Drilled in disaster

Kohlsville Firefighters remove Kensell Bocher from Wayne Elementary School during a mock disaster held Tuesday afternoon. Also shown is WES teacher Mrs. Mudlinger-Hemauer

By Andrew Kuehl
andrew@kewaskumstatesman

TOWN of WAYNE - Students and staff at Wayne Elementary School took part in a mock disaster Tuesday afternoon. The situation was a fire in the building that started in the boiler room.

The scene was different from your typical fire drill because the district created a fire right down to filling the building with smoke as a custodian rang fire alarms and called 9-1-1. Custodian Steve Liegl reported it took just 45 seconds to remove everyone from the small school.

Students left the building through three exits and lined up outside by row according to their classroom. The building's teacher-in-charge then took over the scene checking and then double checking for each student and staff member who was in the building that day.

They quickly discovered a staff member and student were absent and that information was relayed to emergency personnel who arrived on scene. Firefighters quickly found the teacher and student and removed them from the building to waiting EMS personnel.

After each student and staff member were accounted for, they proceeded to walk to Salem United Church of Christ just a block away where they waited in the church hall. District administrative staff then came on scene and assisted parents as they picked up their children.

In this situation, just like other disaster drills parents would be called to the scene and then be checked in by district staff while other district staff got the children and then took them to their parent. Principal Janet Molebash stated that in a real disaster, children might be transported by bus to another district school to finish the day but that was unlikely.

Molebash stated she was pleased overall with way the drill unfolded. She stated because Wayne is a smaller school, things are a little different from Farmington where she also serves as principal and spends most of her day.

The two schools have teachers-in-charge who serve as the head building administrator in Molebash's absence. At Farmington, that teacher does not have a class to oversee where at Wayne, she does. At Wayne, the teacher in charge must hand her classroom off to another staff member before she can assume her teacher-in-charge duties. Molebash stated things went smoothly in Wayne's situation.

This is the third disaster drill orchestrated by the school district and emergency personnel. The cost of the drills which is just manpower and equipment use are absorbed by the agencies who take part in the drill.

The next disaster drill will take place at Kewaskum Middle School this April and will center around a tornado taking place at the school.

UW Health Research Project visits far Southern Fond du Lac County in October

The Survey of the Health of Wisconsin (SHOW), is the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health's new statewide research project. Every year, SHOW meets with Wisconsin residents from all over the state to measure their health. During the last few days of September and most of October the survey team will be visiting households in the towns of Ashford and Auburn in Fond du Lac County.

SHOW surveyors will knock on the doors of 28 randomly selected households to complete a multi-step in-person health survey. SHOW combines personal interviews, laboratory tests, physical measurements, and community environmental measurements to gather important information on our health. The information that SHOW compiles will be made available to researchers who are interested in Wisconsin's public health issues.

In order for SHOW's health measurements to be truly representative of Wisconsin's population, the survey randomly selects households from throughout the state. Roughly 1,200 households from neighborhoods around Wisconsin are invited to participate each year.

"SHOW aims to present a picture of the health of people in Wisconsin," said Dr. F. Javier Nieto of the University of Wisconsin's School of Medicine and Public Health and Director of SHOW. "Our vision is that the information SHOW collects through the years will play an important role in monitoring the health of Wisconsin people, and in guiding community and statewide health services."

The participants who choose to take part from the households selected in Fond du Lac County will be interviewed in their homes, and later have some brief physical measurements taken at SHOW's specially designed Mobile Survey Center, which travels the state to easily reach participants. All the individual information collected by SHOW will be kept confidential.

"SHOW will provide us with current health and prospective clinical information never before available in Wisconsin," said Dr. Henry Anderson, Chief Medical Officer for the state Bureau of Environmental and Occupational Health in the Division of Public Health. "The results of this survey and clinical examinations will measure the current health status of all Wisconsin residents. This survey will make us better equipped to develop initiatives that will help make Wisconsin healthier than ever."

The SHOW research project is modeled after the CDC's National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey (NHANES), which has provided key health information about the nation's health for over 40 years. With the launch of SHOW, Wisconsin will be the first state to monitor the health of its residents with a survey of this magnitude. Using NHANES as a guide, SHOW is specially designed for the Wisconsin population by including regionally important health measures, such as local environment assessments and Great Lakes fish consumption.

SHOW is funded by the National Institutes of Health's Heart, Lung and Blood Institute and by the University of Wisconsin's Partnership for a Healthy Future, which represents a far-reaching commitment by UW School of Medicine and Public Health to greatly improve the health of people in Wisconsin for years to come.

New recycling laws in effect

Wisconsin's electronics recycling law was signed in October 2009 as Act 50. The law establishes a statewide program, now called the E-Cycle Wisconsin program, to collect and recycle certain electronic devices. The law also bans certain electronics from Wisconsin landfills and incinerators after September 1, 2010.

Cedar Home Health Awarded Clean Bill of Health

The Cedar Home Health team has earned a rare perfect score from the State of Wisconsin's Division of Quality Assurance in a recent site survey, which reviews policies, procedures and patient-care practices. The state surveyor confirmed this week that after spending a week with Cedar Home Health's team of nurses, therapists and office personnel, the team's level of patient care and outcomes, infection control and documentation was flawless with no citations.

"We are especially proud of the fact this is Cedar Home Health's second consecutive cite-free survey, and this shows our continued commitment to the highest level of patient care," said Carrie Schepp, Cedar Community director of home-based community services. "I would like to extend a warm thank you to our patients who graciously agreed and welcomed the surveyor into their homes to observe their care."

In addition to a perfect survey, Medicare Home Health Compare data shows Cedar Home Health has achieved the lowest re-hospitalization rate of any agency serving Washington County. The agency also shows the highest level of improvement for helping patients take their medications correctly. Data can be viewed online at www.medicare.gov/hhcompare/home.asp.

A division of Cedar Community, Cedar Home Health serves patients 18 and older in their homes and assisted living for short-term nursing, social services and physical, occupational and/or speech therapy in Washington, Ozaukee, Fond du Lac, Dodge, Waukesha and Sheboygan counties. For more information, visit www.CedarAtHome.org or call 262.306.2691.

Symphony kicks off 43rd year

The Kettle Moraine Symphony (KMS) of West Bend has a lot to be excited about in its 2010-2011 season. Now in its 43rd year, conductor Paul Thorgaard (see attached picture) is officially taking its reigns as music director - the symphony's second ever. Mary Beth Winkowski (also in an attached picture), long-time board member of the KMS, is beginning her first year as President of the Board. Mary Beth works for St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend as a Communications Specialist.

The symphony's season is set to open on October 17th with new ideas and partnerships in the works. The first performance by the 70-piece orchestra is entitled "Romeo & Juliet," and will feature both Prokofiev's master work by the same name as well as music from Leonard Bernstein's West Side Story (a modern take on Romeo & Juliet). To help bring the classic Shakespearean story to life, young actors from West Bend High School will be reading selections from the play in-between movements of the Prokofiev. Under the direction of Patty McIntyre, who teaches English at West Bend High School, the students will be presenting a story that not only follows a musical performance by a semi-professional orchestra, but also their school curriculum.

The complete list of works to be performed on October 17th includes:

Shostakovich's Festival Overture
Grieg's Sigurd the Crusader
Bizet's Carmen Suite No. 1
Prokofiev's Romeo & Juliet
Bernstein's West Side Story

Ticket prices for this concert are $15 for adults, and $12 for students (with ID) and seniors (65+). Tickets will be available at the door. KMS season tickets are still available, and will be up through the start of this event. The Romeo & Juliet concert will be held at Our Savior's Lutheran Church in West Bend, at 1044 Silverbrook Dr. For more information, call 262.334.3469 or visit kmsymphony.org.

Now in its 43rd year, the Kettle Moraine Symphony is a regional orchestra whose approximately 70 playing members and its Board of Directors come from 27 different communities in the Kettle Moraine area.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

We at the Internal Revenue Service are concerned because more than 6100 small community-based nonprofits in Wisconsin are in jeopardy of losing their tax-exempt status. The loss of this status could greatly impact the organizations' charitable work and their donors' potential tax deductions.

Among the organizations that could lose their tax-exempt status are local sports associations and community support groups, volunteer fire and ambulance associations and their auxiliaries, social clubs, educational societies, veterans groups, church-affiliated groups, groups designed to assist those with special needs and a variety of others.

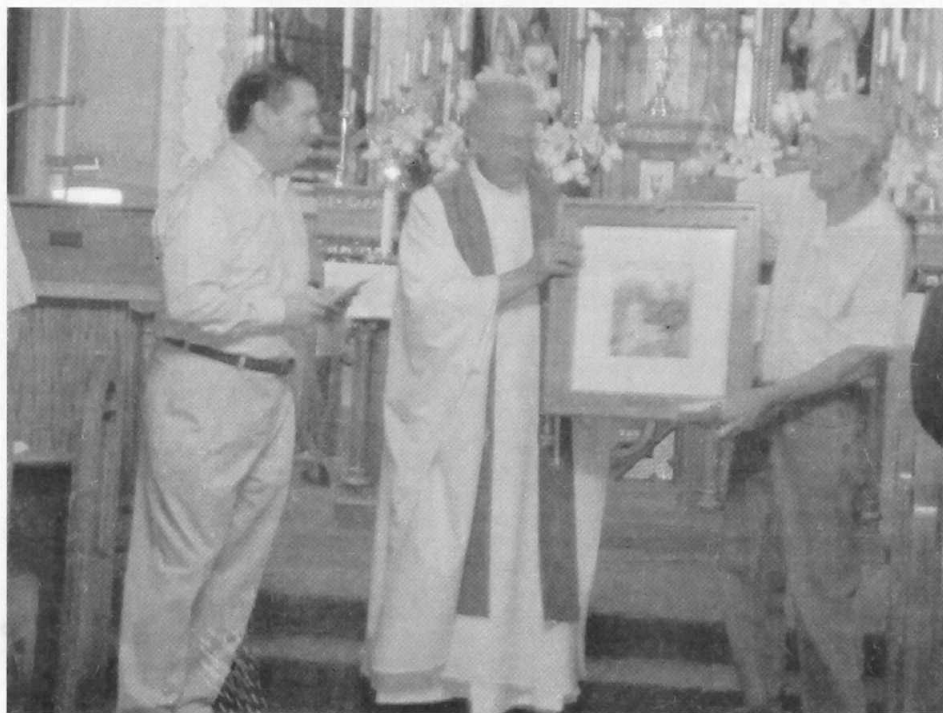

The organizations that are at risk failed to file the required returns for 2007, 2008 and 2009, according to IRS records. The requirement to file is the result of a tax law change that occurred in 2006. For many of these small organizations, complying with the new law may be as simple as completing a 10-minute form online. They can preserve their exempt status under a one-time relief program the IRS announced in July, but only if they file by Oct. 15, 2010.

The IRS has made numerous attempts to alert these organizations, but we are concerned that many may not have gotten the word. A list of the organizations that were at-risk as of the end of June is posted at IRS.gov along with instructions on how to comply with the new law.

We encourage everyone who is connected with a small nonprofit community group to make sure that their organization is aware of the law change and is in compliance before the October 15 deadline.

Christopher Miller
IRS Spokesperson

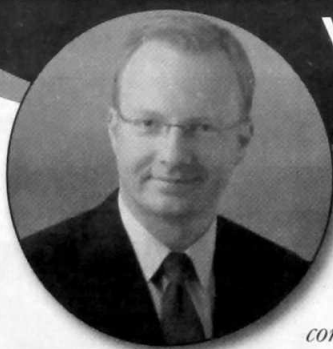

St. Matthias receives painting

A presentation of a lovely water color picture of the St. Matthias chapel was presented to Fr. Jerry Rinzel on September 5 after the last mass for the summer. Dennis Zefran and Kevin Anhalt did the presentation. The water color was done by Elaine Prost and the beautiful frame was made from the same wood and design as the chapel doors by Mike Nigh a local craftsman.

Dettmann family reunion

The Norbert and Louella Dettmann family hosted a three day family reunion during the weekend of August 6-8. Eighty-three were present from 13 states and Canada. The event is a priority for many family members to attend as they have a chance to be reacquainted with their family's roots and distant cousins.

Norbert's grandparents settled in the Farmington area in 1849 and 1856. They came from three different German provinces, Pomerania, Saxony and Upper Silesia.

The event included a Friday evening social at a local hotel. Saturday's events included a tailgate party and baseball game, a custard run, an heirloom distribution including the original wooden chest that crossed the Atlantic from Pomerania in 1856. A Saturday night dinner and dance was held at Heidel's in Jackson.

The Sunday program at New Horizon UCC was a time of reflection and celebration as many of the younger generation shared their musical talents and spoke about the rich family heritage, customs and family love. A light lunch was followed by a traditional walk through the Boltonville Union Cemetery where Norbert told of his memories of the many uncles and aunts buried there. This wonderful event has been held every two years since 1946.

Halloween Nature Hikes

Come meet the boastful wild turkey, the oh, so vain great egret, the laid-backed turkey vulture and other squawking, singing and tweeting birds at this year's Halloween Nature Hikes at the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit. The eccentric Professor Loony wants to greet you as you begin your extraordinary evening adventure on Friday, October 15, or Saturday, October 16, from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

The hikes will take place at the Long Lake Recreation Area located off of Division Road just north of Hwy F about one mile east of Dundee. Guided groups will leave every six minutes with the last hike leaving at 8:30 p.m. Each hike will last about one hour. The hikes are most appropriate for those over the age of five years.

Bring the whole family for this fun-filled, not scary evening of adventure. As you stroll through the dark autumn woods, you will meet a menagerie of fine-feathered characters that are just waiting to tell you their tales. Through your nighttime journey, you will learn a little about each bird's natural history and the important role it plays in nature.

There will also be exciting games and clever crafts for the kids to do before or after their hikes. The Friends of the Kettle Moraine will provide free hot and cold apple cider, and popcorn for all the hikers to enjoy by a roaring campfire.

Wisconsin State Park System vehicle admission stickers are required for this event. A Wisconsin resident daily sticker is $7.00 per car or an annual sticker is $25.00. If you already have your Wisconsin State Park System sticker, the event is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

Please join in for an awesome evening of fun educational entertainment for all ages! For more information, contact the forest staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The center's phone number is (920) 533-8322. The center is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 am to 5:00 p.m.

IN MEMORY

In memory of CAROL WESENBERG, who passed away one year ago, October 2, 2009.

God looked around his garden
And He found an empty place.
And then He looked down
upon the earth,
And saw your tired face.
He put His arms around you,
And lifted you to rest.
God's garden must be beautiful,
He always takes the best.
He knew that you were suffering,
He knew that you were in pain,
He knew that you would never
Get well on earth again.
He saw the road was getting rough,
And the hills were hard to climb,
So He closed your weary eyelids,
And whispered "Peace be thine."

It broke our hearts to lose you
But you didn't go alone,
For part of us went with you,
The day God called you home.

25 Years Ago

July 26, 1985

The Rev. Darrell R. Joiner has resigned and will conclude nine years of ministry as Pastor of Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum on September 8. During his tenure, Peace Church has experienced significant growth and development in its membership, programming and building improvements. Most notably were the completion of the church balcony to provide extra seating, the new padded pews, energy saving projects and the newly decorated fellowship hall.

The Kewaskum School District's new administrator, Penny Kleinhans, made a good pitch for education and the 1985-86 proposed budget during Monday night's Annual Meeting, but all the statistics, charts and graphs couldn't convince the voters to approve the budget of $6,647,637. On a better than 3-1 vote, electors soundly defeated a motion to approve the budget with 151 votes against the motion and 46 votes for it. The proposed budget, which carries a 13.85% increase over last year, drew nothing but criticism and demands for more cuts. What almost every person who got up to speak indicated they they were for quality education, they demanded to know where and how the School Board expected residents to come up with the money to meet increased taxes.

The American Legion Robert G. Romaine Post No. 384 of Kewaskum's new post officers are as follows: Commander - Pat McFadden; 1st Vice - Mike Chesak; 2nd Vice - Stan Dirks; Chaplain - Clayton Stautz; Adutant - Merv Thompson; Finance Officer - Dennis Sharpe; Americanism - Gene LaMarche; Children and Youth - Fred Kleinke; Service Officer - Bill Kulas; Sergeant-at-Arms - Harold Boettcher and James Korth; Judge Advocate - Roger McKenna; Publicity - Merv Thompson.

The Kewaskum High School Class of 1929 celebrated their 56th class reunion at the home of Harold and Margaret Mehring at Long Lake on June 27. Classmates who attended included Ralph Kohn, Margaret (Miller) Mehring, Renetta (Becker) Schwind, Mary (O'Connell) Wals, Bill Hopkins, Henry Rosenheimer, Helen (Harbeck) Felix, Jack Schlosser. Missing were Esther (Bruesewitz) Bradley and Ernest Weitzer. Only one member, Johanna (Schellhaass) Koepke is deceased.

The Kewaskum High School class of 1930 celebrated their 55th anniversary at the Glacier Inn on June 30. Attending were Agnes (Meilahn) Schaefer, Frances (Zeimet) Schneider, Carol Backhaus, Frank Koepke, Roland "Casey" Heberer, Ruth (Rosenheimer) Wierdsma, Marcella (Casper) Schaefer. Those not able to attend because of personal or health reasons were Pearl (Schaeffer) Reed, Andrew O'Connell, and Bruno Ramthun. Lyle Bartelt, Carl Meilahn, John Louis Schaefer, Marcella (Corbett) Plazak and Edith (Clark) Landmann.

Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class Michael J. Paul, son of Jim and Kathleen Paul of Kewaskum, has been promoted to his present rank while serving aboard the repair ship, USS Vulcan, homeported in Norfolk, VA.

Behind the four-hit pitching of Tim Rohlinger and three clutch double plays on defense, Kewaskum defeated visiting Campbellsport, 7-1, here Monday for the Regional title and a berth in Thursdays Sectional semi-final baseball game.

THIEMERDOME HIGHLIGHTS: There was an unusually sparse crowd at the dome last week. The FdL County Sheriff's Dept. crowd control experts were there in full force as well as an extra shift of parking attendants and there was nothing for them to do. The first game saw Crass Salvage squeak past Thornton and Schaub, 7-5. It appears that Crass Salvage is going through their June Swoon a month late this year. In the second game Kennelly stopped Bartelt Insurance's one game winning streak by a 9-6 score. For the fans following the season long saga of Hammering Mike Pfeiffer. YES he is still hitless for the season. His intensity level has been at a fever pitch this week and he is now reading the Power of Positive Hitting by Bob Ueker and doing Yoga in order to concentrate on that white sphere that has been eluding his bat all summer. He has had the engineers at Regal Ware working overtime on their slide rules measuring the various angles that the softball will drop and entering all the data into the computer and then working on various swing planes with his bat. At home, on a more practical side, he has his wife Josie drop softballs down the clothes chute and Mike swings on them as they drop out of the chute and he smites them into a net. The line from the bookmakers from Vegas is that the odds of Mike going hitless for the season are up to 25 to 1. As an added incentive, J&N Liquor of Kewaskum has offered free champagne at the dome on the night when and IF Mike gets that historic hit. Also, ESPN has offered to videotape this event and show it on Sports Center later in the month. It doesn't promise to be as large an extravaganza as Hank Aaron's 714th homerun, however it will be the event of the year for the Thiemerdome. Attendance: 47. (That figure does not include the extra 68 additional parking attendants brought in for the game).

A son, Joshua John, was born to Tom and Debbie Timblin, Kewaskum, on July 22. Joshua has a brother Shaun and a sister, Courtney. A son, Ryan Robert, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gloede, Campbellsport, July 2. Sons were also born to David and Kathleen Steltz, Allenton, on July 12, and to Michael and Karen Wulff, Allenton, on July 13.

50 Years Ago

Severe electrical, wind and rain storms hit the surrounding area late Friday and Monday afternoons causing considerable damage but Kewaskum escaped the brunt of the storms with little if any damage reported. Hit hardest in the storms were the areas of Theresa, Lomira, Campbellsport, West Bend, and Barton. In Friday afternoon's storms the Theresa and Lomira area was hit very hard. Farm crops in the territory suffered heavy loss with many corn fields stripped of their foliage by the battering from torrential rains, 60-mile-an-hour winds and hail. Theresa was literally covered with trees, trunks and branches. Windows were shattered by the force of the wind, electricity was cut off and phone service disrupted. Small fires broke out all over Theresa as the wires came down and more than 100 trees littered the highway between Mayville and Theresa. Monday afternoon's heavy rain and thunderstorm was most severe in the Campbellsport area, where the elements went on a rampage. The electrical storm struck farm and village buildings causing fires and also killing several head of cattle. A bolt of lightning struck a tree on the Robert Schnitzler farm three miles south of Campbellsport then bounced from there to the granary. The blaze leveled the granary building which included a tool shed and its contents. While the Campbellsport firemen were at the Schnitzler farm, lightning hit the John Meyer home in that village. After the bolt struck, youngsters investigating discovered that a blaze had started in the attic. It was extinguished by Mrs. Meyer and the boys. Thunderstorms again hit the Kewaskum area early Tuesday evening and late Wednesday, which made a total of four storms in six days.

Ours Coin-Operated Self-Service Laundry, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ours on Highway 28 near the bridge on Main Street now is open for business. The laundry, which is unattended, is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week. A new addition was built on the east side of the Ours Dry Cleaners building to house the laundry which has 10 Easy Spin washers and four Huebsch dryers.

Francis J. Kougl, aviation machinist's mate second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Kougl of Route 1, Kewaskum, is serving with Heavy Attack Squadron Eight at the Whidbey Island Naval Air Station, Oak Harbor, Washington.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Guldan, Route 3, West Bend, on July 21. Mr. Guldan is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Guldan of Kewaskum. A daughter was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Alois Beisbier, St. Kilian. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hall, West Bend, on July 24. Mrs. Hall is the former Connie Rossow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Rossow, Kewaskum. A son was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Backus Jr., Kewaskum, on July 24.

On August 26, 2010, Newburg Sportsmen's Club completed another successful DNR approved hunter education course with over 36 graduates. Included in the graduates was their youngest ever, Samantha Donath, who was the first 8-year-old to take the class. Donath not only passed with flying colors, she had a lot of fun doing it and is thankful for the hard work and dedication of all the instructors.

Indians happy to extend their golf season

By Judy Harlow

Even with Heather Zuehlke on the sidelines, Kewaskum will be represented in the Green Bay Division 2 golf sectional, and not by just one or two players, but by the entire team.

The Indians finished tied for third place at the regional hosted by Thomas More on Sept. 29, coming in with a 432 total.

Zuehlke, who along with senior Kate Winkler qualified for the 2009 sectional as an individual, is out with a broken finger, but the rest of the K-town ladies shot well enough at the Whitnall Golf Course to advance.

Winkler and Sienna Warnecke were very consistent in carding 101s. Winkler started out with a 50 and came back with a 51, while Warnecke's 9-hole scores were 49 and 52.

Rounding out the Indians' scoring were April Basterash and Megan Gavin, who finished with 114 and 116, respectively.

"It hurts not having Heather," coach Amy Piwoni said. "She had been shooting under 110."

The Prairie School won the title with a scored of 364, while Denmark was second at 369. The Indians and Racine St. Catherine's both had identical team totals.

"I thought we had a pretty good chance (at regionals)," Piwoni said but admitted the girls will have to play real well at Thornberry Creek in Green Bay because, "We've got a tough sectional." It includes Green Bay Notre Dame, which has finished second to powerhouse Madison Edgewood in a couple tournaments this year.

The top two teams and top three individuals from the non-qualifying teams advance to the WIAA State Golf Meet on Oct. 11-12.

Piwoni said Winkler went up to play Thornberry Creek over the weekend to play a practice round to familiarize herself with the course.

Piwoni also announced the Indians officially finished third in the Wisconsin Little Ten standings, after league officials threw out the results from the WLT Conference Tournament held at Kettle Hills.

There was a ruling problem, which took two weeks to resolve, and eventually the commissioner felt it was best just to throw those scores out.

The controversy surrounded the absence of lines and stakes marking the hazards, according to Piwoni, who said one team interpreted the lateral hazards one way while the other teams followed a different rule.

After the decision, Hartford nipped Watertown for the title by one point, and then came the Indians in third place.

Winkler earned a spot on the all-WLT first team, Warnecke was on the second team, and Zuehlke had played enough to be given honorable mention.

"It's incredibly important to have St. Joseph's emergency care nearby."

— Bonny Ruelle

Jack and Bonny Ruelle of Jackson are lifelong residents of Washington County and both of their children were born at the New Life Center of St. Joseph's Hospital. When nine-year-old Max complained of mild but persistent abdominal pain last September, Jack and Bonny decided that as a precaution, a visit to the Emergency Care Center at St. Joseph's Hospital was in order.

"We walked in about midnight," Jack explains. "Max wasn't in severe pain, but he clearly wasn't himself. He kept saying, 'I'm fine, I'm fine.'" When the initial examination and X-ray didn't immediately identify the cause of Max's discomfort, a more detailed diagnostic exam was performed using the hospital's 64-slice CT scanner. The scan revealed a perforated appendix, a condition normally accompanied by extraordinary levels of pain.

"I remember the doctor saying to me, 'You've got one very tough kid,'" Jack says. "Max had emergency surgery shortly thereafter, and today he's doing great."

The Ruelles are grateful for the high-quality care their son received at St. Joseph's Hospital. As Bonny explains, "It's incredibly important to have St. Joseph's emergency care nearby. The affiliation with Froedtert has just made it that much better. You always know that you're getting the best care possible."

A Forager's Paradise... Interpretive trail focuses on edible wild plants

From Dan Price's perspective, which happens to look down over a great Wisconsin fishing lake and quite possibly the only wild food interpretive trail in the United States, catching fish and picking berries are not that different. Different stage, yes, and different crop... but the forager is using his skill to find and cultivate food. Since the 181 acre Hultman Lake in Price County already draws the anglers and visitors to his Holiday Hills Camping property near Ogema, Price was looking for a unique attraction to invite the naturalist; that other forager, to visit too.

Dan's idea has blossomed into the Standish Price Nature Trail, a unique educational resource designed for those interested in edible wild plants and more general plant identification, ecology, and field botany. Inspiration for the trail was no doubt sparked by his son-in-law, Samuel Thayer, an edible wild food expert specializing in plants. Thayer's hot selling book "The Forager's Harvest" has won several awards and the follow-up, "Nature's Garden" also includes the accurate and descriptive copy with corresponding photography that enables the reader to easily learn on his own. With Thayer writing and Price publishing the Standish Price Wild Food Interpretive Trail Guidebook, the trail hiker-student learns on his own in northern Wisconsin too.

"With 118 stops featuring 110 species, this is one of the largest interpretive trails in the United States, in terms of the number of species covered and the amount of interpretive text accompanying the trail," Price said during an interview at Holiday Hills Camping last week. "It is also, as far as we know, the only such trail that focuses on edible wild plants in the United States, featuring 71 species."

Price said that Thayer, who is sometimes referred to as the "21st century EueLL Gibbons" and married his daughter Melissa three years ago, began taking an inventory on the property one year ago of everything edible that was growing wild. With the survey and photography completed, he wrote the guidebook for the anticipated visitors over the course of the winter.

The trail length is less than one-half mile and follows an old undeveloped horse path up and down small hills and across a short drainage area that is wet at times. Price decades ago was a Farrier, a shoer of horses and also logged the northwoods with horses. Do not expect, he said, a gravel path on the trail with bridges and culverts.

"It is a walk in the woods you might say," Price said. "What trail visitors can expect to experience essentially is a course with no instructor for students of edible wild plants and field botany in general. As you walk along the trail, you will see numbered markers that correspond with entries in the guidebook. At each stop the user can read the appropriate entry to learn about the natural history and edibility of the plant indicated. The Standish Price trail is a walking classroom. Rather than cater to casual hikers, this trail is for those engaged in active learning about wild plants."

"This set-up provides some enormous advantages to the user," he said. "First because it eliminates the presence of an instructor, it's cost effective ($5.00 daily or $25.00 seasonal pass). A traditional weekend botany field course costs hundreds of dollars. Second, it's convenient; the student comes whenever he or she wishes. And third, because there is no instructor, it forces the participant to learn rather than listen."

Price said that the Standish Price Interpretive Trail is designed to make the user slow down and learn at a realistic pace, as well as to facilitate the observation and interaction that promote effective learning. The user decides when to learn, what to learn, and at what pace. Being longer than most interpretive trails, Price said expect to invest many hours to complete the Standish Price Interpretive Trail. There is no need to walk the trail in one day.

"The trail is not intended to be used only once nor is it intended to be used by itself," said Price. "Users of the trail should own several field guides and plant references. Perhaps you'd want to carry "Michigan Trees" with you on one visit and "Newcomb's Wildflower Guide" on another. After learning new plants on the S.P. Trail, you'll want to commit your identification of each species to memory by finding and recognizing the plant on your own. You can do this on the S.P. trail, as many of the plants occur repeatedly along it. But you won't want to miss some of the other spectacular hikes available in the area, (Tim's Hill, Wisconsin's highest point, is in the area) and look for plants that you have just learned. Compare them with the field guides to make sure that you have correctly identified them."

"As you look at each marker, you may need to read the description in the guidebook to determine which of the plants in the vicinity of the stake is its subject," Price said. "While the trail focuses on edible plants, it also covers many non-edible plants. It is designed with the philosophy that, in order to learn edible plants, you must learn plants in general (However, all collecting of plants is forbidden along the trail)."

After a few years and a dozen visits to the trail, Price said, the user will have learned a vast amount about botany, ecology and edible wild plants. The Standish Price Interpretive Trail is open May 1 through October 31. Cost is $25.00 for a lifetime membership (individuals or married couples and their minor children), which includes guidebook. If the user anticipates a single visit, cost is $5.00, with a loaner copy of the guidebook available at the trail and camping office.

Contact Dan Price at W2706 Hultman Lake Road, Ogema, WI 54459, 714-922-0089. Or connect at www.holidayhillscamping.com/naturetrail.html or info@holidayhillscamping.com. Purchase Samuel Thayer's books at Barnes & Noble's, through Amazon or by googling "Forage Harvest" Copies are also available at the Standish Price Interpretive Trail.

Three Gridiron teams ride strong defensive efforts

By Judy Harlow

Defenses saved the day for the fifth, sixth and seventh grade Kewaskum teams Saturday in Gridiron football games against the host Slinger Reds.

The eighth graders played inspired football in the first half but were outclassed in the second, resulting in a 46-12 defeat.

"We scored on our opening drive of the second half," coach Randy Schlice said about the seventh grade's (3-1) 6-0 victory.

Kewaskum held the Owls, then took over at its 30-yard line and moved 40 yards when Michael Prochnow hit Charlie Witek with a 30-yard scoring pass.

"We had a few turnovers we still need to clean up," Schlice said, reporting his team also had a few takeaways. Cole Rahlf had a good game at D-back, and Danny Seitz had a quarterback sack, halting a Slinger drive.

Schlice was pleased with the improvement of his offensive line, including center Eric Doll, guards Tracy Thiemer and Zach Thull and tackles Sam Fechter and Ben Watzig.

"We gained a measure of revenge because this was the only team to beat us last year," the coach said.

The only score in the sixth grade game was a 12-yard TD pass from Dalton Poole to Nick Ellenbecker in the third quarter. It capped a 35-yard drive after Slinger fumbled the snap on a punt attempt, and the Indians' Tom Strom fell on it at the Slinger 35-yard line.

"This was our third road win in a row," coach Joel Tietz said, reporting, "We stopped them three times inside the 20-yard line."

Cited for excellent defense were Brady Hanson and Alex Vogt, who "had some very big tackles," according to Tietz, who said, "Our offensive line had a good game ... we had some big plays called back."

With the win, the sixth graders improved to 3-1 on the season.

The fifth graders are also 3-1 after posting a thrilling 19-6 win over the young Owls.

The Indians had at least three goal line stands, including one early in the game. Kewaskum took over at its own 2, then gave the ball right back when a reverse play backfired. The Indians fumbled and Slinger pounced on the ball for a touchdown.

Kewaskum put together an 70-yard scoring drive midway in the second quarter. Henry Krier broke free for a 44-yard TD. At half it was 6-6.

The Indians used a 52-yard run by Krier to set up Cole Surprenant's 27-yard TD run with 4:07 remaining, and he added another minutes later after Willie Walters recovered a Slinger fumble.

Coaches Mark Walcheske and Jeff Logan said their team had 10 fumbles or miscues on the center-QB exchange. "We overcame it by changing to our football," Logan said.

"The defense did a spectacular job," Walcheske said. Daniel Kreis was credited with recovering a fumble.

The eighth graders (2-2) looked good in the first half, scoring on a 60-yard scamper by Zach Smith and later a 30-yard run by QB Bille Lehmann.

Slinger scored on its first drive and just before the end of the half for a 14-12 lead at intermission.

The Owls opened the second half by running the kickoff back for a touchdown, and, "It was all downhill from there," coach "Jonsey" Korth said, reporting his team lost three fumbles after

Injuries and absences hamper Lady Indians in Cedar Grove tourney

Kewaskum's volleyball team had to overcome an injury and absences in taking fifth at the Cedar Grove-Belgium tournament last Saturday.

The Indians went 2-2 on the day, beating Green Bay NEW and Omro, and losing to Cedar Grove-Belgium and Living Word Lutheran.

"We lost one of our middles (Whitney Bastian) in warm-ups and with our two back-ups missing the tournament we didn't have anyone to take her place," said Coach Joe Moser. "Becca Fahney played middle the entire day for us and did a really nice job. She got a couple of blocks and a few kills and helped us out immensely. Would have been interesting to see how we would have done if we had not had the injury."

The Indians beat Green Bay NEW, 25-20, 25-18. Junior outside hitter Kayla Bastian had nine kills, and sophomore middle hitter Anna Aycock and senior outside hitter George Abfall had five each. Molly Potter finished up 10 assists and Heidi Johnson seven. Bastian made four digs and Aycock and Potter three each.

Kewaskum cruised over Omro, 25-12, 25-12, using the serve as their biggest weapon.

Aycock served four aces and Bastian, Potter and Sam Smallish three each. Aycock had seven kills and Bastian, Abfall and Courtney Krueger three each.

Cedar Grove-Belgium barely snuck by the Indians, 19-25, 25-21, 16-14. Abfall had nine kills and Bastian seven. Potter and Johnson each had 11 assists. Smallish only made one error on 30 service receptions, and Aycock served three aces. Fahney made two blocks and Smallish 10 digs.

The Indians lost to Living Word, 25-12, 25-21. Bastian had five kills and Johnson five assists. Aycock used her 6-foot-1 frame for three blocks.

Moser said Whitney Bastian is already feeling better and he will slowly work her back into practice.

Last Thursday, the Indians got their third Eastern Wisconsin Conference victory, beating Two Rivers, 25-15, 15-16, 24-26, 25-21, while both teams helped the battle against cancer.

The win snapped a three-match conference losing streak.

Bastian had 14 kills, Aycock and Fahney six each and Krueger five. Accuracy was up as Bastian only had two errors in 24 attempts and Krueger none in 13.

Johnson had 17 assists and Potter 13. Bastian had 12 digs and Smallish eight. Aycock made three blocks.

Serving accuracy drastically improved. Bastian made no errors in 14 attempts, and Potter was perfect on 12 and Johnson perfect on 11. Krueger made one error in 19 attempts. Potter and Krueger each served two aces.

"It was nice to get a conference win at Two Rivers. We played a little smarter, committed less errors, and the resulting score showed," Moser said. "It was also dig out for cancer night, so we wore pink uniforms and helped raise money for cancer research. Two Rivers put on a great event and our team had a fun time playing there."

The Indians, 3-5 in the EWC and 10-14 overall, host the top of the EWC, Waupun.

Indians top Raiders in Homecoming Victory

Kewaskum's Bo Seibel carries the ball past two Two Rivers defenders during Friday's homecoming game.

Thanks to two homecoming blowouts, Friday revives the Eastern Wisconsin Conference's newest and most intense rivalry with perhaps a conference title on the line.

Undefeated Kewaskum (6-0) smoked a Two Rivers team that came in with a 3-1 conference record, 49-24, and Plymouth destroyed Campbellsport, 30-0, for its third shutout of the season last week.

This week, Kewaskum travels to Plymouth in the clash of undefeated EWC titans. Both come in at 4-0 and are playoff eligible again.

"Now's the time. It's a big game. I'm sure the kids have had it circled on their calendars for months," said Kewaskum Coach Jason Piittmann.

Minutes after the homecoming victory, Kewaskum quarterback Cody Nuernberg's thoughts already traveled several miles north off of Highway 57.

"Redemption. Feels so good," he said of winning the homecoming game after losing last year. "I'm glad that we got the win tonight but I'm already thinking about Plymouth."

It was Plymouth that ruined the homecoming party last season with a 14-6 win that ended Kewaskum's 30-game home winning streak and served as the difference in the conference race. Plymouth went 7-0 and Kewaskum 6-1, halting the Indians' four-year stranglehold on the title. The Indians got revenge in the playoffs, winning 27-7 at Plymouth.

"It will be a heck of a game. They're well coached and have good athletes," Piittmann said. "I like to think we're pretty well coached and have good athletes, too."

This year's game will feature the undercard of Potts versus Perkins. Plymouth senior Hayden Potts is one of the top runners in the EWC and rushed for 177 yards and two scores in last year's homecoming game win. He was held to 48 and one score in the playoff rematch.

Kewaskum junior Eric Perkins has become this year's explosive star, already with 1,000 yards rushing and 14 touchdowns. Last year as a sophomore, he didn't see many carries until late in the season. He ran four times for 75 yards in the playoff win over Plymouth, including a 55-yard touchdown run.

Perkins ran wild last Friday against Two Rivers, leading a three-headed monster with Nuernberg and fullback Bo Seibel. Perkins ran 22 times for 188 yards and two touchdowns on runs of 45 and 60 yards. Seibel had 96 yards and two scores on seven carries and Nuernberg 95 and a touchdown on 13.

The trio credit their offensive line and receivers' blocks for their success.

"It's real great having options in the backfield. Any given play can get busted for a big gain," Nuernberg said. "All that it comes down to for me when I'm making reads on options."

The three have vastly different running styles. Perkins, with 4.4-second, 40-yard-dash speed, is nearly untouchable in the open field. If he doesn't outrun the defense, a stop on a dime and a cut eludes tacklers, not to mention embarrassing them.

Nuernberg describes himself as "shifty" and often looks to cut back to a wide open middle. Defenders can't use the sideline as their friend against the senior as he can cut with the best of them.

Seibel is the plow whose number gets called on dive plays up the middle. He usually carries the pile for a few extra yards, except last Friday he found some speed in the tank and outran everyone for a 67-yard score. He was almost tripped up from behind inside the five, but kept his balance to cross the goal line.

"I just tried to run hard tonight. It's homecoming, big game," Seibel said.

All three are friends off the field, and Nuernberg said they are "always joking around in practice. Makes everything nice and light, especially when you come out for your game, everything's clicking. It just makes everything that much easier."

"All three of them ran the ball really well, ran really hard. Russ Cross, (offensive coordinator) made some great calls, ran some good things against their defense that really popped some things open," Piittmann said.

Perkins got the scoring started with a 45-yard blast on a pitch right on Kewaskum's first play from scrimmage.

A textbook screen pass that would have made Mike Holmgren proud keyed the Indians' second scoring drive. On third and 17 after a 10-yard sack, Nuernberg lured defenders toward him and lofted a pass to Seibel as offensive lineman formed a wedge. The ball hung in the air so long some girls left for the homecoming dance.

Seibel caught it and turned up the left sideline. Fifty-four yards later he was hauled down at the six.

Nuernberg later hit Andy Doll from five yards out to make it 14-0. Using its running game as a decoy, Kewaskum ran a playaction pass from a power I-formation. It didn't look like Two Rivers knew Doll was on the field.

Seibel's 67-yard score made it 21-6, and later capped off an 11-play, 66-yard, 4:45 drive with a two-yard plunge.

Several plays keyed the drive, starting with Perkins' 19-yard punt return to the 34. Nuernberg then ran an option left and dropped the ball. It bounced right into Perkins' hands, nearly in stride. The creative pitch led to an 11-yard gain.

Nuernberg later hit Doll down the middle for 29 yards. Doll was falling over as the ball fell into his arms and the defense converged late.

On a third and six from the 29, Nuernberg scrambled right and spun back inside for 15. A horse collar penalty and a few more runs put Kewaskum in the end zone for the fourth time in the half.

It was 28-12 at the break and Kewaskum never looked back.

Perkins returned the third-quarter kickoff from the 16 to Kewaskum's 45. Nuernberg finished a seven-play drive with a 29-yard option left on which he didn't have to make a cut. He just ran up the middle untouched.

In the fourth quarter, Perkins zoomed to one of his own, untouched scores. On a pitch right, the offensive line bottled up the middle and wide receiver Andy Schreier sealed the outside. Perkins darted through the huge hole and nobody got near him for 60 yards, save for his teammates celebrating another touchdown.

Sam Olla later caught his fourth touchdown pass of the season, this one not courtesy of Nuernberg. On third and 32 from the Two Rivers nine, Olla got a running start on a moon ball, picked it off in front of the receiver in stride, put a juke on a lineman and easily scored.

The Purple Raiders got two touchdowns late to shorten the deficit. Coming in with a strong passing game, Kewaskum's pass defense, stingy all season, shut it down. Rain and wind didn't hurt, either.

NOTES

Eric Perkins has 1,004 yards rushing and 14 touchdowns on the season, averaging 10.35 yards per carry. He has played less than six full games due to illness and blowouts.

"My goal is to pass my brother, Garrett Donath. I just try to beat him every time I come out on the field," he said. "I just want to beat him, break all his records."

Donath was a star for Kewaskum a several years ago. In 2005, Donath rushed for 1,263 yards and 17 touchdowns, averaged 6.2 yards per carry and 114 per game.

Donath lives in Madison, and Perkins said the two are close and talk now and then. He said Donath claims he doesn't mind if Perkins breaks his record. But he hasn't broken it yet.

Besides, Perkins has bigger goals in mind.

"We want to bring Kewaskum something they've never had before, a state championship," he said.

"Eric's a class act. He's a team player. He's not worried about those individual numbers. He just wants the scoreboard to be tipped in the right way every Friday," Piittmann said.

Remember one of Vince Lombardi's famous descriptions of the power sweep? Standing at the blackboard with chalk in hand, the legend emphatically says, "What we're looking for is a seal here, and a seal here, and run this play in the alley."

Perkins' 60-yard touchdown was a perfect example of it. The Indians got the seals and Perkins rocketed through the alley.

Kewaskum is ranked No. 1 in Division 3, according to the latest Wisconsin.net coaches poll. Plymouth (5-1) is No. 8.

Happy birthday, Ryan Ogi! The senior turned 18 on Friday. He made two tackles and sacked the quarterback once.

Yellow is already one of Two Rivers' colors. It could be added to Kewaskum after this game. The Indians got flagged nine times for 93 yards and the Purple Raiders nine for 85.

"We've gotta be better disciplined. I was very disappointed in that. Very. We've got to clean that up before we contend for a conference title," Piittmann said. "We talked about it all week. We talked about it in pre-game. It's a matter of learning to respond versus react and we did not do that. We've taught that lesson from day one. Every August."

Eric Perkins muffed a punt after Two Rivers' first possession, and the Purple Raiders recovered. But the officials blew an inadvertent whistle early and ended up having Two Rivers punt again.

Two Rivers' punter shanked a punt right from midfield in the first quarter. The wind took it and the net distance was minus four yards.

The homecoming game is more meaningful.

"We told the kids we were not only playing for ourselves and each other on the team, we were playing for our football alumni ... for the dads and grandpas who played for us, for the guys that played at the old field over there and those that played out here. Our goal is to go out and make them proud," Piittmann said.

The junior varsity lost at undefeated Two Rivers on Thursday, 22-18, evening its conference record to 2-2 and overall record to 3-3. Two Rivers made a goal-line stand late in the game and then drove 99 yards, 93 on a screen pass, to take the lead. The JV the week before made a late goal-line stand to hang on against Waupun, 20-16.
