Hydrant debate flows on, but does water in private hydrants?

By Mitch Maersch
For The Statesman

VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM—Two residents on private drives again pleaded their case to the Village Board on Monday to flush public and private fire hydrants in the name of public safety.

Jerry Stilb and Jim Verhalen expressed their disappointment with the board's lack of urgency after appearing at the Sept. 21 meeting. The board directed staff to draft an ordinance on private and public hydrant flushing similar to that of River Falls. While public hydrants in the village are flushed annually to clear out sediment and ensure they're working properly, private hydrant maintenance falls to private owners. Stilb and Verhalen live in Nature Haven and aren't sure when the last time their hydrant was flushed.

Stilb said he is disappointed the village doesn't flush all public and private hydrants in the village. He said a notice telling residents that hydrant flushing was happening during a few-day stretch in August was misleading because it didn't address the exclusion of private hydrants.

"I am disappointed that the fire chief ... did not insist these fire hydrants not be flushed immediately," he said.

County preparing for Highway H reconstruction

By Mitch Maersch
For The Statesman

The Washington County Transportation Committee is wrestling with what speed limit should be posted after a $4 million upgrade to Highway H in the town of Farmington.

Whether it's 60, 50 or 45 mph will impact the cost of the project, and committee members are aware different factions may want different speeds.

The project resurfaces a 2.8-mile, hilly stretch of the road east of Highway 144 from White Wood Drive east to the Milwaukee River bridge. Preliminary cost estimates are in the $3.5 to $4 million range, depending on the speed limit, and do not include right-of-way acquisition or construction observation/staking, said Thomas Lanser, president of Gremmer and Associates Inc., a consulting engineer firm from Fond du Lac doing the design work.

"It's in very poor condition," Lanser said of the road.

The project is slated to be done in spring through fall, 2011.

Dropping the speed limit from 60 to 50 would require 53,000 yards less of earth work and require slightly less wetlands, saving about $250,000 on the project. Dropping from 50 to 45 mph would carry a minimal cost savings, Lanser said. The present speed limit is 55.

"My guess is just like (highway) A, people are going to drive 58 mph," said committee member Brian Bausch. "There's been people driving that at 60 mph for years."

"People are going to fly on there," said committee member Joe Gonnering. "I was driving 55 on there and a guy passed me."

Regardless of the speed limit, Lanser said people tend to drive speeds they're comfortable with.

"If we make it wider, they're going to feel more comfortable," said Gonnering.

Pizza and smoke detector delivery from local firefighters Oct. 22

How would you like a pizza delivered by a firefighter in a fire truck? It could happen.

Families ordering pizza, who of 10, between 5:30 - 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 22, may get their dinner delivered by a Kewaskum firefighter thanks to "Delivering Fire Prevention," a program of Safe Kids Southeast Wisconsin Coalition.

Families will be chosen at random to have their pizza delivered by a fire truck. If they have working smoke detectors in their home, their pizza will be free, compliments of the pizza restaurant. Some families may receive a free smoke or carbon monoxide detector, and all families will receive fire prevention education from Safe Kids Southeast Wisconsin.

This program is designed to increase awareness about the necessity of having working smoke detectors in every home, while reminding homeowners to change the batteries in their smoke and carbon monoxide detectors twice a year.

Children in homes without working smoke alarms are at greater risk for fire-related death and injury. Safe Kids Southeast Wisconsin recommends:

Installing smoke detectors on every level in your home and in each bedroom.

Testing smoke and carbon monoxide alarms monthly and replacing batteries twice a year.

Replacing smoke detectors every 10 years.

Creating and regularly practicing two escape plans from each room in your house. Have a designated meeting spot outside your house. Closely inspect your home to eliminate potential fire hazards such as replacing old or frayed electrical wires and appliance cords.

For more fire prevention tips, call Safe Kids Southeast Wisconsin at (414) 390-2178.

Delivering Fire Prevention is sponsored by State Farm*, Safe Kids Southeast Wisconsin, area firefighters and local pizza restaurants.

A member of Safe Kids Worldwide, Safe Kids Southeast Wisconsin works to prevent accidental injuries, the leading cause of death among children 14 years of age and younger. The four-county

(Milwaukee, Ozaukee, Washington, Waukesha) coalition combines the expertise of community agencies and individuals to prevent childhood injuries through collaboration, education, policy and advocacy initiatives. Children's Health Education Center, a member of Children's Hospital and Health System, is its lead agency. For more information, call (866) 228-5670.

Village Board Briefs

Tin Man's new hat runs 6 figures

The Village Board on Monday approved a bid of $139,400 for Lane Tank to do roof repair on an old water tower, pending approval the fix will allow it to be used for at least a couple of more years.

Known as the tin man, the 80-year-old tower near Regal Ware has a deteriorating and rusted roof, running the risk of leakage and contamination, possibly triggering the Department of Natural Resources to disallow the village from using it.

Trustee Kevin Scheunemann called for Lane Tank to guarantee DNR approval for a couple of years, "which I don't think is too much to ask."

The motion passed 5-0. Trustees Harry Roecker and Steve Scheunemann were absent.

The $140,000 fix could extend the life of the tower for 10 years, from what a Lane Tank employee told Zoning Administrator and Building Inspector Chad Cook after an inspection.

A new tank would run in the $1 million range, money the village doesn't have or want to try to find.

Open houses planned for treatment plant, 2035 plan

Two separate open houses are scheduled so village residents can see two major initiatives affecting life in the village.

As the village's wastewater treatment plant upgrade is completed, the Village Board scheduled an Open House for the public to see the new and improved facility on Saturday, Oct. 24 between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Those interested in seeing the village's state mandated 2035 growth plan should plan on being at the Municipal Building Annex on Thursday, Nov. 5, from 6-7:15 p.m. to review and ask questions about the plan.

A public hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m., followed by a Plan Commission meeting and Village Board meeting. The plan could be adopted that night.

Kettle Moraine Cares Parkinson walk raises $8,000 for research

DUNDEE— Efforts of the newly-formed Kettle Moraine Cares organization has resulted in an $8,000 donation to the Wisconsin Parkinson Association. The funds were raised in July at the first annual Kenny's Walk for Parkinsons.

Jay Blankenship, executive director for Wisconsin Parkinson Association (WPA) and Dacy Reimer, WPA outreach coordinator accepted the contribution at a community dinner on August 19, hosted by local Modern Woodmen of America agent, Jeff Jaeger.

Modern Woodmen was one of the major sponsors of the event raising the funds.

The walk took place on the newly completed state trail in the Northern Kettle Moraine between Long Lake and Mauthe Lake, each passing through Dundee. Over 30 volunteers welcomed almost 200 participants who chose either of two event options, a 2 mi. family walk between Long Lake and Dundee or a 4 mi. walk/run between Mauthe Lake and Dundee.

Inspiration to choose WPA as the "cause" was Dundee resident Kenny Schneider who has been a Parkinson patient for five years. Kenny manages the Dundee Sportsman's Club grounds where the event was headquartered.

You are invited to access the website www.KettleMoraineCares.com for more information about the event. Post event donations are welcome. Send your donation to Kettle Moraine Cares, P.O. Box 502, Campbellsport, WI 53010.

Hydrant debate

Verhalen asked Village President Andrew Pesch when private hydrants were last flushed.

"We don't track it," Pesch said. "We're totally surprised people don't look out for themselves and flush their own hydrants."

Verhalen said he talked to many private hydrant owners who told him they didn't know hydrant flushing was their responsibility.

He said he checked a few developer's agreements about dedicating land to the village. While some agreements are almost exactly alike, others are different. He requested a meeting with village staff to determine if planned unit developments (PUDs) were supposed to be dedicated. Village Administrator Mathew Heiser said he is open to that meeting.

While he lives on a private drive, Verhalen said he is partially paying for the 240 public hydrants in the village and the 22 to 24 private ones should be flushed by the village as well.

"Hydrants really belong in the care of the Department of Public Works, I think," he said. Upon asking about a couple of specific hydrants, Public Works Director Jerry Gilles said it is sometimes difficult to tell which hydrants are public and which are private.

He said the board didn't "show any sense of urgency" at the Sept. 21 meeting, and echoed Stilb's comments on flushing first, developing an ordinance later. Verhalen suggests the board tell Gilles to flush all the hydrants "to protect all the citizens and the firefighters, then work on your ordinance."

Both Stilb and Verhalen noted the irony that this week is Fire Prevention Week.

The board took no action on Monday as the item was posted on the agenda for appearance by citizens only.

At the last board meeting, Gilles said the city of River Falls allows private developments to hire the city to flush its hydrants or hire another entity for the work. Private hydrant owners must submit certificates to the city showing the hydrant is flushed. Penalties ensue if the hydrants are not flushed.

Village staff is working on a similar ordinance that will be put to vote at a future meeting.

Fire Chief Mark Groeschel said on Sept. 21 he didn't know any private hydrants weren't being flushed. If his department ever tries to use a fire hydrant that doesn't work, he said the village and department would look "pretty bad."

The issue is playing out in a similar fashion to the great garbage debate of '08 in which residents on private drives complained that some of their garbage was being picked up and others' was not, yet they all paid taxes that covers public street garbage pickup.

Immunize now for protection against seasonal influenza

County and state health officials are encouraging individuals to get immunized against seasonal influenza now, before the coming winter season. "While many people are closely watching the H1N1 influenza threat and are waiting for that vaccine, we must not overlook the importance of being immunized against seasonal influenza as well," says Washington County Health Officer Linda Walter. "A vaccine for H1N1 influenza probably won't be available until later in October, but the seasonal influenza vaccine is available now. It would be prudent for people to get immunized for seasonal influenza vaccine is available now. It would be prudent for people to get immunized for seasonal influenza while we await developments on H1N1."

Annual influenza immunization is needed for protection. Influenza viruses can change each year; therefore, influenza vaccines are developed for each season. Seasonal influenza vaccination is recommended for:

- persons 50 years old or older
- women who are or will be in their second or third trimester of pregnancy during the influenza season
- children and adolescents who are receiving long-term aspirin therapy
- healthy children 6 months through five years of age

persons six months or age or older with heart or lung problems requiring regular medical follow-up or recent hospitalizations, cancer or immunologic disorders, AIDS and related conditions, kidney disease, cystic fibrosis, diabetes, anemia and asthma.

Persons who need influenza vaccine should contact their health care provider or check the Washington County Health Department website at www.co.washington.wi.us, click on "Seasonal Influenza" and scroll down to "Private Provider Immunization Clinics." Call to confirm clinic schedules with private providers.

Seasonal influenza is different from a cold, mainly because the symptoms and complications are more severe. Seasonal influenza viruses infect the respiratory tract (nose, throat, and lungs) in humans. The onset of the disease usually occurs suddenly and symptoms typically include fever, headache, malaise (a feeling of being ill and without energy), cough, sore throat, nasal congestion and body aches. If you are experiencing these symptoms, stay home from work or school. If you have severe illness or you are at high risk for flu complications call your health care provider.

Walter also said that the Health Department is actively planning for a countywide H1N1 vaccine campaign but no dates or clinic locations have been announced yet. The federal government ordered 195 million doses of H1N1 vaccine. In a typical year, 100 million doses of seasonal flu vaccine are administered in the U.S. The bulk of vaccine should start to arrive by mid-October. Vaccinations will be voluntary and there will be enough vaccine available for everyone who wants it, but it will not all be available at once. The use of target populations will allow public health the ability to reduce the spread of disease and protect those most vulnerable. Currently the Health Department in working with the Volunteer Center of Washington County to recruit possible volunteers to assist in the local campaign. If interested call 262-338-8256 or visit their website at www.volunteernow.net. All volunteers will need to have a background check and complete a registration form.

Highway H

When it comes to public comment, committee member Jon Edgren said residents living along the road will request a lower speed limit while travelers will go for the higher one. But Bausch said the local residents will be the only ones to show at the meeting.

Edgren said the standard practice is to design a road 5 mph faster than the speed limit is posted.

Before recommending a speed limit, Bausch wants to know if the road serves as one of the main arteries to Highway 43.

Lanser is putting together updated cost estimates for 55 and 45 mph speed limits for the next committee meeting on Oct. 20.

A public information meeting on the project is slated for Wednesday, Oct. 28 at the Farmington Town Hall. An open house runs from 6:30-8:30 p.m. with a presentation at 7.

"Mummy, I'm Hungry!"

Great ideas for your little Trick-Or-Treaters!

Crusty Garlic Twists

18 Rhodes™ Dinner Rolls, thawed to room temperature
 ¼ cup olive oil
 3 garlic cloves, minced
 ½ teaspoon salt
 ½ teaspoon pepper
 1 cup grated Parmesan cheese, divided
 2 tablespoons finely chopped rosemary
 1 tablespoon finely chopped thyme
 ½ teaspoon garlic salt
 additional olive oil, cheese and salt, if desired

Spray counter lightly with non-stick cooking spray. Combine 9 rolls together and roll into a 10x16-inch rectangle. Repeat with remaining 9 rolls to make a second rectangle. Cover both rectangles with plastic wrap and let rest. In a small bowl combine olive oil, garlic, salt and pepper. In another bowl combine ½ cup cheese, rosemary, thyme and garlic salt. Remove wrap from dough and brush one rectangle with ½ of the olive oil mixture and sprinkle with cheese mixture. Top with second rectangle. Press down lightly with hands. Cut along the 16-inch side into 18 equal pieces (less than 1-inch wide). Twist each one several times and place on sprayed baking sheets. Brush with remaining olive oil mixture and sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake at 350°F 15-20 minutes or until golden brown and crusty. Remove from oven and brush with additional olive oil and sprinkle with additional cheese and salt, if desired.

Chili Cheese Rolls

24 Rhodes™ Dinner Rolls, thawed to room temperature
 15 oz can thick chili
 8 oz cheddar cheese, cut into 12 cubes

Spray counter lightly with non-stick cooking spray. Combine 2 rolls together and flatten into a 5 to 6-inch circle. Repeat with remaining rolls. In the center of each dough circle, place one cube of cheese and 1-2 tablespoons of thick chili. Fold all edges up over filling and secure with toothpick. Place, seam side up, in a well sprayed muffin tin. Cover with sprayed plastic wrap and let rise 15-20 minutes. Remove wrap and bake at 350°F 20-25 minutes. Carefully remove to cooling rack.

Baked Dogs on a Stick

Rhodes™ Dinner Rolls, thawed but still cold hot dogs, cut in half
 1 egg, beaten
 sesame seeds
 wooden skewers

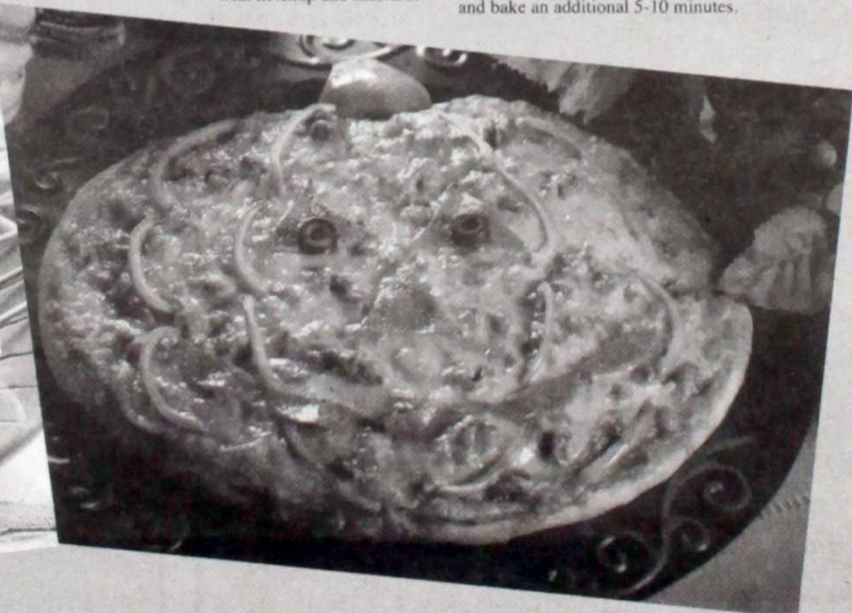

Roll one dinner roll into a 10-12-inch rope. Insert a wooden skewer into each hot dog half. Wrap dough around a hot dog half, tucking ends under dough. Repeat above steps to make desired amount. Place on sprayed baking sheets. Brush with beaten egg and sprinkle with sesame seeds. Bake at 375°F 15-20 minutes or until golden brown.

Yummy Mummy Dogs

Rhodes™ Dinner Rolls, thawed but still cold bun length hot dogs
 mustard

For each Mummy Dog, cut one dinner roll in half. Roll each half into a 22-24-inch rope. Wrap one rope around hot dog from bottom up 4 1/2 inches. Cut a 1 1/2 inch piece off of the second rope and set aside. Wrap the second rope around the hot dog from the bottom up 4 1/2 inches going the opposite way. Wrap the 1 1/2 inch piece around the top of the hot dog. Bake Mummy Dogs on a sprayed baking sheet and bake at 350°F 10-15 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove from oven, cool slightly and add mustard eyes. Serve warm with ketchup and mustard.

Halloween night could be a fright with all those kid-tempting sweets in plain sight. So, don't get caught without a few goodies that are good for them. You can wrap up your Halloween party menu with some fun but creepy Mummy Mini Pizzas. Fit for a King-Tut-sized appetite, this clever idea should knock 'em dead.

Maybe you'd like to roll out some Happy Jack Pizzas for the little goblins to sink their teeth into. Baking these fun Jack-O-Lanterns using frozen dough from your grocery store is so quick and easy it's spooky.

The same convenient frozen dough makes lots of tricks possible. Take an afternoon with your children and make some Baked Hot Dogs on a Stick. Served with mustard and blood-red ketchup these fun little dogs will delight family and friends. If there's still room for dessert, fill those cravings with a big helping of warm Cinnamon Apple Crumble or a-delicious Apple Fritter. Fiendishly good, especially served with a scoop of vanilla ice cream.

Don't be frightened by how quickly these tempting treats disappear! The trick is using easy frozen dough. The treat is in the homemade taste.

Mummy Mini Pizzas

8 Rhodes™ Dinner Rolls, thawed to room temperature
 1/3 cup pizza sauce
 1/8 string cheese
 sliced olives

Spray counter lightly with non-stick cooking spray. Flatten each roll into a 3 to 4-inch circle. Place on a sprayed baking sheet. Top each one with about 2 teaspoons pizza sauce. Poke each one several times with a fork to prevent bubbles from forming. Bake at 350°F 8-10 minutes. While pizzas are forming, tear 1 string cheese for each pizza into thin strips. Remove pizzas from oven and place 2 olive slices on each for eyes. Layer cheese strips in random fashion to resemble mummy bandages. Return to oven and bake an additional 1-2 minutes to melt cheese slightly.

Happy Jack Pizza

8 Rhodes™ Dinner Rolls, thawed and risen
 1/3 cup pizza sauce
 ½ pound ground sausage, cooked and drained
 2 cups grated cheddar cheese
 1 green pepper
 salami or pepperoni slices
 sliced olives

Spray counter lightly with non-stick cooking spray. Combine rolls together and roll into a 13-inch oval pumpkin shape. Place on a sprayed baking sheet. Top with pizza sauce, sausage and cheese. Bake at 350°F 10-15 minutes. Remove from oven and decorate like a Jack-O-Lantern using green pepper strips, salami and sliced olives. Make a stem out of green pepper and place on the top. Return to oven and bake an additional 5-10 minutes.

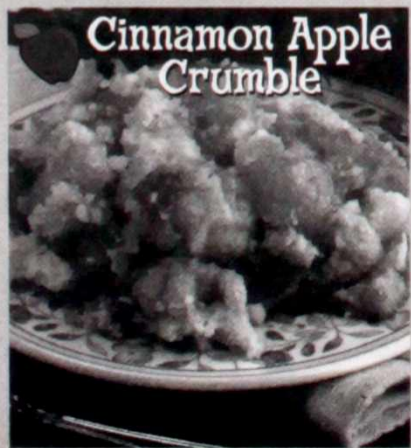

Cinnamon Apple Crumble

1 package Rhodes Anytime!™ Cinnamon Rolls, thawed (6 rolls in their own pan)
 10 ounce apple pie filling

Topping:
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 cup flour
 1/2 cup butter, softened

Remove thawed cinnamon rolls from pan and place on a cutting board. Top rolls with apple pie filling. Using a sharp knife cut rolls and pie filling into small pieces until well combined. Place cut up rolls and pie filling back in pan.

For topping: combine sugar and flour. Mix in butter until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle over rolls and apple pie filling. Bake at 350°F 40-45 minutes.

Apple Fritters

Glaze:
 1 cup powdered sugar
 1/3 cup milk or half & half

Preheat oil to 350° F, enough that a 6-inch cinnamon roll float freely. Combine apples, sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg in a bowl. Transfer the mixture into a strainer over the bowl so excess juice can drain. Spray counter lightly with non-stick spray. Roll each roll into a 6-inch circle. Brush 10 circles lightly with beaten egg. Sprinkle with 2-3 tablespoons of the apple mixture, avoiding the edges. Lay the remaining circles over the apple mixture and match up the edges. Seal thoroughly by pressing the edges together several times. Fry until deep golden brown on both sides. Place on a cooling rack to drain. Repeat with remaining rolls. For glaze, whisk together powdered sugar and milk. Brush warm fritters with glaze and serve when glaze has set.

20 Rhodes™ Dinner Rolls, thawed and partially risen
 3 granny Smith apples, peeled and diced
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1 teaspoon nutmeg
 1 egg, beaten
 oil for deep frying

At the Movies with Jim Westphal

Jim Westphal, former Kewaskum high school English teacher of 34 years, is sharing his love of classic films with the public. The films are to be shown at the Kewaskum High School Theatre on Wednesdays at 2:00 PM; they are free and open to the public. The Kewaskum Public Library, the Kewaskum Community Schools, and the Kiwanis Club are sponsoring "At the Movies with Jim Westphal".

October Schedule

October 14 - "From Here to Eternity" Burt Lancaster, Montgomery Clift, Frank Sinatra, Ernest Borgnine

October 21 - "The Birds" Starring Tippi Hendren, Rod Taylor, Jessica Tandy, Suzanne Pleshette, Veronica Cartwright

An intermission is to take place when refreshments are available. As host, Jim is going to provide some background about the film and facilitate conversation during the intermission and after the film.

The easiest way to access the theatre is to park in the back parking lot between the high school and middle school. Enter Door #12. The theatre and restrooms are near this entrance. Because students are dismissed at 1:30 PM on Wednesdays, plenty of parking is available.

UWWC Community Lecture Series to focus on Sports

Sports - Beyond the Game is the title of UW-Washington County's Community Lecture Series for 2009/10. The lectures take place on Wednesday evening, with three fall sessions planned for October 14, 21 and 28. Each one hour lecture begins at 7pm in Room 228. Admission is free and no reservations are needed. The popular lecture series welcomes area adults as well as high school and college students.

Dr. Daniel Taylor, Professor Emeritus from Lawrence University, is the speaker for the first lecture on Wednesday, October 14. Dr. Taylor's lecture titled "Ancient Olympics," will cover the nature and importance of sports, both historically and intellectually. Dr. Taylor will use an illustrated slide show to introduce participants to gods and goddesses athletes and heroes, events in the ancient games as well as the spirit of competition that was ever present in the ancient Greek world. This first lecture in the series is also being deemed the Matt Zillig

Memorial Lecture. Matt Zillig was a University of Wisconsin graduate, a world traveler and an active community supporter. After his death in 2008, an endowment was established by his friends and colleagues to sponsor an annual lecture relating to global citizenship at UW-Washington County. This is the first such lecture to honor Zillig. A cheese and wine social will follow this lecture.

The complete series - with dates and topics include:

Wed. October 14: Ancient Olympics. Speaker: Dr. Daniel Taylor, Lawrence University (Emeritus)

Wed. October 21: Sports in Literature. Speaker: Dr. Greg Ahrenhoerster, UW-Waukesha

Wed., October 28: Mental Skills to Improve Your Game. Speaker: Dr. Celine McNelisKline, UW-Marathon

Spring 2010 Lectures:

Wednesday, March 31: Sports Medicine. Speaker: Dr. Jennifer Earl, UW-Milwaukee

Wed. April 14: Female Equality in Sports. Speaker:

Dr. Michael Nofz, UW-Fond du Lac

Wed., April 21: The Role of the Sports Reporter. Speaker: Tim VanVooren, Fox 6 News

The purpose of the lecture series is to provide fundamental understanding and a better understanding of a topic, which is chosen each year by the UW-WC Lectures Committee. Members of the Lectures Committee for the 2009/10 series included Sue Bausch (University Relations), Dr. Dylan Bennett (Political Science), Dr. Chris Hays (Anthropology), Dr. Mike Mattek (English), Dan Anhalt (Continuing Education) and SGA student representatives, Jacob Cochran and Abby Hartwig.

Information about the Lecture Series is also available on the campus website at www.washington.uwc.edu. All lectures will meet in Room 228, which is located on the second floor of the campus at 400 University Drive in West Bend. Use the main entrance and follow the directional signs to lecture hall. Free parking is available.

Don't miss your chance to be scared to death

The spirits are restless at the Washington County Historical Society as they prepare for "Ghosts of Washington County." This screaming good time is Friday, October 23 and Saturday, October 24. The cost is only $5 per person.

This year's event features an all new "haunted" jail tour including original jail history, scary surprises, and lots of fun. The tour is longer this year, and includes the Kettle Moraine Paranormal Investigation (KMPI). KMPI has investigated the unusual happenings at the Old Sheriff's Residence and Jail, but the spirits have been elusive. Take a tour to see if the ghosts will show themselves. Friday evening jail tours are available from 4:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Reservations are required.

Also new this year are tours designed especially for the little ghosts and goblins on Saturday from 12:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. These tours are for children 8 and under and include sweet Halloween treats.

The screaming continues Saturday evening with haunted jail tours from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., and don't miss the spine-tingling stories penned by local author Dave Rank. Mr. Rank is a journalist in West Bend and is also a published short story author. Another scary treat is the dramatization of Edgar Allen Poe's, "The Cask of Amantillado" featuring students from the University of Wisconsin - Washington County. These two special presentations begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Old Courthouse Museum. Jail tours resume afterwards. This is an exciting way for the whole family to celebrate Halloween. All proceeds support the Washington County Historical Society.

Because of the frightening nature of this event, reservations are required. Please call the Washington County Historical Society at 262-335-4678 to make yours - if you dare!

Lighthouse Concert October 9

Lighthouse Ministries, Inc., a nondenominational ministry, which has been putting on events for the past 22 years, invites the public to a free Christian concert with a coffeehouse atmosphere on Friday, October 9, from 7 to 10 p.m. Award winning songwriter/singer Greg McDougal from Nashville, TN has a story, a cause and a voice you must hear.

Greg was headed to a musical career with Henry Paul (lead singer of Black Hawk) as his producer, along with a song recorded by John Michael Montgomery. His musical career was put on hold as three of his four children were diagnosed with cystic fibrosis and he changed careers to a home repair carpenter as means to provide for his household.

Because of his children's special needs, God inspired him to produce a CD, "The Work of a Carpenter," that earned him a nomination for the 2009 Inspirational Country Music Awards New Artist of Year, country music album of the year, male vocalist/songwriter of the year and competing with Ricky Skaggs and Charlie Daniels for musician of the year.

Greg has recently produced another CD, "Try a Little Kindness," that has his very special friends, The Oak Ridge Boys and The Bellamy Brothers and others, involved with the recording.

Greg's voice will remind you of John Denver and Glenn Campbell and the old country/gospel tunes with a fresh new contemporary sound.

Admission is free and there will be door prizes. Refreshments will be available. Lighthouse meets at Silverbrook School, 120 N. Silverbrook Drive, West Bend. Enter and park in rear of school. For more information call (262) 338-0205 or visit www.lighthouseconcerts.com.

Pumpkin Carvers Needed

Do you have a knack for carving awesome pumpkins? Would you like to show off your handiwork to hundreds of people? Then the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit sure could use your help. They are looking for people to carve pumpkins for their Halloween Nature Hikes that will take place on October 16 and 17 at the Long Lake Recreation Area. The theme for this year's hikes is animals of the forest.

Pumpkins will be provided. To make sure that the pumpkins with their creations remain "fresh," they should not be carved until a day or two before the event. Pumpkins may be carved on October 14 or 15 at the Ice Age Visitor Center, or people may take them home and bring them back before 2:00 pm on October 16.

If you are interested in sharing your pumpkin carving talents, please contact Jackie Scharfenberg, forest naturalist, to make arrangements. She may be reached at the Ice Age Visitor Center Tuesday through Saturday. The center's phone number is 920-533-8322.

POWDER PUFF GAME KICKS OFF HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES

Kewaskum High School held their annual homecoming powderpuff football game Monday night with the seniors and freshman (SF) girls challenging the juniors and sophomores (JS). The seniors and freshmen were victorious in the 21-7 game. Scoring first was George Abfall for the JS. Senior Anna Butler tied the game after a great pass from quarterback Erika Koffke. Butler would come back a short time later for a second TD. Hailey Gregoriou started the second quarter with the SF's third TD.

The Bookworm Sez
by Terri Schlichenmeyer
Have a Little Faith
by Mitch Albom
Hyperion $23.99 288 pages

It was a lesson you learned the moment you were old enough to sass back: always respect your elders.

When Grandma spoke, you listened. If Grandpa said to do something, it was as good as done. If you valued your life, you answered Mom or Dad respectfully, and Heaven help the kid who spoke to a neighbor in a snide manner.

Always respect your elders. But what if the elder makes a difficult request? In the new book "Have a Little Faith" by Mitch Albom, it took eight years to make good a promise.

Albert Lewis almost wasn't a Rabbi. Having failed Divinity School, he almost gave up but was encouraged to try again. Later, when he finally got his own synagogue, the tiny congregation consisted of just a handful of families.

One of them was Mitch Albom's.

As a child, Albom remembered the Reb as an imposing man with an inexplicable love of song and of sermon; basically, someone to avoid. Despite his parents' anchoring and years of lessons, Albom grew up and grew out of his faith, learning that mouthed prayers, uttered mechanically, were somehow acceptable. He moved away from home and looked upon religion as quaint, invisible.

So Albom was surprised when Rabbi Lewis asked him to do his eulogy.

Because one cannot speak well about a man without knowing him, Albom agreed to the request, but told the Reb that they needed to set meetings so that questions could be answered.

And it came to pass that Albom made the trek from his home in Detroit to New Jersey several times a year for eight years.

Back in Detroit, the economy was lashing at the city, jobs were lost, and so were homes. But in a sagging old cathedral near Tiger Stadium, a former drug dealer was feeding the homeless and preaching the gospel, all but abandoned by his Mother Church, trying to do good with what God was giving him.

As Albom began to examine the disparity between the congregations - the wealthy synagogue and the poverty-stricken inner-city shelter-church - he began to wonder about God, trust, and faith. And he learned a lesson you won't soon forget.

I wasn't crazy about this book at first. Author Mitch Albom, like one of his subjects, loves to savor an anecdote before he lets it go, and that bogs down the beginning of this book. But once you get past the stage-setting and you move a few pages in, "Have a Little Faith" soars.

By telling the story of two men who are similar but different, Albom forces his readers to examine their own beliefs, as well as the meaning of hope and miracles. I won't tell you how this book ends, but suffice it to say that you'll come away with your heart lifted to the rafters.

Fans of Albom's first book and anyone who's ever pondered the nature of belief will want to make room on their bookshelf for a new favorite. "Have a Little Faith" is a book I believe you'll love.

A Look at Life
ROCHELLE PENNINGTON

If you can dream it, You can do it

Sugar Ray Robinson said, "To be a champion, you have to believe in yourself even if no one else will." Here are a few other people who would probably agree with him:

Marilyn Monroe was told by the director of the Blue Book Modeling Agency: "You'd better learn secretarial skills or else get married." She was also fired from the 20th Century Fox studio by production manager Darryl Zanuch because she was "unattractive."

Inventor/genius
Thomas Edison was fired from his job at the railroad where he sold newspapers and candy. He was also fired from four different telegraph operating jobs. His co-workers nicknamed him "The Looney," and one of his employers commented that Edison would probably "never amount to much."

Malcolm Forbes, who served as Editor-in-Chief of Forbes magazine for many years, failed to make the staff of his school newspaper at Princeton University in earlier years. He was rejected.

Beethoven's music teacher had little optimism for him and even remarked, "as a composer you are hopeless."

F. W. Woolworth was hired to work in a dry goods store when he was 21, but his employer would not let him wait on customers because he "didn't have enough sense."

Radio commentator Rush Limbaugh was fired from seven broadcasting jobs. He also quit college his freshman year after receiving failing grades in both of the speech classes he was enrolled in and never went back.

Sally Jesse Raphael, host of the two-time Emmy Award winning television program, "The Sally Jesse Raphael Show," was fired eighteen times in the broadcasting industry, and often slept in her car, before she landed the position that became her life's passion for the next nineteen years.

"If you worry about what other people think of you, it's because you have more confidence in their opinion than you do in your own."

"Whatever you do, you are going to need courage. Whatever course you decide upon, there will always be someone to tell you that you are wrong. Difficulties will arise which will tempt you to believe that your critics are right, but you must map out your course of action and follow it to the end."
RALPH WALDO EMERSON

Anonymous
"If I were asked to give what I consider to be the single most useful bit of advice for all humanity, it would be this: Expect difficulty as an inevitable part of life and when it comes, hold your head high, look it squarely in the eye, and say, 'I will be bigger than you. You cannot defeat me.'"

ANN LANDERS

"Always remember that the most massive characters are seared with scars. Out of suffering have emerged the strongest souls."

EDWIN CHAPIN

- Italian-style frozen meatballs (about 76 meatballs)
- 1 jar (28 to 32 oz.) pasta or spaghetti sauce

Place meatballs and sauce in slow cooker liner; stir gently. Place lid on slow cooker.

Cook on low for 6 to 7 hours OR on high for 3 to 4 hours until meatballs are hot.

Over 35 people were in court Monday afternoon when Washington County Circuit Court Judge Richard T. Becker handed down his decision to dismiss a complaint by eight Beechwood area residents to stop the Kewaskum School Board from closing the Beechwood Elementary School. The complaint alleged the board had acted without authority in closing the school.

The Kewaskum Lions Club will be holding their 11th Annual Chicken BBQ and Kettle 20 foot race on Sunday, August 19, in River Hill Park.

Dundee Mountain, a famous glacial feature of the northern Kettle Moraine State Forest, is being restored this summer from the ravages of man and nature. The inverted, cone-shaped hill, a "kame" in glacial terminology, bears a deep scar for almost the length of its 200-foot height. The kame owes its early disfigurement to motorcycles that cut ruts across its surface before the area became part of the state-administered northern unit of the Kettle Moraine State Forest. Over the years, eroding rains deepened the ruts into a gully that is more than 10 feet deep in some places and even wider than it is deep. From the nearby campground of Long Lake, the damaged kame was visible, more an eyesore on the landscape than a historic vestige of the glacial era.

Before the time the Washington County Fair came to a close, members of the Kewaskum 4-H'ers had won seven grand champion ribbons and one reserve champion. Also two members won the right to take part in the State 4-H Horse Show and Debi Seideman had one of her blue ribbon clothing outfits on display at the State Fair. Those winning grand champions were Brian Butzlaff in Swine, Debi Seideman in Foods, Jeri Friedemann in Cake Decorating, Bob Friedemann in Poultry, Jenny Sauer in Goats, Renee Kapp in Cats, and Pat Holtz in the Chicken Flying Contest. Michelle Etta received a Reserve Champion with her rabbit. Bran, Bb and Pat each received a trophy with their ribbon. Bob Friedemann won his trophy for best-of-the-show in chickens. Chris Holtz and Jenny Carron will take part in the State 4-H Horse Show in the Coliseum at Madison. Jenny won a blue ribbon in showmanship and Chris won a blue ribbon in pleasure and horsemanship.

A daughter was born to Pat and Sylvester Van Beek of Oakfield on July 30. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leander Ruplinger of Campbellsport and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Van Beek of West Bend.

Persons residing in the area between Kewaskum and Barton reported this week that a minor tornado swept through the area south of the village Saturday afternoon. Heavy rain, but a short duration, accompanied the high winds. Three trees were uprooted on the William Otten farm, southwest of Kewaskum, and corn stalk leaves in the field were shredded by the wind. The "cone" traveled southeast and tore a roof off a playhouse at the John Kuester residence east of the West Bend-Barton Sportsman's Club before blowing itself out. The Edward Dorn family, neighbors of the Ottens, also reported seeing the cone in the sky and the wind. Pieces of corn stalks and other debris were reported visible in the cone.

At the Budget Hearing of Kewaskum Community High School held July 20, a proposed budget of $125,970 was adopted.

At the village board meeting Monday evening, the project sponsored by the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club to provide a swimming beach on the west side of the Milwaukee River in the park area was discussed and board members decided to allow the Kiwanians to go ahead with this project. Work will be undertaken this weekend and the beach is expected to be ready for public use almost immediately. Because of the lateness of the swimming season, bath houses will not be constructed anymore this summer. It was also decided against a pier being built. But a raft will be floated, the weeds will be removed, the muck will be blown out with fire hoses and by other means, and sand will be dumped into the river and into the beach. The Kiwanis Club will provide supervision at the beach for the remainder of the swimming season. The river water has been tested by the State Board of Health and found to be excellent for swimming.

A deal was made this week whereby Ella's Bake Shop, located in the former Gust. Konitz building on East Main Street, changed hands, when Joe Faus-der, who had been employed at the Campbellsport bakery for some time, became the new owner. Mr. Fausder took possession of the business on Monday. He is now installing sanitary ovens and equipment to meet the demands of the state pure food laws, and all may be rest assured that the baked goods purchased from the new bakery will be sanitary and will meet all the requirements of the most fastidious housewife.

The last of the free open air movies ended last Saturday evening when the picture, "White Hell of Pitz Palu," was shown in the Opera House on account of rain. The open air movies, sponsored by the businessmen of the village, had been drawing record crowds for the past six Saturdays, were a decided success and the people were very much pleased with the class of pictures shown. Now that the contract for the movies has expired, the businessmen of the village do not wish to stop there, so they have made arrangements to have a series of four band concerts, beginning August 11 and continuing until September 1. The Kewaskum Band has been engaged to give these concerts. Two of them will be held on the lot between the Bank of Kewaskum and Otto Graf's drug store, and the remaining two on the vacant lot between Edw. C. Miller and A.G. Koch's warehouse.

Fred Belger and wife met with a runaway here Saturday, caused by their horse becoming frightened on Main Street in front of Phillip McLaughlin's meat market, by a train. Mr. Belger and wife were both seated in the rig ready to go home when the horse reared up and by holding the animal down, the bit broke. The horse ran across the street into Mrs. John Guth's barn. The rig struck the barn door, which was only partly open and threw Mr. Belger forcibly out of the rig, whereby he received a bad cut on his forehead. Mrs. Belger remained in the rig and was but slightly injured.

Herbert, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Straub of St. Kilian, had the misfortune of falling from a ladder and breaking his arm last week Friday.

While engaged in his planing mill last week Friday, Phillip Schellinger of Kohlsville was struck by a piece of board which had in some way caught the circular saw, striking him in the back and injuring one kidney and fracturing one rib.

With the Dick Ellis Experts

A time to hunt...Mourning doves, ruffed grouse push fishing aside

At 13, Gunner rests with the writer on an overgrown logging road during a late September hunt for Ruffed Grouse near Manitowish Waters

I'm starting to puppy shop. Don't know yet what he will be, but I do know that 16 year old Blue Boy has been gone for more than a year. And, a daddy's double nightmare....my 15 year old daughter (with a temporary drivers license yet)... hit me recently with the question; "Dad, can we get a puppy?"

Good memories, and my own reasons for wanting another dog, come back with new hunting seasons. In recent weeks, with my brother John Ellis I ushered in the ruffed grouse season in the far north and the mourning dove season in the far south. Each of these hunts included yellow lab Gunner, Blue's life-long hunting partner now age 13, and Dillon, Gunner's two year old blood line relative who would actually rather ride a Pontoon Boat on the Manitowish Chain than hunt.

If he had fingers, Dillon would surely sip martinis and smoke fine cigars. If he could talk, he might rasp, "I say old man, these bird were after... might they get a bit angry and do they bite?" It must be that English strain of lab in him that doesn't guarantee brush busting, depending on his mood. Gunner, on the other hand, would rather die than lose a bird, even now with the joint and back pain that came with the geriatric years. He is all American lab and has always played the role.

We were given permission for the first time to hunt a Waukesha County farm for mourning doves. A 12-pack of beer for the owner sealed the deal and simply being polite and not abusing the privilege has already earned a season long invitation to come again.

The dove is the perfect target if the real goal of the hunt is to allow an aging dog easy retrieves in easy-to work cover. The farm has acres of standing corn with rows cut with a combine every 100 yards, surrounded by soybeans. It didn't have the sunflowers or some grains that can be ideal to draw in mourning doves, but regardless it did appeal to many of the birds that were flushed or taken as they darted in small flocks overhead.

In addition to making a fine hors devours and offering a difficult target, at least for me and my .410, it is biologically sound to hunt the mourning dove. 500 to 600 million mourning doves migrate annually in the United States, and five to six million doves migrate through Wisconsin. With or without hunting, the birds suffer 60 to 70 percent annual mortality and have a life expectancy of less than one year. Predation, disease, hunting and accidents each take a toll. To compensate, the dove produces several broods of young annually. But, hunting is a biologically proven non-factor specific to survival of the species.

In Wisconsin, between 20,000 and 30,000 hunters harvest between 100,000 and 200,000 migrating or resident mourning doves annually. The state's first hunt in 2003 drew approximately 23,000 hunters who harvested about 150,000 doves. With the dove population slightly increasing, last year was the first year that the season was also increased by 10 days. That continued in 2009 with a September 1 start concluding November 9. Hunters may take 15 birds daily.

Especially with the new Mentored Hunting Program in Wisconsin debuting September 1 that allows 10 year old boys and girls to hunt under strict guideline with an adult, dove hunting is perfect for introducing young hunters to the shooting sports. The early fall hunts usually combine mild weather with difficult but ample shooting opportunities with both flush and pass shooting on birds that can reach 45 miles per hour on the wing. It is the perfect blend to introduce a young person to hunting.

Although we annually introduce new hunters to the field, this hunt was much more for the dogs. When the day was done, John had bagged four doves; and Gunner had retrieved each dove with a field veteran's expertise. Even Dillon, with a dove in his mouth, seemed to finally understand that Gunner is on to something; these things with feathers may actually be more fun than tennis balls and Frisbees.

The same week, the same hunters with the same two dogs ventured 300 miles north to the Northern Highland State Forests. With almost all of the leaves still on the trees and the autumn colors not yet at 30 percent, the little shooting we did have was difficult at best. I didn't shoot and John missed.

In our pocket of the north-land, the population is reportedly up three percent in 2009. Some hunters we spoke to are reporting low grouse activity, others...great hunting. Except for photos sent to your local editor, we'll save a more detailed grouse hunt column for later in the year with ideal conditions meaning, the leaves will be down.

But for now, if I were you... I'd start planning that northern grouse hunt. It looks like it will be worth your time. Signing off for now. Somewhere...I've got a puppy to adopt.

Kewaskum's Gridiron teams continue to do well

By Judy Harlow
For the Statesman

The four Kewaskum Gridiron teams were nearly perfect last Saturday.

The fifth and eighth grade teams won by three- and two-point margins, respectively, and the seventh graders romped. The lone glitch on the day wasn't a loss but rather a 6-6 tie the sixth graders (3-0-1) had to settle for in their game against Germantown White.

"It was kind of a heart-breaking game," coach Bob Johnson said, reporting his team scored on a nice drive, capped off by Josh Baker's 2-yard burst, but the Hawks came back to tie on a 60-yard sweep with 1:09 remaining.

"It came on a fourth (down) and three (yards to go)," Johnson said, noting his defense had played well the entire way until that last drive.

Kewaskum tried a kick for its PAT, and, "The snap was high," Johnson said, reporting Germantown attempted a run to win the game after the Indians were whistled for an offside penalty, and, "We stuffed it."

Only eighth grade teams play overtimes to break ties, so the score stayed at 6-6.

Defensively, Ben Watzig "had a monster game with a couple of sacks," Johnson said, and Zack Heberer made a couple nice tackles.

The seventh graders (3-1) drew West Bend East for an opponent and won a 36-12 blowout.

Dylan Thull opened the scoring with a 22-yard run and a PAT kick for an 8-0 lead, then in the second quarter, Zack Smith returned a kickoff 75 yards for a TD and added another on a short run, followed by a Bille Lehmann to Hunter Demmon pass for the PAT.

Matt Elbe got into the act with a 65-yard run and Smith added a third TD in Q3.

Coach Randy Schlice said Gage Domask had a big hit in the fourth quarter, causing a fumble, and he added,

"(Joshua) Limbach and (Brad) Petersen "had good games at defensive end."

The fifth graders (3-1) used a stout defense and a third quarter touchdown pass to notch a 9-6 decision over Brookfield East.

Mike Boettcher tossed a 4-yard pass to Kyle Pamperin in the third quarter, and Dalton Poole caught a pass for the successful PAT, giving the Indians a 7-6 lead.

"The defensive front six created turnovers and stops for losses," coach Mark Walcheske said, praising Brady Hanson, Mitchell Tietz, Tyler Oelhafen, Mason Amerling, Trevor Cross, and Cayden Dwyer, who tackled the Spartan quarterback for a safety late in the game after Hanson's punt had gone out of bounds on the Brookfield 7-yard line.

Scott Hiltunen also had an interception earlier in the fourth quarter.

 This was a big day for the Indian eighth graders (1-3), who posted win No. 1, an 8-6 decision over West Bend West White.

West threatened early in the game, but the Indians held at their 20, according to coach "Jonesy" Korth, who reported West took the lead a couple series later.

Kewaskum got on the board thanks to a Brett Boegel pass to Kurtis Luedtke, covering 10 yards. Boegel kicked the PAT, and that was all the Indians needed as there was no scoring in the second half.

"Boegel's going to be a nice quarterback for the future," Korth said.

"Ben Peterson ... outstanding play on defense with two sacks," Korth said, adding "Joey Seitz did some nice running and so did the (Anthony) Webb kid."

Lady Indians walloped by Waupun, killed by Kiel

The Indians' George Abfall (12) goes up for a kill on Waupun's Jenell Larsen during the second match of Thursday's loss hosted by the Warriors. Kayla Bastian stands at the ready behind Abfall.

Coach Joe Moser is looking for some vigor from his volleyball team after a beating from one of the best teams in the country and a sluggish Saturday tournament.

After getting bounced by Kiel in last Saturday's Cedar Grove-Belgium Rocket Invite, the Indians get their shot at revenge today (Thursday) when they host the Raiders.

The Indians went 3-0 to win their pool in the tournament before eventual champion Kiel sent them home in the first round of the championship bracket, 25-13, 25-21. Erika Heberer had eight kills and six assists. Elissa Miller had seven kills and Ashley Faber eight assists. Kayla Bastian and Lauren Gonring each had four digs.

"Kiel was screaming and yelling, obviously pumped up to play us. I don't think I have ever seen a team so excited when we missed a serve. They were intense," Moser said. "We did not seem excited at all to be there."

The tables could turn today.

"Hopefully we can refocus and bring the intensity on Thursday for a rematch at home," he said.

In pool play, the Indians snuck by Kohler, 21-25, 26-24, 15-11, and St. Mary Central, 25-21, 21-25, 15-11, and Beat Living Word Lutheran, 28-26, 25-16.

"Not our best volleyball this weekend. It seemed as if everyone had their off day on the same day. Lots of untimely serving and hitting errors, we couldn't really get any good rallies going," Moser said.

Against Living Word, Bastian had eight kills and Faber seven. Heberer had 16 assists and Faber 12. Heberer had four digs and Faber two aces.

Against Kohler, Miller had eight kills and Heberer six. Heberer had seven assists and Lauren Gonring had six digs. Haley Rauch served four aces and Potter two.

Against St. Mary Central, Heberer had 11 kills and Miller 10. Ashley Kuechler had four blocks and Faber three. Faber had 10 assists and Heberer eight. Bastian had nine digs, Heberer six and Rauch five. Rauch served five aces.

Last Thursday, the Indians took their 7-0 Eastern Wisconsin Conference record into 7-0 Waupun and got a glimpse of the measuring stick for a volleyball program.

The Warriors cruised on their parents night, 25-11, 25-13, 25-14, and continued their undefeated conference match run since 2002. Waupun returned two of its three first-team all-state players from last year's state championship team that was ranked 63rd in the country.

Heberer had eight kills, Faber four and Miller three. Heberer had 10 assists and Faber six. No Indian recorded an ace. Gonring and Heberer each had nine digs, Bastian seven and Rauch six, sometimes in self defense of fast balls shot out of cannons.

"We had some of our biggest digs we had got all season," Moser said. "You've got to play a good team to get your best digs."

Despite the defensive effort and players telling each other before the match not to "look at who they are," Moser said he sometimes caught the Indians "in awe watching their hitters get 25 feet off the court."

It was tough to blame them. Waupun put on a display that sometimes looked like women against girls. The Indians didn't take a lead all night against an opponent that hasn't lost a game in conference and looks like it may not lose one to any team the rest of the season.

Avoiding a letdown after beating top-ranked Division 1 teams en route to winning the Lynn LaPorte Sprawl the Saturday before wasn't an issue for the Division 2 Warriors.

"We had some good hard practices Monday and Tuesday," said Coach Keith Milkowski. "Our practices get progressively tougher as the season goes on."

Senior Brandi Dolgner vouched for that.

"All of our practices were definitely harder than usual," she said.

The key against Kewaskum was "definitely energy," she said. "The whole parent-night thing."

When first-team all-state players Dolgner and Bridget Nickel weren't pounding from the outside, the entire front line, led by 6-foot-1 Libby Bresser, was blocking or altering shots at the net. The Warriors have three players 6-0 or taller and play even bigger teams to long aces, speed and athleticism.

"We touch a lot of volleyballs at the net. We block for a lot of points, too," Milkowski said.

While Moser said "pulling an upset" was the goal, he hopes his team learned not to get nervous "when we play a team that we know is good."

Waupun has won six state titles since 2001 and 11 since 1993. Milkowski wouldn't yet say if this team is the finest he's ever coached. The Warriors' 2004 team landed six players on the all-state team, including first-teamer Brittney Dolgner, Wisconsin Gatorade Player of the Year and Prep All American.

This year's Dolgner, Brandi, is the fifth sister in what has become a legendary volleyball family. She and her four older siblings have each garnered all-state status.

ers of Waukesha. She fired a 3-over-par 74. There were seven girls in the field who broke 80.

KHS' Zuehlke, Winkler in golf sectionals

By Judy Harlow
For the Statesman

While the majority of players on Kewaskum's girls golf team can put away their clubs until spring, juniors Heather Zuehlke and Kate Winkler earned the right to play in at least one more event when they qualified for play in a Division 1 sectional meet.

Powerhouses Hartland Arrowhead and Homestead, two of the larger high schools in the state, finished 1-2 in the regional held Wednesday at Germantown's Blackstone Creek Golf Course. Arrowhead posted a team low 352 strokes. Homestead finished second at 373.

The other two team qualifiers were Hartford and Menomonee Falls, behind 4-player totals of 379 and 400.

Kewaskum finished among the eight teams in the competition. The Indian foursome combined for a 418, led by Zuehlke and Winkler who carded scores of 99 and 103.

Zuehlke started off the round with a 49 on the front nine and maintained her consistency with a 50 on the back, while Winkler began with a 54, then trimmed off five strokes with her 49 for her total.

The low four individuals, not counting those players from the team qualifiers, also advance to sectionals, and Zuehlke and Winkler were second and third among the remaining players.

"Kate & Heather had good performances at Regionals, however, I know they are both capable of scoring lower than that. As a Senior, it was Danielle Donnelly's last meet. She would've liked to go out with a better score, but she was our leader this year and a consistent scorer as well," coach Amy Piwoni said. "The goal for Kate & Heather is to each break 100 at Sectionals. I will be pleased with that if we can achieve it."

Donnelly, the lone senior on the team, ended her career with a 55-53—108, and the other counter was Megan Gavin, also with a 108 on nines of 55-53.

The sectional was to be held Oct. 6 or 7 at Oshkosh North. The winner and runner-up team, plus the top three individuals, from that 18-hole test move on to the WIAA State Golf Tournament at University Ridge Golf Course on Oct. 12-13.

The Indians also competed recently in the Oconomowoc Invitational (Rolling Hills Golf Course, finishing 22 out of 26 teams. They had a 440 total, behind an even 100 by Winkler, who was followed by Danielle Donnelly, 108; Heather Zuehlke, 115; and Megan Gavin, 117.

"Kate had a pretty good day and Danielle was consistent like she always is. But overall, it was not one of our better days," Piwoni said. "I was disappointed with our performance, especially after coming off of a good showing at conference."

Madison Edgewood took the title by 21 strokes over Kettle Moraine, 328 to 349. The meet's medalist was Emily Jo-

Kewaskum 31, Two Rivers 0 | Homecoming battle Friday brings a clash of EWC's finest

First snap physical domination leads to rout

TWO RIVERS- Kewaskum's football team finally got the start it was looking for and now the Indians' biggest, fastest and toughest test comes to town on Friday.

Kewaskum blew away Two Rivers last Friday, 31-0, while Plymouth clobbered Campbellsport, 28-0, setting up Friday's match against the only two 4-0 teams in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

The Indians are coming off of their finest 24 minutes yet in conference play, scoring 25 points in the second half, intercepting two passes and recovering a fumble.

Friday is Kewaskum's homecoming to boot. Let the fun begin, because something's going to have to give.

Plymouth comes in as the highest-scoring team in the conference with 140 points. Kewaskum is second with 101.

Kewaskum's defense is the stingiest, allowing 20 points. Plymouth is second with 41.

"Plymouth is good. They are strong and have good speed. We definitely have our hands full this week," said Coach Jason Piittmann.

The Indians finally got rolling early last week after three straight listless starts had them playing from behind. Against Two Rivers, the Indians put the hammer down early and kept pounding.

Cody Seibel, Kewaskum's bruising brute on offense and defense, ran the ball the first seven times from scrimmage for 41 yards. A slip on wet grass by quarterback Cody Nuernberg on a pass play resulted in an 8-yard loss and ultimately stalled the drive, but the message was sent. There would be no need for a comeback this game.

The Indians exploded for 25 points in the second half, outgaining Two Rivers 175 yards to 76. Kewaskum intercepted two passes and recovered a punt after it hit the leg of a Purple Raider.

"We had to establish a physical presence in the game and we did that early," Piittmann said.

Two Rivers' Brad Ducat entered the game 45 yards ahead of Seibel as the conference's leading rusher. Seibel caught and passed him on the first drive of the game en route to 186 yards on 28 carries and two touchdowns, including converting two fourth-and-1 plays with runs of six and four yards.

"Our offensive line was outstanding. They worked hard this past week," Seibel said.

Ducat finished with 97 yards on 18 carries.

Seibel, also an inside linebacker, said the Indians held Ducat in check by "just playing our normal defense and just play hard."

It was Seibel's fourth straight 100-yard rushing game with at least one score in each. Seibel now has 543 yards on 80 carries (6.8 average) and seven touchdowns.

Seibel's younger brother and fellow linebacker, Bo, made two interceptions and three tackles as the Seibel show became the main attraction Friday night.

Bo's first interception required a sprint to the sideline and a partial dive while keeping a foot in bounds. The ball was lofted for a receiver behind him.

"Just go all out," he said of the effort.

The second was thrown right to him on a rollout play. Seibel was in the receiver's "back pocket" and said he "worked off what the quarterback gave me."

The Indians roared out of the gates to start the third quarter, namely sparkplug speedster Brandon Zolp. In less than four minutes the senior had a big kick return, caught a touchdown and intercepted a pass.

Zolp set the Indians up on their own 42 with a 32-yard kick return to begin the second half.

Kewaskum drove to the Purple Raiders' 35 when Zolp struck again. Nuernberg hit him with a pass as a Purple Raider went for the interception and missed. With no defenders left in the vicinity, Zolp turned and darted to the end zone for his fourth receiving touchdown of the season. On the Purple Raiders' ensuing possession, Zolp picked off a pass and returned it 16 yards to the Two Rivers' 44.

A shanked Two Rivers' punt toward the end of the quarter had Kewaskum on its opponent's 32. Five running plays, the first two from Tony Crossman and the final three from C. Seibel had the Indians up 18-0 with 47 seconds left. Seibel scored from 19 yards out on an option pitch left.

Bo Seibel's second interception put the Indians on the Two Rivers' 30. Crossman and C. Seibel combined on six running plays to top it off, this time with Crossman diving for the right pylon from nine yards out. It was 24-0 with 10:33 left in the game.

An Indian punt set up Kewaskum's final score. D.J. Ermer recovered the ball at the Two Rivers' 21 after it touched a Purple Raider's leg. Crossman later scored on a four-yard run to the left.

Eastern Wisconsin Conference standings (according to <http://ewc.homestead.com/FootballStandings.html>)

While the teams traded body blows for much of the first half, Kewaskum got rolling toward the end of the first quarter with a boost from Zolp, the conference's leading punt returner.

A 40-yard jaunt down the right sideline had the Indians setting up shop at the Purple Raiders' 47.

Nine running plays and an incomplete pass later the Indians went up 6-0 on a 6-yard run from Seibel. The 3:33 drive covering 53 yards had Nuernberg rushing for 33 yards, including a scramble for seven and burst for 18 up the middle on consecutive plays.

Caleb Olla, nursing an injury from soccer, had his point-after attempt blocked, the first of five Indian PAT adventures. With 9:44 to go in first half, Kewaskum had a lead it never came close to relinquishing.

Kewaskum intercepted three passes for the second straight week. Five different defensive backs (Zolp, C.J. Bowe, Cody Lemke, Steven Chapman and T.J. Schlice) and two linebackers (Cody and Bo Seibel) have at least one pick on the season.

"We spend one day a week working heavy on passing," Piittmann said. "The kids are getting good at reading things."

The Indians played Friday in honor of their missing teammate, junior offensive and defensive tackle Kyle Wesenberg. His mother died from cancer earlier that day.

"After we got done talking to the kids, etc. and we went back to the locker room, the first phone call I made was to Kyle's cell and left a message telling him about the game and that we did it for him."

"We dedicated the win to Kyle - in memory of his mother. I have a game ball that we are taking him tonight at the visitation and the coaches and team are going to the visitation tonight after practice," Piittmann said Tuesday.

NOTES

The teams combined for 13 penalties, six by Two Rivers that helped slow offensive drives.

Kewaskum has posted two shutouts and has yet to give up more than seven points.

Of five PATs, Kewaskum had two blocked, one miss, one partially blocked but made it through, and a two-point try that ended in an incomplete pass.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Kewaskum's junior varsity team beat Two Rivers 20-18 and the freshmen lost 44-14.
