On the morning of Saturday, May 25, many members of the community had their sights set on attending or participating in the annual village wide rummage sales. After a night of rain, the morning was clear and sunny - a perfect day to hang out in the town.

Shortly before 8 a.m., Bill Butzlaff arrived at his son Tyler Butzlaff's house, located on Highway 28, to get some items together to sell for their rummage.

"Our plan was to get our things set up in the yard and then I was going to grab a coffee at the Coffee Corner. The goal was to try to make a few sales throughout the day," stated Tyler.

As the two were sorting their rummage accessories, Tyler noticed a cloud of white smoke arising from the residence across the street.

"We first thought it was just a brush pile they were burning in the backyard but it just didn't look right," mentioned Tyler.

He immediately stopped what he was doing and ran over to check out what was going on. Bill followed a few minutes behind.

The morning started out in a similar fashion for Jim and Nancy Leister. Around 8 a.m., the couple were heading into town to place an order at the Coffee Corner and do some rummage sale shopping.

Almost immediately, as they were heading down Highway 28, Jim noticed a dark cloud of intense smoke.

"It's typical for people around here to burn brush or garbage, so seeing smoke wasn't necessarily out of the ordinary," stated Jim.

Although this was typical, Jim admitted that the smoke piqued his curiosity because of how dark and thick it was. As the Leisters approached the source of the dark clouds, Jim instantly knew something was very wrong.

"I slowed down and immediately jumped out of the car when I could see the house was on fire. There were no first responders on scene yet, so I knew this wasn't going to be good," recalled Jim.

Deus Ex Machina

Dear Reader,

Have you ever found yourself in a situation where everything seemed hopeless, only to have a miraculous solution present itself seemingly out of nowhere? We've all experienced these moments, where the hand of fate intervenes in our lives, providing a deus ex machina.

What, you may ask, is a deus ex machina? This Latin expression means "machine of the gods" and describes a plot device – an unexpected twist – that straightens out a situation that appeared to be irresolvable. "How did our hero escape their certain demise from that horror of horrors?" Through a deus ex machina.

From narrowly avoiding accidents to miraculously acing exams we were sure we'd fail, these instances defy rational explanation. They're the moments when the universe conspires in our favor, offering a reprieve when all seemed lost.

Deus Ex Machina is more than just a literary device; it's a reflection of life's mysterious ways. Sometimes, we find our own solutions through sheer determination or ingenuity. Other times, the solution finds us, appearing when we least expect it and providing a way out of situations that to all appearances were impossible. In a world where some events defy simple explanations, Deus Ex Machina offers a provocative frame of reference for life's inexplicable twists and turns. So the next time you find yourself in a bind, remember that sometimes, the hand of fate is just waiting to guide you to safety. Or, we might think of this as the Machinery of God working in our lives.

RURAL WRITES

G.A. SCHEINOHA CONTRIBUTOR

Have things gotten off to a slower start this year? Can't recall when, other than dandelions and dirt clods, farm fields looked as fallow as they do right now. Near enough untilled. Though a person knows better. Written during waning days in May, a few green sprouts break through the topsoil. Usually, as we plunge into June, corn is up and grows steadily. A soft rustle in the breeze.

Talk about fickle weather. Spring's been a long time coming. Leastwise, dry days. Too much rain, flooded acreage. While not (obviously) a farmer or even former agricultural classes student, lived long enough to witness drastic changes. No more crop dusters which laid down puffy clouds. Liquid manure is the natural gold of the moment. But strictly regulated to prevent ground water contamination.

Time was my father had a sizable garden planted already. Couldn't wait to get outdoors and pace off the potatoes. Many times his young'uns gazed upon a fella immersed in dreary routine. A necessity to raise his family. Foot drove the juryrigged, worn handle scoop deep. Before toes tapped, SPRONG! the spout opened and a quartered spud (each germinated) sank into the soil.

The problem arose after his offspring grew and left home. He couldn't adapt. Perhaps chose not to. Still put in a too large plot. As the maxim goes: Your eyes are bigger than your stomach. Or just nostalgia for the burgeoning pastures and furrows of his parents' 80-acre spread were a constant solace for a man who fought weeds. Lived to hoe the rows.

Felt nothing of the sort of summer he left us. Unfortunately, he never lived to harvest the final yield. Made for a heavy load after weary hours in the restaurant. Both during a hot, thirsty spell when our shallow well sucked air and the later plentiful harvest. Air thick with smell from forked, uprooted earth. A world of hurt. Only later did we realize how much.

Grow Fast, Fun, and Easy Microgreens

MELINDA MYERS CONTRIBUTOR

Have fun growing some delicious and nutritious microgreens on your kitchen counter, in a sunny window, or under lights any time of the year. In as little as a week to 10 days you'll be making your first harvest to use as a garnish, snack, or add to your favorite sandwich or salad.

Simply purchase seeds of lettuce, greens, mustard, radishes, beets, peas, and even sunflowers. Buy organic seeds or those labeled for sprouting or use as microgreens to ensure they have not been treated with harmful chemicals. Or purchase a microgreen kit that contains all you need to get started.

You can grow any microgreens in soil and most hydroponically. Sunflowers, peas, buckwheat, chard, beets, and cilantro grow best in soil. Soak the seeds in cold water for 12- to 24-hours for faster and greater sprouting. Plant the seeds in a shallow container with drainage holes filled with a moist well-drained planting or seed starting mix. Gently tamp the planting mix to remove air pockets and create a flat surface for planting. Mist the soil surface and evenly sprinkle the seeds over the soil. Gently tamp the seeds or mist them to ensure good seed-to-soil contact. Planting seeds this way makes harvesting a bit less messy. Or you can lightly cover the seeds with soil.

Use a fast food container you've cleaned and added drainage holes to or invest in a kit like True Leaf Market's Organic Mini Microgreens Kit to get your microgreens off to a great start. Then make additional plantings every few weeks to have a constant supply of fresh microgreens to enjoy.

Set the container on a tray to protect the surface below. Once planted, cover the container with a lid to boost humidity and reduce the need to water. Some gardeners use an opaque cover to trap humidity and keep the seeds in the dark for sprouting. Check soil moisture daily and spritz with water as needed. Remove the cover in two or three days once the sprouts break through the soil. Then move it to a bright location or under artificial lights.

Or skip the planting media and go hydroponic using a growing pad instead. This makes harvesting clean and easy and works well for broccoli, kale, arugula, cabbage, cauliflower, mustard, and radish seeds.

Cut the grow pad made of jute, bamboo, or similar material to fit the container as needed. Thoroughly moisten the grow pad fabric. Sprinkle the seeds evenly over the pad's surface, leaving about twice the size of a seed between each. Use a spray bottle to water and firm the seeds in place.

Use an opaque cover over the top of the tray to provide the needed darkness for the seeds to sprout. Check the seeds twice a day and mist them as needed. Remove the cover in three to five days once the seeds sprout and start growing. Move the sprouts into a bright location, a sunny window, or under artificial lights, and continue to water as needed.

Your microgreens are ready to harvest when the microgreens are two- to four-inches tall and the first set of true leaves – those that resemble the leaves of the mature plant – are just starting to emerge. This is usually seven to 10 days but may be longer depending on the seeds you grow. Use a sharp knife or scissors to cut the greens about ¼ inch above the soil or grow pad. Gently rinse and spin dry the greens and enjoy.

Have fun as you grow a variety of microgreens to enjoy and share with friends and family.

Heritage Trails County Park Attracts New Visitors to Region

New Mountain Bike Riding Experiences Unparalleled in Southeastern Wisconsin

New mountain bike trails in Slinger at Heritage Trails County Park are now open for riding. In 2021, Washington County partnered with Metro Mountain Bikers (MMB) to develop bike trails at Heritage Trails. Since their opening, daily visitors to the park have increased 272%. In recent years, it was estimated that 82% of these riders are from outside Washington County, creating roughly $500,000 in visitor spending.

"Heritage Trails is quickly becoming a regional MTB (mountain bike) destination drawing mountain bike riders from surrounding states. The diversity of high-quality trails, natural beauty, and geographical location makes Heritage unique and special to the Midwest MTB scene," said Tom Hartman, Trails Project lead for Metro Mountain

Late last season, MMB completed three new riding trails now open for the season, Young Guns, Dirt Waves, and Gun Slinger:

- Young Guns is the perfect blue trail for all skill levels looking to get into jumping and hangtime.
- Gun Slinger is an advanced intermediate trail with many dirt jump features like a cannon log, rainbow ride and lots of kickers.
- · Dirt Waves is designed and constructed for intermediate-and-up skill level riders. This trail is for riders who are looking for the fun factor who love turns and berms and ups and downs.

Planning for future phases of mountain biking is well underway. To receive information on opportunities for public comment, please visit washcowisco.gov.

Note heavy rains impact trail conditions and require temporary closures during repairs. Please check the Metro Mountain Bike Facebook page and website (metromountainbikers.com/) for updates regarding ongoing projects, trail closures, and condition reports.

KEWASKUM CUB SCOUT PACK 3744

As the month warmed up, we looked towards helping our community. This month, we did our Scouting for Food. We were very thankful of our community support in our local food pantry. We collected 952 items to donate! The food pantry was grateful, as were the cub scouts, to achieve such a successful collection of food for over the summer months. We want to thank everyone who put food out for our scouts to collect. If we missed you, or you would like to donate, our local Kewaskum Piggly Wiggly keeps a collection bin yearround for our food pantry and I encourage you to donate there.

After collecting food, we moved into Memorial Day. We attended the Memorial Day parade in honor of the veterans who died in the wars. Our scouts walked in the parade flying their banners and flags proudly. Afterwards, we were able to attend the Legion Hall ceremony and take part in their brat fry to support them. A few of our scouts enjoyed walking through the sea of flags of the fallen in the Legion Hall lawns, reading the names and remembering the fallen.

Also in May, at a den meeting (third grade meeting), a few of our older scouts learned the art of Dutch Oven Cooking! We learned how to start coals, tools needed, timing and rotation of the Dutch ovens along with a few different recipes. We made s'mores dish, individual pizzas, and monkey bread. The scouts had a lot of fun making food! Stay tuned over summer to see our summer camp fun!

Third graders at the May den meeting learn the art of dutch oven cooking. They made a s'mores dish, pizzas, and monkey bread.

If you're interested in learning more about our cub scout group, feel free to reach out to us at kewaskumcubscouts@gmail.com.

Dennis Rochwite, a Vietnam War veteran, recently went on an Honor Flight to Washington, D.C. A 1964 graduate of Kewaskum High School, Dennis now lives in Birnamwood. The April 8 trip was on the Never Forgotten Honor Flight that travels out of Mosinee. While in D.C., Dennis met up with his cousin, Lyle, and Lyle's wife, Kathy. The Campbellsport couple was visiting their daughter, who lives in D.C. Dennis grew up in Boltonville and enlisted in October 1965. He served four years in the U.S. Navy. The Navy had wanted Dennis to go in a nuclear submarine because he scored high on the pre-induction test. Dennis declined as that would have meant an extra two years of enlistment. Instead, he worked as a crane operator.

A total of 3,702 people were served breakfast at the 2019 Washington County Breakfast On The Farm. The event was held at the Highland Dairy, LLC, a robotic dairy farm at 1207 Highland Drive, Kewaskum. In addition to the breakfast, attendees enjoyed wagon rides, barn tours, a petting zoo, a pedal tractor pull, live music, Roden Barnyard Adventures, antique tractors, games, archery, and much more.

Jim Wright's home is currently on the market. When it sells, the family will move to Arizona and his seat on the Kewaskum Village Board will be vacant. There are two options to fill the vacancy. One is to solicit letters of interest and then select people for interviews, with the chosen person being appointed to the seat. The second option is to hold a special election in the next election cycle. The second option would mean the seat would remain empty until next spring. The board is expected to make a decision at a future meeting.

Westbury Bank will open a temporary branch in the parking lot of Geidel's Piggly Wiggly in Kewaskum. Two doublewide trailers will be used to house teller stations, four offices, and restrooms. The permanent building is being rebuilt after it was damaged in a fire on May 30.

Kewaskum High School will be holding commencement exercises for the Class of 2009 on June 13

The well-known water tower near Regal Ware needs a roof and, ultimately, a full replacement with a bill slated to fall in the $1 million range. Public Works Director Jerry Gilles told the Public Works and Public Services Committee last week that the 1929 tower's roof has deteriorated and rusted, running the risk of leakage and contamination. Sealing the joints with caulk and getting a new roof could be a short-term fix of about $150,000, but Gilles worries that something else may go wrong on the 80-year-old tower. Designing and building a new tower is an 18- to 20-month project. Not including digging the well, the tower alone could cost $875,000.

Dan Powell began service to Kewaskum as a firefighter. When the need for an ambulance driver arose, he stepped up. That led to training to become an EMT. Although off duty, he responded to a call about a man down at the 18th hole of Hon-E-Kor because he lives a few blocks from the golf course. He helped save the man's life.

Pending village board approval, the Village of Kewaskum will add a security system to its upgraded wastewater treatment plant. Cameras can deter break-ins and catch people dumping and double check on trucks using the honor system. The system is estimated to cost $2,500 to design and $12,000 to install.

The Many Health Benefits of Dairy

Many people recall the slogan "Milk, it does a body good." But as different health fads have emerged since that slogan was first uttered, including an increased availability of dairy alternatives, dairy has been somewhat pushed aside, leaving many people to question if it is a friend or foe.

According to Vasanti Malik, a nutrition research scientist with the Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health, dairy isn't necessary for maintaining optimal health for humans. However, it is one of the best and easiest ways to get ample amounts of vitamin D, protein and calcium, each of which keeps vital organs, muscles and bones functioning properly. Here's a deeper look at dairy in the average diet.

What is Dairy?

Dairy products consist of a variety of products that are from mammals, including cows, goats and sheep. These include milk, yogurt, cheese, kefir, ice cream, butter, ghee, cream, cream cheese, sour cream, whey products, and casein. Dairy products are often categorized as regular, whole, reduced fat, low-fat or skim. These characterizations indicate the fat content in a given item.

Nutritional Benefits of Dairy

Dairy products are nutrient-dense and great sources of protein, calcium and vitamins. Protein builds and repairs muscle tissue; carbohydrates in milk provide energy; and calcium and phosphorous can help strengthen bones and teeth. Vitamin D helps promote the absorption of calcium. Dairy also contains riboflavin, vitamin A, pantothenic acid, potassium and niacin. One eight-ounce serving of milk contains the recommended daily values of these nutrients based on guidelines from the U.S. Food & Drug Administration.

Bone Health

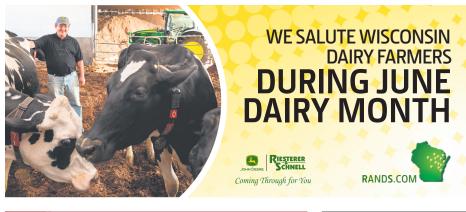

Dairy protein and calcium may play critical roles in bone health and density, helping to reduce the risk for osteoporosis, states the Dairy Alliance. Eating and drinking foods rich in calcium may offset a possible protein-calcium loss that occurs with aging, thus protecting bone health.

Heart Health Benefits

Some people avoid dairy because of perceptions that it is bad for cardiac health. A report presented at the 2018 Congress of the European Society of Cardiology that looked at 20 studies involving around 25,000 people found no association between the consumption of most dairy products (including whole fat varieties) and cardiovascular disease. The only exception was milk, but the results showed one would have to drink almost a liter of milk a day for a higher risk of cardiovascular disease. Still, the American Heart Association recommends adults choose fat-free or low-fat dairy products whenever possible. Also, a 2018 study published in the British Journal of Nutrition found men who ate plenty of fermented dairy products like yogurt and cheese had a smaller risk of coronary artery disease than men who ate less.

Additional benefits of dairy include a reduced risk of childhood obesity and an improvement in body composition and weight loss during energy restriction in adults, according to a 2016 report in the Journal of Food and Nutrition Research.

Dairy provides many health benefits. People concerned about their overall health should work recommended dairy servings into their daily diets.

Interesting Facts About Ice Cream

Perhaps no food is as universally beloved as ice cream. Though people may dispute which ethnic cuisine reigns supreme or which region produces the most delicious barbecue or which city makes the best pizza, ice cream inspires no such debate. It's simply loved by people of all ages and from all walks of life.

Ice cream is a go-to dessert for people across the globe, and those individuals may be interested in learning more about this beloved confection.

- The International Dairy Foods Association notes that the origins of ice cream can be traced at least as far back as the second century BC. Though the precise origins of ice cream are not known, the first ice cream parlor in the United States opened in 1790. PBS notes that President George Washington was especially fond of the frozen treat.
- Many people prefer their ice cream served in cones, and they can thank any one of a number of individuals who may be responsible for the invention of the ice cream cone. According to the Library of Congress, various accounts suggest

Charles E. Menches is the inventor of the ice cream cone, which he first offered for sale at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904. Ernest Hamwi, Abe Doumar, Albert and Nick Kabbaz, Arnold Fornachou, and David Avayou are some others who have been credited with inventing the ice cream cone.

• The Dairy Alliance reports that three gallons of milk are required to produce a single gallon of ice cream. That means one cow can produce between two and three gallons of ice cream per day. • Ice cream afficionados span the globe, but the World Atlas reports that no country consumes more ice cream per capita than New Zealand. New Zealand is reportedly renowned for producing high-quality dairy products, which might be one reason why the average New Zealander consumes 28.4 liters of ice cream per year. The United States (20.8 liters per year per person) and Australia (18 liters) are next in line behind New Zealand.

• Chocolate reigns supreme as the most popular ice cream flavor in the world. So says an analysis of data from Lexham Insurance conducted by The Food Channel. That data represents figures from 121 countries and found that vanilla, mint chocolate chip, cookie dough, and buttered pecan round out the top five ice cream flavors across the globe.

• According to Ben & Jerry's, the new ice cream texture that develops after a pint melts and then re-freezes is the result of microscopic air bubbles that keep ice cream soft and fluffy. That air escapes when ice cream melts, and since it's gone when the ice cream refreezes, the result is a product that's no longer as soft as it was intended to be.

D.N.R. Seeking Landowners to Host Fall Gun Deer Hunt For Hunters With Disabilities

Deadline to apply is July 1

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is looking for landowners to host hunters with disabilities for the Gun Deer Hunt For Hunters With Disabilities, which will take place Oct. 5-13, 2024.

To be part of the Gun Deer Hunt For Hunters With Disabilities program, landowners must have at least 60 acres available, be able to host at least three hunters and complete an online application by July 1, 2024. The DNR asks interested landowners to fill in all the property information fields on the application.

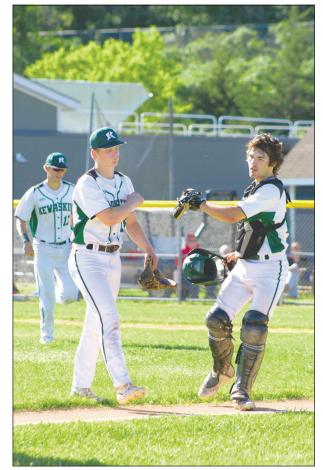

"Year after year, this special hunt provides hunters with disabilities the opportunity to deer hunt during a time and in a place that is more accessible," said Brooke VanHandel, DNR assistant deer and elk specialist. "We are so thankful for our landowner sponsors who are willing to partner with hunters and open their properties to allow more individuals to continue Wisconsin's deer hunting tradition."

The Gun Deer Hunt For Hunters With Disabilities began in 1992 and provides hunting opportunities for approximately 400 hunters each year. This hunt is only possible with the generous support of landowner sponsors.

Wisconsin's outdoor experiences are for everyone. The DNR is committed to providing various hunting, fishing and recreational permits and unique opportunities designed to give people with disabilities the opportunity to partake in Wisconsin's time-honored traditions and enjoy the state's abundant natural resources.

For more information, visit the DNR's Deer Hunting For Hunters With Disabilities webpage.

Indians Pick Up a Win on the Road

WIAA Division 2 Regionals

KHS BASEBALL

After getting rained out on Tuesday, the fifth seeded Kewaskum Indians (15-12) traveled to the number four seed University School of Milwaukee Wildcats (14-8) and struck early en route to a 8-2 victory on Wednesday, May 29.

With one out in the first inning, Kingston Grisolono singled and advanced to second on a ground out. With two outs, Dylan Soyk hit a ball up the middle where the shortstop was able to field it and make a throw to first but Soyk beat it and Grisolono never stopped running and scored from second. After Soyk stole second base, the Indians capitalized on a fielding error by the Wildcats and Soyk scored without the ball leaving the infield. Sam Ciriacks got out in the bottom of the first. Kewaskum got another two-out rally going after a Grisolono single and a throwing error. Kewaskum scored two. A Soyk single scored one and a ball in the dirt from the outfield allowed Everett Donath to score on a close play at the plate. The Wildcats scored one in the second and one in the fourth but insurance runs in the sixth on a Liam Stoffel RBI single and seventh on a wild pitch allowed the Indians to take the victory.

Sam Ciriacks and Cooper Petermann were dominant on the mound keeping hitters off balanced all day. Ciriacks allowed just one hit in five innings while scattering two runs (both unearned), walking six and striking out two. Petermann faced the minimum in his two innings of relief while striking out two and walking none.

Indians Come Up Short in Loss to Pirates

WIAA Division 2 Regional Final

KHS BASEBALL

For the second year in a row, the fifth seeded Indians (15-13) ended their season by a 3-0 defeat to the number one seed Pewaukee Pirates (22-7) in a well played WIAA Regional Championship on Thursday, May 30, 2024.

In a game in which both teams had just three hits a piece, the score remained 0-0 into the fifth inning when Pewaukee executed some small ball. After a hit by pitch and a single, the Pirates bunted the runners to second and third and then placed a perfect suicide squeeze that both runners took off on and both eventually scored.

Those were the lone two runs Kingston Grisolono gave up in the outing as he had then reached his pitch count maximum. Petermann would give up the other run on a sacrifice fly in the bottom of the sixth inning.

Offensively, Liam Stoffel, Dylan Soyk, and Cale Heinonen had singles. Coach Heisdorf was glad with how the boys competed stating, "We battled them tough; we competed hard with a top five ranked team in the state. With the roller-coaster year we had, it was nice to put it together and play good baseball over the last few weeks winning seven of our last eight before tonight. We pitched great, made solid plays defensively but came up on the short end offensively. That's baseball."

Braden Bothe takes over on the mound.

This was the moment when the Butzlaffs' and Leisters' paths crossed. The three men worked off of pure instinct and adrenaline to save those trapped inside. As a group, they had no previous experience or fire training. None of the men directly knew the family at the residence either. They all recalled that they just knew what needed to be done in the moment.

The guys remembered seeing a family of three struggling to get out through their living room window.

"There was a man and two women trapped inside," stated Jim.

One by one, the family was pulled out through the living room window by the good samaritans. This was no easy task as the smoke was thick and the area was filled with broken glass.

"The [living room] window was about four feet off the ground," recalled Jim.

The men also noted that the ground below the window was filled with vines and briar patches, adding difficulty to the task at hand.

"The smoke made it very difficult to breathe," mentioned Bill.

The smolder was quickly increasing and everyone was aware they had limited time to get to safety.

"The grace of the Lord was with me that day, He was giving me a fresh breath of air whenever I needed it," said Jim. "He gave me strength."

It was stated that almost immediately after all three residents were pulled from their home, a Kewaskum police officer arrived on the scene. Bodycam footage showed the officer attempted to save the family dog but the smoke became too overpowering.

"It felt like things took so long but in reality everyone moved very quickly," said Bill. Similarly when thinking back on the event, Jim stated that everything happened really fast.

All three of the good samaritans were very humble regarding their actions and don't want to be praised for the measures they took that day.

"I'm not a hero or anything like that, I just helped out the neighbors," said Jim.

The Butzlaffs stated that the fire was a terrible turn of events but everyone made it out safely, so they are grateful that things didn't end up worse.

"Everyone just happened to be at the right place at the right time," said Bill. "We are thankful everyone was able to work together the way that they did."

Ten surrounding area fire departments arrived on the scene to help extinguish the fire. The Kewaskum Fire Department (KFD) deemed the building and contents as a total loss.

The following statement was made by the KFD: "Two of the residents were treated on scene and the third was transported to an area hospital for smoke inhalation. One of the good samaritans was treated on scene for minor cuts and another was taken to an area hospital for a laceration to the hand. The Kewaskum police officer was treated at a local hospital for smoke inhalation. Additionally, one of the family's dogs perished in the fire."

Jim stated that he cut his hand on the glass of the window as he was transporting the residents and needed about ten stitches.

Bill and Tyler mentioned that they would have been okay with their involvement being anonymous but they felt it was really important to get the word out about sending help to the family in whatever way possible.

If you are interested in helping out the Shaw family, the Kewaskum Piggly Wiggly will be taking donations over the next few weeks. Cash or checks can be made payable to the Shaw family and can be dropped off at the service desk in the Pig.

Jim, Bill and Tyler all selflessly played crucial roles as the first ones on the scene of the fire. Their brave actions helped save the lives of those trapped inside and their courage deserves to be acknowledged. The community greatly appreciates the actions of the police officer and local fire departments as well.

MARK WALTERS COLUMNIST

Hello friends,

I have made an attempt recently to let you know that I am currently in a cycle of my life that is very busy but also positive. This week's column should be fun for you; I hope you are enjoying your spring.

Saturday, May 25 High 74, Low 44

Plan A had me paddle trolling on Lake Superior out of either Washburn or Ashland, and I was very excited about it. That plan was cancelled yesterday when a good friend told me the wind would be too strong to paddle a canoe on that piece of water. I changed that plan to spending 30 hours on the Turtle Flambeau Flowage and would begin on Saturday instead of Friday. I would have to leave Sunday as I had a graduation party in Glidden to go to.

How could you not like calling this home!

When I travel, I am blessed with two sets of neighbors who take turns feeding my cattle, chickens, and dogs/puppies. This morning, I had planned on getting up at 4:00. At 3:00 a.m., I heard something in my backyard that did not sound right. At 3:20, I heard the same sound at the end of my house. At 3:30, I heard the same sound out my bedroom window. and when I looked outside, directly on the other side of the glass was my two steers and a heifer, all about 1,100 pounds and very loose. Had I left yesterday, this would have been an ugly story. I ran outside buck naked, got a bucket of feed and lured them back to their enclosure.

Today I put my canoe in at Murray's landing which is the most remote location on the flowage and a place that I truly love. I had concerns that it may be a challenge to get a campsite at this point on Memorial Day weekend but that would not be the case. As my journey began, I decided to drag a Salmo behind me which is an affective type of crankbait. I had paddled maybe 30 seconds when my pole started bending and I landed an 11-inch perch. There would be a brutal headwind but I had no cares, I was on the Flambeau, I already caught a fish, my cattle did not run away and in just four days my daughter Selina would be coming home from Missoula for a wedding.

To make matters even better, my rod started bending over again, and this time, I caught an 18-inch smallmouth bass. And just after that, I found a super cool campsite, made a comfortable camp and then went paddle trolling for whatever was hungry. It did not take long and the Salmo had lured in the first crappie of the trip and it was a beautiful 13-incher.

The rest of my day was fish catching, going down memory lane from a place my dad first took me to 54 years ago, and enjoying the non-stop view of peace and nature.

morning, and it was tough knowing that I had to head out, but I was headed towards Glidden where I am blessed with many good friends from the area and would be going to Jersey Polencheck's graduation party. Jersey was an all-star athlete excelling in basketball and softball, and she is also a very kind and fun, young lady, not to mention a go-for-it outdoorswoman.

The shin-dig was at the Shanagolden town hall which is the boonies, and let me tell ya, it was fun with a capital F. I like the remote, downto-earth crowd and that is what you will find in the Glidden/Mellen area where I used to call home.

Folks, I am out of space and Selina is now home as I write this, and my next trip is in the morning.

Jersey, you rock! Sunset
