Local churches to help the homeless

By Mitch Maersch
mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

KEWASKUM- A Washington County chapter of a national organization that helps homeless families get back on their feet is ready to start hosting after nearly a year of preparation.

Family Promise's Interfaith Hospitality Network (IHN) that has churches host homeless families begins in a church in Hartford on Monday. Kewaskum's Peace United Church of Christ is ninth in a 10-week rotation that organizers hope grows to include more churches.

But homeless people in affluent Washington County?

There's a bigger need than perceived, organizers and volunteers say. Beyond serving homeless families, awareness is one of Family Promise's goals.

"I think it's hard for a lot of people to think there are homeless in the county," said Joe Walter, executive director of the county's Family Promise chapter and its only paid staff.

"The stereotype of the homeless person is the guy begging on the street in the big city and sleeping on park benches ... when there are people not unlike you and me who can find themselves in that situation," said Joan Adler, the program's coordinator at Peace UCC.

Family Promise came to Washington County through the county's Department of Social Services, St. Vincent DePaul and Salvation Army, which noticed an increasing need for services for homeless. West Bend's shelter, the Hebron House, is full and has had to refer families to other agencies.

Churches and volunteers serve as the backbone of the 23-year-old program that now has 150 affiliates across the country.

Through IHN, churches provide families accepted into the program with places to stay overnight - Family Promise provides cots and bedding - meals, "and probably most important they provide hospitality - open arms, accepting folks as guests the way you would accept a guest into your home," Walter said.

Families have breakfast in the morning and get a bag lunch to take with them for the day. Then, adults are driven to the Family Promise's local day center at Cedar Springs Church in Slinger where they can job search on computers and take advantage of free programs like resume writing, parenting, budgeting and others. Children are taken to their schools so they aren't displaced from their education or friends.

The program can handle up to three families or 14 people at one time.

Walter applied for the job for a specific reason. He knows what it's like to be homeless Walter's Town of Polk house burned to the ground in February 2004, displacing his wife, two

Leroy man killed in Wayne crash

By Andrew Kuehl
andrew@kewaskumstatesman.com

TOWN OF WAYNE- A 32-year-old Town of Leroy resident was fatally injured Sunday, April 18 as a result of a motorcycle accident on Mohawk Road west of Highway 41.

A passing motorist who came upon the scene alerted authorities after discovering the accident. Sheriff's deputies along with the Kohlsville First Responders and Kewaskum Rescue Squad were dispatched to the scene.

Upon their arrival a single victim, Todd M. Schmid, was located lying near a motorcycle. The investigation revealed that the victim was travelling westbound on Mohawk Road and crested a hill near a sharp curve in the roadway at a speed too fast to safely negotiate the curve. It is believed he began to lose control of the motorcycle as he approached the curve and was ultimately ejected from the motorcycle. There were no witnesses to the accident.

Schmid was pronounced deceased at the scene by the Washington County Medical Examiner's Office. He was not wearing a helmet. This is the third traffic fatality in Washington County in 2010.

FES students, staff drilled in safety

Farmington Elementary School teacher Julie Wenzlaff receives information from second grade teacher Suzanne Gruett, left during a disaster preparedness drill held Monday at the school. The mock disaster played out as a fire inside the school. When asked what items her staff might improve upon principal Janet Molebash stated she was pleased at how things went saying that only minor tweaks would be put into place. She reported the exercise proved that in the event of a disaster students and staff knew what to do after practicing building evacuations prior to Monday's drill. The drill also tested staff what to do if a child or volunteer went missing during an emergency as both scenarios were played out Monday. The drill involved the Washington County Sheriff's Department, Boltonville and Fillmore Fire Departments and Johnson Bus. More information and photos can be found on page 10.

April's Waiting Child

Adoption Resources of Wisconsin

Michael
 Date of Birth: 11/01/1997

Michael is a handsome 12-year-old boy with a smile and personality that will melt your heart. He is of Hmong decent and can understand both English and Hmong. He participates in music, horseback and swim therapy weekly. Michael enjoys all of his therapy but he especially enjoys horseback riding.

1Michael is in the sixth grade, but is functioning at the grade level of a kindergartner. He can successfully identify the four basic shapes, count to five and identify his colors. His communication skills are improving, and he does a great job with his receptive language skills. Michael does a good job of listening and following directions. He is also getting better at initiating social interaction without the use of his "talker" (a device that helps him communicate to his foster parents and teachers). He is becoming more confident in his speaking and signing skills. 1Michael's workers recommend that he be placed with a two-parent family, since he is non-verbal and also needs constant supervision. Michael's smile and personality will be a great addition to the right family!

For more information about Michael or other Wisconsin children waiting for adoptive homes, call Adoption Resources of Wisconsin at 414-475-1246 or 800-762-8063 or visit the website at www.wiadopt.org.

Tin man gets new hat

Kewaskum's oldest water tower received its much needed rehab this week. In October the village board voted to spend $139,400 on the project. The tower's interior and exterior will also be painted in addition to the roof being replaced. Department of Public Works Director Jerry Gilles stated his department hopes this maintenance will allow the tank to remain in service at least 10 or more years. The old roof was deteriorating and rusting, running the risk of leakage and contamination. The tank is not the primary tower, however during the summer months the tower provides 75,000 gallons of overhead water storage. Lane Tank Company of Mosinee, is doing the repairs and painting.

children and himself.

"My life was rather chaotic as it was for my family," he said.

Walter and family bounced back, and when Walter saw the Family Promise job opportunity last year he jumped at it, leaving his 30-year private practice of outpatient health. The life-long county resident "had an interest to help folks that are in fact my neighbors."

Walter, a marriage family therapist, worked for the past year getting churches and volunteers ready for Monday.

"It takes a lot of help and energy to launch a program. I must say the churches and volunteers have done a tremendous job," he said. "I'm gratified at how compassionate people can be. It's wonderful."

Walter relies on local help like from that of Adler and Rhonda Faehling.

Adler, who works part-time at Peace UCC, attended the initial Family Promise meeting last year, after Pastor Eric Kirkegaard expressed interest in Peace getting involved.

The church is involved in Habitat For Humanity and international relief efforts, and it wanted to do work in its own community.

"There's so much need right at home. We wanted to be in that. It seemed like just a right thing for the church to be doing," Adler said.

Peace is scheduled to host from June 20-27. While 10 churches are in the rotation now, Adler hopes the county hits the ideal number of 13, allowing each church to host four times per year. Volunteers from one host church train the those from the next to establish continuity.

Holy Trinity and St. Michael parishes wanted to get involved, too, but didn't have the space. They do have people wanting to help.

"So they'll contribute volunteers and we'll provide volunteers and space," Adler said.

Faehling became involved through a friend after hearing a motivational speaker. She serves as the volunteer coordinator for Holy Trinity and St. Michael, whose members often switch between attending both churches' masses.

Last weekend, she asked people and families to sign up to help and received more than 50 responses.

"Some of the comments volunteers made - kids said they're glad we're doing this and adults said call me for whatever you need - they're just willing to help out in whatever capacity," she said.

Adler hasn't asked Peace for volunteers yet but knows many are anxiously awaiting the call.

"We're very excited to be starting after all of the months of planning. There's a lot of wonderful people with big hearts involved in this," she said.

The program can always use financial donations, Walter said. It also needs a copier for its office.

To donate or for more information on the program, call Walter at 644-8877 or e-mail him at jwalterfpwc@gmail.com.

SMALL BITES BIG FLAVOR

Grilled Shrimp and Mandarin Black Bean Salad

Mandarin Parfait

FAMILY FEATURES

On-the-go families need easy ways to make healthy eating part of the everyday routine. There's a little fruit that can do just that.

California mandarins are a cross between a sweet orange and a Chinese mandarin, and are harvested from mid-October through April. Sweet, seedless and easy to peel, mandarins offer a variety of nutrients per serving, including fiber, potassium, protein, calcium, vitamin C and folate. A single serving of mandarins (2 whole) has only 80 calories and provides nearly 300 percent of the recommended daily value of vitamin C.

California mandarins are great for snacking, but the pint-sized fruit can also be a tasty and healthy addition to simple, everyday meals. Incorporating mandarins into beverages, salads or yogurt snacks boosts nutritional value and brings the sweet, citrusy taste of summer during the winter months. Try these quick and easy recipes and make mandarins part of your family's nutrition routine.

For more information, visit www.cutiescitrus.com.

Snacking

- Select a mandarin that is firm and heavy for its size. Make sure that it doesn't have soft spots or wrinkled skin. Check its scent — it should smell good, not rotten or fermented.
- Mandarins make a great midday snack. The compact, easy-to-peel treats can reinvigorate you during that all day meeting or be the perfect fuel for an after-school soccer practice.
- Mandarins make a great travel companion. Easy to eat and pack, mandarins will curb hunger during long car rides or unexpected flight delays.
- Keep a bowl of colorful mandarins and other fruit at eye-level in the kitchen to easily persuade snackers to select a healthier option.

Ginger Mandarin Bites

Makes about 44 pieces

- 4 fresh mandarins, peeled and separated into segments
- 8 ounces spreadable cream cheese
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/3 cup minced crystallized ginger
- Fresh mandarin peel, thinly sliced, for garnish

In small bowl, stir together cream cheese, ginger and sugar. Spread about 1 1/2 teaspoons cream cheese mixture on each mandarin segment; arrange on a serving plate. Garnish with mandarin peel.

Mandarin Parfait

Makes 2

- 3 fresh mandarins, peeled and separated into segments
- 1/4 cup sliced almonds, toasted
- 1 6-ounce container low-fat vanilla yogurt
- 1/2 cup granola
- 1/3 cup seedless raspberry jam/preserves, stirred to thin consistency

In glasses or goblets, layer ingredients in this order: segments of mandarin, almonds, yogurt, granola and jam; repeat twice.

Note: To toast almonds, heat in a small nonstick skillet over medium-high heat, stirring constantly, for 3 to 5 minutes, until lightly browned and fragrant. Remove from heat, let cool.

Grilled Shrimp and Mandarin Black Bean Salad

Serves 4

- 2 15-ounce cans black beans, rinsed and drained
- 3 fresh mandarins, peeled and separated into segments
- 1/2 each sweet red and yellow bell peppers, seeded and sliced
- 1/2 small red onion, thinly sliced
- Spicy Vinaigrette (recipe below)
- 4 cups baby greens or butter lettuce leaves
- 1 pound medium shrimp, peeled and broiled
- Fresh cilantro sprigs, for garnish

In large bowl, gently toss beans, mandarins, peppers and onion with Spicy Vinaigrette. Line four dinner plates with greens and portion salad onto each plate. Top each salad with grilled shrimp, garnish with cilantro. Serve immediately.

Spicy Vinaigrette: In small bowl, whisk together 2 tablespoons fresh mandarin juice or cider vinegar, 1 teaspoon chili powder, 1/2 teaspoon each ground cumin, sugar and salt, 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground pepper, 1/4 cup canola or other vegetable oil and 1/4 cup chopped fresh cilantro.

Mandarin Chicken Couscous Salad With Curry Vinaigrette

Mandarin Chicken Couscous Salad With Curry Vinaigrette

Serves 4

- 1 10-ounce package plain couscous
- 3 fresh mandarins, peeled and separated into segments
- 1/2 cup dried cranberries
- 1/4 cup pistachios, coarsely chopped
- 1 bunch green onions, sliced (about 1/2 cup total), divided
- Curry Vinaigrette, divided (recipe below)
- 12 ounces frozen grilled chicken strips, heated according to package directions

Prepare couscous according to package directions, remove to large bowl. Stir mandarin segments, cranberries, nuts and half green onion into couscous; add half of vinaigrette and toss well. Arrange on large serving platter; top with chicken. Drizzle with remaining green onion and garnish with remaining green onion. Serve immediately.

Curry Vinaigrette: In small bowl whisk together 1/4 cup mandarin juice or white wine vinegar, 1 teaspoon curry powder, 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon cayenne, 1 teaspoon honey and 1/3 cup canola or other vegetable oil.

Get the gardening tools ready, Community Garden now open

KEWASKUM- Those who don't have the space to grow their own herbs and vegetables no longer have an excuse for not being able to grow a bountiful garden to harvest in fall. Kewaskum's Community Garden, located on the east side of the High School behind the tennis courts is ready for the first planting in May.

Plots are approximately 15' by 20' and can be shared. The rental fee is $20 for each plot. Applications can be downloaded from the homepage of www.kewaskum-schools.org.

Gardening begins in May and closes at the end of October. Gardeners will need to supply their own garden tools, seeds, plants, soil amendments and a container to carry water. Access to water and mulch is available at the site daily from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Vines and tall plants must remain within the boundaries of your plot. Mulch must be degradable and ecologically friendly. Grass clippings will be provided.

The garden site does not have garbage pick-up or a compost bin, gardeners may have a compost bin at their plot.

Each renter is asked to volunteer two or three hours over the season to help with maintenance. Examples of jobs include pulling weeds, picking rocks, spreading mulch in the common areas.

The "staffers" for this project are all volunteers. If you have a question, the best way to reach someone is to call 262-483-6385 and leave a message. You can also e-mail: kewaskumcommunitygarden@gmail.com.

Mascot Bill passes Assembly

KEWASKUM- The state Assembly has passed a bill that would allow the state schools superintendent to ban American Indian mascots and logos. The Assembly approved the bill 53-45 with no debate. The Senate passed the measure last week. It now goes to Gov. Jim Doyle, who can sign it into law or veto it.

Under the proposal, a school district resident could object to the use of a race-based nickname, logo, mascot or team name. The state superintendent can decide whether to hold a hearing on the complaint. He or she could decide nothing is necessary if the use refers to a federally recognized American Indian tribe that has approved the use. If the superintendent holds a hearing and finds the use promotes discrimination, he or she must order the school district to stop. Districts would have to comply within a year or face fines of up to $1,000 a day. Districts could get extensions of up to eight years for portions of compliance that cost more than $5,000.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

As head negotiator for the Kewaskum Education Association I am compelled to respond to some erroneous remarks made recently by Kewaskum School Board member Jim Leister regarding layoffs of district teachers.

Mr. Leister is quoted in a recent article about the issue of layoffs as saying, "This is, more or less, the option you told us to go with - your representation. Your representation came to us and said that's what they wanted."

Mr. Leister seems to be misinformed about what has transpired thus far in negotiations. Our negotiating team has never chosen any "option." We have no desire to see anyone ever lose their position; be it teacher, support staff, or administrator.

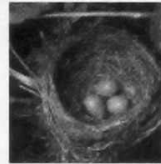

Negotiating is NOT about being presented with a few options and then being told to select one. Negotiating IS about finding common ground and reaching decisions that are mutually agreed upon. That is what our negotiating team will do as we enter into mediation with the Board.

We strive to have a meaningful and respectful dialogue that allows us to move forward and reach an agreement that is beneficial to both sides and preserves jobs as well.

Sincerely,
John Breese

Local Artist Opens Exhibition in Milwaukee

Local artist, Ana Stern, along with six of her contemporaries, hosted a reception on the opening night of their senior thesis exhibition, April 9, 2010, in the Raabe Theater lobby of Wisconsin Lutheran College. Ana's exhibit, "A Typical Art Show," coupled the relatively unnoticed art form of type with graphic design in a printmaking medium to create her works of art, heralding the original use of type as cut from blocks of wood and printed by press. The creative process, though arduous, marries process and design to produce this a-typical genre. Her art exhibit featured eight framed works that demonstrate a modern edge in design and framing. In addition to the eight works, each has a limited number of prints available for purchase. Several have already been claimed. Those interested in viewing the exhibit may take advantage of free admission during gallery hours: Monday through Saturday, 9-9; Sundays 1-9 (closed holidays). These works of art will be on display through May 14, 2010 at Wisconsin Lutheran College's Raabe Theater, 8800 W. Bluemound Road, Milwaukee, WI. You can view a slideshow of portions of the exhibit at <http://www.wlcl.edu/photoAlbum/index.aspx?id=10430>

Copper Box, Mayville Steel Drum Band to perform in River Hill Park

The Kewaskum Community Schools are holding a Kewaskum Arts Festival on May 14 and 15.

As part of this festival, Mayville Steel Drum Band will be performing at 4:00 pm on the South Stage at River Hill Park on May 15th.

Mayville, Wisconsin, is the home of the first complete steel drum band in a Wisconsin school. High school band director, Ben Reehl, was inspired by a steel drum workshop he attended in 1991 to give his students a chance to play the drums. Reehl has built some of the drums himself and has worked with some of the top builders in the field. He writes and arranges most of the music. He makes a special effort to explain and demonstrate the history and development of these unique instruments. The group performs a wide variety of musical styles—from classical to pop and rock to Caribbean melodies.

Later in the day, Copper Box will be performing at 7:00 pm. Copper Box, a husband-and-wife leading duo backed by Drummer Jason Van Ryzin and Bassist Kevin Junemann, carves out a unique sound by exposing the accordion to an array of musical styles.

Danny Jerabek and his wife, Michelle, founded Copper Box in 2002 soon after they were married. The name Copper Box comes from copper's ability to conduct electricity, as music does for them, and the alternative word for the accordion, button-box. Both from musical families in the same small Wisconsin farming community, Danny and Michelle grew up proficient in numerous instruments. In Copper Box, the couple covers vocals and everything besides drums and bass-boasting skills on the accordion, keys, cornet, saxophone, guitar, flute, washboard, etc. The band's distinctive and eclectic sound has developed as its members have expanded their musical repertoire, listening to '70s rock, Aretha Franklin, Little Feat, Los Lobos, Texas Tornados, and the father of Zydeco-Clifton Chenier.

Donkey Basketball Tuesday

KEWASKUM- The Kewaskum FFA Alumni is sponsoring Donkey Basketball on Tuesday, April 27, starting at 7:30 p.m. in the Kewaskum High School Field House. It's basketball played on real, live donkeys. Local players will be the Kewaskum FFA members vs. the Kewaskum football team and then the Boltonville Fire Department vs. the Fillmore

Fire Department. It's a thrill a minute, spill a minute game. Laugh as you've never laughed before at the wild and crazy donkey basketball game.

All proceeds will benefit the Kewaskum FFA Scholarship fund.

Advance tickets can be purchased at Geidel's Piggly Wiggly in Kewaskum or at the Kewaskum High School office for $6. Tickets will be available at the door for $8.

Also, come early at 5:30 p.m. to see the Kids Tractor Pedal Pull Contest as the winners from the local elementary schools compete.

Kettle Moraine Earth Week Clean Up

Join the Friends of the Kettle Moraine for the 21st annual Earth Week litter pick up along the Kettle Moraine Scenic Drive through the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit and other forest locations.

The event will be held on Saturday, April 24, starting at 8:30 a.m. Participants are asked to meet at the Forest Headquarters to receive their road or area assignment. After a morning of cleaning up and camaraderie, everyone will meet back at the Forest Headquarters at noon for refreshments and snacks. The Forest Headquarters is located off Hwy G between Hwy SS and Hwy S (north of Kewaskum).

This is a great service project for individuals and especially for youth and other groups. Individuals do not need to sign up ahead of time, but groups need to register by calling the Forest Headquarters at (262) 626-2116 by April 23. Bring your own gloves. Garbage bags will be provided.

Celebrate Earth Week by joining the Friends of the Kettle Moraine to help make the Scenic Drive truly scenic for the hundreds of thousands of annual forest visitors. For further information contact Jerry Leiterman, Forest Superintendent, or Jason Quast, Assistant Forest Superintendent, at (262) 626-2116.

— Bonny Ruelle

Jack and Bonny Ruelle of Jackson are lifelong residents of Washington County and both of their children were born at the New Life Center of St. Joseph's Hospital. When nine-year-old Max complained of mild but persistent abdominal pain last September, Jack and Bonny decided that as a precaution, a visit to the Emergency Care Center at St. Joseph's Hospital was in order.

“We walked in about midnight,” Jack explains. “Max wasn’t in severe pain, but he clearly wasn’t himself. He kept saying, ‘I’m fine, I’m fine.’” When the initial examination and X-ray didn’t immediately identify the cause of Max’s discomfort, a more detailed diagnostic exam was performed using the hospital’s 64-slice CT scanner. The scan revealed a perforated appendix, a condition normally accompanied by extraordinary levels of pain.

“I remember the doctor saying to me, ‘You’ve got one very tough kid,’” Jack says. “Max had emergency surgery shortly thereafter, and today he’s doing great.”

The Ruelles are grateful for the high-quality care their son received at St. Joseph's Hospital. As Bonny explains, “It’s incredibly important to have St. Joseph’s emergency care nearby. The affiliation with Froedtert has just made it that much better. You always know that you’re getting the best care possible.”

Preparing for the worst

Boltonville firefighters prepare to enter the smoke filled Farmington Elementary School. There are no other school districts in Washington County that perform disaster drills to this extent and that involve as many agencies to prepares for a real life scenario. The opportunity allows law enforcement and fire fighters to get inside a building and see what works and what doesn't in a real situation. Last year the district held a practice drill at Kewaskum Elementary School.

TOP: Students evacuate the building to the central meeting location which was located in a southern field adjacent to the school.

BOTTOM: Kewaskum EMTs return second grader Sean Sullivan after being rescued in the exercise. EMTs wanted to assure Sean's fellow students that he was uninjured in the drill.

ABOVE: Boltonville firefighters Mike Rodenkirch and Dennis Fechter transport Sean Sullivan who played the part of a lost student during the drill. Firefighters were not made aware of his location before the drill and had to practice search and rescue techniques to locate the student.

BOTTOM: Busses line the parking lot of the Farmington Town Hall where parents were allowed to pick up their students. A number of parents helped district employees play out this scenario to assure in a real emergency that the situation would run smoothly. Principal Janet Molebash stated that in a real emergency parents should first contact the district office for instruction on student pick-ups.

JOHN FREDERICK SCHUPPEL

John Frederick Schuppel, age 90, of Allenton, died Monday, April 12, 2010. John was born in the Town of Barton to John and Marie (nee Kirchner) Schuppel on April 16, 1919.

John graduated from West Bend High School in 1937. After graduation, he became a second shift foreman for Briggs and Stratton in Milwaukee. During this time, he started dating "the girl he knew was for him". John married Shirley Werner on June 7, 1941.

After living in Milwaukee for several years, they decided to move back to the Kewaskum/Allenton area and try their hand at farming. In 1984, John was awarded the Kiwanis's Outstanding Conservation Farmer of the year for his contour strip farming technique.

John always liked to work with his hands, and he loved figuring out how things worked. He claimed that "you could fix anything with 'tin cans and baling wire'". John also liked to bowl and became fascinated with Brunswick's "new" automated pinball setters. He decided to go back to school to become a specialist. For the next 23 years, John worked at various bowling alleys around the area as their automated pin-setting mechanic.

He is survived by his wife of 68 years, Shirley Schuppel; his son, James (Tally) Schuppel, of Park Falls; his daughter, Jean (David) Peterson, of Des Moines, IA; his son, Robert (Heidi Baumann-Schuppel) Schuppel, of Slinger, and his daughter-in-law, Deborah (Mike) McGuire, West Bend; eleven grandchildren, James Schuppel, John Schuppel, Marcy Stone, Brad Peterson, Daniel Gardner, Stephanie Schladweiler, Ross Peterson, Susan Schuppel-Paul, Katie HERRIGES, Sandra Schuppel, and Alec Schuppel, and fourteen great-grandchildren. John is further survived by his sisters, Helen Ahlers, of Jump River, Alice Furlong, of Campbellsport, Rita (Harry) Justman of Townsend, and his brother, Donald Schuppel, of Medford.

John was preceded in death by his parents; his brother, Myron Schuppel on January 27, 1979, and his son, Richard "Dick" Schuppel on December 3, 1994.

John will be remembered for his love of nature, especially hunting and fishing, his honesty, his kindness to others, and his sense of humor. Many times, John would share stories about taking "a short cut", running out of gas, camping on Turtle Flambeau Flowage, playing Sheephead, enjoying a good European beer, or just sharing good times with the family and friends. He will truly be missed.

A funeral service for John was at 1:00 p.m. on Friday, April 16, 2010 at the Phillip Funeral Home Chapel, in West Bend with Rev. Marcy Stone presiding. Visitation was at the funeral home only on Friday, March 16, 2010 from 11:00 a.m. until time of service. Burial followed at Washington County Memorial Park.

Memorials are appreciated in John's name to the charity of the donor's choice.

The Phillip Funeral Home of West Bend assisted the family.

ENID A. CECHVALA

Enid A. Cechvala (nee Davidson) age 87 of West Bend died Saturday, April 17, 2010 at Cedar Crossings.

She was born April 2, 1923 in Weyauwega, to the late David and Sarah (nee Potratz) Davidson and married Edward A. Cechvala on August 29, 1946 at St. Michael's Catholic Church in St. Michael's.

Edward preceded her in death on August 16, 2005.

Enid started her teaching career in a one room school house in the Town of Farmington. Following her marriage she suspended teaching to raise her family before becoming a 1st grade teacher at St. Frances Cabrini School for 8 years. She then taught 6th grade at Badger Middle School in West Bend until retiring at the age of 72. While teaching, she was also a student, earning her masters degree in reading.

Survivors include her seven children, Beverly (Ted) Jackson of Albion, Janeen (John) Herman of the Town of Farmington, Edward Jr. of Louisville, KY, Steve (Marguerite) of Philadelphia, PA, Kim Engelmeyer of Oshkosh, Jon of West Bend and Michael of Midland, TX; 14 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. She is further survived by two sisters, Verna Hansen of Manitowoc and Iona Schmidt of Phoenix, AZ; her brother, Sidney (Dorie) Davidson of New Berlin; a sister-in-law, Helen (Don) Beggan of Hartford; a brother-in-law, Joe Cechvala of Oxnard, CA, and nieces, nephews and other relatives and friends.

Enid was preceded in death by her parents, David and Sarah Davidson; her husband, Edward and four brothers, Justin "Bud", Arlen, Arden and Daryl Davidson.

A Memorial Mass of Christian Burial will be held Friday, April 23, 2010 at 11:00 a.m. at St. Mary's Immaculate Conception Church in West Bend with Rev. Jerome Repenshek presiding. Inurnment will follow in St. Michael's Cemetery, St. Michael's.

Visitation will be Friday, at the church only from 10:00 a.m. until 10:45 a.m. In lieu of flowers memorials to Cedar Community of the charity of the donor's choice are appreciated.

The Schmidt Funeral Home of West Bend is serving the family.

RICHARD G. ROESEL

Richard G. Roesel, 71, a resident of Rolling Meadows Nursing Home, Fond du Lac, and formerly of Kewaskum, died Friday, April 16, 2010, at St. Agnes Hospital.

He was born July 13, 1938, in West Bend, the son of Norman and Meta Koepke Roesel. Richard was a veteran of the U.S. Army.

He married Vernice L. Giese on May 9, 1964, in Theresa and she preceded him in death in 2006. Richard worked for Gehl Company in West Bend for 40 years, retiring in 2003. He enjoyed hunting and fishing.

He is survived by four sons, Randy Roesel of North Fond du Lac, Lonni (Stacie) Roesel of Fond du Lac, Trever (Teresa) Roesel of Cascade and Kevin Roesel of Cascade; six grandchildren, Jeffrey, Brianna, Jackson, Brock, Walker and Brooklyn; and one brother, Larry Roesel of Summit Lake.

He was preceded in death by his parents and one brother, Wayne Roesel.

Visitation was from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Wednesday, April 21, 2010, at Uecker-Witt Funeral Home. The funeral service was held at 7 p.m. on Wednesday at Uecker-Witt Funeral Home with the Rev. Paul Monzel officiating.

Cremation followed the traditional services.

Uecker-Witt Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements. Additional information and guest book may be found at www.ueckerwitt.com.

EDWIN J. MILLER

Edwin J. Miller of Jackson, formerly of West Bend, died on Saturday, April 10, 2010, at the Kathy Hospice at the age of 93.

He was born on Dec. 24, 1916, in Jackson to the late Edwin G. and Josephine P. (nee Jansen) Miller.

On June 14, 1941, he was united in marriage to Lucile J. Giese in Plymouth.

During World War II, he served with the United States Navy in the Pacific Theater.

Following his discharge, he returned to the West Bend area and worked at Regal Ware in Kewaskum for many years.

Throughout his life, he was an avid bowler. Ed bowled many 300 games, and bowled the first sanctioned 300 game in West Bend.

Survivors include his wife Lucile; three children Larry (Lynn) of West Bend, Steve (Jean) of West Bend and Sue (Don) Aude of Tampa, Fla.; five grandchildren Lori (Paul) Popernik of Chicago, Ill., Len (Lori) Miller of West Bend, Matt (Mandy) Miller of West Bend, Katelyn Miller of West Bend and Kristin Miller of West Bend; four great-grandchildren Noah and Maya Popernik and Emery and Ellison Miller; four sisters-in-law Rose Kuehl of Kewaskum, Eleanor Miller of West Bend, Rheina Klein of West Bend and Marie Dickmann of Sheboygan; other relatives and friends.

He was preceded in death by two sisters Marcella Michels and Lucille "Tudy" Eisen, three brothers Jim, Harvey and Leroy, three sisters-in-law Gladys Dickmann, Evelyn Miller and Dolores Giese and six brothers-in-law Corky Michels, Charles Palt, Harold Eisen, Wes Kuehl, Orville Klein and Fred Giese.

Private services will be held.

The family has requested memorials to the Kathy Hospice.

The Schmidt Funeral Home of West Bend is serving the family.

IN MEMORY

In Memory of JANINE (HERRIGES) ALVAREZ, who passed away on April 22, 2007.

I can't believe it's been another year
And yet we still seem to shed our tears.
For you whom someday we'll see again
With you and Granny and all who've been.
The pain slowly fades away but not all the memories we shared through our days.
Until we see each other again
We miss you and Love you forever, Amen.

Kewaskum Clinic welcomes new provider

Kewaskum Clinic announces the addition of family practice nurse practitioner Julie Parve, DNP-FNP-BC to its medical staff.

Parve holds a Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP), the highest level of nursing degree attainable by a nurse practitioner. A DNP is a Nurse Practitioner who has advanced beyond the master's degree and has obtained a doctorate in nursing. A DNP receives advanced training to assess, diagnosis, treat, and monitor many conditions and diseases, and can also prescribe medication. They work independently and in collaboration with other primary care physicians and specialists.

Parve is trained to provide the full scope of family medicine for patients of all ages.

Her special interests include childhood obesity, women's health and travel medicine.

"I enjoy educating my patients regarding preventive care and understanding acute and chronic disease management," said Parve. "I assist them in taking an active role in their care and keeping the lines of communication open and honest."

She received her Bachelor's Degree in Nursing from Marion College in Fond du Lac, and Master's Degree and Doctorate in Nursing from Concordia University in Mequon. She is board certified as a family practice nurse practitioner and is a member of the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners.

To schedule or for same day appointments with Julie Parve, call Kewaskum Clinic at 262-626-4616.

West Bend Clinic serves the greater Washington County community. St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend Clinic, and St. Joseph's Community Foundation are affiliated with Froedert and Community Health. West Bend Clinic, a primary care and multi-specialty group with over 80 physicians, has multiple clinic locations in Washington County (West Bend, Hartford, Jackson, and Kewaskum), and includes the West Bend Surgery Center, Jackson Eye Center in Jackson, Forward Orthopedics in Menomonee Falls and West Bend, and the West Bend Clinic Rehabilitation Center in West Bend.

Kewaskum Frozen Foods wins awards

The exceptional quality of meat products produced by Kewaskum Frozen Foods of Kewaskum was recognized at the 70th annual convention of the Wisconsin Association of Meat Processors, held in Madison on April 9-11.

The Wisconsin Meat Product Competition is the largest of its kind in the United States. Meat processing plants and meat markets from throughout the state this year entered 1042 individual products into 35 product categories, including summer sausage, bratwurst, ham, bacon, smoked poultry and a variety of other types of meat products. Over 40 judges including food scientists, out-of-state meat processors, and other food industry professionals were required to effectively evaluate the many products during the evaluation session on Saturday, April 10. Individual products are scored for external appearance and eye-appeal, internal appearance, aroma, and taste, using a scale of 1,000 points.

The size of this product show and the quality of its entries demonstrates the important role that sausage and processed meats play in Wisconsin's meat industry and among consumers across the state.

Interim Dean announced at UWWC

UW Colleges Chancellor David Wilson has announced the appointment of Alan Paul Price, Ph.D., as interim campus executive officer and dean at UW-Washington County, effective July 1. Professor Price has been a faculty member at UW-Washington County since 1998 and has led the UW Colleges Senate for two terms since 2008. In the announcement, Dr. Wilson noted that during this time he has been "enormously impressed with the steady leadership Price has provided."

Professor Price earned his doctorate in geography at the University of California, Los Angeles, and both his master's and bachelor's degrees in geology at Texas Tech University in Lubbock, Texas. He has taught at various UW Colleges campuses since 1996, including UW-Washington County, UW-Manitowoc, and UW-Fond du Lac. He has also taught at UW-Oshkosh, UW-Parkside, Santa Monica College, UCLA, and Texas Tech University. Price stated, "I look forward to working with the campus and community and feel confident that we will continue to build on the improvements Dean Nixon made in accessibility and programming."

Current dean, Dr. David Nixon who is leaving for a new position as Vice President of Academic and Student Affairs at Mount Mary College in Milwaukee, stated that "Price's appointment places the campus in very good hands."

WBA offers reward for information on Elkhart Lake bank robbery

(MADISON) - The Wisconsin Bankers Association (WBA) is offering a reward up to $10,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person(s) responsible for the bank robbery at the National Exchange Bank and Trust in Elkhart Lake.

The National Exchange Bank and Trust in Elkhart Lake was robbed on Thursday, April 1. The robber displayed a handgun when he walked into the bank five minutes after it opened and locked three bank tellers in the vault. He exited the building with an undisclosed amount of cash. The thief also left a suspicious package with flashing lights which the Milwaukee Bomb Squad rendered safe.

The robber is described as 5 feet, 10 inches tall and 180 pounds. He wore a baseball hat, sunglasses and what tellers believe to be a wig, fake mustache and fake beard. He was wearing gloves, a dark sports coat, matching pants and white tennis shoes.

Anyone with information concerning this robbery is urged to contact the FBI at (920) 432-3868; Sheboygan County Sheriff's Department at (920) 459-3114 or the Elkhart Lake Police Department at (920) 876-2244.

"This reward is offered to provide another tool for law enforcement. Bank robbers are dangerous individuals who put the public and bank employees at risk," explained WBA president/CEO Kurt Bauer. "WBA and its members are committed to actions that bring these individuals to justice and deliver the message that robberies are not going to be tolerated."

The WBA has had a robbery reward program since the 1930s; at one point even donating "tommy guns" to local law enforcement to combat bank robberies. The Robbery Reward Fund provides rewards through law enforcement to individuals who identify anyone wanted in connection with a bank robbery or other crime committed at a bank location, including automated teller machine (ATM) sites if that information leads to the arrest and conviction of the individuals responsible for the robbery.

The WBA reminds would-be criminals that it is a federal crime to rob a federally insured depository institution and that 90 percent of all bank robbers are caught.

Southern Hospitality...Great ocean fishing highlights Gulf trip

After a long fight and a quick introduction into handling a 14 foot rod and net, Scott Heitman of New Berlin lands another great-tasting Florida sheepshead on the rocks of St. George Island

Nothing to it, Wisconsinite Scott Heitman. Balance the rocks of St. George Island without tumbling into the Gulf of Mexico. Manipulate a 14 foot long crappie pole with a hard-fighting, striped Florida sheepshead on the line that just crushed your fiddler crab. Bend to net the fish if you can bring it close enough at all with that monster rod seriously challenging just how far a shore angler can reach. Ignore the reporter laughing and taking photos. Remember, he looked way worse than you fighting his inaugural sheepshead minutes before.

Nice job. Under the tutelage of retired educator Dick Henske of Manitowish Waters now wintering on St. George Island, another one bites the dust. Another sheepshead that in no way, shape or taste resembles the Wisconsin sheepshead of home.

Lori and Taylor and I left for spring break with our good friends Scott and Robin Heitman and their daughter Savannah intent on a shore fishing vacation out of Gulf Shores on the panhandle of Florida, moving east at midweek to visit the newly purchased Panama City Beach home being prepared for weekly rental by New London Wisconsin natives Dave and Linda Becker, and east again to target sheepshead at the winter home of Lori's parents; Dick and Mariel Henske on St. George Island. Actually, Scott and I were intent on fishing with the occasional interruptions necessary to scare Bayou boys away from 16 year old daughters. Our wives and daughters were intent only in turning slowly in the sun over seven days like four rotisserie chickens.

We landed after a 20 hour drive from southeast Wisconsin on Gulf Shores near Pensacola where the superb Navy flight team the Blue Angels practice every Tuesday. Scott and I purchased seven day Florida non-resident fishing license for $30.00, shrimp and sand fleas for bait and a dose of good advice from the locals. The water was unseasonably cold and despite our holding vigil for four hours over three days on the white beaches of the Gulf, our primary targets of pompano and whiting had not migrated in yet in high numbers and we didn't score. We did manage to catch a sting-ray and ocean catfish. We surmised that the Gulf was probably not big enough where we were.

We moved east along the panhandle at mid-week to visit our friends Dave and Linda Becker, New London natives who were busy preparing their home in the community of La Valencia for first weekly rental of the year in later April. Dave and Linda were both 20-year Kimberly Clark employees before pursuing their dreams 10 years ago by purchasing an Ontario, Canada fishing lodge. Manotak Lodge is a four-star drive-to resort located on Perault Lake 3-1/2 hours from the Minnesota-Canadian border, boasting trophy walleye, northern pike, smallmouth bass, musky and jumbo perch fishing. The only thing Manotak Lodge was missing was the pure Wisconsin hospitality that the Beckers packed with them.

"But there were a few things still missing in the big picture," Dave Becker said. "Our love of deep-sea fishing, the feel of walking the white sand beaches of Florida and not having to shovel snow. Our Florida adventure of trying to find the right place to live in the winter began. We knew we wanted to be on the Gulf coast side of Florida so we started in northwest Florida and drove down the ocean all the way to Naples. While southern Florida is slightly warmer during the winter, we knew we wanted to be back up in the Panama City Beach area."

The Beckers found their home this winter in La Valencia, a gated community with two community pools, hot tub, tennis court, health center, health center, conference room and private beach entrance just a 45 second walk from the sugar white beaches and fabulous gulf fishing. Their three-bedroom, three-bath fully-furnished home will also be available for weekly rental from mid-April through mid-October as the hosts tend to their Canadian guests at Manotak Lodge.

To learn more about the Florida rental home at La Valencia, contact Counts-Oaks Resort Properties at 850-636-6661 or connect with www.panamabeachrentals.com. Use the address 328 La Valencia or the house name Hakuna Matata ("No Worries") for details. To learn more about a Canadian trip to Manotak Lodge, connect with www.manotak.com or call the Beckers toll free at 1-800-541-3431. Our trip continued east on the panhandle to St. George Island, where Lori's parents, retired educators, have resided for two months each winter over the past decade. All Badgers with an eye on the upcoming Florida spring vacation should take note; hot fun in the Deep South with rod and reel has no age restrictions.

"This is northern Florida in the upper panhandle where it's less expensive and they advertise great beaches, no high rises, no stop signs," said Henske. "On the internet you'll find St. George Island and Mexico Beach near Apalachicola 100 miles south of Tallahassee."

We rented an off-shore home with Lori's sister and brother-in-law Kris and Doug Cullaz and their small children, Carter and Julia. Dick and Mariel annually rent a home on the gulf for considerably more money.

Our grandma can beat up your grandma. Mariel is an experienced kayaker who led our armada of kayaks through high waves and strong tides from St. George Island to Little St. George Island. There, we reached an uninhabited, 11 mile paradise of beaches, shells, and southern wilderness. The girls drank in more sunshine and searched for hours to bring home a countless variety of ocean shells washed to the beaches.

Current shore fish targets include flounder, sheepshead and whiting. Heitman and I staked claim with Henske to rocks left in the wake of the building of a channel in the 1950s that now separates St. George and Little St George Islands. Under Henske's guidance and using his equipment, we found two days of extraordinary shore battles.

Henske purchases nickel hooks by the 100 from Rienke's in Milwaukee before departing from southeast Wisconsin; one ounce "football" sinkers that slide above a swivel rig, and dresses the arsenal with several choices of live bait depending on the target. Sheepshead he said, prefer fiddler crabs which we caught by finding their sand holes and catching them in the sun.

"Sheepshead run an average of 16 to 18 inches but will be as big as five to six pounds," Henske said. "They're a barnacle type eater but they are not a roughfish like the sheepshead of Wisconsin are considered. They're very tasty, the top eater fish."

Crappie poles purchased for only about $15.00 in the south are invaluable tools for conveniently reaching the sheepshead. Made of fiberglass, the rod extends three or four sections with an eye on the end that enables the angler to reach out over rocks and other likely ambush places.

"It's like a golf ball retriever," Henske said. "It's not made for heavy fish but we put 20 pound test line on a 14 foot rod and send it out there. You get one on, you know it."

Man did we know it. Heitman and I caught our first sheepshead in the first minutes on the rocks, and went on to catch or lose about 30 of the black and white striped footballs over the next two days. It was glorious fishing and glorious eating to go along with the shrimp and scallop and other seafood delicacies of the far south. It was, in a word two...St. George Island.

Gun deer season designed to speed herd recovery in north

MADISON - The state Department of Natural Resources is proposing a 2010 deer hunting framework with fewer areas targeted for herd control and a larger portion of the state under traditional "buck plus quota" regulations.

To grow the herd in northeast Wisconsin, the department is proposing issuing no bonus antlerless permits in 18 deer management units where populations are well below goal (compared to 13 last year). This year, for the first time, the department is proposing that archers be restricted from shooting an antlerless deer in these units also, consistent with gun hunters and with the support of bow-hunting groups.

The Natural Resources Board is scheduled to act on the proposal at its April 28 meeting in Green Bay.

The department is recommending a regular nine-day season for 66 deer management units. In four seasons (2007-2010) the number of regular units has grown from 22 to 66. Regular units are those where hunters are able to shoot a buck plus a carefully controlled number of antlerless deer with unit-specific permits. Some units would have no antlerless permits available to facilitate maximum deer population growth.

A total of 46 DMUs are proposed for herd control status, down by 10 units from the 2007 season.

Herd control units are those where the deer population is estimated to be more than 20 percent above the healthy population goal for that unit. In addition to being open to unlimited antlerless deer harvest during all deer hunting seasons herd control units will have an additional antlerless deer gun-hunting opportunity October 14-17. There is no limit to the number of antlerless deer permits hunters may purchase for herd control units. Antlerless permits for herd control units are $2 each. In buck-plus-quota units, bonus antlerless permits cost $12 when they are available.

In the Chronic Wasting Disease Management Zone in south central Wisconsin all 22 units would be earn-a-buck in 2010, a regulation that requires hunters to "earn" a buck permit by shooting an antlerless deer. The number of EAB units in the CWD Management Zone has remained constant at 22 as wildlife officials seek to stop the spread of chronic wasting disease among wild deer.

Final antlerless deer quotas and permit availability for regular units won't be finalized until late spring. Biologists will continue to track winter and spring weather and fine tune permit levels. So far, winter effects appear to be mostly moderate with a few small areas experiencing severe conditions.

Analysis of the 2009 harvest figures is mostly complete. Deer registrations provided by hunters yield a rich and deep pool of information on hunting success rates, age and sex distribution in the herd and regional population trends. Using these data biologists estimate the 2009 prehunt population was 1.37 million and the post-hunt population, also called the overwinter population, at 990,000.

The estimated statewide post-hunt population of 990,000 is about 25 percent above the new overwinter population goal of 794,000. However, deer populations vary greatly around the state being near or below goal in northern Wisconsin and generally above goal in the farmland regions of the state. Higher overwinter population goals were recently adopted by the Natural Resources Board and approved by the legislature following extensive public involvement, listening and working sessions with hunters, private landowners and stakeholders from agriculture, forestry, university and government.

Dwyer a top-10 finisher again

KEWASKUM- It's certainly looking like Cayden Dwyer has a promising future in the sport of snowboarding. The fourth grader at Kewaskum Elementary School, recently competed in his fourth United States of America Snowboarding Association national competition, and for the second year in a row, he notched a top-10 finish.

After scoring 3,140 points and finishing first in the Boys 10-11 Menuhune Division in the Midwest, Dwyer tested his skills against the best in the USA and placed ninth at Copper Mountain, Colorado.

The results from five events, including the slope style, slalom, Giant Slalom, bordercross and half-pipe events, determined the final standings, and young Dwyer is convinced his favorite is the slope style. Why? "Because it's fun," the young rider said, reporting he finished 17th in this event on the Copper Mountain test, and that is out of a field of "like 66" competitors.

Dwyer was at his best in the slalom and Giant Slalom, with a seventh in the former and a sixth in the latter where there were 55 boarders, and he had two successful runs.

And why did Dwyer do so well in the slaloms? "My coach motivated me," he said about "Burdo" Marfia, a coach from Colorado.

The half-pipe, which has become a high-profile Olympic event because of the success of Shaun White and other Americans, is another area where Dwyer did well, taking 21st. "I air like three feet up, and then I do threes (360 degree angles) and fives (540 degree angles)," he said.

The only event Dwyer struggled in was bordercross. "I didn't do so well in bordercross," he said. "I got bumped in the first round."

Concerning the competition, Dwyer admitted it was tough but felt he did well, mainly because he put in so many hours of practice at Sunburst Ski Area in Kewaskum. When asked if he practices every day, Dwyer said, "Yep, pretty much," and there are no complaints because he loves the sport.

Dwyer had one scary moment early in the season when he wiped out on a run at Sunburst. "I hurt my knee pretty bad," but with help from another boarder on his bindings, "I got back up and went down the hill."

His father, Matt, and his friend Will Hein accompanied Dwyer to Colorado. Hein, from West Bend, also competed but in an older division. "My mother (Krista) came out five days later to watch," Dwyer said, indicating a special time in the Colorado experience came when he got to ride with the USA Olympic Snowboarding coach, Bud Keene. "He answered a lot of questions for me," Dwyer said, with his mother later adding her son did not even know who Keene was when he was riding with him.

"That's as unassuming he is," Krista Dwyer said.

Dwyer is also grateful to those who are helping to make him successful.

Dwyer just celebrated his 11th birthday on April 15, and he took his birthday money and spent it on two new Nerf guns, which will be one of his passions until next December when the snow falls and he will be itching to get back on his board.

May 1 opener earliest day possible

MADISON - The 2010 regular inland season is opening on the first date possible - May 1 -- but the fish and the anglers are already waiting and eager.

"The fishing opener is a great opportunity to take kids fishing and start to build their appreciation of Wisconsin's great outdoors," said Department of Natural Resources Secretary Matt Frank. "We are working hard with our partners to deliver great angling opportunities for all, from first-timers to pros."

With most of the state experiencing an early spring, fisheries biologists say water temperatures are warmer than in the past few years.

"The ice is out statewide, and the fish will be at a later stage of spawning than normal," says Mike Staggs, director of DNR fisheries management. "Anglers may need to change their tactics to match the warmer conditions, but the fish should be feeding and we expect a good fishing opener and a great season."

The anglers are ready.

"I am really looking forward to the opener this year. I don't know if it is too any e-mails, too long a winter, or what, but I am ready," says Scot Stewart, who can be found fishing when he's not on duty as fish supervisor in the DNR South Central Region.

"Panfish in the Madison lakes should be outstanding. Muskie management has paid off in a number of waters around the region. Bass, walleye, pike are all there. Trout fishing in southern Wisconsin is the best it has ever been. Explore a new river. Get out there and enjoy it and take someone with you to enjoy it with you."

Other fish managers had equally encouraging predictions for anglers based on the results of the spring surveys they are just conducting and last year's results. Check out the 2010 Wisconsin Fishing Report for the forecast for dozens of the most popular waters in Wisconsin, and find the up-to-date conditions report filed by fish managers in the last few days.

Southeastern Wisconsin

Walleye and northern pike are done spawning and out actively feeding. Musky are just starting their spawn. Pre-spawn, largemouth bass are schooling-up, congregating in shallow bays actively feeding on panfish attracted to warming waters found there. Smallmouth bass are in rocky shallows, searching for emerging crayfish. Having left their egg-skeins draped on submerged shoreline brush, yellow perch are done spawning. Come opening day, musky should be done spawning, and all game fish should be actively feeding as they put-back weight lost over winter or through spawning. Fish shallow along drop-offs early and late for walleye and northern pike; and in shallow bays mid-day for bass. Smallmouth bass will be near rock, pier pilings and boat-lift tracks; largemouth will be over dark bottom hiding in ambush near emerging aquatic plants. - Randy Schumacher, fisheries supervisor, Southeast Wisconsin

Season dates and regulations

The hook-and-line game fish season opens May 1 on inland waters for walleye, sauger, and northern pike statewide.

The largemouth and smallmouth bass southern zone opens May 1, while the northern bass zone opens for catch and release only from May 1 through June 18. Anglers are reminded that artificial lures and barbless hooks must be used if fishing for bass during the catch-and-release bass fishing season in the northern zone and any other water body that has bass catch-and-release regulations. From June-19 to March 6, 2011, there's a minimum length limit of 14 inches with a daily bag limit of five fish in total.

Musky season opens May 1 in the southern zone and May 29 in the northern zone.

The northern zone is the area north of highways 77, 64 and 29, with Highway 10 as the dividing line.

The seasons for rock, yellow and white bass, panfish, bullheads and rough fish, catfish, cisco and whitefish are open all year. Check the "2010-2011 Guide to Wisconsin Hook and Line Fishing Regulations" for special regulations listed by county, for regulations on the Great Lakes and boundary waters, and for tributary streams to Green Bay and Lake Michi-

Gateway Gobbler hold Learn to Hunt program

The Gateway Gobblers of the National Wild Turkey Federation held their eighth Learn to Hunt Turkey Hunt April 2-3. A total of 13 youths and adult female hunters took part in this year's hunt. Five of the hunters harvested their first wild turkey. Donations to the LTH Program were once again provided by Loehr's Meat Service, New Fane Sportsman's Club, Jim's Ceramic Tile, Jim Schaub's Home Improvements, tail mounts from several local taxidermists and the Gateway Gobblers whose members mentors the hunters. Thanks to everyone who took part in the program and to the many landowners who allowed the hunters on their property.

Progress is seen in early track outings

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

As Kewaskum coach Jerry Gosa predicted, Plymouth looks to be the class of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference in boys track.

The Panthers amassed 106 points last Tuesday to easily win the annual Kewaskum quadrangular meet. Two Rivers, another perennial power, was a distant second with 77, then came Sheboygan Falls and the host Indians with 48 and 32, respectively.

"Because it was a quad, we tried not to overrace our kids," Gosa said, knowing another meet was coming up in three days.

Kewaskum had three first places, including the win by Mat Toles in the 100-meter dash. Toles hit the tape in 11 and .93 seconds (11.93).

Sprinters Eric Perkins, Scott Steldt, Lucas Kopeschka and Brandon Zolp combined to win the 4x200 relay in a time of 1:38.18.

Freshman Jordan Hanson claimed the other win, going 5 feet, 6 inches in the high jump.

While he didn't win the event, the senior Zolp had a solid outing in the triple jump. His effort of 39-9.50 is a personal best, and it was good enough for second place.

Others placing among the top four included: Pat Porter, 3rd in the 400 (59.53); 4x400 relay, Zolp, Kopeschka, Hanson and Steldt, 3rd, 3:47.93; long jump, Steldt, 4th, 18-5.

In the girls' competition, it was also Plymouth coming out on top but in a closer battle. The Panthers had 84 points, with Falls second at 68, the Indians third with 38 and

Two Rivers last at 27.

The Indians' first places came in two relays. In the 4x200, it was Tess Bandy, Anna Butler, Heather Johnson and Mikkin Abfall carrying the baton for a time of 1:53.48.

Abfall also anchored the 4x400 relay to a win in 4:26.69. The trio leading the way included Aly Backhaus, Ashley Stahl and Megan Ringwell.

The pole vault was a good event for the Indians, with Kassie Legate clearing 8 feet (8-0) for second, and Bandy going 6-0 for third.

Others with top-four efforts were: Bryana Keller, 2nd in the 100, 13.95; Tess Bandy, 4th, 200, 65.76; Stahl, 3rd in the 800, 2:43; Steph Grager, 3rd in the 100 hurdles, 19.78; Val Hedlund, 4th in the 100 hurdles, 20.40; Keller, Butler, Johnson and Abfall, 3rd in the 4x100 relay, 54.58; Candace Beine, 3rd in the high jump, 4-8; Brianna Jacak, 4th in the high jump, 4-6; and Beine, 2nd in the long jump, 15-4.

The Indians ran into some very tough competition Friday at the West Bend Invitational, which was won by Manitowoc (118 points) on the girls' side of the ledger. Kewaskum was ninth out of 10 team with 51 points. All the other teams were from Division I schools.

KHS posted a pair of firsts, including one by Beine in the triple jump where she went 33-1 and the other coming from Legate, who cleared 8-6 in the pole vault.

Beine was a triple threat for the Indians, also taking third in the long jump (15-4) and just missing a spot in the high jump, where she placed ninth at 4-10. "It's really nice to see," Gosa said about Beine wanting to do well in three events.

Fourths came from Aly Backhaus in the 400 (66.85) and the 4x100-meter relay with Mallorie Kreis, Butler, Keller and Abfall clocked in 54.56.

Contributing fifth-place points were Stahl in the 800 (2:40.76) and the 4x400 relay (4:35.76) comprised of Backhaus, Ariel Sanders, Backhaus and Abfall.

Powerhouses Germantown and Hartland Arrowhead battled right down to the wire for the boys title, with Germantown getting the nod 135-130. The Indians were ninth with 25 points.

The highest place the Indians could muster was a third in the triple jump by Zolp (39-7.50).

T.J. Schlice was back after missing the quad meet because of a family trip, and he contributed a fourth in the high jump (5-10) and a 7th in the pole vault (11-6). "Really nice improvement in the pole vault," Gosa said.

Toles showed he belonged with the big boys in the century run. His clocking of 11.85 was good enough for fourth, and he anchored the 4x200 which hit the finish line in 1:38.49. Two of the runners, Perkins and Zolp, had to run right into the teeth of the wind. Teddy Wollner ran in the No. 2 spot in the event.

While not good enough to place, Perkins did a nice job in the long jump, going 18-9.25 for ninth.

KHS will host the eighth annual Indian Invitational this Friday.

Kewaskum A's future continues to shine bright despite preseason loss

Baseball action began for the Kewaskum A's this past weekend as they faced a challenge from the Watertown Cardinals in a preseason tourney game at Hustisford. The team fell 4-3 in the preseason tourney.

Kewaskum found themselves down early as Watertown jumped on the board with three runs in the first inning off Kewaskum starter Cody Nuernberg. The A's pitching settled in after that as Nuernberg, Brad Boegel and Jim Ziegler shut down the Watertown offense in innings 2-6 giving the A's a chance to climb back into the game.

The A's took advantage putting one across the board in the fourth on a Brad Boegel RBI double, and tied the game in the fifth on a RBI double by Jason Strobel and on a RBI groundout by Nuernberg. The A's had a couple of opportunities to push across the go-ahead run after that, but the clutch base hit never came and the game remained tied.

With the game tied 3-3 in the bottom of the seventh, Watertown used a leadoff single followed by a two base error to put the winning run on third. The next batter for Watertown snuck a groundball base hit through a drawn in infield to push across the winning run.

Kewaskum was led at the plate by Jason Strobel 2x2 (2 2B's, RBI, 2 BB's), Cody Nuernberg 2x4 (RBI) and Brad Boegel 1x4 (2B, RBI). Ziegler took the loss on the mound.

Strobel returns for his ninth season as player/manager as he looks to guide the A's to another successful campaign in 2010. Over the last two seasons, the A's have gone 65-24 while missing out on the Rock River Grand Championship by one game both years.

With another year of experience under their belt, the Tri-County Night League champions A's might finally break through for that elusive Rock River title. They will look to defend their title this upcoming season with the help of the Brownsville 49ers as they will be combining with Brownsville to form one team in that league.

The A's will return their entire lineup in 2010 with the addition of a few other solid players, the A's should remain one of the most potent amateur offenses around. Austin Sarauer (Concordia), Dan Shea (Concordia), Nick Whitty (Ripon), Adam Martz (Concordia), and Matt Meisenheimer (UW-Whitewater) are the returning college players. Savvy veterans Adam Sarauer and Kurt Zagzebski return as well.

On the mound, Kewaskum will look to veterans Ziegler and Jake Panzer to lead the way. Panzer emerged as a force out of the bullpen last season, but may be needed even more this season as the departure of Mitch Huffman that leaves a large hole for the team. Look for Whitty and Jake Lathers (MSOE) to play a vital role on the mound after their return from their college seasons this spring.

The A's will also look for some of the area high school players to fill in the lineup until their respective high school seasons start. Brandon Zolp, Cody Seibel, Cody Nuernberg, Sam Olla, Tony Gonring, and Brad Boegel of Kewaskum along with Kyle Beck and Kevin Gonring of Campbellsport will give the A's plenty of depth early on in the season.

In addition, there will be a few upgrades to the A's home facility for this upcoming season. A revamped batting cage, new scoreboard, and a new concession stand are just a few things you will find this season if you are able take in a game at Kiwanis Park.

A full list of games can be found on the A's website: www.leaguelineup.com/kewaskumathletics. The A's will face Farmington on April 24th at 10 a.m. in another Hustisford tourney game. The A's will also host an alumni game on July 31st in Kewaskum. More information regarding this game will follow.

After slow start, Indians begin to improve

KEWASKUM- There were no real surprises in the Eastern Wisconsin conference's opening meet held last Friday at Hon-E-Kor Country Club.

Defending champion Plymouth was atop the standings with a 175 total, followed by Kiel, whose returning veterans paved the way to a 179.

The closest competition was for the third spot where Campbellsport edged the host Indians, based on the tiebreaker. Both squads came in with 186, but the Cougars got the nod because its fifth player, Justin Klumppan, shot a 53, while KHS' Russ Osswald carded a 55.

Plymouth's Gino Kiela captured the medal with a 3-over-par 38 on the White Nine, which was a little more challenging than usual with the wind gusts the players faced.

KHS was led by sophomore Tony Gonring, who carded a 43, including a seven on the final hole. Next came senior Jacob Durian, who had a 46, followed by Dan Bohn and Beau Backhaus with their respective 47 and 50.

"I thought finishing in the upper half would be a decent start for us," KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt said.

The team didn't have much of a chance against the Goliath's of the annual Washington County Invitational recently. The young and inexperienced Indians struggled to keep their scores in their efforts to break 90 and finished 27th out of 27 teams in the event held at the Washington County Gold Course near Hartford.

KHS came in with a 393 total. At the other end of the spectrum was Kettle Moraine, which captured the team title with a 314, two strokes ahead of Catholic Memorial and Marquette. Arrowhead placed fourth at 321, while Brookfield East continued the Milwaukee-area monopoly with a 322 total.

The medalist for the day was Jack McKinney of Marquette. He carded respective nines of 37-35 for a 2-over-par 72.

Gonring paced KHS with a 48-44-92. He is the only regular returning from the 2009 club.

Next was Russ Osswald, who carded a 52-45 for a 97, two strokes ahead of Dan Bohn's 54-45-99, and Alex Larsen rounded out the scoring with a 50-55-105.

On April 14, the Indians placed seventh of 16 teams in the Early Season Warmup Tournament hosted by Sheboygan Falls at The Bull.

Nicolet claimed the team title with a 331, followed by Sheboygan Falls at 341. Brown Deer and St. Mary's Springs finished 3-4 at 361 and 362. Cedar Grove's Nic Vrublely took the medal with a sizzling 73.

Kewaskum came in at 377 led by Dan Bohn, who was 12th overall with an 89. Osswald shot a 92; Gonring was in with a 96; and Larsen and Mike Holt both shot 100.

Lady Indians fall to Waupun

WAUPUN - After relatively cruising through the first five games of the season, Kewaskum's fast-pitch softball team ran into a buzz saw Tuesday against one of the best pitchers it will see all season.

The Indians fell behind Waupun 4-0 before sixth and seventh-inning rallies fell just short in the battle of undefeated teams. Kewaskum lost, 4-2, and fell to 2-1 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference and 5-1 overall. Waupun is 5-0 in the EWC and 11-0.

Waupun senior Demi Kastein tossed a gem, striking out 12 and allowing two walks and one hit according to the home scorekeeper. Kewaskum's book claims three hits.

Kewaskum freshman Jenny Reicher (1-1) hung right with the star, allowing six hits (Kewaskum claims five) while striking out one, walking one and hitting a batter.

"She did a heck of a job tonight," Coach Jeff Gosse said. He said Reicher did a better job of relaxing and letting the game come to her than in her start last Friday at Elkhart Lake.

The Indians' batters were another story.

"Some of our hitters early in the game were a little intimidated, little impatient, swinging at a lot of rise balls. We talked about it. It's not easy to lay off them," Gosse said. "She's probably the best pitcher in the conference. We haven't seen that speed this year."

The Warriors used clutch, two-out base hits to score one run each in the second and third innings to build a 2-0 lead. Two more hits and a misplayed ball in the outfield allowed two more runs in the fourth. They came into the game averaging nearly 10 runs per contest.

"We shut down the meat of their order. Just a couple of little popups here and there popped in, a little floaters for line drives got in," Gosse said. The Indians put two runners on base through five innings before breaking through in the sixth. Jordan Mikolajczak led off with her second straight walk and Liz Schaller moved her over on a grounder. An error on the throw to first moved runners to second and third.

A fielding error on pinch hitter Michele Marquardt's grounder then scored Mikolajczak and let Schaller take third. With runners at the corners, Marquardt tried to steal second and was thrown out, but Schaller scampered home in the mean time for the Indians' second run.

Olivia Gitter led off the seventh with a line drive to the left center gap, the hardest hit ball off Kastein all night. The Indians couldn't take advantage as Kastein got the next three batters to fly out to end the game.

"Our big guns tonight didn't hit. Monica (Dehler)'s in a slump tonight. So much of our offense depends on her getting on base. You could see as soon as they're concerned about her," Gosse said.

Overall, though, Gosse said it was a good game.

"We hung in. I was happy with the effort," he said.

The Indians play a doubleheader at home Thursday against Kiel and host Plymouth on Tuesday.

Against Hartford Union on Monday, the host Indians broke open a 1-1 game in the fourth inning with three runs and hung on for a 5-3 non-conference victory.

Senior Erika Heberer (3-0) went the distance, allowing one earned run on five hits, three walks and striking out five.

"She hit her stride tonight. She's been struggling a little but tonight she looked confident. She was ahead in the count most of the time and it paid off," Gosse said.

The Orioles scored two runs in the sixth inning to close to 4-3 before Kewaskum scored one in its sixth on two errors to provide a two-run cushion with three outs to go.

"That was good because I was getting kind of worried. I hate going in with just a one-run lead because anything can happen," Heberer said. "But at least two runs is a lot better than just the one."

Marquardt had two hits and two RBI and Reicher and Mikolajczak each had two hits and one RBI. Abby Amerling had a triple with a line drive over the shortstop to the gap in left center.

For Hartford, Morgan Marinin hit a single-homer on a line drive over the right fielder's head.

At Elkhart Lake on Monday, her higher school career win of her high school career, allowing three earned runs on four hits and seven walks while striking out nine.

Kewaskum won, 14-6. Schaller was 4-for-5 and Marquardt and Ashley Faber each went 3-for-5.

At Sheboygan Falls last Thursday, the Indians blew out the Falcons, 13-2, through wind that threatened to blow everyone away.

Heberer allowed one earned run on three hits, whiffed 10 and walked three. At the plate, she went 3-for-4 and scored three runs.

Marquardt went 3-for-4 with an RBI, Schaller 2-for-3 and two RBI and Amering 2-for-2 with two RBI and a double.

Heberer said the breeze didn't bother her and actually helped her curve ball.

"It wasn't too bad," she said.

Gosse praised his offense and his outfield for handling the wind.

"We hit the ball good tonight. I think we did a nice job of playing small ball," he said. "We've got a nice, experienced outfield. They adjusted right away in warm-ups."

Indians open season with a win

Kewaskum's Christine Bohn looks to get the ball past, Sheboygan Falls' Hannah Meyer (7) in Monday's game hosted by the Indians. The Indians fought hard but lost the game 4-0.

After snow forced a re-schedule for their first game against St. Mary's Springs, the Lady Indians went on to win their season opener at home against Kiel. They went on to fight hard against the always solid Plymouth in a game that went into double overtime but resulted in a loss. They played hard in the Oostburg Veldboom Tourney and then lost at home against a steadfast Sheboygan Falls team on Monday.

Kew 1, Kiel 0 Tuesday, April 13 at home

The Raiders could not score against the Indians so Kewaskum's one goal was enough for the win in wintery conditions.

Sam Smallish went unassisted and scored the lone goal of the game in the first five minutes of play.

"We had some additional opportunities as the game went on, but Kiel really controlled much of the ball possession and attack. Fortunately for us, our goalie Paige Lightner did a fabulous job in goal and really stepped up big for us," stated Coach Amy Piwoni.

"I personally think our team can go so far this season if we keep up the good attitude, the good encouragement. Communicating is a huge thing we need and if we keep it up, and play like I know we can, I think we can go so far. The Kiel win for us on Tuesday let us know that we can play with any team in our conference. We have to bring it every game. Stated Lightner.

The Indians attempted eight shots to the Raiders' 13 with Lightner defending all 13. Elissa Miller led the team in shots with four and was followed by Sam Smallish who had two.

Plymouth 2, Kewaskum 1 (Double OT) Thursday, April 15 at Plymouth

The Indians went head to head with the Eastern Wisconsin Conference powerhouse, Plymouth. Kewaskum's Jess Smallish scored first with the assist coming from Sam Smallish at 20:14 making a great start for the Indians in this road game. Shortly before the second half would end Plymouth's Marisa Raeder, would find the net 65 minutes into the game to tie the game.

In the second round of overtime, the tie would be broken as Plymouth's Clarice Hnilicka, assisted by Marisa Raeder 95 minutes into the game.

Piwoni described the loss, "Tough loss to swallow because we were right there and had our chances to win it in the first and second overtime."

Jess Smallish led the attack for the Indians with four of the team's seven shots. The Panthers took 11 shots. The Indians had seven shots throughout the game.

Lightner covered the box

the entire game and had 9 saves.

Beaver Dam 3, Kewaskum 2 Friday, April 16 at Beaver Dam

Piwoni reported her team again came out strong with a Jess Smallish goal 40 seconds into the game. Then Beaver Dam answered with a goal of their own 10 minutes later. At the 30 minute mark, Sam Smallish found the net.

Beaver Dam got the tie after a goal off of a questionable call in the box. "Paige was going for the ball, but the ref said she was going for the player from behind and awarded Beaver Dam a penalty kick and they put it in the back of the net to tie the game," Piwoni explained.

The Beavers then tallied their third game winning goal in the 35th minute of the first half.

"We had our chances to tie the game in the 2nd half, but just couldn't get the result we were looking for. We looked a little drained out there from the wind and our double overtime game from the night before," Piwoni stated.

The Indians tried 7 shots with Jess and Sam Smallish trying for the lead with three each. The Beavers had 13.

Lightner managed the box and saved 10 shots from finding the net.

Veldboom Tourney Saturday, April 17 at Oostburg Oostburg 3, Kewaskum 0 Sheboygan Falls 5, Kewaskum 0 Valders 1, Kewaskum 0

The tired Indians could not score in three matches at this tourney that started the day with a tough Oostburg team. Piwoni thought her team had trouble generating offense against them. She also explained a few of her key defense players were absent. Miller led the team in shots with two of the Indians' total of four. Oostburg had seven. Lightner had four saves.

The ladies met Sheboygan Falls for the first time since the Falcons ended their incredible 2009 season in sectional play. Piwoni stated her team had a struggle coming up with an offensive push, which made the game frustrating. Sam Smallish attempted the team's lone shot.

Things got better in their final game of the day, "We finally played together as a team. We were stringing passes together and moving the ball up the field. We controlled possession during the majority of the game, but made one mistake on the outside and got beat," Piwoni explained.

Shannon Miller provided five shots on goal, the ladies had a total of eight. Lightner had two saves to end the day.

Sheboygan Falls 3, Kewaskum 0 Monday, April 19 at Kewaskum

Still a bit exhausted after playing six games over three days the Indians showed their wear but still played tough against the solid Falcons. The Falcons dominated the ball throughout both halves of the game leaving the Indians with all they could handle just keeping up with defense.

"We got a couple of offensive bursts from Christine Bohn, Shannon Miller and Jess Smallish, but they were short lived," Piwoni explained.

Kewaskum had four shots, three coming from Sam Smallish. Sheboygan Falls put up 13 shots.

"I think we played hard overall, I think we did a good job keeping up with them with their speed especially in the first half," forward Jess Smallish stated.

"The bottom line is that we need to get better at marking on defense and we need to develop a comfort level with one another so we can move the ball around in a organized manner. We have the weapons, we just need to put them to better use," Piwoni concluded.

The Indians will meet New Holstein at home on Thursday at home with a 1-2 conference record.
