Trooper honored for life-saving action at Hon-E-Kor

MADISON- A member of the Wisconsin State Patrol has been honored for his role in saving the life of a man stricken with a heart attack while golfing at Hon-E-Kor Golf and Country Club. Trooper Kristian P. Perales of West Bend was among 21 who was honored for exemplary service at the State Capitol Wednesday, Sept. 9.

Trooper Perales responded with other law enforcement and an off duty Kewaskum EMT on June 7. Trooper Perales responded and found the man on the ground.

He did not have a pulse and was not breathing. A Washington County sheriff's deputy and Kewaskum police officer also arrived.

The deputy used an automated external defibrillator on the man to obtain a faint pulse. Trooper Perales administered CPR breaths while the EMT performed chest compressions.

They continued CPR until an ambulance arrived. The man was transported to a hospital where he received surgery for an arterial blockage.

For quick actions that helped save the man's life, Trooper Perales' received the Lifesaving Award. This is Trooper Perales' third Lifesaving Award in his nine-year career with the State Patrol.

TOWN of FARMINGTON- Brad Riekkoff got his conditional use permit to run his auto repair shop that drew noise complaints from neighbors, but can only be open to customers during a Town Board-imposed schedule, along with other restrictions.

Riekkoff and the board compromised on a schedule at last week's Town Board meeting, after a heated meeting in July drew residents for and against the shop, some saying it made too much noise and others saying it doesn't and Riekkoff is only running his business to earn a living. The board decided West Bend Dyno Tuning at 8450 Trading Post Trail will be allowed to be open Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The board had requested Riekkoff to close at 8 on Tuesdays and Thursdays, but he convinced them to make it 9.

"I need to work on the dyno," Riekkoff told the board.

Supervisor Art Seyfert agreed to the request since many businesses close at 9.

"I think that's reasonable," he said.

Riekkoff can work on his dyno - the machine drawing the noise complaints - until 9 p.m. every day but can only be open to customers during his hours of business. He is required to keep his garage doors closed while the dyno is in operation.

Riekkoff was instructed to continue to tell customers not to rev their engines when they pull out of his driveway and to exit to the north if possible.

"We want to keep the noise down as much as possible," said Town Chairman Gary Schreiber.

The board unanimously approved the conditional use permit.

The board will review the situation in six months. If everything is going well, the shop's hours may be extended.

"That's fair," Riekkoff said.

If you're going to pave your driveway, check with the town first.

You need a permit.

If you don't get one, you're going to be charged double.

The Town Board at last week's meeting approved amending its ordinance to double the permit fee from $20 to $40 when the homeowner doesn't apply for one before paving.

While asphalt and gravel driveways are fine, concrete driveways that go into the road right of way damage snow plows, said Schreiber.

Three town residents in the past month have put in concrete driveways without permits, he said.

The town puts a note about requiring permits for paving driveways in with residents' tax bills, but people apparently weren't reading them, Schreiber said.

Farmington to hire consultant for 2035 plan

By Mitch Maersch
For the Statesman

TOWN OF FARMINGTON - In an effort to better understand its comprehensive 2035 plan and protect its land use rights, the town will hire The Foundation For Common Sense Inc. before approving the document.

The Town Board voted 2-1 to hire the nonprofit organization at last week's meeting. Supervisor Mark Foyse voted against, saying he wanted more discussion before agreeing to hire the foundation.

The cost is $1,500 for three meetings in which Jay Verhulst, president of the two-person organization, will go through the town's plan and tweak wording to preserve land use rights.

Specifically, Verhulst suggests changing some wording in each town's individual 2035 plans, namely replacing "intergovernmental cooperation" with "coordination."

While intergovernmental cooperation can lead a town to lose its land use rights to other municipalities, state or federal government, coordination, he said, gives the town "a seat at the table" when land use changes are requested, such as putting a highway through a town.

The decision to hire the foundation came after August's Plan Commission meeting at which Verhulst gave a presentation leading to a contentious debate over the credibility of his claims among several town officials from the area.

Verhulst, who runs his organization with his wife, is not a lawyer but says one attorney is on his organization's board of directors who has had success out west invoking "coordination." Verhulst charges to take towns through the process to change the wording in their 2035 plans. He says he personally reaps no financial benefit from his work.

Joshua Glass, a planner with the Washington County Planning and Parks Department, told the audience there is no legal weight to Verhulst's claims, citing opinion from an attorney with the Wisconsin Towns Association. Glass cited two letters from Lee Turonie, assistant legal counsel with the association.

Turonie says coordination only applies to cases involving federally owned land managed by the BLM. Wisconsin has "very little" land managed by the BLM, most of it tribal land, he wrote.

"There is zero State of Wisconsin law that can be used as a basis for demanding Coordination," Turonie wrote.

Last week, a similar debate ensued last week between the board, a few residents and a county planner.

"I don't understand the plan," said Town Chairman Gary Schreiber. He wants someone to explain it to him in "plain English."

Debora Sielski, deputy administrator for the county's Planning and Parks Department, said the plan is written by planners.

"That's the problem," Schreiber said. "It's not written in layman's terms."

Sielski said she and Nancy Anderson, a chief county assistant planner with the Southeast Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission, will answer any questions on the plan.

"Will you change it if you don't like something?" said Supervisor Mark Foyse.

"Yes," Sielski said. "It's your plan."

Sielski is worried that changing portions of the plan may not make it compliant with state requirements. Farmington's plan now meets all requirements.

Schreiber said while the town's attorney doesn't know anything about the Foundation For Common Sense and the Towns Association disagrees with its stance on land use planning, Supervisor Art Seyfert spent a lot of time with Verhulst and is "reasonably convinced" in a few years the town may have lost some freedoms if it approves its 2035 plan as is.

Town resident Dale Spaeth questioned whether or not Verhulst could do a thorough job since he's the only one working on the plan. He said he knows some of the towns up north that contracted with the foundation, and they're "tiny" compared to Farmington.

Town resident Travis Bryant asked if a cheaper alternative is available.

"$1,500 sounds like a lot of money," he said.

"What is the value, "Seyfert said, "of our authority and freedom here in the town of Farmington?"

Town resident Chris Elbe asked if anything beyond $1,500 would need to be spent. Seyfert said it depends on what the town does with its plan.

Sielski said she and Anderson will try to arrange their schedules to be at each meeting with Verhulst and the town Plan Commission.

The state-imposed deadline to pass the 2035 plan is Dec. 31.

This week could be described as 'settling in'. Students know where their classes are.

They know their schedules. Teachers have been learning their students' names. Already a sense of routine is taking effect, replacing the first week back elation and trauma.

The seniors were able to vote for a class t-shirt design, and purchase a shirt.

Juniors have been planning their class carnival. The carnival will be held on September 16 and 17. The juniors also have begun fundraising for prom with a Little Ceasar's pizza kit sale.

In regards to fundraising, the choirs are selling Entertainment Books. The money raised will go towards a trip with the band.

The musical cast met to practice for the first time on Tuesday, September 8. Cast members sang the main musical numbers, and had the opportunity to meet the directors.

Key Club held its first meeting, welcoming back both old and new members.

On Thursday the 10th, Spanish Club held its first meeting, inviting new and old members to go out to eat on Thursday the 17th. The club is going out to Senor Luna's in Grafton.

Chess club met as well, already forming a team.

Upcoming events at KHS include a Prom committee meeting, an NHS officer's meeting, and many other fun events.

Neumann officially announces Gubernatorial candidacy

Former U.S. Rep. Mark Neumann pledged to hold the growth of government spending below the rate of inflation if elected governor as he officially announced his campaign.

Neumann, who filed papers to run for governor in July, used an on-line news conference to pledge he would use technology, creativity and innovation to streamline government.

"We are ready to lead the state of Wisconsin out of the past and into the future," the Republican said during the news conference, which his campaign hailed as the first of its kind in the state.

The home builder from Nashoota promised to focus his campaign on three things: reducing taxes, maintaining a quality education system and achieving environmental goals without hurting the state's business climate.

As part of that effort, he pledged to cap the growth of government spending to 1 percent less than the rate of inflation.

HARTFORD- The Hartford Union High School orchestra, chorus, band and spirit squad helped to rev-up the campaign team at the United Way of Washington County's 2009 Campaign Pep Rally Kick-off. This campaign event was attended by over 100 community leaders and volunteers on September 9th at the Chandelier Ballroom.

Anthony J. "Tony" Warren, West Bend Mutual Insurance Chairman of the Board, is the chair of the United Way campaign for the second consecutive year. "I am pleased to return as Campaign Chair because I have seen first-hand how United Way creates teamwork within the agencies themselves as well as motivates volunteers who want to help create a better place to live for our families, children and friends," explained Warren.

Warren announced the 2009 campaign year goal of $1,075,000. "Considering the economic times, we feel this campaign goal is ambitious. Still, it isn't enough to meet the growing needs of those citizens that need help the most," continued Warren.

To assure that continuity exists year to year, Ric Leitheiser, M&I Community Bank President, agreed to be the 2009 Campaign Vice-Chair so that he will be able to hit the ground running as next year's Campaign Chair.

"We are again using the theme, Give at Home - When It Matters Most, because we feel it encourages all of us to invest in our community so that it remains a great place to live," commented Leitheiser. "Although many of us in Washington county are blessed, others are struggling - hungry children and adults, people who are homeless, juvenile offenders in need of guidance, first time parents, parents who are in jail, and agencies struggling to fund services greatly needed within our county. United Way offers us the opportunity to help those who are in need."

Laura Giesenschlag, United Way Executive Director, introduced campaign "refs" that will help during this year's campaign, including Campaign Division Leaders, Loaned Executives, Agency Representatives, and past Campaign Chairs. "We are blessed to have so many committed volunteers willing to help raise funds to address human service needs within our county," stated Giesenschlag.

This year the United Way office worked with Mariah Carey, Whitney Houston, IDL, Dreamworks, Cherrylane Music, and Sony records to use the music "When You Believe" during its campaign. This song inspires hope and shows that everyone has the ability to help make miracles happen. United Way of Washington County was given releases by all parties in order to use the music in their campaign video - and everyone agreed to help make a difference through the use of this music so that Washington County, Wisconsin, can continue to be a wonderful community in which to live.

"As of today, we have raised over $376,021. That is 35% of this year's campaign goal and $73,956 more than this time last year," announced Warren. "Because I firmly believe United Way is the best way to invest in the future of your family and community, I ask you to join our team in making this year's campaign a success."

The donations raised during this year's campaign will be used to fund 34 programs offered by 20 United Way partner agencies in five community impact areas: supporting people in crisis, strengthening families, developing successful children and youth, building strong and healthy communities, and promoting self-sufficiency. For additional information about United Way, the good work it helps fund in Washington County, or to find out ways to give or how to help, visit its website at unitedwayofwashingtoncounty.org.

Jim Braun, star running back of last fall's Kewaskum High School's undefeated conference championship and Class A, Division-3 WIAA state runnerup, who was selected on the North Squad for the Eighth Annual Wisconsin Shrine Bowl All-Star football game, has been in training with the squad since Tuesday of last week at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh Titan Stadium and is all set for the game to be played there this Saturday night, July 21. Braun, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Braun, West Bend, is the first Kewaskum player ever selected for the State All-Star game since its inception eight years ago.

A 23-year-old Campbellsport man, Todd M. Hadley, died early last Thursday of injuries he received when his motorcar collided with a car on Sunset Drive six-tenths of a mile east of Highway 67 in the Town of Auburn. Another 17-year-old Campbellsport man was the victim in the fifth consecutive motorcycle fatality accident in Fond du Lac County since June 17. Alan A. Gunderson died Tuesday afternoon at St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac, following an accident in which his motorcycle collided with a car on Highway 67 at County Trunk SSS, 1-1/2 miles east of Campbellsport.

The new pastor at St. John Lutheran Church, New Fane, Rev. Charles W. Reehl of Menasha was installed on July 1.

The Kewaskum Woman's Club met at the John Schmitt residence for their final meeting of the year on June 21. Installation of new officers followed the business meeting with Rita Etta handing over the gavel to Ruth Schmitt, president. Other officers include Carol Long, first vice president; Marge Rosenthal, second vice president; Minerva Martin, secretary, and Betsy Strigenz, treasurer.

A son, Tony Jeff, was born to Kenny and Shirley Thorn, Kewaskum, on July 11. Tony has two brothers, Timmy, 5, and Tommy, 4, both of whom were also born on July 11, the same birthdate that baby Tony was born. This is a very unusual occurrence. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Thorn, Kewaskum, and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wondra of Lomira.

A daughter, Noelle Ashley, was born to Eugene and Deborah Laatsch Jr., St. Francis, on July 11. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Laatsch of Phoenix, AZ, former residents of Boltonville, and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Allan Eckert of Milwaukee. A daughter was also born to George and Kay Gudex, Campbellsport, July 16.

A son, Kevin Michael, was born to Randy and Cheri Backhaus, Campbellsport, on July 7. A son, Roland Lee Jr., was born to Roland and Georgianne Mielke, Eden, July 5. A son, James Michael, was born to Michael and Deborah Serwe, Campbellsport, on July 1. A son, Douglas Anthony, was born to Brian and Sandy Bodden, Theresa, June 28. A son, Andrew Robert, was born to John and Joy Breese, Milwaukee, on July 11. Maternal grandparents are Bob and Char Zarling of Kewaskum. A son was also born to Mark and Mary Steinhardt, Kewaskum, on July 15.

In proceedings that would have turned even a seasoned parliamentarian's hair snow white, the electors of the Kewaskum School District voted 100 to 60 to approve a 1984-85 tax levy of $3,130,287. That figure was $76,000 higher than the proposed levy of $3,054,287 presented by the Kewaskum School Board at Monday evening's annual meeting. Approval came after more than three hours of, at several points, very heated discussions. While approval of the budget was supposedly the primary objective of the meeting, it was overshadowed by the Beechwood School controversy which eventually had a bearing on the meeting's outcome.

Ray St. Mary, Counsel of Modern Woodmen Camp 2233, Kewaskum, and Otto Weddig, Secretary of the Camp, presented a check for $643.30 to Village Trustee Donald Mlodzik. The check was the result of a rummage, craft and bake sale, a matching fund project, put on by the local camp. This year the money will go toward the flag pole and playground equipment at River Hill Park.

Behind the pitching of Brian Arndt, the Kewaskum Indians (now 7-16) earned a berth in the WIAA Sectional last Wednesday when they defeated Campbellsport, 4-3, in Campbellsport. The Indians' baseball season drew to a close on Tuesday evening when they dropped a 4-0 decision to West Bend West in a WIAA Sectional semi-final game in Port Washington.

A son was born to Donald and Jane Disler, Kewaskum, on July 17.

Miss Sylvia Klein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klein, of the Town of Kewaskum, and a rural school teacher of this vicinity, won first prize in the beauty contest held last Sunday in Schoenbeck's grove, where more than 4,000 people gathered for the second annual picnic of the Washington County unit of the Wisconsin Cooperative Milk Pool. She was chosen out of 36 other entrants as Washington County's "Dairy Queen." Miss Knoeck of Barton won second prize. They will now represent Washington County at the state meeting where other counties will be represented.

The home that Edward E. Miller purchased last November is rapidly being transformed into a modern funeral home. The past weeks the contractor and his men have been busily engaged in building an addition to the present structure and in remodeling the same. It will not be long until the new Miller Funeral Home will be completed.

State highway engineers were at work in Campbellsport surveying a relocation for Highway 67 at the west end of the village last Friday. The relocated highway will be a quarter of a mile in length and will effect a junction with Main Street at the west end of the village. Surveyors are also at work on the Dreikossen Hill between Campbellsport and Highway 41, where the road will be cut through the hill instead of passing to the south of it.

A bank holdup occurred at Allenton Thursday morning. A report of the holdup follows: "It's no use looking for your gun, we've got it," a bandit said to Joseph P. Wening, cashier at the Allenton State Bank, as Wening entered the bank alone Thursday morning. Wening, who had just opened the bank for business, turned to grapple with the robber. As he seized the thief however, another robber appeared from another door. He helped to overpower Wening, who was forced to unlock the vault, and then Wening was taken to the basement and tied to a boiler pipe. The robbers then returned to the vault room, taking $2,500 in currency. Wening freed himself from his bonds and ran upstairs just in time to see the men enter a Chevrolet sedan and drive away.

Raymond Jaeger, who conducts a barber shop in the village of Wayne, rescued his wife and four boys last Friday when a raft tipped over in Lake Bernice in Elmore and threw them into 12 feet of water approximately 40 feet from shore. In the party which had gone to the lake to bathe were Mr. and Mrs. Jaeger, Leo and Cyrillus Wietor, sons of Frank Wietor of Wayne, Joseph Reimer and Frank Arken, both of Campbellsport. Mr. Jaeger was the only member of the party able to swim. Two of the young men had gone down twice before Jaeger reached them. First aid revived them when they were taken to shore.

K.A. Honeck delivered a Master Chevrolet four-door sedan to Louis Klein of Kewaskum this week.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lehman Eichstedt of Wayne. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wayne of St. Kilian, called the parents of a baby boy born on Tuesday of last week. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rose on the arrival of a nine pound baby boy born July 21.

Rudolph Herbst, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Herbst of Schleisingerville, drowned while bathing in a clay hole filled with water in the village of Schleisingerville brickyards last week Friday. The body was found after 24 hours work. For hours, attempts were made to secure the body by means of diving, dynamite, etc. and was finally brought to the surface. The boy was a nephew of Jacob Schlosser of this village.

The C & NW Railway Company has opened a telegraph office at the gravel pit tower south of here. A steam shovel was also put in operation at the pit, and two trains are now at work hauling out gravel from there.

L.P. Rosenheimer sold his residence building opposite the H.W. Schnurr blacksmith shop on Prospect Avenue to Carl Ohrmurs of Wayne.

Val. Peters has carpenters at work putting up a new addition to his harness shop.

Golden Anniversaries

Yeska family reunion

By ISABELLE MUCKERHEIDE

It was State Fair time in Neshkoro when the descendants of Anton and Stella (Paluka) Yeska met at the homestead on Labor Day weekend for their 20th annual family reunion. Approximately 60 people were in attendance including a five week old baby girl and an eight day old baby boy.

Festivities began with a golf outing for the men Saturday morning. At 1:30 p.m. the judges were sworn in for a Betty Crocker cook book cookie contest, so as not to accept bribes. They received "Fairest of the Fair" banners. There were 13 cookie entries and a man won it! He received a prize of $20 and the Golden Spatula Award, plus a blue ribbon.

A parade was held around a city block with the judges on the first float, followed by youngsters with flags, an ATV, convertible and farm tractors. Some went to 4 p.m. Mass Saturday and others at 9:15 Sunday morning.

A scrumptious meal was served at 6 p.m. with roast chicken, barbecued pork, smoked salmon, Kewaskum summer sausage, sweet corn and other goodies.

A basketball game was also held Saturday evening. We had entertainment in the Expo Center (John's pole shed) by the three remaining "Lemons Sisters" who sang a rendition of "My Favorite Things." The group changed the words that were more fitting for senior citizens in their golden years. We had a country western singer with his guitar, a violin solo, a weight lifter, a broom salesman hawking her wares, someone trying to sell Miracle Dishcloths, a duct tape performance showing its many uses, a woodsman exhibition and even a sword swallower! We enjoyed cream puffs, cotton candy and salt water taffy.

Sunday morning was a community breakfast. There was an archery contest and a few ambitious people hiked the six to seven miles around the pond. Others stayed in the house and played sheepshead.

Being Patty Celek's birthday, a party of eight dined at Silver Cryst in Wautoma. We played 10 games of bingo Sunday evening, after which we went to the expo center to watch movies of previous reunions. Some stayed by the campfire till the wee hours since the moon was bright and the Lord blessed us with perfect weather for the weekend.

My poem for the year is as follows:

*Another year has swiftly passed,
And dreams that once were mine,
Have vanished like the setting sun
It is now 2009!*

*Neshkoro was our birthplace
But wherever we may roam
Family ties as strong as steel
Will always bring us home.*

*Kerhin family has the honor
To put us through our paces
As once again we gather
And see those happy faces.*

*Its State Fair time in Neshkoro
Just like the one in town
With games and prizes, cream puffs, too
And entertainment will abound.*

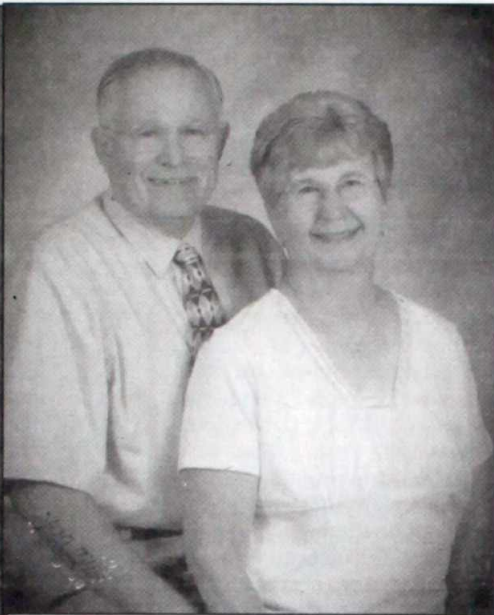

*We've had a few joyous weddings
Followed by birth of babes
Our family tree is expanding
As Polish ancestry fades.*

*The Lord has blessed us once again
Through surgeries and times of fate
Lets put that all behind us now
We're here to celebrate!*

John and Anne (Zehren) Amerling celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on September 12, 2009. The couple was married September 12, 1959 at St. Martin's Catholic Church in Ashford.

They are the proud parents of four children, Sharon (Stan) Schaefer, Joan (Dan) Laine, Steven (Bobbijo) Amerling, Colleen (Lee) Fink; proud grandparents of 11 grandchildren, Krystal (Anthony) Ritchie, Tiffany (Ryan) Piedot, Tyler Schaefer, Ryan and Brittany Laine, Alex, Eric, Robert and Timothy Amerling, Cassandra and Emily Fink and great-grandparents to three, Cooper and Nolan Ritchie and Adeline Piedot.

John is retired from Steiner Electric and Ann from Kewaskum High School.

A celebration with family and the couple's wedding attendants is planned.

Dick and Barb Hensen celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday, August 29, 2009 with family and friends at the 4:00 pm Mass at St. Matthew Church in Campbellsport, followed by supper at Maximillian's Hall in Mt. Calvary.

Hensen (of Campbellsport) and the former Barb Geib of Barton, were united in marriage on August 29, 1959 at St. Mary's Immaculate Conception Church in West Bend. The late Rev. Os. Ullrich officiated. The bride's sister, the late Ann Geib Walker and the groom's brother, Paul Hensen, served as honor attendants.

The couple has lived in Campbellsport for all their married lives.

Their children are, Beth (Randy Collien) and their daughters Katelyn and Emily of Verona; Julie (Roy) Rasmussen and their children, Christie, Jacob, Clare and Tressa of Janesville; Kevin (Syeeda Tatum) and their children, Daigham (Ashley), Lauren, Keelia, Rheanna and Jonah of Milwaukee; and Lisa (Tom) Pankratz and children, Jessica (Greg) Schrage and great-grandchild Bella; Nicole (Joaquin III) and great-grandchild Joaquin IV, Benjamin and Samantha of Mt. Calvary.

The Hensens also went on a family cruise in January.

The constellation Orion contains three of the 24 brightest stars in the sky. The three stars are Rigel, Betelgeuse and Bellatrix.

16th annual KEYS 5K Run/Walk October 11

The area near Kewaskum High School will be a "sea of red" as hundreds of runners and walkers wearing crimson t-shirts join in the 16th annual KEYS 5K Run/Walk. This event raises funds for Kewaskum graduating seniors. Previous scholarship winners are especially invited to join in for the Run/Walk.

Last May KEYS was able to award 34 scholarships totaling $94,950. to graduates. Since the spring of 1986, KEYS has awarded 349 scholarships totaling over $1,000,000.

The KEYS 5K Run/Walk will follow the same, safer course used last year, with just a small modification of the starting line. The course begins and ends at Kewaskum High School and will incorporate a portion of the Eisenbahn Bike Trail. The race start time is again at 11:00 AM and KEYS hopes for the strong community support the race has always enjoyed.

Each year the team captains, particularly the school captains, make the Run/Walk a huge success by their enthusiastic promotions in the schools. As they sign up students and their families for the race, they help foster fitness in our youth and promote the goal of working hard in school to be able one day to earn a KEYS Scholarship. Many area businesses also form teams for the KEYS 5K Run/Walk and support KEYS by paying the registration fee for employees.

Team members and individuals can also solicit pledges for KEYS and help themselves earn some great prizes. This year the top prize for raising $500. in pledges will earn a $125. gift card to Best Buy. Pledges can be raised for smaller amounts and still earn great prizes; find out about them on the back of the registration form.

Registration fees for this year's event remain the same as they have been the last several years. Advance registration is $15. per individual, $50. for a family of 4. Families with more than four members pay $10. for each additional family member. Race day registration increases to $20. per individual.

The major sponsor for the KEYS 5K Run/Walk are once again the Kewaskum-West Bend Clinic and St. Joseph's Hospital, now affiliated with Froedert & Community Health. KEYS is grateful for their strong support as well as for the support of the additional 40+ businesses and individuals whose names will appear on this year's t-shirt.

Registration forms for the KEYS 5K Run/Walk are available at all Kewaskum schools including Holy Trinity and St. Lucas, at Froedert Community Health Offices in Kewaskum and West Bend, at the many westbury bank locations, and at Miller's Furniture. Runners and walkers can also find registration forms on the Kewaskum School District website, www.kewaskum-schools.org.

Pre-registrations are due this year by Sept. 25 and can be sent to KEYS, P. O. Box 124, Kewaskum, 53040. They can also be dropped off at any Kewaskum school and given to a captain there.

The KEYS race offers many age categories so that lots of young students can compete for cash prizes and medals. Beating record times of 17:00 min. for men and 18:58 for women can mean an additional $200. prize.

KEYS Inc. is a non profit, all volunteer organization. All proceeds are used to fund educational scholarships.

Want to see how tough life can be? Participate in 'World Habitat Day'

Washington Co. Shanty Town is a countywide event to raise awareness of the millions of homeless and poorly housed people of the world and Washington County. In addition, money is raised through the event for Habitat for Humanity - Washington County.

Shanty Town participants construct cardboard shanties, where they then spend the night. Pledges are collected and donations are made to Habitat for Humanity - Washington County. Our Savior's Lutheran Church, 1044 S Silverbrook Dr, West Bend will open their upper side parking lot facing Hawthorne Street for Habitat for Humanity's Shanty Town on Friday, October 2nd. Area churches, businesses and school teams are invited along with any other community groups willing to participate under the Shanty Town rules, to join in beginning at 4:00 pm.

Participants will be offered a program including games, fun, contests and a presentation by Habitat for Humanity. The Habitat for Humanity - Washington County Shanty Town will end with a basic juice/roll breakfast in the church hall. All participants are then required to dismantle their shanty and recycle it in a provided dumpster.

Contact Rex Melius at Habitat for Humanity - Washington County at (262) 338-0690 for registration forms, pledge sheets, and other information, or check the websites at www.blitzbuild.com. You can also print the forms from the upcoming events page.

Interested participants are asked to confirm their plans to participate by contacting Rex at the above number by September 25th. Each group should include an adult chaperone for every 6 youth attending. Chaperones are to stay for the entire length of Shanty Town.

Habitat for Humanity SHANTY TOWN RULES:

Shanty must be built only of cardboard, string, scrap plastic, newspaper and tape. (You will provide the materials.) Some places to get cardboard are motor cycle shops, appliance stores, bike shops, Home Depot, and Shopko.

Shanties will be set up no earlier than 4:00pm on October 2nd and no later than 7:00pm that day. Please bring your own newspaper and plastic to insulate and waterproof your shanty. Be as creative as you can, but also practical. We also ask that everyone create a sign for your Shanty depicting your group, hometown, etc - to be displayed on your shanty.

Inhabitants must sign-in at Shanty Town by 7:00 pm, remain there until 7:00 am and sign-out to qualify as spending the night. We ask everyone to provide their own brown bag supper.

Shanties must be dismantled, tape removed, and flattened for recycling. A dumpster for cardboard ONLY will be provided, please bring along a plastic bag for all your other waste/garbage and take it with you upon departure on Saturday morning.

Pledge sheet should be collected at the time the pledge is made. Please provide an envelope for your pledge(s). Your pledge sheets and money collected should be given to your group leader to deliver to Habitat for Humanity. Checks should be made out to: Habitat for Humanity-Washington County. Youth group leaders should deliver all monies to Rex Melius, Habitat for Humanity-Washington County, 279 South 17th Avenue, Ste. #7, West Bend, 53095, or it can be turned in upon registration on the day of the event.

All participants are to furnish their own coats, mittens, hats, boots, socks, blankets and sleeping bags. Bring your own air mattress etc to make yourself comfortable. WARM CLOTHING IS ESSENTIAL. AND don't forget your brown bag supper.

No cell phones or other electronic devices. The homeless do not have these luxuries!! Please keep the junk food at home, including soda!! We encourage, card games, board games, book reading and good conversation (get to know your neighbors) during the lighted evening hours. Solar lights, flash lights are allowed. No gas OR Coleman lanterns please, our shanties are flammable. NO smoking is allowed near or inside any shanty, an area will be designated for smoking adults only.

Because we have had an unusually cool summer, please be assured no student will be put in jeopardy due to weather conditions. We strongly encourage students to participate even if they are temporarily uncomfortable. Students who dress warm and bring blankets will find that even in cooler temperatures they can be safe and comfortable.

Plant seminar in West Bend Sept. 22

Don't let your favorite plants die on the vine this fall when you could bring them in and continue to enjoy them indoors. Learn how to bring tender plants indoors for the winter months as well as how to care for them indoors. The Beautification Committee's free seminar on "Keeping it Alive" is the place to be on Tuesday, September 22, 7:00 p.m. at the West Bend Community Library, 630 Poplar St., West Bend to learn all about the topic.

There will be live plant material and demonstrations. The speaker will also touch on specific plants including herbs such as rosemary, basil, parsley and cilantro. Tropical plants like hibiscus, mandevilla will also be part of the discussion. The speaker also hopes to talk about geraniums and cannas and dahlias where tuber storage is involved. This is also a chance to ask your questions.

The speakers are father and son, Bruce and Paul Sadowski.

Bruce and his wife are the third generation owners of the Groth Nursery started in 1928 by Henry Groth. Bruce has worked around the greenhouse since he was in 8th grade and married the boss's daughter. Paul was born and raised around the greenhouse and received his BS in Horticulture from the University of River Falls in 1996.

In this economy, it makes sense to save whatever plants you can and bring them indoors and ready for planting outdoors again in the spring. The seminar, sponsored by the West Bend Beautification Committee, is free and open to the public. Pre-registration is requested. Please call 262-335-5083 or email your registration at wbbc@ci.west-bend.wi.us.

For more information on the West Bend Beautification Committee and how you can get involved with the committee and its work call 262-335-5083.

FES wins honorable mention award for garden project

TOP: FES has been restoring prairie habitat around the building during a five-year plan. ABOVE: FES students and staff have been working hard to beautify their school and restore some of the natural habitat. In honor of their hard work, they have received an Honorable Mention in the Garden Crusader Award contest.

By Amber Donath
Statesman Correspondent

Congratulations go out to Farmington Elementary School (FES) as a recent Honorable Mention Award winner in the ninth annual Garden Crusader Award contest.

FES was the only Wisconsin entry selected out of more than 600 entries nationwide and received the award in the Restoration category. The school is in the last year of a five-year prairie restoration project.

The contest was entered by FES fourth grade teacher and prairie restoration co-leader Lora Schreiber. As Honorable Mention winners, the school received a $200 Gardener's Supply Company gift card to order supplies needed in the upkeep and forward progress of the project.

"FES students and staff have been working hard to beautify our school and its surroundings and it is great to have recognition and monetary help for our restoration project," said Schreiber.

Gardener's Supply Company is an employee-owned national catalog gardening company since 1983. The Garden Crusader Award program began in 2001 to recognize individuals who are using their love of gardening to make a difference in their communities. A Garden Crusader is someone who has created a new green space, fed the hungry with their produce, restored a forgotten piece of land or taught about gardening or the environment.

ELMER J. THILL

Elmer J. Thill, 90, of the town of Kewaskum, passed away on Wednesday, September 9, 2009, at his home surrounded by his family.

He was born on October 9, 1918, in Random Lake, the son of the late Nicholas and Elizabeth (Goschey) Thill, and on June 16, 1945, he was united in marriage to Lorraine Fehring at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Slinger. His wife preceded him in death on September 21, 1959. On May 3, 1969, Elmer was united in marriage to Anna (nee Thull) Klesmith at St. Bridget Catholic Church in the town of Wayne.

Elmer was employed by the Whitehouse Milk Company in West Bend and then by the West Bend Company in West Bend for 29 ½ years and also worked at the West Bend Malt-Working Company. He was a member of the West Bend Company 25-Year Club, Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum, St. Bridget Catholic Church Chapel in the town of Wayne, the Knights of Columbus Father Casper Rehrl Council 1964 West Bend and the Moose Lodge West Bend 1398. Elmer loved to play sheephead and belonged to six card clubs. One of his favorite pastimes was working on lawn mowers. He will be deeply missed by all who knew his family.

Those Elmer leaves behind to cherish his memories include his loving wife of 40 years, Anna; three children, JoAnn (Jim) Bauer of the town of Kewaskum, Donald (Cheryl) Thill of West Bend and Kathy (Roger) Mertz of the town of Wayne; a stepson, Robert (Diane) Klesmith of the town of Kewaskum; 11 grandchildren, Jennifer (Mike) Sheehy, Thomas Bauer, Michael (Jen) Bauer, Tina (Heath) Wiskirchen, Nicholas (Allison) Thill, Julie (Dr. Chris) Wenninger, Daniel Mertz, Brian (Stephanie) Mertz, Rhonda (Scott) Prim, Jodi Klesmith and John (Jamie) Klesmith; six great-grandchildren, Siman, Noah, Jacob, Abby, Anamarie and many friends.

In addition to his first wife and his parents, Elmer was preceded in death by a grandson, Steven Mertz; a brother, Albert (Marie) Thill and a sister, Loretta (Halbert) Rheingans.

A Mass of Christian Burial for Elmer was held at 6:00 p.m. on Sunday, September 13, 2009, at Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum. Father Elroy Pesch O.F.M. Cap officiated and burial was at 10:00 a.m. on Monday in Holy Angels Catholic Church Cemetery in West Bend.

Relatives and friends called on Sunday at the church from 3:00 p.m. until the time of Mass.

The Miller Funeral Home in Kewaskum has been entrusted with Elmer's arrangements. Additional information and guest book may be found at www.millermartinfh.com.

BETTY J. KOEHLER

Betty J. Koehler (Reimer), 75, of Little Kohler, Town of Fredonia, passed away on September 5, 2009 at her home, across the street from where she was born, in Little Kohler surrounded by her loving family.

She was born in Little Kohler on November 24, 1933 to Mabel Reimer.

On September 23, 1950 she married Frederick "Fritz" Koehler Jr. at St. Martin's Church in Fillmore. Betty and Fritz celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in September of 2000.

During her 51 years of marriage to Fritz they were partners in everything they did including running Little Kohler restaurant and Lehn's Catering.

Betty loved children and drove school bus for Johnson Bus Company for 44 years. She completed her 44th year in June of 2009 with perfect attendance and had every intention of returning this fall to drive children to school for her 45th year.

Betty was a charter member of the Fredonia Lion/Lioness Club and served as their treasurer until her death. She was also a member of St. John's Lutheran Church and Ladies Guild.

Betty loved bowling, softball, horseshoes, playing sheephead and bingo. Betty and Fritz sponsored numerous local softball, bowling and horseshoe teams.

Betty loved to cook and her favorite time of the year was Christmas when she could decorate cookies with her grandkids. She loved spending time with her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, enjoying picnics and parties at the family pond.

She is survived by her children, Gerald (Barb) of Crivitz, Frederick "Fritz III" (Sue Plant) of Belgium, Charlene (Timothy) Landing of Fredonia, Dale (Kate) of Amery, and Bruce (Dawn Dieringer) of Random Lake. She is further survived by 17 grandchildren; 15 great grandchildren and numerous family and friends. Betty was a loving godmother to her granddaughter Nikisha.

She was preceded in death by her beloved husband of 51 years, Fritz; her mother, Mary and granddaughter, Kristen.

Visitation was at the Eernisse Funeral Home, in Port Washington on Thursday, September 10, 2009 from 4 to 8 p.m. and again at St. John's Lutheran Church, Fredonia on Friday from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m. Services were held on Friday, September 11, 2009 at 11:00 a.m. at St. John's Lutheran Church, Fredonia with Pastor Robert Zick officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, memorials appreciated.

WILLIAM J. MEIXNER

William J. Meixner, 48, of Campbellsport, passed away Friday, Sept. 11, 2009 at St. Agnes Hospital in Fond du Lac.

He was born in Portage on Jan. 16, 1961 the son of the late William and Shirley Meixner.

On July 31, 1999, he married Rebecca Lynn Gudex in Fond du Lac.

He worked at Basic American Metal Products in Fond du Lac. Survivors include his wife, Rebecca; his daughters, Amanda, Marissa and Jessica; his brother, Ronald; his sisters, Pat and Kathleen; other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held on Monday, Sept. 14th at 7:00 p.m. at the Twohig Funeral Home, Campbellsport. Rev. Paula Anderson officiated and cremation followed.

Visitation was from 5:00 p.m. until time of services.

RICHARD 'DICK' SCHMIDT

The construction industry and Milwaukee community is mourning the death of Richard "Dick" Schmidt. Richard died Thursday, September 10, 2009, at Kathy Hospice in West Bend at the age of 77.

Richard served as the current Chairman and past president and CEO of CG Schmidt.

Richard Schmidt has a profound impact on the construction industry in Wisconsin, and perhaps an even greater impact on the non-profit community. Richard began working at the family construction business, which was founded by his grandfather in 1920, when he was nine years old pulling nails out of lumber and learning how to be a bricklayer.

After attending Spencerian College and serving in the U.S. Coast Guard, he worked his way up through the company ranks to become president in 1984.

Since 1992, he was chairman of the firm, leading the company from $10 million in annual revenue to $250 million in 2008. Under his leadership, CG Schmidt now ranks within the top 100 construction managers in the nation and has completed such notable, community-based projects as the Milwaukee Art Museum's Calatrava Addition, the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point Fine Arts Center and exhibits at the Milwaukee County Zoo.

He was an exceptional human being — a man of great integrity, whose commitment to community and family was an example to us all. He will be sorely missed.

Richard is survived by his beloved wife of 20 years, Susan (nee Spanbauer) and his ten children, Laura (Bill) Bryson, Rick (Nickie), David (Tracy), Julie, Teri Demsey, Mary (Rick) Olson, Mark (Tricia), Kristin (Jon) Lange, Joanna (Brian) Beggs, Eric (Karie). He is also loved and survived by his sister Charlene (Lorch), his brother Chuck, his 18 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Visitation was held at the Phillip Funeral Home from 4 to 8 pm on Monday, September 14. A vigil was held at 8pm at the Funeral Home on Monday. On Tuesday, September 15, a Memorial Mass of Christian Burial was held at 10:30am at Holy Angels Catholic Church.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in Richard L. Schmidt's memory to Kathy Hospice, 3232 Pleasant Valley Rd, West Bend, WI 53095.

The Phillip Funeral Home of West Bend assisted the family.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank you all very much for your kindness and compassion during the most difficult moments of our lives. We appreciate all that everyone has done for our family during this time. My wife, our mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother was a warm and loving person and we all miss her very much.

We would like to extend a special thank you to: Pastor Tim and Coralee Henning, Miller's Funeral Home - Larry, Louise, and John, Lutheran Funeral Committee - set-up, serving, and clean up, The Kewaskum Floral Shop, Ledgeview Memorial Park.

And to all those who donated food, sent flowers, sent cards, and paid their respect and support to our family.

*Sincerely,

IN MEMORY

In memory of THERESE OELHAFEN, who passed away on September 18, 2007:

There was a woman, who lived on this earth,
She lives in heaven now,
She went about her earthly tasks

And seldom did she frown
She did not wish for riches
She had a special feeling
She had a special glow;
And that very special glow;
That only a child of God
Can ever really know
She showed us by example
How this life should be;
Then one day she quietly left,
This earth, her friends and family

We're thankful for the memories
And the good times that we had;
This woman was very special,
Because she was our mom.

Love, your family

HEAVEN'S KEEP
A NOVEL
WILLIAM KENT KRUEGER
AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR OF RED KNIFE

Hut, Hut, Hike...Touchdown

Calling all Packer Backers! It's time to get out your cheesehead, dig the potato-chip bowl out from the back of the kitchen cupboard, and get into proper game-viewing position (elevate the footrest on the recliner). Go team!

Football. Americans love it, especially those memory-making moments of victorious achievement on the field.

And speaking of memory-making moments...

Who remembers the record-setting 63-yard field goal that Tom Dempsey (who was born in Milwaukee) kicked in the final seconds of the game between the Detroit Lions and the New Orleans Saints in November of 1970? The record still stands today, nearly forty years later. The kick in itself was amazing enough without knowing that Dempsey has no toes on his kicking foot and was also born without a right hand. But what Dempsey lacked for physically, he made up for in an area within his power—determination.

And speaking of determination...

Two high school football teams from Michigan opposed one another first on the field, and then in the courtroom. The losing team took legal action to have the victory of their opponent reversed when they found out that one of the star players from the winning team had played with extra equipment, an unfair advantage.

The judge heard the argument and determined that the victory would stand. His opinion? The artificial leg the player in question attached before the game was not only acceptable, it was commendable.

"How a person masters his fate is more important than what his fate is."

Wilhelm Von Humboldt

"No one knows what it is that he can do until he tries."

PUBLILUS SYRUS

"If you never try, you shall never succeed."

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

"Do what you can, with what you have, where you are."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

"Be brave. Have faith. Go forward."

THOMAS EDISON

Pucker up. Gimme a hug. I love you.

What do you do when you say goodbye to a friend or loved one, just even for a few hours? Do you exchange a quick kiss, knowing that you'll be together again shortly? Do you bump foreheads, knuckles, or shoulders as a warm way of farewell? Or do you say "g'bye" and leave without a thought or a look behind?

Corcoran "Cork" O'Connor will forever regret what happened when his wife, Jo, left. In the new book "Heaven's Keep" by William Kent Krueger, he wishes he could take it all back.

A hundred times a week, Cork O'Connor imagines what her last day on Earth was like. Jo was on her way to a conference in Seattle, her briefcase full of recommendations on government oversight for Indian gaming casinos. She was flying there with friends and new acquaintances. And Cork hoped she wasn't still angry with him in the aftermath of an argument.

He would always wonder.

The plane went down in a snowstorm over the Wyoming Rockies, an area filled with gullies and peaks, arroyos and canyons. Local police thought they knew where the plane had gone down, but long searches indicated that there was no trace of it anywhere. They'd have to wait til the snow melted and search again.

Cork mourned and postulated, but never forgot for a minute. In the meantime, he did his best to raise his thirteen-year-old son, Stephen, who was fast becoming a man. He became a go-between for the wives who lost their husbands in the plane crash that also took Jo. And he forged a strong friendship with the man whose company started the argument Cork had with Jo all those months ago.

But as winter turned to spring back in Minnesota, Cork had two unlikely visitors: the widow of the plane's pilot and her lawyer-friend came to Cork with strong suspicions. Becca Bodine was sure her husband wasn't behind the plane's controls. He wasn't the cause of the crash.

If Bodine wasn't flying the plane, who was? Were the Wyoming police and the Arapaho hiding something... or someone? And who—in two states—wanted Cork to stop looking? Sometimes, when you get ahold of a good mystery, it's natural to think you've got it solved before the killer is revealed.

You can forget all about that here.

Author William Kent Krueger doesn't insult his readers with early transparency, which makes "Heaven's Keep" a good, solid novel. Stepping from his usual setting of Way North Minnesota and into Way Remote Wyoming is new ground for Krueger, and it's a nice, satisfying stretch. Fans of past Cork O'Connor novels will be happy to see many old friends in these pages, and readers unfamiliar with the series will find a new favorite author.

If you're used to ho-hum mysteries that reveal too much, too soon, and you're tired of knowing mid-book whodunit, you'll find something very different (and very pleasant) here. Pick up "Heaven's Keep" and happily kiss a few evenings goodbye.

To Catch a Truck..... Chinook salmon offer anglers' special ride.

Great Lakes Skipper Brain Settele let his 18 foot fiberglass ship settle into the Lake Michigan blues just inside the north gap of the Milwaukee Harbor, then let the white Zoom fluke plastic tail drop to a hard bottom 31 feet below. The black clutter of baitfish on the electronic screen sent the exact message he was hoping for.

"The biggest key is finding the bait," Settele said. "Find the bait and these Chinook salmon will be nearby. Ah, man right now this screen is full of alewife."

Through May, June and July, in the harbors of Port Washington, Sheboygan and Milwaukee, Settele had found the baitfish and found too the nearby predators before the frantic bite began to fade in August. All summer long, the bite had been nocturnal. As summer faded and crawled into an early September, Settele was guessing the Chinook salmon would be better targeted at mid-day.

The Chinook's changing feeding habits, he surmised, were being triggered by physical changes in the fish as autumn loomed and with it the annual spawning runs up the tributaries of the Great Lake. Settele evolved too to stay on a bite that had offered fast, furious and often non-stop action.

"Fishing has been just excellent," he said. "We'd get on the water in the evening and fish into dark. Their bodies started going through a transition in August. Their stomach shrinks. Their eyesight changes and isn't as good. Instead of biting to eat the Chinook are striking from aggression. In the night we would have to use glow-in-the-dark spoons and crankbaits. But I think that fishing now on these bright sunny days will allow the salmon to see the lure and hit."

Settele has been a student of the feeding Chinook, and uses his observation and reading as an angler to try and imitate the alewife that serve as a salmon staple. On the Port Washington harbor, he had watched a Chinook torpedo into a school of roving alewife, and was intrigued at the number of injured baitfish that skittered and flailed in the water from the initial assault. The show became even more intriguing when other salmon followed up to gorge on the easy pickings. He used the unexpected field lesson to offer a jiggling lesson to Randy Roth-enbueler and me as we prepared to work the harbor last week in 70-degree temperatures under pure blue skies and bright sunshine.

"Drop the lure straight down until it hits bottom," Settele said. "Hold the line against the rod with one finger so that you get a good hook set when you feel the strike. You can't rely on the drag to bury the hook. Twitch the fluke several times steady just a few inches off the bottom and then every once in a while pop it up a few feet and let it fall like an injured baitfish. We use Gulp or Fluke Tails in white to best resemble the coloration of the alewife."

Confident in the time of day and presentation, Settele said he would also continue to adjust the depth of his lure until he found the predator's location in the water column. Aggressive or subtle jigging would also be determined after the salmon let us know their preference on this afternoon. As we entered the fall transition, it was likely that a brown trout would hit instead of the targeted Chinook.

"We have to see where they are in the water column," he said. "It's 62 degrees on the surface right now. The fish have liked it at about 50 degrees the best. Most of the time, they've been tight to the bottom because of the cooler water temperatures there. A west/southwest wind will bring the cooler water in."

Armed with 8-1/2 foot medium action rods with the backbone to handle an extraordinarily tenacious fighter, it was time to go to work. We dropped 5/8 and three-quarter ounce jigs dressed with Zoom Flukes or Berkley Gulp plastics on 10-pound Seaquar fluorocarbon line. This was not to be a motor-trolling cruise in a charter boat built to handle the high seas. Settele uses equipment and tactics that the common man can afford and use, on fertile harbor water easily assessable with small outboards and most often protected from the winds and waves.

If we did hook up with a Chinook, Settele said to expect 150 yards of line to be ripped off the reel in seconds. In response, the skipper would do his best to follow with the Minn Kota trolling motor until we could wrestle the salmon into submission. The largest Chinook to fall to Settee's tactics and equipment this summer weighed 26 pounds.

"We're using stainless steel or forged galvanized hooks because the fish would straighten out the hooks I used on the store-bought jigs," he said. "They were too thin. I make these. We're going to try aggressive jigging and hardly jigging at all until through trial and error we find out what they want. When we do hook up, just imagine hooking your jig to the bumper of a truck on Highway 41. Because that's what it feels like."

We missed a half dozen strikes over the first 90 minutes. The fish were banging the lures and disappearing before any of us were able to bury a hook. With expectations high, Rothenbueler's rod bent over the weight of a good fish hell-bent on a pardon and early release.

I'm not sure what the fight looked like beneath the waves. But I do know that three men riding the waves in a small boat, one with a rod, one with a net and one with a camera, trying to get out of the way of each other as the fish traveled this way and that was no less than a KeyStone Kop remake.

When Randy led the 15 pound salmon to net, one thing was very clear. We wished Settele had called in the heart of summer, when 20 fish harbor days and monster Chinook are the expectation rather than a fleeting autumn hope.

"It has been so good I could catch a limit of five fish in 90 minutes of fishing," Settele said. "And this is something that any fisherman with a decent boat can do."

Indians spikers win, play five at Falls

By Mitch Maersch
For the Statesman

SHEBOYGAN FALLS- Going 5-0 or 4-1 in conference play came down to the deciding fifth game for Kewaskum's volleyball team.

Lauren Gonring decided for everyone else.

With host Sheboygan Falls and Kewaskum deadlocked 2-2, the first-team all-conference player served 12 straight points and the Indians never looked back, winning 15-5.

"She placed the serve very well getting a couple of aces plus keeping Sheboygan Falls' offense out of their rhythm," said Coach Joe Moser.

The Indians won the match, 15-25, 25-22, 25-22, 22-25 and 15-5 to remain undefeated in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

Gonring finished with six aces and 19 digs. Erika Heberer had 11 kills and 25 assists. Elissa Miller had eight kills and five solo blocks.

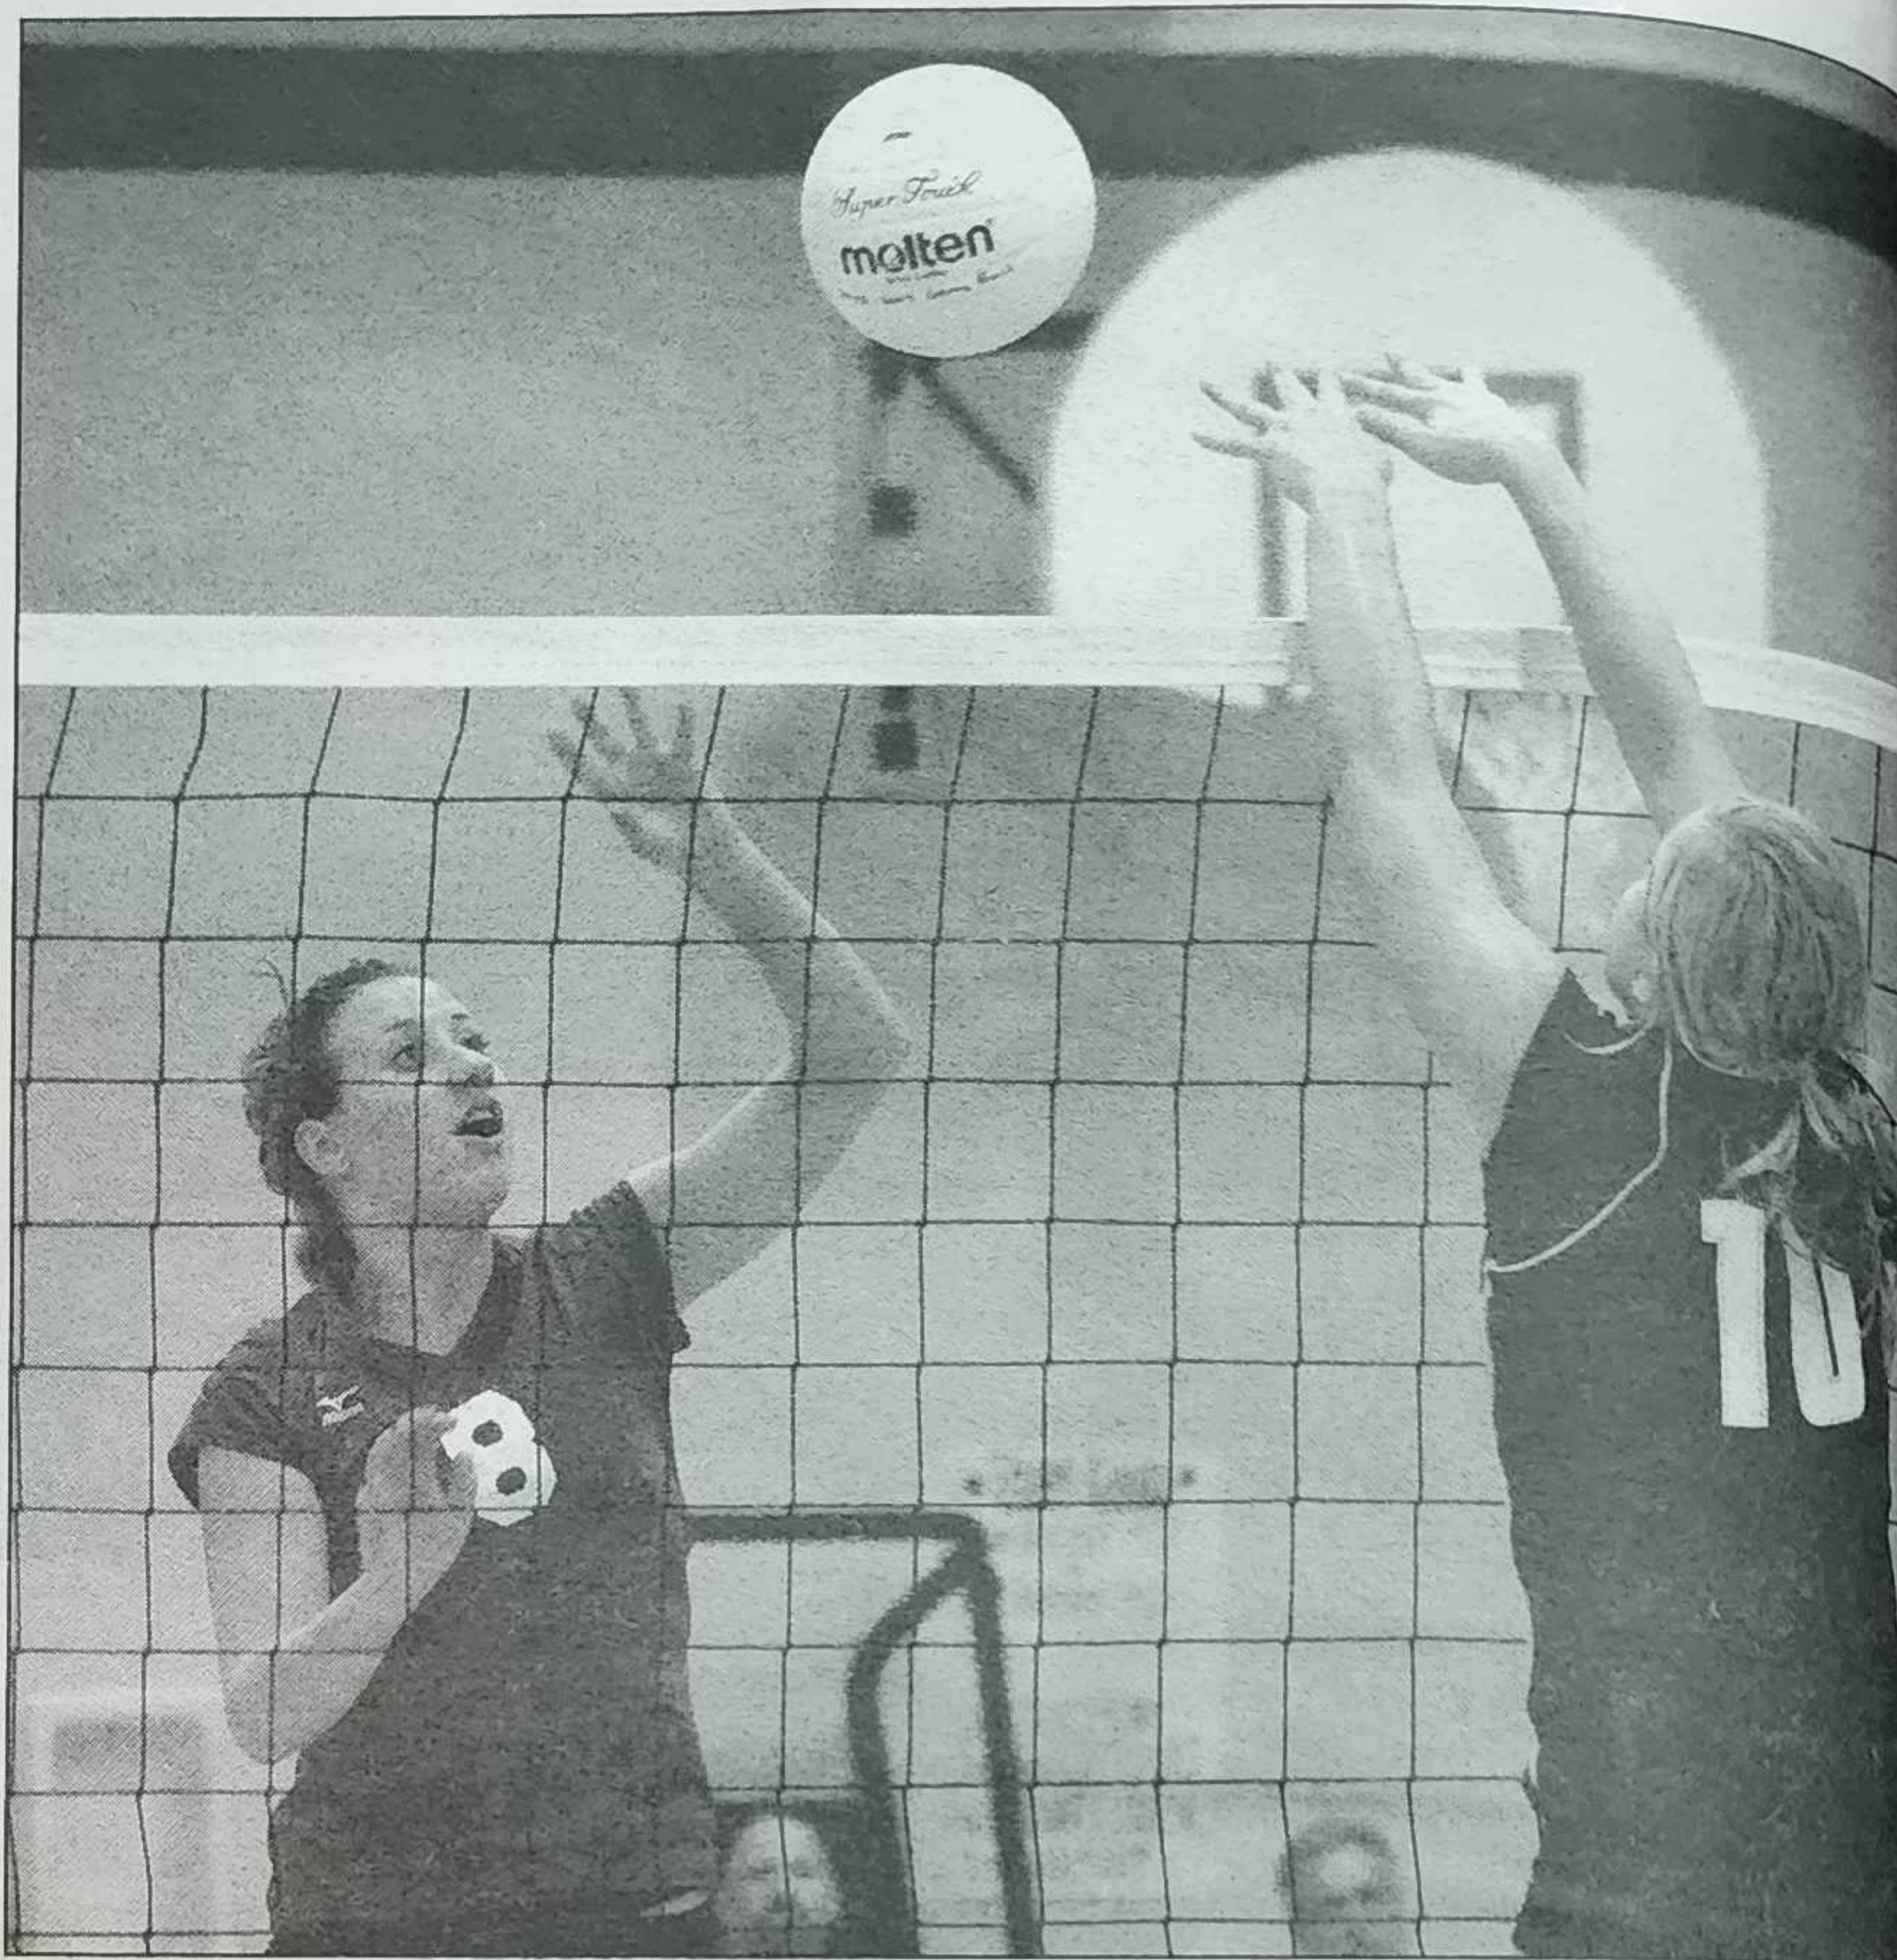

"We started out pretty slow in the first game, but came back and played very competitive volleyball in the next four. Many missed serves and hitting errors in the first game," Moser said.

"Sheboygan Falls was able to force a game five after we had a couple of receiving errors late in game four. I believe we were up 20-19 in game 4 but couldn't finish," he said.

Then Gonring took over.

"Game 5 was extremely exciting," Moser said. "Another excellent match."

Today (Thursday), the girls take on conference foe New Holstein on the road. On Saturday, they play in a Slinger tournament.

The Indians' Erika Heberer (8) hits the ball during Thursday's volleyball game hosted by Sheboygan Falls while Brooke Buehler of the Falcons attempts to block. The Indians played five matches to decide the outcome of the game.

Young tennis team has tough challenges complete

By Andrew Kuehl
andrew@kewaskumstatesman.com

For Kewaskum Indians girls' tennis coach Matt Fehlhaber, it's been a new season and a new team. The third year coach is facing a new challenge this year as last season's team of experienced players graduated in June.

Fehlhaber stated he has his work cut out for him as he prepares the young team to be conference contenders.

"Val Paulus is our #1 singles player who busted her butt in the offseason and went from a JV player to our #1 in just one season," Fehlhaber reported.

Fehlhaber says he has his eye on Heather Schmitt and Karla Stoffel who have worked very good together as a doubles team as well.

He stated "They've won some pretty big matches."

The newbie team has some big shoes to fill as they attempt to retain last year's middle of the conference standing.

As of this writing the Indians have yet to win a match but remain in sixth place behind Chilton and ahead of Kewaunee.

So far this month, the Indians have lost in shut outs to Plymouth and Manitowoc Roncalli.

On Thursday the ladies hosted Two Rivers and lost 6-1.

A road trip to Ripon saw a 3-4 "heartbreaking" loss on Monday.

Claiming wins for the team were #1 singles Paulus, Jessica Beaupre and Rachel Rieden in #2 doubles and Stoffel and

Val Paulus

Schmitt in #3 doubles.

The team hosted Waupun on Tuesday and claimed their first win of the season.

In #1 Singles action Val Paulus fell to Megan Gabris 4-6, 1-6.

Savannah Robar claimed a victory over Crystal Fix 5-7, 6-3, 6-3 in #2 Singles.

Lauren Buth also posted a win over Frances Brown 6-3, 6-2 in #3 Singles.

Hannah Brown fell to Rae Monte 6-1, 6-1 in #4 Singles.

The combination of Erica Steiner and Roxy Etta defeated Ellie Neevel and Shayna Wilson 6-4, 6-3.

Karla Stoffel and Heather Schmitt edged out Demi Kastein and Chelcey Wargula 7-6(3), 6-1 in #3 Doubles.

The Indians are set to host Chilton today (Thursday) at 4:00 p.m. On Tuesday they will travel to Kewaunee.

Gridiron teams go 1-3 in openers

By Judy Harlow
For the Statesman

Drawing one of the stronger programs in the league, Kewaskum Gridiron teams finished 1-3 against Thiensville-Mequon White on the opening weekend of play, but two of the losses were close, and in all cases the coaches were proud of their players' efforts.

The lone team to win was the sixth grade unit, which produced a 25-12 victory, marking the successful debut of new head coach Bob Johnson.

Sam Schlosser was on the receiving end of a pass from Michael Prochnow that ended up as a 65-yard scoring strike in the first quarter, and the QB hooked up with Jeff Baker for a 25-yard TD pass, helping the Indians to a 13-12 edge at intermission.

Brandon Thull ran for an extra point — in grade school football, a team receives one point for passing or running an extra point and two points for a successful kick — which gave the Indians the one-point advantage.

In the second half, it was all Kewaskum, with Thull scoring on a 12-yard run and a 45-yard punt return.

Ben Watzig and Steven

Nurkala came up with fumble recoveries for the winners.

"Aside from one long running play, the defense did really well," Johnson said, praising his offensive line for giving the quarterback time to pass and opening holes for the runners.

The eighth graders held the T-M scoreless for the first quarter, but the hosts scored touchdowns in the second and fourth periods (2) en route to an 18-6 victory.

Kewaskum got to the 20-year line in the first quarter then "stalled out," according to coach Jim "Jonesy" Korth, who said his team's lone score came on a 35-yard interception return by Brett Boegel in the second quarter.

"We shot ourselves in the foot in the fourth quarter," the coach said, reporting his team had problems with the center-quarterback exchange, linemen jumping offsides and letting the Cardinals sweep their ends. "They started running the ball, and we couldn't stop them."

"I had some good running by Joey Seitz," Korth said, noting Seitz and Bobby Peterson made some good tackles at linebacker, and there were a couple good catches by Kurtis Luedtke and Matt Ringwell.

The seventh graders lost 7-0, giving up a lone touchdown midway in the third quarter, according to Randy Schlice, who said, "We couldn't run the ball between the twenties, but then we stalled."

"Dylan Thull and Zach Smith had some nice runs," Schlice said, adding the defense was led by Garrett Buth, who "had a great game. He's not afraid to use his size."

"Our kids played hard the whole game," Schlice said, reporting the opponents were 8-0 last year, and "They had three kids that were at least six feet tall."

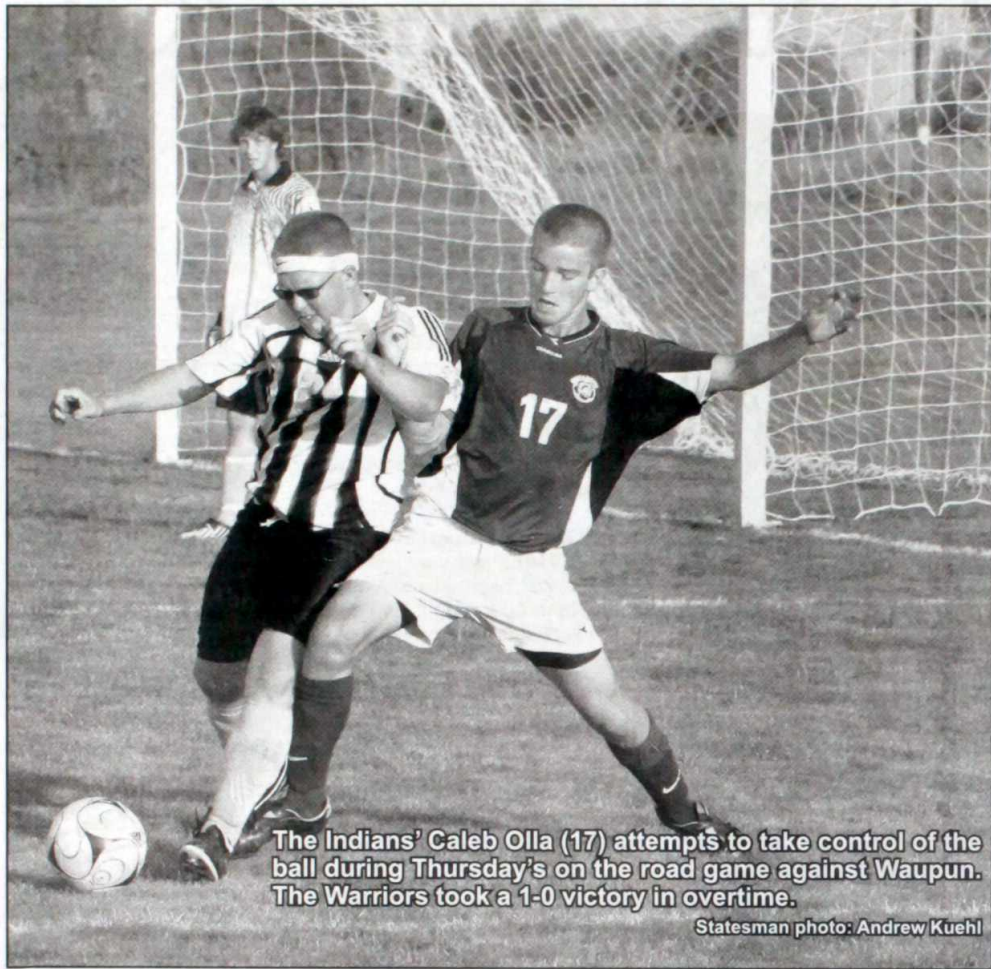

The fifth graders lost a close 6-0 decision, and coach Mark Walscheske said, "Offensively, we ran the ball for 172 total yards, but on every drive, we got a penalty or fumbled."

Highlighting the defensive effort were four forced fumbles by Brady Hanson (2), Jacob Heberer and Jadon Johnson.

T-M got its score on a 68-yard drive in the third quarter. Hanson stopped the extra point try.

Kewaskum's longest run was a 26-yard scamper by Dalton Poole.

Soccer team showing signs of improvement

The Indians' Caleb Olla (17) attempts to take control of the ball during Thursday's on the road game against Waupun. The Warriors took a 1-0 victory in overtime.

It has been an uphill battle for this year's Indians boys soccer team but small signs of improvement show hope of overcoming last season's near winless record.

Kewaskum 0, Hayward 3

Saturday, Sept. 5

Kimberly Invite- Kimberly H.S.

Trying to get a little experience for his team, soccer coach Luke Piwoni packed up his team for a road trip and played three games, winning one against conference foe New Holstein.

In their meeting with Hayward, the Indians were only able to get three shots. Team captains Riley Gaynor, Ryan Gibson and Caleb Olla provided them with one a piece.

Dillion Thelen tended the box the entire game. He blocked 16 shots for the team.

Things didn't improve for the Indians as the day went on. The team could not put together any shots to promote an offensive attack.

Thelen again managed the box the whole game. He defended 12 shots

Kewaskum 2, New Holstein 1

Saturday, Sept. 5

Kimberly Invite- Kimberly H.S.

The Indians ended their game in much better fashion as they met the Huskies. Had it been a conference game, the team would have improved their ending 2008 conference record. However, the team had to settle with a 2-7 overall record.

When other teams were tiring, the Indians were just getting starting which has been the case for them this season.

"It was actually the second of back to back games for us. I was extremely proud with the way everyone played especially Riley Gaynor," stated Piwoni.

According to Piwoni, New Holstein scored in the second minute of the game.

"We could have packed it in after a long day but the guys came together and controlled the rest of the game. They really showed a lot of heart and gained the respect of New Holstein," he added.

Leading the offensive movement was Gibson with three shots. Olla followed with two.

The first goal came as Gibson headed one in off a corner kick by Gaynor. Nick Wendelborn was awarded the second goal according to Piwoni "because he made the deciding penalty kick to secure the win."

Thelen stayed in the box, and received a little break only needing to tend to two shots fired from the Huskies.

Earlier in the season the Indians were shut-out 4-0 by the Huskies.

Kewaskum 0, Waupun 1

Thursday, Sept. 10

Waupun High School

Looking their best of the entire season the Indians traveled to Waupun for a scoreless game that ended in overtime. Kewaskum once again found themselves short handed with Kyle Phillips injured, Thelen ill and three starters on suspensions.

Olla led the hustle for the team. He was followed by Wendelborn and Andres Rodriguez.

Wendelborn attempted to give the Indians their first score shortly after the game began but had the goal stolen after an official called the goal good and changed her mind saying he was offsides.

Olla would be next to attempt a shot just before 19 minutes of play. His high kick was deflected by the Warriors man at the net.

Seven minutes later, Olla tried again from mid field but instead of net found a post. On his third attempt he fell just short of the goal.

Usually it's Thelen catching balls in the box but Tyler Haack found himself in the right place at the right time thwarting a Warrior shot on goal from the corner giving goalie Ian Kenworthy a break.

It wasn't just the Indians taking shots, the Warriors had their fair share but could not equal the Indians intensity.

With four minutes left in the half, Gaynor out ran a defender and thwarted a goal before Kenworthy could get to it. His kick found Olla down field where he attempted an unsuccessful shot.

The second half saw a repeat of the Indians' intensity as Wendelborn tried for two more goals but fell short.

The game went into overtime and within two minutes Waupun took the win as a result of Kenworthy not being able to clear the box.

"Ian came out and got a piece of it but it deflected off him and was able to find the net," Piwoni explained.

Kenworthy was credited for blocking eight shots and managed the box the whole game.

Indians' clubs challenged at Sheboygan invite

By Judy Harlow

SHEBOYGAN- The annual Sheboygan Invitational brought out some of the top girls golf teams in the eastern sector of Wisconsin, and they really put on a show in Monday's 18-hole competition.

Behind Jenny Konop's 4-over-par 75, the Green Bay Notre Dame team captured the title with a 354 total, besting 16 other teams in the process.

The combined host Sheboygan team (North and South) posted the same total but had to finish for second place after a playoff. Neenah was third at 358.

Heather Zuehlke broke 100, finishing with a 45-51-96 to wind up in a tie for 22nd place, helping Kewaskum to an 11th place finish as a team. The combined score for the four Indian counters were 422.

Kate Winkler carded a 55-53-108 for 47th, while Danielle Donnelly (52-57) and Megan Gavin (55-54) posted 109s to finish in a tie for 50th.

The tournament was played at the Towne and Country Golf Course in Sheboygan.

Hartford holds 3-point edge in WLT golf

By Judy Harlow

Statesman Correspondent

HARTFORD- Unusual circumstances continue to hamper the Oconomowoc girls golf team in its bid for the Wisconsin Little Ten golf title.

After signing an incorrect score, Cooney had Brinkley Schmidt DQ'ed in the season-opener, and then in last Tuesday's meet at West Bend Country Club, Schmidt had to withdraw because of illness, enabling Hartford to take the top spot. Hartford won with a 208 total, while Oconomowoc, which had won two of the conference matches in a row, had to settle for third place at 212.

Alexa Snyder of Oconomowoc was the medalist with a 46.

In the battle for the third place in the standings, it wasn't as much a matter of the Kewaskum girls playing badly as it was Watertown's girls playing well. The Lady Goslings, paced by Taylor Egnarski's 47, jumped up to second place with a 208, tying Hartford but losing the tiebreakers on the scores of the fifth players.

"I didn't expect them to come with that good of scoring," KHS coach Amy Piwoni said about Watertown. "Sometimes that happens."

The Indians, who finished fifth with a 222, were again led by Heather Zuehlke, who fired a 51 on the longer, par-37 front nine at WBCC.

"She had another good round," Piwoni said of Zuehlke, who posted the fourth best score on the day. Megan Gavin was next low with a 55, while Danielle Donnelly and Katie Winkler both posted 58s.

Donnelly had a good round going until the 8th hole. "She got stuck in a sand trap in front of the green," Piwoni said.

With two matches to go, Hartford is sitting atop the standings with 6 points, while Cooney is second with 9 and Watertown next at 11. Currently sporting a total of 15 points, the Indians will have to place ahead of Watertown in the two remaining meets to have a shot at third place.

In the battle for the conference meet, Snyder is out in front with a 135 total, nine shots ahead of Ally Frase of Hartford.

Zuehlke and Winkler are sixth and seventh, respectively, with 152 and 153.

Kewaskum 27, Kiel 6 | Raiders give Indians a run for their money

Scoring comes late for Indians at Kiel

Indians' quarterback Cody Nuernberg (3) moves past a Kiel linebacker as he attempts to move the ball during Friday's 27-6 win over the Raiders. Nuernberg threw one interception, tossed a touchdown pass and scampered 48 yards.

KIEL- The Raiders were ready for Kewaskum's football team last Friday and threw everything it had at the Indians early.

With its offense sputtering, Kewaskum's defense held its own and even scored itself before the running game put the hammer down in the fourth quarter. The Indians won 27-6 to go 1-0 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference and 3-0 overall.

The Indians took the game over in the final 12 minutes, blowing the Raiders off the ball and running over them time and again. All-conference running back Cody Seibel finished with 14 carries for 132 yards, most of that in the final 12 minutes. Quarterback Cody Nuernberg had 10 carries for 52 yards and running back Tony Crossman nine for 34.

"We were able to wear them down a bit," said Kewaskum coach Jason Piittmann. "They had a lot of guys going both ways."

It was the Indians who looked worn down early, or at least out of sync.

After a first quarter that included fumbling away the opening kickoff, three-and-outs on both possessions and being the victim of a fake punt, Piittmann had his entire team take a knee near the sideline and gave his players a butt chewing.

Still, the Indians were only down 3-0 - trailing for the first time this season - and it looked to get worse after a Crossman fumble in the second quarter ended a four-minute, 75-yard drive on Kiel's 8-yardline.

After a 4-yard run on first down, Scott Doll and Matt Ballard sacked the Raider quarterback for a six-yard loss. A run on third down was stuffed for no gain, and the Raiders had to punt.

The offense took advantage.

On third and eight from the Kiel 39, Cody Nuernberg hit speedster Brandon Zolp with a bomb for a touchdown. While in midair the ball looked to be overthrown, but Zolp, streaking down the sideline, blew by a defender, caught the ball in stride and dove into the end zone.

"It's a play we've been working on," Zolp said. "I saw it and I knew I had to make up (ground) to catch it. It was a perfect pass by Cody."

It was 7-3 with 4:31 until halftime.

A minute later, Kewaskum went up 14-3 when Raider sophomore quarterback Gedy Norby ran an option right, took a hit from Josh Boettcher and pitched to nobody in particular. Ryan Ogi scooped up the ball and raced 40 yards for another score.

D.J. Ermer recovered another fumble on the ensuing possession on the Raider 29, and the Indians looked to go up big at the half after an 18-yard run by Nuernberg and a 9-yard pass to Zolp.

The Raiders stood tough, however, and stuffed an option play on fourth and one from the 9.

Piittmann, still not seeing his team's usual focus or fire, let the Indians have it at half-time.

Zolp said coaches told the players they had "big heads" and to get their heads in the game.

"We hung in there," he said. "We didn't hang our head."

But to start the third quarter the Raiders found a hole in the middle of Kewaskum's defense and drove 60 yards in nearly eight minutes to the Indians' eight. Fifteen of the 16 plays were runs. A 25-yard field goal cut the lead to 14-6.

It was as close as the game would get as Kewaskum adjusted defensively and took over in the fourth quarter. From the Indian 43 with 9:34 left, Nuernberg ran for four yards, followed by a 31-yard burst by Seibel down the right side. Nuernberg ran another eight yards up the middle, Seibel nine on a pitch right and on the next play the final 10 yards untouched to the end zone. The PAT missed and it was 20-6 with 7:23 left.

After a three-and-out, Kewaskum got the ball back on the Raider 49. Seibel ran for 24 yards, then 11 before recovering a fumble that slipped Yards: Kewaskum had about 270 yards of offense to Kiel's 150. Bo Seibel led Kewaskum with eight tackles. His brother, Cody, had four. Steven Chapman and Josh Boettcher had three each. Cody Nuernberg went 2-9 for 48 yards with a touchdown and interception. Gedy Norby was 5-15 for 23 yards. Caleb Olla was 3-4 on PATs.

out of Nuernberg's hands and flew into the sky. Crossman ran for seven yards to the left and Seibel finished the drive with a 3-yard touchdown run. The Indians led 27-6 with 4:27 left and that's how it would stay.

Seibel said the Indians wanted it more come fourth quarter.

"We finally got the urge," he said. "We really didn't have it in the first half."

And the first half?

"Gotta learn from it and move on," Seibel said.

Piittmann was again impressed with the Raiders.

"Kiel had a great game plan," he said. "They came and they smacked us in the mouth right away. I give those kids credit. We always get their best. Luckily, our defense had a stiff back tonight."

He'll take the victory, as lousy as it looked.

"It wasn't pretty but we got the win. We'll move on from there."

This week Kewaskum hosts cross-village rival Campbellsport in what has become to be known as the locally relatively famous Kettle Moraine Bowl.

NOTES

Kewaskum's defense this year through three games has given up one touchdown (while backups played out a 34-6 win) and two field goals;

Kewaskum has scored 75 points this year, outscoring opponents on average 25-4.

Zolp fumbled the opening kickoff and was held in check on punt returns, after two big return games to start the season;

After the fumble, Kiel's offense went zero yards in three plays and then missed a 36-yard field goal;

In the first quarter, Kiel lined up to punt on fourth and five from the Kewaskum 37, then shifted to a different formation and completed a 23-yard pass. It led to a field goal.

Seibel, an all-conference inside linebacker, came out of the game because of a bloody chin when Kiel had the ball on Kewaskum's 10 in the first quarter. Kiel didn't take advantage and run up the middle, instead passing twice for incompletions, forcing a field goal.
