Farmington seeking legal opinion on necessity of permit for Dyno Tuning

By Mitch Maersch
For The Statesman

TOWN OF FARMINGTON- The Town Board is seeking a legal opinion on whether or not a local auto tuning business needs a conditional use permit and advises residents to contact a board member when the noise from the shop gets too loud.

At their monthly board meeting, one couple presented a petition requesting the board do something about the noise from West Bend Dyno Tuning at 8450 Trading Post Trail. Donald and Terrilee Zimdars live across the street from the business and claim the noise, especially late at night and into the wee hours of the morning, has been unbearable. Nineteen people from 12 addresses signed the petition.

The Zimdars said they contacted business owner Brad Riekkoff both verbally and through written communication, contacted Town Chairman Gary Schreiber and the county sheriff's department.

"It hasn't gotten better," said Don Zimdars.

Riekkoff said his hours are from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10-5 on Saturday and by appointments on Sunday. He said he tries to shut down the dyno - the biggest noisemaker, before 10. He said the sheriff's department said he could be open from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. and said he is willing to shut down the dyno earlier.

"He's just got a personal vendetta against me since I built the house there," Riekkoff said of Don Zimdars. Whether or not the shop's doors are closed is a major element in the noise control. Riekkoff claims the doors are closed when the dyno is running. Terrilee said she has video of the shop running with its doors open at 2:40 a.m. She also complained about cars revving their engines as they leave Riekkoff's property.

Neighbor Chris Elbe who runs a farm said his workers can't sleep due to the noise. He said the business would need a conditional use permit according to the town. Riekkoff claims it doesn't.

The Town Board said it would check with its attorney on the issue.

"I'm not satisfied he needs a conditional use," Schreiber said.

About 20 residents came to the meeting to argue for or against the business. Some said the noise is not

Fire Dept. to celebrate 125th Saturday

New ladder truck to be Christened

By Andrew Kuehl

KEWASKUM- The Fire Department will celebrate 125 years of service to the community on Saturday, August 1. They'll do it in grand style as they begin the festivities by "christening" their newest piece of equipment, aerial ladder truck 1860.

The community is encouraged to attend both the christening, more often referred to as a "wet down" of ladder truck 1860 at 1 p.m. at the former Regal Ware office parking lot off Second Street.

Fire Departments from the surrounding area will take place in the wet down ceremony hosted by neighboring Boltonville Fire Department.

A typical wet down ceremony begins with a procession of the new truck, purchase committee and an honor guard. On Saturday, ladder truck 1860 will start at the Village Hall parking lot escorted by the Campbellsport Fire Department Honor Guard and arrive at the wet down location.

The ceremony will begin with a blessing performed by Father Ed Kornath of Holy Trinity Church. The purchase committee will then "baptize" the truck with champagne. The last part of the ceremony will see neighboring departments line up a truck from their fleet and spray a cascade of water onto the new truck and the truck's purchasing committee. While spraying the committee and the truck the departments involved will activate their lights and sirens.

Once complete, a procession led

Kewaskum gets tornado warning, sans tornado

Kewaskum's weather warning sounded Monday night just before 7 p.m. about ten minutes after the National Weather Service issued a tornado warning for the area. There were no reported touch downs however wind, especially in the Town of Wayne, was quite strong. Jason Fideler of West Bend captured this cloud scene just outside the village during the warning. Tarp rules possible for '10 fireworks

KEWASKUM- The village is considering not allowing tarps to be put down on the hill to watch the annual July 3 fireworks until 24 to 48 hours before the show.

Tarps were removed this year, but Kewaskum Fire Chief Mark Groeschel told the Village Board on Monday his department didn't do it.

Some tarps were put down as early as Sunday for the Friday night show.

Police Chief Richard Knoebel suggested not allowing putting down tarps until 24 or 48 hours before the show. Signs could be posted explaining the rule.

If the rule is violated and the tarps are taken, Village President Andrew Pesch said he would like to allow people to identify their tarps and get them back.

The board did not take action and agreed to discuss the issue at the next Village Board meeting.

Midwest organic farmers convene at Dobberphul farm

Town of Farmington farmer Tim Dobberphul explains some of his pasture management techniques to a group of 40 people at organic farm field day on Monday. Dobberphul went organic several years ago and became certified to make more money on his milk.

For the Statesman

TOWN of FARMINGTON - For Tim Dobberphul, the switch to organic farming wasn't difficult but it was much more profitable.

The longtime farmer whose grandfather began an operation in 1925 and moved to the present location on the corner of Boltonville Road and Highway H in 1952 already rarely used sprays. He easily transitioned to full organic and became certified in organic farming four years ago.

"It's the economics of it. I had to get paid more for my milk," Dobberphul told a crowd of about 40 at last Monday's organic farm field day sponsored by Midwest Organic and Sustainable Education Service (MOSES) with help from Horizon Organic.

He used to average 70 to 80 pounds of milk per cow, but Dobberphul noticed everyone was making money - the vet, feed mills, etc. - but him.

Getting certified meant making more money. "It just made sense to get certified," he said.

Now, Dobberphul gets 45 pounds per cow but other costs are way down.

"All we ever see the vet for now is breach birth," he said. "We never have sick cows."

Pregnancy rates are up, mastitis is not a problem and he doesn't cull cows anymore.

Dobberphul credits his wife, Melissa, for her gift in tending to calves. He has two young boys and while his dad at 72 still milks every day, Dobberphul basically is a one-man show working his 90 acres and milking 75 cows.

Organic farming experts were on hand to explain some tricks of the trade to organic farming.

Rhonda Gildersleeve of the UW Extension holds a newly created position called grazing specialist. She explained cows' grazing habits and how understanding them can be a key to success.

"Cows were made to eat on the go, go somewhere else to get away from a lion, rest and chew cud," she said.

Cows need to rest for as much time as they graze in order to properly digest their food, she said.

Cows need a consistent diet and plenty of water easily accessible. Cow herds, she said, have a pecking order, like to stay on straight and narrow paths and graze together.

"The herd that grazes together stays together," she said.

Laura Paine, organic grazing and agriculture specialist with the state's Department of Agriculture, discussed how to maximize milk output by managing the pasture.

"Management is going to make the biggest difference in your yield," she said.

The first step, she said, is to put in fence posts and start managing.

Manure is the land's main source of fertility, she said, and in well laid-out pastures every square foot of space receives a dose of manure every few years.

Water should be no more than 500 feet away to prevent manure from being dumped all in one place.

Planting depends on the soil type, and multiple types can be found on any one farm, she said.

The Department of Agriculture, through federal funds, covers up to 75 percent of certification costs of $750 per operation.

For more information, go to MOSES Web site at <http://www.mosesorganic.org>.

Village ready for County radio switch

Washington County's grant for its new radio system covers police and fire, but not public works vehicles, Kewaskum Police Chief told the Village Board last week.

By 2013, the village will have to foot the cost of putting radios in its public works vehicles.

Knoebel suggested portable radios that can be moved from vehicle to vehicle. Those cost $2,000 each compared to $5,000 for non-portable versions.

"There's going to be an expense with this in three years," Knoebel said.

Village loses $21k in state money

The on-time state budget includes a dent in shared revenue, and Kewaskum is no exception.

The village will receive $21,846 less next year in shared revenue, Village Administrator Mathew Heiser told the Village Board Monday night.

Village Board ok's $16k of changes to treatment plant

The Village Board approved more than $16,000 of change orders to the wastewater treatment plant upgrade on last week.

One of the three approved costs $10,294 for stainless steel swivel piping. Public Works Director Jerry Gilles had gotten a second estimate because the cost looked high, but that came in within $69 so the price was deemed acceptable.

Another was for $5,270 for supports to the headworks building, and the other was for $1,147 to add wiring to the secondary scum floats.

The project is nearing completion, with only the primary clarifiers left to be built, Gilles said.

WEST BEND WEEKLY

By Mitch Maersch
Statesman Correspondent

Red Cross searches for new director

WEST BEND- The Washington County Chapter of the American Red Cross is reassessing itself as it searches for a new executive director.

After Betsy Hanson abruptly resigned July 1, the board is taking a look at what kind of functions the chapter will perform in the future and how that relates to the Milwaukee chapter, said Jim Vest, chairman of the American Red Cross in West Bend and West Bend fire chief.

"What we're doing is looking at forming a transforming committee," he said.

The board is developing a plan to "meet core Red Cross functions," he said.

One example is switching the medical transport program from the Red Cross to the Interfaith Caregivers of Washington County. Vest said the transport program didn't fit the Red Cross' mission.

Changes in structure have recently occurred and more are on the way, Vest said. A year ago, the chapter's coverage area covered the northern half of Washington County. Now, it covers the entire county.

The board is working with the Milwaukee chapter on developing a plan to meet the Red Cross' functions, he said. That will determine the role of the new director.

"We're very lucky in that the people who are working for the Red Cross have been able to take over and keep it running right now," Vest said.

Vest said the board wants to hire a new director as soon as possible, and will be able to focus more on the process after this week's Real Heroes awards dinner. He said the two office employees at the chapter and volunteers have been doing a great job and he doesn't want to lean on them too much.

Relay for Life Friday, Saturday

West Bend's annual American Cancer Society Relay For Life event is set for Friday and Saturday at Badger Middle School.

This year's theme is gift of hope, Christmas in July.

Friday is Cousins' Donation Day. Ten percent of sales at Cousins' on Paradise Drive from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. go to Relay.

This year, the American Cancer Society is letting people participate in a new study, the Cancer Prevention Study-3 (CPS-3). The long-term study will help researchers better identify the lifestyle, environmental and genetic factors that cause or prevent cancer.

Men and women ages 30 to 65 with no personal history of cancer are eligible. The goal is to draw 500,000 adults from various racial and ethnical backgrounds across the country.

For more information about CPS-3 and the selected enrollment locations, email cps3@cancer.org or call toll-free 1-888-604-5888.

City re-opens 18th Avenue

WEST BEND- The hallelujah chorus you hear coming from vehicles' windows is the celebration of the re-opening of one of the city's only north-south arteries last week.

18th Avenue had been closed for construction from Chestnut south to Oak. The road is still not accessible from Chestnut and Oak, but those should open up in the next two weeks, said David Wronski, civil engineer for West Bend. For now, north-south travelers are back on the straight and narrow.

"They're glad at least they can get through," Wronski said.

The project includes replacing all the water mains with plastic pipe due to soil corrosion, repairing sanitary sewers, replacing all catch basins, cutting out grounds unsupportable for a road and putting in suitable material, and topped it all off with a fresh sheet of concrete.

Crews are two weeks ahead of schedule, thanks to the dry weather, and under budget, Wronski said. The project is slated to cost $825,000.

"We still haven't finalized all dollar amounts, but it looks like we should be underneath that," he said.

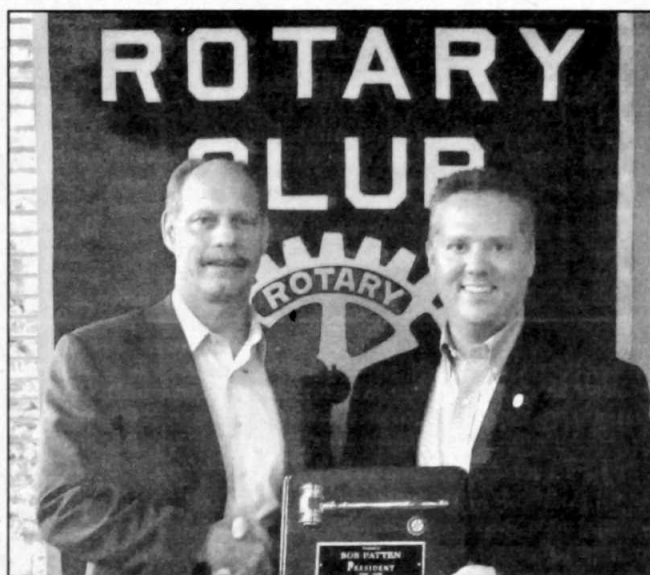

Traffic has mostly been cooperative, but Wronski said some people have tried to move barricades and get around the construction, and a motorcycle drove through wet concrete.

"It would be nice if we got a little more compliance," he said.

Sanitary sewer work continues on South Main Street from Decorah to Poplar. The road is open to local traffic but Wronski doesn't recommend trying to get all the way through.

Traffic isn't out of the woods yet as the reconstruction of Veterans Avenue is slated to start soon.

Pennington to sign new book

Join author Rochelle Pennington at the West Bend Community Library on Tuesday, August 4 at 7:00 p.m. where she will introduce her newly-released title, Believe in Yourself, with a slide presentation and book signing. The book is a rich collection of wit, wisdom, and practical advice from those who reached their goals despite adversities of the most serious kind.

It is Rochelle's hope that the program will be "spirit bolstering" for anyone who is facing a struggle in today's challenging world. The true stories she will share are meant to encourage each of us to keep putting one foot in front of the other as we move fearlessly forward in life. Come and be inspired by real people who overcame extreme obstacles—from Presidents to inventors.

Organized into seven sections with titles like "Believe in the Greatness Within You" and "Choose an Attitude of Altitude," this wonderful volume is an inspirational addition to anyone's personal library and makes an exceptional gift for both young people who are starting out in life and older folks who need encouragement along the way.

Among the hundreds of insightful maxims, and slightly longer bits on these pages, you'll find advice from Biblical writers, business entrepreneurs, scholars, and teachers.

Pennington is also scheduled to visit Fireside Books, 1331 W. Paradise Drive in West Bend, on Thursday, August 6 at 6:30 p.m. for the same presentation. Dennis Uhling of Fireside Books, a frequent attendee of Pennington's programs, said, "Rochelle is one of the most inspirational writers and speakers you'll meet anywhere."

Pennington has authored eight titles including Highlighted in Yellow, available in four languages, An Old-Fashioned Christmas, The Endurance, and The Historic Christmas Tree Ship, as featured on television.

Pennington's new column, A Look at Life, will be featured in The Statesman beginning August 13.

Tuttle Creek sends soldiers supplies

For the past two weeks Tuttle Creek Learning Center had been collecting supplies to send to soldiers working hard to protect our country. All of the donations came in response to the Mili-Kits that were received from the United States Postal Service. The letter enclosed asked for travel size items that would be easily carried and stored. The parents responded with bags full of helpful items. In addition the three and four year olds made a picture to send with the supplies. One of the children said that their picture was really a map leading the soldier home. Thank-you to all the families who supported Operation Season's Greetings!

Badger Girls State representatives

Elissa Miller

Erika Heberer

Badger Girls State is an important part of the American Legion Auxiliary's Americanism program. Designed to train future stateswomen in the science of government, Wisconsin launched Badger Girls State in 1941 with 138 citizens participating.

The program has grown to over 700 participants yearly and continues to be a major project of the Department of Wisconsin's American Legion Auxiliary.

This year's Badger Girls State session was held at the University of Wisconsin - Oshkosh, June 21 - 26, 2009.

The Kewaskum American Legion Auxiliary and Kiwanis have each sponsored a girl from Kewaskum High School. Elissa Miller, daughter of Mike and Mary Miller, and Erika Heberer, daughter of Randy and Janet Heberer were selected by Kewaskum High School faculty based on their leadership, character, and citizenship.

Craig attending business program

Over 130 Wisconsin students will participate in this year's program on the UW-La Crosse campus from July 26 - 29. Celebrating its 28th anniversary, Business World provides hands-on business experience for students and teaches them about the challenges facing business. The program is sponsored, developed and delivered by the business community of Wisconsin, and since its inception, has educated over 13,100 high school students from across the state.

This year, four students from Washington County will be in attendance: Tyler Craig, Kewaskum High School; Dana Schumm, Hartford Union High School; Danielle Wiedemeyer, Hartford Union High School; Jenny Sutcliffe, Slinger High School.

Student participants are divided into teams of 10-12, who function as an imaginary "company" for the program. With the task of turning their company into a financial success, they will create a unique product, develop marketing strategies and design a commercial. In addition, students interact with guest speakers, tour local companies and compete in an online business simulation.

The hands-on activities focus on career preparation and workplace skills for success. The program also includes workshops, interesting speakers, and tours, allowing the students to explore career and education options available here in Wisconsin. It is an opportunity that will enable students to prepare for their future in an increasingly competitive global marketplace.

This program in La Crosse is the second of two Business World programs being held this summer. More than 100 students attended the first session June 28 - July 1 at Edgewood College in Madison.

Business World is a program sponsored, developed and produced by the WMC Foundation, the division of Wisconsin Manufacturers & Commerce which is dedicated to enhancing the competitiveness of our state through activities and services related to the development of Wisconsin's workforce, the recognition of best practices and accomplishments throughout our state's business community, the promotion of safety at home and at the workplace and the enhancement of the roles played by Wisconsin's chambers of commerce. Visit www.wibusinesworld.org for more information.

Regents freeze UWWC tuition for third year

MADISON - The University of Wisconsin System Board of Regents approved an annual operating budget and set tuition rates for the 2009-10 academic year at its July meeting in Madison on Thursday.

UW System President Kevin P. Reilly's budget will freeze tuition for the third consecutive year for 12,735 resident students enrolled at 13 freshman-sophomore UW Colleges washington including UW-Washington County (UW-WC).

"Maintaining tuition at 2006 rates for the 2009-2010 academic year means that the UW Colleges will continue to be the most affordable access point for anyone who wants to start, continue or complete a degree," said UW Colleges and UW-Extension Chancellor David Wilson, who has spearheaded the push to keep the UW Colleges affordable, especially in these challenging economic times.

With this tuition freeze, UW-WC will maintain its long-held reputation as an affordable choice for incoming students of all ages who can then complete a baccalaureate degree at UW-WC or at any four-year UW campus.

The tuition for two semesters at UW-WC will remain at $4,268 for 2009-10. This is approximately $1,100 less than the four-year comprehensive campuses, $2,600 less than at UW-Milwaukee and $3,000 less than the tuition at UW-Madison.

According to UW-WC Dean, David Nixon, "UW-Washington County continues to provide a quality and affordable college experience for area students. In addition to saving substantially on tuition costs, statistics have shown that students who begin their education at UW-WC (or one of the other 2-year UW campuses), have higher graduation rates than those who begin their studies at a 4-year campus. The small class size and experienced faculty (not teaching assistants) provide the solid foundation needed for students to complete a baccalaureate degree."

UW-WC is still accepting applications for the fall semester. Contact the Student Services Office at 262-335-5201 for more information or apply online at www.washington.uwc.edu

Moraine Park announces board member appointments

The Moraine Park Technical College District Board held its annual organizational meeting on Monday, July 13. At that meeting, the following board members were elected to serve as officers for the 2009-10 fiscal year: Shirley Kitchen, chair; Jodine Deppisch, vice-chair; Vernon Jung, treasurer; and Philip Baranowski, secretary.

The membership of the Finance Committee for 2009-10 was also determined. Philip Baranowski will serve as committee chair, and Jodine Deppisch, Vernon Jung, Shirley Kitchen, Mike Miller, Robb Steiner and Richard Zimman will serve as committee members.

New employee member Robb Steiner of West Bend was sworn in during the meeting, along with Jodine Deppisch and Richard Zimman who are each beginning another three-year term on the board.

In addition to the Moraine Park positions, appointments were made for the district's representatives on the Wisconsin Technical College System District Boards Association committees. Phil Baranowski will serve as Moraine Park's delegate to the association's board of directors. Other appointees include Mike Miller, Legislative Committee; Shirley Kitchen, Human Resources Committee; Richard Zimman, Program Committee; Lisa Mader, Marketing/Public Relations and Awards Committee; Vernon Jung, In-terdistrict/Interagency Cooperation Committee, and Jodine Deppisch, alternate; and Phil Baranowski, Bylaws, Policies and Procedures Committee, and Robb Steiner, alternate.

Moraine Park Technical College instructors are industry-experienced, making them uniquely qualified to bring the future to you. With campuses in Beaver Dam, Fond du Lac and West Bend, Moraine Park is one of 16 colleges that make up Wisconsin's technical colleges. Moraine Park offers more than 100 degrees, technical diplomas, apprenticeships and certificates delivered in a variety of formats — classroom, online and blended. Training and technical assistance for businesses are also offered. For more information about Moraine Park, visit www.morainepark.edu.

This year marks 40 years of business and pleasure for fair's 4-H livestock auction

Local businesses, Kewaskum Frozen Foods and West Bend Elevator have purchased each year

Richie Thiemer of the Kewaskum 4-Hers is shown on the auction stand with his blue ribbon hog. Strobel Oil & Propane of Kewaskum purchased the animal for $3.50 per pound.

Joyce Gonring of West Bend Elevator bids on the Golden Gallon of milk during the auction held Thursday evening of the fair. West Bend Elevator won the auction, paying $1,200. The Golden Gallon represents the milk from the Grand Champion Cow at the 2009 fair. Gonring received a "Score With Dairy Basket" that included a Green Bay Packers autographed football along with items from the Brewers and Badgers. An engraved plaque will also be presented at the Washington County Holstein Banquet. The proceeds are donated to the Washington County Dairy Committee to support educational programs and workshops for the county youth. West Bend Elevator also purchased the Golden Gallon at the 2008 fair.

For the Statesman

TOWN of POLK- The Washington County Fair's annual livestock auction turned 40 this year, and a few select people and businesses have attended every one.

West Bend Elevator bought an animal each year, including the first when it won the champion hog from Kewaskum's Robert Schreffler.

"Every year we bought something. It's mainly to support the fair in Washington County and keep them interested in agriculture," said David Gonring, whose family owns West Bend Elevator. "Hopefully, some of them go into ag because our farmers are getting much older by average age."

Kewaskum Frozen Foods hasn't missed one, either.

"Being in the business we're in ... you deal with all the local, rural farmers. Plus, you get to know their kids. The auction is really for them. Sixty or 70 percent of the animals at that fair will come here to get processed," said Paul Ries, co-owner.

For the businesses, the event is as social as it is anything else.

"You see a lot of people you haven't seen for the past year. You like to see the kids smile when they're getting a good price," Gonring said.

"You see people who do business with year round also.

They like to see it. And you've got to support the kids," Ries said.

Kids often use proceeds from the sale of their animals for college. They receive much higher price than the market rate.

Gonring said auctioneer Pat O'Brien has done every auction, and Rollie Bast did 39.

Ries said this year was a record sale, despite the recession.

"It's amazing what they did," he said.

Gonring this year again provided the winning bid for the Golden Gallon of milk for an all-time high of $1,200.

"It's just a donation, really," he said. "We kind of like to bid on it, period."

Gonring said he attends auctions at fairs in Ozaukee, Sheboygan and Fond du Lac counties as well. He has a plan for each purchase.

"In some cases we have employees who want a steer or part of a steer. If not, we ship the animal. If someone wants a quarter, then they end up in the carcass show. Kids can see how it grades out there," he said.

The carcass show is held the Wednesday evening after the fair, at Kewaskum Frozen Foods. Experts grade the different aspects of the various animals, checking for how much fat, etc.

Ries said the carcass show gives a better grade. While at the fair, animals are judged as animals, "here we can actually see how they're really going to judge."

Gonring admits that's not his cup of tea.

"I'm not an expert on that. All I care about is if it tastes good."

A SPECIAL THANK YOU!

To Jeremy from Berres Heating & Air Conditioning and Willie Klahn, for purchasing my market hog, Dougie.

JUDITH R. PREO

Judith R. Preo, 67, of the Town of Scott, passed away Sunday, July 26, 2009 at her home with her beloved family gathered around her.

Judy was born on April 16, 1942 in Fond du Lac, the daughter of Frank and Bernice Ruplinger Fleischman.

On May 12, 1960 she married Edward C. Preo at St. Kilian Catholic Church in St. Kilian. Judy worked for Labor Union #113 in Milwaukee and then for over 20 years at Miracle Ear Center in West Bend.

She is a member of Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum and the Red Hatters Society.

Judy served as treasurer of the Fond du Lac County Marriage Encounter Group from the late 70's until the present. She enjoyed traveling, camping and walking.

Judy took a great interest in all of her grandchildren and their activities.

Survivors include her husband, Ed; her children, Ann (Larry) Johnson of Kewaskum, Yvonne (David) Boettcher of Kewaskum, Edward P. (Patty Lasher) Preo of Gresham and Michelle (Bill) Jaeger of Campbellsport; her grandchildren, Andrea (fiancé Jason Jenkins and Jason's children Heidi, Andrew and Natalie), Brian and Christa Theisen, Becky Johnson, Tim, Sarah and Michael Boettcher, Lynn and Amanda Preo and Kyle and Joseph Jaeger; her great-grandson, Noah; her mother, Bernice Fleischman of Kewaskum; her brothers, John (Katie) of Kewaskum, Albert (Joan), Norman "Hubie" (Gloria), all of Campbellsport, and Tony (Chris) of Kewaskum; her sisters, Mary Fleischman of Sheboygan, Betty (Dennis) Krueger of Glenbeulah, Louise (Rich) Fahney, Aggie Fleischman, all of Kewaskum and Angela (Tom) Schickert of Campbellsport; brother-in-law and sisters-in-law, George and Barbara Preo of Hampstead, NC and Mary Wiegele of DeKalb, IL; nieces; nephews; other relatives and friends.

She was preceded in death by her father, Frank; her grandson, Mark Jaeger; her in-laws, Richard and Madeline Preo; her brother-in-law, Tom Wiegele; her sister-in-law, Ann Preo and her niece, Christa Fleischman.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held on Tuesday, July 28th at 6:00 p.m. at Holy Trinity Catholic Church, Kewaskum. Rev. Edwin Kornath officiated and burial was Wednesday in St. Matthias Cemetery, New Fane.

Visitation was from 3:00 p.m. until time of Mass at the church.

In lieu of flowers, memorials are appreciated to Holy Trinity School or the charity of your choice.

Twohig Funeral Home, Campbellsport, served the family.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of Jeffery Harter, who passed away 20 years ago, August 1, 1989:

No further away than a picture,
A smile, a remembered phrase,
Our loved one lives in memory,
So close in so many ways.
For how often does a sunset bring nostalgic thought to mind,
Of moments that our loved one shared,
In days now left behind!
How often has a flower or a crystal autumn sky,
Brought golden recollections Of happy days gone by!
Yes, memory has a magic way Of keeping our loved one near.
Ever close in mind and heart Is the one we hold most dear.

The Ken Kudek family

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Mae Koch extends a very sincere thank you to all our relatives, neighbors and friends for your many kindnesses. We acknowledge with deep appreciation the many expressions of sympathy in prayers, floral tributes, cards, memorials and food donations.

We wish to specifically express our thanks to the Kewaskum Fire Department Ambulance and the Kewaskum police officer who responded at our time of need, to the doctors and staff of St. Joseph's Hospital, Froedtert Memorial Lutheran Hospital and Flight for Life for their efforts, to Rev. Eric Kirkegaard for his comforting words and prayers, to Sherry McElhatton for providing music for the funeral service, to her niece, Jill, for having the strength and courage to share our personal messages at Mae's service, to the Women at Peace for preparing and serving the lunch, to Larry and Louise Martin of Miller Funeral Home for their guidance and to all who offered support and helped us in any way. Your thoughtfulness is heartfelt and will long be remembered. May God bless each and every one of you.

A Disobedient Girl

by Ru Freeman

Atria Books $25.00

It's a small world. And it's getting smaller.

Case in point: you strike up a conversation with a stranger at the airport and find that you both worked in the same building twenty years ago. Or you overhear a dear friend discussing someone you just met that morning - and it turns out she's distantly related to your new acquaintance. Or you suddenly discover that you really are "six degrees separated" from the Queen of England and Brad Pitt.

Our paths cross with so many people every day, it's almost inevitable that we're all connected. But in the new novel "A Disobedient Girl" by Ru Freeman, two women with different lives are linked in the most heartbreaking way.

Latha loved the finer things in life.

Though she couldn't use the Lux soap in front of Madam, the wonderful smell made her smile, perhaps in part because the soap was stolen. Stolen, like the best things Latha owned. Sure, she wore nice saris, but they were always hand-me-downs. Because she was a servant, Latha was expected not to want the finer things in life.

She didn't remember a time before she came to the Vithanage home. They told her that she had no mother, and that was why she became Thara's servant. Latha and Thara were friends, but Vithanage Madam never let Latha forget her place.

Long ago, Biso tried to drown herself and her three children in the ocean but when the waves broke over her body, she lost her courage, walked out of the water, and returned home to another beating.

Biso loved her children: the oldest, Loku Putha, big-boned like his father but way too impressionable. The middle child, Loku Duwa, who knew her mother's favor lay elsewhere. And Chooti Duwa, the baby, the child whose father was not Biso's husband. The favored daughter whose father was stabbed and killed by the man Biso was forced to marry.

Latha always wanted children, but who would marry a servant? Her first child, conceived in revenge, was taken from her. Her second, conceived by an American, was ripped from her. But her third child would allow her to make a family.

Every now and then, I get a book that makes me want to do nothing but go to the sofa to read. This is one of those kinds of books.

Beautifully written (although a little wordy at times), "A Disobedient Girl" pulls you into another world completely. You know that no good will come to defiant Latha, and though you truly want her to have those fine things, you know it will come at a price. You'll want to wring haughty Thara's little neck. Watching Biso unravel is unsettling, and - while you may have the "secret" figured out by the middle of this book - it hurts to read the way it happens.

Judging by this - Ru Freeman's first book - she's an author you're going to want to keep an eye on. For a debut novel, "A Disobedient Girl" ain't no small thing.

CITRUS SALMON WITH ORANGE RELISH

- 1/4 cup orange juice
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 1/2 teaspoons McCormick(r) Thyme Leaves, divided
- 4 salmon fillets (about 1 pound)
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon McCormick(r) Paprika
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

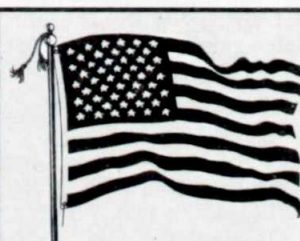

Orange Relish:

- 1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel
 - 2 seedless oranges, peeled, sectioned and cut into 1/2-inch pieces
 - 2 tablespoons chopped red bell pepper
 - 1 tablespoon honey
 - 1 tablespoon chopped red onion
 - 1 tablespoon chopped fresh parsley
 - 1/2 teaspoon McCormick(r) Ground Ginger
- Mix orange juice, oil and 1 teaspoon of the thyme in small bowl. Place salmon in large resealable plastic bag or glass dish. Add marinade; turn to coat well. Refrigerate 30 minutes or longer for extra flavor.

For the relish, mix all ingredients in medium bowl. Cover. Refrigerate until ready to serve.

Mix brown sugar, paprika, remaining 1/2 teaspoon thyme and salt in small bowl. Remove salmon from marinade. Discard any remaining marinade. Rub salmon evenly with paprika mixture.

Grill over medium-high heat 6 to 8 minutes per side or until fish flakes easily with a fork. Or, place salmon on foil-lined baking pan. Bake in preheated 400° F oven 10 to 15 minutes or until fish flakes easily with a fork. Serve salmon with Orange Relish.

The Kewaskum School Board approved a motion that will keep Beechwood Elementary School open for the 1984-85 school year, but it will house one kindergarten class along with the combined first and second grades from both Beechwood and Farmington Elementary. Farmington will house two kindergarten classes, plus the kindergarten third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the two schools. The shifting of students will eliminate having two grades in one room at Beechwood and also the need to hire two more teachers, an additional first grade teacher for Farmington and another third grade teacher at Beechwood had classes remained as they are presently.

On May 24, the eighth grade graduates of Holy Trinity School in Kewaskum will have a Mass read in their honor and receive their diplomas at that time. A list of the graduates follows: Cammie Amerling, Pamela Camling, Lonnie Bath, Sherry Becker, Jason Boegel, Brenda Campbell, Holli Etta, Angela Fehring, Deborah Fehring, Carrie Grahl, Charlene Gruber, Mark Kirst, Pamela Oelhafen, Steven Ramthun, Lisa Steiner, Noel Stollenwerk, Annette Stommel, Doreen Theusch and Russell Volm.

The Kewaskum Jaycees have selected Mike Fyfrick as their 1984 Outstanding Teacher of the Year. Fyfrick teaches math, calculus, geometry, advanced algebra, regular algebra and is also head high school football coach. He led his team to an undefeated championship and Class A, Division 3 state runnerup conference season during the 1983-84 school year.

In the weekly "Take a Walk Thru Kewaskum" article, the featured business is Kewaskum Frozen Foods, located at 118 Forest Avenue. The business is owned and operated by David Nigh and Robert Beisbier who took the business over in 1979 from Greg and Anna Nigh who retired.

A class of 18 eighth graders was received into communicant membership at St. Lucas Lutheran Church on May 6. Included in this class were Scott Seelig, Jeff Miller, Kristin Zimmel, Sherry Seefeldt, Kari Kurtz, Robert Friedemann, Robert Jagler, Tim Belger, Nanci Goeden, Traci Schultz, Susan Marquardt, Samuel Gudex, Jed Zautner, Lisa Schuh, Lisa Wesenberg, David Martin, Scott Pesch and Tamara Koepke.

Sue Lemke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lemke of rural West Bend, and Tim Landvatter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Landvatter of Fredonia have been chosen as the Kiwanis students for the month of May.

A daughter, Angela Rae, was born to Glenn and Jackie Eichstedt, Abbottsford, on May 13. Grandparents are Oliver Eichstedt of Campbellsport and Barbara Demge of Houston, Texas, and Harry and Rita Juston, of Kewaskum.

A son, Ryan Koth, was born to Terry and Rachel Risse, Sugarland, Texas, on May 11. Paternal grandparents are Norton and Caroline Risse of Slinger and maternal grandparents are Karl and Evelyn Schultz of Campbellsport. A son, Michael Anthony, was born to Daniel and Mary Schrauth, Campbellsport, on May 2. A son was also born to Michael and Susan Marx, Kewaskum, on May 9.

May 25, 1984

While over 65 citizens were on hand at Tuesday's special school board meeting, many of them opposed to last week's motion to divide grades between the Beechwood and Farmington Schools, neither they, nor board member Ralph Horner, were able to persuade the board to change its mind about the plan. Horner was asking to rescind the action made on May 14. Most Beechwood parents were opposed to the plan of having kindergarten, first and second graders at Beechwood and kindergarten, third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades at Farmington. Farmington parents indicated they were not so much opposed to the plan, as to the bussing, which would be involved. One resident noted that while none of her children would be affected by the plan, she felt the board had not done its homework as to how much was really involved in such a move. Another woman felt the board should look at it from a taxpayer's point of view and close Beechwood completely. Another resident told the board it was time the district was reallocated, saying, "We know Beechwood is a dying horse, let's call a spade a spade." While some Beechwood parents didn't like to hear any suggestion that their school be closed, other district parents felt that it would be the logical answer to avoid the board's present plan for the 1984-85 school year.

Perry Koth has been named new head basketball coach at Kewaskum High School. Koth, 32, has served as an assistant in the basketball program since coming back to his home school in 1979. Koth succeeds James Westphal, who resigned after the 1983-84 season in March after serving for 11 years as head varsity coach.

Congressman F. James Sensenbrenner, Jr. announced that John Block, the Secretary of Agriculture, has appointed rural Kewaskum resident Daniel J. Rodenkirch to the new National Dairy Promotion Board. Mr. Rodenkirch will be one of only 36 dairy farmers acting as directors who will establish policy for a program of promotion, research and nutritional education.

In the weekly, "Take a Walk Thru Kewaskum," article, the featured business is Rich's Super Savings, at 1277 Fond du Lac Avenue. (The store was the former location of L. Rosenheimer General Store for many, many years, and is now home to the General Store Antique Mall). Rich's Super Savings has been owned by Richard and Jane Bechler for a little over a year. Rich had worked at the store that was known as the L. Rosenheimer store for 14 years prior to the purchase.

The following children received their First Holy Communion individually during the school year or with the class on Sunday afternoon at a Mass at Holy Trinity Catholic Church. They are: Benjamin Belger, Steven Breit, Allison Bruendl, Timothy Buss, Tricia Butschlick Rachel Chambers, Cara Connor, Scott Enright, Andrew Espen, Chresta Fleischman, Rebecca Foley, Lisa Franzen, Jeremy Geidel, John Gildersleeve, Jennifer Heisdorf, Michael Jandre, Steven Johann, Rebecca Kiefer, Karla Kirst, Jesse Korth, Julie Krezman, Ryan Kurth, Shawn Larson, Daniel Luthers, Wanda Lauters, Jennifer Lettow, Casey McElhatton, Vicki McElhatton, Richard Metz, Nicole Neckuty, Sharyl Ramthun, Paula Reilly, Mark Stephani, Erin Stoffel, Arkl Weahani and Greg Wisnesner. St. Bridget Parish - Greg Anderson, Jolie Bingen, Kevin Kannenberg and Michael Schmitt.

The Sacrament of Confirmation was ministered by Bishop Richard Sklba at Holy Trinity Catholic Church on May 2. The 25 candidates from Holy Trinity and St. Bridget's Parishes were: Colleen Amerling, Mona Anderson, John Beisbier, Dan Bingen, Brian Bodden, Jim Gleason, Paul Gruber, Jim Herriges, Tom Herriges, Sandy Holtz, Dave Jandre, Brian Jung, Sandy Klein, Nancy Kutz, Jill Larson, Wendy LaVigne, Barry Murre, Michelle Paul, Dan Ramthun, Merri Jo Ritger, Cheryl Schladweiler, John Schmitt, Shelly Staehler, Rick Steiner and Toni Weiss.

The Kewaskum Land o' Lakes basketball team won the Lakes "B" Division championship for the second year in a row, with a 9-7 record, edging out Sussex, which finished 8-8. Members of the team are Clark Eichstedt, Bill Gonwa, Manager Bill Backhaus, Mike Maney, Dennis Butz, Brian Arndt, Leon Laatsch, Bob Nigh, Brian Larsen, Pete Thomas and Ted Miller. Leon Laatsch finished second in the league in scoring with 471 points in 16 games for a 29.4 average, earning him berth on the Lakes all-league team for the fifth straight year. Clark Eichstedt finished tenth in scoring with 338 points in 14 games for a 24.1 average.

A daughter, Jessica Joyce, was born to Clifford and Christine Sprung, Merton, on May 13. Paternal grandparents are Carl and Doris Sprung of Merton and maternal grandparents are Jerome and Beverly Nigh of Campbellsport. Twin sons were born to Fred and Donna Cullen, Kewaskum, on March 18. A son was also born to David and Margaret Cordes of Kewaskum on May 15.

Eighth grade graduation at Holy Trinity School will take place on June 5 in the church auditorium. Diplomas will be conferred. The following is a list of the eighth grade graduates: Allen Bales, Lucy Boegel, Carol Bohn, Janet Dreher, Jeanne Felix, Catherine Guttman, Kathleen Hron, Louise Hron, Sharon Jandre, Daniel Keller, Mark Kral, Vivian Laubach, Richard Pesch, Diann Ramel, David Rohlinger, Ann Schaefer, Vernon Schmidt, David Skrentny, John Thorn, Thomas Weddig, Katherine Weier and David Zehren.

James D. Reigle of Kewaskum was elected to the board of directors of the Aluminum Wares Association at the annual meeting of the organization which was held in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, on May 18 and 19.

Ranging in age from 4 to 74 years, around 200 residents of Wisconsin, met in Kewaskum Sunday morning to take part in a hike through the rugged Kettle Moraine area northeast of here. The tour was the first "Ice Age National Park" hike. Leading the hike was Henry S. Reuss, Democratic Milwaukee congressman and author to establish a national park in Wisconsin. Included in the proposed park are inter-lobate moraines, terminal moraines, eskers, kames, drumlins, kettle holes and outwash plains, most of which was viewed by the group on Sunday.

Ronald Backhaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Backhaus of Kewaskum, has enlisted in the U.S. Navy for a three-year period and left last Friday for Great Lakes, Illinois to begin training.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leander Kempf, Kewaskum, on May 25. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leu DeBack, Milwaukee, on May 23. Mrs. DeBack is the daughter of Chief of Police and Mrs. Roland Pledl, Kewaskum.

The following class of St. Bridget's Church received their First Holy Communion on Sunday. The class was composed of Simon Roger Hawig, Wyman Kuehl, Agnes Dombrowski, Helen Dombrowski, Bertha Schwarzmueller and Helen Barbera Volm.

During last Saturday night and Sunday morning the long drought was broken when rain came and fell throughout the entire night. Everything was just about dried up when the freshening rain gave the land and growing things a general rejuvenation.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schultz of Beechwood are the proud parents of a baby boy born to them on Monday last week.

Considerable excitement prevailed Monday morning when a team of horses belonging to Louis Backhaus of the Town of Kewaskum, went through Main Street at a break neck speed, having gotten away from Mr. Backhaus' son about two miles east of the village. The runaway was caused by the dumpboards on the wagon striking the horses. No damage was done.

The barn on Herman Tesch's farm near Boltonville was struck by lightning at 5 am last Thursday. His best horse and a cow were killed by the bolt. Mr. Tesch was milking in the barn at the time, but was not injured.

The junior prom was given in the South Side Park Hall last Friday evening and it was a very pretty event. The hall was beautifully decorated in pink and white and elaborate refreshments were served. Everyone enjoyed the affair very much.

A bright baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Campbell of Kewaskum on Sunday. A baby girl was also born to Mr. and Mrs. John Aupperle of New Fane last week Friday.

June 12, 1909

Last Tuesday night burglars entered the store of Mrs. Charles Koch at Beechwood, blew open the safe, and took the contents, which was about $50 in change. Mrs. Reinke, daughter of Mrs. Koch, who lives near the store, heard an explosion around 2 am and noticed a flash in the direction of the store. She awoke her husband and they came to the conclusion that there must be burglars at work. Mr. and Mrs. Reinke did not give the alarm until daylight as they feared to leave the house. Upon investigation in the morning, they found the safe blown to pieces and the windows in the rear all broken, caused by the explosion. Part of the safe was blown through the ceiling of the store.

The bill to close barber shops on Sundays which passed both Houses of the Legislature was signed by the Governor and is now a law.

At a joint meeting of the Kewaskum Fire Department, it was decided to hold their annual picnic at the North Side Park on June 20.

REMEMBERING DAN...

Sporting clays event helps shatter fundraising goal

Jim Bartkowski of Greendale takes aim at sporting clay during the Dan Ross Memorial shoot at the Wern Valley Sportsmen's Club July 11.

With the last words of his young life on an August evening in 2008, Dan Ross asked his mother not to wake him the next morning. The sporting clays season at Wern Valley Sportsmen's Club in Waukesha had concluded, a banquet was scheduled for the following evening, and the 16-year old would not be expected to report early to work.

Dan was comfortable and talented with a shotgun himself, and had gone to state competition twice as a member of the Junior Team for Wern Valley, winning a Division 1st place once. He also shot in the Winter Sporting Clays League at the McMiller Sportsman's Club with his parents and other team members. As a member of the Wern Valley's Bird Crew, he raised pheasants from chicks, many of which were sold to farms for release in the fields of South Dakota and captured and released adult birds on site as needed at the facility when the hunters came.

Dan never woke. His parents, Lynn and Charlie Ross of Genesee, found their son in bed, his life ended by a cause that would not reveal itself easily despite any pain or grief suffered by a mom and dad and sisters who really needed to just know why. Medical evaluation seeking a cause of death that included toxology level and brain aneurism reports and tests of heart, liver and other too-common causes of premature mortality came back normal.

"No, my 16 year old son is gone," Lynn Ross responded. "He ran up the stairs a healthy boy. That's not normal."

Eventually, a tryptase blood test delivered conclusive evidence that Dan had died from an "anaphylactic reaction to an unknown allergen", or allergic reaction to something he had eaten. According to Lynn Ross, a tryptase reference level is typically 11.4. With an allergic reaction, the histamine level measured by the Tryptase test might elevate into the 20s. Dan's tryptase level was over 200.

"Dan died in his sleep," Lynn said. "I asked the Doctor what would have happened if he would have had the reaction at the table when we were there with him. He said, 'your husband would have called 911, you would have administered CPR and Dan still would have been gone in seconds.'"

In the few seconds it took for loving parents to check on a son, a family's life was shattered forever. Instead of enjoying an evening at the place where Dan had spent much of his life, at the Wern Valley sporting clays banquet a hat was passed and shooters raised $1,000 in memory of a generous young boy who everyone liked and who, his mother said, had never had a bad day.

"Dan touched the community," Lynn said. "This kid never had a bad day in his life. He smiled from the day he was born, and literally he had a smile on his face when he died. My father died in his sleep five weeks before at age 78. Now I think Dad had to go to receive Dan."

In passing Dan would continue to touch the community through the courage of a family that had seen firsthand the extraordinary generosity that their son carried in his heart. Two years ago, Dan's help had been solicited from a Kettle Moraine School District coach when the State Trap Shoot held at the Waukesha Gun Club needed more personnel (to be paid at an hourly rate) to help coordinate events. Revenue raised at the shoot would be donated to the District's Share the Field Project.

The project is an ongoing collective fund-raising effort to purchase at a cost of $425,000 a synthetic athletic field to be used by multiple sports and activities by Kettle Moraine and surrounding communities. The existing natural surface was used by the KM football team only. By the third game each year large sections of the field were reduced to dirt, and a great potential resource was limited in use. If a synthetic field could be installed, lacrosse, field hockey, soccer, marching bands and many other users could all utilize the resource.

Although still not old enough to drive, the then-15 year old had saved his money and had purchased a 1991 Camaro in need of work. Dan worked at the state trap shoot for four days, earning a paycheck of almost $500.00. "He asked us if we would be disappointed if he donated the money to 'Share the Field,' his mother said. "Any parent would be proud of that decision. That's what we live for. At 15, he was living to buy car parts, but he wanted to give away the money."

Dan Ross, always with a smile and seen here with his shooter's protective glasses on before competition, was a talented shooter and generous young man who touched the whole community. The 'Share the Field' sporting clays event at Wern Valley Sportsmen's Club in Waukesha County was held in his memory July 11

In making service preparations for their son, the funeral director asked Lynn and Charlie Ross if they would like to set up a memorial to Dan. Although that issue hadn't been discussed at home, in unison, they answered, "Share the Field."

After dismissing the possibility of an August date too close to the day a year before when the Ross family had said goodbye to their son, the "Share the Field" Memorial Shoot for Dan Ross was held on July 11, 2009 "Dan passed in August," said Lynn. "How do you set up a memorial almost a year after he died? I couldn't do it. I need August to myself."

So very fittingly, it was the memorial shoot that put the long-time quest to raise the funds necessary to buy and install what to many would be a literal field of dreams virtually within reach. With a goal of $5000, the shoot raised $7200 and placed the ultimate target just $12,000 away. Even now, Dan continues to give back to the community while a family learns to let go.

"When Dan died with a smile on his face, the Pastor asked 'wouldn't you have a smile on your face if the Good Lord came to get you?'" Lynn said. "If I had to give up being a mother, at least I gave it up to God. I can't compete with God. We're blessed. We got to be Dan's parents for almost 17 years."

Any Wisconsin resident wishing to donate in Dan's memory can make checks out to "Share the Field (memo: Dan Ross) and send to: Share the Field Project. 349 Oak Crest Drive, Wales, WI 53183. Attention: Mike Fink. For more information, connect with www.sharethefield.org.

Sargent participates in football camp with Packers

Jarret Sargent of Kewaskum, poses with Cullen Jenkins, a defensive end for the Green Bay Packers. Jarret recently attended a football camp at Carthage College in Kenosha where he spent a week with Jenkins and other Green Bay Packers learning individual and team techniques on both offense and defense. He also attended a specialty clinic for quarterbacks. The camp consisted of daily instruction, lectures, and demonstrations. Jarret has played gridiron football for Kewaskum for the past four years and is hoping to play for the Indians this fall.

Local clubs volunteer in State Forest

A's win in dramatic fashion in Oakfield

Members of the Northern Kettle Moraine Horse Trail Association (NKMHTA) and the Crooked Lake Snowmobile Club in cooperation with the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit recently made repairs to a bridge in the state forest. The bridge is located on the East Branch of the Milwaukee River north of the small village of New Prospect. Known by locals as the Jersey Flats Bridge, it serves both horseback riders and snowmobilers.

The NKMHTA obtained a 50 / 50 match grant from the State Horse Council which assisted in the purchase of materials to re-deck the 12' x 30' bridge. $400.00, or half of the material costs, was paid by the NKMHTA. 30 volunteers from both organizations removed the old and installed new deck planks.

The Northern Kettle Moraine Horse Trail Association and the Crooked Lake Snowmobile Trail Club are volunteer organizations. Both organizations work to provide and improve opportunities for horseback riders and snowmobilers in the state forest and the Kettle Moraine area.

The Kewaskum A's escaped Oakfield with a 9-8, 11 inning victory on Sunday, ensuring themselves a spot in the Rock River Playoffs for the second consecutive year.

The A's jumped on top of Oakfield with a seven run third inning, but that lead disappeared as a sloppy fifth inning let Oakfield tie the game at 7-7. A Kirk Gibson like home run by Adam Sarauer in the top of the 11th and two outstanding defensive plays by Jason Strobel and Jake Panzer helped seal the A's victory.

Not to be outdone was the pitching performance by Mitch Huffman, who gave up one unearned run over 6 innings of relief to pick up his sixth victory of the year.

Oakfield jumped ahead in the bottom of inning one, taking advantage of a walk and an infield single to push across their first run. The A's responded in the third as they sent 13 batters to the plate in scoring seven runs. Nick Whitty led off with a walk and Jake Spaeth reached via a HBP to put two runners on for Matt Meisenheimer. Meisenheimer dropped down a perfect bunt for a base hit to load the bases for Dan Shea. Shea hit a groundball back to the pitcher and an easy 1-2-3 double play looked to be in order, but the throw sailed over the catcher's head and two runs came into score on the play. Kurt Zagzebski took advantage and followed with a two RBI double down the line to put the A's up 4-1.

Strobel and Adam Martz ripped consecutive singles to score another run and Adam Sarauer capped the scoring with a RBI double to deep left giving the A's a 7-1 lead.

The A's however let Oakfield back into the game in the 6th as the Oaks sent 10 batters to the plate taking advantage of 4 Kewaskum errors, 1 walk and 3 timely hits off starting pitcher Jim Ziegler to tie the score at 7-7. The A's manufactured a run in the top of the 6th as a Strobel sac fly gave the A's a brief lead. However, Oakfield responded with a run in the bottom half of the inning again tying the score, this time at eight. The score remained tied until the 11th, when Adam Sarauer, bum leg and all, belted a two-out solo homerun to left giving the A's the lead.

Oakfield would not go quietly in the bottom of the 11th, as they would put a runner on second with one out. The next batter up ripped a sharp single up the middle setting up a play at the plate. Strobel scooped up the ball in center and made a perfect throw to home to Jake Panzer. A collision at the plate ensued, but Panzer hung onto the ball to get the second out of the inning. After another single by Oakfield, Huffman was able to get a groundball to end the game.

The win keeps the A's in second place in the Rock River standings and puts their overall record at 22-8. The A's travel to Howards Grove on Wednesday for a non-league game and then host Slinger on Sunday at 1:30pm. Sunday will also be Fan Appreciation Day for the A's.

Indians come close to defeating Suns at Sectional

Indians' first baseman Cody Seibel, receives a high toss from Nick Olla at short stop to tally an out for the Indians in the bottom of the second inning against West Bend East. The Indians fell to the Suns 16-12 in the baseball sectional on Friday at Carl Kuss Memorial Field in West Bend.

The West Bend East Suns were just a little too hot for the Kewaskum Indians as the two teams met for a Sectional play-off game on Friday, July 24. Just 20 years ago, the opposite happened sending the Indians on a state run to Stevens Point.

Kewaskum 12, West Bend East 16

The Indians started off well scoring two runs in the first inning. Nick Olla started with a walk and took second on a single by Cody Seibel. Both runners advanced on a hit by Brian Backhaus and Olla was able to score with help from an error by the East third baseman. C. Seibel made his way around to score the second run with a hit from Cody Nuernberg.

The Indians scored two more runs in the second inning when Mike Herriges took first and eventually second on errors. Steve Kudek hit a base hit and sent Herriges home to give the Indians a 3-0 lead. Kudek scored on a hit from Olla. The top of the second ended with the Indians ahead 4-0.

The Suns scored their first run in the bottom of the second Eric Gremonprez started with a double. He later advanced to third on a wild pitch and came home on an error by Indian third baseman Sam Olla.

The third inning saw the Suns score four more runs, bringing the game to 5-4. The Indians scored one more run in the fourth inning when Brad Boegel hit a single. He came home from second on a hit by Cody Seibel, tying the game 5-5.

The Suns were on fire in the bottom half of the fourth when they scored six runs on four hits, bringing the score to 5-11.

The fifth inning the Indians attempted a comeback to advance. They scored seven runs in the top of the fifth. Nuernberg advanced to first and second on errors and was able to steal third. Bo Seibel walked to first, as did Herriges. With the bases loaded, Josh Harbin hit a single and advanced the runners, sending Nuernberg home. A double by Boegel sent Bo Seibel and Herriges home and Harbin to third. Brandon Zolp went to first and Harbin was thrown out at home giving the Indians the first out of the inning. Olla and C. Seibel each walked. Seibel hit for the second time in the inning and sent Zolp home. Bo Seibel sent Olla and C. Seibel home bringing the score to 12-11.

The Indians were unable to score for the remainder of the game while the Suns went on to score five more runs in the bottom of the fifth. EJ Sexton hit a two run homer and the remaining three came on another home run by Alec Steinmetz.

Taking the loss for the Indians was Olla who threw two strike-outs, three walks and allowed five hits in 3 1/3 innings. Boegel three 1 1/3 innings and tallied one strike-out, three walks and allowed six hits. C. Seibel closed with two strike outs, no walks and two hits.

The Indians were first to play at Bukolt Park where the state tournament is still held.

Members of that team included Mike Heberer, Mark Hartmann, Dennis Aupperle, Paul Budiak, Brian Leitheiser, Chris Donath, Mark Felix, Bruce Waechter, Chris Weddig, Rich Radtke, John Hazelwood, Ken Krause, Dan Heisdorf and Dave Homuth. They were coached by Tom Bartelt.

The Indians finished fourth at the state tournament.
