illage taxpayers will see 50¢ tax rate increase

By Mitch Maersch

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

KEWASKUM- The Village Board on Monday approved publishing a budget, albeit with some regret given the tax increase, to present to the public come Nov. 30.

Of four choices presented, the Village Board picked the one that carries a 9.72 percent levy increase. It would raise the mill rate on $1,000 of equalized value from $6.62 to $7.12, a 50-cent bump.

The new rate would have the owner of a $150,000 home pay $1,068, $75 more than this year's $993.

The tax levy is projected to be $1,787,651. Of that, $236,199 is from the new fire truck purchase which was not budgeted for but deemed a need by the Village Board. The department was already behind on the truck replacement schedule.

Other major increases include nearly a 30-percent health insurance increase, or $83,715, for a total of $368,302. Of that, $66,471 goes onto the general fund. The rest is split evenly between the sewer and water

The increase triggered the board to give Administrator Mathew Heiser the authority to seek a different provider than Anthem/Blue Cross. Heiser said he checked with other municipalities and heard of 20- to 24-percent increases, but not 30.

Heiser said the large increase estimate came in at the last minute, and staff is upset at the late notice.

The board chose a budget that does not include $33,064 for a tractor/snowblower that blows snow piled up in parking spaces into trucks to be hauled away. It would be quicker than the present system of scooping the snow.

The village will instead look into leasing options.

That $36,000 was used to decrease the debt from the struggling tax incremental finance (TIF) district (TIF), moving the deficit to $136,347 for next year.

The village's TIF cost is up 11 percent next year through a complicated state formula. 2010's payment is $83,227, up from $75,084, Heiser

Village departments held the line on expenses. The library budget is down by more than 5 percent, public works is down 3 percent, the parks budget is flat and administration is up 2 percent due to health in-

Regardless, Trustee Jim Hovland said he talked with senior citizens who saw the projected higher tax rate in a recent edition of The Statesman. They'd like to see it rise by less.

"A lot of those people are on fixed incomes right now and it creates hardships," he said.

Heiser said most of the village costs are labor.

"We'd have to look at cutting staff levels," he said.

The public hearing on the budget is slated for 7 p.m., Monday, Nov. 30.

Trial delayed for man accused in

By Kyle Zwieg

kyle@kewaskumstatesman.com

WEST BEND - Originally set to begin next week, the trial of a Lomira man accused of killing a Farmington resident in a car accident has been delayed after the defendant switched

A jury trial had initially been set for Jason M. Jacobs on Nov. 10-12, according to information provided by Erica Kintopp of the Washington County District Attorney's office.

Jacobs, 35, faces Class D felony charges of homicide by operating a vehicle while intoxicated and homicide while driving under the use of a controlled substance, according to court records. The charges came after an accident Nov. 14, 2008 that killed Timothy J. McKee, 25, of Farmington Jacobs entered pleas of not guilty to both felony charges on April 27. Each separate charge carries a maximum fine of $100,000 and 25 years imprisonment.

Jacobs had originally been represented by attorney Frank Schiro, before switching his representation to Gary Schmaus, a public defender, on Oct. 19.

Schmaus and Jacobs appeared in front of Judge Andrew Gonring in Washington County Circuit court on Wednesday, Oct. 28. Schmaus was given more time to review the case and motions filed by Jacobs' previous attorney, Kintopp said.

According to a criminal complaint, a witness spotted Jacobs traveling at about 7 a.m. southbound on Orchard Valley Road at about 50 miles per hour, when his black sport utility sped through a stop sign and she suddenly saw dust or debris flying in the field and through the ditch

The witness said Jacobs made no attempt to stop at the intersection of Orchard Valley Road and Highway H and struck McKee's green two-door Saturn. McKee had been traveling two-vehicle crash brought Flight for Life to the village limits on Friday, Oct. 30, at 9:48 p.m. The Kewaskum Police department and Washington County Sheriff's Department responded to the scene and were met with four injured victims, one ejected and laying in the intersection of US HIghway 45 and County Road H/Badger Road. Investigation into the accident revealed that an eastbound passenger car, driven by Cory A. Defatte, 18, of Campbellsport, had briefly stopped for the red light on County Road H/Badger Rd. at USH 45. Prior to the light turning green, the operator attempted to make a left turn onto USH 45 northbound, and was subsequently broadsided by a southbound pick-up truck driven by Gregory J. Vorpahl, 36, of Kewaskum. The collision caused a 16-year-old female passenger in Defatte's vehicle to become ejected. As a result of the crash, the two male drivers and another male passenger in Defatte's vehicle subjects were transported to St. Joseph's Hospital in the town of Polk by Kewaskum Ambulance. The ejected female was flown to Froedert Hospital in Wauwatosa via Flight for Life. All of the injuries appeared to be non-life threatening. As a result of the accident, both north and southbound lanes of USH 45 in the area of CTH H/Badger Rd. were closed to thru traffic for approximately 80 minutes to facilitate rescue and clean-up operations. While this accident remains under investigation by the Washington County Sheriff's Department, neither speed nor alcohol appear to be a contributing factors. West Bend Ambulance and West Bend Intercept assisted at the scene

Flight for Life called to two vehicle village crash

Kewaskum realtor offering free rent to returning soldiers to commemorate Veteran's Day

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

VILLAGE of KEWAS-KUM- A local realtor is giving back to those who defend our freedoms, and he's asking other businesses to join him.

Dominic Ambroselli of Ambroselli Properties is offering two luxury townhouses in Kewaskum rent free for six months each to two veterans.

Winners will be determined through a drawing. Ambroselli calls on other area businesses to donate gift cards or items as well.

"Ambroselli Properties is making a difference and urges other businesses to contact Cheryl at The Statesman Newspaper to also become involved, whether it be a gift card or merchandise. We all owe our freedom to the brave men and women of our armed services," the realtor said in a statement.

Veterans are encouraged to stop at 965 Fond du Lac Ave., on the corner of Fond du Lac and Timblin Drive, between noon and 4 p.m. this Saturday and Sunday to fill out entry cards. A banner in front of the building reads "Two months free rent."

An Army Ranger will be on hand both days to offer veterans support and someone to talk to.

On Sunday at 1:30 p.m., Holy Trinity Catholic Church will ring its bells 21 times to honor fallen soldiers. People are asked to hold a moment of silence in their memory.

Entry cards may also be filled out during an open house the following weekend, Nov. 14 and 15, from noon to 4 n.m.

On Saturday, Nov. 14, the Kewaskum High School Pep Club will be on hand to provide food and beverages. Winners will be announced at a date to be determined. Each townhouse runs $735 per month.

"So that's $1,470 a month he's giving a way. I hope other places call up (to donate)," said real estate agent Dale Ad-

Army Ranger Rich, who may not provide his last name for security reasons, said one of the unforeseen costs of ongoing wars is the care for seriously injured veterans who return home.

Rich knows one man who was in an improvised explosive device explosion who lost his left arm, both legs below the knee has a stump left for his right arm and was so heavily burned he looked he was dropped in oil. He is still alive, but "that quality of life for that gentleman is garbage," Rich said.

Funds to care for veterans like that, and there are many, will be hard on the country, Rich said.

"That is going to be a long running, terrible toll," he said. Rich has seen the worst of the worst himself, serving in Iraq, Afghanistan, Kosovo, Bosnia and Somalia. The 41-year-old has been shot in five different parts of his body, shattered his hand, lost his right kidney and got a brain injury from a bullet ricocheting off a building and triggering a brain hemorrhage

"There's nothing good about war. You do what you have to do," he said.

Rich said he will serve as "someone to talk to" and help fellow veterans with everything he knows.

And that's plenty, given his experience.

"I've seen everything. You need to be able to turn emotions and feelings off like a light switch," he said.

Often, Rich said soldiers are reluctant to talk with people who haven't served. A certain camaraderie exists among fellow soldiers, he said.

His other message to sol-

"Welcome home."

Village will tweak hydrant ordinance

By Mitch Maersch mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

KEWASKUM-The Village Board on Monday directed staff to tweak a proposed ordinance on hydrant flushing to make it easier for private residents to do the job themselves.

The village already altered a copy of the City of River Hills ordinance that allows private residents to have the city flush their hydrants or a private company. Regardless, private hydrant owners must submit certificates to the city showing the hydrant is flushed. Penalties ensue if the hydrants are not flushed.

The issue arose when two residents on private drives complained to the village in September that their hydrants weren't being flushed along with the public ones.

Residents who live in planned unit developments are responsible for flushing their own hydrants, usually through their condo associations. The village flushes public hydrants annually to clear out sediment and ensure they're working properly.

If private residents want to flush the hy-drants themselves instead of pay someone else to do it, they would have to take a class and apply to the Department of Natural Resources for certification, said Public Works Director Jerry Gilles. Continuing education is required to renew certification.

Trustee Kevin Scheunemann said he doesn't want to see certification as a necessity to flush a hydrant. He suggested including an option to allow a public works employee to oversee flushing by a private drive resident.

"I cannot imagine that flushing a hydrant is a matter of brain surgery," said Jim Verhalen, one of the two private drive residents who brought the issue to the board.

Allowing residents to do their own hydrant flushing brings up a problem, however.

"Whose responsibility is it if it gets wrecked?" said Trustee Steve Scheunemann.

Gilles suggested hiring a trainer to show residents how to flush the hydrant and thus take on the liability for damages.

"Liability is the key," said Village Administrator Mathew Heiser.

The village agreed to have its attorney tweak the ordinance.

Health officer needed

By Mitch Maersch

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

KEWASKUM-Police Chief and emergency coordinator Richard Knoebel told the Village Board on Monday the H1N1 virus has arrived in town and suggested the board "vigorously pursue" hiring a health officer

Everyone in the village fire and police departments had the opportunity to be vaccinated, said Knoebel and Fire Chief Mark Groeschel.

The officer would work with Knoebel in case of a pandemic.

The position is usually filled by a doctor or a nurse, but nobody on the board or at the meeting knows of a doctor who lives in the village. The pay is in the range of $250 per year.

If interested, contact the village at 626-8484.

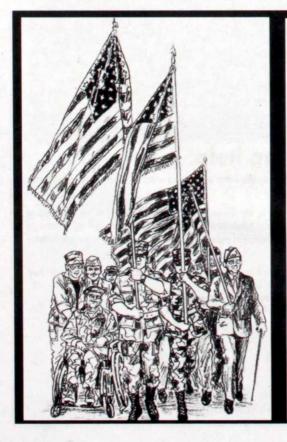

REMEMBER THE BRAVE

We ask everyone to take a moment of silence on Sun., Nov. 8 at 1:30 p.m. Holy Trinity Catholic Church will ring the bells 21 times to honor fallen soldiers.

Town of Barton readies 2010 budget

By Kyle Zwieg

kyle@kewaskumstatesman.com

TOWN OF BARTON - The Town Board will introduce its proposed 2010 budget on Nov. 17 at a public hearing and meeting of town electors.

The town's Finance Committee met on Oct. 27 to hammer out details during a twoand-a-half hour workshop. In order to balance the budget, Clerk Aggie Pruner proposed carrying over funds from the town's 2009 roads budget which were unspent during a slower year for repairs.

Otherwise, the budget expected to be passed by the electors should yield few, if any, surprises, Pruner and town supervisors said. By state law, the town can only reduce its operating budget by a maximum of 3 percent.

been fiscally responsible. He said budgeting would remain largely the same as last year.

You start taking it down and down and down ... we just have to be careful," Bertram said. "I think if we stay smart we'll be OK."

There were no town residents present at the Finance Committee hearing, which was open to the public.

Among expenditures that will likely be increased is the town's elections budget, which was set at $11,700 in 2008, when the town spent $8,771 of that. Pruner recommended a budget of $9,500 to $10,000, because turnout is expected to be higher in next fall's election with a wide-open gubernatorial campaign.

The town's preliminary expenditure estimate came in at $1,046,280 for the 2010 bud-

Oct. 20 meeting

The Town Board met on Oct. 20 at Barton Town Hall.

Among the items discussed:

Marilyn Smith of Puppyland Humane Society Inc., 3456 Highway D, spoke with the board and requested clarification on barking and dogs at large ordinance. Chairman Richard Bertram said he would provide copies of the ordinances to Smith.

Smith was also told any dogs living out the remainder of their lives at the shelter - those not considered adoptable - would need to be licensed with the town of Bar-

A humane officer visits the shelter whenever a written signed complaint is made, Bertram stated. That was ordered earlier this year after numerous complaints against the conditions at Puppyland, which describes itself as a "no kill" animal shelter.

The town approved an assessor contract unanimously at the same amount as the 2009 cost, which is $11,700.

A town burning ordinance is being drafted and will be on the agenda for the Town Board's November meeting, Clerk Aggie Pruder said.

Rick Treleven was unanimously approved for a spot on the town's Plan Commission.

The Barton Town Board meets at 7:30 p.m. the third Tuesday of each month at Barton Town Hall, 2782 Town Hall Road, Kewaskum.

County historical society funding to be decided at budget hearing tonight

By Mitch Maersch mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

WEST BEND- The Washington County Historical Society's funding fluctuation will find a home Thursday night.

The County Board will hold a public hearing on the 2010 budget and is afterward slated to approve the budget.

Since September, the historical society's funding proposal has gone from $190,000 to $95,000 to $160,000

Last year's funding was $175,000.

The Education and Culture Committee on Sept. 1 recommended the $190,000 figure. The Finance Committee on Oct. 6 cut it in half to $95,000.

The Education and Culture Committee on Nov. 5 recommended restoring $65,000 of the funding for a total of $160,000, a $15,000 cut from last year.

The restoration would bump the county levy to $39 million and change, a 1.9 percent increase. The county tax rate per $1,000 of equalized value would increase from $2.7717 to $2.7765.

A $200,000 home would pay $1 more in taxes in 2010, from $554 to $555.

On Tuesday, society Executive Director Chip Beckford presented an executive summary of what the society does for the community to the Education and Culture Committee, including a recent do-

An anonymous donation for $272,000 has paid off the West Bend Co./Regal Ware Museum. The entire museum has been covered by private funds, Beckford said.

Beckford said two positions have gone unfilled to weather the recent economic storm, and all five staff members voluntarily took a 20-percent pay cut this year to keep the society viable.

Staff is assisted by 120 volunteers who would cost $222,000 per year. Beckford said while volunteers help keep the society running, it would not be wise to eliminate paid staff. Volunteers are not as consistent.

"We're all here because we're trying to preserve the history of Washington County," Beckford said. "We love what we do.'

How much money the society will receive to continue doing what it loves will be decided tonight.

Reigle elected to Board of Directors

Jeff Reigle

KEWASKUM - Jeff Reigle, President and CEO of Regal Ware, Inc., has been elected to a three-year term on the Direct Selling Association 2009-2010 Board of Directors

The Direct Selling Association (DSA) is the national trade association of the leading firms that manufacture and distribute goods and services sold directly to consumers. Among its more than 250 active and pending members are companies selling both via a party-plan method and in the traditional person-to-person style. In 2007, U.S. direct sales were more than $30.8 billion with more than 15 million direct sellers nationwide. The vast majority are independent business people - micro-entrepreneurs - whose purpose is to sell the product/service of the company they choose to represent as an independent contractor. Approximately 90 percent of direct sellers operate their business part-time.

Many of Regal Ware's products have been sold via the Direct Sales channel since the company's founding in 1945. Election to the Board of Directors recognizes the experience and expertise that Jeff Reigle and Regal Ware bring to the table in leading the direction of the Direct Selling Association both nationally and internationally

Mr. Reigle has previously served the Direct Selling Association as Board Chairman, Board Vice-Chairman, Direct Selling Education Foundation Chairman, and Direct Selling Education Foundation Vice-Chairman.

Walk to School Day

On October 9, the Herman kids and their friends, of Wayne, noticed that on the lunch menu that day said it was Walk to School Day. They thought it would be fun to walk and it was a beautiful fall day!

Their mother, Tracy Herman, told them that it was about a two mile walk and they still wanted to do it and thought it would be good exercise.

Tracy got all the kids ready and called the bus company to cancel their stop and off to school the group went down Hwy. W.

Tracy said, "(We) sure got some looks from those driving by with all the kids walking with the backpacks and me pulling a wagon full!"

The group of nine left Hwy W and Sunset Drive at about 8:20 for their journey to WES and they got there just in time for school at about 8:55!

Kewaskum School District Emergency School Closings Information

The School District will be using School Messenger, an automated calling system, to inform families of school closings. The system is set to call the primary phone number listed in the student information system.

TV Channels 12 and 4 will announce Kewaskum School closings, as well as the following radio stations:

West Bend: WBKV (1470 AM and 92.5 FM)

Fond du Lac: KFIZ (1450 AM and 107 FM)

Sheboygan: WHBL (1330 AM, 93.7 FM and 106.5 FM)

Milwaukee: WTMJ (620 AM and 94 FM); WKLH (96.5 FM); The Hog (102.9 FM); Jammin' (98.3 FM) and Smooth Jazz (106.9 FM).

Closings will also be posted on the District Website: www.kewaskumschools.org.

When school has opened but weather turns bad, it is recommended that parents listen to one of the above radio stations for a possible school closing announcement. The district is hesitant about closing school during the day but will do so if the safety of the students warrants it. Every effort will be made to announce school closings during the day at least an hour before we dismiss the students.

Parochial school students and special education students will not be transported when district schools close. Decisions to delay the opening of schools will be made judiciously. In cases of a late start, morning early childhood and four year kindergarten programs are automatically cancelled. However, afternoon classes will still operate under their normal schedule.

On Thursday and Friday while everyone else was off, the cast of Fiddler on the Roof had all-day rehearsals. Veterans of the KHS fall musicals could be seen bringing blankets and pillows, iPods, and McDonalds with them to practice. Both days, especially Thursday, are very long and involve long breaks for the chorus.

The cast worked extremely hard. Thursday was spent working with the tech crew and pit band. Students in larger roles practiced with their microphones. The tech crew made adjustments to lighting and sound effects. On Friday students practiced the show from beginning to end. Time was spent perfecting dances and lines, as well as distributing costumes.

The first week in November will see the entire cast in dress rehearsals on Monday and Tuesday. There will be a senior citizen's performance on Wednesday.

On Thursday, there will be two shows during the school day. In the morning, fifth and sixth graders will see a performance of Fiddler on the Roof. In the afternoon, there will be a performance for the seventh and eighth graders from KMS. On Friday and Saturday there will be evening performances for the community. There will be a matinee performance on Sunday. Tickets are still available for purchase from the high school office.

Windows Live@edu offers cost savings to MPTC and its students

Through an e-mail service hosted free by Microsoft, Moraine Park Technical College students get e-mail accounts and the College saves money.

Microsoft's Windows Live@ edu is similar to the Hotmail platform and is designed for colleges. Students have a Moraine Park domain name in their e-mail address. The Live@ edu accounts are available for as long as students wish to keep their accounts open, and access is available via Internet connection from anywhere in the world. Students receive 10 gigabytes (GB) of e-mail storage, 25 GB of SkyDrive storage for files and photos, collaboration tools, MSN Messenger and calendaring. Also available is access to Microsoft Office Live Workspace, which allows users to store and share up to 5 GB worth of Word, Excel and PowerPoint files. In addition, Microsoft provides round-theclock technical support.

According to Jim Blakeslee,

Moraine Park's vice president of information technology, if the College were to host and support a comparable student e-mail system, the cost to the college would be $720,000 over a five-year period.

Outsourcing to Microsoft's Live@edu is a cost-effective way of providing students with a necessary communications tool. "Moraine Park is always researching the most efficient use of our resources while making sure our students have the communication tools for their education. After careful analysis, we determined the best e-mail option for our students and the College would be using this free Microsoft product," said Dr. Gayle Hytrek, Moraine Park president. She indicated the students are pleased with the service and this was a good stewardship decision.

For more information about Moraine Park, visit www. morainepark.edu.

Eating History

····· Andrew F. Smith ·

The turkey's sitting in the freezer, waiting for you to thaw it out.

You're using Grandma's recipe for the dressing, and she's bringing a pair of her famous pies. Your uncle is furnishing his homemade wine and you know your sister will make that corn thing everybody likes. The Thanksgiving meal is shaping up to be a genuine family event, right down to the table.

But did you ever wonder how the foods in your pantry or freezer got there? Read the new book "Eating History" by Andrew F. Smith and you'll see what a school principal, a "hack writer", a savvy ad man, a housewife from Queens, and others had to do with what and how we eat.

Everybody knows that the Pilgrims held the first Thanks-giving after arriving on Plymouth Island. The Indians were there, and they had turkey, roasts, grapes, stew, and root beer they made themselves, right?

Wrong, says Smith. Our traditional beliefs about the first Thanksgiving are largely mythological, created by writers and storytellers. Explorers and natives, for instance, definitely gave thanks for blessings long before the Pilgrims even thought about coming to the new continent, and it was common for several thanksgiving celebrations to be held throughout the year. Furthermore, on the short list above, turkey was the only thing likely to have been at the Pilgrim's feast.

But let's say your family tradition is to eat at a restaurant on Turkey Day. You can thank a couple of Italian immigrants for that, Smith says. Before the Delmonico brothers came to America and opened the restaurant that became a 19th-century hotspot, dining out wasn't socially acceptable at all. "Good" people ate meals at home.

Oh, and by the way... snacking was totally forbidden then, too.

Now, however, you can eat wherever and whatever you want: Chinese, Mexican, fastfood burgers, fried everything, even oatmeal for dinner if that's what you're hungry for. Smith says that even those foods changed our cuisine, just as our palates changed other menus. Chop suey is not a "traditional" Chinese dish, for example. Nachos were created in Dallas in the early 1960s. McDonald's was strictly a drive-up eatery prior to 1968. Dozens of foodstuffs were introduced at world and county fairs. And your love of oatmeal began with a unique and sensational national stunt.

Reading "Eating History" is a little like having a slice of pie in a flavor you've never had before. The crust-cover is pretty generic but that never matters. What's inside looks appetizing, though, and when you bite into it, you're rewarded with several layers of flavor and tastiness.

By taking a look at how small actions throughout history have influenced our dining habits and celebratory feasts, author Andrew F. Smith appeals to foodies, cooks, and historians with this book. I particularly loved how Smith meanders through his stories, wrapping each up with modern facts and updates.

If you're looking for a deliciously different book to read between courses this Thanksgiving, here's one you'll like. "Eating History" is a toothsome delight

West Bend is proudly boasting about the latest project designed to draw shoppers into its downtown business area, the newly completed Riverwalk which runs along both sides of the Milwaukee River. The unsightly banks of the river, which once displayed little more than flotsam and jetsam from dead trees to chunks of concrete and cans, and back doors to Main Street businesses are now dressed in ribbons of cobblestone walks landscaped with trees, shrubs and flowers. Not only is the new walk slowly drawing people back to stroll along the river, stopping to rest at one of the benches or picnic tables, but the birds which once lived and fed off the river are also returning. Several Main Street businesses have now begun to remodel their back entrances to blend in with the newly created beauty of the riverwalk.

The 1959 Kewaskum High School football squad will have a strong veteran first string backfield but a lack of depth in the line, reports Coach Ernie Mitchell at this stage of practice after he had a chance to look over his candidates for the team. Letter winners returning for line positions are Bruce Muckerheide, center; Pat Muckerheide, guard; Billy Walters, tackle, and Don Theusch, end.

While on their way to Chicago last Sunday morning, where they intended to witness the Chicago Cubs - New York Giants baseball game, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Rosenheimer of this village met with an auto accident that might have proven fatal. They were driving along on Highway 41, which at that time was very congested with traffic, and when about seven miles south of Waukegan, where the concrete highway was very narrow, with loose gravel on both sides of the road. their car got off of the concrete into the loose gravel and they were unable to get the car back on the highway again. The car started to roll and turned over three or four times. Passing motorists stopped and assisted Mr. and Mrs. Rosenheimer in extricating themselves from the wreckage. They were taken to a hospital at Waukegan where it was found that aside from numerous bruises and two small bones broken in Mrs. Rosenheimer's foot, they were not seriously injured.

The opening of the new Miller Funeral Home last Saturday and Sunday was observed by the attendance of over 800 visitors, from far and near, who came to inspect the beautiful new funeral parlors. All were very enthusiastic in their praise of this excellent addition to the Village of Kewaskum.

During his act on the stage, he will tell you of the hair-raising risks that have to be taken in making Western pictures which are an every day occurrence with him. All autograph seekers will have an oportunity to get his autograph.

Kewaskum 27, Plymouth 7 | Revenge- a dish served best in the playoffs

Kewaskum turns tables on Plymouth, headed to West De Pere Saturday

By Mitch Maersch mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

PLYMOUTH - Call it revenge, role reversal or whatever you like.

The fact is with both Plymouth and Kewaskum football teams playing for their playoff lives, the other dominated this time around.

After Plymouth ended Kewaskum's 30-game home winning streak and ruined its homecoming on Oct. 9, the Indians last Saturday ended the Panthers' season and ruined their Halloween on their home field.

Kewaskum took a 14-0 halftime lead and made a third-quarter goal-line stand en route to a 27-7 victory. The Indians' starters shut out the Panthers before second string allowed a late score.

"We weren't going for revenge but it's nice to have it. We were way better than we played when we first played," said split end/defensive end Mat Toles, who had a touchdown reception and a gamehigh three sacks.

The No. 4-seeded Indians (10-1) now play at No. 2-seeded West De Pere (10-1) on Saturday at 1 p.m. West De Pere beat Clintonville, 35-7, in the first round of the playoffs and Notre Dame, 42-21, last Saturday.

Against Plymouth, Kewaskum was the physical team this time, and the tone was set on the opening kick-off. Cody Lemke made a big stick on kick returner Craig Grosshuesch at the Panthers' 25, further igniting an already pumped sideline.

The Indians ran for 204 yards, after being held to 62 in the first meeting with Plymouth. On the other side of the ball, they held the Panthers to 96 yards rushing after giving up 204 in Oct. 9's 14-6 loss.

"O-line played a lot smarter, a lot more intense to start with," said Coach Jason Piittmann. "Defensively, we had gap integrity in our defensive scheme. Last time we played out of control too much and that gave Hayden Potts good running lanes and we didn't allow that to happen as much tonight, and that let us control the line of scrimmage a little bit better."

"We worked really hard on the three weeks that we've had. We worked on our fundamentals, stayed low, overpowered them," said defensive tackle Josh Boettcher.

Quarterback Cody Nuemberg completed three bombs to three different receivers, two for touchdowns, and ran for 74 yards and a touchdown on 18 carries.

"The offensive line - hats off to them tonight. They played awesome. They got a push running," Nuernberg said. "We established a great run game, too, this game, that's what helped that opened up everything."

One thing that didn't change from the last game was Kewaskum's short-yardage defense. The Indians held twice on fourth-and-ones Oct. 9, and on Saturday did it once in the first quarter and held Plymouth out of the end zone on fourth and goal from the three in the third quarter.

The latter play changed the complexion of the game.

Down 14-0, the Panthers threatened to score on their first possession of the second half. On first and goal from the eight, Potts gained two up the middle. On second and goal, Cody Seibel forced an incompletion in the end zone when he clobbered Mitch Unger as the ball arrived. On third down, Bo Seibel almost caught a pitch left to Potts, who gained three.

Plymouth called a timeout and set its fourth-down play. Quarterback Jon Criter took the shotgun snap and looked to pass. He didn't find anyone so he scrambled up the middle as Lemke, Toles and Cody Enright converged.

Criter stretched the ball to the goal line and was marked inches short.

"We had goal line stands at our place to keep us in the game, these kept them out of the game, so to speak," Piittmann said.

The Indians almost gave it right back and broke the game open on the same play. After two running plays and a penalty gained next to nothing, Steven Chapman took a handoff up the middle and lost the ball in the air. He quickly snatched it before being tackled by Plymouth's last line of defense. Had he broken that nothing but open field was ahead of him.

On fourth down, punter Cody Seibel bobbled the snap and almost got his kick blocked at the goal line.

Plymouth took over on Kewaskum's 45 but couldn't capitalize. A Jordan Blank and Mack Donath sack lost 17 yards on third and seven, and the Indians' offense put the game away on the next possession.

The Indians began mixing in speedy sophomore Eric Perkins at running back, whose fresh legs behind good blocks began to tear through the Panthers' defense. On third and five from their own 45, Nuernberg hit his third bomb of the game, a 36-yard rainbow to little-used Andy Schreier. Nuernberg later scored from the six on a sweep left. With 9:18 to play, the Indians had a 21-0 lead.

Kewaskum gave up one first down before forcing a punt, and Perkins further sealed Plymouth's fate. From the Kewaskum 45, Perkins took the handoff to the right, Perkins sprinted outside and turned the corner.

Boom. Gone.

The 55-yard score and missed point after made it 27-0 and let Piittmann start to empty his bench with seven minutes to play, a move he never imagined making so early in the game.

Perkins ended with four carries for a game-high 75 yards and a touchdown.

"We knew he was a good ball player. And he's looked good in practice," Piittmann said. "I said, hey, let's give the kid a look. It's playoff time. No holds barred."

The Indians dominated the first half, gaining 189 yards to Plymouth's 47. Nuernberg hit Blank on a 34-yard score in the end zone and Toles for 35 yards on a fly pattern.

On the first score, Nuernberg backpedaled to his left and directed Blank to the corner of the end zone before sending him a sky ball, just out of the outstretched hand of a Panther defensive back.

"Just saw Jordan run down the field and the corner had his back turned, and I just pointed and had him right to the corner of the end zone and just lofted it up and he caught it"

On the second, Toles sprinted by his man and was wide open in the end zone.

"He threw it up; I just went and got it. It was a nice throw, only I could get to it and I caught it," he said.

Piittmann said his quarterback is getting the hang of the deep ball.

"Early in the season ... I don't know if those passes would have been as good of passes because he tended to try to laser the ball. Here he put air underneath it and let the kid go get it. He put the ball where only our guy could get it and they did," he said.

Nuernberg especially credited sophomore Kyle Boehlen, who filled in at center for banged up senior Tyler Hoerig.

"He did awesome tonight. He really stepped up," he said. Defensively, Kewaskum had five sacks, three by Toles and two by Blank. Piittmann said many were coverage sacks.

"He had nobody to go to right away and that allowed our d-line to keep working and get in position to bring him down and they did a good job of maintaining their pass rush lanes and not getting out of position allowing big runs off of that," he said.

Plymouth finished the season 9-2 with the Eastern Wisconsin Conference title.

Piittmann is looking to clean up his team's penalties this week. The Indians drew five flags, some of which stopped momentum.

"A lot of stupid penalties, fixable ones though. Some of it's just common sense," he said.

This Saturday's winner gets the winner of Waupaca vs. Hayward/Lac Courte Oreilles for a trip to the state final in Madison. Kewaskum's run the past four seasons has been stopped at the state semifi-
