Flight for Life responds to T. Scott crash

Four people were injured Monday evening following a two-vehicle crash at the intersection of County Road D and state Highway 28/144 in the Town of Scott, just north of Boltonville. Batavia First Responders and Firefighters were joined by Random Lake Fire Department and EMS after the crash happened at 6:40 p.m. The above SUV driver collided with the minivan shown to the right that was carrying a mother and her three children. The SUV did not have any passengers. The vehicles came to rest in a field to the west of Highway 28/144. Flight for Life Helicopter responded to the scene for a youth victim in the mini van and transported him to Children's Hospital in Wauwatosa. Also responding was Sheboygan County Sheriff's Department and the Silver Creek Fire Department.

Assemblyman proposes bill to repeal mascot law

By Andrew Kuehl

andrew@kewaskumstatesman.com

While the Kewaskum School District is in the process of forming a committee to oversee actions the district is taking to maintain their beloved Indians mascot, a Whitewater Republican is reported to be working on a bill to undo the new state law aimed at eliminating Indian mascots and other race-based team names and logos in Wisconsin public schools.

According to The Wisconsin State Journal, Assemblyman Steve Nass, R-Whitewater, has drafted legislation to repeal the law, which allows any school district resident to file a complaint with the local school board over the use of offensive nicknames, logos or mascots. The state school superintendent can then order districts to stop using such symbols if they promote discrimination, harassment or stereotyping.

The bill also aims to void all orders issued by State Superintendent Tony Evers under the new law, which was signed by Gov. Jim Doyle in May.

While Kewaskum has not yet received a complaint, the district has taken steps to "fly under the radar," according to a November statement by District Superintendent Mike Krumm. One such action was the removal of a depiction of an Indian Chief in the High School field house that was not well received by the community.

Board of Education President, John Kenworthy agreed to form a committee of concerned residents and board members to assist the district in maintaining the use of the Indian mascot and to research the heritage of Chief Kewaskum so the district may correctly honor the village's namesake. That committee is set to meet in the new year.

So far, the state Department of Public Instruction has ordered the Osseo-Fairchild School District to stop using its Chieftans logo. The Kewaunee School District volunteered to drop its Indian name and logo. Most recently, Mukwonago High School was ordered to drop its team name — the Indians — and its logo, a man wearing a feather headdress.

Kewaskum's State Senator Glenn Grothman (R-West Bend) was reviewing the proposal from Nass.

Scoring beast Boegel bests Falcons

By Mitch Maersch

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

SHEBOYGAN FALLS- Brad Boegel cracked a smirk that widened into a colossal, teeth-showing smile when asked about his offense against the Falcons on Dec. 21.

"We all played pretty good," he said.

Well, yes, the Indians looked good in their 63-54 victory on the road. Kewaskum's defense held top-tier conference player Nick Roelse to nine points and the Indians used their newfound sixth man, the free throw line, to again salt the game away.

Boegel just looked better than everyone else on the court. The junior forward scored 32 points, nearly all of them at point-blank range.

It wasn't that Boegel was a ball hog; his teammates kept passing him ball. The Falcons used a trapping defense that left Boegel one-on-one down low. Whether it was an easy layup or difficult reverse, Boegel kept pouring in the points, 16 in each half.

"That's a game," said Coach Quinn Heintz of Boegel's performance, "and a lot of credit to his teammates for getting him the ball."

"Whenever they came to my side I posted up," Boegel said. "If I get the ball, I get the ball."

Down 38-37 entering the fourth quarter, the teams exchanged leads a couple of times before Boegel hit a shot inside to give the Indians a 45-43 lead with 5:34 to play, his third bucket of the quarter.

From there, the Indians never let up.

Guard Tony Gonring off the bench and starting forward Lucas Kopeschka each followed with three-pointers and Kewaskum went up 51-43 with 4:04 to play, busting open what always had been a tight game.

In the meantime, the Falcons were missing a handful of shots and not getting second chances as the Indians' rebounding did a 180 from a lousy performance in Waupun the game before. The Falcons also went 0-for-5 at the free throw line to start the quarter.

The Falcons battled back to 51-48 before point guard Eric Perkins, scoreless through three quarters, went on a free-throw binge. The junior hit six in a row on three straight possessions and was 8-for-8 in the quarter.

As a team, Kewaskum was 10-14 from the line in the final eight minutes and 15-for-20 in the game. The Falcons went 3-for-10 in the quarter and 6-for-20 in the game.

Heintz praised the defense of Gonring and Kopeschka on Roelse, a first-team all-conference senior who Heintz said had averaged 21 points and 10 boards per game. He calls him the toughest man to guard in conference.

Almost lost in the story was the rebounding of sophomore Hunter Flanders, who had struggled against Waupun. The athletic, 6-foot-4 lanky beast pulled down six defensive rebounds in the fourth quarter alone.

The Falcons had taken a 25-22 lead into halftime on the strength of four second-quarter three-pointers. They began the third quarter on a 6-0 run to go up 31-22. Kewaskum called timeout and Heintz said he told his players not to let the run faze them.

The Indians responded and began to chip away at the lead before the fourth quarter charge when they outscored the Falcons, 26-16.

Kewaskum moved to 5-2 on the season, 3-1 in conference, already their most conference wins since 2007 and the season hasn't even hit January.

Falls went to 2-5 and 0-4. Winning a game like that moves the program another step forward.

The Indians were scheduled to play in a tournament in Hustisford on Tuesday and Wednesday before hosting a conference favorite Kiel on Jan. 6.

Donations made to Kewaskum Community Pantry

The Michael Farchione Memorial Foundation recently made a $1,000 donation to the Kewaskum Community Pantry to go towards the construction costs of the new pantry building. The donation will allow the pantry to continue to expand its services. The Kewaskum Community Pantry currently serves over 45 families on a weekly basis. Pantry hours are Tuesday and Thursday from 4-6 and Saturday from 9-11. Shown above are Patricia and Richard Farchione and Luke Piwoni, vice president and treasurer of the pantry.

Tom Knorr, a volunteer of the Kewaskum Community Pantry is pictured receiving a check for $413.25 from Carol Minesal, HR Representative and Laura Buechler, Claims Tech V from The West Bend Mutual Insurance Company. Employees at the company donated the money and also brought in non-perishable food items that filled two large barrels.

It's Girl Scout cookie time

The public anticipates the few weeks of the year when their cravings for Thin Mints are fulfilled, but to millions of girls, the Girl Scout Cookie Program provides an opportunity to discover their own skills, connect through teamwork, and take action by achieving their goals. Since 1917, the Girl Scout Cookie Program has helped make Girl Scouting the premier leadership development experience for girls, teaching skills - such as financial literacy and responsibility, goal setting, teamwork - that allow girls to realize their full potential and develop their own personal leadership style.

From January 6 through January 23, the world's largest financial literacy program for girls continues in the Lake Michigan western shoreline as local Girl Scouts sell cookies. If eager cookies have trouble finding cookies, they can go to <http://www.girlscoutcookies.org>. Over the past couple of months, Girl Scouts have been setting their goals and in the next couple of weeks, they will set out to accomplish both individual and group success. Selling cookies helps all the girls realize their full potential and become strong, confident and resourceful citizens - while having fun, too.

The Girl Scout Cookie Program is one of the few youth-oriented programs in the country providing its participants the ability to decide how to direct the proceeds generated through their business activity, whether it's for a science program, trip, community service project or a unique goal designed by the girls. All proceeds from the sale of Girl Scout cookies benefit girls in the local community. In addition to the money earned by the girls, the cookie proceeds fund vital services such as leader training and camp operation, as well as a wide variety of Girl Scout initiatives such as science, math and technology related educational activities.

If you are not contacted by a Girl Scout but would like to buy cookies, go to <http://girlscoutcookies.org> or contact Carol Tillmann at (262) 629-5255.

KHS Student Government executive council

The sophomore and junior wellness classes at Kewaskum High School are enjoying a life time activity in snowshoeing. Snowshoeing is a great aerobic activity and the students really seemed to enjoy it. They hiked around the schools, River Hill Park and at Hon-E-Kor. To finish the unit they played snowshoe softball.

25 Years Ago

October 4, 1985

Jennifer "Jenny" M. Lightner, 19, Milwaukee, formerly of West Bend, died early September 28, of injuries suffered when her motorcycle collided with a vehicle in Milwaukee. Lightner was a 1984 graduate of Kewaskum High School where she was active in tennis and track and was currently a sophomore at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Linda Howe was accepted as a Trustee to the Wisconsin National Multiple Sclerosis Society on September 24 at a luncheon at the Milwaukee Athletic Club. Linda and her husband, Milton, live in the Town of Farmington and have two married children. Linda will be involved with support groups all over the state of Wisconsin as well as Washington County's Group.

The Kewaskum Indians lost a tough one to New Holstein here in overtime by a score of 21-15. For the Indians, Tim Dettman scored in the third quarter on an 11 yard run and Jerry Vetter ran 45 yards to score in the fourth quarter.

A daughter, Catherine Ann, was born to EN2 Scott and Diane Herdt of Virginia Beach, VA on September 4. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Herdt, former Campbellsport residents, and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Kelly of Birchwood Lake, Campbellsport. A daughter, Rose Anne Marie, was born to John and Colleen Reigle, Campbellsport, on September 2. A daughter, Caitlin, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Kleine, Campbellsport, on September 13. A daughter was also born to Donald and Diane Heesen, Allenton, on September 23.

A son was born to Michael and Debbie Lettow, Kewaskum, on September 28. A son, Kevin Wade, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ebert, Campbellsport, on September 2. A son, Robert Lee, was born to Robert and Joyce Tucker, Campbellsport, on September 14. A son, Luke Arthur, was born to Jim and Deb McCarty, Campbellsport, on September 18.

October 11, 1985

A project to extend new sidewalks in Kewaskum may become a reality in the near future if the Village Board approves the study and one of three options for construction which were presented at its meeting Monday night, however, a review of the 1986 budgets for several municipal departments topped the agenda. The review indicated an increase in all departments.

Devona Gruber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gruber, Kewaskum, and Ada Thull, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Norbert Thull of rural Kewaskum, have been chosen as the Kiwanis students for the month of October.

In spite of playing well in a steady downpour, the Kewaskum High School Indians lost their Homecoming game to the Goliath of the Eastern Wisconsin, Two Rivers, 19-6. The only Indian score came on a 39 yard run by Mike Coulter, but the kick failed.

A daughter was born to Joseph and Mary Ann Lennartz, Allenton, on October 2. A son, Scott Irvin, was born to Irvin and Erika Wilke, Campbellsport, on September 24. Sons were also born to Terry and Steven Baumgartner, Allenton, on September 15; to Michael and Susan Mader, Kewaskum, on September 30, and to Mark and Jane Steger, Campbellsport, on October 1.

50 Years Ago

November 4, 1960

Eggert's Restaurant, located on the Kewaskum hill just south of the village (now just south of the "mini mall" at the intersection of 45 & H) is under new management since October 30. The new owners are Mr. and Mrs. Roland Kemp and son, Bradford, of West Bend. They purchased the business from Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eggert, who operated the restaurant the past four years. The Kemps have leased the building from Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnson, owners.

Three members of the Henry Weddig families of Kewaskum were all hospitalized on November 2 for three different ailments. Mrs. Henry Weddig Sr. suffered a heart attack Wednesday afternoon at work at the school cafeteria and was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend, where she is now a patient. Henry Weddig Jr. was called home when his son, Steven, age 6, suffered a brain concussion when he fell off a slide on the public school playground and struck his head on the concrete. The boy was also taken to St. Joseph's, where he is confined for about two weeks. Later when the Weddigs called Boltonville to tell Mrs. Weddig Mrs. Eugene Brabender, what had happened, they were informed that Mrs. Brabender had been taken to a hospital in Sheboygan where she underwent an operation.

The annual fall festival and bazaar of Holy Trinity Parish, Kewaskum, was held this Sunday. A family style chicken and beef dinner will be served in the church hall every half hour from 11 am to 6 pm. The price will be $1.50 for adults and 75c for children. The bazaar was held in the school building, where there will be homemade candy, needlecraft, games, amusements and refreshment stands.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ogi, Kewaskum, on October 28; to Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Nigh, Kewaskum, on October 27, and to Mr. and Mrs. John Lutz, Route 2, Kewaskum, on October 29.

November 11, 1960

An all-time record high vote of 750, exceeding by 90 votes the previous high of 660 set in the presidential election of 1952, was cast in Tuesday's election in the village. In the closest presidential election of this century, Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic nominee, was elected President of the United States, to succeed Dwight D. Eisenhower. Riding in victory with Kennedy is Lyndon B. Johnson, Democratic Floor Leader of Texas, as vice president. Kennedy defeated Vice President Richard M. Nixon by about a 400,000 vote margin, which was so close that it took until almost noon on Wednesday before Nixon conceded his defeat. Nixon carried the state of Wisconsin by nearly 55,000, also Washington County and the Village of Kewaskum. Republicans outpolled the Democrats by about a 2 to 1 margin.

Roy Esser, who taught agriculture at Crivitz High School the past nine years, has accepted a similar position at Kewaskum High School. He succeeds Bernard Murray, agriculture teacher here the past 2-1/2 years, who left to take the position of assistant county agent in 4-H work in Marinette County. Mr. Esser was a former resident of Campbellsport.

With this issue the Statesman begins its 66th year of continuous publication.

Marine Pvt. David Opgenorth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Opgenorth of Route 2, Kewaskum, completed recruit training October 19 at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, South Carolina. The recruit training prepares young leathernecks for further specialized training at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Rohlinger, Kewaskum, on November 2. A son was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Westerman, Kewaskum, on November 8.

100 Years Ago

September 24, 1910

The north end of Fond du Lac Avenue has been greatly improved the past few weeks by widening the street and building a walk.

Honeck's Concertina Band furnished the music for the dance held in Kleinhans' Hall at Elmore last Sunday evening.

Herb Backhaus, the substitute carrier on Route 2, received the appointment last Monday as regular carrier on Route 3, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the present carrier, George E. Schmidt. Mr. Backhaus will commence as regular carrier on October 1.

The Kewaskum Electric Light Company had two electricians from Milwaukee string a heavy wire on their line in this village the past week, in order to give the patrons better light. The wires heretofore used were not large enough for the strong current.

Fred Luedtke last week sold the 120 acre farm of George Wehling in the Town of Wayne to J. Kettinger for the sum of $6,500.

Jacob Kral Sr. had the misfortune last Saturday of falling from a wagon and dislocating his shoulder. Dr. Hoffmann of Campbellsport dressed the limb and Mr. Kral is now getting along nicely.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schaefer at Juneau last week Wednesday.

October 1, 1910

Henry Backhaus Jr., a rural mail carrier on Route 2, had a narrow escape from being seriously injured last Wednesday noon, about 3/4 of a mile southwest of this village. Mr. Backhaus was returning to this village when a big touring car from the opposite direction came along at a high rate of speed and struck the rig in which Mr. Backhaus was riding, throwing the latter forcibly to the ground.

Butcher Ludwig of Beechwood was severely kicked by a cow last Thursday.

Robert Falk of South St. Paul last Wednesday bought the 80 acre farm of Henry Marquardt located about one mile north of this village along the river road for $8,300. Mr. Falk will take possession at once.

Louis Brandt was busy the past week enlarging the state of Groeschel's Opera House.

October 8, 1910

Meilahn and Schaefer sold over 100 chairs this week to Charles Groeschel which will be used in his opera house.

John Muehlius is now regular mail carrier on rural route No. 4 having received his appointment on October 1.

Alvin Backhaus left Monday for Milwaukee where he will attend the Wisconsin College of Physicians and Surgeons. Gustave Hausmann also left Monday for Chicago where he will resume his studies in the Chicago College of Dental Surgery.

Rev. G. Kaniess and family of Ashland, Wisconsin, arrived here Tuesday. Rev. Kaniess will hereafter have charge of Rev. Otto's congregation in the Town of Scott.

School District No. 6, Kohlsville, opened last Monday with Miss Olive Haug of Kewaskum as teacher. The public schools there also reopened last Monday. Miss Terlinden of Campbellsport is teacher in District No. 5 and Miss Ockenfels of Kewaskum in District No. 6, Elmore.

October 15, 1910

Last Saturday there appeared an article in the Milwaukee Sentinel written by J.O. Nigh of this village which read as follows: "There are a number of Indian graves in what is called North Side Park. Chief Kickapoo and Chief Kewaskum are buried in this park. I thought that the state might want to preserve the graves. I suggest that the archeological society be notified before the graves are mutilated. Why not have the state buy this burying ground and protect the graves. I think there are between three and four hundred graves on the banks of the Milwaukee River. The grounds are now used as a park. The state could still use it as a park and yet furnish protection to the graves."

Mr. and Mrs. John Rinzel met with a serious accident last Sunday evening while returning home from Beechwood. Just as they turned the corner at Frank Schultz's, they were met by another rig. Mr. Rinzel did not see the other rig and a collision was the result. The occupants of the rigs were thrown out. Mr. Rinzel's hip was slightly injured and little Leander had one of his eyes slightly injured. Both buggies were damaged.

A tramp was instantly killed Monday night at Theresa while attempting to board a Soo Line train. The accident occurred in front of the depot.

October 22, 1910

While Andrew Martin Sr. of Wayne was going across lots to the Fred Backhaus farm last Tuesday from Henry Klumb's place to Kewaskum, he saw something in the air at an altitude of about 800 feet, coming from the south and going east to Kewaskum. It came within a mile of him and he made out it was a balloon. Andrew figured this was one of the balloons which left St. Louis on Monday afternoon and was entered in the international balloon race.

Last Sunday afternoon, three-quarters of a mile south of West Bend, J.B. Day, together with three others had a narrow escape from serious injury if not death, when their auto went into a ditch and tipped over. Ben Day and son Ben, John and Francis Day, children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Day of West Bend, were in the car. The damage done was a broken windshield and the top being slightly broken. Mr. Day states that this was the worst accident that ever happened to him.

A gang of workmen and three box cars transformed into eating and sleeping quarters, arrived here Wednesday morning. They will be employed around here for several weeks filling up and grading the tracks.

Bath's threshing crew have rented Charles Groeschel's hall for a threshing dance to be given October 30. Music by Roden's orchestra of four pieces.

August Bilgo last week sold two lots on West Water Street, one to Herman Meilahn and one to Conrad Bier Sr. Mr. Meilahn will have a handsome new residence built on his lot next spring.

Miss Amanda Remmel left for Marblehead Sunday evening where she commenced as teacher in the upper department of the Marblehead schools and Miss Adela Dahlke began teaching a nine-month term of school in Gage's district, Town of Auburn, last Monday.

Bentz leads Indians to seventh in Loy test

The Indians' Brad Bentz is shown wrestling in the Marty Loy Invitational at Fond du Lac on Saturday, Dec. 18. Bentz was Kewaskum's only champ earning a title in the meet. This was his second year winning a championship at the meet.

FOND DU LAC- With all five seniors placing and one of them, Brad Bentz, winning a title, Kewaskum's wrestling team placed seventh out of 25 teams in the rugged Marty Loy Invitational Saturday, Dec. 18.

The battle for the championship went right down to the wire, with Wausau West eventually beating out Muskego, 235 points to 225.

Port Washington, which had a pair of champions, placed third at 174, followed by Burlington and Sauk Prairie, rounding out the top five at 154 and 144.

The Indians earned 128.5 points and did so with just 12 athletes as they still forfeit at 103 pounds and was missing another, who was ill.

For Bentz, who dominated all four of his opponents at 160 pounds, the title was his second in as many years and the third time he has placed in the event.

"Brad really had a nice tournament. He really rolled through the day without a close match," KHS coach Dennis Aupperle said. "He really did great job."

In his first match, he pinned Ryan McCartney of Westfield in a mere :37, and followed that up with a pin over Austin Cornelis of Wrightstown in 3:08.

In the semifinals, Bentz posted an 8-3 decision over Austin Nottestad of Westby, putting him in the finals against Hudson's Nick Larson. While he didn't get a pin, Bentz rolled to a 10-4 victory, his 12th in a row for the season.

Bo Seibel suffered his first loss of the year at 189 pounds, a controversial 3-2 decision to Fond du Lac's Justin Birschbach in the semifinals, but he bounced back to take third place.

Birschbach managed a takedown with :12 left in the first period, then he protected that lead the rest of the way.

Seibel (11-1) escaped in the second period and continued stalking Birschbach in an effort to get a takedown but to no avail. The Fondy athlete was warned for stalling near the end of the period and didn't do a whole lot in the third, when Seibel finally let him go, thinking he had a better chance at a takedown than getting a nearfall.

With :14 remaining, the official awarded Seibel a penalty point for Birschbach's stalling but that is where the scoring ended.

"Bo had a tough one in the semis but bounded back to take third," Aupperle said, referring to Seibel's 6-2 decision over Zac Verbunke of Burlington in the battle for third and fourth.

Rob Maertz, another of the Indians' veterans, had an interesting day, falling behind Mosinee's Patrick Bauer 2-0 in the early going of the opening round and then suffering an ankle injury. After a time out, Maertz rallied for a 6-2 win, with an escape and takedown in Period 2 and a cradle nearfall in the third.

Maertz, now 8-4, came back with a little more comfortable 5-2 decision in second round, then in the semis, he drew Alex Dieringer of Port Washington, a two-time state champion who just signed a letter of intent to wrestle for Oklahoma State.

Maertz lasted 3:02 with Dieringer before getting pinned, and in the consolation finals, he lost to Jackson Fox of Wrightstown.

Sophomore Brett Scoles (8-4) also placed fourth. He is wrestling at 125 this season. In his first two matches, Scoles had a 2:35 pin and an 8-3 win, but then he drew Justin Schirkenback of Muskego, a junior and the top seed. Schirkenback dominated, piling up nearfalls for a 17-2 tech fall.

And senior Jared Koffke placed fifth at 130, his only loss a tough one in overtime against Thomas Hettinga of Wausau, a match which he led 6-5 with seconds remaining. The official called a clasp on Koffke, who went on to get pinned in the extra period.

Koffke (10-3) started off with a pin, and in the wrestleback won by default, by an 8-2 margin, by 13-2 and then 3-0 over Logan Ballering of Oconomowoc in his final match.

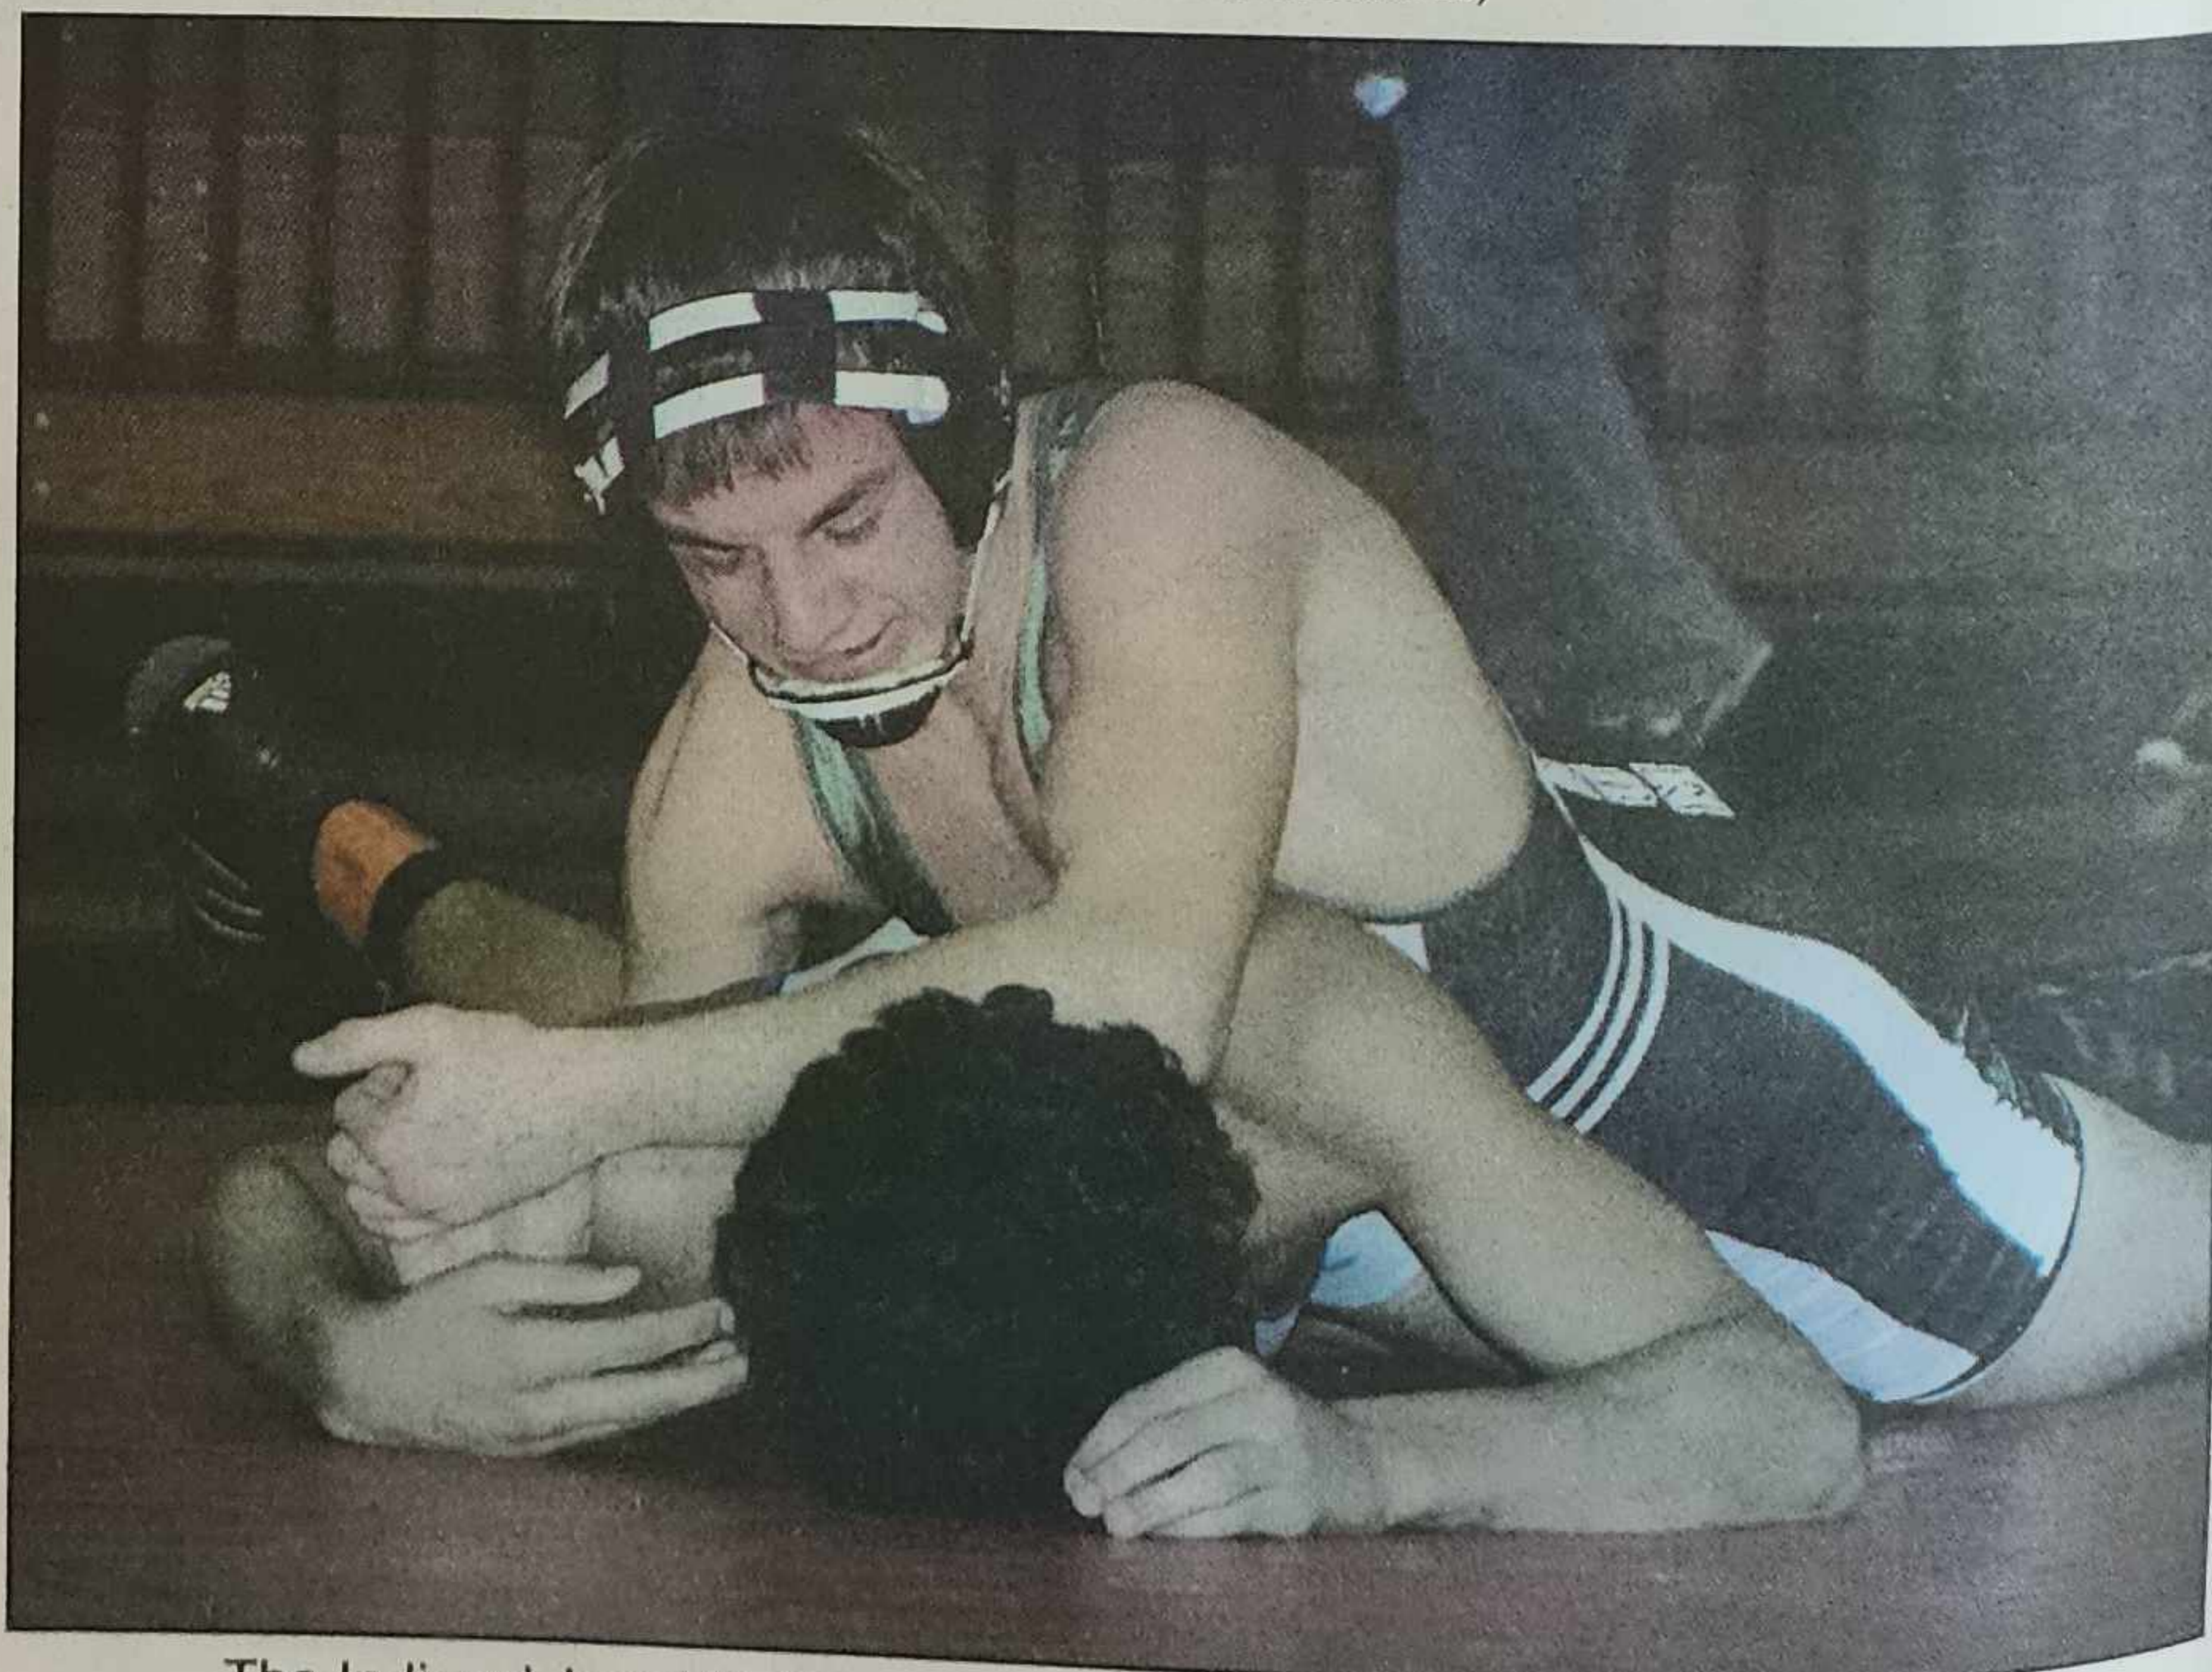

Two others, sophomore Logan Dreher (5-3) took seventh at 119 and senior Cole Roberts, placed eighth 215.

Dreher finished at 3-2, with a forfeit win in the match for seventh and eighth. His most exciting match came in the second round when he was behind 7-4 against Port's Robbie Anheir, then came flaying back to pin him in 3:09.

Roberts' two wins came via pin and decision.

"Austin (Goeden) and Joey (Seitz) were one match away from placing, and Derek (Aupperle) injury defaulted (after the first match). His ankle is a little swollen," the coach said, praising junior Brandon Ehn, who lost his first match, then won by pin, 10-0 decision, pin and pin to take the consolation title at 275. "He is improving in every match."

Kewaskum is at Oshkosh for the annual On the Waters Tournament Dec. 29-30.
