Property values skyrocket in village after reassessment

By Mitch Maersch
mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

Kewaskum's first reassessment in seven years has skyrocketed some property values when many can least afford it.

Property values went up an average of 21 percent, said Jim Young, project leader with Grota Appraisals of Menomonee Falls, the company that did the reassessment. He said Kewaskum has a smaller mix of larger commercial properties in village and in general has a fairly typical housing mixture.

Young said that is only an average of 3 percent per year dating back to 2003, "below what market did in good times." Twenty-one percent over seven years is not a high average increase for the area, he said.

The recession kept the increase down.

"Overall, the values are closer to about the values were in 2007," Young said.

Municipalities are required to do reassessments within five years if properties' assessed value to fair market value is more than 10 percent different, said Mathew Heiser, village administrator.

In Kewaskum, Young said the average commercial property was at 82 percent of fair market value and residential was closer to 85 percent. Commercial values rose at a higher pace than residential, mostly because they were behind in looking at sale prices of prior assessments, he said.

Some went up by more than 70 percent.

An open book session two weeks ago allowed property owners to dispute their values with Young. The assessor will send out notices notifying the owners if their property value was adjusted. If the owners still aren't happy, they may request a hearing before the village's Board of Review in which the assessor and owner make their cases.

Young said he uses a hybrid valuation model to determine property values, following assessing laws in the Wisconsin Property Assessment Manual and standards of the International Association of Assessing Officers.

Young said most corrections are done because of updated records such as the composition of a basement finish or that a kitchen or bathroom was remodeled in the 1960s in a 1920's house - "not what we would call a good rating anymore."

Heiser said the open book session did draw a larger crowd than the last reassessment.

"This response is bigger than 2003 but we've had bigger increase since then," he said.

As far as people being upset at rising property values, Young said "that's fine because everything you hear in the news is about values going down."

Highway 28 project delayed until 2013

By Andrew Kuehl
andrew@kewaskumstatesman.com

KEWASKUM- Village officials have learned the Wisconsin Department of Transportation has again pushed back a plan to reconstruct Highway 28 in the Village and Town of Kewaskum. Concerns over repaving the bridge over the Milwaukee River are the latest excuse.

Village Administrator Matt Heiser stated he received word from the DOT a few weeks ago. He explained that state engineers are concerned that simply repaving the bridge is not a sufficient fix.

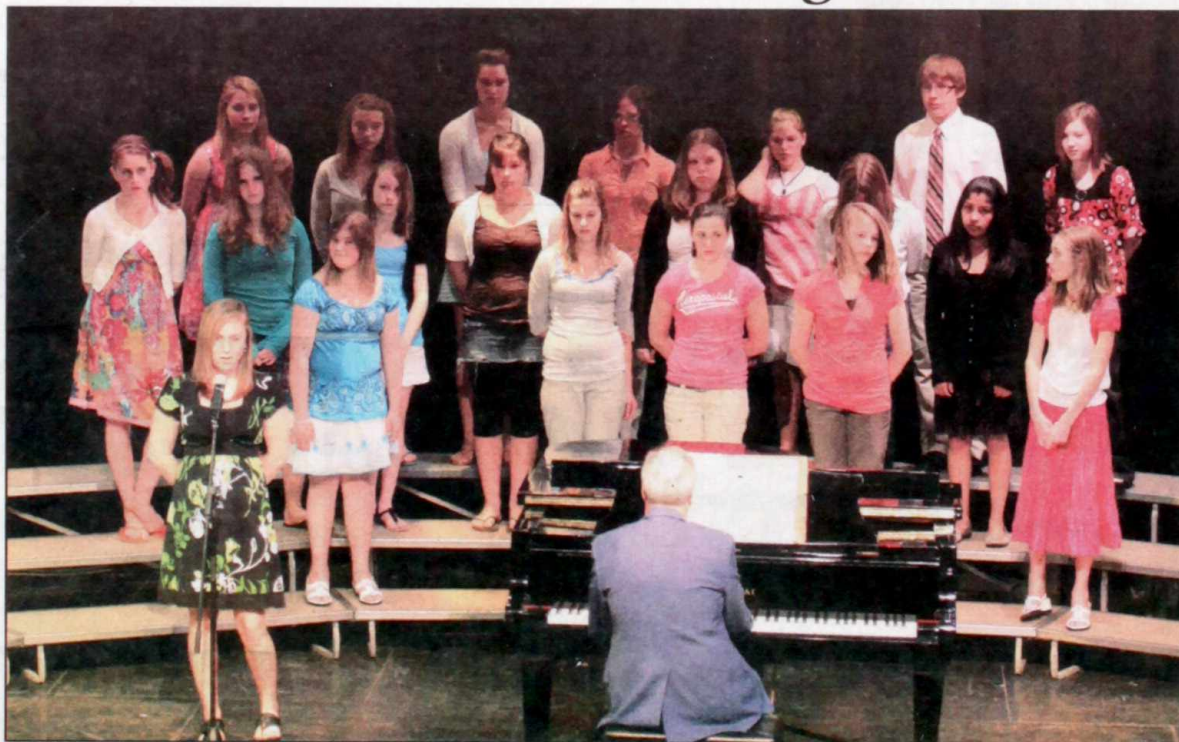

Engineering for the sewer and water along the village's portion of the roadway has been put on hold. The village previously contracted with McMahon and Associates for the work.

Heiser says plans for streetscaping are also on hold. He says he was also notified the state was not accepting any grant applications at this time for streetscaping projects as well.

The project delay does allow the village to budget better for the project however, the condition of the street has Heiser and Department of Public Works Superintendent Jerry Gilles contacting state and county road officials about what repairs will be done in the interim.

If the project proceeds in 2013, Heiser expected work to start in February and finish in October of that year.

Artists, musicians shine during Arts Festival

Jacobs guilty of two felonies in McKee crash

By Mitch Maersch
mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

Ken McKee said he is happy "justice is starting to be served in the death of our son" with the conviction of Jason Jacobs last week in Washington County Circuit Court.

A jury found Jacobs guilty on both of the two felonies he was charged with: homicide while operating a vehicle while intoxicated and homicide while driving under the use of a controlled substance. Each carries a maximum fine of $100,000 and 25 years imprisonment. Sentencing is set for July 8.

On Nov. 14, 2008, Tim McKee's two-door car collided with a sport utility vehicle driven by 35-year-old Lomira resident Jason Jacobs at the intersection of Orchard Valley Road and Highway H at 7 a.m. in the town of Farmington, according to the criminal complaint. Jacobs' vehicle had run the stop sign, according to the criminal complaint.

McKee, 25, was pronounced dead at the scene.

His family has been trying its best to cope.

"Tim lost everything. We're all hurting bad. Tim lost the most, and that's the rest of his life, and that really bothers me," Ken said. "We've got a conviction once there's a fairly substantial sentence at least we would feel justice would be served for our son."

A blood draw from Jacobs at 10:10 a.m. the day of the accident - about three hours after it happened - showed a blood-alcohol content of 0.072. The results indicate that his blood alcohol content at the time of the accident would have exceeded the .08 legal limit - likely around 0.11, according to the complaint.

The court ruled the blood test was admissible, despite the defense claiming Jacobs was persuaded in agreeing to the test.

"We had to go through months more of court time," Ken said.

A state law known as Tim's Law was passed in March to loosen restrictions on requiring a blood-alcohol test of those in accidents causing injury or death.

According to the old law, an officer may request an intoxication test if alcohol or other drug use is detected before arresting a driver who is in an accident that causes death or great bodily harm or who is driving a commercial vehicle. The new law allows an officer to request a blood test for intoxication if the officer reasonably believes the driver broke a traffic law, regardless of the detection of intoxication.

If the driver refuses the test, the officer may arrest the driver and require the test. To read the law, go to <http://www.legis.state.wi.us/2009/data/SB-303.pdf>.

Ken said he can't believe a law like that wasn't already on the books. He said the thought it was unfair an autopsy and blood test was done on Tim right away while it took longer for a blood test to be done on Jacobs, who caused the accident.

"We rectified that problem," he said.

The second annual KEYS scholarship for $1,000 was given out last week in Tim's name. Ken said he hopes the scholarship goes on for a long time and for donations to provide more money to be given each year.

"Our family needs to keep Tim's name going," he said.

To donate to the fund, contact Tim's uncle, Richard McKee, at 692-2920.

Three-vehicle crash snarls traffic in village Monday

Traffic was backed up for close to a mile Monday afternoon after a three-vehicle crash on Fond du Lac Avenue, just north of Elm Street in the village at 3:48 p.m. Two people were injured as a result of the crash. Kewaskum Police responded to the scene and called for Kewaskum EMS and Fire Department. Police say a Toyota mini van driven northbound by Anna Bernhagen, 16, of Kewaskum collided with a stopped flatbed truck, driven by Daniel Gassen, 40, of Hartford. Gassen's vehicle then impacted the rear of a full-size van driven by Kathleen Kraus, 41, of Kewaskum. Both Gassen and Kraus were stopped in traffic. Bernhagen was cited for inattentive driving.

Legion to hold Memorial Day program

The Kewaskum American Legion will be holding their annual parade and program on Monday, May 31.

The parade will form at Kewaskum High School at about 8:30 a.m. and commence at the American Legion Post, 1538 Fond du Lac Ave, where the program will follow at 9:30 a.m.

The route of the parade starts at the high school to 3rd St to Parkview to Hwy. 28 to Hwy. 45, ending at the Legion parking lot.

All are welcomed to join in the parade; floats, bands, children, schools, businesses and organizations.

All veterans and active servicemen are invited to participate. Please wear uniforms if possible.

The Legion is looking for a few convertibles for those that have a hard time walking.

After the parade, join in at the post for the program. Brats, hamburgers and refreshments will be served.

Stable destroyed in Barton blaze Memorial wall plaques available

Kewaskum and Kohlsville Fire Departments assisted West Bend Firefighters Tuesday, May 18, 2010 at 1:24 a.m. when a horse stable became enflamed. The Washington County Sheriff's Department was notified of the fire at 4011 Beaver Dam Road in the Town of Barton by a neighbor who observed the horse stable burning after looking outside when his residence lost electricity. The 30-foot by 90-foot structure owned by Brad Rostowske and Catherine Reilly was completely destroyed. Sgt. Ryan Herman of the Sherriff's office reported two horses and one pony were evacuated prior to any injury resulting from the heat or fire. The owners of the property were at the stable earlier in the evening and didn't notice anything that may have caused the fire. The exact cause of fire is still under investigation and a damage estimate is unknown at this time.

Kettle Moraine YMCA selected to offer LIVESTRONG®

The Kettle Moraine YMCA is one of 10 YMCAs across the country recently selected to offer LIVESTRONG at the YMCA, a physical activity and well-being program that addresses the special wants, needs and interests of cancer survivors.

Launched in 2008, LIVESTRONG at the YMCA is part of a multi-year collaboration between YMCA of the USA and LIVESTRONG focused on supporting the health and well-being of people affected by cancer. With 12 million cancer survivors living in the United States today, there is a great need to offer those living with and beyond cancer a safe and accommodating environment where they can engage in physical and social activities. LIVESTRONG at the YMCA, currently available at 30 YMCAs serving more than 60 communities, employs a holistic approach to help cancer survivors achieve their health and well-being goals.

"Medical studies show that moderate levels of appropriate physical activity can reduce fatigue, boost self esteem and improve muscle strength and physical endurance in individuals following cancer treatment," said Andy Miller, LIVESTRONG Executive Vice President of Mission. "However, physical activity and wellness programs specifically for cancer survivors are scarce and often difficult to take to scale nationally."

"Working with the YMCA is ideal," Miller said, "because of the Y's commitment to meeting the needs of all community members, history of program innovation in support of health and wellness and their presence in communities across the nation. Together, we are confident we can make an unprecedented difference in the way we inspired and empower people affected by cancer."

"The positive and enthusiastic feedback that we have heard from individuals at other YMCAs who have gone through this program convinces us that this is a significant community program that meets an important need for cancer patients and survivors in Washington County," said Aaron Schmidt, Associate Executive Director of the Kettle Moraine YMCA.

As a participant, the Kettle Moraine YMCA will implement promising approaches to support cancer survivors, including creating/enhancing partnerships in the oncology community, developing and delivering a physical activity and well-being program for cancer survivors, training program leaders, and modifying environments to meet the needs of participants. The fact that the program in outside a medical facility and integrated into the community serves to emphasize that LIVESTRONG at the YMCA is about health, not about disease.

"LIVESTRONG at the YMCA will allow us to more effectively involve cancer survivors and their families at the Kettle Moraine YMCA through programs that focus on their specific health and well-being," said Steven Schulz, Health & Wellness Director for the Kettle Moraine YMCA. "Our goal is to provide the most supportive environment we can during their treatment and beyond."

The Kettle Moraine YMCA has appointed a team of staff members that will learn the LIVESTRONG program over the course of the next couple of months. That team will then be able to implement and facilitate the LIVESTRONG program later this year. Information of specific program dates will be available later this summer.

Conrad Birdie comes to Campbellsport

The 1960 musical Bye Bye Birdie, by Michael Stewart, Charles Strouse and Lee Adams, is a fun show about a popular rock star, Conrad Birdie, that is about to be drafted.

His agent, Albert Peterson, devises a plan that he hopes will allow him to escape his possessive mother, Mae, so that he can be free to marry his love, Rosie Alvarez. Birdie will travel to a small American town to sing his latest song to one special teenage girl, Kim McAfee. Kim being picked as the special girl causes complications with Kim's beau, Hugo Peabody, and frustrates her father, Mr. McAfee.

After Birdie takes Kim for a wild night on the town, she eventually goes back to her boyfriend, just as Albert finally wins Rosie.

Campbellsport Community Theater will be having auditions for Bye Bye Birdie on Monday, May 24 and Thursday, May 27 at 6:30 p.m. at the Campbellsport High School in the Lang Audition.

There will be copies of the tryouts materials at the Campbellsport Public Library for people to make copies of it if you would like. We are looking for teenage girls and boys, men and women ages 25-60, and a boy age 8-12. Hope to see you there!

Show dates are August 12-15.

Entertainment abounds during Fine Arts Festival

This past weekend, Friday, May 14 and Saturday, May 15, the Kewaskum Area Arts Council held its first Arts Festival. Music, Art and Drama was enjoyed by hundreds of people throughout the two day event, and many thanks are to be given to the students and teachers of both the parochial and public schools in the Kewaskum area.

If you missed any of the activities, here is a short recap of events; musical performances in the Theatre both Friday evening and Saturday, drama presentations on Saturday; piano recitals in Rose Library on both days; Folk dancing at KMS on Saturday; activities for children; Art show displays at KMS and KHS; food and arts & craft vendors and music in the park on Saturday from 4:00 - 11:00 PM. Thanks to Holy Trinity School, St. Lucas School, Farmington Elementary, Wayne Elementary, Kewaskum Elementary, Kewaskum Middle School and Kewaskum High School, the high school Forensics students, the many piano students and their teachers for all of their participation in the Arts Festival.

A special thanks to the following organizations and businesses that helped fund the music in the park concerts; the Kiwanis Club of Kewaskum, Geidel's Piggly Wiggly, Kewaskum Women's Club, Silbernagel & Jasen, Inc., Prairie Garden Realty, Dr. Dennis Connor, DDS, American Legion Women's Auxiliary and the Kettle Moraine Insurance Agency.

Kewaskum High School 'Got Milk' finally

Katherine Madritsch receives a ticket from Mary Andrae of the Milk Marketing Board.

Two new milk coolers with removable inserts that are put into the freezer when not in use.

A problem inside Kewaskum High School's cafeteria, that has persisted since its remodel in 1995 has been solved. The Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board is credited with solving that problem. Kathy Robinson, director of food services for the district has wanted milk coolers in the cafeteria but when the remodeling occurred, not enough electrical outlets or space was allowed. The Milk Marketing Board recently gave KHS two new cow themed milk coolers, each valued at $1,200.

Mary Andrae of the Milk Marketing Board visited the school on April 19th to do a promotion encouraging students to drink more milk. The Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board, provided prizes such as t-shirts, rain ponchos, hats and stuffed cows/animals that had the "Got Milk?" logo. Each KHS student who purchased a carton of milk received a raffle ticket as they came through the lunch or a la carte lines. A matching numbered ticket went into an empty ice cream bucket. When each of the three lunch lines ended we picked the matching raffle tickets from the ice cream bucket and read the winning numbers to the students. The winning students came up to a cart where all the prizes were laid out and picked the one they wanted. It made for three very entertaining lunch periods stated Kathy Robinson, director of food services for the district.

UWWC students present undergraduate research in Madison

UW-Washington County (UW-WC) Chemistry Professor, Dr. Mohamed Ayoub and three of his students presented a poster abstract at the 7th annual UW System Posters in the Rotunda: A Celebration of Undergraduate Student Research.

This event, which highlights the extent, quality, and value of undergraduate involvement in faculty-guided research projects, took place on Wednesday, May 7 in the State Capitol Rotunda in Madison. Their poster titled, "A Computational Chemistry Study and Natural Bond Orbital Analysis for NOx" was one of fourteen on display from 17 UW campuses across the state. More than 100 students and their faculty advisors from the UW System campuses participated. The UW-WC stu-

The four students worked on this research project under Dr. Ayoub's supervision while enrolled in the Independent Study in Chemistry course (CHE 299) in the fall semester 2009 and spring 2010 semesters.

According to Dr. Ayoub, nitric oxide (NO), nitrogen dioxide (NO2), and dinitrogen trioxide (N2O3) play vital biochemical and environmental roles. Using modern computational chemistry techniques with natural bond orbital (NBO) and natural resonance theory (NRT) analysis, the students investigated their electronic structures and patterns and produced 2d and 3d surface plots to demonstrate their reactivity.

All students and their advisors had the opportunity to meet and explain their work to Wisconsin legislators, highlighting the importance of undergraduate research and education support at the state and national levels. For more information, visit the website: <http://www.wisconsin.edu/posters/index.htm>

MARIAN B. OURS

Marian B. Ours, 83, of North Fond du Lac, passed away on Saturday, May 15, 2010, at the Fond du Lac County Health Care Center in Fond du Lac.

She was born on August 28, 1926, in Wisconsin, the daughter of the late Gustav and Augusta (Albrect) Knoelke, and she married Wallace Tolonen. On October 26, 1974, she was united in marriage to Robert Ours at St. Lucas Evangelical Lutheran Church in Kewaskum. Robert preceded Marian in death on June 2, 1992.

Marian was a member of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church in North Fond du Lac and a former member of St. Lucas Evangelical Lutheran Church in Kewaskum.

Those Marian leaves behind to cherish her memory include seven children, Eileen (Steve) Field of Divide, Colorado, Judy Gundrum of West Bend, Wayne (Nancy) Tolonen of Martin, Tennessee, Nancy Tolonen of Fond du Lac, David (Jane) Tolonen of Allenton, JoAnne Tolonen of Fond du Lac and Susan Tolonen (Dr. Daniel Lopez-Tan) of Wauwatosa; 17 grandchildren, 19 great-grandchildren, other relatives and friends.

In addition to her husband and parents, Marian was preceded in death by a daughter, Cheryl Lynn Tolonen and a brother, Harry Knoelke.

Funeral services for Marian were held at noon on Wednesday, May 19, 2010, at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church in North Fond du Lac. Pastor Thomas Behnke and Pastor Michael Kampman officiated and burial was in Lutheran Memorial Park in Kewaskum.

Relatives and friends called on Tuesday from 6:00 until 8:00 p.m. at the Miller Funeral Home in Kewaskum and at the church on Wednesday from 11:00 a.m. until the time of services.

In lieu of flowers, memorials to Hospice Advantage are appreciated.

Additional information and guest book may be found at www.millermartinfh.com.

CONNER WAYNE CONWELL

God's precious little angel, Conner Wayne Conwell, was gathered into the arms of Jesus on Friday, May 14, 2010.

Those Conner leaves behind are his loving parents, Justin and Mary (nee Kwaterski) Conwell of Campbellsport; his big brother, Caleb Conwell; his maternal grandparents, Greg and Robin Kwaterski of Kewaskum; his paternal grandparents, Shelly and Mike Westerman of New Fane, many aunts, uncles, cousins, other relatives and friends.

Family services were held on Tuesday, May 18, 2010, at Peace United Church of Christ Cemetery in Kewaskum with Rev. Eric Kirkegaard presiding.

The Miller Funeral Home in Kewaskum was entrusted with Conner's arrangements. Additional information may be found at www.millermartinfh.com.

RACHEL BEST

Rachel Best, age 32, of Campbellsport fell asleep peacefully in the loving arms of her husband, Curt, her son Coda and her aunt Chris on Thursday, May 13, 2010 at her residence. She was surrounded by the love of her family following a year long battle with melanoma.

She was born February 7, 1978 in West Bend and married Curtis L. Best on May 19, 2000 in Fond du Lac.

Rachel lived life to the fullest. She loved riding with Curt on their Harley but nothing was greater than her love for her children. Rachel left behind many friends and family who will miss her "spit fire" attitude in her capacity as social director at Bahr Time in Elmore and the 5th Quarter in Kewaskum as well as social butterfly at Kissy's in Kewaskum.

She is survived by her husband of 10 years, Curt and 3 children, Dakota, Sydney and Mason. She is further survived by her parents, Cynthia Rosbeck of West Bend and Arthur (Eileen) Kreis of Campbellsport; her mother-in-law, Shirley Kriehn of West Bend; her paternal grandmother, Louise Kreis of Kewaskum and her maternal grandparents, Norb and Sharon Rosbeck of West Bend and Frank and Dolores Bruni of West Bend. Rachel is also survived by her siblings, Jeremy (Candice) Kreis of Campbellsport, Andy Kreis of Fond du Lac, Mike Kreis of Theresa, Alicia Kreis of Campbellsport, Ben "Beaner" Kreis of Campbellsport and Samantha Kreis of Campbellsport; her sisters-in-law, Cindy Meeker of Eden and Corinne (Bob) Oberst of Grafton; her Godparents, Kathy and Victor Fronek of Kewaskum and three very special aunts, Chris Wanke of Allenton, Laurie Gremonprez of West Bend and Kristina Rosbeck of the Town of Erin; aunts; uncles; nieces; nephews; cousins and other relatives and many special friends.

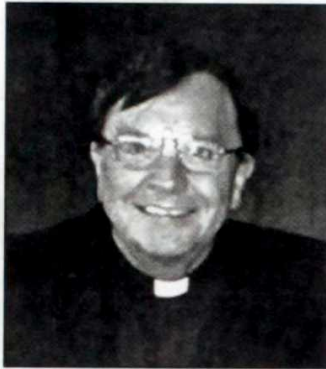

She is preceded in death by her grandpa, Arthur Kreis Sr. and two uncles, David Kreis and Frank Kreis.

Funeral services were held Monday, May 17, 2010 at 7:00 p.m. at the Schmidt Funeral Home in West Bend with Chaplain Cheryl Matusiak officiating. Visitation was Monday from 4:00 p.m. until 6:45 p.m.

In lieu of flowers memorials for the benefit of Rachel's children are appreciated.

The Schmidt Funeral Home of West Bend served the family.

REV. RUSSEL J. STOMMEL

Rev. Russel J. Stommel passed away at his residence on Tuesday, May 11, 2010 at the age of 69.

Father Stommel was born on March 17, 1941 in Racine, Wisconsin. He was ordained on May 20, 1967 by the Most Reverend William E. Cousins at the Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist in Milwaukee. Father Stommel entered Saint Francis de Sales Minor Seminary in 1955, and completed preparation for the priesthood at St. Francis de Sales Major Seminary in May 1967.

Father's priestly ministry began June 21, 1967 as a curate at St. Clement Parish, Sheboygan. From June 1969 to July 1982, he was appointed associate pastor at several parishes: Christ King Parish, Wauwatosa, on June 17, 1969; St. Mary Parish, Menomonee Falls, on June 22, 1971; St. John de Nepomuc Parish, Milwaukee, on June 6, 1972; St. Mary Parish, Elm Grove, on December 14, 1973; and St. Leonard Parish, Muskego, on June 17, 1980. Father embarked on a study leave on September 1, 1982, attained a Masters of Theology from Marquette University in December 1983 and became a part-time faculty member at the University.

Father returned to pastoral ministry on July 15, 1988 when he was appointed part-time pastor at St. Catherine Parish, Mapleton followed by an appointment as pastor at St. Gregory the Great Parish, Milwaukee on June 21, 1994.

Father next served the three parish communities of St. Matthew, Neosho, St. Mary, Woodland, and St. John, Rubicon, appointed temporary administrator on July 29, 1997 and appointed pastor on September 10, 1997. He was appointed associate pastor at St. Robert, Shorewood, on July 2, 2002, and pastor at St. John Nepomuk, Racine, on June 28, 2005.

Father had recently retired from active ministry on June 30, 2009.

Survivors include his mother, Marylu Stommel of Racine; sisters and brother, Rosemary (Roger) Springsteen of Racine, Joseph (Kathy) Stommel of Pueblo, CO, Jean Stommel (Roy Starbeck) of Corvallis, OR; sister-in-law, Nancy King of Racine; close friend, Rev. Paul Lippert of Plainfield; nieces; nephews; great nieces; great nephews; other relatives and many dear friends.

Father Stommel was preceded in death by his father, Dr. Russel J. Stommel in 1989 and his brother, William F. Stommel in 1982.

A Mass of Christian Burial for Father Stommel was celebrated by Bishop Sklba, Fr. Lippert, and Fr. Ronald Crewe on Sunday, May 16, 2010, 5:00 p.m. at Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Racine.

Relatives and friends may meet with the family Sunday at the church from 3:00 until 4:45 p.m. Private entombment was held at Calvary Garden Crypts.

Memorials to the Archdiocese of Milwaukee or a charity of your choice have been suggested.

IN MEMORY

In memory of LEONARD SARNOWSKI, who passed away on May 20, 2000.

So much has changed
Since you've been gone,
Through ups and downs
Our lives move on.

But, as time rolls by,
One thing remains true,
We will always have
Memories of you.

Those we love don't go away.
They walk beside us everyday.
Unseen, unheard,
But always near Still loved, still missed and very dear

*Missed by

Pastor Joiner is pleased to announce that nine young men and women are to be confirmed on Palm Sunday, March 31, and receive their First Holy Communion at the altar in Peace Church with their parents. The Confirmands are Christopher Charland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Charland, Kewaskum, Matthew Gruss, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gruss Sr. of rural Campbellsport, Shannon McFadden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McFadden of Kewaskum, Nicole Postuma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Postuma of rural Kewaskum, Chad Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Schmidt of Kewaskum, Joel Serwe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Serwe of Kewaskum, Sheila Susen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Susen of rural Kewaskum, Jeffrey Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Taylor of rural West Bend, and George Walz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walz of Kewaskum.

Dairy Daze contestants for king and queen of June Dairy Daze to be held June 15 have been announced. Competing for the honors will be the following: Kewaskum FFA Chapter - Gary Butzlaff and Renee Kapp; Happy-Go-Lucky 4-H Club - Andy Degnitz and Barbara McKee; Kewaskum 4-H Club - Bill Butzlaff Jr. and Laurie Horlamus; B-Mer-E 4-H Club - Jerry Hupfer and Janelle Peterson; Riverside 4-H Club - Richard Thiemer II and Petra Thull, and Wayne Crusaders 4-H Club - Jon Etta and Beth Bartelt. Contestants will be chosen by vote tickets available at the above clubs and local area merchants.

A daughter, Brooke Ashley, was born to Bruce and Kimberly Dreher, West Bend, on March 22. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dreher of Kewaskum. A daughter was born to Phil and Peggy Parkinson, Rhinelander, on March 18. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Orville Kern of Wayne. Daughters were also born to Mark and Suzanne Yanke, Kewaskum, on March 18, and to Bernard and Cynthia Wolf, Allenton, on March 20. A son was born to Robert and Nancy Zettler, Kewaskum, on March 19.

Kewaskum's second annual Dairy Day event held Saturday in the high school gymnasium and agriculture rooms and cafeteria was a tremendous success according to the Kewaskum Business Association, sponsors. A record crowd, estimated at approximately 1,200 persons jammed the event for the evening show and more than 600 persons were served the noon dairy lunch. Sandy Oppermann was crowned Dairy Day queen by Miss Wisconsin.

Last Friday, March 16, was the final date for filling nomination papers at the village commissioner's office for offices in the Village of Kewaskum to be elected at the spring election on April 5. Five candidates filed papers for the three trustee offices, namely two of the incumbents, Arvin Merwin and Joseph Schwind, and three newcomers, Harold Degner, John Geidel and Harry Heinecke. Reidel Kroncke is the only candidate for the justice of the peace office.

Only $8.21 in cash was obtained in a safe burglary at the Heinemann Dairy in Kewaskum sometime Monday night or early Tuesday morning. The thieves gained entrance to the building through a rear boiler room door. The burglary is believed to be the work of professionals by the systematic way in which they broke open the safe. They broke off the combination on the safe and then peeled off the front plate to gain entrance. The burglars also ransacked all of the office desks but the $8.21 was the only money taken. The rest of the cash had been deposited before the close of the day's business.

Honeck Chevrolet of Kewaskum delivered six 1960 convertibles on March 19, the day before spring and it was the first time ever that many convertibles were delivered at one time in this area. It was such an unusual and rare occurrence that the Chevrolet Motors Division gave special attention to the filling of these orders and seeing to it that all deliveries could be made at one time. The six owners of the convertibles are: Janice Honeck, Evie Krueger, Gilbert "Bud" Korth, Lloyd "Cocky" Keller, Ken Garbisch and Harold "Whitey" Baum. The deliveries were made by Killy Honeck, owner, and Herb Backhaus, salesman.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scannell, Kewaskum, on March 21, and to Mr. and Mrs. Myron Schuppel, Kewaskum, on March 16. Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gruber, Kewaskum, March 16; to Mr. and Mrs. David Backhaus, Kewaskum, on March 16, and to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seefeldt Route 1, Kewaskum on March 17

The local Boy Scout troop is meeting each Tuesday evening at the school. Their organization and membership is as follows: Officers -- Scout Master, Henry Lay; Assistant Scout Master, Howard Schmidt; Scribe, Ralph Marx; Color Bearer, Fred Miller; Patrol Leaders -- Flying Eagle, Howard Schmidt; Owl, Harold Bartelt; Moose, Harry Koch. Scouts include Howard Schmidt, Harold Schlosser, Donald Seil, Francis Roden, Harold Bartelt, Fred Miller, Ralph Marx, Marlin Schneider, Bernard Hafeman, Harry Koch, Curtis Romaine, Louis Bath and Fred Buss. Troop Committee consists of Mr. Otto Lay, Dr. Leo C. Brauchle and Mr. E.E. Skaliskey.

The Bank of Kewaskum received word by telegram from Henry Morgenthau, Secretary of the Treasurer of the United States, that 4th Liberty Bonds ending with numbers 5, 6 and 7 are called for payment on April 15, 1935, and can be exchanged for other bonds bearing interest at the rate of 2-7/8 percent only up to Wednesday, March 27, 1935. After April 15, 1935, they will no longer bear interest.

Again the hand of the grim reaper has appeared in our midst and struck down another of our prominent businessmen. Rosier Sylvester Demarest, 72, passed away in death at St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend, on March 17. Mr. Demarest was born on July 2, 1862 in New Prospect. When a young man, he came to Kewaskum and was united in marriage shortly after to Ida Krahn on April 7, 1897. Barney, as he was familiarly called by all his friends, was a very widely known fur dealer, and was known throughout the country as one of the best judges of furs in the business.

At the annual meeting of the Washington County Barbers' Association in West Bend, on March 12, the following officers were elected: president, Hubert Wittman, and secretary-treasurer, Clarence Kluever. Both are from Kewaskum.

March 29, 1935

Ralph Heisler, 21, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Heisler of this village, passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend, last Sunday as the result of injuries he suffered in an automobile collision on Highway 33, three miles east of West Bend, at about 1 am Sunday morning. He suffered a fractured skull and never regained consciousness. Three other young people in the car with Ralph were not critically injured, although two of them, the Misses Olive and Ella Windorf, were treated at the same hospital for cuts and bruises and severe shock. Joseph Uelmen Jr., also of Kewaskum, escaped uninjured. The accident happened near the West Bend airport when a Buick sedan ran into the left front side of the car driven by Heisler and the young man received the full force of the impact. Ralph Leo Heisler was born at Milwaukee on November 13, 1913, and came to his present home in Kewaskum with his parents in 1924. He leaves to mourn his early demise, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Heisler, three brothers, Russell, Franklin and Louis Jr., and a sister, Marcella, all at home.

The local Forensic contest will be held in the school auditorium on April 5. Participants include: Nonn-humorous Declamations - Lorraine Haveck, Ruth Janssen, Lucille Backhaus; Elymorous Declamations - Evelyn Krautkramer, Margaret Muenck, Doris Mae Rosenheimer; Orations - Howard Schmidt, Carl Kohlschmidt and Robert Romaine.

According to H.W. MacKenzie, director of the State Conservation Commission of Wisconsin, from April 1 to June 30, 1935, both dates inclusive, no fishing of any kind will be allowed on Smith Lake (also known as Dricken's Lake) in the Town of Barton. Also there will be no fishing on Little Cedar Lake on that portion of the lake lying north and northeast of a straight line directly off Thoma's resort, located in the Town of West Bend. The entire eastern half of Druid or Mud Lake in the Town of Erin is closed by the order. The western section of Lucas Lake or Silver Brook Lake and Silver Brook in the Town of West Bend is also affected by the order. The purpose of this order is to perpetuate fish in these Washington County lakes, particularly small-mouthed and large-mouthed black bass.

Julius Dreher met with an accident at the depot last Tuesday which might have resulted in his death. A heavy iron lever which is attached to a refrigerator car door became loose and fell on his head, cutting a deep gash in the side of his head. Dr. Driessel was called to dress and sew up the wound.

The northern lights that were displayed in the sky Sunday evening were watched with amazement by many of our citizens between 8 and 9 pm. The rays of the luminous sheets were exceptionally strong. The phenomenon as it appeared Sunday night was in the form of a luminous cloud at places and in others as rays and arches. It extended from the east to the west, which is another fact that rarely occurs, astronomers say.

Mrs. Emma Altenhofen moved her confectionary store into the building on the west approach of the bridge on Tuesday. She will occupy the rooms above the store as living rooms.

Fred Martin bought the Doernberger property consisting of 2-1/2 lots and buildings, located on East Main Street for $625 last Saturday. Mr. Martin will raze the old buildings and erect a new house on the property.

Mrs. William Bartelt moved here from her farm in Auburn into the Stechen residence on Wilhelmina Street last Tuesday. Mrs. Bartelt rented her farm to Anton Schaeffer of St. Michaels.

Otto Habeck sold his 90 acre farm, about three miles east of here, to Mrs. B. Habeck last Monday for the sum of $6,508. Adolph, a son of the latter, will reside on same.

A.G. Koch is improving his residence building by adding another story on top of the east wing of the house.

Goeden cruises to clean sweep

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

Kewaskum sprint car driver Don Goeden has had some big nights racing on the Wilmot track but none more memorable than last Saturday when he posted "a clean sweep," winning the 10-lap heat race and running away with the 25-lap feature.

"We had a good night," Goeden said Sunday, a day after the opening race night at Wilmot, which is located near the Wisconsin-Illinois border.

For the past several years, Wilmot has skipped having time trials, according to Goeden, who said, "it saves the track and makes for a better show for the fans."

"I started sixth in my heat race by draw," Goeden went on, noting he took over the lead on about the seventh lap.

This alone would have made for a fairly successful night, considering it was the first time he had been in his black No. 11, 410 sprint car this year.

Car owner Bob Walldon, who is from Winthrop Harbor, Ill., was going to pass on racing for the 2010 season but then later reversed his decision, which was good news for Goeden.

"We're just going to hit all the special, local shows," Goeden said. "Bob just got the motor back, so we were going to test it at Wilmot. It's just five miles from his house."

Goeden and his crew arrived early to get in a bit of hot-lapping to test the motor, and, "We just had to change the fuel setting ... By the time the heat race came along, we were ready."

Because Goeden passed the most cars in any of the three heat races, he got to draw first for starting position in the 25-lap feature. He drew No. 3, so he started on the third row in the No. 6 position, with Bryan Kristan of Zion, Ill. on the pole and John Fahl of Milwaukee also in the first row.

"After the first couple of laps, we were up to second," Goeden said, then on the 15th lap, he took the lead, only to have the move erased because of a caution flag. That scenario repeated itself two more times, and Goeden said, "On the final time, I passed him on the outside."

Defending Interstate Racing Association (IRA) champ Todd Daun started third and finished sixth, while Billy Hafemann of Waldo started 12th and wound up eighth.

Goeden's crew chief is his twin brother, Dave, and his three faithful crew members, Terry "Webs" Weber, Dean Wetzel and Brian Stern are back for another year.

Rising Up...No topping bluegill surface action

The heavy green flyline looped back before carrying Scott Heitman's home-tied cargo imitating the Lost Lake hatch forward again to lie gently on the water. A few seconds later, another bluegill rose among its band of brothers rising here and there to the tiny dark flies scattered over the surface and met a sharp reminder that even panfish best watch what they choose for dinner. Heitman wrestled the gill in, returned the fish to grow up a bit, and reaffirmed what we had already discussed on the three hour ride from the Milwaukee burbs to Marinette County.

"We're early," Heitman said. "When the gills spawn on these lakes up here it's a riot. The fish are big and they're really aggressive. In a couple weeks it's going to be a lot of fun, especially catching them on a flyrod."

The early bird may get the worm. But, you can't hurry warming water temperature as the single most important factor when targeting spawning bluegills. No doubt about it, north and south in Wisconsin these 15,000 lakes are Mother Nature's kitchens. We have to wait until she warms the water to 'just right' to make those big, hard fighting, great tasting gills vulnerable.

It's worth the wait. When Heitman and I headed northeast Wednesday to his cabin near Crivitz in Marinette County, we knew we were early for gills. Especially when five inches of heavy, wet snow blanketed the area May 10th, delaying Mother's plans. You've heard the old saying: April showers bring May... blizzards. But with flyrods packed, we also knew that we would catch gills and maybe a bonus bass or two and that this story would serve as a reminder to you, the reader, that now is the time to plan for your own trip, basically anywhere in Wisconsin. With fast action a promise when water does heat up, don't forget the kids. Spawning, cooperative gills and warm weather are the two most important ingredients to get kids hooked on fishing for life.

Gills also make some of us, like Heitman and me, kids all over again. Or, like Jaime Darge, the Director of Tourism for Marinette County who paid us a visit as we worked tiny, spring-fed Lost Lake with surface poppers and various flies until we finally matched the hatch that were making the feisty gills rise frequently to ripple the surface and fill their bellies.

"I think the spawn is late this year because of the cold weather and five inches of snow we got up here last Friday," Darge said. "My husband (Dave) and I are usually catching gills along the shoreline on these lakes the second or third week of May. Usually, we're using ice fishing jigs; small black and white or dull-colored jigs that look like fly larvae or bugs. We'll cut open the stomach of a fish or two, see what they're eating and try to match the hatch."

We could relate. High winds riled little Lost Lake as I walked the shoreline in waders to find calm waters on the upwind side, and Heitman cut to the chase in his canoe. When we met, calm surface water protected by the tall, majestic pines of the north-land was being pocketed by feeding fish. Closer observation verified that they were indeed gills, but our mini-arsenal of poppers and flies didn't initially trip the trigger. Even closer observation found that tiny, dark-colored winged flies scattered the surface. We too, tried to match the meal.

Heitman is a self-taught flyfishing enthusiast, right down to avidly reading to learn what trout hit where in Wisconsin and how to tie what to catch them. We benefitted this week because Scott had enough flies of various size and color in his box already tied in his basement that would enable us to closely mimic what we were watching on the water. "I'll bet you," I said before the dark fly in the palm of his hand ever hit the water, "that you will catch a gill within one minute."

I was wrong. He caught a nice largemouth bass that put up quite a fight on a light flyrod. The gills would soon follow. But the big gills, those protective bulls guarding nests crafted carefully to rear a new year class, will be coming a bit further down the line. "There are some great lakes for big bluegills up here," Heitman said. "And it is going to be worth it when they begin to spawn to make the trip again."

According to several internet sites found by googling "Spawning Bluegills", the feisty gill will begin to spawn in the spring and early summer as water temperatures approach about 70 degrees, with peak spawning activity in May and June. "In areas that are free from over-crowding, some fish will spawn again during the latter part of the season," according to one site. "Because of this long spawning season and multi-spawn ability, bluegills have outstanding reproductive potential. In fact, they often spawn too successfully, which tends to produce overpopulation and stunted growth."

Males create nests in gravel or hard bottoms found in water one to three feet deep. Although northern Wisconsin lakes will be behind on the calendar with gills spawning later, some southern lakes, like Geneva, will also see late spawning gills in much deeper water, due to the vastness and depth of the lake and colder temperatures. Like so many angling activities in Wisconsin, it all depends...on geography, temperature, and individual characteristics.

Gills often create spawning colonies with 50 or more nests. Heitman and I, in fact, were working a shallow bedding areas clearly made last year and unattended. Males make the initial spawning action, creating the nests and later protecting the hatch from predators after the females have moved in and dropped up to 40,000 or more eggs.

It's those vulnerable big bulls quick to hit an intruding lure or fly that will be well worth your time on the water. They're also unbeatable in the frying pan. It's another nice thing about Wisconsin. If you live here, you're close...really close...to good gill water. Get there.

"Marinette County has 444 inland lakes consisting of 12,371 acres of water," Jaime Darge said. "We have 304 rivers and streams for trout, and the Bay of Green Bay for those anglers that like the really big fish." Lady Indians soccer team adds two conference wins

The Lady Indians added two conference wins to their record after some great conference play the last few weeks. The ladies picked up a win at home as they hosted Waupun, then fell to the Cougars with just a few moments left in the game and finally came back with a win against Kiel.

Kewaskum hosted Waupun on Thursday, April 29 and tallied a win with three goals over the Warriors' single goal.

Jess Smallish scored first assisted by Elissa Miller. She would later come back unassisted for a second.

In describing the game, coach Amy Piwoni stated, "Waupun caught us asleep and pounded a goal in the net during the first minute of the game. It took us a while to get hungry for the ball. We looked flat out there and were not ourselves. Regardless, we were able to do enough to pull out the win."

At the end of the first half the Indians were just one goal better than the Warriors.

"Our second half play was much better," Piwoni explained.

Karissa Uelmen put the third goal on the board unassisted.

Kewaskum showed they were hungry for the net taking 16 shots on goal. Indians goalie Paige Lightner provided two saves for the game.

The Indians travelled to Campbellsport on Thursday, May 6, and lost by one point after taking the lead after being even with the Cougars at the half. The end result was 4-3.

Piwoni stated the Cougars jumped out and took an early 2-0 lead 15 minutes into the game, but the Indians responded well and came back late in the first half to tie up the game after Jess Smallish found the net at the 33:00 mark, assisted by Sam Smallish. Kewaskum answered again on a Sam Smallish goal two minutes later.

Kewaskum took the lead at the 41:00 minute mark with another goal from Jess Smallish. The Indians appeared to have momentum going their way, but then Campbellsport tied up the game at the 55:00 mark.

With five minutes left to play, as if they were in the middle of a bad dream, Lighter got drilled in the face by an opponent and went down and had to come out of the game. Then, during the final minute of the game, Campbellsport lofted a shot just out of the reach of Georgianna Abfall which sealed the win for the Cougars.

Piwoni stated the loss was "disappointing."

"I thought we were the aggressors in the second half. We just didn't have an answer for their speedy forward (Paige Birschbach) up top. She's very tenacious and we lost her a few."

Kewaskum tallied 13 shots during the game. Campbellsport tried nine times at the net.

A scoreless first half ended in a 2-1 win for the ladies as they were hosted by Kiel, Tuesday, May 11 and all this without their starting goalie, (Paige Lightner) who suffered a concussion in her collision with a Cougar in their last game.

Piwoni reported Miller dropped back to sweeper and "was very solid for us back there." Abfall again stepped up, filing in at the keeper spot.

"We executed very well as a team tonight and everyone played an important role in that," Piwoni explained.

Once again Sam Smallish made some big plays. Two unassisted goals at 66:00 and another 75:00.

Kiel's goal came in the middle of Smallish's big plays at the 68:00 mark off of a direct free kick.

Kewaskum dominated at the net trying 15 shots to Kiel's five.

Indians unable to overcome Warriors in eight

Abby Amerling attempts a slide into home in the bottom of the seventh inning in the game against Waupun to break the tie and win the game. Amerling was called out at the plate.

By Mitch Maersch
mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

PLYMOUTH - Twenty-four hours after a heartbreaking loss and with second place in conference on the line, Kewaskum's fast-pitch softball team took a big lead on Plymouth and this time slammed the door.

The Indians blew up for eight runs in the fifth inning on Tuesday and won 12-4. The game served as redemption from an 8-7 April 27 loss at home when the team blew a three-run lead in the seventh. Senior Erica Heberer wasn't about to allow another comeback. After getting touched up for one run in the fifth, she allowed one base runner in the final two innings combined. She allowed eight hits and four walks, and struck out three.

"I was nervous going into it because I knew I needed to have my A game in that last inning," Heberer said.

It helped that her offense gave her an 11-3 lead with nine outs to go.

"Thank God," she said with a laugh. "I was so happy. It was just a relief."

Tied 3-3 entering the fifth, Michele Marquardt walked and Monica Dehler reached on an error. Jenny Reicher executed a sacrifice bunt to move runners to second and third, and up came Abby Amerling. The junior clobbered a ball to left center that reached the wall for a two-run double, the first of four straight Indian hits.

"Just going up there trying to hit the ball. I knew we needed a run because we were down and didn't want to lose to them again," Amerling said.

It was the second straight game Amerling has pounded the ball for a two-run extra base hit.

"We've done a lot of hitting in practice and I've been ducking my elbow in and now I'm keeping it out which makes me hit a lot better," she said.

Courtney Krueger followed with an RBI line drive single to right field, and Jennifer Beiswenger hit a liner to left for another single that brought in a run. Liz Schaller shot a grounder pas the first baseman for an RBI single and leadoff hitter Jordan Mikolajczak hit a sacrifice fly for another run.

Ashley Faber then singled, Marquardt reached on an error and Dehler hammered an RBI double off the glove of the Panthers' retreating center fielder.

Defensively, Kewaskum turned two double plays. In the third inning, Schaller caught a fly in left field and gunned out a Panther trying to score. In the fifth, Faber, playing center, nearly collided with Dehler at shortstop on a fly ball. Dehler got out of the way at the last second, Faber made a basket catch and fired to first to double off the runner.

"I turned the glove, got the ball and I saw her at one, so I gunned it," Faber said.

The Indians are now 10-3 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference (14-7 overall) with a makeup game on Monday against Sheboygan Falls. Plymouth is 9-4 (12-5).

Waupun remains undefeated in conference and overall (10-0, 17-0), albeit a close play in Kewaskum on Monday nearly changed that.

Down 2-0 in the seventh, Dehler led off with a single and Reicher followed with one. Krueger bunted to move the runners, setting the table for Amerling. She rocketed a two-run triple over the left fielder's head to tie the game.

With one out and a runner on third, Heberer and Schaller each bunted to load the bases. Mikolajczak floated a fly to right field and Amerling broke for home after it was caught, racing to beat the throw.

On as close a play, she was called out at the plate.

The Warriors scored one run in the eighth on a walk and held on for a 3-2 victory. All the Warriors' runs were unearned as the first two came on a dropped pop fly.

Heberer allowed six hits and two walks. She struck out five, again with help from Marquardt at catcher, who is calling the pitches.

"She took control. I really thought her and Erica worked very well tonight," said Coach Jeff Gosse.

Kewaskum's three conference losses have come by a combined four runs.

"You just think about what could have been. The first game against Waupun (4-2 loss), last night against Waupun, blowing two, four-run leads against Plymouth the first time..." said Gosse.

But he is pleased with this year's team.

"Last year we were losing all these games. This year we won them. It's a give and take. We've won games we shouldn't have won and lost games we shouldn't have," he said.

He said the difference is chemistry.

"It's a much tighter knit group. The seniors are being good leaders. The kids are getting along. The biggest thing is there's really no petty jealousy. Last year there was so much petty jealousy on this team it was unbelievable," he said. "This year they've been great, a very unselfish group of kids."

The playoff seeding meeting was scheduled for Wednesday night. Playoffs begin next Thursday. Kewaskum is expected to get a 2 seed. Had the Indians beaten Waupun, they would have had a 1 seed, Gosse said.

Regardless of seed, Heberer will take the mound, getting the nod over Reicher, the Indians' impressive freshman.

"We're going to ride her right now," Gosse said. "She's the senior. She's earned this. She's been pitching for us since the seventh grade so she's earned the right to do this. Right now she's in the groove."
