Fair Park resolution sparks heated debate at County Board meeting

By Mitch Maersch
For The Statesman

WEST BEND- The Washington County Board on Tuesday accepted the Washington County Fair Park Study Committee's report on the county's future involvement with the facility, but at least one board member made it clear the committee's recommendations would not be the only ones available.

Passing a resolution to adopt the report's general recommendations went through several amendments and more contentious debate.

The committee was created because of Fair Park's fiscal challenges, basically having the county to cover for its shortfalls, with the charge to figure out how the county should be involved with the park in the future.

Fair Park is run by the Agricultural and Industrial Society (AIS), a nonprofit agency. Unplanned construction costs have created excessive debt that puts the AIS at risk of bankruptcy.

Seven options were considered, including keeping status quo, under which the AIS would likely bankrupt and dissolve. The buildings would revert to the county per the lease.

The committee recommended a different option in which the county takes ownership of the Fair Park's buildings and AIS continues to operate the fair and other year-round events.

The recommendation includes:
-Negotiate a new lease agreement with AIS for better financial oversight;

-Develop mutually agreed upon performance standards for AIS

-Require AIS to hire staff or consultants to enhance skill of Fair Park staff, namely in marketing and bookings, and to enhance skill of AIS Board for organizational effectiveness;

-Require AIS establish a reserve fund from Fair Park revenues to help levy reduction;

-Require AIS develop accounting practices to determine actual costs (fixed and variable) of each event to help better determine rates and market Fair Park;

-Hire consultant to do an economic impact analysis of Fair Park. The process would expect to cost $15,000 to $18,000 and take four to six weeks.

Supervisor Richard Bertram made the point by accepting the report the county was not bound to just those options.

County Board Chairman Herb Tennes said the document was not just something "pushed together."

"I think they explained what they thought the taxpayer was really interested in," he said.

"The plan today is to bail them out one more time. I don't think all the alternatives were looked at correctly,"

-Don Berchem
Washington County Board Supervisor

Supervisor Mark McCune pointed out that in all seven options the county owned the Fair Park's buildings. He wanted another one put on the table and still keep the county fair going.

"Did the group consider selling everything to another entity to run this?" he said.

Paul Roback, community development director for the UW Extension, who presented the report, said that option was not discussed. He cited the goal from 1994 that the Fair Park be a year-round facility.

McCune mentioned if not a sale, a 100-year lease could be possible, especially given the county has given Fair Park about $30 million already.

"There's got to be a point to stop the bleeding," he said.

Tennes said the county is bleeding in many areas.

"Do we sell the parks? Do we sell the golf course? What do the county taxpayers want us to do for them?" he said. "I think more people enjoy Fair Park than the parks."

Bertram had a problem in that all the options assume if the county took ownership of the buildings it would cover Fair Park's debt.

County Attorney Kim Nass said if the AIS dissolves, the State Bank of Newburg would have interest in the buildings.

Bertram said if the bank owns the buildings, maybe it would help maintain them.

"I do think that's why you set up leases the way you do," he said. "I personally feel bad for everybody when they don't get paid," but he said he has a hard time believing a bank would give a loan to a building on someone else's property.

Supervisor William Meyers, a member of the study committee, said the county should own the buildings, citing a $1 million investment into one of them. He thinks AIS should be given the chance to pay its bills.

Meyers said he wants factual numbers from the park's operations, one of a few board members to call for better accounting. He was once told the fair earned $390,000 in profit when the actual number was $150,000 because the overhead wasn't included. He wants to "get to the bottom of this" and not write a blank check - "not when we're asking people not to take pay raises" in reference to the county budget that may include wage freezes to stave off layoffs.

Supervisor Charlene Brady raised the same concern, saying she saw two profits from a bridal show; one was $10,000 and the other $1,400.

"I think we have some communication problems here," she said.

Brady said the report failed to mention 13 or 14 resolutions involving Fair Park between 2001 and 2009 and said she isn't sure the report is complete. She wanted to read minutes from AIS meetings but said she knows they are not easily obtained.

Supervisor Daniel Goetz has a problem putting money toward the park.

"The thing that bothers me is we are subsidizing non-taxpaying enterprises," he said. "We're sticking money into business that will never be on the tax rolls."

This weekend filled with fun fall events

By Andrew Kuehl

andrew@kewaskumstatesman.com | 262.370.0831

The calendar may signify summer is over, but bright side is four great events will take place this weekend to start the first weekend of fall. Four civic groups have a busy weekend planned for the area, one with a new event for Sunday.

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club will hold their annual popular Turkey Shoot at the New Fane Sportsman's Club on Saturday, September 12 from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. There are activities for all, young and old even if it's just to enjoy a delicious brat or burger from Kewaskum Frozen Foods.

Attending the event is a must for all sportsmen who may enjoy the rifle range, pistol range, trap shoot, bow and arrow, compound bow and the BB gun. The skilled marksmen will earn their chance at a Thanksgiving turkey with a successful shot.

If your weapon of choice is your swing, try the golf shoot for your bird or take a different kind of shot and hoop your way to a gobbler in the basketball shoot.

Tickets for each event can be purchased at the event, however advance tickets receive an extra shot. Advance tickets can be purchased at Kohn's Citgo, Dairy Queen, Westbury and National City Bank's local branches, Richard's Kut & Style and Geidel's Piggly Wiggly.

Your chef's favorite products from Regal Ware will also be available for sale as the company holds their annual truck load sale at the event with a portion of the proceeds being donated to the Kiwanis Club. Cookware makes great gifts for those wanting to start Christmas shopping early (only 105 days left).

For gun enthusiasts the club will raffle a number of rifles that will occur throughout the day, as well as many other raffles.

Please see Weekend events, page 3

Legislative Update

By Dan LeMahieu
Assemblyman 59th District

Here come the Democrat's taxes

Remember a few months ago when I was warning all of you about the taxes in the Democrat's Budget? Governor Doyle and the Democrats passed that budget that they said protected the middle class.

Let's not forget the doubling of the garbage tax, a new tax when you go to the hospital, an increased tax on seniors in nursing homes, the coming increase in your property taxes and others. These tax increases allowed the Democrats to increase spending in the state budget by more than 6 percent. But starting September 1st you will be paying a new tax thanks to the Democrats in Madison.

The budget also included a $107 million phone tax. You might think that won't affect me. Governor Doyle said I was protected, I'm middle class. Think again. If you have a land line, an Internet connection and one or more cell phones you will pay 75 cents per month per line.

As usual business and industry here in Wisconsin, who are struggling through our current economic recession, will be the main target, especially our small businesses that have many more lines.

So now we are going to pay more to talk to our family and friends and conduct business. Ask Governor Doyle and the Democrats in the legislature how that protects the middle class.

Take a look at your current phone bill and take note of all the taxes and fees you already pay. This new tax is called the "Police and Fire Protection Fee". We are told this is going to help protect us through police and fire services. This is really happening is what is going to be put into the local government aid program. It will replace general fund dollars that will then be used to create new government jobs and fund new programs. In the private sector this is called "bait and switch".

This is another example of Madison budgeting and the lack of honesty in where your tax dollars are really going.

FALL FLOOR SESSION

This summer committees have been holding public hearings on legislation for this fall's floor session. Let me give you a few examples of bills that have had public hearing in my committees.

AB353

This bill would restore the right to vote to certain persons barred from voting as a result of a felony conviction. Currently a convicted felon cannot vote until he or she has totally served their sentence. That includes any probation time or state supervised time. This bill would allow convicted felons to vote once their time of incarceration is finished. So they could be out on parole, under electronic surveillance and vote.

AB66

This bill deals with the pricing of retail sales of alcohol beverages. Currently it is legal to offer unlimited drinking for a set fee. This bill requires there to be a fixed amount of alcohol for a fixed price. This would only involve a retail establishment and not parties run by individuals or groups.

AB67

This bill would require total sobriety for any person serving alcohol. This would include bartenders and managers but also those working in wineries and small breweries that are giving tours and samples while at the same time ensuring the quality of the product they are making.

AB106

This bill would eliminate the ability of a parent or guardian to take an underage child into a licensed premises to consume alcohol. Currently it is up to the bar or restaurant to determine if they will serve that minor in the presence of the parent or guardian.

NR115

This is a rule change dealing with shoreland zoning. This rule change is a major overhaul of shoreland zoning that has been in the works for a number of years. The DNR is proposing changes and the legislature has a small window of time to reject or ask for changes to the rule. If no changes are asked for the rule automatically goes into effect. This rule deals with what you are allowed to do with property along a river, lake or any navigable waterway. This includes landscaping, construction, remodeling, etc. The Assembly Natural Resources Committee will hold a public hearing next Wednesday, September 2nd on this rule. Contact my office if you are interested in testifying about this rule or would like more information about the rule.

These are just a few of the pieces of legislation that could be brought for votes this fall. I am a strong proponent of smaller government and less intrusion of that government into the lives of individuals and private businesses. I believe in parents and businesses being in control, not government. Some of these bills may seem logical but continue down the road of total government control in our lives.

Whether it is helmets, seat belts, child car seats, smoking or alcohol consumption, what may seem like good common sense should be left up to the individual, not mandated by government.

Let me know your thoughts on some of these issues as we go forward. Your thoughts are important to me as I deal with these issues in the State Assembly.

Rep. Dan LeMahieu (R-Cascade) represents the 59th Assembly District and currently serves as the Senior Republican on the Joint Committee for Review of Administrative Rules and the Urban & Local Affairs Committee. Rep. LeMahieu is also a member of the Courts & Corrections and Natural Resources Committees.

Testing to begin sooner on county's radio upgrade

By Mitch Maersch
For The Statesman

WEST BEND— The county's Radio Communications Committee wants the company installing its new, multimillion-dollar radio system to do whatever it takes to have testing done when all the leaves are still on the trees.

Delays have pushed back the testing start date to Sept. 21, allowing three weeks for Harris Corp. of Melbourne, Fla. to complete the process.

Testing includes making calls from all areas of the county, including 145 buildings, covering schools and St. Joseph's Hospital.

The county is paying for the $14.6 million system that replaces the old system covering the sheriff's and highway departments, which is past its lifespan and is having operational issues, including breakdowns, said Sheriff Dale Schmidt.

The new system will cover the same two departments and municipalities in the county, replacing their individual systems as well.

Project Manager Joe Caruso had been shooting for the end of October, the latest full foliage would be in effect, according to the federal government's Graphic Information System's report.

Not soon enough, the committee said at its meeting last week. Committee Chairman John Stern is worried about the lack of rain during summer that could make for a short fall season. Since the contract calls for testing during full foliage, he expects Harris do get it done.

"I'm of the opinion we should accelerate that and shoot for a mid-October date," he said.

"A lot of foliage is down already," said committee Co-chair Herb Tennes.

"I see no other way," said committee member Daniel Goetz.

The committee gave Caruso an Oct. 15 deadline.

If testing starts Sept. 21, it could be completed by Oct. 15, said Dominick Arcuri of RCC Consultants, serving as the middleman between the county and Harris Corp.

Full foliage is sought for testing because the wireless system uses signals that travel through air, making leaves on trees a possible problem.

"You want to test in the worst-case scenario," Arcuri said. It could pass in winter and fail in summer."

The signal, he said, is not affected by moisture in the air, like rain or snow.

One delay in pushing back the testing was fixing cable on a tower in the town of Erin. The county's line interfered with a private Internet provider's line because the private company's line was unshielded.

To keep the project moving, Stern and Schmidt gave Harris the go-ahead to replace the cable with a shielded cable for $8,800. Stern said the county could try to recoup some of the money if it wanted.

The contract calls for the system to have reception in 95 percent of the county. Harris Corp. already conducted its own tests on signal strength and passed well above that mark.

"Our level of confidence for the county is very high," Caruso said. Arcuri said the next testing will be more in depth and take place with county personnel.

"We're going to actually do test calls," he said. "We're going to evaluate voice quality of the system."

Arcuri said it is possible to have a strong signal and poor voice quality. If the test comes back less than 95 percent, Arcuri said the fixes are "not short term."

Switch over to the new system is slated for March. A detailed cutover plan is expected to be completed this week.

So far, the system's cost is coming in about $3 million under budget, Schmidt said.

Fair Park

Supervisor Don Berchem called the entire study committee a "sham." He said he knew what the result would be before it ever started and that is to bail out AIS at the taxpayers' expense.

While the AIS has well-meaning people on the board, he said the past shows "they didn't do things very well."

The only reason the AIS isn't in default already is because the county bailed it out before, he said.

"The plan today is to bail them out one more time. I don't think all the alternatives were looked at correctly," he said.

The report was accepted on an 18-11 vote. Those voting against were Goetz, Brady, Meyers, Berchem, Bertram, Ralph Hensel, Paul Ustruck, John Stern, Rick Gundrum, Peter Sorce and Kenneth Brandt.

Fair Park resolution

General recommendations from the report were put into a resolution the County Board approved as well on Tuesday, after several amendments.

A portion of the original resolution called for the county to negotiate purchase of all buildings and permanent structures owned by AIS at Fair Park to resolve financial issues resulting from building the Ziegler Center and to realign roles and responsibilities for capital and building issues. That was changed to:

The county develops a financial plan that addresses financial issues with Fair Park's capital improvements and which protects the county's interests while allowing AIS to operate Fair Park through 2010.

That amendment was approved 26-3. Against were Ustruck, Stern and Mike Miller.

A portion of the resolution directs the Finance Committee to study that financial plan and bring an evaluation of it to the board in October. Meyers amended that to add the committee presents a "comprehensive financial statement."

That amendment passed 26-3. Against were Joan Russell, James Core and Raymond Heidtke.

The recommendation

also includes:

-The county continues Fair Park's mission (to enhance cultural, education, economic and social opportunities for the people of the county) and continue year-round operation with access for community events, 4-H and the county fair;

-A new lease agreement with AIS is negotiated to ensure greater financial oversight and stronger operations and that mutually agreed upon performance expectations are included in an operating agreement between AIS and the county. A committee will annually evaluate the effectiveness of Fair Park operations.

Another portion of the resolution directs the county's Education and Culture Committee to further study the second above bullet and bring an implementation proposal to the County Board in October. Brady amended that to add the Finance and Executive committees also be given that role.

That amendment was approved 23-6. Against were Ustruck, Goetz, Sorce, Brian Bausch, Marilyn Merten and Core.

The resolution allows the AIS to delay payments of its July to December invoices from the county, but McCune wanted to add the AIS receive written notice of being in default should it fall behind on its bills.

County Administrative Coordinator Doug Johnson said AIS is not presently in default. The July bill just went out and it has until mid-October to pay that bill.

Berchem said the board had already approved a delay of January to June payments to Aug. 31.

The amendment to send a written notice to AIS if it defaults on its lease passed 25-4. Against were Brady, Russell, John Jung and Gerald Schulz.

The entire amended resolution approved 22-7. Against were Miller, Ustruck, McCune, Goetz, Brady, Sorcy and Berchem.

Was the Kewaskum School Board's June 11th action to close Beechwood Elementary School legal and correct? This question may end up being answered in court. According to a complaint filed in Branch Three of the Washington County Circuit Court on Monday, the Kewaskum School Board voted to close Beechwood, however, referring to Wisconsin Statutes listed in the complaint, powers and duties set forth under sections 120.12 and 120.13 do not include the closing of schools. The action, filed by the law firm of Guenther and Haza, on behalf of plaintiffs Ralph Trapp, Donita Trapp, Steven Siebenaler, Alice Krahn, Irene Gnacinski, Glenn Luedtke, Dorothea Liebelt and Clara Trapp, resulted in a summons being served Monday, to each of the seven board members, giving them 20 days to answer the complaint. The complaint is asking an order declaring the school closing null and void, along with the temporary restraining order to restrain the board from taking any further action regarding the closing until a hearing is held on the matter. The plaintiffs are seeking a court decision which would permanently enjoin the board of education from closing Beechwood based on action taken by the board on June 11. They are also seeking disbursement of their costs and attorney fees in the action.

The Kewaskum area will soon be welcoming its newest AFS daughter, Miss Rosi Cano of Rio Grande, Honduras. Rose is 17 years old and will be spending her year in the United States with the Ronald Landvatter family in Fillmore.

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring their 22nd annual Crazy Daze sidewalk sale on Tuesday, July 17. The event runs from 8 am to 8 pm and features markdowns on summer goods from clothing to sporting equipment, furniture, specials on jewelry, paint, plants, trees, shrubs, cookware and much more. There will be a variety of food and drink available and in the evening there will be live music at different locations sponsored by several taverns.

While it still has not been finalized, the Kewaskum School Board whittled another $175,698 from the proposed 1984-85 budget and is looking to cut it more.

The Village Sport Shop at 334 Main Street is the featured business this week in the Take a Walk Thru Kewaskum article. The business is owned and operated by Gerald Geidel who repairs fishing reels and Roger Groeschel, who is a gunsmith.

The Kewaskum Indians dropped a 5-3 decision to New Holstein on June 29 there. Starter Tim Rohlinger, the Indians' hard luck pitcher, again received no defensive support or offensive punch. As expected, the Indians lost to Plymouth last Tuesday, but what wasn't expected was the lopsided score. Plymouth banged out 15 hits and won 16-6. Kewaskum had a respectable eight hits, three by Tim Leitheiser, two by Jim Lauer and one each from Brian Arndt, Tim Geidel and Kirk Vogt. Kewaskum snapped a four-game losing streak last Thursday defeating the host Chilton 4-1 behind the one-hit pitching performance of Tim Rohlinger. Kewaskum's frustrating season took another dive as the Indians dropped a doubleheader with Two Rivers by the scores of 4-2 and 7-6.

A daughter, Kelly Jean, was born to Mark and Carol Halfmann, Campbellsport, on July 9. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Halfmann of Kewaskum and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Biersack, also of Kewaskum. A daughter was also born to Jeffrey and Donna Voight, Kewaskum, on July 4. A son was born to Louie and Kim Repp, Kewaskum, on July 5.

The open air free movies which were tried out last Saturday evening on the vacant lot between the Bank of Kewaskum and Otto Graf's drug store, were an overwhelming success in point of nice clear pictures and a record crowd. These free movies will be given every Saturday evening during the summer months and are sponsored by the businessmen of Kewaskum. Next Saturday evening the big special feature, "The Covered Wagons," will be shown.

Hospital Monday found it necessary to amputate the left arm of John Aupperle, Kewaskum, below the shoulder after a delicate operation last week for the removal of a blood clot from the arm did not have the beneficial result hoped for. Mr. Aupperle's use of a crutch over a period of years brought about the condition which necessitated the operation.

The Home Helpers 4-H Club of Kewaskum held their first regular meeting Thursday afternoon at the high school. Patricia Buss was elected president; Elaine Schleif, vice president; Inez Stellpflug, secretary, and Eleanor Hron, treasurer.

A fifth anniversary picnic was largely attended Sunday at Auburn Heights. Gladys Kleinke was advanced queen of the event. Her attendants, the crown and sceptre bearers, were Marie Oppermann and Lorinda Krahn. The queen was ushered in by Bobby Talasek and presented to County Surveyor George Marshall, who presented her with the crown and sceptre. The annual meeting of Joint School District No. 5 of the Town and Village of Kewaskum was held at the public school building in Kewaskum on June 9. Erwin Koch was elected a director to succeed John Klessig. The clerk, Emil C. Backhaus, and treasurer, Anthony P. Schaefer, remain in office as their terms have not expired. It was decided at the meeting to lay out a tennis court on the north side of the school building, with the work on the same to commence immediately. It was also voted to add a manual training course to the school. Disbursements to the high school total $27,874.67.

Joseph Strachota is building a new sidewalk for the village this week on the east side of Fond du Lac Avenue between John Guth's place and Malt House Street.

A.A. Perschbacher is having a foundation built on his lot on North Fond du Lac Avenue, where he will move his warehouse building and arrange it for a dwelling house. Opgenorth and Sons are doing the mason work.

Independence Day was celebrated here in the usual manner last Sunday with a picnic in both parks in the afternoon and a ball in the evening. As far as noise is concerned, it was the most quiet 4th in years gone by. The dance in the North Side Park on the 4th was very largely attended with 296 dance tickets sold. The dance at the South Side Park on the evening of the 5th was also largely attended.

Jacob Schlaefer, son of Joseph Schlaefer, the carpenter of Campbellsport, while at work at the Yankow Brothers barn in the Town of Auburn, fell from the roof on Thursday. He was at work with his men in putting up the rafters on the barn when he fell about 40 feet to the ground breaking his leg and back. His entire body is paralyzed and it is feared his injuries may prove fatal.

Miss Katherine Schoofs, while attending the celebration at the North Side Park on the 4th, came near having her eye blown out by a firecracker exploding when it was accidentally thrown in her face. Her eye was badly burned and at first it was feared that she would lose the sight of her eye. Eddie Guth also met with a bad accident which might have cost him his life. He had placed some shot in a .22 blank cartridge which he was firing out of a revolver. One of the cartridges failed to explode and in examining the gun it accidentally exploded and sent the charge through his left hand between the first and second fingers.

George Bragg, 40, a laborer, working for the C. and N.W. Railway Company, in the gravel pit south of here, while asleep on the railroad track near the overhead bridge at Young America, was struck by a train and instantly killed last Monday. Bragg and another member of the crew were last seen at Barton, from where they left for the pit, where they are living in boarding cars, with the rest of the crew. His companion was also found asleep alongside the track but was not injured.

Sheriff Schoenbeck has been instructed by the Governor to strictly enforce the law relating to slot machines and other gambling devices.

Roman, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schultz, died last Monday from the effects of an obstruction of the bowels. The boy fell at his home last Saturday, which caused an interception of the intestines. He was taken to St. Agnes Hospital in Fond du Lac Monday, where he died shortly after an operation.

Joseph, the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Westerman, while assisting carpenters in laying shingles on his father's barn, fell off the roof, a height of about 16 feet. The boy fell between two lumber piles which probably saved him from being seriously injured.

Honeck's concertina orchestra furnished music at a barn dance held at Ed Laubach's place at Beechwood last Saturday night.

L. Rosenheimer sold the Joseph Schaefer residence Thursday to Henry Garbisch, the ice man, for $2,400.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schoofs last week.

New exhibition at MWA displays life on forgotten island

The Museum of Wisconsin Art proudly announces the opening of Isle of Inspiration: Rediscovering Milwaukee's Jones Island. This new exhibition illustrates the rich and largely forgotten history of Milwaukee's Jones Island and runs from through November 1. On Sunday, September 13, the Museum will host an opening reception from 1:30 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. A coffee reception and gallery talk presented by Assistant Director Graeme Reid is scheduled for Friday morning September 11 at 10:30 a.m. Both events are free with admission to the Museum.

The exhibition will include contemporary and historical photographs of Jones Island, as well as numerous paintings, etchings and other works inspired by this unique enclave just south of Milwaukee's downtown. A symposium celebrating the new exhibit will be held on September 12th. Registration for the symposium is required.

Now an exclusively industrial area, Jones Island was once home to roughly 1600 Polish Kaszubians, who made their living from the lake, and whose existence was for the most part isolated from "mainland" Milwaukee. What is in reality a peninsula, Jones Island derived its name from a short-lived period in its history. In 1857, work was completed on separating the island from the mainland via a channel dug through the peninsula's north side, making the area ideal for Yankee shipbuilders such as Captain James Monroe Jones. Left his operation behind one year later when a nor'easter flooded the area and sediment from Milwaukee's Kinnickinnic River penetrated the island back into a peninsula roughly a decade later, the name Jones Island has remained. It is now owned by Milwaukee's Metropolitan Sewerage District, and is home to the Jones Island Wastewater Treatment Plant, a facility so revolutionary in design that it was accorded the status of a National Historic Engineering Site by the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Jones Island was a magnet for artists seeking a change of pace or a "walk on the wild side." Their paintings and prints not only chart the changing appearance of the island but also changes in artistic styles and trends. The early etchings of Paul Hammersmith and Frank Enders are beautiful in their calm, viceroy description. Robert von Neumann's lithographs capture the muscled brawn of the island's fisherman plying their trade. Howard Thomas painted the island over a period of twenty years with his images becoming more abstract, reflecting nationwide trends in art. Other artists such as Max Fernekes, Emily Groom, Harold Thorsten Lindberg, George New, Alfred Pelikan, Franz Rohrbeck, James Schwalbach and Helmut Summ depicted the island as it neared its end as a settlement. Jim Brozek's photographs capture the modern era of the island: no longer a place of residence, yet still a place of work.

The Museum of Wisconsin Art is located in downtown West Bend at 300 South 6th Avenue. Public hours are Wednesday - Saturday 10:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. and Sunday 1:00 - 4:30 p.m. For more information, call 262-334-9638 or visit our website at www.wisconsinart.org.

Something for everyone at Fondue Fest

The Fondue Fest, presented by MAG Giddings & Lewis, will fill downtown Fondue du Lac on Saturday, September 12, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., with three stages, the fantastically fun Kids Zone, artists and crafters, great food, sidewalk sales, Farmers Market and, of course, fondue!

The free family festival returns with new features and old favorites. The popular regional event will take place rain or shine.

Homegrown entertainment will fill up the Community Stage at Main Street and Merrill Avenue. Watch for shows from SCAMP (Senior Center Adult Musicians Party), Champion Martial Arts and Shut Up & Dance. The KFIZ Quick Fire Challenge, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., will pit two Moraine Park Technical College culinary arts students against each other to see who can create the best dish using secret ingredients.

The South Stage, at Main Street and Western Avenue, will dish up music all day long. Black Iris will kick it off at 10 a.m., Andy's Automatics come on at 12:30 p.m. and Whiskey River Band will finish the day starting at 3 p.m.

The Windhover Center Cultural Stage, at Main Street and Forest Avenue, will host three distinctive acts: Drowsy Maggies, with Celtic tunes; Oneida Nation's Strong Medicine, for a native journey in song, dance and storytelling; and finally, the Mayville Steel Drum Band for their creative sound.

The Main to Marian: Agnesian HealthCare's Family Fun Ride will begin in the Fondue du Lac Public Library parking lot with registration at 8 a.m. The non-competitive fun ride will start at 8:30 a.m., ride to Marian University and back. Helmets are required for the ride.

The wildly popular Kids Zone, presented by The Garden, will be loaded with free fun for kids of all ages, including a radar speed pitch, giant slide and bungee rock wall. Come to the zone to try your hand at creating award-winning art. The Garden, a non-denominational church, will conduct an art contest and will hang the winning entries at their new location, 271 N. Park Ave. Watch, too, for The Garden's hands-on community mural, which also will be hung at their location.

A new feature of Fondue Fest, the M&R Recovery Car Show, will fill up First Street with cars of all shapes and sizes on display. The organization will be collecting contributions for the holiday Toys for Tots program.

Don't miss the fondue! The wonderful chefs at Moraine Park Technical College's Culinary Arts Program will whip up a cheese fondue and a chocolate fondue at their station at Main Street and Forest Avenue. And of course, the 2007 Guinness World Record-winning Largest Fondue Set will be on display.

The first program in the series, Fall Bird Migration through the Kettle Moraine, will be held on Thursday, September 10, starting at 7:00 p.m. at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center. The Ice Age Visitor Center is located off of Hwy 67 half mile west of Dundee. This program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

The hills of the Kettle Moraine provide many migrating birds with a landmark to help them stay the course on their journeys southward. The Kettle Moraine also offers "four-star motel" accommodations for these winged travelers by providing superior resting spots and refueling stations.

And, as always, downtown merchants and businesses will be out in force with amazing deals and great merchandise. Food booths will be sprinkled throughout the festival. And the popular Fondue du Lac Farmers Market vendors will move to the festival to bring the best in locally grown produce and plants, locally made syrups and cheeses, and handmade arts and crafts.

More information about Fondue Fest can be found at www.fonduefest.com.

The Fondue Fest is an event of the Downtown Fondue du Lac Partnership. The mission of the partnership, a Wisconsin Main Street community, is to establish a diverse, prosperous and healthy district that is the social, commercial and cultural heart of their community. For information about the partnership, visit www.downtownfdl.com or call (920) 921-9500.

Join Bill Volkert, Horicon State Wildlife Area Wildlife Educator and avid birder, as he unravels some of the mysteries surrounding the migration of our summer resident birds. Through his spectacular images of these winged travelers, he will illustrate the incredible journeys they take to escape winter's cold and snow. You won't want to miss this evening as you take flight with the birds of the Northern Unit.

For further information or directions, contact the forest staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The center's phone number is (920) 533-8322 and is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

One hundred and fifty-five relatives from Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Michigan, South Dakota, Florida and Texas converged on July 26th at River Hill Park in Kewaskum for the 70th annual reunion of the descendants of Christian Friedrich Seefeld (1795-1865) and Anna Sophia Kobs (1795-1835). Following a tradition that began in 1940, the day began with a picnic lunch. Brats and hamburgers were provided through the tremendous generosity of Gail and Phil Majerus and the bountiful buffet was completed with many homemade salads and fantastic desserts.

Reunion president Dennis Seefeld conducted the annual business meeting, where recognition was given to Guy and Nan Schroeder of The Woodland, Texas, for traveling the farthest. Earl and Dorothy Hodgson of Mountain traveled the greatest distance within Wisconsin.

Merlin Crass and Mae Seefeld were hailed as the oldest male and female, respectively. Also recognized was the youngest attendee, three-month-old Mason Casper.

Congratulations were extended to Merlin and Alice Crass as the couple married the longest, at 66 years. Working to catch up with them were the most recently married couple, Thomas and Jean Sharp, at two years.

The David branch was recognized as the largest group of family members in attendance.

Following the meeting, the family joined their voices in a sing-a-long led by Colleen Lingenfelter. The afternoon continued with bingo, children's games and a silent auction. Much time was spent looking through the family scrapbooks and reminiscing about past reunions and family events. Later, a group photo was taken.

In honor of the 70th reunion, 70 balloons were launched, each with a postcard attached asking the recipient to send the location and date the balloon was found. The family is looking forward to the replies.

The 71st reunion is being planned for July 25, 2010.

By Katie Oscar

Statesman School Correspondent

Hi everyone! My name is Katie Oscar. I'm a junior this year at Kewaskum High School. I'm very excited to be the new KHS Student Correspondent to The Statesman.

In addition to school, I like to read, swim, watch movies, and spend time with my family and friends. I'm involved in multiple clubs and Forensics. I also enjoy volunteering with a Brownie troop at my church.

The 2009-2010 school year began on Tuesday, September 1st. Teachers had already been at school, getting ready for the new year. They attended in-service and prep days. As always, some students were enthused about coming back to school. Others were not. Regardless, it will be a great year at Kewaskum High School.

Several changes have been made at the high school this school year. During the past two years, students have had advisories in place of traditional homerooms. The number of times a week advisories are held has been changed from two to four.

For the first time ever, KHS held a freshmen warm-up week. This week was to help the incoming freshmen class get ready for high school with activities and class bonding. Freshmen got a chance to go through a mock school day in high school, and find their way around the building. This replaced the traditional early start on the first day for freshmen, and thereby removed the late start for upper-classmen.

A new grading policy is in place. The goaling of this policy is to make grades be based on standards. I will write more on this new grading system in weeks to come.

The football team has been practicing and has already played a few games. Almost everyone looks forward to Friday night football games, and of course for Homecoming. School spirit is always high on Game Day. Lots of students show their support by dressing in Kewaskum colors, beads, and spirit-wear. Other fall sports have begun practice and play as well.

In addition to sports, the arts are alive at KHS. Yes, it is again time for the fall musical. Any student is welcome to try out, and many did. Auditions were held after school on Wednesday. To audition, students had to sing a short song and read lines from a script. Call-backs for larger roles were held on Thursday evening. Those invited to call-backs had to sing a song from the musical. They also had to read from a script and act out a scene with other individuals. Students who did not get larger roles will form the chorus, and some may have small walk-on roles.

Prior to joining Moraine Park in 2007, Barnhouse was the assistant campus dean for administrative services at the University of Wisconsin-Sheboygan.

They said it couldn't be done.

It wasn't possible. Nobody'd done it, and you weren't going to be the first. Try all you want, it ain't happenin'.

That's what they all said, and they were wrong.

Have you ever been faced with nay-sayers who don't know what they're talking about? When Warren Moon said he wanted to be an NFL quarterback, some said it could never be. But Moon wouldn't listen. In the new book "Never Give Up on Your Dream" (with Don Yaeger), Moon talks about his life, football, and being the first African American quarterback inducted to the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

From the time he was 10 years old and playing Pop Warner football in his Los Angeles neighborhood, Warren Moon knew he wanted to be a quarterback. A QB made things happen. Moon was raised to be a leader, the "man of the house" after his father died. Being a leader as a pro quarterback was all he dreamed.

But there seemed to be a barrier, and Moon thought it might be the color of his skin. Most quarterbacks at the time were white, and - although some coaches were supportive - Moon says that he experienced racism, which shocked him.

Few could deny his talent. Moon had a "strong arm" and he knew he could play. So in the NFL draft following graduation, Moon was "stunned" to learn that he was passed up by the league. By that time, though, he'd signed up to play football in Canada for the CFL. It was a chance to hone his game.

Moon remembers feeling "at home" in Edmonton, but he was ever-eager to come back to the States. When the NFL came knocking, he was ready - eventually playing for Houston, Seattle, Minnesota, and Kansas City. Despite that he never got a Super Bowl ring - a deep regret - Moon is, today, the only player ever inducted into both the Pro Football and the Canadian Football Halls of Fame.

Despite several incidences of tedious repetition (Strong arm. Yeah. We got it), "Never Give Up on Your Dream" isn't a bad book - if you're a major football fan.

Pigskin fans will drool over author Warren Moon's stories and recollections, the excitement he relates of the games he's played, and the astounding long path he took to reach a career pinnacle that should be the envy of every player or future player. In these stories, Moon grabs fans by their replication jerseys and brings them right down on the field.

Alas, for readers who aren't die-hard fans, this book is going to be hard to get through. Moon writes briefly about his

White-Haired Whippersnappers Mature in Years, Young in Heart

In consideration of Grandparent's Day, September 13, I would like to take a moment to honor the fortitude (and feistiness) of seniors.

Seniors like poet Dorothy Duncan who was once told, at age 89, that she "had lived" a full life. She promptly responded, "Don't you pasture me! I am living a full life!"

Seniors like Frank Lloyd Wright who displayed equal spunk well into his advancing years. The famous architect was once asked, at age 83, which of his works he would select as his masterpiece. He responded, "My next one."

Seniors like Pablo Picasso who painted until he was into his 90's, and Grandma Moses who continued her painting career until she was 100 years old. (Grandma Moses, the celebrated American artist, didn't even begin painting until she was 78 years old—and never even had an art lesson!)

Seniors like world-famous pianist Arthur Rubinstein who gave one of his greatest recitals at age 89, and jazz pianist Eubie Blake who was still performing at nearly 100 years old.

Seniors like actor/comedian George Burns who won his only Oscar at age 80, and then continued starring in Hollywood roles for another twenty years after that.

I'm inspired by people like humanitarian Dr. Albert Schweitzer who was still performing surgical operations in his African hospital at age 89, Benjamin Franklin who assisted in framing the U.S. Constitution at age 81, Golda Meir who became Prime Minister of Israel at 71, Verdi who gave the world his famous "Ave Maria" when he was 85, environmentalist Marjory Stoneman Douglas who continued to actively champion her cause of preserving the Florida Everglades at age 108, and by Tennyson, the 19th century English writer who made profound contributions to world literature throughout his lifetime, including "Crossing the Bar," written when he was 80.

I'm inspired by the physical accomplishments of circus performer Karl Wallenda who continued to perform on tightropes suspended between high-rise skyscrapers into his 70's, and by Henry Ford who could still do a hand-stand at age 75. (This is interesting to me at my age—a wee less than 50—because there are many mornings, more than I can count on all of my fingers and all of my toes, when I wonder if I will be able to do a "foot stand" when I get out of bed.)

I am in agreement with Oliver Wendell Holmes who, after a lifetime of observing people, came to the conclusion that to be 70 years young was far more cheerful and hopeful than to be 40 years old.

My dear mother wholeheartedly agrees with Mr. Holmes. She, despite suffering two strokes, and enduring a recovery that graduated her first to a walker, and finally to a cane, tells anyone who will listen: "I have to keep going! The grim reaper can't hit a moving target!"

"Youth is not a time of life, it is a state of mind; it is not a matter of ripe cheeks, red lips, and supple knee; it is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions; it is a freshness of the deep springs of life. Youth means a predominance of courage over timidity, and of adventure over the love of ease. This can exist in a man of 60 more than a boy of 20. Nobody grows old merely by living a number of years. People grow old only by deserting their ideals. Years may wrinkle the skin, but to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul. Worry, doubt, self-distrust, fear, and despair—these bow the heart and turn the growing spirit back to dust. Whether 70 or 17 there is in every being's heart the love of wonder, the sweet amazement of the stars, the undaunted challenge of events, the un-failing childlike appetite for what is next, and the joy of living. You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubt; as young as your self-confidence, as old as your fear; as young as your hope, as old as your despair."

SAMUEL ULLMAN

"There is a fountain of youth; it is your mind, your talents, and the creativity you bring to your life and to the lives of others. When you learn to tap this source, you will have truly defeated age."

SOPHIA LOREN

childhood, and only just a little about his personal life; not much, in either case, to satisfy someone who wants more memoir.

If you never miss a football game, you won't want to miss this book, either, because it's written for you. If you're not a major fan, though, skip it. "Never Give Up on Your Dream" will be hard for you to get done.

KEWASKUM- One of the two finalists was going to win his 11th Men's Championship Sunday at Hon-E-Kor Country Club.

Kewaskum's Clark Eichstedt and Craig Anderson of West Bend battled tooth and nail for the honor, and the drama unfolded on the 25th hole of the match — this year's event was cut from 36 holes to 27 holes — when Anderson hit his tee shot to within three inches of the hole for a "gimme" birdie and a 1-up lead which he protected on the final two holes for the victory.

"He hit the shot of the day on Red No. 7," Eichstedt said after the match.

Demonstrating a mutual respect for his opponent's game, Anderson said, "Both of us played well," adding, "In match play, it's a key putt here or there or a big shot here or there." Anderson came up with that big shot.

The match started on the Blue Nine, and Anderson said, "We were even after nine. I won No. 2 with a par, and then I lost No. 9. It's the only hole I played poorly all day. I made double (bogey)."

Eichstedt made a charge on the White Nine, with birdies on Nos. 11 and 15, giving him a 2-up advantage, but Anderson battled back. On 18, he put his third shot just five feet from the cup and knocked in the putt for a birdie, and he followed that with a birdie on No. 1 Red, so the match was back to even with eight holes to play.

The two traded taking holes on Nos. 4 and 5, so with four left it was still even.

"I hit a six-iron," Anderson said about his near ace on No. 7. The two tied No. 8, then Eichstedt conceded a 3-footer on No. 9, so the match goes down officially as a 2-up win for Anderson, a match teacher and the boys golf coach at West Bend West.

Eichstedt said he was even until the fourth hole on the Red Nine and ended up with three birdies on the day.

Eichstedt said he was scheduled to play in the Men's State Senior Open Tuesday and Wednesday (Sept. 15-16) at Mascoutin in Berlin.

In Saturday's semifinals, Eichstedt eliminated Jim Rohlinger 3-and-2, while Anderson defeated Rod Donnelly 3-and-1.

Ted Wuebben claimed the First Flight title over Mike Volesky 3-and-2, while Tom Timblin downed Brian Ogle 1-up for the Second Flight championship, and Buck Averill crushed Chuck Rondorf 6-and-5 in the Third Flight finals.

In the Senior division, it was Bill Wuebben taking care of Mike Smith 4-and-2, while Norb Rohlinger won the Senior First Flight 4-and-3 over Mike Pfeiffer.

The competition in the Women's Division was handicapped, and Debra Timblin emerged as the Women's champion with her 6-and-5 victory over Sharon Scott. In the semifinals, Timblin ousted Kate Korth 2-and-1, while Scott eliminated Kelly Marquardt 1-up.

The veteran Betty Hallen emerged as the top woman in the First Flight, downing Bev Rohlinger 3-and-2. Rohlinger tipped Kathy Hron 1-up in the semis, while Sarah Olds withdrew against Hallen.

ing, their coats are starting to turn dark and they are losing spots.

Fall migration is in full swing. Most orioles are now gone and there should be a large push of warblers in the next week. Nighthawks are migrating. Look for them flying in groups, hunting insects at dusk. Their migration through Wisconsin will be over in a couple weeks. Barred Owls and whippoorwills have been calling in early evening. Large flocks of starlings and blackbirds are starting to show up.

Acorns have begun falling. Berries and other seeds are plentiful now. The reds of the jack-in-the-pulpit and bunchberry and the white of the white bane berry, dogwood, or snowberry, and the blues of clintonia, American yew, or blueberry make woodlots look very patriotic. Other seeds are not as neat to see. Hounds' tongue and burdock are sticking to pant legs, shoe laces and dog fur.

Some of the late summer/early fall flowers that can be seen now are large-leaved aster, sunflowers, goldenrod, and jewelweed. Jewelweed goes by another name...touch-me-not. If the ripe seed capsule of this plant is touched the capsule will shoot its seeds out.

WISCONSIN DNR Weekly Report

Weather this past week has been unseasonably cool for late summer, with most of the state receiving less than half an inch of rain. Trees have just started to show their promise of a colorful fall. The Wisconsin Department of Tourism's Fall Report of (available online: http://www.travelwisconsin.com/fallcolor\_report.aspx) predicts peak colors are still four weeks to eight weeks off in different areas of the state.

Anglers have been fishing Lake Superior tributaries for lake run browns that are in the river, along with an occasional steelhead. Last year the peak runs of Lake Superior salmon were from the last week of September to first week October.

The Lake Michigan chinook salmon that will be spawning this fall have started to turn dark. The females are getting plump and the eggs are developing quickly. Males are starting to develop the characteristic hooked jaw or "kype." Chinook salmon are starting to move into the Sturgeon Bay Ship Canal and a few have been taken by shore and pier anglers and are expected to start entering Strawberry Creek within the next couple of weeks. Some have been spotted up the Kewaunee River.

Poor weather conditions and rough seas made for only fair action out on Lake Michigan. Anglers have been reporting some good success casting spoons for trout and salmon off of the piers in Algoma, Kewaunee, Sheboygan, Port Washington and Milwaukee. Boat anglers that ventured out of the more northern ports had some success trolling on Lake Michigan this week with a good mix of chinook salmon, rainbow trout and coho salmon reported.

The mouth of the Peshtigo River saw a flurry of activity this week for smallmouth bass. Anglers at Oconto were reporting some real quality catches of perch. Perch fishing was fair to good along the Door County side of the bay. Smallmouth bass fishing was fair throughout Door County.

Bass action has been great on Lake Winnebago, where the walleye bite has also been picking up.

Water levels have been good on the Kickapoo River for canoeing. The Mississippi River "spiked" last week at 7.7 feet but slowly settled down and was at 7.1 feet Monday at Prairie du Chien. Walleye and sauger action was fair and bass action remained good.

The early Canada goose season opened this week and hunters were reporting good success. This season targets locally breeding "giant" Canada geese and is held before migratory geese move into Wisconsin. Locally breeding geese are being seen in large flocks in preparation for migration. Waterfowl hunters are encouraged to scout area marshes ahead of time as water levels are lower than normal.

The red summer coats of white-tailed deer are starting to turn to the darker winter color. Bucks should start shedding velvet from their antlers soon. Fawns are also chang-

Indians kickers come close to Two Rivers win

The Indians' Dillion Thelen attempts to catch a ball intended for his net during Thursday's game when the Indians hosted and were defeated by Two Rivers. Thelen kept the ball from the net but got kicked in the process, sending him out of the game for a short period in the second half. A hard effort ended in a 2-1 loss for the Indians however.

KEWASKUM- The young Indians soccer team showed definite improvement at home Thursday when they met with Two Rivers. The end result favored The Purple Raiders, 2-1, but the young team worked hard to keep the ball away from their net.

Goalie Dillion Thelen had to be tired after this game and was easily the game's MVP stopping 12 shots from Two Rivers.

Next in line was Andres Rodriquez as he and Caleb Olla gave an impressive offensive hustle. Rodriquez scored the team's only goal of the game after 25 minutes of play.

Two Rivers quickly tied the game four minutes later.

By Mitch Maersch

HARTFORD- Kewaskum's volleyball team went 2-2 at last Saturday's Hartford Invitational against many bigger schools, good for fifth place.

Coach Joe Moser knows it could have been better. He said his team has to "make sure we're playing to our abilities the whole time and not letting down."

The Indians beat Mayville, lost to Hartford and Whitefish Bay before beating Madison Memorial for fifth.

After sweeping Mayville 3-0 on Tuesday, the Indians took care of the Cardinals again, 25-20, 25-20. Kayla Bastian and Elissa Miller had four kills each, and George Abfall and Ashley Faber three each. Erika Heberer had 11 assists, and Faber served three aces.

Bastian had eight digs, Lauren Gonring six, Faber five and Heberer four.

The Indians started off with a win against Hartford but lost the next two, 25-22, 22-25 and 10-15.

"I thought we played very competitively with Hartford," Moser said.

After winning the first game, the Orioles had an outside hitter who "was on fire" in Game 2, and the Indians couldn't stop her.

In Game 3, an Oriole server got on a roll and put Kewaskum in too big of a hole to catch up.

Heberer finished with eight kills, Miller five and Faber three. Heberer had 10 assists and Faber seven. Bastian had 14 digs, Haley Rauch nine and Heberer and Gonring five each. Faber had two aces.

Against Whitefish Bay, the Indians lost in three, 21-25, 25-18 and 9-15.

"Whitefish Bay had a fantastic setter but I thought we beat ourselves with some errors. I thought we should have won that match," Moser said.

Miller had eight kills, Bastian five and Faber four. Heberer had 14 assists and Faber had six. Rauch had 12 digs.

Madison Memorial was the last match of the day. The Indians won Game 1 25-16 and Moser cleared his bench for Game 2 to get more girls some playing time. Memorial bounced back 25-15, before the Indian starters returned in Game 3 to finish off the match, 15-12.

Heberer had six kills, Abfall five and Monica Dehler four. Heberer had 16 assists and Faber six. Bastian had seven digs, Gonring six and Faber five. Rauch had four aces.

Zuehlke cards 47; Indians jump to 3rd WLT match

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

OCONOMOWOC- KHS golf coach Amy Piwoni must have breathed a sigh of relief Thursday, September 3, after her Indians competed in the third Wisconsin Little Ten meet of the years at the Rolling Hills Golf Course (formerly Lac La Belle) near Oconomowoc.

Heather Zuehlke had a breakthrough round, the kind of round Piwoni has been waiting for her 2009 MVP to have. Behind Zuehlke's 47, the Indians placed third with a 209 total and were just a stroke behind Hartford.

"Overall I was pleased with the scores," Piwoni said, reporting Zuehlke had been struggling off the tee in previous matches, so "We've been really working on that in practice ... The other parts of her game were okay."

Zuehlke's card included one par and five bogeys, and Piwoni said, "I'm pleased she finally got in the forties."

Oconomowoc won its second straight meet, carding a team total 200. Leading the way for the Cooney was Brinkley Schmidt, who fired a 7-over par 43.

Watertown ended up fourth at 211, followed by Beaver Dam, 226; and West Bend, 249.

All of the Kewaskum counters did well. Megan Gavin was second low with her 53, then came senior Danielle

Heather Zuehlke

Donnelly at 54 and one shot back was Kate Winkler with a 55. This was the Indians' most consistent scoring of the year and gave Piwoni reason for optimism.

At the halfway point of the conference season, Hartford is clinging to a 1-point lead over Oconomowoc, 5-6, while Watertown is in third with nine points, and Kewaskum is next with 11.

In the battle for the WLT medal and spots on the all-conference team, Alexa Snyder of Oconomowoc is first with an 89, counting two of her best three scores while Schmidt is at 94.

Zuehlke is sitting in a tie for sixth placer with a 101 on rounds of 54 and 47. Winkler is tied for eight at 103.

All the Little Ten teams were at West Bend Country Club on Tuesday, Sept. 8.

After being kicked in the shin while blocking a shot Thelen was replaced by Ian Kenworthy, who faced two shots and allowed the second Purple Raiders goal.

Coach Luke Piwoni said he felt encouraged after the match. "I thought we played well and had our scoring chances but we just were not able to put another one in the net. The defense has been improving and I thought they played a very good game. Kyle Phillips has really taken to his new position of stopper and become a leader on the Defensive line."

Thursday, the Indians swept Campbellsport out of the Kewaskum field house, 25-20, 25-22 and 25-8.

Moser noted the Indians' 11 service errors.

"We played pretty well. We missed more serves than we want to," Moser said. "I think if we fix some of those mental errors we can be a really good volleyball team. I think that's a mental thing."

Heberer had eight kills, Ab-fall five and Miller and Dehler four each. Heberer had 11 assists and Faber seven. Heberer, Gonring and Rauch each had five digs. Heberer had five aces, Bastian four and Rauch three.

Today, the Indians (4-0 in conference, 8-2 overall) take on conference opponent Sheboygan Falls on the road, followed by another conference road match at New Holstein next Thursday.

Kewaskum 14, West Bend West 0 | Game gets physical for Indians at home

Indians find a challenge in home opener

KEWASKUM- In a game of physicality and field position, the Indians football team was matched in one and didn't take much advantage of the other.

But after being outgained by about 100 yards, sometimes outmanned and turning the ball over three times near the end zone, a look on the scoreboard at the end of last Friday's game had the Indians beating West Bend West, 14-0. "They hit us hard," said Kewaskum Coach Jason Piittmann. "We didn't protect the ball. It was a good lesson for us. We were able to overcome our mistakes."

Both Indian scores came on fourth downs and were either passes or set up by passes.

In the first quarter, Indians quarterback Cody Nuernberg hit C.J. Bowe with a 52-yard bomb in the first quarter that later led to a 3-yard touchdown run on fourth and goal by Tony Crossman for the Indians' first score.

In the third quarter on fourth and 10 from West's 20, Nuernberg scrambled to his right and shook off one would-be tackler. As the defense came up to stop him from running, Bowe became wide open in the end zone and screamed for the ball. Nuernberg threw while running and hit his target.

"I was yelling, jumping up and down hoping he'd see me," Bowe said.

The ball took forever to fall.

"It just hung there," Bowe said. "It was a great feeling."

"He's a possession-type of receiver," Piittmann said. "He's always had good hands. He's the kind of kid defenses will forget about."

The Spartans held the Indians to 52 yards rushing by holding the ball for about 30 of the game's 48 minutes and winning many of the battles on the line of scrimmage. They didn't, however, win many against Cody Seibel.

From his inside linebacker spot, Seibel made several bone-jarring hits driving ball carriers straight into the ground, sometimes the pads cracking loud enough to be heard back in West Bend. One was a solid, solo tackle to hold tough runner LaQuan Spikes to a 1-yard gain on fourth and three early in the fourth quarter.

Unofficial stats had Seibel with six solo tackles and 12 more assists.

Just what is it like to hit people like that?

"It feels great, especially when they sit there and take a while to get up," Seibel said. "It boosts your energy. It boosts your team's energy."

Kewaskum got great field position mostly from Brandon Zolp whether he touched the ball or not. The Devin Hester-like speedster returned two punts for 46 yards, including a 30-yard jaunt that netted a 3-yard punt for West. After that, the Spartans stopped kicking to him, angling punts out of bounds. One was shanked for 15 yards from West's 5, leading to the Indians' second touchdown.

"That helps field position, too," Piittmann said. "We're not getting the 40-yard return for us, but he's able to set us up."

For the season, Zolp has five punt returns for 130 yards a 26-yard average, including a 61-yard touchdown.

"Just finding somebody to block. We set up a good wall," Zolp said of his returns. "I've got Cody Seibel in front of me so that's always good."

Seibel does more than block in the field position game. In this year's first two games, he is averaging 40.5 yards per boot, including a 50-yarder last week and another that pinned West inside its 10 late in the game.

"He told the kids where he was going to put it and he did," Piittmann said.

In a game featuring enough passing to make Bill Walsh smile from his grave, West threw more but Kewaskum threw bigger. West quarterback Brandon Cowie finished 15 of 30 for 128 yards and two interceptions, mostly with quick sideline passes to backs and rollouts. Nuernberg was 5 for 10 for 118 with a touchdown and interception.

Piittmann, who called passes on four of his first eight offensive plays, is fine with the air game on both sides of the ball, as long as his team is dictating. Forcing opponents to pass allows the defense to "bend, don't break," he said. "Kids are able to contain that bubble."

Seibel broke one Spartan scoring chance on the first ball Cowie would want back. On third and goal from the Indians' 8-yard line late in the first half, Cowie rolled right and looked for a receiver. He fired into a crowded end zone and hit Seibel in the gut.

Bo Seibel stopped a Spartan drive late in the game with his own pick. From their 1-yard line, the Spartans drove to Kewaskum's 25 before Seibel intercepted a pass near the 15. He returned it to the Indians' 49, and three kneel downs closed out the game.

Kewaskum squandered other scoring chances with turnovers. West tried a surprise onside kick to start the game, but Matt Ballard fielded the ball cleanly from the front line and set up the Indians just short of midfield. A Nuernberg fumble inside the 10 stopped the drive.

In the third quarter from West's 23, Nuernberg was intercepted in the back of the end zone and a Steve Chapman fumble inside the Spartans' 10 in the fourth quarter ended two more scoring chances.

Indian lineman Cody Enright recovered a Cody Seibel fumble inside West's 5 in the first quarter that preserved the Kewaskum's first scoring drive.

"It was very much a dog-fight," Piittmann said. "They are big. It's tough to combat."

The Indians finished off another sweep of West Bend teams. To open the season, Kewaskum spanked West Bend East, 34-6.

NOTES

In the third quarter Jordan Blank caught a tipped pass and delivered a shot to a West defensive back before being tackled after an 18-yard gain; Two of Cody Seibel's bone-crunching hits came on consecutive plays in the third quarter after Kewaskum scored its second touchdown. Each hit was on a different back running up the gut. West was flagged for 10 penalties, including three face masks. Kewaskum was flagged for three.

LOOKING AHEAD

It's not going to get any easier come Friday. The Indians open Eastern Wisconsin Conference play at Kiel, which Piittmann says has one of the fastest players in the conference at quarterback. While Kiel has a new coach, many of the players are in their third year of varsity play, he said.

"We're not doing enough consistently now," Piittmann said. "We've got to have four good days of practice this week."

Kiel is 2-0 after beating Chilton 12-0 in its first game and Howards Grove 48-13 last week.

Last year, the Indians beat Kiel 38-7.
