Local weather related crashes injure one, kill another

Annual Christmas Parade Sunday

Community shopping Friday and bonfire Sunday are new events

Kewaskum firefighters collect supplies after rescuing a Campbellsport woman who was injured and trapped in a vehicle that left a slippery road and crashed in a steep embankment on County Road G in the Town of Auburn Sunday evening shortly after 7 p.m. A complete article can be found on page 3 of this edition.

KEWASKUM- After months of planning the annual Kewaskum Christmas Parade sponsored by the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce will take place Sunday at 5 p.m. A few new events will also take place around the parade.

To kick off the event a number of Kewaskum businesses have organized open houses at their business with shopping late for those wishing to shop locally this Christmas. Businesses wishing to learn more can contact Wendi Dreher of Hair on Main at (262) 626-2616.

After the parade, a community bonfire will be held in the rear of the Municipal Building Annex.

Organizers have declared "Christmas Night of Lights" as the theme for Sunday's event. This year's Parade Marshalls are Edward and Sharon Miller, former owners of Miller's Furniture. Both have been active in the community and active with the Chamber. Mr. Miller is one of the founding members of The Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Miller remains active with Kewaskum Education Youth Scholarships, Inc., (KEYS). The Miller family celebrated 100 years in business this year.

There's still time to get involved, this year's still time to get involved, said Mike Geidel of Geidel's Piggy Wiggly, Scott Sadownikow of Kewaskum Mobil, Kevin Stautz of Hollywood Homes LLC and Gino Giudice of Bonne Bell Motel are still looking for area businesses to get involved by entering floats in the parade or helping to sponsor entries with music for the event.

Instead of collecting food for families as has been done in the past, the organizers have decided to have a toy collection along the parade route for needy families in Washington County. Toys can also be dropped off prior to the parade at: Geidel's Piggy Wiggly, Kewaskum Mobil and The Scrap Nook. However, the Kewaskum Community Pantry will have a float collecting food along the route.

Those wishing to have floats should contact Mike Geidel at (262) 626-1778 or email mikegeidel@kewaskumpig.com. An entry form can also be downloaded from the Kewaskum Chamber website as well at www.kewaskum.org.

Public Hearing on ATVs December 8

By Mitch Maersch
mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

The Washington County Planning, Conservation and Parks Committee will hold a public hearing on Wednesday, Dec. 8, about allowing all-terrain vehicles on portions of the Eisenbahn Trail outside the city of West Bend.

After the hearing, the PCPC could act on whether or not to allow ATVs on the trail.

ATVs would be allowed on the trail from Dec. 15 to March 15. The trail surface has to be frozen, the temperature has to be 28 degrees or below and the trail has to be posted as open.

The Washington County Association of Snowmobile Clubs would determine if the trail is open or not. Calling the hotline at (262) 334-6061 or checking the associations' Web site (<http://www.wcasc.org/>) will say if the trail is open or not.

The standards for the trail opening for snowmobiles and ATVs are different so there could be times when the trail would be open for one and closed for the other.

In Washington County, portions of the trail go through the towns of Kewaskum and Barton, and the Village of Kewaskum. Approval from those three municipalities and the PCPC is required for ATVs to be allowed on the trail.

The two towns don't have ordinances prohibiting ATVs on the trail. The Town of Kewaskum's ordinance addressing the issue doesn't regulate public land, so ATVs would be allowed since the Eisenbahn Trail is owned by the Department of Natural Resources. The Town of Barton allows ATVs as well as it doesn't have an ordinance prohibiting them.

The Village of Kewaskum's ordinance was recently updated to only allow ATVs on the trail if the PCPC approves.

Adjacent landowners to the trail were sent postcards about the hearing and are encouraged to attend or send the county their input before the meeting.

"We'd really like to get the neighbors' comments," said Cindy Leinss, landscape designer for the county's Planning and Parks Department.

The hearing begins at 2:05 p.m. in rooms 1020 and 1026 of the Government Center, 432 E. Washington St. Those who can't attend are encouraged to send written comments by Tuesday to: Mike Kactro, Public Agency Center, 333 E. Washington St., WI 53095.

Town of Kewaskum Chairman Ellis Kahn states he too is interested in known what residents think of ATV use on the trail. He encouraged people in the town to compose their thoughts for or against the proposal and get them to the town hall, he will then present them at the meeting.

If the PCPC decides against allowing ATVs on the trail, the clubs could come back next year and ask for access.

Fond du Lac County has allowed ATVs on the trail for the past few years. Allowing them in Washington County would let riders go from just north of West Bend to the trail's end in Eden.

If you have a photo to go along with your story, you may submit it as well. Please have people in the photo named and a year if possible.

Kewaskum woman killed in string of weather related crashes

Campbellsport woman injured

By Andrew Kuehl

Slippery roads took drivers by surprise Sunday evening into Monday morning as Sheriff's deputies and rescue personnel dealt with a hand full of crashes that injured a Campbellsport woman and left a rural Kewaskum woman dead.

Fond du Lac County Sheriff's deputies responded to a single vehicle crash on County Highway G in the Town of Auburn Sunday evening, November 28 at 7:07 p.m. Kewaskum Firefighters and EMTs also responded for a passenger who was trapped in the vehicle and could not move her legs.

Deputy Ryan Flood

explained the accident occurred when Peter Pecus, 47, of Campbellsport was traveling northbound on County Road G and started losing control of his car. He attempted to correct but it began spinning out again and eventually came to rest in the steep ditch of the roadway near the Dietrich Drive intersection.

After extricating the passenger Kewaskum Rescue Squad transported her to an area hospital. West Bend EMS Intercept also responded to assist. Her condition is unknown. The driver was uninjured.

Monday morning, November 29, another single vehicle crash occurred taking the life of a 63-year-old Kewaskum woman. Washington County Sheriff's Deputies responded to a roll over crash in the Town of Farmington at 8:26 a.m. on Paradise Road south of Valley View Road.

Upon arrival a pick up truck was found on its roof in the middle of the roadway. Mary Schneider was found trapped within the truck.

Boltonville Fire Department personnel responded to the scene and used their Jaws of Life to assist in gaining access to the woman. She was later pronounced dead at the scene by the Medical examiner's office.

Investigators determined Schneider had been traveling south bound on Paradise Road, drove off the road and entered the west ditch, striking an embankment and overturning, with the truck re-entering the roadway coming to rest on its roof. The road was heavily covered with frost upon emergency workers arrival and may have contributed to the cause of the crash. There were no witnesses to the crash and no other vehicles are believed to be involved.

KSD prepared for Marinette-like situation

By Mitch Maersch

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

The Kewaskum School District coincidentally revised its emergency response plan a couple of weeks ago, as this week's hostage situation at Marinette High School reiterated the need to be prepared.

While the district hasn't practiced a hostage situation, Superintendent Mike Krumm said the high school has practiced lockdown drills, though not involving other agencies like the police department.

"We do practice them. We will be probably doing some of those down the road, too," he said.

Should a Marinette-like situation arise, Kewaskum High School has something Marinette did not.

"One advantage we've got is we've got a liaison officer in the school at all times. So if something happens, he's there right away," said Police Chief Richard Knoebel.

The district has practiced evacuation drills in the case of fire or another emergency at the three elementary schools - Kewaskum, Farmington and Wayne. Those drills involve the police and fire departments, and the Washington County Sheriff's Department. Like in an actual emergency, students are transported to another location and accounted for, Krumm said.

The district has focused on decreasing bullying as well, a common trigger for school violence. Two years ago, the district had Bill Bond speak to staff, emergency workers and the community. Bond was principal of Heath High School in Kentucky in 1997 when a shooting occurred. Three years later, Bond spoke about the incident and what caused it, and it turned into his life's work.

"We really made a commitment to doing quite a bit in this area. We want to be responding in the appropriate manner," Krumm said.

The next district newsletter will inform the public of the district's emergency procedures and practices.

Froedtert Health St. Joseph's Hospital to build new cancer center

WEST BEND - Froedtert Health St. Joseph's Hospital will break ground next spring on a 16,000-square-foot addition for a new cancer center on the hospital campus at Pleasant Valley Road and Highway 45. The addition will be sited on the hospital's west side and connected to both St. Joseph's Hospital and Froedtert Health Medical Group West Bend Clinic-South.

The building will be the new home of the Alyce and Elmore Kraemer Cancer Care Center, which will move from its current location in leased space at the hospital's former site in West Bend. Key features of the new Cancer Care Center include expanded space for hematology-oncology services, including private and semi-private infusion care settings; a new state-of-the-art linear accelerator and CT (computerized tomography) simulator; an outpatient clinic; and wellness services provided by Froedtert & The Medical College of Wisconsin Small Stones Wellness Center.

"Our goal is to offer high-quality cancer services to the community," said Michael Laird, president and chief executive officer of St. Joseph's Hospital. "Relocating the Alyce and Elmore Kraemer Cancer Care Center to the hospital campus will help unite our spectrum of services, making it easier for patients to receive care. For example, imaging, therapy and other support services will be more convenient because everything will be in one place. In addition, physician and staff collaboration across different cancer specialties will be enhanced."

Laird added, "When we announced in August that St. Joseph's Hospital had joined the new Froedtert & The Medical College of Wisconsin Cancer Network, it was another step toward providing advanced, coordinated care right here in our community. Through our relationship with Froedtert & The Medical College, we already have expanded our cancer services to include urologic oncology and gynecologic oncology in addition to radiation and medical oncology, and there are plans to add new cancer specialties, including colorectal, breast and thoracic surgery as well as a cancer survivors program, when the new building is completed."

According to Bob Nichols, director of the community division of Froedtert & The Medical College Cancer Network, nearly 500 cancer cases were treated at the Alyce and Elmore Cancer Care Center in fiscal year 2010, a 21% increase over the previous year.

"The new building will enable access to services beyond those typically available in the community, such as improved access to other cancer specialists and clinical trials, diagnostic discussions through electronic linkages with the academic medical center and support services such as psychological and genetics counseling, nutrition services and financial counseling," Nichols said.

"When we joined forces in July 2008, our vision was to create a strong regional healthcare organization that responds to the growing needs of West Bend and Washington County," said William Petasnick, president and chief executive officer of Froedtert Health. "As this new building and the Cancer Network demonstrate, we remain committed to that vision."

Groundbreaking is scheduled for spring 2011 with completion expected in fall 2012. Including the cancer center, the new facility will have two levels totaling 32,000 square feet of space to accommodate future growth in physicians and outpatient services. ## Deadline for candidacy papers January 4

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

Leadership of three area towns could flip as well as more than half the Kewaskum Village Board and nearly half of the School Board in the spring election.

Nomination papers could be taken out starting Dec. 1 to get on the spring ballot.

Every town supervisor and chairman are up for election this spring in the towns of Kewaskum, Farmington and Wayne.

In Kewaskum, that includes Chairman Ellis Kahn and supervisors Allen Hron and Dan Schmidt. The positions of Clerk Nancy Boden and Treasurer Daniel Stoffel are up for re-election as well.

In Farmington, the list includes Chairman Gary Schreiber and supervisors Art Seyfert and Mark Foyse. The clerk and treasurer positions are appointed rather than elected.

In the Town of Kewaskum, Chairman Carl Klemme and supervisors Mike Samann and Robert Schulteis are up for re-election. So are Clerk Julie Kriewaldt and Treasurer Gerald Schulz.

Village president Andrew

Pesch is up for re-election, as are Trustees Norman Kufahl, Tom Piwoni and Jim Hovland. School Board members John Kenworthy, Sally Cochran and Jim Leister are up for re-election. Kenworthy is School Board president but the board votes on officers after each election.

Paperwork to declare candidacy is available through each municipality or the Government Accountability Board Web site. Three forms are required: campaign registration statement (GAB-1), nomination paper for nonpartisan office (GAB-169) and declaration of candidacy (GAB-162).

Twenty signatures are required. Residents are reminded to only sign as many candidates' papers as there are seats available. For example, only sign one town chairman's or village president's candidate's paper, but sign up to two town supervisors' papers and up to three trustee or school board candidates' papers.

The deadline to turn in papers is 5 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 4.

To print out a list of required papers online, go to: <http://gab.wi.gov/elections-voting/candidates/local/non-partisan>

Ban on texting while driving now in effect

A new state law took effect December 1, 2010 that bans texting while driving in Wisconsin.

The law makes it illegal to drive "any motor vehicle while composing or sending an electronic text message or an electronic mail message." A citation for violating this law may cost drivers up to $400 along with four demerit points added on their license.

Wisconsin is now one of 30 states and the District of Columbia that ban texting on a cell phone or similar electronic device while driving. Wisconsin's texting ban is a primary enforcement law, which means law enforcement officers may stop motorists suspected of this offense alone.

"All law enforcement officers hope that drivers realize the extreme danger of texting while driving and voluntarily comply with this new law. But if they don't, we're ready to take appropriate enforcement actions to prevent them from killing and injuring themselves and others," said Wisconsin State Patrol Superintendent David Collins.

According to Collins, all forms of distracted driving are dangerous. However, texting while behind the wheel is especially hazardous because the driver's eyes, hands and mental focus are all diverted from the safe operation of the vehicle.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration attributed an estimated 6,000 traffic deaths and one-half million injuries to distracted driving in 2008.

"Every time you drive, you are legally and morally responsible for safely operating a potentially destructive—and even deadly—force" Collins said. "That's why driving requires your undivided attention. Any lapse in attention to traffic or road conditions is a grave danger to you, your passengers and everyone else on the road. No attempt to multi-task in your vehicle, no phone call, and no text message is more important than a human life."

Dear Editor:

The article I am sending with this letter represents who I am. I never realized it more than since this last Veteran's Day. In the fall of 1948, I, along with Allen Mertes, Einar Ingman (who then lived in Kewaskum), and George Kirst, joined the Army for three years and two years later the Korean War started and our enlistment was extended to four years. We finished our Basic Training in Camp Breckenridge Kentucky and I went on to Engineer School in Fort Belvoir, Virginia and they went on to the Infantry. Allen gave his life in Korea, Einar got wounded and received the Congressional Medal of Honor from President Truman for his bravery saving the lives of members in his outfit. George was badly wounded in Korea and we saw each other briefly on Okinawa where he was stationed before going to Korea. We met again when we both worked at Regal Ware a few years later. I spent 3 years on Okinawa in the Army Engineers and came home without a scratch.

I spent most of my adult life as a Union person. First as a member of the Teamsters when I was an over the road truck driver and pipe line worker. Next as President of my Local Union AIW-AFL-CIO #849 here in Kewaskum at Real Ware. I then was hired and served 7 years as a full time Representative for AIW Region # 9 serving 12 Local Unions around Wisconsin and organizing 6 more new Local Unions. I then was elected Exec. VP of the Wisconsin State AFL-CIO serving 42 Labor Councils including the Washington County Central Labor Council. I was re-elected 5 times and retired in 1994.

I was raised in Kewaskum during the depression where my Dad lost his business the John Gruber Bakery. He then was able to get a job along with many other poor people in the Kewaskum area who had no job and needed to feed their families

The job they got was the WPA a Roosevelt stimulus program. They built the Firemans Park in Kewaskum they shored up the banks of the river with stones, built the dam and bridge across the river, they put in a beach and built a shelter to change clothes to go swimming and they planted trees and built many of the buildings including the band stand which are still standing today. They worked for $18.00 per week. After a year or so my proud father became a plumber and later worked at the Kewaskum Creamery as a maintenance man and a member of the Teamsters Union.

My brother Bob joined the CCC (civilian conservation corp.) another Roosevelt program and was at Camp Estabrook in Milwaukee which they built is now Estabrook Park. He helped supplement our family's food on the table.

Then WW2 My brother Bob joined the Army in 1940 and my brother Gene joined the Marines and was in the invasion of Iwo Jima. My brother Harlan and I joined the Army in 1948.

Together all of us helped make the middle class in America along with many baby-boomers. We need to respect and remember the past or we are bound to relive it.

Am I a do-gooder or bleeding heart person? I think so, what do you think?

DOING A HEART GOOD

By Bill Berry

A lot of progressives are still walking around in a funk after what happened November 2. It's understandable, but it had better be short-lived, because America and the world need the kind of people who bring values like compassion and concern for others to the public dialogue. Those values took a direct, frontal assault in the election.

It's more obvious than ever that America needs people who believe the collective actions of well-intended people on behalf

— Bonny Ruelle

Jack and Bonny Ruelle of Jackson are lifelong residents of Washington County and both of their children were born at the New Life Center of Froedtert Health St. Joseph's Hospital. When nine-year-old Max complained of mild but persistent abdominal pain last September, Jack and Bonny decided that as a precaution, a visit to the Emergency Care Center at St. Joseph's Hospital was in order.

“We walked in about midnight,” Jack explains. “Max wasn't in severe pain, but he clearly wasn't himself. He kept saying, ‘I'm fine, I'm fine.’” When the initial examination and X-ray didn't immediately identify the cause of Max's discomfort, a more detailed diagnostic exam was performed using the hospital's 64-slice CT scanner. The scan revealed a perforated appendix, a condition normally accompanied by extraordinary levels of pain.

“I remember the doctor saying to me, ‘You've got one very tough kid,’” Jack says. “Max had emergency surgery shortly thereafter, and today he's doing great.”

The Ruelles are grateful for the high-quality care their son received at St. Joseph's Hospital. As Bonny explains, “It's incredibly important to have St. Joseph's emergency care nearby. The affiliation with Froedtert has just made it that much better. You always know that you're getting the best care possible.”

Modern Woodmen fundraiser a success

Richard "Kissy" Kissinger, owner of the Grand Larsony in Kewaskum, and Jeff Jaeger of Modern Woodmen/JP Insurance present the matching funds check to Jay Faber, brother of the late Jack Faber, and Ann Flasch.

Members of the West Bend Modern Woodmen of America Chapter recently helped raise money for Ann Flasch and Jack Faber by supporting a car show and brat fry hosted by the Grand Larsony.

The event, held on September 19, 2010, raised $10,640. This includes $2,500 matched by Modern Woodmen's home office through the organization's Matching Fund Program. The money will be used for medical expenses.

The Matching Fund program offers Modern Woodmen members nationwide the chance to show their support for a community cause, organization or individual in need by holding fundraisers. Modern Woodmen matched money raised up to $2,500. These fundraising projects contribute more than $6.5 million to community needs nationwide each year.

Coordinated by local Modern Woodmen members, chapters provide opportunities to connect through social activities and volunteer projects.

For more information about the local chapter and how you can get involved, contact Jeff Jaeger at 262-626-4139.

As a tax exempt fraternal benefit society, Modern Woodmen sells life insurance, annuity and investment products not to benefit stockholders, but to improve the quality of life of its stakeholders - members, their families and their communities. This is accomplished through social, charitable and volunteer activities. Annually, Modern Woodmen and its members provide more than $23 million and nearly one million volunteer hours for community projects nationwide.

Letter to the Editor

of the greater good can make a difference. It needs those whose hearts bleed, yes bleed, when they hear that a record 50.7 million people in the land of the free were without health insurance last Thanksgiving week. The number jumps to 75 million when you add people who are classified as underinsured. I'm betting that virtually everyone knows of a friend or family member who falls into one of those categories. I'm also betting that many of these people are productive members of society, working their tails off to make ends meet, even though they're cut out of the benefits the rest of us take for granted.

If being concerned about the needs of "the least among us" makes you a bleeding heart, then America needs a lot more bleeding hearts. And if trying to do something to make sure these people have the same basic rights as the better-off makes you a socialist, then America needs more socialists.

No matter what they call us, people who care about the needs of others, not just themselves, must speak up and act. We need to resist actions that will take us off the course of addressing this lingering pox on our country. We need to give thanks that we have a president and Congress that had the guts to do something about it, even though the price of compassion was their own political futures.

When those who ride into Washington on the wave of misguided and misinformed populism seek to dismantle what's been accomplished, we need to ask them what part of health care reform they will take back. The part that ensures people aren't denied medical care because of a pre-existing condition? The part that lets kids be covered by their parents' plans until they're 26? Or the part that stops insurance companies from dropping people when they're really ill? If your heart doesn't bleed at current inequities, you're not fully human.

Now, more than ever, America needs people who will stand up for the right to quality and affordable education. We need people who are thankful that they had the life-changing experience of a good education and who are willing to fight to see that young people today have those same opportunities.

Here in Wisconsin, we need more do-gooders, the pejorative term hurled at those who try to make the world around them a little better. In a state that produced a conservation ethic honed by the likes of Aldo Leopold and practiced by the likes of Gaylord Nelson, we need do-gooders who will resist and expose get-rich schemes that will rape our land and sully our waters. As Nelson reminded us many years ago, the economy is a wholly owned subsidiary of the environment. Nothing has changed. Anyone who argues otherwise is looking for profit at the expense of future generations. That is a form of theft, and the last time I checked stealing was still wrong according to civilian and religious code.

Now is not the time to mope or hide. We face long odds and stacked decks, but we have to hold accountable the people who would steal the basic rights of citizens for quality education and affordable health care. We have to hold accountable those who would rape our land and water resources for short-term gain. Yes, the world needs bleeding hearts and do-gooders more than ever.

KMS students help fight Cystic Fibrosis

Students at Kewaskum Middle School recently organized a fund-raiser to benefit Cystic Fibrosis. On August 31st, the world welcomed Allegra Phoenix Freber, a niece of KMS eighth grader Caley McClyman. Ten days after Allegra was born, she was diagnosed with Cystic Fibrosis.

Students in Mr. Grotenhuis' advisory began discussing ways in which they could help those with Cystic Fibrosis, a congenital disease which clogs the lungs, pancreas, and intestines with a thick mucus-like substance, making it difficult to breathe and digest food properly.

The students decided to sell bracelets inscribed with Allegra's Hope. Nearly 250 bracelets were sold and the advisement group raised $492.00 for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation in honor of Allegra. The bracelets were generously donated by, Sue Brigowatz, Caley's mom and Allegra's grandmother.

Students in Mr. Grotenhuis' advisory include; Liz Bohn, Savanna Carroll, Everett Dean, Mitchell Engelman, Kegan Goslinowski, Zach Hottenstein, Sami Kirst, Ayla Kunes, Josh Limbach, Caley McClyman, Sarah Ostranger, Clair Pok, Chris Rotolo, Megan Schaller, Brooke Steiner, Taylor Trepes, and Jake Weinreich.

To make a donation to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation or for more information about the disease, visit www.cff.org.

Kewaskum students receive dictionaries from Pioneers

Kewaskum High School sophomore and Big Brother Tyler Voge and Kewaskum Elementary School student Jordan, his Little Brother, use a dictionary donated by AT&T Pioneers to complete a worksheet at Kewaskum Elementary School this month.

Rep. Dan LeMahieu talks to Kewaskum Big Brothers and Big Sisters club members about the importance of using dictionaries the children received from AT&T's Pioneers at Kewaskum Elementary Schools this month. Behind LeMahieu stands Julie Tonkovits, AT&T Wisconsin's director of external affairs.

By Mitch Maersch

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

Forty-two Kewaskum students have received a free resource from a volunteer arm of AT&T to help them succeed in school.

They wasted no time in using their new tools.

The Dairyland Chapter of the AT&T Pioneers presented 21 Kewaskum Boys and Girls Club members and their high school mentors with dictionaries as part of a statewide effort to improve literacy. The Pioneers are a 99-year-old volunteer organization of AT&T employees and retirees.

After worksheets were handed out, bigs and littles instantly began teaming up to complete the tasks.

The books are more than dictionaries, however; they're almost mini-encyclopedias. The Declaration of Independence, table of elements, states, presidents and more are found toward the backs of the books.

The gift was the result of an informal meeting between Washington County Boys and Girls Club Executive Director Mary Gamerding and AT&T Director of External Affairs Julie Tonkovitz. The two met at a United Way dinner and later reconnected when Tonkovitz mentioned she had some dictionaries to give away.

Rep. Dan LeMahieu (R-Cascade) was on hand to help present the books.

"It's going to help you in the classroom. It's going to help you as you go forward ... to be a better student," he said. "Learn to use it."

The Pioneers are donating more than 8,500 dictionaries to students at 71 elementary schools throughout the state as part of its 5th annual "Dictionaries for Third Graders" program. The Dairyland Chapter covers Washington and Dodge counties.

Healthy Cooking Tips

from Culinary.net

Here are three easy ways you can boost the nutrition of your holiday foods and make them taste even better.

Flavor Up. Herbs and spices make ordinary food taste extraordinary—without adding salt, fat or sugar. Some spices may even help boost the antioxidant power of what's already on your plate.

- Cinnamon has one of the highest antioxidant levels of any spice. One teaspoon of cinnamon has about the same amount as a full cup of pomegranate juice or a half cup of blueberries. Wake up your holiday mornings by sprinkling a half teaspoon over your ground coffee before brewing, or adding some to your oatmeal or yogurt.

- Thyme has about the same amount of antioxidants as a carrot or a half cup of chopped tomatoes. It also has beneficial compounds called flavonoids, which may help with inflammation. It's a great addition to chicken, beef or vegetable soups, and can really dress up seafood.

Lower the Fat. You can reduce your fat intake in a variety of delicious ways.

- Low-fat mayonnaise has only 15 calories and 1 gram of fat per tablespoon, compared to 90 calories and 10 grams of fat in full-fat versions. Use it in holiday dips, or flavor it with herbs to jazz up your leftover turkey sandwiches.

- If you're making pan gravy, skim off the fat from the drippings, either with a spoon or a fat separator.

Switch to Whole Grains.

Studies show that eating whole grains can lower the risk of many chronic diseases.

- Add 3/4 cup of uncooked oats for each pound of ground beef or turkey when you make meatballs, burgers or meatloaf.
- Add half a cup of cooked bulgur, wild rice, or barley to your holiday bread stuffing.
- Use brown rice instead of white—it adds great taste as well as fiber, vitamins and minerals.

Indian wrestlers set their goals high

By Judy Harlow

After sharing the Eastern Wisconsin Conference dual meet title, finishing second in the EW Conference Meet, second in the Division 2 Regional at Kewaskum, second in the Division 2 Sectional at Milwaukee, and advancing six athletes to the State Tournament, wrestling fans here may wonder what the Kewaskum Indians could do for an encore?

By the looks of their early practices, coach Dennis Aupperle says he can see they want to do better in the 2010-'11 season.

"Technique-wise, it's a pretty good group," Aupperle said after the first three practices. "They come in, and they're ready to go. It's been nice."

The numbers are also up. "I think we're at 36. Numbers are good," the coach said, indicating this may be the largest team he's had.

Gone are two of last year's team leaders, Cody Seibel and Caleb Olla, who both advanced to state.

Seibel's resume included a third place in the state tournament and a first place in the EWC Tourney, his fourth in a row, which is a rare feat, especially considering he was competing at higher weights since he was a freshman.

When asked about replacing Seibel, Aupperle said, "You can't replace him. I don't think a lot of people realized how important he was to us. I think he pinned every guy he faced in the dual meets. We had six points from him in every match."

Aupperle has 11 returning lettermen, led by seniors Bo Seibel and Brad Bentz. Seibel had an excellent junior year, finishing fifth in the state at 160 pounds and ending up with a record of 34-6.

Bentz, who was rated No. 1 at 145 pounds for much of the year, suffered a season-ending injury just before the EWC Tournament and many think he would have been first or second in the state meet. He ended the year at 24-1.

Sophomore Brett Scoles also placed at state, finishing fifth at 103 pounds after showing vast improvement from December to February.

Seniors Jared Koffke and Rob Maertz also got valuable experience competing in Madison, and both should be able to make return trips and find themselves on the victory stand at the Kohl Center.

"Between Jared, Rob and Bo, I think they're all over 90 wins ... they're all wrestlers," Aupperle said, adding, "Brad, I think he had 46 wins his freshman year," and placed at state as a sophomore.

Aupperle is impressed with his five seniors and says, "The sophomore class has Bentz may start the season at 171 and later drop to 160, while Maertz is expected to start at 152, with Koffke at 130.

"Bo will start at 189, and he'll probably stay there," Aupperle said, hoping that will be the case because it will help the team.

The other letterwinners include senior Cole Roberts, juniors Joey Wollner and Brandon Ehn; sophomores Austin Goeden, Logan Dreher and Derek Aupperle.

Lance Pinchard wrestled JV most of last season but got an opportunity to wrestle in the tournament and made the most of it, upsetting a top-seeded and eventually taking second.

Goeden placed third in the EWC tourney and advanced to the sectional, while Dreher also placed third in the EWC tourney.

Aupperle is impressed with his five seniors and says, "The sophomore class has some good, quality kids. And we have a lot of freshmen, maybe a dozen."

Newcomers that look good include Cody Muckerheide, Max Maertz, Joe Seitz, and Kurt Luedtke.

Aupperle said there will be good competition for the varsity spots in the middle of the line up and at the top where he has Pinchard, Roberts and Ehn.

Concerning the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, Aupperle said Campbellsport should be strong with Ryan Costello, Payden Salm, and Jim Hawley back, and Two Rivers much improved over recent years, while Sheboygan Falls might be down a bit after losing state champion Ben Chappa and a couple other four-year regulars.

The Indians will be heading for Luxemburg-Casco for a big dual meet tournament this weekend that includes Port Washington, Bay Port and the tough Spartans, who are always tough. "It's going to be a good schedule. We'll have to be ready."

"If we stay healthy, we could have a pretty nice year," Aupperle said.

Tanner Bowen, age 14, of Kewaskum, shot this 10 point buck in the Kettle Moraine near Dundee on youth hunt day.

Mark Boden of Kewaskum shot this seven point buck in Marinette County.

Mitch Zimmel and 16 year old son Donnie each bagged a 10 point buck on opening day of the gun deer season on their family farm on Sandy Ridge Road. Not to be outdone by the more experienced hunters of the family, 10 year old Randal shot a 10 pointer on his own the next day.

Indians start off season 2-1

Tony Gonring drives inside and hits in last Saturday's 58-43 win over Mayville.

By Mitch Maersch

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

Kewaskum boys' basketball players left the gym on Tuesday a bit perturbed after an off night sent them to their first loss of the season.

That, said Coach Quinn Heintz, is a good sign and represents a notable change from past seasons.

Still 2-1 after a three-win season last year, the Indians didn't look like they did in earning two victories over the weekend. West Bend West out-hustled and out-executed and out-shot the Indians in a 55-44 win.

"I see a lot of guys with disappointed faces and that's a good thing. In the past maybe it doesn't hurt so much. You see a lot of guys who are mad and disappointed and that means that it means something to them," Heintz said. "The expectations are definitely higher for them. They hold themselves, no matter what everybody else's expectations are, they hold themselves to a higher standard. They'll come back and have to have a good practice tomorrow and get ready for Campbellsport on Thursday."

Kewaskum fell behind West (1-1) for the entire first half but tied the game at 23-23 in the third quarter. The Spartans went on a 9-0 run and the Indians never got closer than five the rest of the game.

Junior forward Brad Boegel scored 11 of his team-high 15 in the first half. Sophomore Hunter Flanders scored 11 and junior Brett Nuernberg 10. Point guard Eric Perkins, who averaged 15 points per game coming in, was scoreless until a three-point play in the fourth quarter, and that's all he got.

The Indians shot 15-49 from the field and sometimes had a hard time just hitting the rim. Threes weren't falling and offensive rebounds were hard to come by. They did go 10-for-14 on free throws.

"Offensively we never had any type of rhythm at all and that was probably because they played very aggressive defense and were a lot more physical than the teams we played," Heintz said. "We didn't pass very well. We never hit the open guy. We forced passes that weren't there."

Defensively, the Indians allowed 10 offensive rebounds but played well enough to stay in the game. They were only down 38-32 headed into the fourth quarter.

"We were sloppy on defense. We never boxed out. We got out-rebounded, we got out-hustled and then you lose games when you do that," Heintz said. "We didn't play very smart. We got in foul trouble. We reached a lot." West shot 17-42, made 17 of 21 free throws, and went into a slow-down mode in the final eight minutes, taking nearly a minute off the clock before shooting a few times. When they scored, that put all the more pressure on Kewaskum to come back and score quickly.

It was good education, Heintz said.

"We learn how to handle ourselves a little bit. I think we panicked a little bit early in the game and we panicked late in the game when we got down. We haven't had to play that way yet this year. But that's good. It's good that it's a non-conference game and that's why you play these," he said.

Brandon Cowie led West with 15 points, followed by Jack Meurer's 13 and Jimmy Dieck's 10.

In two non-conference games Friday and Saturday, the Indians first beat Slinger, 61-48, then Mayville, 58-43. That already tops last season's two highest-scoring games when the Indians scored 60 and 50 points.

Kewaskum fell behind 11-8 after one quarter versus Slinger but took a 23-22 lead into halftime thanks to an eight-point quarter by Perkins. The Indians opened up a 37-29 lead going into the fourth quarter and sealed the game at the line, going 12-for-17. They made 22 of 38 free throws for the game.

In the fourth quarter alone, Nuernberg was 5-for-6 and Perkins 3-for-4 at the line.

"We've got to hit free throws in the fourth quarter when it matters because that's what puts the teams away," said Perkins, who scored a game-high 20 points.

"I would put us up against anybody in the state with how many free throws we shoot during practice, and we shoot about 80 percent in practice as a team, so we know that's a strength of ours," Heintz said. Along with free throws, defense and rebounding won this game. Flanders (6-foot-4) had 10 and Boegel (6-4) eight. Even Perkins hustled for five with his 5-10 frame. The Indians out-rebounded Slinger, 33-21.

"We know how important the rebounds were. Every rebound's major," Flanders said.

"There's no reason we should get out-rebounded with the size and the speed and quickness that we have. That's been one of our focuses in practice," Heintz said.

Slinger cut the lead to 37-33 on two layups off two turnovers to start the fourth quarter, but the Indians fought back. The Owls got the deficit to four once more, but then Kewaskum pulled away.

"The thing I was most impressed with beginning of the fourth quarter they got two quick buckets and cut it to four points, and we responded. We extended the lead and it turned out pretty good for us," Heintz said.

He praised the defense of Tony Gonring. Heintz planned to use Perkins to guard the Owls' point guard, but Gonring did such a good job Perkins could focus more on offense.

"Tony Gonring was excellent on defense guarding Kirk Emmer the whole game," he said. "Kirk Emmer's one of the best guards we're going to see all year. To be able to hold him in check a little bit and play good defense and beat a good team like Slinger is a good confidence builder for everyone."

Against Mayville, the Indians took an early lead, 14-10 after one and 31-24 at half, and never let the Cardinals get close.

Flanders scored a game-high 14 points and had just about as many boards as Mayville couldn't match up with him. Boegel added 13 points as the Indians were again beasts inside.

"We just try to be as strong as we can down low, get every board. Mine and Luke's (Kopeschka) goal at least is to get 20 boards a game," Boegel said.

Twenty for each would earn a steak dinner from Heintz. And it would probably be a big steak given the size of these fellas.

"Me and Brad are really helping each other out, boxing our man out, even with Hunter coming in there, too," said the 6-5 Kopeschka.

Kewaskum was again good at the line, going 15-for-23.

"We shoot a lot of free throws during practice and we key on that because we feel it's important and it showed that it is important these first two games. We just get them in foul trouble and take advantage," Boegel said.

Kopeschka, the team's only senior, has been with the program all four years in high school and has noticed the major change this season.

"It's a lot better because I've been losing every single year. Now with the kids that actually care and want to play and win, it's a lot better playing basketball now," he said.

"I think we're more focused than last year," Boegel said. "I think we care a little bit more. We want to win and we're practicing hard and working hard and it's paying off right now, but we've got to keep going."

Even Flanders as a sophomore can tell.

"This is great. Growing up in Kewaskum just seeing everybody look down on the sport. That was our main goal - just to bring Kewaskum basketball back," he said after Friday's win. "We had a lot of people in the stands. That's major for us. People come out and support us. That's huge." While the first two games weren't exactly pretty, they were a victories.

"It's nice to start off good. The best part is we really didn't play that good in the first two games. When you're 2-0 and you win both games by double digits and you have so many things to fix yet, you think, well, geez, this could end up being pretty good," Heintz said.

The Indians host Campbellsport on Thursday in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference opener.

Comeback effort falls short for KHS wrestlers

By Judy Harlow

CAMPBELLSPORT- Whenever the Kewaskum and Campbellsport wrestling teams get together, there's bound to be excitement ... and plenty of it.

Tuesday night's match before another packed house — the season opener for both squads — was no exception. In the end, forfeits at 103 and 112 pounds and a pin at 119 by Beau Oestreich were too much for the Indians to overcome, and they ended up losing to their archrivals 31-25.

"We couldn't have started out any better with the draw," KHS coach Dennis Aupperle said, referring to the fact the match started at 171 pounds, meaning Rob Maertz and Brad Bentz would be at the end at 152 and 160 pounds, respectively. "What better ways to finish up than with those two," he remarked.

Unfortunately, the match was out of reach by the time they competed.

Maertz, a state qualifier a year ago, won a hard-fought 7-5 overtime decision over Payden Salm at 152 pounds, and Bentz was able to pull Jamie Straub off his stomach and turn him for a pin in 3:14, cutting the final margin to six points.

"I don't know what they (Maertz and Salm) are ranked, but they are both good wrestlers," Aupperle said, also lauding Bo Seibel for his 3-0 shutout over James Hawley. "They face each other every week at World Class (Camp in Fond du Lac). That was a good match."

And there was a bit of an upset in the 135-pound match at a point where the Indians were making a comeback. In that match, Chet Floyd of Campbellsport used a near fall at the end of the second period toward a 7-3 decision over Jared Koffke, another of the Indians' returning state qualifiers.

Did Aupperle expect Koffke would lose? "No, I did not," the coach said, indicating the timing of the match might have had something to do with the outcome since a couple of his wrestlers could not make the weight they are expected to wrestle at, meaning he had to do a little juggling and move people up.

Sophomore Brett Scoles had been trying to make it down to 119 pounds, but ended up going up to 130 in an effort to put the strongest team on the mat. He had a good battle with Rashaun Sparks, using his aggressiveness for a 5-2 decision.

Three other sophomores also notched wins. Logan Dreher used a six-point first period and a takedown in the closing seconds to post a 12-4 major decision, while Austin Goeden was in control of his match against Cole Sippel, winning 7-2.

The win at 171 was pretty special for Aupperle because it was his son Derek whose hand was raised at the end. The younger Aupperle used takedowns in the first and second periods toward a 5-3 victory, giving Kewaskum a 3-0 lead in the match.

"It's disappointing (to lose), but this team has the opportunity to do some good things," Aupperle said. "We're going to be all right."

After getting dominated by the Indians 41-27 a year ago, CHS coach Mark Peterson was delighted with his team's showing. "I was a little worried how we would be right out of the gate," he said, but, "We did a nice job."

Two matches were key in the victory, according to Peterson. One was Floyd's win over Koffke, and the other came at 215 pounds where Mike Kaschner outpointed Lance Pinchard 12-3 for a major decision.

Kewaskum is at the Spartan Duals at Luxemburg-

Casco Saturday and hosts Sheboygan Falls in a dual meet on Thursday (Dec. 9th) for the annual Alumni Night. All former Kewaskum wrestlers will be admitted free that night.

Lady Indians kick off season with win over Ozaukee

By Mitch Maersch

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

It had been five years, maybe many more, since Kewaskum's girls' basketball team knocked off Ozaukee.

Not anymore. Not after Tuesday's defensive gem.

The Indians beat the Warriors on the road, 44-20, to go 2-1 headed into conference play Friday.

"It was an unbelievable game," said Coach Mike Kleinhans. "We just played great D. We took our time tonight on offense. We were patient."

The Indians went up 11-5 after one quarter, then pitched a shutout in the second and allowed one basket in the third, building a 26-7 lead.

"I think putting pressure on them made them travel. We were running out at the girls and getting a hand up in their face," Kleinhans said. "We are really starting to get the idea about playing defense. They're buying into it, figuring out if we play good defense, the offense will come."

Sophomore post player Ashley Stahl led Kewaskum with 13 points and 10 rebounds. Senior point guard Christine Bohn scored 10 and had four assists and four steals.

Sophomore Mallorie Kreis scored five points to go along with five rebounds, four steals and four assists.

Sophomore Amber Flasch had four points and six boards, senior Ashley Kuechler six points and junior Kayla Bastian four points and five rebounds. Chelsea Watzig added two points.

The Indians out-rebounded the Warriors, 33-20.

"We were boxing out, we were getting every rebound. We were diving for balls," Kleinhans said.

Not that Kewaskum didn't make its fair share of mistakes. The Indians turned the ball over 22 times and only went 7-for-14 at the free throw line.

"We had some boo-boos. Turned the ball over in the first half without getting a shot," Kleinhans said.

He said Kewaskum will have two tough days of practice before the home and Eastern Wisconsin Conference opener against Campbellsport on Friday.

"We're ready to rock. Big rivalry game," he said. "We play this well things are going to happen."

Over the weekend, the Indians went 1-1 in a tournament in Monroe. On Saturday, the Indians beat East Dubuque, 51-33.

"Saturday we really rocked. We played very well. We played against a press the whole game. We were running the court," Kleinhans said.

Stahl scored 17, Flasch 11, Kuechler eight, Bastian five, Bohn and Kreis, four each and Watzig two.

Still, the Indians had 17 turnovers.

"We did some good things; we're just turning the ball over a lot," Kleinhans said.

On Friday against Beloit Turner in the Indians' season opener, they let one player go off for 25 second-half points after four in the first. They Giving up 52 points you can't win. We know that from last year."

Given the team's youth — three sophomores and only two seniors — two early wins are encouraging both for the coach and players.

"I think it's huge," Kleinhans said.
