Flight for Life lands in Town of Wayne

Flight for Life made an emergency landing in the Town of Wayne Monday afternoon for a patient being transported on Highway 41 by Fond du Lac Paramedics. The landing took place on Pamperin Drive, just off Highway D around 3:30 p.m. Kewaskum Rescue and Kohlsville First Responders were dispatched to Highway 41 southbound, south of Highway 28 for a patient being transported by ambulance with a brain injury. Upon arrival, Flight for Life was dispatched from its Fond du Lac Hangar. Fond du Lac Paramedics and Kewaskum Rescue moved off Highway 41 to Pamperin Drive so Flight for Life could land. Kohlsville First Responders and firefighters joined Washington County Sheriff's deputies in preparing the scene for Flight for Life to land.

Boegel leads Indians' plethora of post-season awards

By Mitch Maersch

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

Brad Boegel hit a team-leading 15 home runs this season and it could be said he knocked a few more out of the park with post-season honors.

The sophomore was named Eastern Wisconsin Conference Player of the Year, first team all district and first team all state.

Boegel stood out among even the best players in the area, an accomplishment in and of itself just on his own team. Nine Indians made the all-conference team, including five on the first team and two unanimous choices - both sophomores.

Joining Boegel, named as an infielder, were sophomore shortstop Sam Olla, junior pitcher Cody Nuernberg, senior outfielder Cody Seibel and junior utility player Mike Schladweiler.

While Boegel received votes for his ridiculous offensive numbers, Olla took a different route.

"I think that is telling that is isn't always the numbers that they put on the board hitting wise, that the defensive prowess is just as important. I think Sammy got a lot of good things due to defensive plays this season," said Coach Doug Gonring.

It was Nuernberg's second straight season as a first team all-conference pitcher. Seibel moved up to first team after two straight seasons on second.

"It was a great year and you saw the maturation of Cody Seibel, driving the ball the other way and using the opposite field," Gonring said, in addition to putting a charge into the ball to left field as well. Gonring said Seibel did a lot of growing up in the three years he coached him.

Gonring noted the value of Schladweiler to fill in as needed.

"I thought, boy how important that was - for Schlady to play left field, right field, DH, pitcher - he did so many things to make us better," he said.

It was a good bet the Indians would fill the all-conference team after one of the most dominating seasons in the league's 31-year history. Kewaskum finished 17-1, only losing a 3-2 decision to Sheboygan Falls in its third last conference game, nearly missing the EWC's first undefeated record.

Second place was a distant 10-8, held by Campbellsport and New Holstein.

Three more Indians made second team all conference: junior Bo Seibel in his first year at catcher, senior centerfielder Brandon Zolp and senior third baseman Steve Kudek. Bo made the first team last year as a second baseman; this was his first year at catcher.

Sophomore Lucas Kopeschka received honorable mention as a pitcher.

Gonring was named EWC Coach of the Year for the second straight season after sharing it and the conference title with New Holstein last year.

As good as a 27-6 season was after falling one game short of the state tournament to state runner-up West Bend West, Kewaskum's crystal ball looks just as bright. Six of the nine all-conference players return next year, and three for the next two years.

Gonring knows this is only the beginning and he reminded his team of just that.

"They've got a lot of awards but it's just the start ... there's a lot of work to be done," he said. "Every team likes to be in the situation we're going to be in, but hopefully they're not bored. The game of baseball is repetition."

It may be even more challenging for Boegel and Olla, given their accolades came as sophomores.

"Like I told Brad and Sam, it's just the beginning. They need to continue to work. They're going to be a marked duo in years to come. It's not time to quit working; it's going to be where they're going to have to work harder," Gonring said.

There is no substitute for hard work.

"You can't live on the laurels; you've got to get better. You can't get a day back that you don't work hard.

McKee crash driver gets 6-years

By Mitch Maersch

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

Family and friends continue to help the McKee family cope with the loss of their 25-year-old son, Tim, killed by a drunk driver two years ago.

Last week, all the bad memories were brought up again as the Lomira man who killed Tim was sentenced in Washington County Circuit Court to six years in prison and four on probation.

"We wish there would have been a longer sentence but we're happy he got that much," said Ken McKee, Tim's father. He said the sentence was in range of sentences for similar crimes in Wisconsin.

"It looks to me like the drunk driving sentences are basically on the lean side throughout the state," he said.

On Nov. 14, 2008, Tim McKee's two-door car collided with a sport utility vehicle driven by 35-year-old Jacobs at the intersection of Orchard Valley Road and Highway H at 7 a.m. in the Town of Farmington, according to the criminal complaint. Jacobs' vehicle had run the stop sign, the complaint said.

McKee was pronounced dead at the scene.

A blood draw from Jacobs at 10:10 a.m. the day of the accident - about three hours after it happened - showed a blood-alcohol content of 0.072. The results indicate that his blood alcohol content at the time of the accident would have exceeded the .08 legal limit - likely around 0.11, according to the complaint.

The court ruled the blood test was admissible, despite the defense claiming Jacobs was persuaded in agreeing to the test.

"We had to go through months more of court time," said Ken McKee.

A state law known as Tim's Law was passed in March to loosen restrictions on requiring a blood-alcohol test of those in accidents causing injury or death.

According to the old law, an officer may request an intoxication test if alcohol or other drug use is detected before arresting a driver who is in an accident that causes death or great

Kewaskum, Kohlsville respond to C-sport house fire

By Andrew Kuehl
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

Kewaskum and Kohlsville firefighters assisted The Campbellsport Fire Department on Monday, August 16, at a residential structure fire in the Village of Campbellsport. The cause of the fire remains a mystery.

Campbellsport firefighters responded to the 125 Cherry St. home at 9:37 a.m. after a 911 caller reported smoke from the building. Campbellsport Fire Chief Jeff Lindsley stated, "Upon arrival there were flames showing from a second story window on the side of the house. First in crews were able to contain the fire to the room of origin, but much of the home suffered smoke, heat and water damage."

Lindsley further explained none of the occupants were injured and all of the family's pets survived. However, "a delay in activating 911, may have contributed to some of the damage," he concluded.

Fond du Lac County Fire Detective Charlie Sosinski was called to the scene to help with the investigation. Detective Sosinski was unable to determine the cause of the fire.

One Campbellsport firefighter sustained a foot injury when he stepped on a nail.

In addition to Kewaskum and Kohlsville; Eden, Lomira and Theresa Fire Departments also responded to the scene but were not needed.

The Red Cross is assisting the family.

bodily harm or who is driving a commercial vehicle.

The new law allows an officer to request a blood test for intoxication if the officer reasonably believes the driver broke a traffic law, regardless of the detection of intoxication. If the driver refuses the test, the officer may arrest the driver and require the test.

A jury found Jacobs guilty on both of the two felonies he was charged with: homicide by operating a vehicle while intoxicated and homicide while driving under the use of a controlled substance. Each carries a maximum fine of $100,000 and 25 years imprisonment.

The 10-year total sentence doesn't bring Tim back.

"Is that justice? What he took from us? Tim got a life sentence from Jason Jacobs and he got six years. I know that's the way the system works, but we'd give anything to get our son back in six years," Ken said.

"We had seen Jason Jacobs taken into custody on Thursday and DA's office said we should probably watch that. I guess I'm glad I did. The look on the family's face when he was taken away; they only know a fraction of what we feel," he said.

If anything good came out of Tim's death, it's that it ultimately caused the new law.

"We're really glad we got Tim's law passed," said Ken, who thanks state Sen. Glenn Grothman and Rep. Dan LeMahieu and the legislature for approving the law.

While Ken said he heard Jacobs' lawyer say the defense may appeal, that won't happen with future cases thanks to Tim's Law. He already heard the law had been used in West Bend and Oshkosh.

To read the law, go to <http://www.legis.state.wi.us/2009/data/SB-303.pdf>.

"It could help any one of us at any time," he said. "Tim is gone and at least something good we got out of it having Tim's law passed and to have his scholarship - hopefully forever."

The second annual KEYS scholarship for $1,000 was given out in May in Tim's name. Ken said he hopes the scholarship goes on for a long time and for donations to provide more money to be given each year.

Ken thanks the public for donations to the scholarship. To donate, contact Tim's uncle, Richard McKee, at (262) 692-2920.

Town amends snow groomer ordinance, puts road referendum on fall ballot

By Mitch Maersch

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.

TOWN OF KEWASKUM

The Town Board on Monday unanimously approved an amended ordinance to allow snowmobile groomers to cross town roads and groom right-of-way if it is part of the established snowmobile trail.

The amended version loosens restrictions of an earlier ordinance passed months ago that didn't allow snowmobile groomers to travel or cross town roads, igniting snowmobile enthusiasts and the area business community that relies on snowmobile tourism during winter.

The town, however, wonders if snowmobiles and groomers didn't damage a newly paved Kettle Moraine Scenic Drive last snowmobile season when the trail was moved to that road. $6,500 of damage was done and the town doesn't have the money to repair it. Snowmobile clubs say it wasn't their equipment that did the damage, citing much heavier vehicles like snowplows, septic tank trucks and buses.

Town Chairman Ellis Kahn took photos of the road before and after the damage. Cracks run along where snowmobiles and groomers travel. He said the snowmobile trail has been moved several times without any club informing the Town Board.

"In my opinion, it's unfair completely," Kahn said.

The latest trail move is because two years ago one town resident stopped allowing snowmobiles on a half-mile section of trail on his property.

Craig Sanborn, past president of the Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs, trail boss and groomer operator and town resident, said he is working with the state Department of Natural Resources to try to move the trail off of Kettle Moraine Scenic Drive, but that likely won't get done for this season as the process can be lengthy. In the meantime, he is working with the DNR on a short-term plan, which may involve building bridges to cross over a creek.

The town spent $1,507.50 on legal fees concerning the groomer/snowmobile issues, according to Town Clerk Nancy Boden.

Kahn and Supervisor Dan Schmidt had both hoped the issue could have been resolved months ago but Kahn said phone calls to snowmobile clubs were not returned. Schmidt said he is not against snowmobilers but laments the fact the town spent money on legal fees to help resolve the issue.

The board voted 2-1 at July's meeting to put the ordinance on August's agenda. Schmidt voted against it.

The amendment to the ordinance can be found at the town's Web site, <http://www.townofkewaskum.com>, on the link on the left "Proposed Amendments to Ordinances."

No change for size of board

Kewaskum's Town Board will remain at three members after the board on Monday decided not to ask the public if it should expand to five.

Town Chairman Ellis Kahn brought up the idea to make it easier to conduct town business. With a three-member board, if two members want to get together and discuss anything, the meeting must be legally posted as a quorum is present. "It's getting harder and harder and requiring more and more meetings," he said. "I think it would reduce the number of meetings."

Supervisors Allen Hron and Dan Schmidt don't support expanding the board.

Hron said it might be cheaper to have more meetings with two board members than having a five-member board.

Schmidt said the town is the smallest in Washington County and only had four people running in the last election, not enough to fill a five-member board.

"I'd like to see costs kept down," he said.

Non-binding referendum to be placed on fall ballot

Town of Kewaskum residents will be asked if they'd like to spend more money on road improvements in an advisory, non-binding referendum in November as the town's state aid continues to shrink and costs and road needs increase.

The Town Board on Monday voted 2-1 to develop a referendum. It did not specify how much money it would ask to spend.

"There's no big secret we're strapped for money and we have lots and lots and lots of road repairs and brushing to do," said Town Chairman Ellis Kahn.

Kewaskum is the second area town deciding to hold a referendum in two weeks.

Last week, Farmington unanimously approved a two-question referendum asking for either $200,000 or $450,000, but that referendum is binding, meaning if the majority approves it the money will be spent. Voters could vote down both questions as well.

Should voters approve Kewaskum's referendum, the board still has final say on spending the money.

Kewaskum town resident Sandy Pasbrig asked the board what the vote needed to be to trigger it to decide to spend the money. A 51-49 vote, she said, isn't a strong majority.

"I hope you take that into consideration if it's that close of a vote," she said.

Kahn and Supervisor Allen Hron said they would not support spending the money with that result.

Supervisor Dan Schmidt voted against holding the referendum at this time, citing the economy.

"I would be embarrassed to ask people for more money," he said.

Highway aid from the state totaled $80,000 last year, to which $40,000 plus fuel went for snowplowing.

Kahn said he and town staff will develop a referendum. The board decided supervisors will examine it individually to avoid holding a special meeting as the deadline to get on the November ballot is a couple of weeks away.

Baseball

You can't work 110 percent because you only worked 90 percent the day before," Gonring said. "That's the advice I'm trying to get to these kids. Every day you've got to get a little smarter."

For Gonring, the road getting there is more fun than the result.

"It's the journey, it's the progress in watching these guys get to where they've gotten. It's the journey of getting there that's more fun than the last win because 98 percent of us go home with a loss," he said. "This is a special individual group and hopefully they recognize it themselves and strive to be better the next two years."

Post-season honors aside, Kewaskum fans got their money's worth this season, especially since game admission is free. The Indians won three games in their last at-bat this season, leaving the team to wonder why its offense didn't get going earlier in games and Gonring to start pulling out his full head of hair.

Here are some highlights of the cardiac kids:

June 11 vs. New Holstein - Down 4-0 early, Kewaskum cut the lead to 4-3 in the third but rain threatened to cut the game short in the fifth inning. Nuernberg blasted a two-run homer to left and back-to-back doubles by Schladweiler and Brett Nuernberg and an error made it 7-4. Boegel took it from there. In the sixth with the bases juiced, Boegel destroyed the first pitch he saw, the ball clearing two fences and splooshing into the pond. It hung in the air so long Gonring said "Get in the pond" as he saw it sail.

June 25 vs. Sheboygan Falls - Bottom of the seventh, down 14-11, Boegel steps up with two men on base. He was 0-for-4 for the game. The sophomore clocked a game-tying home run, sending fans into a frenzied rage.

Same game, down 15-14 in the bottom of the 10th - Kewaskum loaded the bases with no outs and up came Kudek, pulled earlier for fielding mistakes and given a shot at redemption. The senior smacked a fly over the right fielder's head for a two-run double, completing the dramatic comeback, 16-15.

June 29 vs. Kiel - Down 4-1 in the sixth, the Indians load the bases. Olla hits a two-run single up the middle. A wild pitch ties the game and moves Olla to third. Cody Seibel knocks him in with a sac fly and pitches a one-two-three seventh for a 5-4 win.

July 2 vs. Plymouth - Boegel lost a 3-0 lead in the seventh and the game went to extra innings. In the 10th, Boegel came up with one man on. He was 1-4 with two strikeouts. A rope over the left field fence made it all better. He won his own game as in 5 1/3 innings of relief he whiffed 14.

July 9 vs. New Holstein - Down 5-3 in the seventh, Nuernberg hit a sac fly to make it 5-4 and Schladweiler was hit by a pitch to tie the game. Bo Seibel then hit his second straight RBI single, this one a liner to left, for the game winner.

Baby Bottle effort designed to help unborn babies

By Judy Harlow

At times people decide against contributing to a charitable organization because they feel the money never helps people in their area or because of the salaries given to the officials heading the group.

Neither pertains to the Baby Bottle Fund-Raiser, which gets underway this weekend at Holy Trinity and St. Michael parishes. The money supports the Life Choices Women's Center located in West Bend that is designed to help young pregnant women in Washington County. That organization is run solely by volunteers. No paid help.

Ann Enright, who has spent most of her life in Kewaskum and Boltonville, is a strong supporter of Life Choices Women's Center, which is a part of the larger Friends of Life, Inc. She has been with the organization since its inception in 1983.

Even before these organizations were active Enright gave pro-life talks at schools and for church groups, but the need for more information and support connected with crises pregnancies was evident to her and others.

Enright, Alice Kegley of West Bend, Carolyn O'Meara, a registered nurse, and several others from the area formed Friends of Life and set up a small office in the older part of St. Joseph's Hospital.

O'Meara was the first president of the board of directors, according to Enright, who said she also served in that post for 25 years and still serves as a board member.

Today, Enright is proud to report, the organization maintains an office in the Oakbrook Medical Building on 15th and Oak St. in West Bend, offers a 24-hour pregnancy hotline, conducts pregnancy tests and has approximately 20 volunteers available for one-on-one confidential pregnancy support.

"One thing we do too is we give adoption information" as an alternative for abortions, Enright said, reporting they can also direct the young woman where to get ultrasound tests, make referrals for housing, legal services and general financial help.

Obviously there are costs involved to make these services possible, and that is where the Baby Bottle Fund-Raiser comes in. Bottles will be given out at the two parishes, according to Enright, who said, "We'll be collecting them for about a month."

Those wishing to donate are asked to put their loose change or paper money in the bottles. "Sometimes, if there are a lot of quarters, it can be $25 in a bottle, Enright said, indicating there are families who take two bottles home, one for the parents and another for the children who might donate from their allowances or money they earned

"We'll take paper money, too," Enright said, indicating the money goes to pay rent for their office, for printing information that goes to the young women, along with advertising the Center in area phone books.

"We strictly exist on the money we receive," Enright said.

The combined Holy Trinity/St. Michael Human Concerns Committee is supporting the project. Members of the group will hand out the baby bottles after Masses this weekend (Aug. 14-15) and next (Aug. 21-22). They are to be returned by September 19th.

Concerning a success story she could relate directly to the organization, Enright said, "I just tell about the first one (young woman) we helped," recalling how a 24-year-old woman was kicked out of her house when she told her parents she was pregnant.

The group found her a room in a private house and she carried the baby to full term. Then when the baby was a couple months old, she found a job and housing in Milwaukee. By this time her family had come around to support her decision, Enright said, recalling how the woman came back to visit her with her child. "She held her out to me and said, 'If it wasn't for you, this baby wouldn't be here.' That was it. If that was the only baby we would save, it would be worth it."

Kewaskum Chamber donates to food pantry project

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce Golf Outing Committee recently presented a check for $2000 to the Kewaskum Community Food Pantry construction project. The 18th Annual Kewaskum Community Golf Outing sponsored by the Kewaskum Chamber is held each July at Hon-E-Kor in Kewaskum. The Kewaskum Chamber has shown their support for their community by donating a portion of the funds raised each year to support on going projects in the Kewaskum area. Currently the Kewaskum Community Food Pantry is seeking donations for the construction of a Food Pantry to be located near Kewaskum Elementary School. Funds donated will be directed towards materials and supplies to support the project, with labor being provided by KHS tech ed department. Past projects supported by the Kewaskum Chamber include the Kewaskum Fitness Center, Kewaskum Theater, and the Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce Eisenbahn Bike Trail Kiosk. Luke Piwoni, far left, representing the Kewaskum Community Food Pantry received the check on behalf of the organization. Representing the Golf Committee were, left to right, Kevin Bartelt and Kristy Vogt of westbury bank, Ruthann Grohall of Kettle Moraine Insurance Agency, and Aaron Laatsch of Geidel's Piggly Wiggly. The Golf Committee also included Mike Geidel of Geidel's Piggly Wiggly, Gino Giudice of Bonne Belle Motel, and Anita Ulrich of Country Mile Kennel. Rotary Clubs and sponsors gear up for 2010 Enchantment in the Park

Four county Rotary Clubs and the Founding Sponsors gathered on Wednesday night to celebrate the success of the 2009 Enchantment in the Park light show and to begin planning this year's success. With over 340,000 lights, Enchantment in the Park was introduced to Washington and surrounding counties last November as one of the area's premier holiday light displays. The reception was held at the Museum of Wisconsin Art in West Bend.

This year, Enchantment in the Park will boast many new additions. One of the most significant is the ability for attendees in vehicles to listen to holiday music in coordination with the light show. Santa's Village and the Ice Castle will experience additions. Carriage rides are planned for visitors. There will be more entertainment and performances, especially during the week of Christmas and New Years Day.

The primary mission of Enchantment in the Park is to feed the hungry with donations from families who enjoy the enchantment of the holiday light show and Santa's Village. Last year, participants donated over 48,000 non-perishable food items, more than doubling the goal for its first year. Non-perishable food items were distributed to several food pantries throughout Washington County.

The 2010 Enchantment in the Park Holiday Light Show is scheduled to begin the day after Thanksgiving and run through the end of December at the Washington County Fair Park.

For more information, visit www.enchantmentpark.org.

Special program at the C-sport Library

Bob Kann, a talented juggler, magician, comedian and storytelling, is coming to the Campbellsport Public Library. He is a PhD holder who started inspiring people to learn through comedy in 1982. Mr. Kann has earned many accolades including this one from a senior librarian with the Chicago Public Libraries, "Catho Asian and quick sense of humor made the audience putty in your hands, and that was quite a feat with 240 people ranging in age from infants to grandparents...Your marvelous facial expressions, voice inflections, and antics made the stories come alive. Who says storytelling is dull!!" The theme of the evenings program is Read! Read! Read!. Reading can provide a kid with information, nurture a love for language, and is fun. In this unique reading motivation program, Dr. Bob, Professor of Reading Education, shares his love for reading and uses magic, juggling, and storytelling to inspire kids to read. Bob promotes books related to birds, juggling, magic, biographies, and other information books; fiction, tall tales, and joke books. Kids are guaranteed to want to read the books highlighted in this program. This program is being held on Friday, August 27. The fun starts at 6:15 pm. The program is free and registration is not required.

The theme of the program he will perform will get everyone in the mood for school. While you are at the Library make sure to stop at the library counter to verify that your student has a current library card. If you need to apply for a card a parent must bring along a drivers license. Library cards are free and it only takes a moment to apply.

If you have any questions about this program please call the Library at (920) 533 - 8534 or email director@campbell-sportlibrary.org. The Library is located at 220 North Helena Street. The Library is open Monday to Friday 10 - 6 pm during the months between May and September.

Wisconsin Butterflies

The Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit's Summer Saturday Evening Events continues with "Wisconsin Butterflies." The program will be held on Saturday, August 21, from 7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center. The Ice Age Visitor Center is located off Hwy 67 half mile west of Dundee. The program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

Fluttering by on delicate scaled wings, butterflies brighten up our summer days. Incredibly, more than 150 species of butterflies have been recorded from Wisconsin! Join Susan Borkin from the Milwaukee Public Museum, as she shares tips on how to identify the more common species found in our state. She will also uncover the incredible life cycle of butterflies and where to find them. Bring the whole family as Ms. Borkin opens the door into the world of these beautiful warm-weather insects.

For further information or directions, please contact the forest staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The staff may be reached at (920) 533-8322, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and on Saturday and Sunday, 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Family Promises finds new leader

SLINGER –Washington County's chapter of a national homeless-helping organization has a new executive director from Kewaskum and could be ready to host local homeless families within months.

Kathleen Christenson started this month as Family Promise's executive director with a wealth of varied experience and energy to match.

Christenson holds a degree in fire science and served one year on the Franklin Fire Department, worked in a nontraditional job program for women at the YWCA of Greater Milwaukee, ran a landscape company for 12 years and was director of operations for the Boys and Girls Club of Washington County for three.

Her passion now is to help people live independently again.

"I've always had a soft spot for serving other people," she said. "It comes back to helping families get back up on their feet. It's always nice to be there during that tough time."

Christenson went through a tough time herself once and had plenty of help.

"If it wasn't for the people who believed in me in those tough times..." she said.

It doesn't necessarily take much or many.

If you reach that low in your life it's very lonely," she said. "There's always that one person to believe in you. All it takes is that one person."

Family Promise's Board of Directors found that one person in Christenson.

"Kathy brings energy; she brings hope for the homeless. She is a great leader. She just is electricity," said board member and Pastor John Bass of Cedar Springs Church.

Christenson said her experience at the YWCA, where a department of 13 grew to 180 and later 370 that helped 6,200 clients in Milwaukee County was invaluable. She moved from helping low-income women with job placement to an administrative role.

"It gave me a lot of experience," she said. "You're not going to reach everybody."

Cedar Springs, a nonde-nominal Christian church in Slinger right next to Family Promise, rents the house next door to the organization for $1 per year.

"When we bought 38 acres we had no clue what God had in store," Bass said. He does now. Family Promise's Interfaith Hospitality Network (IHN) hosts homeless families at various churches across the county, one week each for a goal of three months. Family Promise takes care of the cots and bedding. Volunteers from host churches and supporting churches provide meals and social acceptance as they would guests in their own homes.

Families have breakfast in the morning and get a bag lunch to take with them for the day. Then, adults are driven to the day center in Slinger where they can job search on computers and take advantage of free programs like resume writing, parenting, budgeting and others. Children are taken to their schools so they aren't displaced from their education or friends. The program can handle up to three families or 14 people at one time. It still needs a part-time program director.

"We're very excited. Everybody wants to get the doors open," said Christenson.

Barriers to independence run the gamut, she said, from a connection to get a job or transportation to and from it. Family may not be around to help. It could just be a case of being in the wrong place at the wrong time. The current economic climate enhances that chance.

Family Promise works to put families back in the right place.

"Basically it's a stepping stone," Christenson said.

Washington County's chapter held its first 10-week session of hosting in summer under the old executive director. Bass said they learned a lot and will apply it the next time around.

It didn't take long to convince the county it should be helping the homeless or even that a perceived affluent county like Washington has a homeless population. Christenson said it was more like "What's taking our community so long?"

Family Promise came to Washington County through the county's Department of Social Services, St. Vincent DePaul and Salvation Army, which noticed an increasing need for services for homeless. West Bend's shelter, the Hebron House, is full and has had to refer families to other agencies.

Funds to start were generated in six months. It usually takes 18. The rapid response has been noted by the national organization.

"Family Promise hasn't seen a community like this," Christenson said.

The chapter has already raised 70 percent of its budget for the year, she said. The chapter has 13 host churches and several supporting ones.

Family Promise's national Web site is <http://familypromise.org>. For information on IHN, go to <http://familypromise.org/familys-stay>.

'Planning for Success' to Help Businesses Gauge Financial Health, Opportunities

Financial reports can be a mystery to many business owners, no matter how successful. Sports, on the other hand, usually require no explanation.

Westbury bank, Washington County Economic Development Corp. and the West Bend Chamber of Commerce will together sponsor "Planning for Success," a Sept. 28-29 seminar that will meld the seemingly diverse worlds of sports and financial numbers. The event will help owners and managers understand the true financial position of their companies, and chart a strategic course for the future. The workshop, presented by B2B CFO, will be held both days from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the University of Wisconsin-Washington County, 400 University Drive.

The event will begin with a discussion about challenges facing businesses, and explain the four different financial reports used by businesses to track the "score." This information will be utilized to create different "game plans" to keep companies "on the field" and winning.

"Many owners and presidents of small to mid-size companies find that the rules of the game adjust as their businesses grow and the economic environment changes," said David Buslee of B2B CFO, a seminar presenter. "Our goal is to show how their companies are positioned - information that is revealed by their financial statements - and devise strategies that will keep them consistently playing offense, rather than defense. They will learn practical skills that they can apply immediately."

The seminar will focus not on the "accounting" of financial data, but rather how to interpret it strategically and plan accordingly, Buslee said. Business owners with a solid grasp on their company's financial information can make better decisions and manage proactively, rather than reactively.

"Business owners are challenged these days not by what they know, but what they don't know," Buslee said. "Entrepreneurs are very competitive. If they know how to score in the game of business, they can excel. In non-sports terms, this means finding more cash within their operations and planning for growth."

The seminar cost is $150 before Aug. 15, and $175 afterward. Registration is available by calling (262) 338-2666 or e-mailing info@wbachamber.org. More information is available by visiting www.westburybankwi.com and clicking on "Strategies for Business Seminar."

Founded in 1987, B2B CFO is the nation's largest CFO firm serving entrepreneurial, growth and mid-market companies. Each individual partner is a senior-level executive with broad expertise and an average of 25 years' experience. B2B CFO is not a franchise nor a staffing agency - each partner carries their own book of business. The company is headquartered in Phoenix. More information is available at www.b2bcfo.com.

New Froedtert and Medical College clinic opens at St. Joe's

Medical College of Wisconsin gynecologic oncologist William Bradley, MD, is now seeing patients at Froedtert & The Medical College of Wisconsin Specialty Clinics at St. Joseph's Hospital. Dr. Bradley provides care for women with gynecologic disorders including endometrial, ovarian, cervical, and vulvar cancers, pelvic masses and gestational trophoblastic disease - abnormal cell growth inside the uterus. Dr. Bradley provides minimally invasive gynecologic cancer surgery in West Bend and offers expertise in advanced chemotherapy options. He participates in team-based, comprehensive treatment for his patients at St. Joseph's.

A graduate of the University of Minnesota Medical School in Minneapolis, Dr. Bradley is board-certified in gynecologic oncology, and obstetrics and gynecology.

"The addition of Dr. Bradley enhances the range of cancer and women's services available here in our community through the Froedtert & The Medical College of Wisconsin Cancer Network, an academic and community partnership. He collaborates with local West Bend Clinic and other area providers to provide comprehensive, specialized care to his patients. It's a choice women in this area value," said Michael Laird, president and CEO of St. Joseph's Hospital.

Dr. Bradley is seeing patients on Tuesdays at the clinic. For appointments, patients may call the clinic at 262-836-7300.

Froedtert & The Medical College of Wisconsin Gynecologic Oncology Clinic opened July 13, the latest addition to services provided at Froedtert & The Medical College of Wisconsin Specialty Clinics at St. Joseph's Hospital.

The specialty clinics, which opened in February 2009, also include Medical College of Wisconsin specialists in urology, electrophysiology, cardiology, plastic and reconstructive surgery, otolaryngology and infectious diseases.

Applications up 12% at UWWC

Three weeks before the start of the fall semester, applications for admission to UW-Washington County (UW-WC) are running 12 percent ahead of last year's record pace. As of August 12, 825 applications had been received.

Unlike most colleges and universities, UW-WC will accept applications until the first week of classes. Classes start Thursday, September 2.

"When we look at the weak economy and the rising cost of education, I am not surprised to see more students starting their college careers at UW-WC, where the professors are focused on teaching undergraduates," said Dr. Paul Price, Interim Dean and Campus

Executive Officer. "They receive an excellent University of Wisconsin education and save thousands of dollars."

In May, the Board of Regents voted to freeze tuition at the 13 freshman/sophomore UW Colleges. The tuition for one academic year (two semesters) at UW-WC is $4,268 (plus fees) for 2010-11. That is $3,665 less than UW-Madison, $3,001 less than UW-Milwaukee and $1,391-$2,541 less than the 11 other four-year comprehensive UW universities. The freeze allows UW-WC to remain an affordable access point to higher education for area students. Students and families can realize even more savings if students live at home during their first two years of college at UW-WC.

Despite the tuition freeze, financial aid applications are up 40.5% at the UW Colleges campuses over the same time last year, according to Bill Trippett, Director of the Student Financial Aid Office for UW Colleges. UW-WC has disbursed 60 percent more Federal Pell Grant aid in the 2009-10 academic year than in the previous year, according to Trippett.

Applications can be made online on the campus website (www.washington.uwc.edu) or by making an appointment with an advisor by phoning Student Services at 262-335-5201.

Campus Notes

University of Wisconsin-Green Bay commencement ceremonies on Saturday, May 15, 2010, honored approximately 825 graduates who completed their degrees in May or at the end of summer session in August. Those students receiving bachelor's degrees with academic honors are indicated by *cum laude,  magna cum laude, and summa cum laude.

The following area students received Bachelor's Degrees:

Adam Lehnerz, Kewaskum, Business Administration and Andrea Todd, West Bend, mathematics.

The following area Ripon College student has been named to the Dean's List at Ripon College for the Spring 2010 semester, which recognizes academic excellence:

Cory Allen Watzig of Kewaskum. Watzig is a sophomore majoring in Undeclared with minors in National Security Studies and Religion. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff A. Watzig of Kewaskum, Wis..

To qualify for the Dean's List at Ripon College, students must achieve a 3.40 grade point average or higher on a 4.00 scale and complete at least 12 credits of regular letter-graded work.

"The staff and nurses in the New Life Center were absolutely fantastic."

— Kristin Armstrong

For Kristin and Keith Armstrong, proud parents of Gabriel Raymond Armstrong, born Sept. 19 at St. Joseph's Hospital, there's no doubt about it: The New Life Center is an extraordinary place. Especially considering the efforts that were made to unite the family shortly after Gabriel was born.

At the time, Keith was more than 6,000 miles away, completing his second deployment in Iraq with the U.S. Army. But thanks to a special Internet-based video connection from Kristin's room at St. Joseph's Hospital, Keith was able to meet his son only an hour later.

"Keith was really excited to meet Gabriel," Kristin says. "It was the next best thing to having him there with us. We've continued to talk just about every day and can't wait to get back together as a family."

As for St. Joseph's Hospital, "I couldn't have had better care," Kristin says. "The staff and nurses in the New Life Center were absolutely fantastic. And Dr. (Angela) Breckenridge of the West Bend Clinic was great. The hospital is gorgeous, and they had a way of making it all really comfortable. I'd absolutely recommend it to others."

To read more about the Armstrong family's experience at St. Joseph's Hospital, visit stjosephswb.com. For information about the New Life Center or to arrange a free tour, please call 262-836-8361. To make an appointment with a West Bend Clinic obstetrician/gynecologist, please call 262-836-2114.

It only takes one afternoon to help keep a kid away from drugs.
And maybe a little longer to actually catch something.

Your small efforts can have a big impact on the drug problem. There are many things you can do, things you already know to do. Share a skill, a passion, a hobby one afternoon a month with kids in your community and you can make a big difference. That's because kids who enjoy a regular, positive activity with an adult are less likely to begin using drugs or alcohol. Find out how you can be a coach, a mentor, a volunteer. No matter what it is, you have something to offer.

LUCILLE E. BUTZKE

Lucille E. Butzke, 90, of Kewaskum, passed away on Monday, August 16, 2010, at Cedar Lake Health Care Center in the town of West Bend.

She was born on August 12, 1920, in Kewaskum, the daughter of the late Herman and Elsie (Backhaus) Backhaus, and on May 3, 1940, she was united in marriage to Elroy Butzke at Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum. Elroy preceded Lucille in death on December 28, 1999.

Lucille was a lifelong member of Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum and the Ladies Guild. Her early years of employment were with Rosenheimer's Store and Regal Ware, Inc. in Kewaskum. After her third child was born, Lucille remained at home to raise her family. She was a loving and devoted mother who made many sacrifices for the benefit of her children.

While a resident of Cedar Community, Lucille was very active in many activities participating in the Cedar Community choir, the Cedar Community band, the baking club, and was a resident representative on the Board of Directors. She also enjoyed playing bingo, weekly Bible study and attending church services.

Lucille will fondly be remembered for her love of music, gardening, baking, sewing, church and her deep faith that brought her strength through her journey through life. She will be deeply missed by her family and by all who knew her.

Those Lucille leaves behind to cherish her memory include five children, Bonnie (Thomas) Skrentny of Kewaskum, Robert (Kathy) Butzke of West Bend, Thomas (Terry) Butzke of Wauconda, Illinois, Jane (Rev. Robert) Laubenstein of Green Bay and Kelly (Dr. Craig) Rosenthal of Kewaskum; a son-in-law, Robert Teeple of Kewaskum; a brother, Victor (Rose Marie) Backhaus of Kewaskum; two sisters-in-law, Gertrude Backhaus of West Bend and Shirley Butzke of Campbellsport; 11 grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren, other relatives and friends.

In addition to her husband and parents, Lucille was preceded in death by a daughter, Mary Woolman; three brothers, Frederick Backhaus, Carl (Beulah) Backhaus and Myron "Cisco" Backhaus; a brother-in-law, Raymond Butzke and a sister-in-law, Laretta Stange.

Funeral services for Lucille will be held at 6:00 p.m. on Friday, August 20, 2010, at Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum. Her son-in-law, Rev. Robert Laubenstein, will officiate and burial will follow in the church cemetery.

Relatives and friends may call on Friday at the church from 4:00 p.m. until the time of services.

Memorials to Peace United Church of Christ are appreciated.

The Miller Funeral Home in Kewaskum has been entrusted with Lucille's arrangements. Additional information and guest book may be found at www.millermartinfh.com.

Lucille's family extends their heartfelt appreciation to the staff of Cedar Community for the outstanding and compassionate care given to her over the past 14 years.

CECILIA M. STRUPP

Cecilia M. Strupp (nee Tennies), 99, of West Bend died Friday, Aug. 13, 2010, at the Cedar Lake Health Care Center.

She was born Jan. 6, 1911, in the town of West Bend to the late Henry and Anna (nee Willkomm) Tennies and married Isador J. Strupp on May 30, 1931, at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Slinger.

Isador preceded her in death on Sept. 15, 1979. Cecilia and Isador settled on the Strupp Homestead in the town of Addison where she lived until 1989 when she moved to Cedar Ridge.

She was a member of the Daughters of Isabella in Hartford and the Christian Woman's Confraternity at St. Lawrence Catholic Church.

Survivors include her eight children, Dolores Koenig of West Bend, Janet (Eugene) Fritz of Allenton, Peter A. (Elaine) of Hartford, Cecile Schmidt of Kewaskum, Frederick (Elaine) of Hartford, Betty Mae (Marvin) Hembel of Jackson, Mary Lou (Jerry) O'Shea of Newport, Wash., and Thomas of Kiel; 31 grandchildren; 64 great-grandchildren and 10 great-great-grandchildren. She is further survived by two sisters-in-law, Arlene Strupp of Napa, Calif., and Antoinette (Ed) Netzel of Hartford; nieces, nephews and other relatives and friends.

Cecilia was preceded in death by her parents, Henry and Anna Tennes; her husband, Isador Strupp; three sons-in-law, Marvin Koenig, Vernon Goeden and Marvin Schmidt; a daughter-in-law, Carol Strupp; seven brothers, John (Gertrude) Tennes, Phillip (Theresa) Tennes, Benedict (Kate) Tennes, Peter (Norma) Tennes, George Tennes, Webster (Inez) Tennes and Henry Tennes in infancy; two sisters, Helen (Louis) Ackerman and Catherine Tennes in infancy; and her sister-in-law, Viola Tennes.

A Mass of Christian burial will be celebrated Thursday, Aug. 19, 2010, at 7 p.m. at St. Lawrence Catholic Church in St. Lawrence with the Rev. Richard Stoffel presiding. Burial will be Friday at 10 a.m. in St. Lawrence Cemetery. Visitation will be Thursday, at the church only from 2 p.m. until 6:45 p.m.

Memorials to the charity of the donor's choice are appreciated.

The Schmidt Funeral Home of West Bend is serving the family.

IN MEMORY

In memory of ROGER JACAK, who passed away four years ago on August 20, 2006.

Your Journey's Just Begun
We don't think of you as gone away-

your journey's just begun,
life holds so many facets-this earth is only one.

We think of you as resting from the sorrow and the tears in a place of warmth and comfort
where there are no days and years.

You are with us in our hearts and we've come to know today that nothing but our sadness can really pass away

We think of you as living in the hearts of those you touched...

for no one loved is ever lost-and you were loved so much.

Peace to you, my Love; your memory will forever be close in my heart.

*Love,
Carol and family*

No hits, no runs, no errors. No appointment necessary.

Gina's of 143 Main Street has been sold to David Stern, Dale Stern and Chris Abel of the Kewaskum area as of July 1. The restaurant will be known as "The Landmark Inn" and will feature a broadened menu while continuing the outstanding pizza tradition.

The Bartelt Insurance Agency will be moving their business from 120 Main Street (the old bank building) to a lower office in the Honeck Chevrolet showroom building, which was formerly the Kewaskum Theatre at 1231 Fond du Lac Avenue (now Auto Body Dynamics and Alter Ego).

The Kewaskum High School Class of 1935 celebrated their 50th reunion on June 1, at Hon-E-Kor in Kewaskum. Members of the class attending were Lorraine Habeck Wegner, Beulah Schaub Koch, Dorothy Manthei Stahnke, Malinda Heberner Seifert, Tiny Terlinden, Evelyn Schaefer Albert, Alice Dreher Bottoni, Carrol Hicken, Martin Gutekunst and Fred Spoerl. Absent were Ruth Kopsel Casper, Marcella Klockenbush Gerstmeir and Marlin Kocher. Deceased members of the class include Elizabeth E. Backus Schnefp, Walter J. Kohn and Robert G. Romaine (both killed in World War II), Inez M. Stellpflug LaBuwi, Harold S. Smith and Howard O. Backus.

Mike Buss of Kewaskum shot his first hole-in-one at Hon-E-Kor Golf Club last Wednesday. It was also the first ace recorded this year at the club. Mike was playing with Irene Schlefke of West Bend, when he holed out his four iron on the 191 yard seventh hole. Buss, a bartender at Hon-E-Kor, said he saw his ball bounce near the cup and then disappear. When he reached the green he first looked behind the hole and then found the ball in the cup. Buss is the second Hon-E-Kor employee to shoot an ace. Last year, greenskeeper Bruce Halfmann shot one of the three recorded.

A daughter was born to Leon and Carol Laatsch, West Bend, on June 20. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Laatsch, Boltonville, and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gregor Rohlinger, Kewaskum. A daughter was born to Gene and Sue Survis, Kewaskum, on June 21.

Three members of one family were killed on Easter Sunday morning when the car in which they were riding struck a Northwestern road locomotive in the yards of the Northwestern Railway Company at Fond du Lac. The dead are: Henry Johnson, 45, Route 2, Campbellsport, driver of the car; Mrs. Olga Johnson, 38, his wife, and Miss Vera Johnson, 20, their daughter. Mr. Johnson was killed instantly, his wife died on the way to St. Agnes Hospital and their daughter died in the hospital at 2 pm. A friend of Miss Johnson, Walter Schmidt, 21, of the Town of Ashford, who was riding with her in the back seat, suffered fractures of both legs, one arm and a possible skull fracture.

Miss Rose M. Mueller, Route 4, Kewaskum, has just been awarded a Certificate of Recipe Endorsement by Better Homes and Gardens for her recipe, "Macaroon Torte." This certificate, which brings national recognition to Miss Mueller, is given by Better Homes and Gardens only to distinguished recipes, which pass its testing kitchen's test for dependability excellence of taste and family usefulness.

Those who were neither absent nor tardy during the last six-week period at the Kewaskum Intermediate Room were: Allen Bruessel, Darwin Bruessel, Allen Tessar, Beatrice Vorpahl, Willard Manthei, Warren Nauman, Clayton Stautz, Lyle Belger, Patti Brauchle, Roger Stahl, LaVerne Terlinden, Wayland Tessar and Ray Vyvan. The honor roll consists of: fifth grade - Patti Brauchle, Edna Schaefer, Roger Stahl, Evelyn Weddig and Wayland Tessar; fourth grade - Erna Lubitz, and Erhardt Schultz; third grade - Darwin Bruessel. The department honor roll consists of Lavern Ramthun, Lorena Vorpahl, Bobbie Luebke, Delores Ramthun, Homer Schaub, Edna Schaefer and Evelyn Weddig.

West Bend was incorporated as a city 50 years ago. The event will be fittingly observed as a gigantic golden anniversary homecoming and celebration of 50 years of progress. The dates set are July 4, 5, 6 and 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Krautkramer of Beechwood are the proud parents of a baby boy.

May 3, 1935

March 1st came in like a lamb but that doesn't seem to mean anything... it's how May 1st blew into Kewaskum at the head of a beautiful little blizzard that arrived in the early afternoon and stayed around until evening.

The following pupils will represent the New Fane School at the Town of Auburn contest to be held on May 3 at Virgin Creek School. 25 and 50 yard dashes - Betty and Bernadine Laubach, Harold Kreif and Berno Fellenz; standing broad jump - Betty and Bernadine Laubach, Berno Fellenz and Harold Kreif; baseball throw - Shirley Kempf, Bernadine Laubach, Harold Kreif and Berno Fellenz; running broad jump - Betty and Bernadine Laubach, Marvin Wiesner and Henry Fellenz; high jump - Betty and Bernadine Fellenz, Harold Kreif and Berno Fellenz; spelling - Arleigh Ehnert; achievement - Henry Fellenz; arithmetic - Arleigh Ehnert.

While on their way to attend the Hartford High School prom last Friday evening, Miss Viola Backhaus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Backhaus of this village, and Frederick Spoerl of Wayne, became involved in an automobile accident which might have proven very serious, when another car collided with Spoerl on Highway 55, a short distance north of Barton due to the drizzling rain which greatly hampered driving. While the cars were still entangled, Egidius Schoofs of the Town of Kewaskum, happened along and he also smashed into the two wrecked cars. All of the cars were quite badly damaged although no one was injured with the exception of Miss Backhaus who suffered the loss of two teeth.

The St. Bridget's Dramatic Club is sponsoring another home talent play entitled, "Closed Lips," to be given on May 7 and 8 at Wietor's Hall at Wayne. A free dance will be given after the play on May 8. Characters in order of their first appearance are: Beulah Westerman, Ione Petri, Monica Diers, Norma Hawig, Joe Kudek, Ewald Volm, Viola Hawig, Cyril Westerman, Raymond Kudek and Miles Campbell.

May 10, 1935

Various Sheboygan Lakes will be completely restocked with game fish this year. Bass will be replanted in the following lakes: Beechwood, Butler, Cedar or Stokes, Crooked, Decada, Little Elkhart, Dollar, Ellen, Haack's, Jetzer's, one end of Random, Gerber, Little Gerber, Little Round and Spring. The lakes to be restocked with pike include Elkhart, Crystal and Random, and panfish will be planted in Grasser, Hintz, Mueller, Weinbauer, Lake Seven, Sixteen and in the north branch of the Milwaukee River, Sheboygan River and Pigeon River.

At a meeting of the local meat dealers - John Stellpflug, Phillip McLaughlin and Elmer Yoost, at John Stellpflug's place last Tuesday evening, it was decided to have their shops closed on Sunday evenings in the future. The shops will be open during the week as heretofore, except that they will close at noon on Sundays.

Heavy trucks will be barred from Highways 55 and 41 in Washington County as well as from 20 other highways in Wisconsin during the summer months on all weekends and holidays. This rule goes into effect on Memorial Day and will continue until September 8. This rule was put into effect last year and so far has proved successful as far as tourists and other drivers of automobiles were concerned. With trucks of a gross weight of 6,000 or more barred from the highways, other traffic can move more freely and fewer accidents will be experienced.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pollard of near Beechwood this week moved their household goods into the apartment above the John Marx store (lower level is now home of Players Sports Bar) where they will make their future home. Mr. Pollard is employed at the Kewaskum Aluminum Company factory.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Klumb of Kewaskum on May 7. A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Marion of St. Kilian.

Frank Keller, an employee at the malt house, had a narrow escape at the plant last Tuesday. He was standing on a temporary platform and arranging to unload a car of coal when suddenly his footing gave way and he fell backwards about five feet below, striking his head on a sharp edge, cutting a large gash back of the ear. He was found unconscious but soon revived when he was taken to Dr. Driesel's office to have the wound dressed.

The youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mertz of Wayne fell into a wash boiler of hot water last week Thursday and was badly scalded about the body.

Peter Wiesner of St. Kilian lately caught three young coons alive. He has them in a cage now and is going to have them tamed.

Joseph Strachota commenced building a stretch of cement walk this week on Water Street, between Main Street and the St. Lucas church property.

The village stone crusher was kept in operation in the Bartelt gravel pit south of here this week.

A fish picnic was held last Sunday at Adolph Backhaus' place.

A band of gypsies was in the village on Monday.

July 23, 1910

Jacob Schiltz of New Fane boarded the train here for Fond du Lac last Sunday evening where he underwent a surgical operation for the removal of his appendix at the St. Agnes Hospital.

An exciting game of ball will be played on Koch's grounds in Beechwood tomorrow, between the Batavia cow punchers and the Beechwood tigers.

Mrs. Oscar Backus, nee Golda Krahn, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Krahn, died last Wednesday after a lingering illness with acute miliary tuberculosis at the age of 24.

MAKING Munchies MATTER

Better-for-you snacks kids will love

FAMILY FEATURES

Kids love to snack. But left to their own devices, most kids don't always make the healthiest snack choices. A new study of long-term eating patterns in children, from researchers at the University of North Carolina, shows that kids today are getting nearly one-third of their daily calories from unhealthy snacks such as chips, crackers and candy.

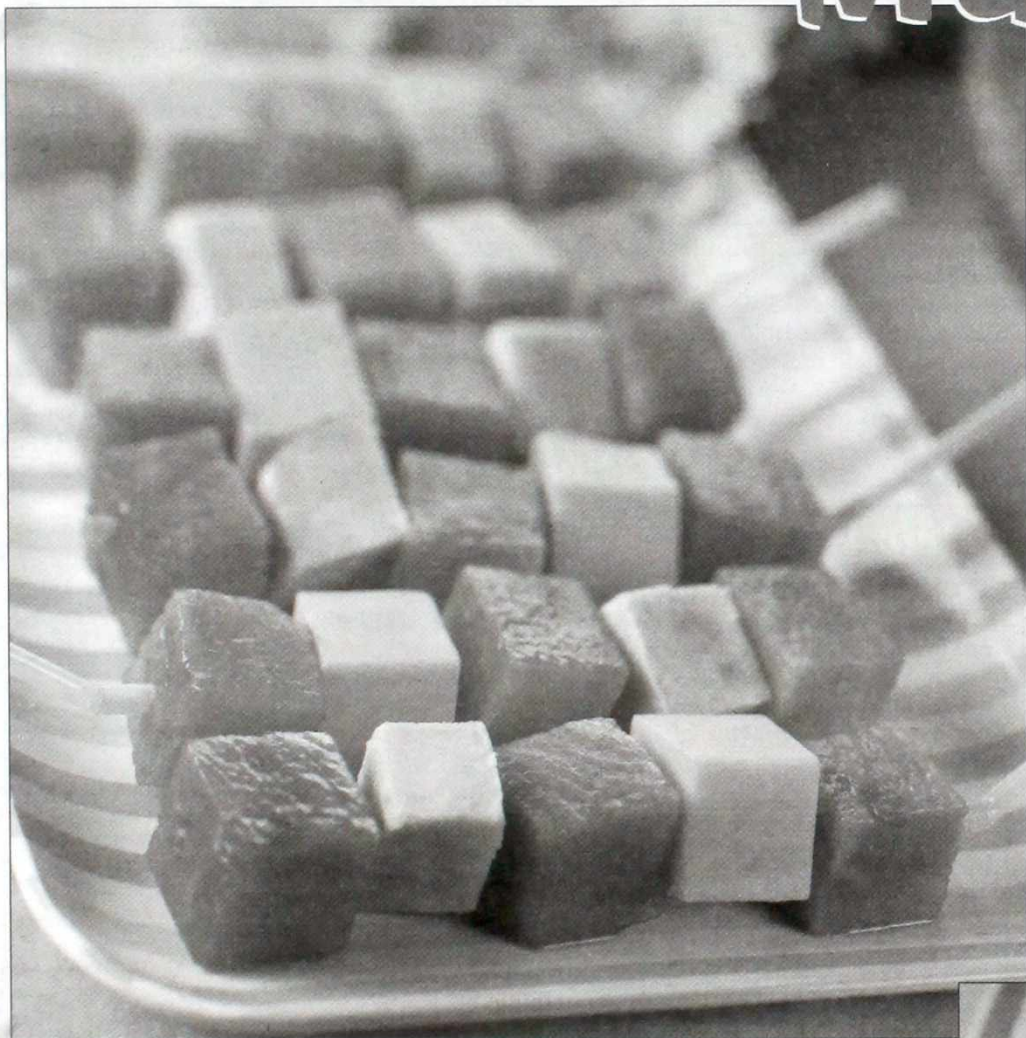

Nutritious and delicious snacks are as close as your produce aisle. Watermelon is practically a multivitamin unto itself — and its natural sweetness is something kids love.

Did You Know?

- A 2-cup serving of watermelon is an excellent source of Vitamins A, B6 and C.
- Vitamin A found in watermelon is important for optimal eye health.
- Vitamin B6 found in watermelon is used by the body to manufacture brain chemicals (neurotransmitters), such as serotonin, melatonin and dopamine, which (preliminary research shows) may help the body cope with anxiety and panic.
- Vitamin C in watermelons can help to bolster your immune system's defenses against infections and viruses, and is known to stimulate the immune system and protect against free radical damage.
- A 2-cup serving of watermelon is also a source of potassium, a mineral necessary for water balance and found inside of every cell. People with low potassium levels can experience muscle cramps. A 2-cup serving has less than 10 percent of the daily reference value for potassium.

Try these fun recipes as after-school and post-activity snacks. For more kid-friendly recipes and healthy eating tips, visit www.watermelon.org.

Send some healthy lunch munchies to school — watermelon chunks are an easy way to brighten up a sack lunch and give kids a tasty nutritional boost in the middle of the day.

Watermelon Kebabs

Watermelon Kebabs

- 1-inch cubes of seedless watermelon
- Smoked turkey breast
- Cheddar cheese
- Coffee stirrers or beverage straws

Cut watermelon, turkey and cheese in cubes and skewer on stirrers or straws.

Watermelon Nachos

Serves 6 to 8

- 12 to 16 1/2-inch thick watermelon triangles with 3-inch sides
- 2 cups Greek vanilla yogurt
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
- A few drops almond extract
- 1 cup Craisins
- 1 cup white chocolate chips
- 1/2 cup toasted sliced almonds
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon

Arrange the watermelon triangles on a serving platter or glass cake stand. Mix yogurt with extracts and spoon yogurt over the watermelon in the fashion of nacho cheese sauce. Sprinkle with almonds, white chocolate chips, and almonds over the yogurt and dust with cinnamon.

Watermelon Dippers

- 8 ounces sour cream
- 4 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- Watermelon sticks or small wedges

Blend together the sour cream, sugar and vanilla in a small serving bowl. Use as a dip for the watermelon.

Watermelon Cut Outs

- Seedless watermelon, cut into 1/2- to 3/4-inch-thick slices
- Yogurt
- Granola or similar cereal

Using your favorite cookie cutters, cut shapes out of watermelon slices. Frost with vanilla or other flavored yogurt. Sprinkle with granola.

Watermelon Berry Slush

Makes 6 servings

- 4 cups cubed, seeded watermelon
- 1 10-ounce package frozen raspberries
- 1 12-ounce bottle sparkling mineral water

Place watermelon in a single layer in shallow pan; freeze until firm. Remove from freezer and let stand 5 minutes. Drop watermelon through food chute of a food processor or blender with the motor running. Add frozen raspberries alternately with mineral water, processing until smooth.

Watermelon Jelly Logs

Makes 6 servings

- 6 3-inch x 2-inch x 5-inch watermelon rectangles
- 3 flavors all fruit or low sugar preserves
- 6 ginger, molasses or peanut butter cookies

Using a melon baller, cut 3 divots into a long side of each watermelon rectangle. Fill each divot with a different all-fruit or low-sugar preserve. Serve each rectangle with a cookie.

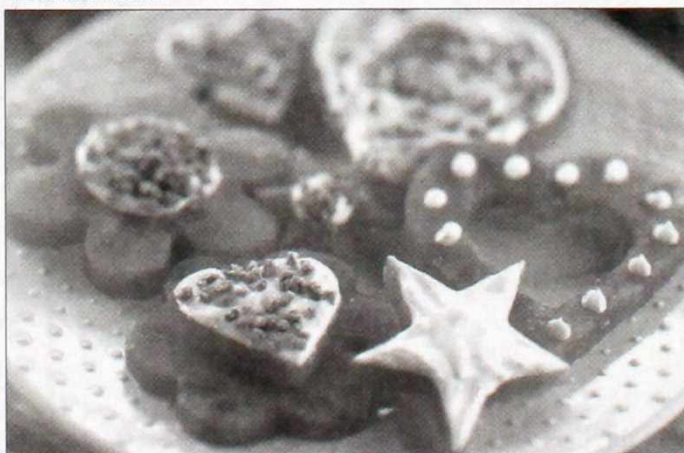

Healthy Eating Tips

Healthy eating habits start at home. One of the best things you can do for your kids is to be a role model for smart food choices. Here are some simple things you can do to help your kids develop healthy lifelong habits.

- Shop for food together and take time to examine, discuss and select fruit and vegetables that catch your child's eye. Allow your child to help you to prepare these healthful foods. For example, let your child use a melon baller to create melon balls from watermelon, cantaloupe and honeydew to create a festive, nutritious and visually appealing dessert.
- Make healthy snacks available at all times for your children by keeping the fridge filled with flavorful, nutrient-rich treats such as grapes, cherries, carrots and watermelon cubes.
- Simple changes are easier for your child to get used to. Try switching from full fat milk to non-fat milk, serving sherbet, sorbet, ice milk or fruit juice bars, or adding fresh fruit to his or her cereal in the morning.
- Serve your children colorful, deeply pigmented plant food. These foods tend to offer tremendous nutritional value. For example, red peppers, carrots, broccoli, oranges and watermelon are all packed with minerals, vitamins and antioxidants.
- Start each day with breakfast, preferably fruit with low-fat yogurt or granola. Make a fruit smoothie by blending watermelon cubes and a banana with crushed ice.

With the Dick Ellis Experts

Brotherly Love.... Lifelong bonds forgiving of flaws

Jim Ellis isn't overly impressed with the size of the first walleye taken on Island Lake in Vilas County as the sun drops in the west.

So this is brotherly love.

I arrived at the cabin last week, ready to fish but not yet with the Doctor' green light to tackle the skiff landings and row trolling that has come to be the beacon of this family's quest for big walleyes and muskies. "I'll row you around," Big Brother Jim said.

Good deal. I don't want to tell you that I'm milking this post-aortic aneurysm surgical rehab for all it's worth. But I'm milking this post-aortic aneurysm surgical rehab for all it's worth. We launched onto the flat waters of Island Lake with the pre-dawn light, me assuming the disabled reporter's position of reclining bump-on-the-log, camera and coffee thermos at the ready, and Jim dipping the oars and letting out line to drag two of the finest home-made lures that anyone has ever crafted. It's what he does best. Behind his basement winter work, we as a family have fooled many a big fish across Wisconsin's summers and falls.

We began our quiet banter to the rhythm of the bouncing rods, as we so often do, remembering the decades slipped somehow into yesterday. One of four brothers and three sisters, Jim and I were the epitome of predator and prey, and proof that God worked evolution into his plan to protect all species...species like me. Jim was the toughest kid in the neighborhood. He was big and muscular. I, at two years behind him, came in scrawny and weak. This, I think, correlated with the strategic placement of my chair at the dinner table next to his.

Anyway, since Jim was not allowed to draw blood on his brothers or, for example, wreck permanent teeth, he adjusted by punching us in the arm or leg. This allowed the hitter to cover up any crime from Mom for two days until the bruise showed up while still inflicting the intended amount of pain. God though, as it was mentioned, compensated by giving me an uncanny ability to throw our father's size 11D wing-tips with tremendous accuracy for up to 20 feet. If I detected Jim stalking me, for example, I could hold him at bay just with the very real threat of unleashing the shoe and drawing my own blood.

It was during these early years that this neighborhood began to hunt and fish together. We didn't actually "get" much. But we did hone our skills. And we did come home from the cemetery woods or Fisher's Pond with the occasional rabbit, or pheasant, leopard frog or Gartner snakes. The Leet boys were something special and almost always had a bullfrog or 13-stripe ground squirrel, taken by flushing the hole and covering the exit with a burlap bag, held prisoner in their garage.

Jim started on the New Berlin West varsity football team as a sophomore as the center. When I got my equipment a year later at 105 pounds, the Coach asked, "You're an Ellis? What happened?" And I patiently explained about the chair placement and mealthing in my parent's kitchen. Jim was all-conference both ways in football, all-region, broke the discuss record that still stands today, went to state, started as center on two conference championship basketball teams, received a football scholarship to play for John Jardine's Badgers in the late 70s. I almost got in a game once after 14 injuries and Greenfield was beating us 42 to 0 at halftime.

Jim married Colleen at age 21, and our hunting and fishing continued. On the eve of an important event like the Wisconsin fishing opener or Wisconsin deer bow and arrow season, Jim would tell me that I had best be up and ready with equipment set when he pulled in our parent's driveway at, let's say 4:00 a.m. to pick me up. I clearly remember his fat hand rapping on my bedroom window in about 1980 gently waking me with something like, "Aren't you up you idiot?" Of course I wasn't up. The bars had just closed for heaven's sake, and although we rarely caught them, my friends and I were chasing girls until the last bell on a normal Friday night.

But things got worse when Jim was sitting at our parents table, the same place where he had robbed me of that food for years, pulling out the rat's nest on the ambassador reel he had loaned me the November before. "Oh...what a tangled web we weave..." I cheerfully offered through blood-shot eyes. Jim told me later if he didn't right then and there lay his head on the table laughing in hysterics that I was surely going to die right then and there in my parent's kitchen.

Jim changed lures, we drank a cup of coffee in Scar Bay, and the conversation turned to the infamous archery opener of 1982. It was a precious annual opener. We had not hunted with bow since the New Year's Eve season closure, and the early September morning found us working toward our treestands in the northern unit of Kettle Moraine state forest in the predawn black of a new Saturday morning. That's when my exposed broadhead just "ticked" the string of Jim's recurve, ending our coveted morning until we could find a hunting store open hours later with a new string for Jim's bow. Do you know if the moon is just right that you can watch your brother's face turn different shades of blue and red, even in the dark? And it didn't help one bit when I asked Jim if he saw how sharp I kept my broadheads.

So, that was our four hours on the water, before a bit of uneventful walleye fishing that night. Not one strike, which is very unusual. Four hours on the water with a Jim Ellis arsenal of home-made lures usually means at least one fish and maybe as many as three strikes. We rowed for home, the old stories settling over the skiff.

"You know, you might have aggravated me enough over the years," Jim finally said. "But I'll tell you what. I'm glad you're alive so I can row you around..."

Local athlete participates in Special Olympics

MADISON - More than 2,000 people gathered in Eau Claire Saturday, August 7th and Sunday, August 8th to compete, coach or volunteer at the 2010 Special Olympics Wisconsin State Outdoor Sports Tournament. Athletes blew the crowd away with outstanding performances in sports including softball, tee ball, bocce, golf and tennis.

Congratulations to Brian Hanrahan, 31, who took fifth place in the GF Golf-Level 2 Alternate Shot Team Play.

During the competition, athletes visited the Healthy Athlete tent where health professionals from around the state offer free dental and foot screenings, blood pressure and bone mineral density screenings along with nutritional advice as part of the "Health Promotions, Special Smiles and Fit Feet" programs. For the ninth year in a row this service kept athletes healthy and ready for any athletic showdown. Athletes were also given the chance to celebrate Saturday night at a baseball-themed ceremony!

Three cheers for Green Bay Packer AJ Hawk, the official spokesperson for Special Olympics Wisconsin. Thank you to Kwik Trip and the Law Enforcement Torch Run*, the Mission Partners of Special Olympics Wisconsin. Special Olympics Wisconsin holds five state tournaments and more than 75 competitions per year, providing year-round sports training and competition opportunities for nearly 10,000 individuals with cognitive disabilities. Early meet shows more work is needed

By Judy Harlow

After just three days of practice, the Kewaskum High girls golf team kicked off the 2010 season last Thursday, shooting a 454 total, good enough for 12th place in the 15-team Watertown Invitational.

"Our scores are not a good indication of where we'll be," Amy Piwoni, starting her fifth season as head coach of the Indians, said, noting the temperature was above 90 and the team had less than a week of practice.

Kate Winkler, one of four returning seniors, led the Indians with a score of 100. She was very consistent, carding 50s on both nines.

Heather Zuehlke finished with a 114, while Megan Gavin and Sienna Warnecke both carded 120s.

Piwoni said Kewaskum has been participating in this event in recent years because it serves as a good tuneup for the Wisconsin Little Ten schedule. The conference season opens on Monday at the Old Hickory Country Club, with the meet hosted by Beaver Dam.

Piwoni is optimistic about her team's chances of finishing in the top half of the WLT.

Kewaskum A's

Defense, clutch hits missing in loss to Lannon

The A's looked to stay unbeaten in night league action on Thursday night, but thanks to some untimely errors and failure to deliver any clutch hits, the A's fell to the Lannon Stone-men 8-2.

Matt Meisenheimer (single) and Ty Schill (walk) reached base to start the game, but failed to come around to score, wasting one of many scoring opportunities the A's would have on this night. Lannon did not have as difficult time as the A's as they put up a pair of runs in the first and third innings, thanks to a Kewaskum error in each inning.

The A's got one run back in the fourth as Austin Sarauer delivered a RBI single, cutting the lead to 4-1. This was as close as the game would get though as Lannon added two more runs in the sixth and eighth innings in handling the A's 8-2. Austin Sarauer led the A's at the plate going 2x5 (RBI) as the A's were only able to muster six hits on the night.

The loss put the A's at 5-1 in the Tri-County Night League, good enough for second place as the 10 game season begins to wind down.

A's down Rubicon as Michalkiewicz tosses 3-hit shutout

The A's downed the Rubicon Red Sox in a night league matchup on Tuesday night by a score of 2-0.

Rob Michalkiewicz tossed the complete game shutout yielding just three hits to go along with 10 strikeouts in his second appearance as an 'A'. Matt Meisenheimer got things started in the first as he led off with a double and advanced to third on a groundout. Dan Shea followed with a RBI single back up the middle giving the A's a quick 1-0 lead.

The A's were back at it again in the second as John Cetnar doubled to deep center and advanced to third on a single by Jace Unrein. Ty Schill followed with a RBI fielder's choice to put Kewaskum up 2-0. Luckily for the A's it was more than enough for Michalkiewicz as he kept the Rubicon hitters off balance all night and never really ran into any trouble on the mound.

Kewaskum was led offensively by Matt Meisenheimer 2x4 (2 2B's), James Goodfellow 2x4 (2B), John Cetnar 2x3 (2B) and Jace Unrein 2x3.

A's come up short against Appleton in NBC quarterfinal

The Saturday morning win over Reedsburg meant that the A's advanced to play Appleton Saturday night in a NBC quarterfinal game. Appleton drew first blood in this one with a solo home run in the 1st inning off Kewaskum starter Josh Stoffel.

Appleton was at it again in the third inning as back-to-back singles put two runners on with no one out. With the A's anticipating a bunt, the Appleton number two hitter crushed a 1-0 pitched to center for a three run homer putting Appleton up 4-0.

The A's climbed back though as Kurt Zagzebski got the A's on the board in the bottom of the 4th as he blasted an opposite field home run to cut the lead to 4-1. Jim Ziegler led off the top of the fifth with a double to right and came around to score on another Shane O'Hagan home run as the lead was cut to 4-3.

Appleton answered with a solo homer to start the top of the sixth stretching their lead to 5-3, but the A's fought back again in the bottom of the inning.

With two outs, Ty Schill dropped in a single to right and followed that with a steal of second base. Jim Ziegler followed with a dribbler down the line to third and when the throw to first sailed down the right field line, Schill came all the way around to score.

James Goodfellow followed with a walk to put runners on first and second with two outs, but a strikeout ended the Kewaskum threat.

After retiring Appleton in order in the top of the seventh, the A's looked to put together one last rally. The first two Kewaskum batters went down in order, but Dan Shea kept the inning alive with an infield single. Jason Strobel followed with a walk to put two runners on again. However, even after a passed ball moved the tying run to third, the A's were unable to get the clutch hit as the final batter struck out to end the game.

Appleton advanced to the NBC final four to face the Clyman Cannons, while the A's look to put together a final run here to make the Rock River playoffs.

The A's were led by Shane O'Hagan 2x4 (HR, 2 RBI's), Kurt Zagzebski 2x4 (HR, RBI), Ty Schill 2x3 (SB) and Jim Ziegler 2x3 (2B). Josh Stoffel took the loss on the mound as he pitched very well against a solid Appleton team.

The loss puts the A's at 17-16 on the year.

A's take out Reedsburg in NBC first round

On Saturday the A's headed to Sauk City to take part in the NBC State tournament. The A's drew Reedsburg in the first round and wasted little time getting on the board.

James Goodfellow started the game off with a single and Shane O'Hagan followed with a two-run homer to quickly put the A's up 2-0. Aaron Braund followed with a triple and eventually came around to score on a groundout by Kurt Zagzebski pushing the lead to 3-0 after one inning.

The A's were at it again in the second as three consecutive walks to John Cetnar, Ty Schill, and Goodfellow loaded the bases for O'Hagan with no one out. O'Hagan delivered with a 2 RBI single putting the A's up 5-0. Zagzebski followed with a RBI single and Dan Shea and Jason

Gridiron football camp held

Over 100 Gridiron players and 60 KHS helpers spent three evenings learning fundamental drills and techniques by position. The camp was taught by the KHS Football Coaches with assistance and modeling by KHS Football Players. The program also included a 7-on 7 and a Punt, Pass, Kick Contest. Above, the fifth through twelfth grade students warm up prior to the camp.

Stobel each followed that with RBI walks. Cetnar delivered the final blow in the inning a RBI single putting the A's up 10-0.

It was more than enough for the A's as they won by a score of 15-0 in five innings.

The A's were led by Shane O'Hagan 2x3 (HR, 4 RBI's), Aaron Braund 2x3 (2B, 3B, 3 RBI's), Kurt Zagzebski 2x4 (2B, 3 RBI's) and Jason Strobel 2x4 (RBI). Jim Ziegler picked up the win tossing 4 innings and giving up one hit, while John Cetnar pitched a perfect fifth and final inning.

Athletics bounce back with night league win over Monches

The Kewaskum A's picked up a night league win on Tuesday night downing Monches 4-2. Jake Lathers had another solid outing and the A's had just enough timely hits to escape with the win.

Monches struck first pushing across a single run in the second, as two errors haunted the A's in the inning. Kewaskum finally got something going in the fourth though, as James Goodfellow ripped a one out single to give the A's their first baserunner of the game.

After a fly out for the second out of the inning, Austin Sarauer walked to put two runners on for Adam Martz. Martz followed with a RBI double tying the game at 1-1.

The A's put up another single run in the fifth, as James Goodfellow ripped a two-out RBI double to center giving Kewaskum their first lead of the game at 2-1. The score remained here into the eighth, until Monches took advantage of two walks and a passed ball to tie the game at 2-2. The tables turned in the bottom of the eighth though, as three Monches errors plated two Kewaskum runs giving the A's a 4-2 lead. Lathers retired Monches in order in the ninth, and picked up the complete game win. He gave up only three hits, to go along with two unearned runs and nine strikeouts.

James Goodfellow led the A's offensively going 2x4 (2B, RBI).

A's fall to unbeaten Rubicon in 11 innings

The Kewaskum A's dropped another close Rock River game Sunday to first place Rubicon by a score of 3-1 in 11 innings.

The loss puts the A's at 6-6 in the Rock standings and with only four league games remaining the A's need to start racking up some wins if they want to make the playoffs. Kewaskum did manage to score first in this game as Dan Shea scored the only A's run in the second thanks to a throwing error on a routine play with two outs by Rubicon. It didn't take long for Kewaskum to return the favor though, as a throwing error with two outs on another routine play also plated the first Rubicon run in the fifth.

Neither team was really able to put together any other scoring opportunities until the tenth when Rubicon put two runners on with just one out. A's starting pitcher, Jim Ziegler, was able to get a groundball double-play to Ty Schill to end the Rubicon threat though. Rubicon wasted little time putting together another rally in the 11th as they put runners on second and third with just one out. Ziegler was able to get a strikeout for the second out of the inning, but a base hit up the middle plated two runs making it 3-1 Rubicon.

Kewaskum put together their best rally all game in the bottom of the 11th as Austin Sarauer and Kurt Zagzebski both walked to lead off the inning. A strikeout resulted in the first out of the inning, bringing up Dan Shea, who proceeded to rip a ball to the gap in right. The Rubicon rightfielder made a great diving catch on the ball for the second out of the inning and fired to second to double up the runner and end the ballgame.

It was another disappointing league loss for the A's who have now lost six Rock River games by only eight runs. The A's fall to 18-17 on the year as they continue to struggle to find any consistency this season.

Kewaskum gets back on track with win over Horicon

The Kewaskum A's picked up a Rock River league win Wednesday night over Horicon by a score of 16-1.

After sputtering through three scoreless innings, the A's finally tacked on a single run in the 4th on an Adam Martz RBI double.

The A's added another single run in the fifth, this time on a Ty Schill RBI double. The A's finally began to pull away in the sixth when Kurt Zagzebski and Martz led the inning off with singles. Adam Sarauer followed with a two RBI double and Jim Ziegler came through with a RBI double after that putting the score at 5-0.

With the score at 6-0 in the 8th, Rob Michalkiewicz belted a two run homer to right, his first of the year. Jason Strobel followed three batters later with his own two run homer as the A's began to pile it on late. The A's would go on to put up five runs in the eighth and ninth innings in pulling away for the 16-1 victory.

Rob Mickalkaewicz 4x5 (HR, 2 RBI's), Adam Martz 4x6 (2B, 2 RBI's), Jason Strobel 3x6 (HR, 2 2B's, 3 RBI's), Kurt Zagzebski 3x6 (2 RBI's) and Adam Sarauer 3x6 (2 2B's, 5 RBI's) paced the A's hit parade.

For the game, the A's finished with 22 hits and 10 extra base hits. Jim Ziegler picked up the win tossing five scoreless innings, while Mickalkaewicz tossed the final four innings giving up one unearned run.

Kewaskum Gold finishes a great year

On Monday, July 26th, the West Division Champion Kewaskum Gold Little League (8-1) traveled to Cascade East to take on the undefeated East Champion Newburg Red team (9-0). The game, as expected, featured excellent pitching and defense.

Leading off for Gold at pitching was Mike Prochnow and through three innings of work, backed by a tough in-field consisting of Sean Murray at first, Zach Heberer at second, Sam Schlosser at shortstop, Cayden Dwyer at third, and Alex Phillips at catcher, this group combined to hold Newburg Red to one run on zero hits and one walk.

Flag football registration

The Kewaskum Athletic Association (KAA) will again offer flag football for youth in K5 through fourth grade. Two registration dates are set for the end of the month.

Games will take place on Sundays from 4:30 to 6 p.m. September 12 through October 31.

Registration will take place in the Kewaskum Elementary School cafeteria on Saturday, August 28 from 10 a.m. until noon and Tuesday, August 31 from 4 until 6 p.m. The registration fee is $20 for each participant. Those wishing to take part in the program but unable to attend either registration can contact program coordinator Chad Cook at the number below.

Registration forms can be downloaded from www.kewaskumathletics.com or they will be available at registration.

The KAA is seeking volunteers to coach. Those interested should inquire at registration or contact Cook at (262) 339-5209.

In similar fashion, Kewaskum Gold had their hands full at the plate facing a very hard throwing Red pitcher. However, with hits by Phillips, Murray, Dwyer, and Schlosser, combined with excellent base running, the Gold team found themselves leading 2-1 after four innings.

Newburg Red scored the last three runs in the fifth and sixth innings. Kewaskum Gold's excellent season then came to an end. Newburg Red, a team that averaged nearly 20 runs/game for the season, still only managed three hits to Kewaskum's seven. It was this type of tough pitching and defense that defined Gold throughout the year.

"Gold fielded just five of 15 players who will be old enough to move up next year to Pony League, which means much of the success of the team was due to major contributions by younger players who worked very hard all summer to learn and improve skills and hopefully fall in love with the great game of baseball," stated coach Jim Murray.
