Jeanette first taught music in the Diocese of Chicago, then in the Madison Diocese at St. Charles in Cassville, WI., St. Anthony and Philip School in Highland and later St. Francis Xavier in Cross Plains.

For the Rockford (Ill.) Diocese, Sr. Jeanette served as musician at St. John the Baptist School in McHenry, before coming to the Milwaukee Archdiocese at St. Patrick's, Beaver Dam, Holy Redeemer in Milwaukee, St. Sylvester in South Milwaukee, St. Mary's. Menomonee Falls and St. Monica, Whitefish Bay.

"I finished up (teaching) at St. Monica's," she said, but her ministry continued as she served in a pastoral position at Blessed Sacrament Church before being called back to Campbellsport in 1995 to be the musician at St. Joseph's Convent there. She served in that position until 2006, and, for 19 years.

Limbach recently earned her Bachelors Degree in Management and Communication from Concordia University, and was attracted to the Greater Leadership West Bend Program as an opportunity to further apply her education in a way that would give back to the community. She is an ac-

"That's when I retired," Sr. Jeanette said.

Retirement for nuns simply means they pare down their schedules a bit and help out where they can. For Sr. Jeanette, this means she provides sing-a-longs and music direction for the nuns at St. Joseph's and for Ivy Manor, and she also serves as the organist for the Methodist Church in Campbellsport.

That's right a Catholic nun serving a Methodist congregation. Sr. Jeanette is all in favor of Ecumenism. "Very much so," she said, pointing to the fact she is very active in an ecumenical association of parishes in the community.

"We (members of the association) do a lot of things together," she said, including the presentation of an annual Christmas concert.

And what does Sr. Jeanette see as the best part of being a nun? "Reaching out to people... ministering to God's people in many phases," she said emphatically, adding, "It has been very, very rewarding having some of my students become music teachers. I still stay in touch with some of them."

Fifteen sisters at St. Joseph's recently celebrated milestone anniversaries, on Saturday, June 20, 66 School Sisters of St. Francis were honored with a Mass and dinner at the St. Francis Convent on South Layton Blvd. in Milwaukee.

One of the honorees has been in the order for 85 years, according to Sr. Jeanette, who said she personally is happy with her decision to become a nun. "I can't complain. It's been fruitful."

Hallen receives high school diploma

Elmer Hallen, graduate

Elmer Hallen left Northbrook High School in Northbrook, IL, to enter the service of his country. He served for three years, first in the Tank Destroyers and then in the Amphibious Tractor Battalion unit of the Army. He served overseas for 18 months and received three purple hearts.

Upon returning to civilian life, Hallen married his high school sweetheart, Betty Schmidt, and began work as a carpenter apprentice. He never looked back at getting his high school diploma.

Recently many high schools have been offering diplomas to WWII veterans who left school early to serve their country. Hallen's wife contacted his old high school and worked with them to get Elmer's diploma for his 85th birthday.

Hallen officially graduated June 7, 2009. He has had a number of celebrations for his graduation and received many cards of congratulations. One from a grandson who asked what college he planned to attend now that he has his high school diploma.

Hallen has remarked that he didn't know it would mean that much to him to receive

Tanzanian drought brings urgency to 'Brick by Brick' efforts

KEWASKUM- A severe drought that has devastated the Arusha region of Tanzania, east Africa brings increased urgency to Brick by Brick for Tanzania!, Inc.'s current efforts to raise funds to build two preschools currently planned for this region. Massive crop failures of maize (corn) - the region's leading cereal grain - have left much of the country struggling to find sustenance with as many as 34,000 families without food in the Ngorongoro district alone.

District Commissioner, Jowika Kasunga called the situation, "...the worst in history." Humanitarian efforts from many international organizations are helping to air in supplies of grain, but it is not enough to sustain. With families in Tanzania averaging less than $300 USD income per year, the ability of commerce to help provide for food is minimal. Most Tanzanians traditionally rely on bartering of sustenance crops to get by.

John Kenworthy, Executive Director of Brick by Brick for Tanzania!, Inc. says that while efforts are well underway for new preschools in the King'ori district and the Young Roses School in rural Arusha, the tax exempt organization will ramp up its efforts in order to provide employment for struggling Tanzanian workers. "I have found that the generosity of Tanzanians is incredible. Even if a family has little, if a neighbor is hungry the meager portions will be shared without pause. If we can supplement that income - more families can eat. And it doesn't cost that much!" In Tanzania, a family can eat for approximately $3 USD a week.

"A good part of our expense for each preschool is labor," Kenworthy continued. "This translates directly into food for our brothers and sisters in need."

Brick by Brick has partnered with Capitol Drive Lutheran Church and the Milwaukee Lutheran School to raise funds for the King'ori School. A brickselling fundraiser at Kewaskum Middle School netted almost $500 USD toward the Young Roses School. Each preschool costs approximately $12,000 USD.

On August 20th, a fundraising concert featuring singer/songwriter A.J. Croce will be held at the Kewaskum Theatre with proceeds going to both schools. Additional donation opportunities are available through direct donations via PayPal at www.brickbybrickfortanzania.org or on the "Build the Young Roses School in rural Arusha" cause on Facebook. Kenworthy added that Brick by Brick is always looking for additional partners in its efforts and would welcome organizations, churches and schools to step up to help at this critical time.

Tickets for A.J. Croce and the 3rd Annual Brick by Brick for Tanzania! concert are available at a price of $10 and can be obtained at the Kewaskum High School, Geidel's Piggly Wiggly, Westbury Bank (Kewaskum branch), National City Bank (Kewaskum branch). All proceeds will go to Brick by Brick for Tanzania!, Inc. and the current preschool projects.

Brownies help out at Little Folks Schoolhouse

Twenty-one Brownie scouts from Farmington troops 8134 and 8119 visited Little Folks School House during spring break. The scouts divided up and headed into three different classrooms. Together with their troop leaders, Kris Hoeft and Jody Kaplar, they conducted egg hunts, did art projects, sang songs and read to the children. The little folks really enjoyed the brownie's visit.

Legion sends students to Badger State

Kewaskum High School is represented by four young men at Badger Boys State (BBS). The boys started with an orientation in May and on June 13, they left for Ripon College for eight challenging days of first-hand city, county and state government experiences. Their "city" became their home for the week but it also became part of their "county" which in turn made up their "state" of BBS. Activities ranged from sports to music which broke up their sessions and gave them time to relax. Shown above clockwise are: Dan Laska, Brad Wolf, Caleb Olla and Adam Murphy. They were sponsored by the American Legion, Robert G. Romaine Post 384, Kewaskum, Adell Post and Washington County American Legion.

LORRAINE (SCHWAMB) SCHILTER

It is with honor and grace that we remember the life of Lorraine Anna (Schwamb) Schilter, who entered into peace on June 25, 2009. She was 85 years old. Timelessly beautiful and cheerfully spunky, her smile and wink were the essence of her personality.

When asked what brought her solace during her final days, she responded "my grandchildren." We are a testament to her life and are proud to be so.

Born on September 12, 1923, Lorraine grew up in Hartford with her twelve siblings. She worked at Badger Meter for nine years, where she met her husband of 40 years, Richard Schilter. They were married on May 3, 1969. After their marriage, Lorraine moved in with Richard and his five children, ranging from age four to sixteen. The family lived in the town of Wayne, near Allenton. With her gentle strength, she raised them as her own.

Lorraine loved cooking and baking, and was known for her many requested specialties. A cookbook was created in her honor this past Christmas and was given to members of the family. In addition to cooking, she loved playing cards, dancing to polka, tending to her large garden, taking walks and listening to and watching sports, especially baseball and basketball. Her favorites were the Brewers, the "Cubbies," and the West Bend West baseball and basketball teams, for which her two grandsons have played.

She is preceded in death by her eleven siblings.

March 23, 1934

In a statewide mental ability examination taken by the seniors at the high school last December, the following students ranked commendably well: Earl Kohler, Robert Rosenheimer, Eleanor Hron, Gladys Schleif, and Beulah Buddenhagen. In a test similar to the one taken by the seniors, the following members of the sophomore class made commendable grades: Dorothy Backus, Viola Backus, Doris Mae Rosenheimer, Armand Mertz, Kilian Honeck, and Janice Koch.

A.G. Koch, Inc., Kewaskum, finished installing Robinson Feed Mill in their elevator on Railroad Street and are now ready to do all kinds of custom grinding. Mr. Lester Kohn will be in charge of the mill for the present.

The baseball meeting held at Joseph Eberle's was the largest ever held in the village. Officers elected for the newly organized Kewaskum Athletic Club include: President - Dr. L. Brauchle; Secretary - Elwyn Romaine; Treasurer - Arnold Martin; Board of Directors - Arthur Koch, Joseph Eberle, and William Guenther.

Baby girls were born to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ketter and Mr. and Mrs. John Diels, both of Wayne, on March 14.

March 30, 1934

The long waited news as to who is going to be the next Postmaster in the Village of Kewaskum was heralded last week when it was learned that Frank Hepe was the choice, his name having been recommended to the President by Congressman M.K. Reilly. In the race for the position besides Frank Hepe were George H. Schmidt and Hubert Wittman of Kewaskum, A.W. Potter, Principal of the Boltonville Graded Schools, and Al Wietor of Wayne.

Fabian "Abe" Gaffke, last year's star member of the pennant winning Kewaskum baseball club of the Badger State league, will receive a tryout as an outfielder with the Des Moines baseball club of the Western league. Gaffke was very popular among the fans and batted high in the league with a percentage of .385. His batting was one of the reasons Kewaskum was successful in capturing the pennant flag.

The Kewaskum Aluminum Company, installed a 35-ton toggle press in their plant. With this additional equipment, the company is now in a position to manufacture aluminum goods of every description.

The following children were confirmed at the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Beechwood last Sunday: Evangeline Krautkramer, Lucinda Staeger, Dorothy Haack, Florence Bleck, LaVern Harter, Arthur Backhaus, Elroy Lier-mann and Ralph Hintz.

April 6, 1934

Fire destroyed the old log barn of Henry Brandt in the Town of Wayne. The building is known to be one of the oldest, if not the oldest, barns in the county, having been erected about 75 years ago. The cause of the fire remains a mystery, although men were cutting cornstalks in the morning, using a gasoline engine for power.

The local forensics contests will be held in the school auditorium. The speakers are: Orations - Howard Schmidt, Marvin Koenig, Martin Gutekunst, Carl Kohlschmidt, and Herbert Hopkins; Humorous Declamation - Jeanette Krautkramer, Florence Westerman, and Iris Bartelt; Non-Humorous Declamations - Doris Seil, Ruth Janssen, Lucille Romaine, Janice Koch and Ruth Mary Fleischman; Extemporaneous Reading - Eleanor Hron; Extemporaneous Speaking - Robert Rosenheimer.

Alpha Kappi Psi, international commerce fraternity at Marquette University in Milwaukee, has announced the formal initiation of Othmar Bonlender, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bonlender, who reside near St. Kilian.

Village officials entered into an agreement with the Wisconsin Gas and Electric Light Company to install two transformers at the local power plant. The cost of the same to the village will be $900, which are to be made monthly. It is expected that the saving to the village for electric power will be approximately $500 per year.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Keller, of Kewaskum, on Easter Sunday, April 1.

April 13, 1934

John Witzig, administrator for the late Fred E. Witzig estate, consummated a deal whereby the fixtures and supplies of his brother's barber shop on East Water Street near the bridge were sold to Al Wietor of Wayne. Possession will be given Mr. Wietor on April 16.

The voters of the Mullen School District, located eight miles west of Kewaskum, have authorized the school district to replace their school building which was destroyed by fire last February. The new brick building has been planned economically but will provide all of the required facilities. Special efforts have been made to reduce fire hazards. An adequate heating system, electric lighting and inside toilets are included.

The Orchard Grove Dramatic Club will present the play, "Hands Up," at the St. Michael Church Hall. The cast of

A three-act comedy, "In Cherry Time," will be presented by the choir of Immanuel's Church, Town of Scott, in Firemen's Hall, Batavia. The cast includes: Mrs. Elvie Staeger, Helen Rosenthal, Veila Staeger, Frona Garbisch, Ruth Bleck, Mrs. Erwin Krautkramer, Edward Waech, Edward Engelmann, Alvin Brandenburg, Rueben Vetter and Erhardt Klug.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Krahn, Beechwood, on April 8.

April 20, 1934

The local school was awarded two first places in the league forensic contest held in Campbellsport. First place in Extemporaneous Speaking was awarded to Robert Rosenheimer while Florence Westerman received first honors in Humorous Declamations.

The grades of the graduating class of the grammar room in the Kewaskum School were averaged. In this the ranking from the first to the eight grades, inclusive, were considered. Following are the ranks: Charlotte Romaine, first, 90.6 percent; Patricia Buss, second, 90.4 percent; Margaret Muenk and Mona Mertes were tied for third place with a standing of 89.4 percent.

April 27, 1934

Work was started whereby the Kewaskum Creamery plant will be made considerably larger. A new building, one story high, 40 by 52 feet, will be erected on the company's property. It is expected that the new building will be ready for occupancy in about six weeks. Enlarging the plant was necessary because of the large demand for cottage cheese and other package goods. When the new addition is completed, the company will be in a position to increase their output in an unlimited way. There are now on the waiting list a large number of farmers who either want to haul their milk or have it hauled to the creamery. The Kewaskum Creamery has had the reputation of paying good prices to the farmers, but their taking in of milk was limited on account of the strict rules laid down by the Chicago Board of Health, as most of the milk received was shipped to that city. The new unit will be a complete unit by itself of which the Chicago Board of Health will have no jurisdiction. As the supply of milk received, will increase additional help will be employed. Mr. Quande, superintendent of the plant, has perfected a new kind of cheese, "a quality cheese of its own class," that should create a large demand when once placed on the market. The Kewaskum Creamery has for years been a very successful institution.

In the Primary Room of the Kewaskum School, Allen Bruessel, Lloyd Etta, Donald Koerble, Lavern Ramthun, Beatrice Vorpahl, Allen Tessar, Gladys Holzmann, Rachael

Brauchle, Marion Ramthun, James Keller, Lyle Manthei and Donald Mertes had a perfect attendance record the past six weeks. Lavern Ramthun, Rachael Brauchle, Lois Koch, Marion Ramthun and Lillian Werner were the leaders in the good conduct race.

Those who were neither absent nor tardy in the Intermediate Room of the Kewaskum School the past six weeks were: Deane Backus, Willard Manthei, Delores Ramthun, Malinda Schmidt, Harriet Backhaus, Gertrude Holzmann, Roger Stahl, LaVerne Terlinden, Ray Vyvan, Belinda Backhaus, Ida Backus, Harold Bunkelman, Alfred Holzmann, Lorraine Honeck, Shirley Manthei and Wayland Tessar. Winners in the deportment contest were: Delores Ramthun, Evelyn Weddig, Irene Backhaus, Lorraine Honeck, Mary Kleinschay, and Homer Schaub. The honor roll consists of Erhardt Schultz, Alfred Holzmann, Patti Brauchle, Lorraine Honeck and Wayland Tessar.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Prost of the Town of Kewaskum were made the happy parents of a baby girl last week Thursday.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of JEFF DONNELLY, who passed away nine years ago:

What would we give his hand to clasp,
His patient face to see,
To hear his voice, to see his smile
As in the days that used to be.

But some sweet day we'll meet again
Beyond the toil and strife,
And clasp each other's hand once more
In Heaven, that happy life.

Sadly missed by his family and friends

Conference wins continue for the Indians as they met conference foes from Plymouth, Kiel and Sheboygan Falls this past week. Their only conference loss so far to last year's EWC champs, New Holstein.

Kewaskum Kiwanis Park

With one of their starting seniors Cody Seibel missing to attend Bager Football Camp, the Indians claimed a narrow conference win at the end.

A one-two-three first inning got the Indians quickly batting. Bo Seibel wasted no time in firing out a homerun to left field getting the Indians on the board. The fire quickly cooled as hits resulted in outs for Brandon Zolp, Nick Olla and Brian Backhaus.

Olla and Freshman third baseman Tony Gonring, quickly wrapped up the top of the second after Olla struck out Plymouth's Justin Rooker and Gonring fielded two Plymouth hits, a line drive and a grounder, that made it to first before the hitters did.

Batting in the second Josh Harbin started things off with a single, putting Cody Lemke on first. He then found second on a sac bunt by Cody Nuernberg and slid into third on a sac fly by Brad Boegel. Coach Doug Gonring calling the slide "perfect." Steve Chapman found first by means of a walk. This led to a Steve Kudek out denying Lemke the run.

The Panther's first single of the game came after a fly to Zolp from Trevor Thiel and put Jake Klemme on the bag. Klemme made it to second after a strikeout. Anthony Simgnovski. Another single put Zack Suchan at first. Nuernberg ended the inning fielding a fly from Ryan Klecka.

Zolp provided the only action in the bottom of the third cracking a double to right field.

The Panthers came ahead in the fourth after Greg Rhode and Ian Murray scored bringing the score 1-2.

The Panthers continued their attack in the sixth after Klecka scored on a Rathork double that also put Rooker in scoring position who eventually scored on a Murray single.

The Indians came back with an attack of their own in the bottom of the inning. Backhaus was walked to first and advanced to second after Harbin was hit by a pitch and put on first. Nuernberg slugged out a double allowing Backhaus to score.

The Indians held the Panthers in the top of seventh after starting out the inning walking Klemme and allowing a single for Murray. Klemme got in scoring position on a sac bunt by Suchan but Olla on the mound quickly threw to strike outs and ended the inning.

Knowing it was do or die the Indians got the bags loaded and brought Lemke home on a sac fly by Backhaus that also made Seibel ready to score. Mike Schladweiler answered the call and sent a ball to the fence allowing himself, Seibel and Olla to score and end the game.

Gonring says the team continues to polish their play and put things together.

Game one
Tuesday, June 23
Kewaskum Kiwanis Park

Cody Nuernberg pitched

the entire first game for the Indians. He kept Kiel scoreless until the fifth inning.

The Indians started out well, scoring two runs in their half of the inning. Brandon Zolp hit a single and Bo Seibel followed with a walk. Zolp and Seibel were each able to eventually score. Olla walked, and the inning came to a quick end as the next three batters earned outs. The Indians ended up with a 2-0 lead.

The second for the Indians saw two more runs. Boegel hit a single, and Chapman and Kudek earned the first two outs. Zolp took first with help from an error by the Kiel left fielder. He then stole second and came home on a hit by Seibel. The Indians led 4-0.

The third saw the Indians end with a 8-0 lead. The inning was plagued by wild pitches. Herriges took first with help from an error and was able to advance to second on a wild pitch. Boegel hit a single and made his way around the bags, making it home on yet another wild pitch. Kiel's Cody Retlich came in to relieve Scheller and end the inning.

Kiel scored their first of two runs in the fifth inning. The only other run came in the seventh.

The Indians went on to score one more run in the sixth inning with a double by Seibel. He reached third and eventually home on errors.

Nuernberg was the winning pitcher. He had 12 strikeouts, one walk and allowed six hits.

Kewaskum 6, Kiel 0
Game two
Tuesday, June 23
Kewaskum Kiwanis Park

Brad Boegel was the starting pitcher for the Indians in game two. He began the game well with a strike out, and continued pitching well until he was replaced by Mike Schladweiler in the fifth. Boegel and Schladweiler worked together to keep the game scoreless for Kiel.

Zolp started off with a base hit and Seibel followed with a walk. Seibel was able to take second on a wild pitch and score on an Olla double. The Indians ended the inning with a 1-0 lead.

The second inning saw two more runs for the Indians as Cody Lemke hit a single, stole second and then scored on a hit by Brandon Zolp. Steve Kudek took first with help from a wild pitch and made his made around the bags to give the Indians a 3-0 lead.

Olla, Backhaus and Josh Harbin tallied three more runs for the team in the third.

The Indians earned their final run in the fifth when Herriges hit a single, took second on an error, reached third on a wild pitch and came home on a hit by Zolp.

Boegel took the win for the Indians with seven strikeouts, two walks and one hit. Schladweiler tallied two strikeouts, no walks and one hit.

Kewaskum 4, Sheboygan Falls 3
Friday, June 26
Kewaskum Kiwanis Park

The first inning for Sheboygan Falls ended quickly with a strikeout, a walk and two caught flies.

Seibel was the first to make it on base with help from an error. Backhaus followed with another single. B. Seibel earned another single. Backhaus and B. Seibel were each able to advance on an error, and Cody Seibel was able to score. The inning ended with a Harbin fly.

The second inning began with a single and a strike out. Sheboygan Fall's Travis Christensen was picked out when he tried to steal second. Fall's Justin Laack took first on a wild pitch and the inning ended when Zak Van Egen was thrown out leading off from second.

The Sheboygan Falls half of the third inning saw Indian catcher Harbin make an amazing out when he caught a pop fly and ended up rolling in the dirt while hanging on to the ball.

The Falcons tallied their first run in the fourth inning, tying the game 1-1.

The top of the fifth saw three up, three down for the Falcons. Boegel came in to relieve Olla and started off with a strikeout. The next out was an amazing over the fence catch by first baseman Cody Seibel. The inning ended with a throw out at first.

The Indians were finally able to take the lead in the bottom of the fifth. Brad Boegel started off with a single and Zolp followed with one as well. Boegel reached third and Zolp reached second on an error. Seibel came in was purposely walked, loading the bases. The plan backfired for the Falcons though as Backhaus was walked, allowing Boegel to score. With one out Josh Harbin came up to the plate and hit, allowing Cody Seibel to score, giving the Indians a 4-1 lead.

The seventh inning saw a dramatic ending to the game. Boegel started the inning, but was eventually replaced by C. Seibel. Seibel threw one pitch, which was missed by the catcher. Seibel then ran to cover home where the Falcons' Andrew Endsley was trying to earn a run. After sliding into home, Seibel lost track of the ball and believed it was under Endsley. It was believed Endsley thought Seibel was ruffing him up so he retaliated and a shoving match ensued, and ump's threw both Seibel and Endsley out of the game. The run counted though, turning the game to 4-3. Gonring quickly rearranged his outfield and put Olla came back in to close out the game.

In addition to ejecting Seibel from the game, officials suspended Seibel from his next game which was to be held on Monday against New Holstein.

Winning pitcher was Nick Olla and Boegel was credited with the save.

At the end of the game the Indians were second in the conference, boasting a 10-1 record.
